STORY TELLS BANKS TO STOP EGGERS

"Inside Dope" Offered Before House Liquor Traffic Committee by Ex-Dealer in Prohibited Beverages.

(By the Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, June 16.—An "inside story" alleging that the banks throughout the country have been eggheads in financing their transactions, was unfolded today before the House alcoholic liquor traffic committee by William C. Davidson, who described himself as the co-egghead. William C. Davidson, a former assistant secretary of the treasury, the prohibition chief, with full access to evidence, was told by the committee that the bank transactions which he offered. He also said Samuel McNabb, federal district attorney at Los Angeles, a Colorado man, who said he was prohibitionist for southern California, had been with the banks in New York, New Jersey, and New Mexico, and had refused to take action after he had told them his story.

Tells of Transactions.
Asserting he had worked for about five years in the whole end of the bootlegging game in various sections of the country, Davidson told of alleged transactions with the following banks: The United States National bank, San Diego, California; the Northwestern bank, Portland, Oregon; the Royal bank of Canada, and a branch of the California bank, Los Angeles.

Davidson's efforts to interest federal officials in prosecuting the banks were declared that Davidson had told him he didn't want anything and that it would look fine in the headlines—California bank in the whiskey business.

Regarding the transaction through the California bank, in October, 1924, Davidson told the committee that he had been with the bank in Los Angeles. He said he had a letter from the bank, for $30,000 with the bank for the liquor, and that Davidson had confirmed the transaction as he had represented it.

At prohibition headquarters, officials said they were thoroughly familiar with the bank in Los Angeles. A general counsel for the prohibition bureau, said Davidson has offered to give evidence about transactions of California banks with bootleggers in return for a job, but that California prohibition officials never had been able to obtain sufficient evidence from him to prove a case.

ANDERSON DIVES VIEW.
LOS ANGELES, June 16.—W. Anderson, assistant to Colonel Robert F. Anderson, prohibition administrator in this district, declared today that a man who gave him the name of William Calne, came to his office here last September with the statement that a branch of the California bank here had represented a check on an illicit liquor transaction.

Together with Colonel Fitch, Anderson said, he went to the United States attorney's office where a telegram was sent to prohibition administrator Anderson at Washington informing him of what Calne had told him.

While waiting for a reply Anderson said he learned that Calne had approached a local newspaper with an offer to tell the story and had gone to the bank mentioned and demanded ten thousand dollars in return for not giving the story to the newspaper. Thereupon, Anderson said, he told Calne that he did not want anything further from him.

Anderson said he had never heard of Calne before he appeared at the prohibition office, and did not know him to be a bootlegger here.

Officials of the California bank here today denied knowledge of Calne's purported check transactions and said they had never heard of any one having demanded money from the institution to suppress a newspaper story.

DAVIDSON UNKNOWN.
SAN FRANCISCO, June 16.—(AP)—Eustace Callahan, vice president and general manager of the Liberty Bell, San Francisco, mentioned by William C. Davidson as having engaged in bootlegging transactions, said today that Davidson was not known to any one at the bank.

BARBON WOULD COMBINE FORCES.

Senator Robinson of Arkansas suggests coalition for benefit of farm relief.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—(AP)—Senator Robinson of Arkansas today urged that the Senate and House should combine their forces in the fight against the tariff.

Discussion centered mostly on the tariff as the chief difficulty and Senator Robinson of Arkansas, the democratic leader, recommended a coalition of the democrats and the union group against the tariff.

World Survey Tariff.
"I am going to suggest to the democrats in good faith," he said, "to join hands with the wheat farmers of the northwest to try to down this tariff wall and stop this plundering system that has disgraced the farmers of the nation."

Pulling a finger at western republicans, Senator Robinson declared: "You and I can agree upon a tariff that could save the farmers and other consumers of this country billions of dollars in the whiskey business."

He said he had a letter from the bank, for $30,000 with the bank for the liquor, and that Davidson had confirmed the transaction as he had represented it.

At prohibition headquarters, officials said they were thoroughly familiar with the bank in Los Angeles. A general counsel for the prohibition bureau, said Davidson has offered to give evidence about transactions of California banks with bootleggers in return for a job, but that California prohibition officials never had been able to obtain sufficient evidence from him to prove a case.

INSIDE DETAILS OF PEN VOTING GIVEN PROBERS

Senate Committee Investigating Primary Expenditures Delve into Workings of Rival Political Machines.

(By the Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, June 16.—(AP)—Some inside details of the workings of the rival political machines in eastern and western Pennsylvania during the recent republican primary were barred today by the senate committee investigating the primary.

Leaders of both the Vard-Bellman and the Joseph Fisher groups were subjected to a rapid-fire of cross-examination by Senator Reed, democrat, Missouri, and other members of the committee continued its search for the sources of funds in the $2,000,000 primary.

Harry A. Mackey, chairman of the state-wide organization of Representative Vard, the successful senatorial candidate, was the first to be questioned by the committee.

The mayor and Mackey each had a rather uncomfortable half hour or more on the stand. Mackey was the principal witness of the day and he maintained that there had been no illegal contributions or purchasing of votes in the primary and that the stuffing of the ballot boxes would have been impossible even if there had been a desire to resort to such tactics.

The trail of prohibition again ran across the hearing as William A. White, city editor and Frederick H. Rury, a reporter of the Pittsburgh Press, were questioned about the removal from Pittsburgh to Philadelphia of Frederick H. Rury, prohibition administrator, just before the primary election.

They testified that Rury had been removed from Pittsburgh to Philadelphia just before the primary election and that Rury had been removed from Pittsburgh to Philadelphia just before the primary election.

BRIAND TO FORM TENTH CABINET

Veteran French Statesman Sets About Task of Gathering Non-Partisan Government.

PARIS, June 16. (AP)—Aristide Briand late today agreed to act himself to the task of forming a nonpartisan cabinet in an effort to solve the pressing financial and political problems now facing France.

M. Briand, long a veteran banker and maker of cabinets, resigned his which cabinet shortly after his former minister, Paul Poincaré had given up his portfolio because of lack of support for his party to save the franc.

M. Briand has accepted the mission to form his tenth ministry after President Doumergue had conferred with the chiefs of all the groups in the chamber of deputies and the senate. Most of these leaders recommended that a national union cabinet be formed under the leadership of the "man of Lausanne."

Horris Debauch Officer

The first case which M. Briand struck was the refusal of former Premier Briand to enter a coalition cabinet. The president of the chamber, who also is president of the radical party, had talked with the former members of his cabinet who is understood to have advised against the entrance of radicals into any cabinet except one recruited from a radical and socialist coalition.

Despite this obstacle, M. Briand decided that he could not refuse to do what he had promised to do for a nonpartisan government. He will ask former President Poincaré to take the finance portfolio and will call on the leaders of all the principal groups in the senate, except the radicals and communists, to take part in a determined effort finally to lift France out of the slough of financial disaster.

explained that he could not have made good such a threat because he had no way of finding out how the unemployed and could not discharge them for political reasons since they were under civil service.

Both Chairman Reed and Senator King, democrat, Utah, questioned King closely and he seemed to be very vague as to what he had said in any of the numerous political speeches he made in Pittsburgh during the campaign. He was fairly certain, however, that he had not sought to intimidate the employees.

The mayor finally ordered Senator King, who jumped to his feet and drew a succession of questions at the witness that King finally protested that he had made his statement about his speech and was willing to stand on it.

With Mrs. Poyner and her son, who occupied the berth across from Mrs. Brigham, the fire started from Mrs. Brigham's window in the smoking room and spread out of the window until the car came to a stop, when they climbed out.

At this time the interior of the car was a seething inferno, Mrs. Brigham said. King and his wife both were standing by the side of the train when the flames were returning for their luggage. The flames prevented him from returning and he broke a window and leaped out. Meanwhile Mrs. Brigham and Mrs. King remained in the car and was lost.

ATTACK PHASES OF MORMONISM

L. D. S. Church Comes in for Discussion at Intermountain Protestant Session.

SALT LAKE, June 16. (AP)—Certain phases of Mormonism and Mormon life were today attacked by leaders of the Intermountain Christian Workers Institute for Protestant churches in their session at Westminster college today.

The Rev. W. M. Paul, superintendent of the Utah Presbyterian mission, said that there is hope of the old Mormonism of Brigham Young's days, remoulding and that a new system, slightly more the Christian ideal is being built up.

Discussing the book "Discourse of Brigham Young," Dr. John A. Whitcomb declared that he looked toward the principles of Christianity and a movement away from the original doctrine of the Church of Latter Day Saints.

Drift From Belief

Many friends of the Rev. Paul, no longer regard Joseph Smith as a prophet, and do not accept present leaders of the church as called of God. He further stated that the present leaders of the church would not dare to represent themselves as the authentic of God, to the detriment of the membership is growing fast.

In a general discussion which followed, it was stated that apostasy among the members of the church is growing fast.

The Rev. Clayton Rice of Idaho read poetry holding up to ridicule certain acts of some Mormon pioneers. He, however, praised the work of the Mormon living near Luke.

The speaker, however, frequently and laughed at the stories told at the expense of Mormonism.

BOURBONS FOR OVERTURES TO PROGRESSIVES

Democrats of Three Counties in Meeting Here with State
Leader Air Their Views on Politics.

Representatives of Twin Falls, Cassia and Jerome counties, according to a majority of their spokesmen at a meeting here Wednesday, favor placing in the fight this year a complete democratic state ticket, provided overtures to the progressive party looking toward agreement on a division of congressional and state offices prove unsuccessful. Selection of county candidates, the meeting declared, should be left entirely to the county committees to work out.

The meeting was one of a series of six meetings called by L. E. Dillingham, Mackay, chairman of the democratic state committee, to be held throughout the state in advance of the meeting of the state committee in Boise, June 28, to ascertain sentiment of members of the party as to candidates and campaign policies.

Resolutions adopted by the meeting here declared that the identity of the democratic party should be maintained and called upon the state central committee to propose to the progressive party "a combination whereby there be brought about an exact division of congressional and state offices on the democratic and state offices."

Advocates of the proposed combination argued that overtures in that direction on the part of the democrats would "smoke out" Ray McKelg, for manager of the progressive party, and would cause defeat of the McKelg-Saunders wing of the republican party.

Others declared that the democrats could not hope to gain victory in the election next fall without combination with the progressive party's forces.

An amendment to the resolutions declaration in regard to proposed combination with the progressives offered by W. Orr Chapman, Twin Falls, and adopted, provided that "in the event such fair combination is made with the progressives, the democrats shall nominate a complete state ticket."

John P. Wilson, Twin Falls, candidate two years ago for congress and then an advocate of fusion with the progressives, offered an amendment which was voted down that declared without qualification for annihilation of a complete democratic ticket.

The meeting, however, adopted an amendment offered by Mr. Wilson to the resolutions declaration with respect to selection of county candidates. This amendment struck from the committee's report a provision for approval of any combination that may be or have been proposed.

Deal in County Remote.

Members of a committee named by democrats of Twin Falls county at a mass meeting here last week to negotiate with representatives of the progressive party with view to effecting a working agreement or combination of forces in the coming campaigns in this county, stated during discussions at the meeting Wednesday that there seemed to be little hope for working out any such agreement.

Only two speakers declared against the proposed combination with respect to congressional and state offices. They were O. C. A. Dillingham, Boise, state committee member, and P. E. Wilson, Twin Falls.

Mr. Dillingham stated that it was not his purpose either to urge or discourage combination with the progressives, but that he desired to have the issue disposed of before the convening of delegates to the state convention.

Advocates of the combination proposal who expressed themselves at the meeting Wednesday included J. H. Masters, Twin Falls, candidate two years ago for lieutenant governor; J. H. Hahwell, Twin Falls; E. C. Davis, Castleford; James D. Wilson, Twin Falls; Mrs. James D. Wilson, Twin Falls; and J. H. Parikh, Burley.

FRUIT GROWERS GO TO EMMETT

District Inspector Points Out
Benefits to Be Gained at Summer meeting.

The summer meeting of the State Horticultural association at Emmett on Friday, June 18, is an affair that commands the attention of all Idaho fruit growers who are interested in gaining large crops of fruit every year. It was stated Wednesday evening by E. V. Dixon, district horticultural inspector.

A number of fruit growers of the Twin Falls district have arranged to attend the meeting. Mr. Dixon stated, and others are expected to make the trip. Persons expecting to attend were requested to get in touch with the district inspector.

The meeting is to be held in the orchard of one of the fruit growers of the Emmett district, and the program includes a thimble demonstration to be conducted by a government expert from Wenatchee, together with many other items of business of interest to fruit growers. Emmett Chamber of Commerce has made plans to give all visitors a royal welcome.

Every fruit grower of this district who expects to stay in the industry, Mr. Dixon stated, should attend the meeting. The thimble demonstration, he stated, should be worth thousands of dollars to orchardists, to say nothing of the benefit to be obtained by exchange of ideas and solving of mutual problems.

Beginning the Question

Beginning the question is assuming a proportion which, in reality, involves the conclusion. Thus, to say that parallel lines will never meet because they are parallel, is simply to assume as a fact the very thing that you profess to prove. A "circle" in logic is a vicious form of argument in which the conclusion is assumed to prove the premise, and then the premise to prove the conclusion.

PRIZES-FOR CYCLISTS

J. HOWARD RODDA, representative of the Cycle Trades of America, showing the school cup, one of the gold watches and a gold medal—some of the 40 prizes to be awarded girl and boy bicycle riders of Twin Falls in the "Safety First" demonstration.

Cyclists Compete for Prizes in "Safety First" Demonstration

What promises to be a big "Safety First" bicycle parade and the highest of its kind ever held in or around Twin Falls is scheduled for next Saturday. Local bicycle dealers in conjunction with J. Howard Rodda, field representative of the Cycle Trades of America, will stage the event.

The bicycle parade will start from Main avenue and Third street east at 10 a. m. After working its way through several of the principal thoroughfares the parade will end up at starting point where Mr. Rodda will deliver a talk along "Safety First" lines and appropriately demonstrate the correct way to ride a bicycle in congested streets.

From present indications its success is assured. The enthusiasm being played by the local riders is becoming greater each day, and it is expected many will be in the lineup when the starting whistle blows.

No Racing Event.

"We want the participants, and particularly the parents of the youngsters, to understand that this bicycle parade is in no way a racing event," says Rodda. "It is simply a ride for the purpose of stimulating interest in the healthful sport of cycling and fostering its development under competent supervision, and to create a sense of justice that the bicycle rider rightfully deserves."

All those having bicycles regardless of age and whether of the new ones are invited to sign, are urged to bring them out and take part in the affair.

In the parade it will not be necessary to register and there is no entry fee. All that is needed is to have a bicycle and the inclination to ride it and probably win a prize.

The High Cost Of Excess Weight

Excess weight in motor trucks is expensive. It increases the purchase price and it costs as much to carry as an equal weight of payload. Its cost is even greater, because it must be carried all the time.

Graham Brothers trucks have a larger proportion of payload to chassis weight than is usually available in their respective capacities. Careful buyers are giving this due recognition, as their marked preference for Graham Brothers trucks indicates.

Built by the largest exclusive truck makers in the world—powered by Dodge Brothers dependable engine—these trucks are capable of an exceptional amount of profitable work over a long period of life.

ORDERS DRAFT UPON STORAGE WATER SUPPLY

Canal Board Takes Action to Insure Continued Delivery of 90 Per Cent of Water Right for Several Days.

Twin Falls Canal company directors in session here Wednesday, authorized making of drafts when necessary on the company's storage water supply in Jackson Lake and American Falls reservoirs to maintain delivery during the next few days of 90 per cent of full state rights to lands under the irrigation system.

The company has available in both reservoirs approximately 30,000 acre feet of stored water, the directors were advised. Only small drafts for a few days has been made on the stored water supply this season, and it is anticipated that stored water will be required for some days to make up the continuing 100 per cent deliveries. Deliveries are to be made in so far as possible on the basis of crop requirements.
