EXPECTED FROM FOREIGN FIELDS

President Confident That His World Court Declaration on Armistice Day Will Bear Fruit at Early Date.

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—President Coolidge and his party returned at 11:30 tonight from Kansas City, where the executive yesterday delivered the principal address at the dedication of the Liberty memorial.

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE'S SPECIAL TRAIN, Nov. 12.—President Coolidge was on his way early tonight to the White House, confident that the world court declaration which featured his Armistice address yesterday at Kansas City would bear fruit at an early date.

It was the opinion of the president's fellow travelers that the court proceedings would lead without further delay to final and decisive steps toward determination of the question of American's adherence to the league. (Continued on Page Two)

Look for Replies. If the expectations of the president's advisers are realized, the work so far will be an end but to the prolonged delay independent of the member nations of the court in replying to the letters Secretary Kellogg addressed to them several months ago. It would be surprising to find that Kellogg's letters had not been answered, despite the fact that the conference on court admission and ratification questions, if replies of a definite and workable nature from the foreign capitals in ample time to dispose of the court issue possibly before the senate reconvenes next month.

There is no doubt that President Coolidge is interested to obtain a definite reply to his statement of yesterday. It is well known that he has been at work on this outside work, and that he has been in touch with the outside world, and that he has been in touch with the outside world, and that he has been in touch with the outside world.

MARIE ENVIES WOMEN OF U. S.

Rumanian Queen Tells St. Louis Gathering Americans Have Happiest Position of All.

QUEEN MARIE'S TRAIN AT ST. LOUIS, Nov. 12 (AP)—Queen Marie came to St. Louis today to a gathering of women to discuss the position of women in America is happier than anywhere else.

The reason for it, she told St. Louis women, was that her hosts at lunch, who were "your men" and the women to do their share "to a much larger degree than in her own country."

"I am struck with the wonderful lives of the women here. I shall take home a vision of the wonderful work that women do here, while at the same time they are having a glorious time of it."

Greta Thomsdottir Marie saw the sights of St. Louis today while exchanging greetings with thousands who poured out of business offices during the noon hour to greet the Rumanian queen.

Members of her party explained that although Marie continues in robust health after three weeks of hurrying about the country, she must be ready for even more strenuous work ahead. Beginning tomorrow night, four days will be spent in Chicago, where elaborate entertainment will be given her and the following week will take her through other large cities in the east.

Friendly Reception St. Louis' reception was friendly and Marie herself smiled broadly when some one shouted from the sidewalk: "Welcome, Marie!"

Rumanians who called to her in the native tongue also were rewarded with hand-waving.

While the queen and Princess Ileana were looking with St. Louis society matrons and girls, Prince Nicholas was the guest of a young man committed officers of the Young Men's Christian Association. The prince's part of the program was added at his own request because of his membership in the organization in his own country.

Students of St. Louis and Washington universities and Rumanian residents who gathered at the latter institution gave the royal visitors the enthusiastic cheers.

FIERY SPIRIT OF 'UNCLE JOE' IS CALM IN DEATH

Joseph Gurney Cannon, Veteran American Legislator and Former Speaker of House, Dies at Danville Home.

(By The Associated Press) DANVILLE, Ill., Nov. 12.—The fiery spirit of Joseph Cannon, the man, shrouded to an end by the weight of 90 years, was quenched by death.

In the home from which he went to Congress 32 years ago, and amid walls laden with the trophies of his public life, the patriarch died at high noon, in the midst of a very sleep.

Weakness of the heart muscles ended his death, but the general depression of old age, which he had suffered for several months ago, had been the cause of his death. He had been in the hospital for several months ago, but he had been in the hospital for several months ago.

Was Quaint Figure. After his retirement from Congress he continued his daily walks down town, beneath the shade of Venetian street, and the most courteous face in America was daily visible behind the brown curls of the second National bank, which he had founded.

His mind faded with his body and he could recall but dimly, after his sixtieth birthday last May, the scenes with which long congressional service was vivid. Not waning memory, however, could keep him inactive and his last public act four months ago was to turn the key for a new church for the St. James Methodist Episcopal congregation.

But a Quaker he joined the Methodist church after leaving Congress and remained until recent weeks found him in the new life with and occupied throughout his lifetime in Danville.

City in Mourning. A funeral air and one of reverence settled over the city with the death of the old man. Danville had known for months that his funeral cortege did not long to live and it had filled with honor his declining days.

His sixtieth birthday was made a city holiday and he was a guest of the Kiwanis club at a birthday party. He did not try to speak but he stood behind the mammoth birthday cake.

Burning of Leaves Is Economic Waste Spangler Declares

Criticism of Appearance of Boise State House Lawn Brings Comment.

BOISE, Nov. 12 (AP)—Comment on the great plethora of undistributed leaves on the Idaho state capital grounds, including criticism of ground keepers brought to light by the value of leaves as fertilizer.

Acting under instructions from the department of agriculture, leaves from the many trees around the state house are to be distributed.

"The man who burns leaves in plant food—should be burnt himself," R. L. Spangler, an old-time administrative officer of the department said. "Such destruction is an economic waste. You will see a home owner carefully take up and burn all the leaves off his trees, then as carefully pay for the spreading of fertilizers of fertilizer, and never see the abundance of the performance. And the leaves look just as good on the lawn as the other fertilizer."

MAID TELLS OF PHONE CALL ON FATAL EVENING

Former Servant in Hall Home Repeats Conversation Said to Have Taken Place on Day of Double Slaying.

(By The Associated Press) SOMERVILLE, N. J., Nov. 12.—The telephone conversation between the Mrs. Edward W. Hall and Mrs. Eleanor M. Hall, who were slain in a double murder four years ago, was described today in the trial of Mrs. Frances Stevens Hall, the murder's widow, and her brother, Willie and Henry Stevens. The testimony was given by Louise Hall, former maid in the Hall household.

Mrs. Hall, who was Louise first when she was considered in the Hall home, told of answering a ring of the telephone in the late afternoon of September 14, 1922. The murders were committed on the night of September 14.

Recognizes Woman's Voice. The former maid said she recognized the voice of Mrs. Mills inquiring for Mr. Hall. Mrs. Hall said the witness had said that she did not know who Mrs. Hall had heard the conversation.

The one-sided dialogue was repeated today by Mr. Hall. "Yes, yes, yes, that's the way it was going to be a little later. Can't we make an arrangement for about a quarter to eight?"

Mrs. Hall said that the minister later went out with the explanation to Mrs. Hall, that he was going to see about Mrs. Mills' hospital bill with the added assurance that he would not be late returning.

Witness Sees Calm. During the examination as to possible conflict between her testimony of 1922 and that of today, Mrs. Hall said the calm assurance she had during her stay on the stand. She plainly was annoyed as she pointed her gloved hands against the side of the witness box and almost shouted in reply to the questions of Special Prosecutor Minnow.

News of a blood transfusion for Mrs. Jane Gilman, regarded as the state's star witness, a patient in a Jersey City hospital, was received in the courtroom.

SPRIS BRAIN CUBS TO TACKLE RUPERT

Second String Teams of Both
High Schools Meet Tuesday
Afternoon at Lincoln Field.

The Twin Falls second string will meet the Rupert second string next Tuesday at Lincoln field. This will be the second game of the season for the Brain Cubes, who defeated the Yiler, scrubs early in the season. Rupert is reported to have a very strong second team because of the fact that several regulars last year were not in school last semester and not eligible to play this year, but have stayed out with the squad all season in preparation for the coming season.

The Brain youngsters have been working for the past week on this game in view and it was at first thought that it could be played as a certain rally on Armistice day, but Rupert had busy for his hands for that day and could not make the trip.

Teddy Bears Good
Coach Jones has some very likely material on his cub eleven and has developed a line that is above the average of second string teams. Kumpert center has been a thorn in Kumpert's side all season during the season. Brainerd and Kumpert are fighters and tough ones to handle. Kumpert and Berg at tackle are also good. Brainerd and Kumpert have had two years' experience and has substituted in several first string games. Berg playing at end has been a thorn in the side of the opposition. Jones will have plenty of reserve material, and likely a large number of men will participate in the game. The game will be called at 3 or 3:30 p. m.

State Scholastic Football Title Is In Difficult Knot

The state championship in football has become a hard tangle, with Little Rock of a real solution at the present time. The title is in a difficult knot. Caldwell and Boise have refused to take the district title, and the board of education has decided to hold the title in that district.

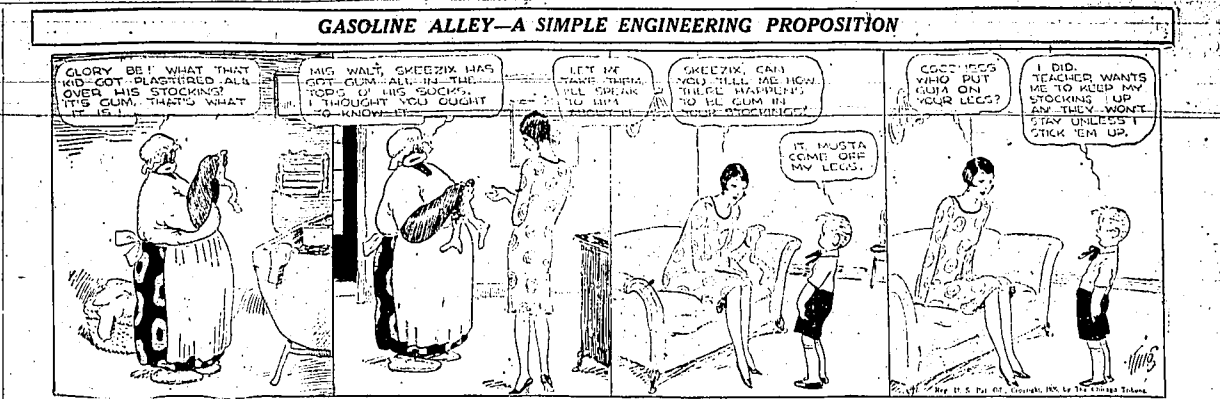

In the case, no logical solution has been developed, unless it be Little Rock, which team would be the one of the word represent the strength of the district. They were defeated by Pocatello in the quarter final game, in turn, defeated practically every other team in that district, and turned in a win over Boise on Armistice day.

KIMBERLY TAKES MEASURE OF ALBION HIGH; 10 TO 13

KIMBERLY, Nov. 12 (Special to The News)—Kimberly scored one of its high school boys Armistice day by a one-point margin. Kimberly took an early lead, scoring in the first six minutes of play, and increased it to a 14-point lead in the second period. Albion was unable to score until the last few minutes of play, when a bad punt was scooped up and an Albion back rared for a touch-down. A fake run was made and the visitors to slip over the last score, but a failure to kick goal gave the locals the first victory of the season. Kimberly backs were able to rally consistently through the Albion line, and outplayed the visitors all the way. Only the last punt and a fake formation gave the visitors their two scores in the last few minutes. This is the last game for the locals, and the call for basketball will be issued soon.

American Writer Who Turned to Buddhism

It is common for people of other lands to come to America and become citizens of the United States, but we seldom think of Americans taking on naturalization papers and so becoming citizens of some other country. Yet one famous American writer did just that.

This writer was Lafcadio Hearn, who was really an American, although he was born on a small island in the South Sea, and a Greek mother. At the age of sixteen he ran away from London, and then came to this country, where he worked on the staff of the New York Tribune. He was a very successful writer, and his books were popular all over the world. He became a Buddhist, and he wrote about Buddhism in his books. He was a very interesting man, and his life was a very interesting one.
