

SEEKS PROGRAM TO HELP FRANCE

Premier Briand of France to Demand Cabinet Action to Stabilize Country's Currency.

PARIS, June 8. (AP)—Premier Briand, who is returning from Geneva tonight to attend an important cabinet meeting tomorrow at which President Doumergue will preside, is expected in parliamentary circles to demand that the program for reorganization of French finances and stabilization of the franc be undertaken immediately.

Reports from Geneva that Premier Briand's visit had brought about a decision to take immediate action to stabilize the franc, and that the cabinet and parliament get down to work, his supporters say he is tired of obstructions of his financial restoration schemes and is ready to resign the cabinet if necessary to find a new solid majority to carry out his plan for economy and restoration.

Ready to Cooperate.

Finance Minister Poincaré is said to be of the same mind and leaders of moderate and conservative parties, which furnish the bulk of the premier's majority, are ready to cooperate with the government provided a "union cabinet" is formed.

If reorganization of the cabinet should become necessary, Premier Briand's idea is said to be to add members to his official family, as was done during the war, rather than let any of the present ministers go. The added members would represent all parties in the cabinet and in the legislature and would be virtually neutral.

FARM VOTE IN HAWKEYE STATE STIRS CAPITAL

Senator Terry of Idaho Island, and Representative Clifford of Kansas, chairman of the democratic senatorial and congressional campaign committee, both pronounced the defeat of James A. McHenry as a victory for the farmers.

Representative Clifford said: "This administration has not enacted and will not enact real farm relief legislation. The first step toward this end is for the western farmers to elect their representatives in congress to join with the democrats in bringing a downward revision of the tariff on the things the farmer has to buy."

Debate McHenry Bill.

The senate's debate on farm relief, after it had voted to pass the McHenry bill, embracing principles similar to the latter and based on an economic theory which was the approval of Vice President Dawes.

Opening the discussion Senator Harrison said it was no wonder the senate chamber "but, was like a funeral," with the defeat of McHenry following the failure of McHenry in the House. Pepper in Pennsylvania and Stinson in Oregon.

All four of the men defeated were able, experienced and fitted for their work here," he continued. "They were men who had made contributions to the nation's life and had fought for the farmer's cause."

BROOKHART WILL CENTER EFFORTS ON FARM RELIEF

Veteran Cunniff has been interpreted as a vote of dissatisfaction on behalf of the farmers. Cunniff's campaign committee declared the Brookhart plurality which may amount to more than 70,000 was a "practical existing condition," and that the Brookhart vote was a "practical existing condition."

Mr. Brookhart, of the state central committee, said the Brookhart vote was a "practical existing condition" and that the Brookhart vote was a "practical existing condition."

WARTIME BREAD CARDS MAY MAKE APPEARANCE

PARIS, June 8. (AP)—Wartime bread cards and ration cards are likely to appear in France, according to reports in order to help win the "battle of bread," it was said by the ministry of finance.

Consumption of meat also may be restricted by shifting down butcher shops one day each week and it is probable that consumption of gasoline will be curbed by requiring automobile owners to show cause for the use of their motor cars.

Bread cards are expected to reduce importation of wheat required to carry France over to the new domestic crop and to prevent a further increase in the selling price of bread.

DENOUNCES HANGING AS A CURE-ALL FOR CRIME

CHICAGO, June 8. (AP)—Speaking as a "man who has prosecuted seven men to the gallows," Chief Justice Taft, of the supreme court, denounced hanging as a panacea for crime.

"I feel up the bloodcurdling of the race," he urged instead, in addressing the annual meeting of the American Automobile association.

"There has been a lot of talk about the fact that automobiles take in crime, and there is a constant cry for more hangings on the part of laymen and some lawyers. But more hangings would not solve our crime problem."

NO WAR TIME RATIONING

PARIS, June 8. (AP)—Wartime rationing of food in France will not prevail even for the purpose of rehabilitating French finances, but restrictive measures of a far-reaching nature will be put into effect. WADSWORTH INDICATES STAND ON PROHIBITION

NEW YORK, June 8. (AP)—The New York political situation, carrying elements of national-wide interest because of the importance to be played by prohibition issues, had crystallized tonight into approximately the form to be presented to the voters.

Acceptance by former State Senator Franklin W. Wadsworth of an invitation to run against United States Senator James W. Wadsworth for the republican senatorial nomination with the organized support of the house dry forces of the state followed at once today by a statement from Senator Wadsworth of his position on the liquor question. LLOYD-GEORGE VICTOR IN POLITICAL BATTLE

LONDON, June 8. (AP)—David Lloyd George's "victorious" out of his conflict with Lord Oxford and Asquith today in the meeting of the liberal-parliamentary party, where he was elected as liberal leader in the house of commons by a vote of 20 to 12. Thirty-four members of the party abstained from the vote.

This means that Lloyd George will retain his chairmanship, but that the small liberal-party of a total membership of about 100 is indefinitely split into two sections.

It further indicates that Lord Oxford rejected the advice of numerous members of the party belonging to both sections that he endeavor to seek a reconciliation of the differences, these gentlemen were supposed to be ailing of their troubles.

BRAY'S DAUGHTER SEEKS PLACE IN LOWER HOUSE

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., June 8. (AP)—From the local senatorial race where mounting returns indicated United States Senator Duncan H. Fletcher's loss to one lead for re-election, interest in the Florida state legislature state primary late today turned to the neck and neck race between Mrs. Ruth Bryan Owen, daughter of the late William J. Bryan, and W. J. Brann for the fourth district congressional seat.

Returns from 142 precincts out of 336 in the district gave Mrs. Owen 8,661 votes and her opponents 8,015.

Nearly one-fourth of the estimated state vote from 203 precincts gave Fletcher 15,085; Jerry W. Carter, 9,331, and John Van Waltan, 809.

KIMBALL SUCCESSFUL

DES MOINES, June 8. (AP)—Clara E. Kimball, of Council Bluffs, was far in the lead in the republican contest for lieutenant governor tonight and was beyond doubt the successful nominee. His percentage of the vote, with only 177 precincts having been counted, and his plurality was 4,023.

LECTURER SURPRISED AT HABIT OF EARLY RISING

LONDON, June 8. (AP)—Madame O. Kallay, wife of the Estonian minister in London, who has returned from a lecture tour in the United States, was much surprised at the early rising of Americans.

"When I was told that some of my hearers could be as early as 11 in the morning I was amazed," she says. "How could one grip one's audience at that early hour, I wondered. I always feel so terribly practical. All fantasy is lacking and only plain things occupy my mind. But I was found that early American women of the smart set are early risers and do not mind early lectures."

"I especially remember one of my early lectures on French tapestry was at the home of Mrs. John D. Rockefeller, Jr., where an interested group would always examine the Rockefeller collection of French gobelins after the lecture."

Celebration Crowd Here Will See Genuine Frontier Days' Pack-Train

A frontier pack train such as played an important part when gold mining was the only industry and stock growing was in its infancy in this region, is to be a feature attraction of the celebration of the Fourth of July in Twin Falls on July 5. It was announced Tuesday evening by E. L. Ashton, mayor of Twin Falls and chairman of the celebration committee.

The mayor's announcement disclosed another feature attraction of the celebration for which plans have been in the making since last December and in which all the towns and communities of southern Idaho and northern Nevada are to participate, bringing to Twin Falls for the day one of the largest crowds in its history.

The pack train, the mayor announced, will be a companion feature of the pioneer feast in the adjacent park, and will be staged by the Utah Construction company under direction of Archie Hanson, local manager.

Scores of mules and teams together with all pack-train equipment will be brought down from the Utah Construction company's great ranches for staging of this celebration feature. It is to be an accurate reproduction of the pack-trains that, in the days of the pioneer, were the only means of transportation of supplies for isolated mining camps and cattle ranches. It will restore for the occasion an institution of the past, involving memories dear to the old time residents providing for the latter an extraordinary opportunity for gaining an insight into the conditions under which the pioneer settlers began the establishment of an empire in this region.

The frontier pack-train, according to members of the committee who are familiar with plans for staging this feature spectacle, is an attraction in itself sufficient to feature as the center of any celebration. But it is only one of the feature attractions that are being worked out for the celebration in Twin Falls of the one hundred and fifty anniversary of the independence of the United States.

It is to be an accurate reproduction of the pack-trains that, in the days of the pioneer, were the only means of transportation of supplies for isolated mining camps and cattle ranches. It will restore for the occasion an institution of the past, involving memories dear to the old time residents providing for the latter an extraordinary opportunity for gaining an insight into the conditions under which the pioneer settlers began the establishment of an empire in this region.

The frontier pack-train, according to members of the committee who are familiar with plans for staging this feature spectacle, is an attraction in itself sufficient to feature as the center of any celebration. But it is only one of the feature attractions that are being worked out for the celebration in Twin Falls of the one hundred and fifty anniversary of the independence of the United States.

The pack train, the mayor announced, will be a companion feature of the pioneer feast in the adjacent park, and will be staged by the Utah Construction company under direction of Archie Hanson, local manager.

Scores of mules and teams together with all pack-train equipment will be brought down from the Utah Construction company's great ranches for staging of this celebration feature.
