

DIFFICULT TASK FACES FIGHTERS IN NORTH IDAHO

Flames Spread In Pend Oreille and Kaniksu Forests Despite Efforts; Men Make Headway in Western Montana.

(By The Associated Press)
MISSOURI, Mont., Aug. 11.—Crews fighting fires on the Pend Oreille and Kaniksu forests in northern Idaho are meeting great difficulties in checking the flames, which are now but forces on the Flathead and Kootenai forests in western Montana have made considerable headway, according to reports in district forestry headquarters here today.

The big fire, first still were burning fiercely in the Kaniksu, while three new lightning fires broke out yesterday. On the Pend Oreille, the Meadow creek conflagration was scattered, while the two new fires, both in the Flathead Reserve, the Blackfeet forest, said things were quiet along the whole front.

Replacements for men on the Kootenai were sent to Kalispell today. It was expected that the fire in that reserve would be checked shortly. The situation in the Coeur d'Alene district was reported favorable. On the Clearwater forest, the Cullinan rock-fire was still burning during the day and many spot fires were reported.

ARE ADDITIONAL FUNDS
BOSTON, Aug. 11. (UPI)—Additional federal funds to meet the serious fire situation existing in Idaho were today requested of William R. Day, Washington, D. C., commissioner of the general land office. Mr. Day, who has been in charge of the federal lands for added federal funds. Commissioner Nash set out that "the fire situation on public domain, state and privately owned lands is very serious, with the hazard this season greatest of all, and no promise of a change in sight."

"The state has already authorized a deficiency appropriation of $150,000," the message added, "and we urgentlly request that you make available for use in the fight against the fire in your department more funds to meet the emergency."

After burning over approximately 250,000 acres of public domain, state and private lands in the sun belt of the West, 200,000 acres of timbered areas have been controlled this afternoon, it was reported to Commissioner Nash. The blaze destroyed several growth yellow pine.

ROTARIANS HEAR BORAH ON WORLD COURT ISSUE

In her portfolio which she rightly owns, cancellation will not add one dollar to the purchasing power of France under present policies there.

Senator Borah, reviewing the fight on the floor of the Senate, said that as soon as the legal fight was over, the league forces threw their strength behind the world court. He pointed out "that we have been drawn into the League of Nations, and our friends, through entanglement into the case, which he described as the legal, counselor, and attorney of the league of nations, which is controlled by the four great powers not writing us down as allies, forced us to take part in the League."

"I am glad to say many of the American people are modifying their position on the world court," he added. "The court has the extraordinary function of not being able to bring the League of Nations into the League of Nations. That is the United States member may be called upon for control in any political quarrel in Europe. It is my judgment, and I venture it as a prophecy, that we shall become a member of the world court at an early date, and by counsel come into participation in the political controversies of Europe we thus come face-to-face with the same old problem of the league of nations, which is the League of Nations. If we do this today, the senate would reverse its decision in declining to ratify the world court."

For this reason, he was "of the opinion that we should have given the European nations and India the time to consider" the reservations, but will "withdraw the proposition."

NEW EVIDENCE GIVEN IN M'PHERSON BEACH CASE

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 11. (UPI)—New evidence tends to link the strange disappearance of Almon Beadle, M'Pherson with the rental of a cottage at Carmel-by-the-sea, by Kenneth G. O'Donnell, a Los Angeles attorney, his wife, and a woman designated by him as "Miss X" who was given the district attorney's office today told the officers that had identified Mrs. M'Pherson as a woman staying in Carmel May 28, a week after she had vanished.

The two new "witnesses," a man and his wife said that they met the woman they believe to have been Mrs. M'Pherson at a beach resort near their cottage. They said their attention was caught by her hair, but that they had never seen Mrs. M'Pherson or photographs of her since that time. It is not known if she later saw pictures of the evangelist, they said they were struck by the resemblance.

The cooperative marketing problem of farm units received renewed attention today from President Coolidge, turning from a conference on governmental agricultural policies with British Prime Minister Arthur J. P. Rule, of New York City, general manager of the Federated Fruit and Vegetable Growers, Inc., one of the largest national cooperative organizations in the country.

"The farmer has no better friend in the country than the president,"

The position of Mr. Coolidge toward the farm cooperative problem, he said, was clear and definite. Mr. Rule did not hesitate to express the conviction that the president was favorable to a program for supplying the farmer with adequate credit machinery and through the department of agriculture a better understanding and use of the cooperative marketing method.

The visit of Mr. Rule, who was re-at the suggestion of the chairman of the executive committee of some of the committee, whom he confers frequently on farm business matters.

He took occasion to report on crop conditions—no, he has found them fairly good—but he made no official report, he said, because the market for agricultural products had been so good that he did not feel it was necessary to call a strong meeting of the executive committee.

General Andrews said that the agreements did not mean that fault had been found with the English enforcement of the maritime laws.

"There is nothing wrong with the English laws," he said. "The fault, if there is slackness, is with the colonial la-example. There is no more ignorant citizen of local violations of the human than we would be in a port of

LOW PRICES, HIGH PROFITS

For the eighth month in succession, Bradstreet's Index has shown a drop in commodity prices. The index for August 1 is the lowest since the same date two years ago. The average decline is not great, but significant.

Ordinarily what would be taken as a bad sign, the business tradition is that only rising prices are good price;

The consuming public, however, has never been cowed by that, usually greeting lower prices with frank applause. Now business itself is coming to feel that lower prices at least have their compensation.

The reason for this changing viewpoint is clear. Business generally is making money. The rising stock market is proving evidence of that.

Statistical evidence is found in the increasing volume of railroad freight hauled in the steel and automobile output, in the bank savings and wage-payment and other accepted index of business activity.

There is no mystery about the number of American industry, through high efficiency and quantity production, finds that it can make more money by selling things cheaper than by selling them dearer. This is an economic mystery which still puzzles the Old World.

LET'S STAY AWAY.

An unnamed correspondent, writing in the conservative Kreis Zeitung of Berlin, advises German tourists to stay away from the United States.

"Another," he explains, "has indicating to offer cultured Europeans British an American and you are sure to find he is nothing more than a piece of machinery."

Which goes to no further verification of the oft-repeated assertion that "machinery won the war."

"Anyway, it doesn't matter much if 'cultured' Europeans" want to remain away from our vulgar and contaminating shores; that's all right with us. If they make sure to include lecturers and barbers,

The fact is that America is not falling over itself to bring any kind of Europeans here just now."

It might be a good thing if there were less travel in both directions until present passions and grievances had a chance to subside. Eventually as absence made the heart grow fonder, each continent might come to appreciate the virtues of the other and talk less of the other's faults.

MIDSUMMER IN WALL STREET

Sales on the Stock Exchange lately have been breaking all records for midsummer. And they are not, as might be expected at this time of year, "bear" sales. It is a "bull" movement. Stocks in general have risen. Certain stocks, particularly automobile, steel and railroad stocks, have had a phenomenal rise.

This is a natural and obvious confection of prosperity, which is all the more impressive when it comes as a substitute for the usual seasonal dullness and pessimism.

There is an element of complacency in "the strong, steady" rise which securities shows a strengthening faith in the American economic situation and a belief that business in general is not only sound and profitable now but is entering upon an era of greater scope and profit.

Beware Warning

Signals of Failing

Glandular System

Science Knows That Tired,

Weak, Worn-Out Conditions

Often Caused by Glandular

Insufficiency.

Thousands of men and women are weak, worn-out, run-down and exhausted, having little energy and weight, and failing to respond to normal medical treatment, and when the glands fail to function, health fails.

Science now provides a new way to vigorous health and healthy glandular function, and a remarkable improvement of this country's and Europe's glandular treatment for glandular insufficiency.

If you are weak, worn-out, and exhausted, and failing to respond to normal medical treatment, and when the glands fail to function, health fails.

Glandogen, the new scientific gland tonic, provides a simple method of taking glandular treatment. Glandogen is prepared in convenient tablet form, and is easily absorbed by the body.

Glandogen is an excellent substitute for the old glandular tonics.

Laurie reflected.

"I don't know," he brought out at last. "But it appears to be mixed up with an affair going on—a crooked business—who knows what the name of Herbert Ransom Shaw. Have you ever heard of him?"

Laurie wrinkled his frosty nose.

"Never. I'm happy to say. But he

SCHOOL BOARD ADOPTS BUDGET FOR NEXT YEAR

Directors of Independent District No. 1 Set Maximum
at $256,486.81.

At a meeting of the board of directors of independent school district No.
1, held yesterday evening in the office of the city superintendent of schools, the budget for the school year of 1926-27 was adopted. Total cost $256,486.81, or $4,373.21 more than the budget for 1925-26 which was $251, 113.60.

Fifteen mills of this year's school levy will be devoted to the general fund; 3 mills to the sinking fund; 2.5 to the bond interest fund and 1.7 mills to the educational fund. This year's budget is $256,486.81, or one mill in excess of last year's levy which was 22.6 mills. E. D.
Blum, superintendent of schools stated that the principle reason for the increase in the budget is due to the decreased assessed valuation of property which has been certified... by the county officers."

Vote Insurance

Board members also voted to carry $250,000 insurance on the school property and that one-half of the district's equal portions of the total amount will be taken in the various insurance companies that are represented in Twin Falls.

The organization advanced its president of the Twin Falls club of the Idaho State baseball league which appealed that the high school use the Athletic park instead of the Lincoln field during the coming school year and asked that the school board and the baseball players cooperate, which is composed of E. C. Perrin, E. B. Johnson and E. D. Blum.

Ladies' Orchestra Will Appear Here

Under the auspices of the local post of the American Legion, the famous Ladies' Columbia Concert orchestra will appear in Twin Falls at the high school auditorium, Saturday afternoon and evening, August 13.

Without doubt like will be the general audience drawn by the orchestra which has achieved a place for the orchestra in the musical world.

This unique organization is composed entirely of young women and is one of the most interesting organizations locally. The public, ladies, men and children, are extravagant in their praise.
Miss Frances Knight, the conductor, has been very careful in selecting her girls and has only the very best girls in the organization, each one being a soloist in her own right. The instrument used is a large double string instrument, the concertina, which is a favorite instrument in England.

"Please to supply house, Tuesday night, the Ladies' Columbia orchestra gave the male lovers of this place one of the best musical treats ever offered here. There was not a moment of dullness in the program and was met with great applause and many applause were encored several times."

"Miss Frances Knight, the conductor, showed a remarkable leadership and ability in her direction of the organization—she has a perfect understanding of the principles of music.
She impressed all who saw her as standing in sympathy with the best of her profession."

and more lovely coats to our stocks. This week heavy shipments of georgette, flat crepe and charmeuse principally in black, yet with a sprinkling of reds, browns and greens. New clever Czech styles together with the Volero are exceedingly popular.
The styles are distinctive with long yet pronounced waist-lines, long sleeve and shortened dresses.
