Tales of Wholesale Corruption in Pittsburgh Told; Alleges Pinchot Opponents Spent Nearly Half Million.

(By The Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, June 10.—Wholesale corruption in Pittsburgh, a Pittsburgh-American stronghold during the Pennsylvania republican primary last month, was charged today before the senate campaign investigating committee by P. C. McFadden, western member for Governor Plummer.

His allegations ran from the stealing of 20,000 votes from Governor Pinchot in that region to the purchase of votes by the employment of workers for Senator Pepper and Representative Vane, the successful candidate in the three-contested race for the senatorial nomination.

McFadden told the committee that his information was obtained from a source who had employed 35,000 "watchers" at the polls in Allegheny county, of which Pittsburgh is the county seat, and that the Vane organization had 14,110.

Says "Watchers" Paid
When he explained that these "watchers" each cost $10 each, some members on an initial which they were $40,000, the fact that they figured that each vote for Pepper in Allegheny county had cost $11 and each vote for Vane $23.

McFadden declared this amounted to a pure purchase of votes, and added that this primary "wasn't anything in my recollection." He asserted that from information given him here and after the primary he believed that 20,000 votes for Pinchot "had been counted for somebody else."

Suspected to the stand, Senator Pepper testified that his personal expenses in the campaign had been $25,000, but that he had no knowledge of the details of the Vane organization headed by W. L. Mellon, nephew of Secretary Mellon, which conducted the campaign in Allegheny county for the Pepper-Fisher-Sullivan-Woodward ticket.

American Flag Over Each Grave, Symbol Of Redmen's Faith

Ozage Indians Mark Resting Places of Dead With Old Glory as Emblem of Belief.

PAWBUKA, Okla., June 10.—Over the grave of each Ozage Indian in the Ozage nation (Ozage) an American flag—symbol of the red man's faith in the "Great White Father."

The white man's oil wells have made the Ozage the richest people on earth. Interests of the tribe are pooled by the government and every year the flood of black gold pours an average income of $14,000 into the lap of each member.

This condition has made the Indian the prey of the white man. He has been cheated, robbed and even slain for his wealth.

But through it all, the Ozage has maintained a steadfast confidence in the power of the American flag to right his wrongs and restore him to his former tranquil life.

The flag is flown in accordance with regulations. Day and night they flutter over the graves and the dead are buried in the earth and replaced with fresh banners. The sentiment that brought their display is the devotion of the red man to his faith in the American flag.

Shooting Fray May Claim Two
Workman, Dissatisfied Over Progress of Compensation Adjustment, Runs Amok.

SALT LAKE CITY, June 10.—Two men were slain tonight as the result of a shooting in the office of the Welfare Medical association, when Frank Stankin, fired two shots at Francis D. Brown, 40, police sergeant, who had been summoned to the scene.

Stankin, who had formerly been employed by the Mining Union Coal company, had been injured in the mine two years ago and was unable to work. He was dissatisfied over the progress of his compensation adjustment.

Former Commission Secretary.
Brown was the first secretary of the state industrial insurance commission, serving from 1917 to 1920. He was a native of Utah and had been in the state for many years.

Prince Urges Closer Contact for Nations
NEW YORK, June 10.—Sweden can learn much from the "signally practical" and "energetic" United States, Prince Gustaf, Adolphus of Sweden, said tonight at a dinner given in his honor by the American-Swedish association.

The prince praised the work of the foundation, which arranges the exchange of college students between the United States and the Scandinavian countries.

YALE PROFESSOR FINDS TREE THAT GIVES MILK

NEW HAVEN, Conn., June 10.—A "milk tree" that gives milk was among the new discoveries of trees discovered by Professor Samuel J. Rowell of the Yale school of forestry and his recent trip to British Honduras and Guatemala.

At the first stroke of the Guatemalan's ax, a creamy white latex fairly gushed out of the thick bark. Professor Rowell said today in describing the tree, it looks so much like real milk and was so free from bitterness that I could not resist the temptation of tasting it. I found it sweet and palatable and my only regret was that I have no way of taking it to Yale in describing the tree.

In British Honduras he found a tree the sap of which was blood red.

LETTER CAUSES REICH UPROAR

German Legislative Body Is Thrown in Turmoil by Von Hindenberg's Declaration.

BERLIN, June 10.—The Reichstag was in an uproar today when the address of President von Hindenberg's letter declaring against confederation of the former rulers property aroused the wrath of the socialists. They also denounced the reserve with which the presidential office has heretofore been treated and openly criticized the action of the president.

Socialist Protest.
Changing the president with "giving up the neutrality which he solemnly promised to observe in internal political questions," the socialists, through former Chancellor Brüning, declared "this constitutes a violation of the non-partisanship incumbent upon the president by virtue of his office."

President von Hindenberg's letter addressed to Count Fiedler von Loeb, a campaign manager in the presidential election, was characterized by the property of the former German emperor and other former rulers as "an attack upon the constitutional foundations of the state and a violation of the fundamental laws of morals and justice."

Stockmen Get Large Sum

FARMER RELIEF LEGISLATION IN HOME STRETCH

McNary Measure, Featuring Equalization Fee, Apparently Losing Ground in Senate as Race Nears Finish.

(By The Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, June 10.—Farm relief legislation started down the home stretch today as the senate voted to reject the McNary equalization-fee bill.

The senate agreed by unanimous consent to limit debate beginning next Tuesday and a vote by Wednesday or Thursday is expected by floor managers.

Champions of the McNary measure fear their support dwindling during the day and they endeavored tonight that the bill would have a close shave.

They had depended on help from the southern democrats, but leaders of the majority declared the bill would serve to make a trifling proposal a permanent policy of the government.

Decline Endorsement.
They received another blow when Secretary Mellon declined to give the bill his endorsement.

Encouraged by these developments the administration forces offered a substitute relief plan, identical with that introduced in the house by Representative Thayer, republican, Kansas. It provides for a $100,000,000 revolving fund to be used by a federal marketing commission as loans to co-operative farm organizations for the marketing of surplus crops.

Cooling Appeal.
Senator Dillingham, republican, Idaho, made a futile appeal to southern senators, attempting to show the advantages that would accrue to the cotton farmers under the McNary bill.

Senator George, democrat, Georgia, was shot and drew an attention from him that it would be necessary to stabilize world prices before cotton prices in the United States could be stabilized.

World stabilization will not benefit domestic cotton growers but the real benefit would be enjoyed by foreigners by their low cost of production," pursued the Georgia senator.

Senator Dillingham, declared farmers were in such hardship that many were committing suicide, rather than stand by and see their life's earnings swept away.

Also defending the McNary measure, Senator Robinson, republican, Illinois, said:

DAUGHTER IS MATURING UNUSUALLY EARLY.
A young girl in Iowa, said the speaker.

TRACING FOX GENEALOGY BACK TO ORIGINAL PAIR

MINNEAPOLIS, June 10.—The tracing of all registered fox genealogy back to the original pair of silver foxes taken from the wilds of Prince Edward Island, which will be completed by the end of the year.

The first herd statistics of fox ancestry will be published this year by the American National Fox Breeders' association. The record will comprise eight volumes, involving progenitors of more than 100,000 domesticated foxes being reared in the United States and Alaska.

Intons and Oulton, Canadian trappers, years ago captured the first pair of silver foxes in the northern wilds. This record had the foundation of an industry which now comprises ranches in 22 states, representing an investment of $100,000,000 and an aggregate livestock exceeding 100,000 foxes.

ONE KILLED IN MINES DISPUTE

Utah Man Drives Prospectors Off Property at Point of Gun; Ends in Shooting.

PARK CITY, Utah, June 10.—Joseph Whitford, also known as James Allen, was shot and instantly killed here today by James F. Burns, 65, an mining claims owned by Burns.

Burns, who attended to the police after the killing, said that Whitford, Joe Spiera and Theodore Gamble were prospecting on ground which Burns claimed as his property. Burns said he ordered the trio off his land. They immediately left, he said, and Burns, who had a rifle, followed them for some distance to make sure that they were leaving. Whitford, Burns said, turned to him and said:

"You've followed us for enough." Whitford pulled his gun, Burns asserted, but before he could fire, the other man shot him.

Sutro and Burns denied Burns' statement that Whitford had pulled his gun.

WHISTLE FIGURES IN SUIT

KANSAS CITY, Kan., June 10.—A Wyandotte county jury may decide how fast a locomotive whistle should sound as the result of a $10,000 damage suit filed today for Harvey Pauling, 10-year-old son of M. F. Pauling, a farmer.

The action asks $10,000 from the Santa Fe railroad, alleging "an unexcusable loud howl" frightened a horse, causing it to run away and injure the boy.

The engineer or fireman—blow the whistle at will, the railroad said, is to insure them not to take what Sir Austin Chamberlain has called an irreverent shot, perhaps by promising to support both of them for reelection as temporary members.

SERIES OF MEETINGS PLANNED BY DEMOCRAT

MACKEY, June 10.—What and of whom Idaho democrats are thinking about is to be determined by L. E. Dillingham, state chairman of the Idaho democratic party in a series of meetings he has planned to be held throughout the state. Dates and places are as follows: Idaho Falls, June 10, 10 a. m.; Twin Falls, June 10, 10 a. m.; Boise, June 18, 10 a. m.; Weiser, June 19, 10 a. m.; Coeur d'Alene, June 21, 10 a. m.

Following these sessions Dillingham will meet the state central committee at Boise, June 26, to transact such business before the committee and select a convention city.

Folklore People to Memorialize Author Of 'Kentucky Home'

Famous Old Song of Surrounding to be Sung at Shrine During Celebration of Fourth.

HARDTOWN, Ky., June 10.—American Folklore societies are memorializing the man who wrote "My Old Kentucky Home."

On July 4, 1926, with a hand outstretched to the nation's highway, the famous composer was born. His song will be played and sung here around his statue and shrine, where he wrote it, this July 4.

Under a stormy protest, a resolution to adopt a song other than "My Old Kentucky Home" as the official song of the Commonwealth was defeated in the house during the 1926 legislative session. The senate had passed a resolution authorizing the legislature to select a song.

Composed recently by Mrs. Leslie Collins of Frankfort.

ANGERED YOUTH SLAPS BREAST

Young Hungarian Republican Attacks Count Bethlen at League Palace in Geneva.

GENEVA, June 10.—"This is for an awakened Hungary," shouted Ivan De Josth, a young Hungarian republican, as he slapped the breast of Count Bethlen, Hungarian premier, in the lobby of the League of Nations, he brought his right hand with vigorous swing across the premier's face.

Count Bethlen was just stepping out of a meeting of the council of the league when he was slapped. The council had just voted virtually to release Hungary for the league's financial control when he made the unexpected attack. The premier seemed dazed and staggered back and immediately those near at hand surrounded his assailant, who was not under arrest.

Declares Count Unworthy.
De Josth, a fashionably dressed young man, declared that he had assaulted the premier because Count Bethlen did not properly represent Hungary. He wished to give a public demonstration of Bethlen's unworthiness.

This is the first time the League of Nations palace has been the scene of a criminal political attack. It was immediately condemned by President Fianin at the evening session of the council and by a letter issued by Sir Dietrich, secretary general of the league, expressing profound indignation.

HOUSE JUDICIARY COMMITTEE REFUSES TO APPROVE BETHLEN

Proposal for Nullification.

WASHINGTON, June 10.—Taking a hand in the controversy over releasing Hungary, the house judiciary committee refused today to approve a resolution to prohibit use of state and local police—no federal enforcement.

The proposal, sponsored by Representative Brien, republican, Illinois, was referred to the committee by the house on June 8.

Against Betreford.
Caucusing with the committee's action, representatives of a group of temperance organizations, among them the Anti-Slavery League, the League of Women, the Methodist Episcopal church joined in a statement proposing united action against "false and non-sensational propaganda."

The legislative committee of the Anti-Slavery League announced it had adopted a resolution urging the forces of the nation to oppose and abstain from participating in all constitutional referendum, which have no binding effect and to participate only in those which have constitutional basis.

POPULATION OF

Engineer of Bell Telephone Company Estimates 146,000,000 People by 1950.

TULSA, Okla., June 10. (AP)—The probable population of the United States in 1950 will be approximately 146,000,000, according to working estimates brought today before the National Association of Real Estate Boards by E. N. Wilson of St. Louis, commercial engineer of the Southwestern Bell Telephone company.

By that time the urban regions, which he said contain 51.2 per cent of the total population, will have a total of about 90,000,000, or an increase of 67 per cent over the 1920 total. Rural communities, Mr. Wilson's figures showed, would then have a total population of approximately 55,000,000. Their population may be expected to increase only eight per cent over the period.

The population expectancy for the United States in 1950 is now four million less than it appeared to be several years ago, he said. "The revision is the principally to changes in the immigration outlook, and the acceleration of the movement from farms and smaller towns to the cities."

Home-Owners Seek Outlook.
The present trend of home-owners is toward the outskirts of the cities via the least automobile route, according to J. E. Miller of Geneva, Ohio, vice chairman of the farm lands division. He predicted a small per cent of growth within cities and a great increase in the population of areas just outside the corporate limits. Two acres is the ideal size for a suburban farm, and advised against merely advertising in selling them. The local buyers were said to be the best results.

Sets Grouping of Bankers.
Amalgamation of real estate brokers into large consolidated corporations, able to give complete real estate service to the community in which they operate, will be the ultimate bankers' move, in the view of Leonard F. Reame, former president of the Detroit board.

Such an amalgamation would bring the best service in the public and the greatest success to the operators, he declared.

Business buildings which are not erected with a view of filling a logical need according to the location become expensive investments, Stanley M. Michael of Cleveland, told another section of the session.

"Surveying the needs of a community or locality, and the applying a definite need, is an intelligent way in which to proceed before any building is erected," he said.

NEW YORK, June 10. (AP)—Arthur Pines Jans, whose negotiation of a "working contract" on the Western Pacific became known today is now the largest individual railroad stockholder in the country, it is believed in Wall Street.

Repairing Damaged Cables.
Wind and tide must often determine the movements of the Joseph Henry. Its ship away to where the cable has been snipped, drags about on the bottom for a while with a grunting, heaving, and heaving up one end of the broken line. The line may have been badly damaged. It is strung through a device that would on the big reel by the ship moves forward slowly through the water.

The cable looks like rope, less than three inches in diameter, but it is stronger stuff than most ropes. It weighs about 16 pounds to the foot. If it is of the "dipole" variety, it consists of 104 copper wires in insulation. About them is a water-tight lead sheath. The lead is water-tight with "sewing" and outside of that is bound heavy steel "armor wire."

It is not easy to work with. Kinks must be taken out. Breaks and short circuits must be found. Restored to perfect condition, the cable is taken out again by the Joseph Henry to be reeled. A small boat picks up a buoy and brings a rope aboard in which the other broken end has been attached. Then this end is dragged aboard.

While the Joseph Henry is at work a signal swings from the mast which means in the International code "En-

LITTLE THEATRE
NEEDS ARTISTS

Noted Professional Urges Artists to Stay With Movement to Assure Its Success.

NEW YORK, June 10. (AP)—If the Little Theatre movement is to succeed, those within the ranks must not let artists and not leave to seek careers on the professional stage.

So believes Walter Hartwig, who four years ago started the Little Theatre movement in New York, that three of which were won by the Dallas players.

Hartwig looks forward to the day when the Little Theatre will be as well established as it can provide remuneration for the members through a division of profits. At present he hopes to see the numerous groups begin nationwide tours and through their general exertions enhance the spoken drama "on the road."

"By this I mean the Dallas players would go to San Francisco and other large cities for engagements of a week each," he explained. "Chicago, Cleveland, New Orleans, Louisville, the Carolina Playmakers and others would do likewise. Each could come to New York for a week's run."

Hartwig Is Persevering.
Hartwig has been stage manager for Daniel Folan for many years. He is passionate about the present professional theater.

"It has been molded in a form and everything placed on a business basis," he gave as one of the reasons. "Certain as theater can expect to progress when the mechanics back-stage are paid more than most of the artists."

"When a Little Theatre actor or playwright achieves recognition and seeks added fame on Broadway, he only weakens his own organization and, eventually has no opportunity for the accomplishment of anything worth while on the professional stage."

In this connection, he pointed out that Oliver Brown of Dallas brought four actors to New York last year and returned with two. Numerous players who had little career training in the Little Theatre now are on Broadway—some employed and others making the dreary round of the agencies.

One of the encouraging features of the Little Theatre to Hartwig is that not only is it developing actors but also playwrights, director stage managers and scenic artists as well.

ENTER "GRIFTER" TO PLY HIS TRADE IN NEW YORK
NEW YORK, June 10. (AP)—In the Broadway theater, where the grifter drifts by day and night, where the traffic rules are hard, and where "Grit" flourishes with no thought of "Grit," an unknown Ohio auto-mechanic was awarded today loyal courtesies.

His open scheme was not money or influence, but two words of the auto mechanic, "battery trouble." On a Saturday afternoon he parked one block off Broadway, where a man-for-tips-waiters parked autos during theatre hours. The Ohio auto mechanic was leaving his car while he fixed "battery trouble."

He left and was not seen there again until the following day. Meanwhile the man and his partner had watched over the car, and on Tuesday the Ohio returned, found the policeman on duty. "Folks, the vehicle related how he fixed battery trouble; and departed with the officer's blessing. There were no tips.

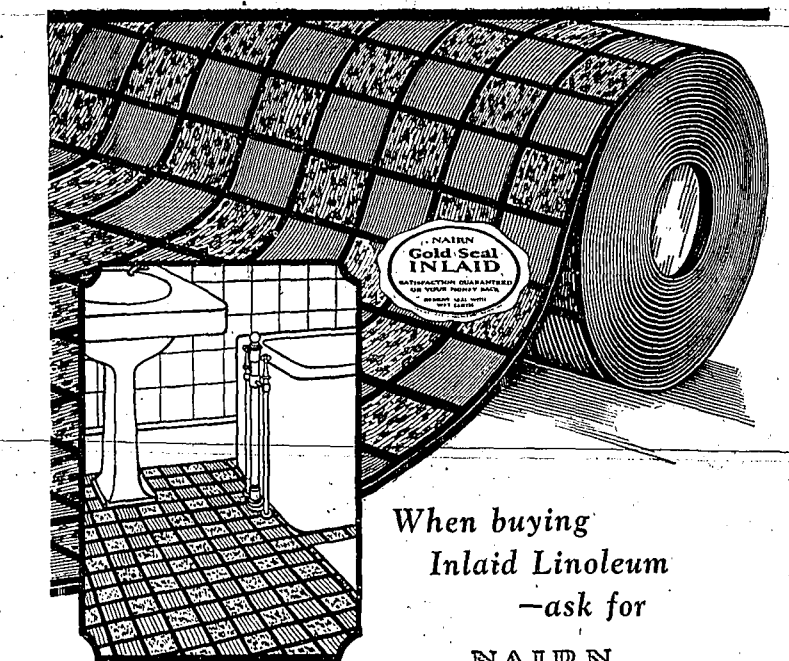

The grifter is a man who lives by his wits, but within the law. He sells anything—services, silk stockings, razors, etc.—the idea is something of actual value, and offers it at regular market rates. He is a grifter because he is able to convince his customer that he alone is able to supply the service at a cut rate, although the customer can walk into the next hardware store and buy the same thing for exactly the same price.

BERLENBACH IS
HOLDING TITLE

Light Heavy Weight Champion
Bests Young Stribling, Georgia Challenger, in Tame Affair at Yankee Stadium.

(By the Associated Press.)
YANKEE STADIUM, NEW YORK, June 10.—Paul Berlenbach easily won back the challenge of young Stribling in the eighth round of the light heavy weight fight tonight, battering the young Georgian into decisive defeat in a six-round match that fell far below the spectacular heights expected of it.
A crowd of 30,000 saw the champion give Stribling no chance of coming about from start to finish, forcing the battle in nearly every round and piling up a margin on points that made the judges' decision at the finish a mere formality.
Stribling, flashy and confident by comparison with Berlenbach's downy moustache at the start, got away impressively in the first three rounds, landing a smashing left hook, planted just over the heart brought him up short in the fourth round.

Decisive Punch.
That punch, already checking a heading rush by the Georgian, really was the deciding factor and the turning point. After it, Stribling seemed bereft of his usual speed and agility. He was a mark for Berlenbach's puny driving right and left to the body with hooks to the head and left to the southern youth groggy in at least four of the closing rounds—the sixth, fourth, seventh and eighth.

Fighting on the defensive for the last two rounds except for one flailing rally in the sixth, Stribling reacted to all his tricks and tactics to stay off Berlenbach's steady rushes and punishing blows.
Berlenbach tried hard to score a knockout. He had Stribling in full retreat a good share of the time and once scored solidly on occasion but not sufficiently to get the Georgian down.

Fast Preliminaries.
Sergeant Sammy Baker, soldier of the lightest weight, had been ordered by the referee to stand over Berlenbach, the Georgian, in a two-round match, the first preliminary to the Berlenbach-Stribling title bout.

The soldier boxer was the aggressor most of the way, landing with driving effect to the head and body and flooring Berlenbach for a count of four in the fifth round. This was the only knock-out. Baker weighed 115 1/2 and Berlenbach 145.

The second preliminary was over almost before it started, with Monte Muniz, of Laredo, Nebraska, scoring a technical knockout over Joe Burkin, negro heavy weight of Dallas, Texas, after only one minute and 20 seconds of the first round had elapsed.

Muniz, a former member of the Nebraska legislature and brother of Wayne (Big) Muniz, the wrestler, made short work of Burkin, who was down four times all together.

It was the fourth successive knock-out Muniz had scored in a brief but sensational ring career. He weighed 205 tonight, while Burkin scaled 210.

Round One.

Round Two.
Stribling rushed in but Berlenbach clinched. A left to the body caused Stribling to back. Another left sent the challenger's head back but the blows were weak. A swinging right struck Berlenbach in the face and he clinched. They wrestled around. The referee cautioned Stribling for holding. A right to the body and left to the chin sent the champion to the corner but Stribling did not follow. A right to the face forced the champion to clinch just as the bell rang.

Round Three.

Round Four.
Stribling came over a left to the face and the head clinch followed. They danced around, Stribling landing a left to the side of the head suggested the champion. A short left to the face brought him to the challenger's mouth. Another left to the head sent Stribling to the ropes and he drove on. The bell found them locked legal.

Round Nine.
They met in a clinch and walked to the ropes. The champion forced Stribling into an end and crashed his right to the jaw. A wild right landed to the side of the champion's head and Berlenbach paid his challenge with driving lefts to the body. Stribling slipped an attempt to the champion's face and then hung on. A left to the face lifted Stribling off his feet and he was grabbing to clinch as the bell rang.

Round Ten.
The referee cautioned Stribling for holding as the men went in a clinch. Stribling ripped his right to Berlenbach's ribs and almost toppled the champion from the ring. Stribling came in fast but Berlenbach held him off to close quarters. The crowd roared as Stribling continued to hold on. Stribling clung to Berlenbach's body every time they came to close quarters. The champion went over a crashing left to the head and Stribling saved himself from going down by grabbing the champion on his way. They were waiting at the bell.

Round Eleven.
Stribling started Berlenbach with a straight right to the head and then backed up. Stribling attempted to hang on but the champion's sweat body caused him to lose his grip and Berlenbach beat him back badly about the body. Berlenbach ripped over two hard lefts to the ribs and then held his challenger off with his left arm extended. The referee had trouble paring the pair just before the bell sounded.

Round Twelve.
Stribling sent the champion back on his heels with a left to the face and then hung on. Stribling landed a weak right to the head but Berlenbach countered with a left to the ribs. Berlenbach jarred Stribling with a right to the teeth; then punished him to the body as Stribling came into him. Another straight left to the face brought new blood from the challenger's mouth. Stribling was unloading a blow as he tried to even Berlenbach's onslaught at close quarters. Stribling was hanging on as usual at the bell.

Round Thirteen.
Stribling danced in and jarred the champion with a left to the face. Berlenbach missed a left and clinched. Stribling lifted Berlenbach off the floor as the challenger ducked and grabbed to the body in an effort to dodge the challenger's right. The champion drove Stribling to a corner and showered him with lefts to the body and head. They wrestled around. Stribling continued to hang on. Five times Berlenbach scored to the body as Stribling was getting his grip on Berlenbach's body. The bell found them dancing around.

Round Fourteen.
Stribling drove a savage right to the body then jabbed to the face with his left. Stribling landed another right to the body but Berlenbach punished him about the body. Stribling's next, cruel drive Berlenbach through the ropes but he was back in the ring without a count. Every charge resulted in a clinch from which the referee had difficulty in breaking them. Berlenbach brought his right into play again to the body as Stribling hung on to save himself from punishment as the bell rang.

Round Fifteen.
They shook hands. Two minutes followed. Berlenbach parried off his challenger's body as Stribling came in to hang on. They wrestled around the ring to the shriek of the spectators. Berlenbach tried desperately to land a decisive punch but the challenger hung on to save himself from the champion's driving punches. They were dancing at the bell.

Camel is the smoker's sign of friendship

IN THE home, or at the club—in busy office or crowded street—whenever friend meets friend, you will hear that magic invitation—have a Camel!

And wherever Camels are lighted, men come together in more friendly understanding. No other cigarette ever had or made so many friends or brought so much added friendliness to the world as Camel, for Camel's quality is a universal language.

Camel is more than a cigarette. It is an experience in smoking enjoyment—the finest this old earth affords. Camels contain the choicest Turkish and Domestic tobaccos grown, and these fine tobaccos are superbly blended, as in no other cigarette. The enjoyment of Camels goes on forever, for they never tire the taste no matter how liberally you smoke them. They simply never leave a cigarette after-taste. No other cigarette in the world is like them. Millions of experienced smokers who could well afford to pay more will buy and smoke only Camels.

Whenever and wherever you meet a friend, let that be a standing invitation to the sheerest enjoyment that ever came from a cigarette.

ELECTION DAY STIRS RUMANIA

Returns Reveal Sweeping Victory for Premier Averescu; Many Petty Disputes.

BUCHAREST, June 10 (By-loyed)—From one end of Rumania to the other cries of fraud, substitution, intimidation and violence have followed the recent parliamentary election which returned a sweeping victory for Premier Averescu.

Minor assaults, numerous arrests, the forcible prevention of voters, political threats, and even soldiers themselves from entering the election district, were legion, as indeed they are at every Rumanian election.

The final tallies showed that Premier Averescu captured 60 per cent of the majority in both houses. The national peasant coalition polled about 15 per cent and the Rumanian group, which it is stated in political circles in reality is supporting the Averescu faction, obtained a few scattering places in each chamber.

The entire struggle and general war was mobilized for two days, the country was virtually in a state of siege. Having no votes themselves, the army and the police played implicitly the orders of the existing Averescu government regarding the control of the election. In view of the fact that this victory virtually sealed the election in advance.

The government has promised a complete investigation into charges that its peasants were killed, 30 were wounded in Transylvania during the recent district elections there.

Jerome Club Plans Annual Festival

JEROME, June 10.—Arrangements are being made for the annual Jerome festival, which will be held on June 14 at the club house. This affair is looked forward to with much interest by the members.

A. C. Tollock is spending the summer with friends in Utah.

The Auxiliary to the American Legion held an interesting meeting with Mrs. H. E. Sims on Monday evening.

Mrs. A. G. Pines was hostess to the Westfield Community club at her home on Wednesday afternoon. A volunteer program was largely enjoyed.

Mrs. Morris King and daughter formerly of Jerome are expected to visit relatives soon having left her home in Boston for Idaho the last week.

Miss Olga, Thorsen and Roscoe Thorsen left the first of the week after a visit of two weeks with relatives here for San Francisco where they will attend summer school.

Mr. and Mrs. James Harris and family left the first of the week to make their home in California.

Mr. and Mrs. Pann Bird will leave in the near future for Colorado where they will visit relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. David McArthur and family have returned from a short visit with relatives in St. Anthony.

Mrs. P. L. Pierce has as her house guest her father, A. Hilger of Hecker, Mo.

Mr. and Mrs. George Tansh have returned from a motor trip to Boise. They were accompanied home by their daughter, Miss Ruby, who has attended school in Boise.

The Presbyterian Ladies' Aid society met on Friday afternoon with Mrs. G. H. Hawley. Mesdames Hillman and Robinson were assistant hosts.

The Blue Line stage has established a branch run from Jerome to Hills and leaves once a week.

The dances at Overlook farm are proving popular. Hawk's orchestra from Twin Falls furnishes the music.

TWO INJURED IN MELEE ON FARM

Jesse "Red" Lawson, Alleged Aggressor, in Dangerous Condition; Mexican Recovering.

Jesse "Red" Lawson, 29, alleged to have been the aggressor in a disturbance staged last Wednesday night in the field laborers' quarters on the E. V. True farm near Murgham, is a patient in the county general hospital here suffering from effects of a gash over the eye that is reported to have been caused by a Mexican throwing a lump of coal.

Frank Moreno, Mexican, alleged victim of Lawson, is recovering from effects of a wound inflicted with a bar that almost entirely severed his left ear and of a minor wound in the neck that Lawson is said to have inflicted with a pocket knife.

Lawson's condition, according to Dr. J. E. Langewiesche, county physician, was regarded Thursday evening as being serious.

Physician charges of assault with intent to kill will be preferred against Lawson, officers stated.

Lawson and Moreno were brought to Twin Falls early Thursday morning by Police Chief H. E. Leighton and Deputy Sheriff E. F. Dwyer who went to the scene of the disturbance in response to call made by Frank White, employer of Lawson and Moreno on the contract in the field fields. Mr. and Mrs. White and other employees had taken refuge in the True residence.

Lawson was found asleep in his bunk. According to the officers Lawson stated that he wanted to apologize for falling to kill the Mexican.

Lawson had been in Twin Falls during the day, and is said to have been under influence of liquor when he returned to the Murgham farm.

Moreno is seeking damages alleging that Dr. Spencer and Mrs. Spalding conspired with his wife to palm off on him as his own, a newly born baby of which his wife was not the mother.

GREECE DESIRES LASTING PEACE

Minister of Foreign Affairs Tells Associated Press Country Has No Designs.

ATHENS, June 10. (AP)—Greece has no imperialist ambitions. What she requires is a lasting peace and an opportunity to rehabilitate her economic system.

This is the viewpoint of Lucas Rouphos, minister of foreign affairs in the cabinet of General Pangalos, as outlined to a special correspondent of The Associated Press. The declaration of M. Rouphos apparently set at naught reports that Greece had joined hands with Italy against Turkey for the capture of Greece's lost provinces.

"We have no imperialist designs," said the foreign minister. "We have no secret alliance with Italy or any other country. We must devote all our time, energy and money to the economic reconstruction of our country. It would be idle for us to go to war while we still are suffering so grievously from the terrible consequences of the Smyrna disaster."

From the cabinet meeting at which the question of a Balkan pact was discussed, M. Rouphos showed the relations of Greece with Italy, Turkey, Jugoslavia, Bulgaria, Rumania and Albania. There are friendly relations with her neighbors was Rouphos' earnest desire, he said. The present Greek cabinet wholeheartedly favored a Balkan pact followed after the last ratification. He disavowed talk about the hostility of Greece toward Turkey and said the Greek government was earnestly seeking to cultivate the confidence of the Ankara cabinet.

Was Once Royalist.

M. Rouphos was an ardent royalist. During the Venizelist regime he served two years in prison for supporting King Constantine. He showed the correspondent a large diamond ring with the Greek initial "K" (signifying Konstantinos).

"This was given to me by our late lamented king," he said. "It shows that it is not possible for royalists to be violent and ultra-farther apart together in the common interest of Greece. Almost every political element is represented in our present government. If we have eliminated much of the force political rivalry and far-reaching animosities and factions exist among the Greek people. The population wants to forget about politics and politicians and devote itself actively to work."

He talks with Benito Mussolini, the Italian fascist premier, M. Rouphos asserted, but continued that the Italian dictator, in spite of his belated attentions, is really a man of peace.

"It is true," he added, "that Mussolini is seeking new colonial outlets for Italy's ever-growing population; but he does not intend to obtain it by force by any means."

Hardly Softens Varnish.

Measurements of the hardness of varnish have been made by the bureau of standards on samples received for test in the bureau's laboratory.

The marked effect of humidity on the measurements was revealed on a very humid day in the laboratory, the bureau reports. To illustrate, a varnish in a device tested on a dry day showed a hardness factor of 220, the relative humidity being 50 per cent.

At four days, with a humidity of 60 per cent, the hardness factor was 237. At six days, with a humidity of 80 per cent, the hardness factor was only 224, and at seven days, with a humidity of 50 per cent, the hardness factor was 417. The marked decrease in the hardness factor on the sixth day, when the humidity was 80 per cent, is significant.—Nation's Business Magazine.

Equity Shows 'Other Side' of Chorus Girl's Life; Each Must Be Versatile

NEW YORK, June 10. (AP)—"Chorus Girl Shows Backstage," "The Other Side of the Stage," and "The Chorus Girl's Life," are three of the headlines that have been printed in the past few days, suddenly becoming known to the public. Only recently a girl who appeared in numerous productions, during the past few years, suddenly became known to the public as the daughter of a well-known actor.

But these in the theater audience who had watched her dancing and singing and her singing and the manager who paid her $20 a week about thirty times a year never would have guessed the trouble she was having as head of a family.

Then there is the story of a young chorus girl. She had to work a kind of double life, as a chorus girl and as a mother. First time she was going on a tour with her mother and father, she had to work a double life, as a chorus girl and as a mother. First time she was going on a tour with her mother and father, she had to work a double life, as a chorus girl and as a mother.

It is nothing unusual for a chorus girl to have dependents, said Mrs. Dorothy Bryant, secretary of the Chorus Girls' association, and the tasks they undertake in efforts to earn money are as versatile as the characters they perform.

With the average salary and period of employment of $24 and thirty weeks a year respectively, the girls are compelled to do other work. June to September is the vacation season and their old jobs must leave them free to search for places during this time.

Some act as models for artists. Many of them make good money posing for commercial photographers. Others work as waitresses, and some as saleswomen. Some are even in the business of selling their own products.

ISOLATED TRIBE ALMOST EXTINGUISHED

Remnants of Alabama Indians, Living in Eastern Texas Slowly Wastes Away.

DALLAS, Texas, June 10. (AP)—Deep in the piney woods of East Texas lives a people who have come down from the dim antiquity of early America. They are the Alabama Indians, an isolated, primitive tribe.

Strange in the ways of modern life and virtually without the protection of the Great White Father at Washington, they are rapidly going the way of the vanishing race. Through a century, poverty and struggle have been their lot, but even a gentle people, they have uttered no complaint.

Their condition has been brought to the attention of congress by Representative Briggs of Texas, who asked $125,000 to provide them with land, livestock and equipment.

In the heart of the woods they live a strange and detached life. When the Soto sought the city of gold in America's wilds, the Alabama even then were an ancient nation. Two of the tribe's legends mention them in the early part of the eighteenth century. The French found these Indians in what is now Alabama and Texas, their fast friends. The Indians, driven by approaching civilization and a desire for more hunting ground, migrated in Texas early in the nineteenth century. They built houses in villages, and there one of their greatest white friends, General Sam Houston, found them in 1837. Through his influence, the Texas legislature gave them two sections of land which they occupy to this day.

Decline Reservation.

They live in what is called "the Village," in the southwestern corner of Polk county. Selected for hunting purposes, the land is not adapted to agriculture, and since the game is almost gone, their livelihood is scant. General Houston advised them to remain in Texas, so when the government offered to remove them to a reservation, they declined.

The tribe today numbers about 250. Intermarriage and lack of medical knowledge have weakened them. They have few modern implements and know little about scientific agriculture. Among themselves they speak only the primitive Alabama tongue. It is against the policy for them to speak English, but the children are learning the language rapidly.

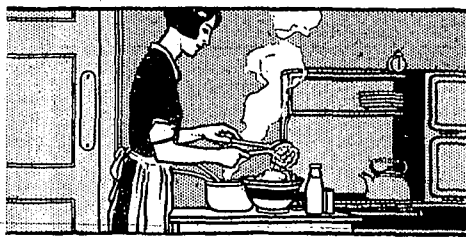

They do not mingle with whites socially and are strictly uneducated. They are not church members and are strictly uneducated. They are not church members and are strictly uneducated.

COOKING in large quantities or small makes all the difference in the world. The same with roasting coffee. That's why ordinary bulk-roasted coffees cannot have that delicate, come-any-flavor of Hills Bros.—roasted by Hills Bros.' exclusive, original process.

A few pounds roasted at a time . . . even temperature . . . constant aeration . . . that's how Hills Bros.' patented continuous-roasting process develops that inimitable flavor that has made "Red Can" the pride of the coffee-loving West.

Break the vacuum seal of a tin of Hills Bros. Get that wonderful aroma! Brew a cup and drink it down. Note that marvelous flavor! Only in Hills Bros. can you get these coffee-delights. Mail the coupon for your free copy of "The Art of Entertaining," which tells how to make a better cup of coffee.

Ask for Hills Bros. by name and look for the Arab on the can. It's quite important.

Good teeth, whether natural or artificial, are essential to health and good appearance. The mouth is the gateway to good health. The care of your teeth is important.

If you don't want to keep fighting off sick, get the best teeth in a healthful condition and keep them that way. You will then enjoy the comfort and satisfaction of confidence and good health.

When you consider the important part your teeth play in your every day life, for health and happiness, it is just as important to use discretion, when they need attention, in placing their care in the hands of one whose knowledge and application of latest methods insures you absolute cleanliness and perfect preservation.

You are assured of every courtesy, consideration and care while receiving dental attention from me. You are assured of quality and service in my industry and you are assured of time-saving.

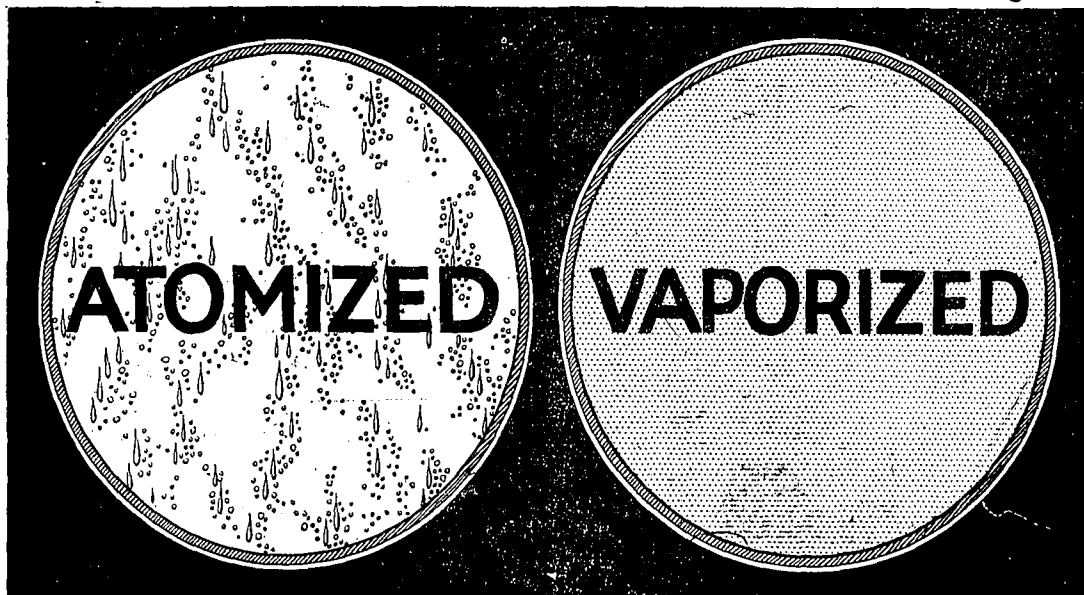

The beautiful results, the beauty, the care and attention, and the price should be of interest.

WET or DRY?

The new Texaco is a "dry gas." Petroleum engineers have been trying for years to perfect a motor gasoline which would vaporize to a dry gas under engine conditions and overcome the bad effects of a wet mixture. The new Texaco forms a dry gas at a temperature much lower than others on the market.

A wet gas, as it would appear in the engine manifold, is a mixture of gasoline vapor and fine drops of liquid gasoline. It is the cause of unequal cylinder distribution and excessive crankcase dilution, and the result of high "endpoint" and low volatility.

A wet gas chokes power. Liquid drops separate from the mixture at every bend of the manifold, and following the straightest path, concentrate at the end cylinders. That is why the spark plugs of the end cylinders are fouled more frequently than the others.

A dry gas, no matter how greatly magnified, is absolutely invisible—a perfect mixture of vapor and air. Dry gas conserves power. It equalizes cylinder distribution and reduces crankcase dilution to a minimum, and is the result of low end point and high volatility.

A New Low Boiling Point which means
An Easier Start

A New Low End Point which means
Less Crankcase Dilution

A New Volatile Range which means
Quicker Pick-up

THE TEXAS COMPANY, U. S. A., Texaco Petroleum Products

The new and better Texaco, with its new low-boiling point and low end point, its higher volatility and balanced distillation range, now provides an entirely new motor fuel—a dry gas of unequalled qualities.

The result is a far better manifold distribution, which permits a leaner carburetor setting, and means no flooded cylinders, less crankcase dilution, easier starting, maximum acceleration and more mileage.

Start today with a stop at the pump displaying the Texaco Red Star and Green T. You don't have to ask for the new Texaco—it's there at the regular place from the regular pump. And there, too, you can get the clean, clear, golden Texaco Motor Oil; famed for its lubricating value and freedom from carbon formation.
