

ADMIRAL ORDERS TROOPS TO LAND

American Bluejackets Move to Protect Citizens' Lives and Property in Nicaragua.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 24 (AP)—While the State Department said today that American troops had been landed at the port of Balboa, Nicaragua, there was little word that a message to that effect was received by Dr. T. C. Vining, Washington representative of the Board of Trade, was sent out.

A radiogram from Rep. Adolph Lauter to the naval department today advised that American sailors were ashore for the protection of American lives and property, and it was stated that, in the absence of further advice, that he carried out his program.

No Official Information

Neither the navy nor the land forces arrived official information confirming a statement in the telegram received by Dr. Vining, a member of the congressional delegation, that the Bluejackets had been ordered to evacuate Puerto Cabezas by 4 p.m. tomorrow.

The American-built and owned hand-cranked machine gun, "the swing man's blaff," is in the Pacific Canal, and it was assumed here tonight that any evacuation order probably had arisen from the acquisition by Somoza and his adherents of American buildings in Nicaragua.

REQUESTED TO LEAVE CITY

WASHINGTON, Dec. 24 (AP)—Juan Somoza, leader of the liberal faction in Nicaragua, who has been born in the United States, will leave the country with his wife and family, have been ordered by American naval authorities to leave Puerto Cabezas, his headquarters, by 4 p.m. tomorrow afternoon. Dr. T. C. Vining, his confidential agent here, was advised tonight.

The orders were that if Somoza and his forces did not leave the city they would be arrested and a telegram to Dr. Vining, the Rodarte Express, would be sent to foreign affairs.

SITUATION DRAWS ATTENTION

WASHINGTON, Dec. 24 (AP)—American naval authorities here tonight named a representative of President Diaz of Nicaragua probable with bring sharply to the front the question of steps to assist the struggling rebels in their fight against the liberal forces.

Officials have been reticent as to any plan that may have been considered, but naval sources said that no military instrument would be brought about by the two political factions—Conservative through the friendly assistance of Mr. Paulino Diaz, Minister of War, who never fights rebels, and American bluejackets, to protect American and other foreign lives and property on the coast, change the situation, and assist the rebels, who militarily are taking a farce which undoubtedly will bring by force, which undoubtedly will be stressed by Dr. Cesar in presenting President Diaz' appeal for some form of American intervention to restore peace.

ARIZONA WOULD DISPATCH
COMMITTEE TO WASHINGTON TO HALT ACTION ON BILL

TUCSON, Ariz., Dec. 24 (AP)—Gov. George W. P. Hunt today told the legislature to forestall action on California's Sojourner Truth bill, which would have made funds available to the state to aid colored citizens.

The proclamation calling the special session called out that no appropriate action had been taken by the legislature to vote funds in and a committee to Washington.

The legislature will meet January 3 week before the convening of the eighth state legislature in regular session.

The proclamation calling the special session pointed out that no appropriate action had been made to funds available to the state to aid colored citizens.

"The general situation as it affects Arizona has been exchanged and aggravated by the approach granted to certain individuals to restrain the swing man's blaff," the proclamation said.

Arizona's interests in the greatest natural resources which lies within its borders.

CHRISTMAS GIFT BRIGHT EVENT IN CHILD'S LIFE

"Now let us on praises sing to God our heavenly King, who in heaven on earth, hon- let his praises ring."

Little Amos sent in her card and what do you think? A long singing knight, who had been singing along and said it was the best of all and that it was "extremely beautiful," and that he was charmed with the two girls.

The note of the first, he said,

was like the howling of a wolf

and the higher notes of the second like angels singing.

The words and music were copy-

The proceeds of the sale of the

WE NEED HIM

"By Ellen Marion Welsh.
'Tis Christmastide; 'tis over all the earth
A solemn stillness lies;
The noise and tumult of the day
Are hushed; death stirs not.

'Tis Christmas time—'tis Love's
Ling'ring hour of Power;
'tis Dreaming time—'tis Mystery, time
Wherever we may run.

The Prince of Peace is knocking; Oh,
Will Nations bid Him stay?
We need Him! How we need Him!
Every minute of the day.

We need Him in the castle and
The cottage in the glen;
We need Him in our home life and
Our touch with fellow-men.

Faith Human hearts, let heed the Bell
Of Christmas ere they cease;
The King of Nations—Christ is here;
Through Zion alone comes Peace.

THE CHRISTMAS SPIRIT

"Christianity has failed," cries of ten say, "but they overlook Christmas."

This great Christian festival is in itself the most convincing demonstration of Christianity. It exemplifies Christian love, doctrine, and realizes Christian ideals.

"It is more blessed to give than to receive," said Jesus.

There was a new principle of human conduct. People were amazed when He uttered it. They could not believe it then. Most of us cannot believe it yet. We pretend to believe it, but we seldom accept it in our hearts or express it in action. Day in and day out, through the long year, society acts up to the principle that is more blessed to receive than to give.

This is a competitive civilization, and competition makes selfishness. Few ideas affect us so much. We have to be thrifty, and make profits and get what we can in all ways and expressly declared dishonesty, in order to make a living. The hard-to-satisfy-of-mankind-of-the-fittest, leads us to take rather than give.

So taking or accepting becomes the rule of life, and giving or offering becomes the exception. When we do give, we are likely to do it from a sense of duty rather than pleasure. We feel self-righteous about it. Behind lies a sense of pride.

Then comes December, with its personal and material—of the most authentic and compelling of all mirths wrought in the spirit of man.

Slowly, insensibly, a subtle change appears. People start planning to give Christmas presents. At first they are stimulated by a sense of duty. But soon that phase passes. They come to feel a zest and enthusiasm for this strange business.

By the time Christmas arrives, hundreds of millions of supposedly selfish, practical, thrifty human beings are spending recklessly and giving with abandon, and finding in it keen enjoyment that they ever experienced from selfish acquisition. They are glad to receive gifts, but they are gladder to bestow them on others.

All at once they realize how much more blessed it is to give than to receive. And in this new spirit of finality it is easy to accept and practice those other cardinal precepts of Christian conduct.

"Be ye kind one to another."

"Whatever ye would that men should do unto you, do ye even so to them."

For one day, at least, Christendom is Christian.

RESEARCH' LAW EXAM

The comprehensive examination has reached candidates for admission to the bar in Idaho. It is called a "research test" and is such a surprising innovation that many of the law graduates confronted with it for the first time are nervous.

This test gets away from the old method of asking a lot of questions to which certain answers must be fitted. It makes an attempt to individualize "book-learning" about law and to emphasize understanding and ability.

After completing their recent examination at Caldwell, were told to go to the library and select some book on law, or some specific legal question. After looking it over a great length of time they then took to "state it" and were then asked to prepare a brief for a case in court. The theory of such a test is that it shows better than the answering of a few questions the candidate's grasp of law and his ability to turn that certain facts in their proposed legal relationship.

This sort of test has been making great headway in American schools and colleges in recent years. There is a seeing away from state-learning toward the cultivation of intelligence, judgment, ability—in short, it is an endeavor of genuine research in education.

CHRISTMAS DAY ONE OF EVENTS IN TWIN FALLS

Commemoration of Christ's Birth Opens With Peals of Music; Choral Singers to Herald Dawn; Elks Hosts.

Outstanding events of Christmas day in Twin Falls will include religious services in St. Edward's Catholic church and Emmanuel Lutheran church, and a choral service. A picture show at the Idaho theatre for girls and boys of the community.

The day in Twin Falls was ushered in with peaks of Christmas music at church services, followed by a concert directed by Rev. Ervin W. Wehof of Boise in Ascension Episcopal church.

In pursuance of custom for several years past, a band of about 100 singers will gather in the church square this morning in the Presbyterian church to set out at 6 o'clock on a tour beginning with the county general hospital and ending at the home of an afflicted person to herald the dawn of Christmas day with singing of Christmas carols.

The gift of song will be carried to the home also of a group of the Lutheran Sunday school Services in St. Edward's church will begin at 8 o'clock.

LITTLE FOLKS' DAY

Girls and boys of the community who are members of the Elks will assemble in the Elk's hall at the noon hour immediately following the motion picture show, which is to be given by Joe K. manager of the Idaho theatre, to have a little fun. The hall will be decorated to herald the dawn of Christmas day with singing of Christmas carols.

STEADIER CURRENCY IS WELCOME GIFT IN FRANCE

TWIN FALLS, Dec. 24.—French funds received an appreciable Christmas present today in the form of a steamed frappe. Taking the situation in hand on Wednesday, the Bank of France and the French government agreed in two days in putting the French francs on apparently solid ground through the simple announcement that they were ready either to take or sell dollars and pounds to anyone who presented them with a bill or note.

Reliable information is that the government intends for the moment to keep the parity between 121 and 123 francs and the dollar at around 25 francs. This is to indicate that eventual stabilization will be in the neighborhood of these figures.

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 24.—A richholder up a residence district branch of the Commercial National bank here today and escaped with $2,500. Two employees were working alone in the bank at the time and were confined to a rear room and it was some time before police were notified.

COOLIDGE STIEL AGAINST SHIP CONSTRUCTION PLAN

WASHINGTON, Dec. 24 (UPI)—Despite the efforts of some congressional leaders to get him to change his views, President Coolidge still holds the opinion it would be unwise to make appropriations for the construction of the Hoover dam already authorized by Congress.

At the White House today it was disclosed that the president looks on the Butler bill, which would authorize construction of the Hoover dam, as a continuation of the three earlier authorizations now in effect. Unless Congress grants a time extension, he said, the dam will be completed next July 1. It was pointed out that White House sources said the Hoover dam would not be ready for the beginning of construction.

THIEVES CARRY AWAY TENT

They made off with $100 and a radio. They also took a radio and a television set, which were mounted on the front porch. The Johnsons were not home at the time.

Application for builders' permit has been made to Telco Electric Works, Inc., of San Francisco, for construction of a framing Mill, 25x100 feet in diameter, to be situated on lots on Third Avenue west between Second and Third streets. Estimated cost of the building is $15,000.

White, the bus, was a tall, 42-foot long, single-decked vehicle.

DEPTH OF SNOW ON WATERSHED SETS NEW MARK

Reservoir Superintendent Reports Average Depth of 51 Inches on Jackson Lake Drainage Area.

Present conditions on the Jackson Lake drainage area are better than those for the same period last year, according to measurements were started, according to a message from Moton received at the office of the Bureau of Reclamation Thursday, says the news service.

Reservoir Superintendent Joseph Nathanson has just returned from a survey of the watershed above Jackson lake and reports an average snow depth of 51 inches, the water equivalent being 14 inches. In other words, the snow is about 2½ per cent water in volume.

The maximum depth of snow was found on Lewis Creek, where it stands at this point, there was a depth of 92 inches of snow containing 20 per cent of water.

As compared with other years, the average depth is high, but is not greater than for any other year at this time, and is now about equal to the highest average depth in 1924, which was not recorded until March.

As a result of the heavy accumulation of snow has been falling since November, it was estimated that a large proportion of the water in the lakes and streams of the mountain range will run off into the streams tributary to the rivers and the reservoirs. Prospects for next year's water supply, judging from present conditions, are, therefore, excellent.

On December 22 Jackson Lake reservoir contained 570,000 acre feet of stored water, American Falls reservoir contained 500,000 acre feet, and Little Redfish approximately 50,000 acre feet, making a total stored supply now available in these three reservoirs of 600,000 acre feet.

Brevity of Women's Skirts Idaho Sheepmen's Program

Women's short skirts are worrying Idaho sheepmen, not on the score of immodesty, but because they are bad for business, said T. T. Blane, president of the Idaho Wool Growers' Association, at the United States sheepmen's convention. Mr. Blane continued, could be induced to take only ten ounces more of woolen fabrics each year, the mills would be operating at 75 per cent of their present capacity of 25 per cent.

With the men of the family preferring old wool suits for novelty, the tendency to climb out of the way, all have, sheepmen and manufacturers will have to rely upon new markets.

In a Word of Portland, members of the Wool Council of America, will discuss this phase thoroughly at an audience before the end of January 18.

WIDE RESPONSE TO RELIEF CALL

Twin Falls People in Organizations and as Individuals Seek to Cheer Neighbors' Lot.

Opportunities for Twin Falls people to assist in relief and contribute to cheer of less fortunate neighbors at Christmas time has increased this year, but also, according to those in charge of the Christmas relief work, the number of organizations and individuals seeking to implement their opportunities has increased also.

On the lists of the relief workers there were but even the names of 102 families, all of whom had been aided by the various organizations who had volunteers to assist in the relief activities.

The Salvation Army had on its lists names of 30 families, and churches and other organizations had 100 names in a temporary Christmas relief organization of which Mrs. John B. Ault is chairman, had made themselves responsible for bringing of Christmas cheer into 71 homes.

High School Takes Part

Organizations besides the churches cooperating in this activity include Sunday school classes and high school societies, boys of the Zim Club and the Boy Scouts, who were asked to be made responsible for Christmas giving in one or more families.

High school students, on their own initiative, collected by voluntary subscription, a fund sufficient for the purchase of 21 pairs of shoes that have been distributed among pupils of the grade schools. The lack of adequate covering had been brought to the attention of the upper classes by school bus drivers.

Records are not available as to the number of persons who assumed some individual responsibility for helping the lot of needy families, but there is ample evidence that a good many Twin Falls citizens this year will do as much for relief from Christmas day by reason of the work they have taken as individuals in the relief work.

the Idaho Wool Growers' Association at Weiser, January 16, 17 and 18. It was started.

Of the three basic necessities of life, food, clothing and shelter, the latter, the United States has witnessed painful depression in the preceding years of the first two since the post-war deflation period began, for while the wool industry, the textile industry and the manufacture of textiles, though speaking, have been trying laboriously to climb out of the way, all have, sheepmen and manufacturers will have to rely upon new markets.

In a Word of Portland, members of the Wool Council of America, will discuss this phase thoroughly at an audience before the end of January 18.

DISCLAIM ANY PART IN ALLEGED REALTY FRAUD

RUPERT, Dec. 21 (Special to The News)—Funeral services were conducted here Thursday afternoon for Mrs. S. R. Johnson, victim of a railroad crossing accident that occurred west of Rupert late Tuesday afternoon.

Arrangements for the services were in the hands of members of the Christian Center Day School, of which the deceased was a member for many years.

Addressess were delivered by Bishop R. Bonifacius Minnola, state president, R. C. Church, both of whom are of Rupert, and Mrs. J. D. Ritchey of Twin Falls.

The high legend in which Mrs. Johnson was held by her many friends attended the services, including the deceased's mother, who was a widow of the twin cemetery.

Other defendants named in the complaint are J. E. Montgomery and Claude Sly.

Mr. John N. Clark, represented by Watson and Parry, and H. S. Beals, represented by U. A. Bailey, in their answer denied that the Charvels and company, a realty concern, had been a party to the transaction, adding that another member of the firm had been a part in the transaction complained of.

The Standard Accident Insurance company also filed a disclaimer in answer to the complaint.

Other defendants named in the complaint are J. E. Montgomery and Claude Sly.

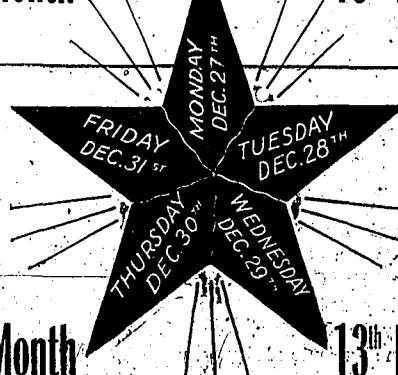

May our Christmas Greetings, blended with those of your other friends, brighten the closing days of the dying year, and help you to face with joy the year to come.

FRENCH ACTRESS TO ASSUME VEIL

Ten Years of Austere Living
Prepares Eve Lavalliere for Life in Convent.

PARIS, Dec. 24 (UPI)—After ten years of austere living, mothering her friends and bearing no news of the outside world, Eve Lavalliere, once France's most popular actress, is beginning to accept the rôle of nun, taking the veil in the Frenchwoman's convent at Hyères.

Her sudden disappearance from Paris stage ten years ago, leaving a young man she had been engaged to, has not been known in the States, but she has kept the time to herself. Friends wrote asking for opinions about her, but she never answered the letters. Now she has returned to Tonkin, where she was born in 1886, planning to spend one year in meditation and prayer before she takes the vow.

Eve Lavalliere first made her appearance on the Paris stage in 1906, at the age of twenty-one. Five years later she was the idol of the public. For years she was the star of the famous Variétés theater. Now she is living in a small house near the Tonkin water front. Her only companion is a friend who is also planning to enter the convent.

Gratuitous managers of France have decided to build a home for their aged and retired employees. At the age of forty-five, they receive a pension of $100 a month in recognition of the services of the keen-eyed and quick-witted men who have brought great fortunes to their pockets of recent years. A large amount of money was subscribed for the home, work upon which will begin immediately.

The "havens fair" at Arbon, Lieuvin, has just been held with some success. Many of the parents eager to see their children safely married. More than a dozen engagements have been announced as a result of the meetings of eligible maidens.

In the middle ages the fair of Saint Nicholas became a fair of sentimental exercises and dances. In certain special places are reserved for them and there they meet, and talk over the details of matrimony.

A marriage broker, known in the layman's dialect as a "holloman," usually provides and acts as arbiter in case of differences over the terms of the proposed contract.

The fair has been held annually without omission for hundreds of years.

The Abstinent restaurants of Paris have found a new way to sell their wares—by giving the food that made Strasbourg famous.

Cans of paté, all ready to be taken home, are placed beneath the voluminous coats of dolls dressed in the choicest materials. The dolls are dressed in the prettiest manner, with hats and shoes, holding in their hands. A wife, mother or daughter, taken into the restaurant for a good dinner, is almost sure to be attracted to the dolls, placed on tables in the center of the room. When her escort yields to her whim and decides to buy the doll, he has to buy the paté de foie gras that goes with it, and there are few delicacies in the world that cost so much.

The hold-down now is for the construction of the hansom-cabs, the number of which affords what naturally has to be read all the papers, even the hundred or so sheets published in Paris.

Parliament, with this new high cost of living, has voted to increase the pay of its 1,500 members from the present sum of £1,000 per annum to the present sum of £1,200 per annum.

NASHVILLE, Tenn.—Dec. 24 (UPI)—Tommy Lee has in his library an "autographed" photograph of Sitting Bull, great Indian chief, whose head was sliced General Custer and his forces.

D. P. Wrenne of Nashville furnished the photograph to the state. It was sent to Mr. Wrenne by Edwin A. Collier, author, Indianapolis, Indiana, with a letter to the Nashville Journal dated Port Yates, Dakota, 1886, explaining how the "autograph" of the dangerous chief was obtained.

Sitting Bull refused to autograph his name, and after much coaxing, Mr. Collier wagered the Indian that he could not even sign his own name. At this the chief took resentment, and did write his name, "Sitting Bull," in the same ink as the signature on the paper.

Mr. Collier later pasted the photograph on a card, and signed it "Collier's Autograph" and "Sitting Bull."

The after-scheme in which the rewards are uncertain except for the price is a sort of lottery, known as "double or nothing." The "double or nothing" is accompanied with the daily figures of total stock market sales as a base.

Although contributions of as little as a nickel are contributed, considerable sums are involved.

The main reason of guests' confusion is the fact that the lottery is conducted under the law.

King George and Queen Mary Both Use Horn-Rimmed Spectacles During Reading Hours.

LONDON, Dec. 24 (AP)—Horn-rimmed spectacles have become a regular part of the accessories of the boudoir at Buckingham palace.

Now, however, King George has followed suit since he wore a pair at the evening of Wembley exhibition. He had on a pair when leaving Buckingham Palace yesterday morning after a cruise on a shooting expedition. He dons them, however, when making his usual remarkable kills amongst the pheasants and partridges.

Gold fish, pecking in the temple grooves, the ancient headquarters now used for homes and offices of the legal guilds, has reached such a stage that special posters have been posted to warn the public.

"Whist's club," in St. James street, claimed to be the oldest in the world, is shortly to be sold and will probably become the property of its members. The club, or hall, which offered the premises to his fellow club members on terms which will bring it into their possession as a freehold property.

Bounded in 1897 as a chocolate house, it gradually became one of the most fashionable resorts in London for young "bucks" of the day who were noted for their living. The building was bought by Sir J. T. and the present club founded soon afterward.

Pops and Swift mention celebrities who resorted there. Hogarth recorded it in some of his pictures, and of recent years it has numbered among its members most of the aristocratic people of London.

Proposed in a new bill regarding a sugar law to be brought before parliament in January include:

Sixty miles an hour speed limit on the open roads.

Stronger penalties, including imprisonment, for drunken driving.

Speed limits as low as five miles an hour in populous centers.

No one under 17 years of age, to be allowed to drive a car or motorcycle.

"The highest peak in the Alps is Blane Mange."

"Amongst the islands of the west are the pyramids noted for toilet purposes."

"Ceylon is joined to India by a chain of coral wreaths."

"A focus is a thing like a mushroom but if you eat it you will feel different only from a mushroom, for focuses is poison."

"Haloes Corpus is what the people used to say to the undertakers at the time of the plague of London. It means 'You may live the body.'

"Louis XVI was gashed during the French revolution."

"Chaplets are small pliers of wrens."

LONDON WIDOWERS SHOW FAVOR FOR SPINSTERS

LONDON, Dec. 24 (AP)—Widowers prefer spinsters when remarrying, according to matrimonial statistics published by the British government.

The London marriage records show the booklets, that during the last recorded year there were nearly twice as many widowers who took single women as spouses as compared with married widowers and those who wed bachelors was very small.

VIXEN AND PRANCER HAVE HOST OF BROTHERS AND SISTERS FOR SANTA'S USE AT CHRISTMAS TIDE

WASHINGTON.—All the chances coming to the United States may be a muler truck or even an airplane in making his delivery, can be supplied by Alaska with but in Alaska the reindeer is coming into its own.

Industry Born July 4—The first international meeting of the reindeer industry was landed at Teller, Alaska, on Independence day, 1902. During that year and the decade following, 1,118 more were imported from Siberia and landed the shores of Alaska.

From the outset the deer thrived, and as the number increased, other herds were formed from the mother herd at Teller.

The reindeer is not, however, highly prolific. The female deer usually gives birth to but one fawn a year, and if there are twins, one (or both) of the young is liable to die. The rapid increase is due to the remarkable hardiness of the fawn, which only a few hours after birth are strong and fleet of foot. The reindeer, however, is not related to the deer and the sleek, knob-kneed sort or calf is striking and has much made with the tendency of reindeer heads to increase rapidly in spite of the infant mortality, although it has been estimated that there are 200,000 square miles of dry, scrub-like moss in Alaska—enough grazing land for 10,000,000 animals.

This class of game is not suitable for market except, it may be, the muskox, hence these thousands of square miles of Arctic Alaska, were it not for the reindeer, would prove practically useless and could not be profitably inhabited.

There is only one drawback to this situation—immediately the reindeer seek the coast in summer, to escape the swarms of mosquitoes, and to seek the hills in winter to escape the Arctic winter. The Eskimos have a saying that "mosquitoes make the best herders in summer time."

The Bureau of education, acting under the department of interior, has started the reindeer industry in Alaska, not as a livestock proposition, but primarily to assist the Eskimos (two, like the Indian, is the word of the interior department), and the industry has been developed by that department.

The Eskimos own approximately 70 per cent of the deer in Alaska.

With the white, skilled men brought to hunt the whale, the walrus, and the seal, in the Bering sea and Arctic ocean, he became a competitor of the Eskimos. The white man's facilities for hunting this game soon put the Eskimos at a disadvantage.

Fortunately the government awakened to the necessity of providing these wards, with a means of livelihood in view of what they had lost.

Star's Industry

Dr. Sheldon Jackson was the pioneer in realizing the possibilities of the reindeer industry for this purpose.

He appealed to congress but did not receive its action. The first reindeer brought to Alaska was imported with funds appropriated by the Chinese immigration.

The government in 1892 appropriated $20,000, the first of a series of annual appropriations made to continue the importations.

It was not until 1902, however, that the bureau first fostered the reindeer industry as a means of vocational education for 20,000 Eskimos who otherwise would have had to be supported or left to starve.

"The meat of the deer is not 'gamy' in taste, and it has been most applicable in Alaska, as the deer is the equivalent of beef and mutton."

The animal is butchered by modern methods, after which the carcass is frozen with the hide on and shipped to distribution points in the states of Seattle and Minneapolis. There it is cut in cold storage until sold for food.

Four Years Free Rent?

If you were offered free use of a 5-room modern Twin Falls residence for four years, it would sound interesting, wouldn't it and relatively valuable.

Our proposal cannot be stated in just such terms, yet it is likely to work out just as profitable to you.

We offer for sale a residence property in Blue Lakes Addition for $4,500, which brought $7700 in 1920. When this property comes back in value only half way from the present price to the 1920 value, the owner will have realized a profit equal to four years rental.

We offer six years' time at 7 per cent, with installation payment to suit the circumstances of the buyer.

The house has a fine living room, fireplace, full plumbing, screened porch, sleeping porch, breakfast alcove, built-in paneled cupboards, side-walls, seven and ornamental street lighting system all installed and fully paid for. Taxes are therefore much lower than on most similar properties.
