CENTURY MARK PASSED

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Aug. 5. (AP)—Temperatures today reached over the century mark at many points in the central today.

Heat Throughout Mid-West States Claims Victims

Although Temperatures Are Lower Than Season's Run, Humidity Makes Weather Most Oppressive of Summer.

CHICAGO, Aug. 5. (AP)—Humidity which approached the saturation point blanketed the middle west today, making the most oppressive of the summer heat, which brought temperatures only a little higher than season-old August weather.

PLEDGE GIVEN. TRAIL BLAZER FOR MEMORIAL

Twin Falls Citizens to Subscribe
at Least $1000 for Oregon
Trail Coins, Ezra Meeker
Is Told.

Ezra Meeker, 80 years old, patriarch of the Oregon country, was the guest of honor at a luncheon meeting of more than 20 Twin Falls citizens at which he received the pledge of Twin Falls citizens to subscribe a minimum of $1000 to the Oregon Trail Memorial coin fund.

Secretary Charles L. Dwight of Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce was authorized to receive the pledge for the memorial coins. A trust fund is to be created for this purpose and daily receipts of the fund are to be made public. The first of the memorial coins will be issued about September 1, but subscriptions will be received until the fall.

The act of congress authorizing issuance of the memorial coins provides for issuance of 6,000 coins, one for each settler of the Oregon country, one half going to the treasury department and the remaining half to the Old Oregon Trail Monument association.

Tells Objectors. Issuance of the memorial coins, Mr. Meeker stated, had been authorized by congress as a means of collecting funds for restoration of historic forts and buildings and erecting monuments on the route of the Old Oregon Trail in order to perpetuate memory of the sufferings endured by the trailblazers in winning the Oregon country to the nation.

In a single year, he said, 35,000 persons traveled over the Oregon Trail to build homes in the Oregon country and 60,000 persons died on the way. For a distance of more than 500 miles, he said, the trailblazers left behind as dead for every mile. He paid eloquent tribute to the women pioneers of the Oregon Trail.

Mr. Meeker recalled that 74 years ago this month he had traveled across the desert that is now the Twin Falls country on his first step to the Oregon country, with his young wife and baby.

He referred to his trip back over the Old Oregon Trail to Washington with an escort 20 years ago beginning a campaign for recognition of that historic trail.

"We ought to hold in memory the sufferings that went to save this country as a part of this great nation; and we are asking you now to come with your dollars," he said.

Others Pay Tribute. Mr. Meeker was introduced by Donald McKay of Twin Falls, an acquaintance for 51 years, and by Elmer J. Hodgson, former Twin Falls mayor and resident of Idaho for 40 years. Other speakers were Congressman Addison T. Smith, who told of Mr. Meeker's work at the national capital to perpetuate the memory of the Oregon Trail and the trailblazers; C. E. Lind, Twin Falls director of the Old Oregon Trail Highway association; and Joel Priest of Boise, general agent for the Oregon Short Line in Idaho, who referred to Mr. Meeker as a "forward looking young man."

The meeting was held under auspices of Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce and also speakers were introduced by Arthur L. Wilson, president of the chamber.

Mr. Meeker has entries in the cabinet and of congress, Congressman Smith said, and it was Mr. Meeker's efforts against the cabinet that would have been commemorated by any congressional delegation that made possible the

WATER DELIVERY TO BE REDUCED

Canal Company Announces Cuts in Accordance With Conservation Policy.

Water delivery through the Twin Falls canal system will be reduced beginning today from 2500 acre-feet or 80 per cent of full water right, to 2000 acre-feet or 70 per cent of full water right, it was announced Thursday evening by Burton Smith, general manager for the Twin Falls Canal company.

Storage water will be used to maintain the 70 per cent delivery until next Monday, when the delivery will be reduced further to 50 per cent of full water right, only natural flow of the river being used.

The announced reductions are in line with the policy of water conservation adopted by the canal company early in the season, which, it is believed, will make possible the storing of practically 100 per cent of this season in the territory over the Twin Falls canal system.

Grain crops now are being threshed and demand for irrigation water for the season has been materially reduced.

Local Club Woman To Head Committee

Miss Ada Wilkinson of Twin Falls has been chosen to head the finance committee of the Idaho State Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs during the next year term, according to information received here Thursday from Miss Jessie Lord of Blackfoot, chairman of the organization, who was recently elected at the state convention in Nampa, Mrs. A. J. Elkins of Boise will head the state finance committee.

Miss Ada Wilkinson of Twin Falls will serve as a member of the finance committee. These appointments will be approved at the next directors' meeting it was stated in the communication.

Invitation has been extended to Miss Lord requesting that the first state board meeting be held in Twin Falls. However, no definite information concerning action that will be taken in this matter has been received to date.

Venerable Trailblazer Retracing Course in House on Truck Chassis

When Ezra Meeker, venerable trailblazer of the northwest, leaves Twin Falls today he will resume his trip to the Pacific coast in the house motor in which he left Twin Falls 18 days ago and left at Glasgow, Wyoming, to make the trip to south Idaho by train.

The house-motor that represents a novel wagon mounted on the chassis of a motor truck was placed into Twin Falls last evening by Mr. Meeker's companion on the trip, Daniel M. Maue, journalist, author and veteran of the world war. It had been driven more than 200 miles from Shoshone, where it was built.

It is Mr. Meeker's purpose after visiting several Pacific coast points to return by motor to New York. His present trip is in the interests of the Old Oregon Trail Memorial association in the furtherance of a work to which he has devoted more than 20 years.

He will go from here to Caldwell, and then on to Walla Walla, site of the historic Whitman mission, destination of which is one of the principal objectives of the memorial association, to his conclusion on to Portland and then to Eugene, where he is to be honorary marshal of the day-after-tomorrow celebration of the opening of the Southern Pacific Northwest division.

In Payson, Washington, thereafter, he will be present at the unveiling of a monument erected in the honor of the city park which was given to the city of Payson by Mr. Meeker and his wife.

As he journey through southern Idaho, as elsewhere along the route, Mr. Meeker is retracing the steps of his first trip 74 years ago to the Oregon country, and all along the way he is encountering familiar landmarks and in this region, he is renewing acquaintances with old friends.

Mr. Maue, chosen by Mr. Meeker to be his companion on the trip, is a native of Minnesota, a former editor of the River Falls newspaper and graduate of the Columbia university school of journalism and winner of a Pulitzer scholarship for a story of the agent a year in France, returning to New York only a short time before setting out with Mr. Meeker on this trip.

Mr. Maue is a member of the 121st field artillery regiment and bears a signal stripe.

Not the least of the considerations that induced him to make the trip, Mr. Maue said last evening, is the opportunity afforded for adding familiarity with the traditions and institutions of the northwest and for intimate acquaintance with an outstanding figure in its history.

Orpheum theatre Thursday evening, a number of Twin Falls young men and women, under direction of Manager Stanley of the Blackfoot branch of Hollywood, two motion picture plays. Action was under the stars of Great King Lights with the camera man cranking his machine at intervals between rehearsals. Two plays were filmed to the vast amazement of the audience. Eight of 10 young men and women starred "Ten Nights in a Barroom," and Miss Fay McCarley of Twin Falls played opposite Bud Lyon of Hollywood in a broad comedy Anthony and Cleopatra.

James D. Wiehen posed for the screen in the impersonation of Woodrow Wilson.

Home town movie players at the Orpheum this evening, it was announced, will produce "The Shooting of Dan McGrew."

WHEAT PRICES
RECORD DROPReports of Greater Yields Than Expected and Increased
Shipments Lower Values.

CHICAGO, Aug. 5. (AP)—Harvest reports of harvest northward with some wheat already landed in Canada and a good deal today to give wheat values a downward swing. The wheat market closed heavy, 1-1/2 to 1-3/4 cent lower, corn at 1-1/2 to 1-3/4 cent advance, oats 1/2 to 1/4 cent down and provisions varying from the off to 1/2 cent.

Wheat harvest, nearing completion in the more advanced sections of the American northwest the movement of the spring crop is increasing. Thrashing activities are being stepped up today from the domestic spring crop but a likelihood of minimum production, which recently has been looked for by some authorities. In particular, Saskatchewan is reported to have a larger crop than is generally supposed.

Export Demand Slow
Although commission houses were fairly good buyers of wheat today in the downturn in price and notwithstanding that there was also buying of wheat to cover exports, the wheat market was of the time acted first. Export demand for North American wheat was smaller than yesterday. Premiums, however, at the Gulf of Mexico firm, some Illinois wheat testing 16 to 20 per cent moisture and here today at 10 to 20 under the September price.

Corn rallied in the late trade, but weather over the greater portion of the corn belt acting as a stimulus to buy. Grain traders took their cue from wheat.

Of the provision that was higher, helped by an upturn in the value of logs.

WET

ATOMIZED

Wet gas is a mixture of atomized liquid gasoline globules and vapor. Wet gas floods certain cylinders at the expense of others. It chokes the power and gives a characteristic "drag" on quick acceleration.

DRY

VAPORIZED

Dry gas is a completely vaporized mixture of gasoline and air with no liquid globules. It is a perfect motor fuel. Dry gas equalizes cylinder distribution and gives maximum acceleration without flooding.

The public has accepted dry gas as an unmistakably superior motor fuel. Texaco is a dry gas. It is something that automotive engineers have long wished for and petroleum engineers for years been trying to produce. The Texas Company's success in the manufacture of the new and better Texaco, a gasoline that forms a dry gas under engine conditions, is a distinct achievement.

THE public has been quick to notice and appreciate the easier start and quicker pick-up with the new and better Texaco Gasoline.

Motorists everywhere tell us of cleaner spark plugs and the better lubrication resulting from the complete vaporization of this product. That is to say, there are no "heavy ends" to foul the engine and dilute or impair the lubricating oil.

From all over the country we get reports of the better acceleration and mileage, and the freedom from carbon-knock.

The new smoothness is a result of the even distribution obtained through the characteristic low distillation range and anti-knock quality of this fuel—produced by The Texas Company's Holmes-Manley Gasoline Process.

Its anti-knock quality is a decided accomplishment, obtained, as it is, without the addition of chemicals or poisons.

The new and better Texaco Gasoline is not only safe to use—but economical. Remember this—no poison—no knocking, better hill-work and more mileage—then go to the nearest Texaco pump to begin a new era of more pleasurable motoring.
