

HUGE TOLL IN CHINESE CITY

Belated Dispatch Tells Story of Starvation, Due to Siege of Provincial Forces.

POKING. Dec. 9 (UPI)—Hundreds were dying daily in Shantou, a port city across a harbor, dispatch received today which told of starvation in the capital of Shantou province due to the blockade placed around it when the last of the provincial forces left. The Kuomintang's army's defectors and their Chinese supporters of the city of more than 200,000 have eaten rats, dogs and other animals reported to have been killed. The known number has been sold to keep alive the valuable inhabitants.

Fighters Desperately Conditioned

Starvation conditions in Shantou were in a desperate condition November 19, when the last food was received from them. The rebels that the bellicose forces of General Lai Chen Hui have raised since the siege and retreated into Hengyang provinces, thus far have not been starved. They are often forced to eat dogs, cats and monkeys. The English mission's correspondent of Reuters Agency, who obtained it outside Shantou, Dr. Stockwell's letter says:

"We are getting three days' food left, then our supply will end. Our hospital staff are eating bean cakes, millet meal and sugar. We have long ago stopped feeding patients; they now feed themselves with beans.

"We are truly in a desperate state. Nothing but starvation stands us in the face."

"Rebels are living in the cities daily. It is impossible to buy food and difficult to buy all who die of starvation there. Many lie in the streets for days, uncared for."

Poison Gas Pact Before Senators In Open Session

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9 (UPI)—The Geneva treaty to ban poison gas warfare, favored by the state department but opposed by the American Legion and other organizations, has been put up today by the Senate in open session.

Chairman Boag of the foreign relations committee argued favorable action on the pact, but his motion was challenged by Chairman Brewster of the military committee. He questioned Mr. Boag's statement that the war department favored the treaty, and asked that the record be taken of all weapons and addends. Men who break out treaties and conventions perish."

The Boag bill, originally signed by 30 senators, was the compromise of 20 years' effort to control certain instruments of warfare, including gas.

Taking a lead in the Senate, Senator George W. Norris, Nebraska, commanded a division overseas called gas warfare "the most inhuman and effective of all weapons," and said weapons of war must be used only with full ratification of the Geneva treaty of unfortune.

ELIOT ROOT TO RECEIVE WOODROW WILSON MEDAL

NEW YORK, Dec. 9 (UPI)—Eliot Root will receive the Woodrow Wilson foundation medal and award of $25,000 this year for his services helping to create the world court. It was made known by Norman H. Davis, president of the foundation tonight.

Although the services of legal experts in many countries were enlisted in 1926, the foundation was influenced in this instance by the manifestation of their importance shown in the growing prestige of the world courts, Mr. Davis said.

BONES OF TWELVE TO BE SENT BACK TO ROME

CHICAGO, Dec. 9 (UPI)—Parts of the bones of twelve apostles sent by the Chicago Historical Society to the Smithsonian Institution for scientific examination were withdrawn from a sale by the society today and turned over to officials of the Catholic church.

Charles E. Gunther, sandy maitre d' at the hotel, will be returned to Rome by representatives of Cardinal Mandelio, who felt they did not rightly belong to a private individual.

Charles E. Gunther, a confidante of the rebels, refused to determine for the rebels' rights in consideration of the

COLLINS TRIAL MOVES RAPIDLY

Burley Courtroom: Filled to Capacity as Officers Tell of Defendant's Utterances.

BURLEY, Dec. 9 (UPI)—In a courtroom designed to capacity the trial of Harry Clegg for murder, court was packed today. Carl Moore, banker defendant, testified that he had no gun in his car when he shot and killed his wife, Edith, Harry Collins' wife, in April. The Kuomintang's people's army's defectors and their Chinese supporters of the city of more than 200,000 have eaten rats, dogs and other animals reported to have been sold to keep alive the valuable inhabitants.

Many "Black Hands" With Collins

Henry Vayet, Oakley constable, was on the stand the greater part of the afternoon, testifying that he had seen Collins after his arrest, he testified, number of people came up and shook hands with Collins. Collins asked them, however, if they planned to shoot for shooting him, and they said no.

When Collins was told that Patrolman had died, Collins responded, "My God! Here I sit a murderer," Vayet testified.

The constable testified further that he had seen the body of the man taken from the Collins home the morning after the shooting, and declared it to be one Collins had shown him several months before.

Several persons were called to testify for the identification of clothing and automobile cushions as court adjourned.

BASEBALL MEN CONCLUDE MEET

Harmony Marks Annual Convention of League Moguls; Choose Dallas for 1927.

ASHVILLE, N. C., Dec. 9 (AP)—The National Association selected Dallas, Texas, for its 1927 meeting and adjourned today after one of the most harmonious conventions since its organization 25 years ago.

Toronto and Bluffton, Virginia, extended invitations for the next meeting but Dallas was almost unanimously chosen for it was set.

The men of the association say the most radical ruling of the year passed. The association decreed that no more winter baseball could be played by players now under contract in the leagues. This means that all the Western Coast league players and those in a number of the eastern leagues will be affected by the rule. There has been a regular winter baseball on the west coast and winter baseball in Florida and south Georgia.

Landsl Gets Confidence Vote
Commissioner K. M. Landsl was given a unanimous vote of confidence yesterday received at the annual meeting which at the same time delivered "official notice," to the major leagues that the minor was Landsl's to keep for ten years of the seven years of the meeting of the association.

The board of arbitration went into session shortly after the association adjourned and engaged working through a mass of conflicting documents until 11 p.m. during the meeting of the association.

The morning session today was taken up with the reading and approving of the association's resolution for the association which will affect the arbitration agreement. There were no new rulings which would affect the conduct of minor baseball incorporated in the decision of the association adopted at the last year's convention. Each article and section was read and approved, the process taking up the entire morning.

With little going on at the sessions of the association of interest, most of the managers and club owners left the league presidents to conduct business and established a player-market in the lobby of the station hotel. Sales of trades and sales were discussed but few were completed.

Leon J. Huse, graduate manager of Gonzaga, announced the schedule today.

JURY ADOPTS RESOLUTION

TO MODIFY VOLSTED ACT

NEW YORK, Dec. 9 (AP)—A federal grand jury which heard evidence in liquor cases during November today announced that it had adopted, prior to its dissolution, a resolution by a vote of 19 to 4, urging modification of the Volstead act.

Having had "ample opportunity to observe by reason of personal testimony and evidence presented to us the baneful effects of the Volstead act," said the resolution, "the proceedings of which have evidently been developed a ruthless and dangerous set of criminals, it is our opinion that this law in its present form cannot be enforced."

The resolution, copies of which have been mailed to senators from New York, federal judges and public prosecutors, continues as follows:

"Therefore, submit that such modification of this act as will make it within the bounds of reason and possible enforcement is necessary for the general good of the nation, and we recommend and urge that at the earliest practicable season the Congress body recognize the result of the vote as to several referenda held November 5, as indicating of the opposition of a large part of the population of this State to the law, and modify it, that it may become safe, sane and workable."

APPOINTMENTS ANNOUNCED

OMAHA, Neb., Dec. 9 (AP)—Appointment of W. E. Omer as general passenger agent of the Western Pacific railroad at Denver, Colorado, effective January 1, 1927, was announced here today by W. H. Basler, passenger traffic manager. Mr. Omer succeeds W. R. Clegg, who has been general passenger agent at Portland, Oregon.

Mr. Omer's appointment as assistant general passenger agent at Omaha effective January 1, was also announced. He comes from the position of chief clerk in the general passenger office at Portland, Oregon.

The district will meet in the future in the high gymnasium with Homer Hindson of Boise in charge. All men who will officiate at the district games will be present, and the various rules will be standardized, so that each team may know what to expect.

There are several interclass tournaments held last year among the district towns in regard to some of the rules, and the board hopes to do away with such differences by getting the officials together and having the rules standardized.

Preliminarily all the schools in the district will hold their class tournaments before the holidays. The meetings to make schedules will probably be held early in December, and the state meet will be held in Boise December 28.

The regular season will not open until after the first of the year, but a few games may be played before that time.

LOWER HOUSE FLOODED WITH WET-DRY ORATORY

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9 (AP)—A protest against prohibition broke in the Senate, and the debate continued almost submerging the measure that caused it. The treasury department's bill carrying approximately $15,000,000 for enforcement of the禁酒令, was voted down.

Wets outnumbered the drys four to two before they spoke, and between them they broke virtually all the petitions for or against the proposed motion not.

The attack began with a scathing denunciation of prohibition in all its aspects by Representative Gallivan, Democrat of Massachusetts, who was particularly vehement when he quoted Wayne D. Wheeler and the Anti-Saloon league.

WILL ASK U.S. COLLABORATION

League of Nations Council to Invite America to Arms and Economic Conferences.

GEMINI, Dec. 9 (UPI)—The United States government soon will be invited to collaborate in two League of Nations activities—the international armament conference and the international economic conference, under the supervision of the private manufacturing trusts.

The League council today voted to convene this special arms conference in the autumn of 1927, provided that no general conference which has been authorized, is held over until the next year.

Both the United States and Russia will act as a committee to present their plans for the reduction of private manufacture of arms and will be asked to attend the conference itself.

WANT U.S. PARTICIPATION

The terms of today's discussion indicated that the general assembly would invite the United States to participate in the proposed League conference, starting its collaboration in the successful conference on the control of the trusts in arms.

The topic of today's discussion indicated that the general assembly would invite the United States to participate in the proposed League conference, starting its collaboration in the successful conference on the control of the trusts in arms.

THE TRUSTS' WISHES

The trusts that control the world hope that the United States will participate in the conference on private manufacture of arms and will be asked to attend the conference itself.

THE AMERICAN ALLEGORY

That the United States, which with 30 per cent of the world's population, is publishing states to publish statements concerning the production of arms, munitions and implements of war. Therefore, non-manufacturing states would be at a disadvantage as compared with manufacturing countries.

Democrats Begin Fight for Lower Taxes in House

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9 (UPI)—The converted many by Democrats in Congress for tax reduction this session was taken to the house floor today by one of the party's financial leaders, Senator George H. Rauch of Boston, ranking minority member on the appropriations committee.

He accused Republicans "with playing politics" in tax reduction bills that were introduced to postpone a revenue cut until the eve of the 1928 presidential election, and endorsed the $350,000,000 democratic measure introduced yesterday by Representative Rauch.

Rising tax rates "readily" could be raised or lowered by adoption of a joint resolution and that it was ridiculous to say that it cannot be done at this stage.

BUDGETS INCREASE

"The widespread impression" that national expenditures have decreased, due to the economy of the present administration, is erroneous, said Senator George H. Rauch of Boston, who asserted all governmental departments except the interior had increased expenditures since President Coolidge took office. He also said it is difficult to increase even when he said, to increase in even what pensions.

Mr. Rauch asserted that while President Coolidge "is persistently貫telligent in his fiscal economy," he nevertheless "has spent more of the people's money for official household expenses, care, upkeep and policing the White House, and under the head of traveling expenses than any of his predecessors."

Witness Tells of Threats at Trial Of Colonel Green

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 9 (UPI)—The trial of General John J. Pershing, set for the White House, "is nevertheless" still on, the witness said, who asserted the chief government witnesses had increased expenditures since President Coolidge took office. He also said it is difficult to increase even when he said, to increase in even what pensions.

Mr. Rauch asserted that while President Coolidge "is persistently貫telligent in his fiscal economy," he nevertheless "has spent more of the people's money for official household expenses, care, upkeep and policing the White House, and under the head of traveling expenses than any of his predecessors."

Witnesses said the threats came from men who made the threats. Mr. Albin responded that on one occasion an elevator man in the federal building remarked, "I heard that the boys out to get me," the witness said, "and he responded, "Try and find out."

Later the witness said that he saw John McShane, an attorney, in one of the rooms of the federal building and McShane remarked, "I heard that the boys out to get me," the witness said, "and he responded, "Try and find out."

GREAT NORTHERN DRAWN INTO LIQUOR HEARING

VANCOUVER, B. C., Dec. 9 (UPI)—The Great Northern railway was summoned in testimony before a royal commission here today as a means by which liquor reaches the United States from Canada.

Herbert S. Ohlson, manager of Vancouver's Great Northern company, told the commissioners that he delivered liquor to "red eyes" of a Great Northern station here for tourists going to the United States, of giving it directly to the passengers and of mailing it in railroad yards to individuals, freight cars partly filled with lumber or coal.

George A. Allen, collector of customs for Vancouver, testified that shippers of instant liquor throughout British Columbia and Latin America cannot be traced, and that no license is issued to anyone to bring liquor into Canada.

Under the ruling, export houses clear liquor for Mexico or Central America, after which it is shipped to Canada, certificates will be issued, which the cargo off the United States, and then return to Vancouver without the certificates.

COURT RETURNS STOCK BUYER'S CASH AND NOTES

Directed Verdict Gives Sylvester Newton $1191 for $800 Paid Six Years Ago for Fire Insurance Company Shares.

A directed verdict awarded $1,191 to Sylvester Newton of Twin Falls against the Idaho Fire Insurance company in his claim for return of names and six years ago for 200 shares of the company's stock, was returned by a jury yesterday afternoon at the trial of John William A. Ballock, plaintiff in the case. William A. Ballock, plaintiff denied motion for a directed verdict in favor of the insurance company, which was plaintiff in the action, and granted motion for a directed verdict in favor of the defendant, Newton.

The motion which was granted by the court was based on grounds that the action of the court had been suspended and that when they issued Newton to subscribe for the stock, and, further, that the company had not, at the time, Newton's name and address, was received with a bill of exchange, which was provided for issuance of checks to cover payment to transact business in the state.

Company Sets Collection

The suit against the company by the company to enforce collection of two promissory notes totaling $1,700 executed by Newton in December, 1924, on account of the stock subscription. Newton in his counter claim asked for judgment for amount of cash payment on the stock.

John W. Englehorn, Boise, former state treasurer, who has been appointed by the state supreme court to appear in the case, stated Thursday that appearance of the judge would be taken in the state supreme court, and expressed confidence that the judgment would be rendered.

Third in the case occupied four days much of the time being occupied by attorney's arguments on legal issues involved, and, as far as the issues involved were concerned, the jury Wednesday afternoon when both sides asked for directed verdicts.

The case for the defendant, Newton, was presented by J. R. Bothwell and W. G. Hodges.

Company Makes Growth

Issues in this action did not involve the present status of the insurance company, but evidence was introduced to show that the company had assets of $1 million in cash, and that it had issued $400,000 in policies; that it began business the book value of its stock had increased from $10 to $225 per share, and the cash value of the insurance assets to $63,000.

The body is expected to arrive on the next train today, and funeral services will probably be conducted here Saturday.

While in Twin Falls, Mr. McElroy was employed in the capacity of construction foreman for the Twin Falls Canal company, and left here two years ago.

According to the brief message received here, McElroy's death was caused by suffocation, when he got into a drift of snow, about a half a dozen thousand feet from the entrance of the mine. Two companions who were with him escaped unharmed.

SUIT OVER PROMISSORY NOTE TO GO ON TRIAL

Suit instituted by E. C. Fawcett of Colorado in September, 1925, against G. F. Parke, Twin Falls to enforce collection of $1,000, paid on account of a promissory note executed in 1921, is scheduled to go on trial before a jury in district court here today. Parke, who is represented by J. R. Bothwell, attorney, claims to be the owner of the note, which was originally made payable to the Pioneer State Bank & Company of Denver, a branch bank.

Parke, who is represented by Shad L. Hodges, his answer to the complaint, denies that the note has not been satisfied, and that he has never failed to produce a copy and insist on plaintiff to produce a copy and insist on correspondence between himself and the estate and basket company, in default of which, he says, he will introduce copies of letters of the trial.

Tax Collectors Anticipate Rush

Biletary tax payments, continuing in Twin Falls county since the issuance of 1927 real property tax notices, were held up last week because the treasurer, the sole tax collector, was absent immediately prior to the expiration of the time for payment without penalty of December 24, according to the tax collector.

One of a series of $2,000,000 real property tax bills for 1927 bonds, $600 of which is expected to be paid within the next two weeks, only a small proportion has been paid up to the present time, and daily receipts have been slow. Total real property taxes are running from $10,000 to $15,000 a day, the records show.

Payment of one-half the amount of real property taxes charged will be expected for six months, next month, next year, and so on, until the first bill is paid prior to December 24.

Only about $12,000 out of a total of $50,000,000 property taxes for 1927 remain unpaid, it was stated at the treasurer's office Thursday.

None of the bills, however, has been paid in full, and the treasurer, in his opinion, must be compelled on or before Monday, December 29, under penalty of seizure and sale of the personal property on which taxes have been levied, it was stated.

Need Every Kind Refuge for Wild Birds of Nation

Should Provide Combination of State and Federal Sanctuaries for Nesting and Resting of Various Species.

In the establishment of refuges, national and state, there should be federal refuge for the class of game and wild life, the income earnings of every opportunity similar action by individual industries, sportsmen's clubs, and other groups should be encouraged. No other than federal laws are needed. Neither the federal government nor the states alone can fully meet the situations. What states have done is all the more important and helpful because of the difficulty inherent in the national government in taking action.

At present, the states have funds appropriated for the protection of birds, while the federal government has no funds for the same purpose. The states should be brought in to help, however, through private funds made possible. Others have not been able to make funds that are in jeopardy, and must be protected. Therefore the emergency of the case.

Federal action, supplemented by the states or the other way, if only chosen would soon put sufficiently large areas of marsh and public ownership to permanent use. The large numbers of waterfowl, which will not be accomplished at once, could be fed quickly as to who should do the job and how connected action to get it done in may and day and possible, it would soon be taken.

SPECIAL AIRPLANE MAY BE NEEDED FOR TROPICS

TWIN FALLS, Dec. 9.—A local flying machine will have to be developed specially with tropical countries in mind, said Hans H. Boeck, pilot of Wisconsin Airlines, starting New Guinea expedition in which he expects to purchase planes for the airline purchased in the days of Batavia, on the eve of his sailing to Europe.

Boeck, a Dane by birth, was on his way to his family home at Baden, Germany, when he became ill with a bad cold, and died at Alex, Egypt. He had been employed for a number of years with the Jackey Aircraft Company, Chicago.

Violent changes in tropical conditions, such as experienced in New Guinea, Boeck said, were fatal to any ordinary plane, although his machine had done a good deal of flight testing under tropical conditions, rates of temperature and material to withstand located 15 to 20 percent. However, to leave it behind at one of the better equipped "refuges" since with its flights finished.

National Forest Calls Many Who Seek Recreation

Public Use of Local Domain Increases Steadily; Automobile and Better Roads Are Cited as Principal Factors.

MURLEY, Dec. 9 (UPI)—The public use of the local national forest for recreation purposes the last five or six years has shown a steady and consistent growth; the estimates ranging from 100,000 to 150,000 visitors per year. Much of this use is made possible through the better roads movement, both in-and-out-side-the-forest; and the now universal use of the automobile.

About half the number are classified as picnickers and transient tourist parties, spending at most a day or only part of a day within the forest. The remaining visitors, including those who make use of permanent homes in their parks, total the two scant camps at Rosharon and Independence. It is believed, however, have been a big factor in hastening the public's use of the forest.

Scenic Features Plentiful

If the history of recreational use reports it here to be developing rapidly—expect to find the same developments within the next five or ten years. Scenic features are not lacking, though the local mountains are much less rugged than other parts of the state. Hiking and backpacking are popular, and directions are given. The open character of the country permits extensive views from every direction.

A game plan is published for live in the cabin, with few exceptions, notably the Sublett reservoir, Cleveland and Independence lakes, and parts of certain streams. Much, however, can be found of hunting and fishing material in the study of rock formations, the habits of plants and animals, and the origin of lakes, streams and the various topographic features.

There have, taken with innumerable sites for camps, picnic grounds, summer homes, etc., comprise a big collective resource rivaling in prospective value that of timber or range.

HELIUM-FROM HYDROGEN TEST. OPENS NEW FIELD

BERLIN, Dec. 9 (UPI)—What scientists regard as the first step in the building up of mystery by human effort is the result of the announcement of Drs. Kurt Peters and Jacob Paneth, University of Berlin chemists, that they succeeded in making helium out of hydrogen.

The discovery, if adopted to commercial purposes, will revolutionize the costly method of extracting the rare helium gas from natural gas wells.

It is interesting—the gas bag of science is believed.

The experiments of the scientists are just the first step in the development of the use of helium to reveal the mysteries of atoms and electrons in which bigger atoms have been made out of little ones, instead of smaller ones out of big ones. When Professor Peters and his colleagues had prepared gold from mercury, they took down an element—but since the atomic weight of helium is almost four times that of hydrogen, the Berlin scientists didn't actually have built an atom.

Drs. Peters and Paneth said they placed a quantity of palladium sponge in a sealed test tube of chemically pure hydrogen, heated to a high temperature of 400 degrees, and the palladium acted as a catalytic agent, producing, they said, as much as one-thousandth-millionth of a cubic centimeter of helium from the hydrogen in every succeeding 24 hours. A small amount of helium was present in the presence of helium, which it is said, by other experiments they said it did not form and separated in another tube. The process is not expensive. The time and labor involved is the only thing, they claim, which may be mitigated against the usefulness of the process for commercial helium manufacture.

LAUNCH CAMPAIGN TO END USE OF THE WORD "XMAS"

NEW YORK, Dec. 9 (UPI)—Yankees may not mind whether it is spelled "Xmas" or "Christmash," as long as Santa Claus makes his annual visit with toys and candles, but a campaign is to end the use of the word "Xmas" as being the name of Christ to the very brink of contempt."

Cards Hayes and Bishop William T. Manning were named as church men who have endorsed the campaign.

GEARING IS AWARDED CROSS OF HEROISM

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9 (UPI)—The Navy cross has been awarded Lieutenant Edward E. Gearing, for saving the lives of the crewmen of the submarine S-40 at New London, Connecticut, last April. Four men were killed.

Gearing directed the work of rescue, entering the exploded boat, until burning wreckage was torn away and three injured comrades removed.

"His nerve and undaunted courage," President Coolidge's citation says, "were an inspiration to the others in the rescue work."

THE MOST PROSPEROUS YEAR

During the present year, experts the scientific mind Herzog Harvey, "the country was able to maintain the highest standard of living in history, a standard far above that in most countries of the world at this or any other time."

This is a momentous statement, the fall effect of which takes a little time to sink in. It means that 1926 has been the most prosperous year in the history of the most prosperous country on earth.

It is well to realize the kind of prosperity meant. It is not necessarily true that capitalists or big business men have made more money this year than they made in certain prosperity periods in the past during the late war boom, for example. It does not mean that everybody in the country has been well-sloping in prosperity. What it means is that those people who have got more for their efforts and lived better and got ahead faster than any other time in the past.

It has been this year a more orderly prosperity diffused through society with the wage-earner getting his full portion. Harvey sends us more of such news!

WIGS FOR WOMEN

"Transformation" are the things in fashion nowadays. An answer to any male who inquires that they may be informed that they are putting more or less on wigs. French women are taking to wigs in great numbers.

And why are they doing that, before holding their hair and rejoicing in their boldness and braggadocio of the healthfulness thereby attained? The male looks wants to know.

Because, the answer is, they are growing bald.

Does boldness then lead to boldness? Actually, though not necessarily. The trouble is, it appears, that when women get their hair cut short, they feel obliged to curl it. Then the damage done by subjecting the hair continually to the torture of the curling iron kills it and makes it fall out.

Maybe nothing can be done about this. Maybe it isn't necessary to do anything. Maybe women want to wear wigs, anyway. The fact is given for what it may be worth, as a matter of curious information to bards and bards.

THE TIPPING SCALE

A Chicago hotel association indignantly finished the public a scale of tips which are reported as the average in that city, and satisfactory to the recipients.

For a general, or for a bell-boy delivering a telegram, package or post card, 10 cents is right. A porter should have 15 cents for carrying light baggage to a room, and a quarter for heavy baggage. For a waiter, a safe rule is two per cent of the bill, or if in doubt, not in possession of the necessary small change, a little more.

This is the "standard" in one very important particular. How about the last legumes?

MAYOR FIVE TIMES AND GIVEN BUT FIVE "NOES"

SHREVEPORT, La., Dec. 9. (AP)—There has been a record of 15 votes in favor of 3,200,000 for conscription, totaling 15,000,000 to have received a total of five votes against him in the five elections, the record of H. M. Bodenheimer, 50-year-old "boss" of the South High school here, in the election of the South High students, a strictly residential town, adjoining the city of Shreveport, but has its own municipal government and its own public utilities. In electing the City Council, a blank ballot was printed.

The "frenetic appeal" was so disposed of with announcement that all shipments of apples for Great Britain are suspended before leaving the United States.

Motorists who visit Ireland as tourists will soon find Ireland signs at road junctions printed in Irish and English.

ADDITIONAL MARKETS

RAILS AND INDUSTRIALS
LEAD TO HIGHER GROUND'

NEW YORK, Dec. 9 (AP)—Reported to favorable trade news, easier call money rates and another series of favorable dividend announcements, stock prices were generally higher yesterday, with the exception of the high grade rails and industrials. The average of 29 leading industrial shares advanced to within less than a point of the record high, and in the market there were few declines from one to eight points. Dividends gave an even more impressive demonstration of strength than the industrials, although the "annual average" record held the points below.

Call money increased .15 per cent and then dropped to 4%. Time money and commercial paper rates were unchanged. The weekly meeting of the New York Stock Exchange, after a long recess, opened with a record high. The price advance in the market count rate, although an early indication is expected in some banking quarters.

WHEAT SLUMPS ON BEAR NEWS

Many Reports Combine to Push Prices of Breadstuff Lower on the Chicago Market.

CHICAGO, Dec. 9 (AP)—Owing more or less to word that big shipments of Canadian wheat by lake were still being prepared for wheat averaged lower in price today. Ice blockades were again reported effective. Closing quotations on wheat were irregular. Set lower to 3¢ advance, corn unchanged to 3¢ to 5¢ advance, oats 5¢ to 10¢, rye 10¢ to 15¢, and provisions unchanged to 2¢ to 5¢.

According to advices of lake, heavy loadings of wheat were in progress at Canadian ports on Lake Superior, and market sources said that it was expected to be put about in the next few days. Meanwhile, the report indicated that European demand was slow, with foreigners in general apparently holding off for lower prices. Export news was also irregular, and tonnage available was estimated at not to exceed 500,000 bushels.

The weather in Argentina.

Fine weather in Argentina facilitating the harvest there counted as an additional factor, and so, like wheat, it was noted that new Australian wheat is moving freely.

Moreover, the December delivery of wheat here continued to show a substantial decline, and the talk current that more or less buyers having large amounts of wheat on hand, may酝酿 a future dispute in supply of flour the first six months of 1927.

Meanwhile, larger receipts of corn next week tended to weaken the corn market and note as well. Weather conditions for corn were more favorable.

Higher prices for hogs helped in steady provisions.

Alpine Cave Man of Prehistoric Days Possessed of Great Intelligence, Say Americans in Charge of Research Party

SAINTE-GALLE, Switzerland, Dec. 8 (AP)—The "Cave Man of the Alps," the prehistoric hunter of 10,000 years ago, possessed no small degree of intelligence, which is shown only in traits which he incorporated against the beasts in their own lairs.

Discoveries made by the party sent to Europe by the American school of prehistoric research, under the direction of Professor George Grant MacCurdy of Yale university, have established that point.

Cave Man Only Weapon

The primitive culture of the man who lived during the last interglacial period in the Alpine caves of the mountains of the Swiss Alps, at an altitude of 2,500 meters above the sea level, is shown by the evidence that although forced to rely on clubs exclusively for hunting, he was not inferior to the Neanderthal man as a hunter.

While the field experiments were under way, primitive experts were sent directly from America to Switzerland to search the site for ancient spearheads.

Heaving elevations from 1000 to 2000 feet, using glass plates covered with sticky substances with which to trap game, traps, snares, were used for game traps and as the prehistoric hunters took the game or organisms they were placed in the mouth containers and tightly sealed.

Oklahoma state and federal agricultural extension agents were sent to the country to help the farmers and are trying to solve the root problem far the farmers. Membranous were attached to each bottle of spruce "mixed over by the extension to the extent which it will penetrate the soil," the altitude, time, wind direction and rainfall data, prevailing at the time the spruce were caught.

The studies now in progress are expected to give the scientific world the knowledge they can produce. The problem of root attacks, particularly upon wheat and barley fields, even if they fail to work out of the data they have a system of defending agriculture from that destructive pest.

Russell Once Painted Scene on Vault Doors

HELPS, Minn., Dec. 9 (AP)—Charles E. Russell, the well-known painter of the West, was not so particular about the quality of his canvas as he became in later years, when his fame as a painter of western scenes brought him wealth and titled patrons.

In his early days, pictures bearing his initials and the name of his workshop, "Charles E. Russell," were found somewhere about the places where he frequented, the work of idle hours or the mark of his friendship.

Many of these have disappeared but two, at least, are still in existence.

They were painted upon saddle doors.

Bennie Russell's death, "one entitled 'The Antelope Hunt,'" a spirited and interesting scene, was found on the door of a vault in a new closed Lewisburg bank. Another was found in a trestle of the Dietz and a pottery girl is the principal figure.

It is planned to cut the stencils with electric knives to preserve the paintings.

BARRIE'S EIGHT HANDS GAVE OUT; USES LEFT

LONDON, Dec. 9 (AP)—Sir James Barrie, author of "Peter Pan" and all of his other works, with his right hand, but today the author writes altogether with his left.

In a letter read at the annual dinner of the National Society of Newspaper and Magazine Illustrators, Sir James explained how the change came about.

"For after 'The Old Lady' was written, my right hand (probably harried by the sight of my calligraphy) gave out and I had to write the next one with my left, to the joy of my correspondents."

Shop lifters and other forms of theft cost one London department store more than $10,000 last year.

Peppery Scandal Holds Appeal for People of Japan

Sons of Nippon Show Preference for Spicy Bits of gossip in Newspapers; Liberal Laws Are Unenforced.

TOKYO, Dec. 9 (AP)—Peppery scandal, with all the details of a fight in a cluster of newspaper fare in Japan.

Local laws are unenforced and while there are regulations to protect the bodily injured citizen these are rarely invoked due to fear of retaliation.

The Diet, a legislative body of the Diet and a pretty geisha girl are considered public property and salacious pell-mellings frequently receive front page headlines.

Peppering Money

With few exceptions most of the newspapers in Japan are barely making a living. It has been estimated that the editor of a new newspaper in his country of 100 million people must prepare to lose about $1,000,000 before he can expect to show a profit. The result is that most of the journals are two-to-night affairs, which closed by the hour after publication, leaving the editor, publisher, selling a number of things from automobiles to typewriters, and promoting anything from a prize fight to a new play.

SWAMPS PROFITABLE AS FISH LATCHERIES

SEATTLE, Dec. 9 (AP)—Washington farmers and ranchers think back-packer swamps and marshes are good investments for fish farms, says Dean John N. Clark of the University of Washington college of fisheries.

The commercial demand for fish has increased so rapidly in recent years that it is difficult to drop the swamp and stock them with trout and bass, rather than attempt to reclaim the land for agriculture.

unpublished. Almost all the papers still use dummy editors or publishers whose job it is to be fined and imprisoned should the newspaper owner be found guilty.

Type Setting by Hand

Until recently very little foreign news, except of China, was published by the veritable press, the reason being that the readers did not care for it.

Now, however, the Japanese are interested in the value of foreign publications, but publishers declare it is a difficult task.

All type-setting must be done by hand, and this is different from the holding necessary for the printing of a single edition. Consequently the papers of Japan are much less bulky than those of America.

Use Promotion Schemes

Advertising space is similar in proportion. No newspaper in Japan depends altogether on circulation or advertising for its revenue. They operate like big offices, employing many salesmen, agencies, selling a number of things from automobiles to typewriters, and promoting anything from a prize fight to a new play.
