COLORADO BREEDERS WANT FOX BRANDING REGULATION

DENVER, Feb. 10.—Fox branding is the latest problem before the state legislature.

Instead of the string branding from fox owners use the ink to mark their property.

When foxes are branded they are difficult to identify and fox owners believe that under the plan any one taking fox would be forced to look for the brand and report to the fox brand department if any marks were found.

THE SPORTS OF A DAY

GOODING TAKES DOUBLE HEADER

North Side Girls Win With Ease Over Twin Falls, but Boys' Game is Close Affair.

GOODING, Feb. 10 (Special to The News)—The Gooding basketball team today had a double header with the Twin Falls team here tonight. The Gooding girls had little trouble winning the 11-7 "boys' game, however, with the boys' game, however, from the beginning with Worden leading a foul in the last minutes of play to break a tie and win the game by the score 29-19.

The Twin Falls girls fought hard all the way but could not overcome the height of the Gooding forwards, Evans, running center for the Bruins, who was not able to play because of torn ligaments sustained in the "Bull" game Tuesday. The local girls took an early lead and were never threatened.

Boys' Game Spooky
The boys' game was one of the fastest seen on the local court this season. Although Gooding maintained a small lead most of the game they were in constant danger. In the last few minutes of play the game was tied at 15-15, and it looked as though it would take an extra period to determine the winner but a foul gave Worden a chance to win the game and he converted the winning free throw.

Worden was really the star of the local team and high point man of the game with 16 points. He also made several foul shots and played a nice game. Many fouls were called in the game and Gooding, local guard, was the only one to foul out.

Ward and Kelly Shoo
For Twin Falls, Ward and Kelly were the outstanding players. Ward gathered eight points for high man of his team. He displayed nice floor work and Kelly was not going as he caught and missed several chances at the hoop. Nelson played his usual steady game at standing guard. Haines and Martin both were getting in nice shape but had some hard luck with their shots. The game maintained a furious pace from the start with both teams fighting all the way. Boys' lineup: Gooding—Ward, Haines, Worden, Right Forward—Martin, Gooding—Ward, Haines, Worden, Center—Kelly, Prince, Right Guard—Nelson.

Substitutions: Gooding, C. Toome for Nelson.

UTAH HOUSE PASSES BILL TO OUTLAW HORSE RACING

SALT LAKE CITY, Feb. 10 (AP)—By a vote of 34 to 20 the lower house of the Utah legislature this afternoon approved the Redd bill which repeals the 1903 racing law, passed by the 1925 legislature. This action followed three days of debate, which at times waxed vehement.

It is expected that the senate will speedily approve the bill and Governor George H. Dern is said by his friends to be favorably inclined toward the measure, taking the same stand he did two years ago when horse racing was made possible through the passage of a bill fathered by the same legislator who introduced the repealer at this session. Opponents to the sport held that as gambling and horse racing were practically synonymous, it was necessary to outlaw racing.

DUMB BELLS REGISTERED

MUSHERS CLOSE TOGETHER IN NEW HAMPSHIRE RACE

AMHERST, N. H., Feb. 10 (AP)—The favorites came to the fore with a rush on the first leg of the New England "Red Dog" cup, second annual "dumb bell" race through the hills of central New Hampshire.

Less than seven minutes separated the three leaders when stopped times had been figured tonight for the six miles uphill grind from Waterbury, starting and finishing point of the 1926 mile race.

When the dogs pulled in tonight, Francois Dupuis, pettiest veteran of the three leaders and winner of last year's international derby at Quebec, was a scant four minutes ahead of Leonard Segalla, hero of the recent run to some two years ago. Dupuis, running a good half of the distance, croaking and chattering to his seven big mounds, inhaled into here in 3 hours, 24 minutes, 45 seconds.

BABE RUTH MAY QUIT BASEBALL

King of Swat Decides to Try for Success in Business World if Contract Fails.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 10 (AP)—Rather than accept $52,000 for playing baseball in 1927, Babe Ruth announced today he will enter the business world by opening a string of gymnasiums and starting a correspondence course in how to keep fit physically and how to play baseball. Coupled with the announcement was the statement that he would prefer having to quit baseball than to stand in the light of a sneer in the business world if he accepted the contract offered by the New York Yankees. Ruth would have as his partner in the gymnasiums, Arthur A. McEwen of New York, well known physical instructor.

Different Baseball
Financially and physically it is a different George Herman Ruth who is taking Colonel Jacob Ruppert of the Yankees for a salary increase from the ball player who in other years was given to sign on the dotted line by big waist measurement and a small bank account.

This morning Ruth, as he went out on the road for an hour's walking and jogging weighed exactly 229 1/2 pounds. His trainers say that another seven pounds of that weight would be plenty to put him in the very pink of condition.

Spag's first drop on to his mattress early evening and he was in a sound sleep.

Since the close of the world series he has been busy in vandyville and on the road, always taking exercise and always busy to box to spend money. The result financially is a bank account of general proportions.

ENFORCES NEW POTATO GRADES

Deputy State Inspector Asks Cooperation of Growers and Shippers of County.

Potato grade and marketing regulations promulgated by A. W. B. Kjosness, former state commissioner of agriculture, against which a fight in court was waged by a number of Twin Falls growers, will be made effective today throughout Idaho. It was announced here last evening by H. C. Gibson, deputy state inspector.

The new regulations provide for compulsory inspection and use of "planned" sacks for potatoes marketed outside of the state. They make no provision for the "common" or "unplanned" grade, and require that bags in which potatoes are sold must be so marked as to indicate the grade of the contents in accordance with United States government grade standards.

Under existing F. S. No. 1 grade potatoes, under the new regulations, must be marked "Selected Idaho U. S. No. 1" and sacks containing U. S. No. 2 grade potatoes must be marked "Gem State Seconds." In each case the net weight must be marked on the bag.

In addition to their marks growers or shippers may use their own private brands, if they desire to do so.

No. 2 grade potatoes must not be placed in sacks bearing the word "Selected."

Mr. Gibson, upon whom the work of enforcing the new regulations rests in this county, declared that he was hoping that he will gladly render any assistance possible to growers and shippers in getting them acquainted with the new requirements.

SET DATE FOR HOLING THROUGH OF BIG BORE

DENVER, Colo., Feb. 10 (AP)—The date for holing through the Pioneer hole of the Moffat tunnel has been changed from February 16 to February 18 at 8:10 p. m., members of the joint commission announced today.

Lack of time in which to complete arrangements for the event in which the governors of Utah and Colorado and other officials will participate was pronounced as the cause for the postponement.

President Coolidge, by pressing a button at Washington on the night of February 18, will set off the blast in the tunnel which will break the final barrier and complete the hole through the continental divide.

AMERICAN GOVERNMENT SEEKS NAVAL CONFAB

five building of these classes of ships has begun. Naval officials are anxious to get a program in effect by certain powers and there has been already in our own country, as well as abroad, a sentiment urging naval construction taking place elsewhere in such sea-lanes like the germ of increased naval armaments.

Time Ripe for Action

It is added that the time for a supplemental agreement appeared opportune because delegates from most of the world had been in session at Geneva during the general subject of disarmament and were to renew their work late next night. He pointed out that the Geneva conference apparently was approaching a deadlock in its effort to formulate a treaty for arms limitation that would apply to all classes of armaments everywhere and that the only apparent promise of accomplishment lay in the direction of special agreements to cover special subjects or special regions.

So far as land armaments were concerned, the president said, the United States could not be considered a factor in any limitation discussion since this nation has no army and air strength already have been reduced to a minimum and "constitute a threat to no one."

Both the presidential message and the note to the naval powers a copy of which also was sent to congress, were made public simultaneously in Washington, London, Paris, Rome and Tokyo shortly after noon today under a carefully prepared plan designed to place the president's views directly before the people concerned. Copies of the note had been sent to the governments of Brazil, Argentina and Chile, registering their views on the subject of the Latin-American, for their information.

Chairman Brad of the senate foreign relations committee always an advocate of arms limitation, was one of the first to express his unqualified approval of the step taken by the president. He was backed by Senator Curtis of Kansas, republican floor leader, chairman of the naval committee and many others.

Some of them expressed doubt whether the move for further limitation would succeed, Senator Ford, democrat, Missouri, covering the plan as a "stop gap" which would come to nothing.

Undecided as to Whether

Senate ratification of Arkansas, democratic leader, declared that while he favored the limitation of armaments, he was unable to decide whether under present conditions a conference such as that suggested by the president would be calculated to accomplish whatsoever results.

Speaker Longworth, who delivered an address here last night favoring the entire building plan, declared his utterances were "in line" with the president's proposal and Representative Tilton, the republican floor leader, likewise coupled praise for the president's message with a rebuke of his own support of the entire program. Chairman Butler of the house naval committee, who recently has expressed disappointment at the outcome of the Washington conference, put it this way: "I am most thoroughly in accord to limit these ships, and I believe the American congress should sustain the president by placing his hand on a large building program for the United States."

State department officials refused to disclose whether any of the four proposals as addressed by Mr. Coolidge had in fact been indicated in advance that such a proposal would be pleasing to them. The plan has been in the making here for weeks and it would not surprise diplomatic observers if informed circles already had shared that the president's views are shared in some of the interested officials.

ITALY WITHHOLDS COMMENT

ROME, Feb. 10 (AP)—The Italian government tonight declined to make any official comment on President Coolidge's proposal for further naval disarmament which was submitted today to Premier Mussolini by Ambassador Bruce T. Fletcher.

Italy's attitude, it was said, would be set forth only after the proposal had been given most careful study by Mussolini, aided by experts on the disarmament question.

During Ambassador Fletcher's visit at the Chigi palace, Premier Mussolini carefully read President Coolidge's message to congress and the text of the proposal concerning further naval disarmament, noting with a peculiar interest passages which struck him as important. Acting from his seat, the premier said he would give his opinion as to whether he would like the great plan in its existing form and in giving a carefully considered opinion in behalf of Italy at the earliest opportunity.

Although the government was reluctant to comment, it is the general belief in political circles that Italy will accept the proposal, but with reserves that of a normal character, leaving open the possibility of further negotiations—now eventual—negotiations at Washington or Geneva.

FAVORABLE REACTION

GENEVA, Feb. 10 (AP)—Reaction at Geneva to President Coolidge's recommendation for a supplementary five-power naval accord was two-fold. The league of nations was happy to see anything done to further the cause of disarmament—but this was coupled with

SOCIETY AND CLUBS

Mrs. L. L. Brockmeider entertained the Presbyterian Missionary society at her home on Seventh avenue north, Thursday afternoon. A short business session was held after which the new officers for the coming year were installed by Mrs. E. P. Steer. An interesting letter-reading by Mrs. W. J. before a definite opinion could be given on Washington's latest suggestion, the memorandum must be translated and studied.

It is also remarked that if France and Great Britain would accept a separate naval treaty, they would risk losing American and British support for a later conference on military and air problems.

PARIS SURPRISED

PARIS, Feb. 10 (AP)—President Coolidge's proposal that the Washington agreement relative to capital ships be extended to other naval armaments has taken Paris by surprise. The French government has been favorable thus far to every reduction in armaments compatible with security, it was remarked at the foreign office this evening, but Why are there so many charming women today?

Never before have there been so many charming women.

Wherever you go, you find them. Vivacious, happy, beautiful, delightfully dressed in the most exquisite taste.

Clear, pink-and-white complexion, luxurious, well-kept hair, gleaming teeth, trim athletic carriage—these are almost universal characteristics of American women of today.

Why?

At first thought it may sound absurd, but one of the most powerful teachers has been advertising.

Advertising has helped to teach us all that the real basis of beauty is health and cleanliness. We are the greatest users of soap and water in the world.

Advertising has taught us how to care for our teeth, our hair, our feet, our hands and our complexions.

Advertising has taught us how to dress—how to choose colors and fabrics and becoming styles.

Advertising has taught us how to talk, how to entertain.

One reason why so many women are charming is because so many women are reading advertising. From advertising they are learning the secrets of great beauty specialists. They are getting health information of inestimable value. They are learning the secrets of becoming dress from the famous designers of Paris and New York.

Advertising is one of the biggest reasons why so many women are so charming.

Read advertising regularly.

SIDEWALK CAFE INSTITUTION OF SOUTH EUROPE

Municipal Council of Nice, on French Riviera, Fights Losing Battle to Abolish Open-Air Restaurants.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—The municipal council of Nice, on the French Riviera, recently tried to abolish the sidewalk cafes of the city. To one who has traveled in the Latin countries of southern Europe, there could be but one answer to such a conflict, the council held. The place of this institution, little known in the United States, is brought out in the following bulletin from the National Geographic society.

"Change the drug store along Main street, at Broadway, or Market street, providing a row of tables and chairs on the sidewalk along their walkway serving these soft drinks and beer, and the 'sidewalk cafe' when weather tables nearby restaurants were serving coffee and hot chocolate to whom ever dropped out of the passing throng and found a vacant seat. The situation would be very superficially like that on the principal thoroughfares of most cities of southern Europe when weather permits. But it could only faintly suggest the original. There is a sidewalk cafe spirit that is part of the life-blood, and even the most faithful copy from the Rue de la Paix would occur out of place in bustling America.

Take Different Form.

"The average American citizen has the acquaintance of the sidewalk cafe in Paris, Rome, or his holiday mood, an Italian and assumes, perhaps, that it is an European first and a Latin second. He is wrong. The type changes with every change of setting. In the Riviera, the land of perpetual holiday, the sidewalk cafe becomes to a considerable extent a terrace or garden cafe, a sort of aristocratic brother of the more democratic institution. But in spite of this, the sidewalk cafe is the usual sidewalk cafe as well.

"In the cities of the sidewalk cafe lives, but in most of them it seems to lead a more timid, tentative existence than in Paris. The outside tables are fewer; more exchanges are made for their drinks. Here one usually fills an other development—half sidewalk cafe, one might call them in some instances, as near the Duomo in Milan or the Corso near the Piazza Colonna in Rome.

From Lisbon to Athens

"Venice and her lagoon still welcome the sidewalk cafe. One finds them at the ends of calligraphic and at times the great Piazza of St. Mark is almost flung by the folds of tables and chairs that, advancing from both sides, almost meet in the center.

"Spain and Portugal, too, know this adjunct of outdoor life. In Seville it blossoms especially in Madrid. In Lisbon along the Avenida scattering waters and only serve customers on the sidewalk, but also cross the roadway in the charming little parked areas in the wide thoroughfares.

"Far toward the other end of the Mediterranean, Athens carries on the old Greek tradition of southern Europe and maintains the sidewalk service of food and drink. There is more to be found the custom followed in Bucharest, capital of Rumania, which in this as in many other respects, recalls the Paris of the Law.

Not Popular in Central Europe

"When you pass northward over the line that divides the Latin countries from those of central Europe, you find behind you the sidewalk cafe as an outstanding institution. In Vienna there are countless coffee houses, but their customers are merely obliged to sit down. There, as in Budapest too, are numerous beer gardens, but the outdoor seating is seldom on sidewalks. So also, throughout Germany, Poland, and the Scandinavian countries, the sidewalk tables are little in evidence.

"Cross the line now back to Latin in France in Belgium, and you find the sidewalk cafe thriving. Brussels, in fact, can almost be said to exist in Paris. There are no doubt lines of tables for long distances along some of the principal streets and the entire fronts of the cafes are toward them.

At Their Best in Paris

"Paris, however, will continue to be the typical home of the sidewalk cafe.

AFRICA YIELDS WEATHER DATA

Uncle Sam's Servants Go to Dark Continent for Information to Aid Observers.

WASHINGTON, 10 (AP)—Men have gone to Africa to hunt big game, and to find out the gold or silver and iron; but W. H. Hoover and T. A. Greely are the first who have gone to that vast continent to search for data to determine the weather in the United States.

"They face four years of exile, in the darkest sections, on the peak of barren Mount Ingham, seven miles from the nearest village of Hotentots and Goums from Ketchikan, the nearest white man's town, and no companion. They are making ready, with the aid of a line of airmail, to press facts to support the theory that variation of sunspot activity controls weather cycles.

Use Special Instruments

Instruments for their work had to be especially designed by Dr. Charles G. Abbott, director of the astrophysical observatory of the Smithsonian Institution, which is cooperating with the Geographic society in the expedition. They were made by Andrew Kramer of the institution's staff.

"When the observers are finally made ready for operation, a year's task in itself, the expedition scientists each morning will mount a reflector which moves automatically and sets the sun of the rising sun, throws a beam upon a small silver disk mounted in a periplometer set in the darkness of the cave. That device will 'catch' the 'per,' or heat, of the 'heli,' or sun, and meanwhile, a heliometer will measure the sun's radiation so to space.

PREACHES PAN-EUROPE AFTER TOURING U. S.

BERLIN, Feb. 10 (AP)—Two concert tours through the United States have convinced Franz Anton Holzman, Polish violinist that the only salvation of Europe lies in the creation of a Pan-European federation.

"You may wonder how a musician and artist can have the nerve to dabble in world politics," he said. "Well, look at the mess which the profession of diplomats and politicians have made. When I see the record of Europe, I am less indifferent about an artist's ability to help save civilization."

Holzman visited the United States for the first time in 1920. Following his second trip, after a concert season in Europe during which he had occasion to observe and compare, Holzman declared:

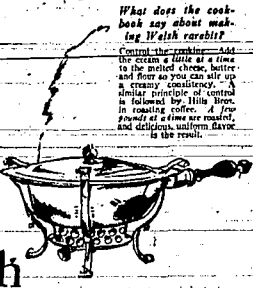

"I am convinced that the secret of America's well-being lies in the fact that its component states are not separated by artificial barriers, but constitute one unified whole. Since then I have been preaching Pan Europe for our continent."

JIGGS DIES IN LINE OF DUTY

Sargeant Major, Mascot of Marine Corps at Quantico, Buried With Ceremonies.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10 (AP)—With an entry showing that he died in line of duty January 11, and was buried at Quantico, Virginia, with appropriate ceremonies, the official record of Sargeant Major Jiggs, United States Marine Corps, has been closed. His record discloses that he applied for enlistment at the marine barracks, Quantico, October 12, 1915, and received the same day as a "private in the United States marine corps, discharged on the date of his death, unless sooner discharged by proper authority. In the formal application, his name appears as "King, Bulwark, mascot of good habits and character," was "by present occupation a mascot," and named Jiggs to accept from the United States such bounty, pay, ration and clothing as are or may be established by law.

Signs Document
The application was witnessed by Captain William T. Choussier, post adjutant, and signed with paw prints in lieu of finger prints. It was sworn to before Samuel D. Decker, brigadier general, commanding general at the station, who also was named as the relative or friend "to be notified in case of emergency." The "personal description," certified to by G. H. White, examining surgeon, credited him with being "free from all bodily defects and mental infirmities," and having "DK brown eyes, white hair, pink complexion; height 5 feet 6 inches; weight 155 pounds; neck circumference 8 inches; various black or dark spots and bowed legs; a private, highly energetic, and a rank or sergeant major, but the duties of a mascot became especially arduous during the Christmas holidays, and, through the kindness and extra bits of food that he was called upon to consume were promptly and cheerfully disposed of, they proved too much for him.

Kimberly Revival Creates Interest

KIMBERLY, Feb. 10 (AP)—The revival meetings at the Christian church during the past two weeks, under direction of Rev. Elliott Hunt and Evangelist Strawn, with special music by the choir and leader, are creating much enthusiasm among the Kimberly people and vicinity. Over 200 members and guests were present on Tuesday evening at the meeting of the Kimberly group of the Methodist church. A lady presented by the women was enjoyed with the several talks on grace work and W. W. Deal of Nampa, minister of Idaho State college, who gave an interesting lecture. Several new members were added to the organization. Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Atkinson of Twin Falls entertained on Friday evening at their home for sixteen of their friends at a 7:30 o'clock dinner party. Plans were laid for a long table and the small ones that were attractive with decorations for Valentine time. Bridge was the diversion after dinner. Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Wilson received high honor scores and Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Spence a unique consolation prize. The girls list from Kimberly included Messrs. and Mesdames Frank Hovey, F. E. Wilson, R. G. Wilson, W. H. Spicer, A. J. Wilson and E. H. Johnson and George Hale of Twin Falls. Mr. and Mrs. Hoy Scott are ill at their home this week suffering with influenza.

Air Mail Costs Are Reduced as Routes Increase

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10 (AP)—The world's greatest system of airways was made available today to the American public for the transmission of mail at a lower cost. Air mail postage to any point in the country hence 10 cents for each one-half ounce of letter or Postmaster General New. Therefore various rates have been in effect and mail transmission over more than one air line required additional postage. Reduction of the rate is expected by postal officials to make the air mail more popular. Service Speeds Up Postal journey through three centuries and into the fourth century has brought about a century in making speed of communication. In the seventeenth century, it was the mail carrier who hauled the first mail between New York and Boston. The mail coach brought into existence the old Boston New York Philadelphia-Baltimore route—the first regular American highway. Railroads were patronized by the postal service from the time the first rail line was built in 1825. It is through the postal service made possible the maintenance of many of the early railroads. The railway postal office was inaugurated in 1904. It was the demand of the postal service that brought the first night trains and the railroad mail cars. The first night trains were followed by fast passenger trains. Since the first American air mail route was established between Washington and New York on May 15, 1918, the postoffice department has been diligent in encouraging and developing commercial aviation. The air mail, in bringing the Atlantic and Pacific coasts within two days and a night of each other, also has been one of the noteworthy achievements in aviation progress. The air mail routes are small routes throughout the country and the system covers 10,252 miles and requires more than 250 airplanes.

MOVIE SIDELIGHTS

Every hostess knows how her living room looks after a party. Obtaining this effect for motion pictures is hard on the property men. In production of "Parade for Two," they had to smoke dozens of cigarettes to get as many huffs into the scene of a finished party as the guests would have smoked. A trick in the wings of yankville theaters has been adopted for motion picture use. It is the box of coin upon which dancers wipe their shoes to prevent a tumble. Being walking on a setting that has waxed several hours, the players pass the sales of their shoes over the resin, thus avoiding slipstick falls in the midst of a dance. More than three-quarters of the states have been visited by film companies in search of outdoor backgrounds. Following are just a few in which studio plays have been made in the past three years: Arizona, Utah, Texas, Missouri, Utah, Wyoming, Montana, Washington, Oregon, Nevada, New Mexico, Florida, New Jersey, all of the New England states, Pennsylvania, Georgia, West Virginia, Kentucky, South Carolina, Kentucky and Tennessee. The desert 28 miles from Seattle, California, is being used for location, not because of its arid wastes but because of the wide Colorado river which flows through it. An African village has been reproduced on the river banks and plateau and a river steamer, capable of carrying 50 or more persons, was constructed on the spot. The setting is for a Sam E. Toft production, "The Notorious Lady." Book is more at home on Broadway. The source of the apparently unlimited number of automobiles, expensive and cheap, that appear on the screen has been found. They are bought. More than 45 individually-owned "rent cars" kept on a special lot just outside of the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayor studio gate. When a car is to be used in a picture, it is obtained from a one-hand driver. Rents for special automobiles with drivers range from $25 to $75 a day. In a forthcoming comedy, Bela Danics has the support of a man who for twelve years was on the stage with Ethelreda. He is Augustus Bergato, an Italian, who plays the proprietor of a Manhattan cafe. Actors and directors are required to forego risky spots while under contract. Director Victor Fleming is forbidden by his contract from doing stunts in the air and can fly only in short pictures. Theatres

"THE OVERLAND STAGE"
Wonderful stories can be written around the romantic events which are filled with the winning of the West and the pushing back every inch of the frontier against perils of Indians, wild beasts, privation and loneliness. Such a story has been written by Marion Jackson and brought to the screen in masterly fashion in "The Overland Stage," now at the Orpheum Theatre. It gives Ken Maynard and greater opportunities for his marvelous riding with Tarzan, the scoundrel horse, Tom Santschi, Sheldon Lewis and lovely Kathleen Collins are in the cast.
KIDDIES SHOW AT IDAHO
Manager Joe K. of the Idaho theater announces that there will be an entire change of program tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock for the regular Saturday morning matinee for kiddies. The program for the afternoon and evening shows will be "The Winning of Barbara Worth," the Hippodell Wright story. For the morning show which consists of 12 reels. The feature will be "The Winning of Barbara Worth," "Lazy Lightning," "Ten Purses of Piperack," a funny two-reel comedy drama, "The Philanderer" and "The King of the Road," two good comedies and the second chapter of "Fighting with Buffalo Bill." No part of the morning program will be shown at the afternoon or evening show.
"THE COWBOY COP"
Tom Tyler has played in many a western picture, but in his latest release, "The Cowboy Cop," at the Idaho theater, he has a role that calls for wearing a mounted policeman's uniform as well as a dress suit—surely an unusual combination for a son of the saguaho. Naturally, evening dress is nothing out of the ordinary for the regular actor, but the old horse is a little bit getting a more uniform that would fit his remarkably assiduous frame. He holds several world records in weight lifting, and has a physique like a Greek god, so that finally it was necessary to have the uniform made to fit him, as there was a place in all Los Angeles that carried anything large enough in the shoulders.
Doesn't Seem Real.
We know of few things more moonstruck than a poster given on the stage.

WHEAT VALUES TREND UPWARD

Scarcity of Offerings Lead to Higher Prices at Chicago; Markets Close Unsettled.

CHICAGO, Feb. 10 (AP)—Scarcity of offerings resulted in price upturn today for wheat. Reaction in sell was accompanied by talk about falling off in primary receipts and by gossip that farm reserves southward are as low as present as they normally are in April 1. When closed unsettled, 5c to 1c higher, corn and oats both showing 3c to 4c advance and provisions unchanged to a rise of 1c.

At first wheat values tended to sag. Selling pressure here, however, soon lessened and buying subsequently developed enough volume to keep the market pointing upward.

This was especially the case in the final half hour when pit speculators who had been previously sellers reversed their position and bought on the whole. Nevertheless, trade lacked volume, and fluctuations were narrow, with pit traders' attention being given today to Washington legislative matters.

Crop Outlook Gets Attention Domestic winter wheat prospects attracted more notice in various quarters than wheat in Indian territory that owing to entire disappearance of snow the wheat crop is now exposed to danger of a sudden freeze. Snow landing outlooks, though, continued to be too early yet for positive opinions on the home crop outlook, but Texas, New York and California crops are 25 per cent, and that the country's winter crop as a whole has a plentiful outlook.

Crop futures were in better general demand than last, influenced by a rise in the cash corn trading bids. Wheat moved close.

Provisions trended upward, sympathizing with an upturn in the value of hogs.

VOLUME OF TRADE FALLS OFF ON N. Y. EXCHANGE

NEW YORK, Feb. 10 (AP)—Speculation in the stock market quieted down considerably today with the industrial group showing the most striking upward movement. A spectacular 11 point jump in Baldwin locomotive, which touched a record high for all time of 180, and then fell back to 177, in participation of an excellent cash offering, was the outstanding individual feature. Total sales, which ran close to 2,000,000 shares yesterday, were shown to be less than 2,000,000 today.

Call money held steady at 4 1/2 percent, despite the falling of silver 1/2 cent in London. The New York Federal reserve discount rate was unchanged at 4 percent, as generally expected in view of the fact that no change had taken place earlier in the day in the Bank of England rate.

United States Steel common fell 1/2 point to 40 1/2, and the steel trust as a whole fell by large decrease of over 100 points in January unfilled orders. Other stocks showed a general decline, with the highest price since 1922, General Motors closing 3/4 lower at 13 1/2.

QUEEN MARIE DISCUSSES PLAN FOR NEW CAPITAL

MADRID, Feb. 10.—(AP.)—Marie in a published interview states that while in the United States she discussed a scheme for building a new capital in place of Barcelona by American enterprise. Her wish is to transfer the capital from Barcelona for aesthetic reasons and in the national interest. She is said to favor Havana in Pennsylvania, the geographical center of the island. The queen declares that Americans are able and willing to realize the project, but would require a lease of land for a determined period to cover expenses but otherwise would impose no obligations.

JUST IDAHO

Comment on Current Conditions in The Gem State By GUY FLENNER

Just Hog!

There is a good market for Idaho hogs, an unimpaired market. Idaho hogs are well informed, offers a market far beyond the output of both Idaho and Utah.

Last year Idaho shipped 14,000 hogs to Utah. Some hog but not moving the market demands.

A speaking concern is Idaho hogs. Idaho hogs this year and says it will pay better than Omaha top prices.

Best points in calling for Idaho hogs. Although feeding and climatic conditions are better in Idaho than in the middle west, the corn belt raises several times more hogs than we do in Idaho if averaged to the farm.

Hogs are not the most pleasing little creatures to have around, but the money looks comfortable.

Idaho products will be successful when it confines itself to the field or animal crops that are in demand in kind of attempting to force markets with a surplus that comes into a heavy national competition having advantageous freight rates over us because of proximity.

We can raise all the hogs we may want to raise, and so fast, but it will not get us as far as raising hogs and so fast.

Idaho cheese. Idaho may have only a junior edge, but it has a senior cheese factory, the largest west of Chicago, manufacturing 25,000,000 pounds of package cheese in 1926, for which over $1,200,000 was paid to the factory.

The plant has a capacity of 75,000 pounds of cheese a day and ships 21 loads of the processed product a month. It gives cheese service to the intermountain, southern and the Pacific coast and also to the Philippines and the Orient.

There has been a comfortable profit for Pocatello in this cheese business $75,000 a year, but that is only a checkered straw in the big classes of over a million a year for southern Idaho.

These has become one of the main vertices of the dairy industry in Idaho. People over the country are eating more cheese per capita than ever, but here and still its use is far behind that of foreign countries. Long have the United States and other traditional cheese-making countries been rolling out of Idaho by the traditional instead of by the export.

Digging. We like to report that Idaho mines produced $52,000,000 last year. Talk in million dollars is a financial detail that is not known when we look at the little old black ledgers. More important, though, than last year's production is that of the years to come. We read of new development in the great Coeur d'Alene district, of expensive expenditures in the Deadwood

Manufacturer of Life!

DR. GUY W. CLARK (above) and Dr. Paul W. Sharp of the University of California, announced that they had succeeded in developing dominant germs of life in the eggs of sea urchins by means of a substance known as acetyne, extracted from blood. The feat was declared to be of far-reaching import.

and Stanford districts, of cyclical financial habits, of producing strikes in the National section of food and other large interests opening Idaho mines for heavy production. We ought to help these men dig into the mines and not ourselves dig into science.

Little Heroines. The telephone girls at Turner who performed such fine duty in connection with an explosion that wrecked a building and took several lives among the heroines of every day life.

We are not at all college-bred, publicans of our adjectival plumage. Telephone company employing them has such faith in Idaho it is carrying out a program involving the expenditure of several millions. When we talk about these girls it ought to be with an unqualified admiration.

In the Good Old Winter Time. The Boise Chamber of Commerce went on record a year or so ago as being opposed to winter sports, which had been asked to aid in to Messall on the ground that Idaho would be

WYOMING MEMORIAL ASKS HOMESTEAD LAW CHANGE

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Feb. 10.—(AP.)—House joint memorial No. 1, asking congress to increase the homestead acreage for grazing lands from 160 to 250 acres, was introduced for passage by the senate committee of the whole Wednesday afternoon. This is one of the few constructive measures that have been introduced in the senate since the passage of the bill before this body, said Senator Charles A. McNary. There is no use in attempting to pass it in and out of the senate house leaving bill unless it suggests some plan whereby the limit can be increased by some emergency.

This is one answer to the influx of the leasing law which would be under a perpetual veto until the inauguration at Washington.

Wonderful Insect World. The insect world represents an unexplored field of life and activity. The number of insect species is greater by far than of the species of all other living creatures combined. Although more than 200,000 have been described, probably twice that number remain to be examined. Virtually all living animals, as well as most plants, supply food for these innumerable hordes.

The advertising in eastern magazines the slightest of winter sports in that state. It did not suffer any increased taxation but did cost a lot of money found dollars.

Winter sports at Ashton and McCall have attracted wide attention to Idaho and would bring more people from the outside if, first, our own folks participated in them to a larger extent and if a sustained effort were made to bring tourists from the outside. These sports, like all other sports, appeal to all classes of sportsmen, giving the attractions, they will continue as far as Idaho as to California. The attractions will be built up in proportion as our own people participate the shows. After we get winter sports started we can cash in on it both winter and summer.

The benefits of the one are reflected in the attractiveness of the other.
