U.S. PROSPERS UNDER POLICIES OF GOVERNMENT

Review of First Three Years of Coolidge Administration Given in Behalf of President at Summer White House.

(By The Associated Press)
PAUL SMITH'S, N. Y., Aug. 3.—Government policies pursued during the three years President Coolidge has occupied the White House have placed the nation, he said, in a position of "flourishing and prosperous conditions and have contributed to make the period the most prosperous of any three years in history."

A review of the administration was given in behalf of Mr. Coolidge at the executive office today, the third anniversary of his assuming the presidency. He said that the country had been placed in a position to meet emergencies, that the nation had been made fit to contribute to the making of the world's most prosperous conditions and have contributed to make the period the most prosperous of any three years in history.

He said:

"The government can not always assure the prosperity of the country; but it can do much to create conditions under which the country will be prosperous if its citizens adhere to sound business principles."

Progress in All Lines

Because of the special conditions confronting the country after the war, the problems awaiting administration were very largely concerned with the reorganization of agriculture, the rehabilitation of the war-torn industries along other lines, such as in educational work and in improving the general moral standard of the country.

The movements of freight cars, very largely in the form of raw materials and units of manufacturing as a whole, is good. While the textile trade reported a slump, it was asserted this industry is now showing signs of recovery, and agricultural west, except for the Dakotas and Nebraska, the continued conditions are good, the few exceptions being due to drought with consequent poor crop conditions.

During the past three years, it was asserted, the country has made great progress from the deflation of the initial three-year period with the result that the way is now clearly recognized from the west and their neighbors in the east, in helping to stimulate all the major industries in the country.

Commodity Prices Lower

Community prices have meanwhile decreased to a point lower than three years ago, although they are not low in the middle of the deflation period.

INQUIRY COURT MAKES REPORT

Lightning Alone Is Declared Responsible for Disastrous Explosion at Lake Denmark.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3 (AP)——Although every known precaution had been taken, particularly against lightning, the silent alone was responsible for the disastrous explosion July 31 at Lake Denmark, N. J., naval ammunition depot.

This was the conclusion of the naval court of inquiry, headed by Rear Admiral Robert E. Coontz, whose report was delivered today, acting under the direction of Captain John D. Hart, who had been sent to inspect the Yorktown, Va., ammunition depot.

The acting secretary announced that steps would be taken immediately to make a more complete investigation.

He said the report, recommended by the court, which suggested that the Lake Denmark depot be repaired for use on a more limited scale and that congress be asked to authorize establishment of another naval ammunition depot at least 100 miles from existing depots, the west coast and the east coast sections.

Emphasize Heroism

Hundreds of sailors and men on duty at Lake Denmark, the time of the explosion, was emphasized in the report. Twenty-three are listed as "missing," and 42 were injured. Many of the wounded were recommended for decorations.

The property loss, including plant and stores, was placed at $47,000,000, while the amount which may be salvaged was estimated at $40,000,000.

The report also recommended the type, number, allocation and protection of magazines, and the manner of storage of explosives, shells, and the like.

The decree which was adopted by the admiral, the direct order of the premier, also calls for the elimination of all ceremonial, of commemoration, and expressing honor for individuals.

Other measures called for binding up the dead, the removal of all public manifestations, which are "within the orbit of the objective tendencies of the government."

Limit Manifestations

All forms of expression, with the exception of those acts to be limited to those "effectively useful and while through the high character of the organs, and the availability of funds, give guarantees of attaining the ends for which they are intended."

CHURCH DISPUTE LITTLE CHANGED

Apparent Impasse Exists in Mexico Over Religious Regulations; Peade Feels Out.

NOGALES, Ariz., Aug. 3. (UPI)—The Mexican press in Nogales, Sonora, Mexico, today says that the revolutionaries arrested Catholic Bishop H. Fazal, 71, in his prison cell in Vera Cruz. Details are lacking.

The Mexico City correspondent of the Nogales Herald also declared that Archbishop H. Fazal, 71, had been arrested.

Details were not available.

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 3. (UPI)—Peace between the revolutionaries and the federalists in the capital was maintained yesterday between the government and Mexican episcopate, arising out of the government's strict enforcement of the religious regulations continued to be put into effect by the revolutionaries.

Learned, "There is no room for conflict."

Meanwhile, the government has received assurances of support for its religious policies from two of the most prominent members of the revolution and military wing—former president Oregon and General Arnulfo Gomez, military chief of the state of Vera Cruz. General Obregon is still leader of the field of the army.

General Gomez is a possible presidential candidate.

Few Disturbances

On the preceding days, the Mexican Catholics, despite their feelings, went about their usual tasks today, and on the surface there was nothing to indicate that the religious situation was not controllable. Newspaper special and government reports describe disturbances in some sections, but in this information it appears that nothing unusual has developed in the last few days.

Quinton said that revolutionaries— it is not specified whether they were priests or laymen—had been arrested with removing treasures and documents from Catholic church.

The Mexican Catholic church is investigating reports of municipal committees appointed to take in the churches that valuable are missing from many of the cathedrals, including the cathedral.

Open Churches

While the ecclesiastical disputes closed, providing a further check of the inventory of its treasures, the other churches were open again today, although only a moderate number of worshippers were seen.

This far there is little or no evidence of the boycott under the auspices of the League for the Defense of Religious Freedom in Mexico City, although the movement, however, has been developing steadily since it began.

In contrast, news from other sections of the republic shows that the boycott is in full swing in most towns, the police refusing to grant passes to citizens who do not conform to the strict rules.

The former congressional disclosed that he voted for Senator Robert M. LaPoltte in the 1924 campaign when most of the delegates at the national convention voted against him.

Programmatic campaigns are being waged in several states. There have been numerous joint debates, with speakers representing both sides of the controversy, but thus far all have been peaceful.

Today, wages have not decreased, and, while prices have gone down, there has been some increase over three years ago.

"Reduction of taxes, accomplished by cuts during his administration, Mr. Coolidge believes, has gone far to encourage business and has laid the foundation condition in the country. At the same time the steady reduction of the huge public debt and the policy of keeping governmental expenditures to a minimum have been a decided factor in the prosperity of the nation," he said.

He added that the reports of a great many trusts with foreign countries, the re-establishment of relations with Mexico, and in general the accomplishment of some progress in the direction leading to further reductions by international agreement in armaments.

REGULATIONS TO GET ATTENTION

National Convention of Council of Knights of Columbus to Deal With Situation.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 3. (UPI)—The national convention of the supreme council, Knights of Columbus, in session here, intends to deal with the religious situation in Mexico in an unmistakable way.

This assertion by Supreme Knight James A. Flaherty in opening the regular annual meeting of the Knights of Columbus here, was supported by the thousands of delegates.

"We are going to deal with the Mexican situation before this convention is over, and we are going to deal with it in an unmistakable way," said Mr. Flaherty. "The present crisis is one of the most important things we will have to consider."

Poiting to four delegates from Mexico seated in the front row, he said:

"They say to them that when this convention is over, they will go back to their native land and be permitted to enter again."

Praises Mussolini

High tribute was paid yesterday Mussolini by James J. Healy, past supreme knight. Speaking at a luncheon in honor of the national officers of the K. of C., Mr. Healy declared that Mussolini was the outstanding figure in the world.

The man who holds largely in republican party affairs in the state—William Hall Thompson, former mayor of Chicago; Fredric Laddie of Jacksonville, former president of congress, and G. G. Culbertson, former president of the Crowe-Harrington group in Cook county—were the principal witnesses.

"Only a half dozen others now remain to explain and defend Senator Thompson," Mr. Healy said. "The chairman, who entered on a lone journey in the absence of Senator LaPoltte, republican, Wisconsin, hopes to wind up the inquiry Thursday and adjourn the committee subject to his call.

Thompson, who came from California to testify, told Senator Healy that the Crowe-Harrington group offered to support him for major next year if he would join forces with them on the county ticket while they had in the field. He said he had accepted the offer.

VICTORY FOR DEBATE

When Herron overruled the Bryan government it was a victory, not for the radical socialist group which Herron is supposed to represent, but rather for international debate.

Herron and his followers have been loud in their demands for the protection of republican principles, instituted in their protests against the adoption of any financial policy with which all the people may not be familiar and on which the nation had not had chance to pass. They offer no constructive policy of their own;
they do not know what they want;
but they will not be denied the chance to say what they don't want, once they have had a chance to look it over.

Under the circumstances, neither the French people nor those who view their situation sympathetically have reason for too great optimism. It is perfectly true that Poivre and his associates, Millerand, Maginot and the survivors of the old Clemenceau group, seem to have almost all the sound financial brains in France, but they have not the voice, and however excellent they may be, the proposals which they bring forward, their financial program must still run the gauntlet of the Left with its sentimental attachment for the theory of a capital tax, its fondness for debate, and its comparative indifference to considerations other than those which concern immediate practical strategy.

Meanwhile the frane slips, the Parlement populace indulges its far-farfrieling and the world wonders.

France is fortunate indeed in that none of the royalist pretenders care to tackle the financial problems which confront the republic. The government has not been more unstable since the Commune.

SUCCESS IN BUSINESS

Mrs. Orr H. Snyder of Cheyenne, who started making candy 10 years ago with a capital of five cents, and now employs 200 workers and has a huge fortune, gives American business women this advice:

"Keep complete help and pay them
well."

"Listen to advice, but manage your own business."

"You must like your work, to be successful."

"Get fun out of the job every day."
Personality is the greatest factor in business, and a smile is the greatest factor in personality."

"That doesn't tell all there is to the business success of this woman, anyway else, but it will give any competent person a good start."

GOOD SPEECH

"Speech education," says a speech-ist in speed training, "is necessary because we talk to others, not for ourselves, and the well-trained speaker has the best of all methods for transmitting his thoughts."

Parents should begin good speech training for their children from the start. "Deacons likewise," and the whole array of similar pictures of Mother, Father, Sunday school teacher, infant—any happier or indicate greater parental affection than simple and correct speech would do, and they do leave bad speech habits to be overcome later.

Teachers, says this authority, should not confine their instruction to grammar and spelling, but should include enunciation, pronunciation and voice resonance. Four factors help in the cultivation of correct and pleasing speech. They are:

Relaxation, the greatest need for all Americans; proper breathing; correct intonation; and the habit of thinking in terms of speech, and enunciating and the habit of thinking in speech.

The English language is a beautiful and deserves greater respect and better usage than it gets even from American born to it. Indefatigably we talk soft and calm, come with a smile, and joyously speak with a hearty laugh.

CRITICS PRAISE "NELL GWYN"

This second picture of the new 1926-27 group of Paramount opened at the Paramount on Friday evening for 50 showings. It is the story of "Nell Gwyn," written by Marjorie Bowen and features Dorothy Gish. The picture was made in "Merry England."

The movie critic of "The New York Times" says: "Nell Gwyn."

"But it is Dorothy Gish that the greatest tribute should be paid.
Superb isn't the word that fits her performance. Tremendous would be the adjective to describe her talent. She is a生 of fire. Pick her out, and she is a生 of fire."

WHEAT PRICES TREND LOWER

Setback in Liverpool Quotations and Slow Export Demand Sends Values Down.

CHICAGO, Aug. 3 (AP)—Wheat prices averaged lower today, influenced by the setback in Liverpool quotations and by slowness of export demand for North American wheat. Selling of wheat against purchases of corn, underwritten by the government, was a factor in the decline in domestic wheat. December delivery of corn reached the highest price yet this season, trade authorities said, though that owing to recent decline of some 10 cents, corn crop has been adversely affected at a critical stage of development.

Supply Increases.

Increasing supplies of wheat in Chicago and at other domestic wheat terminals acted as a weight on values—today. Friends of higher prices appeared to be cautious for at least the time being, and disposed to hold their wheat until market conditions recover. Cotton—Improved weather. Sugar—firmer; better spot demand. Coffee—Steady; trade-buying.

While numerous earnings and sales reports furnished striking testimony to the usual mushroom expansion of the business economy, here, Wall Street was generally pleased to witness the decided revivification of public interest to the unusual statement credited to Thomas Cochran, a partner of J. P. Morgan and company, concerning good business during the next half year.

Interest in General Motors stock, which already had climbed 22.31 points above the statement was made, in the absence of any denial by Mr. Cochran.

It was pointed out that the market of the Morgan firm in New York, this statement was accepted at its face value, and undoubtedly was responsible for much of the recent speculation in the stock.

General Motors opened with a block of 3,000 shares at 295, up four points, quickly advanced to 291.4, broke to 293.2 when scores of "up or loss" orders were touched off, returned to 291.4, and closed at 291.75, slightly afternoons, and was then whipsawed up to a new peak in a frenzied last minute outbreak of buying.
