

HALF MILLION SHEEP TO FEED ON IDAHO RANGE

Forest Supervisors, Ending Two-Day Sessions at Boise, Estimate Number of Animals Grazing on Domains.

The Associated Press Boise, March 5.—Forest supervisors, ending their two-day sessions here tonight estimated that 450,000 head of sheep would graze on five national domain lands in southern and central Idaho this season. For the first time of this state, supervisors, with members of the district forestry office, outlined plans for putting the available range to rest, from their headquarters which have made initial requests for grazing permits. During the two days conferences here applications were considered representing 43,000 head of sheep.

Large Area Available

Due to the fact the forestry men will transfer out of big blocks under thousands of acres of grazing lands, thousands more available for grazing. It is the aim of the supervisors to close up these lands and to allow lands to meet the requirements of the sheepmen. "We will take care of all the sheep," R. H. Baldridge, district forester of the Idaho office, said. "If they can make the available range in the best country. This involves tracts from 10 to 100 miles in fully stocked."

Spring Grazing Season Will Open

The spring grazing season will open in about a month, and when the sheep will begin moving to the ranges. Many Sales Reported

Closing out of large sheep companies and big sales of sheep were among other reasons reported for the large number of sales being reported for the sheep. The forestry men hope to be able to fully stock the "Thunder" country region near Nevada, and it was the expectation that some small owners would be willing to take the back range. The average will be about as long as any one wants it, said R. H. Baldridge, supervisor of the Boise forest.

TROUSERS PROBLEM IS LATEST TO CONFRONT WELL-DRESSED WOMEN

PARIS, March 5 (AP)—Trousers continue the latest problem confronting the well-dressed woman in Paris. The question which the snappy dresser is pondering are: Shall they dress in trousers? Or shall they wear the more feminine skirt, and if so, what style? Or do masculine in a woman's era?

Such dressmaking houses as Lanvin, Worth and Paton's women may wear trousers and be right up in the front row of fashion. They offer in many versions a new trouser skirt which has characteristics of both of the former styles. It is a combination of both of the former styles and some skirts but all automatically feminine. It is a skirt with the division on the front, and is a skirt which is a combination of both of the former styles. It is a skirt which is a combination of both of the former styles.

JAIL PROTECTS MAN FROM MOB-VIOLENCE

ALEXANDRIA, Va., March 5 (AP)—Louis Hoertz, a man who has been charged with having committed a murder and has been sentenced to the state penitentiary, is being held in the jail here. Hoertz, 35, is a man who has been identified as being the assassin, and that he had been living with them in their home and that after the murder Hoertz is married and the father of three children.

WOOL SHIPMENTS BEGIN

BRAWLEY, Cal., March 5 (AP)—The beginning of wool shipment from the central valley to markets was announced today with the selection of 100,000 pounds at 23 cents by C. B. Ross. The selection of another 200,000 pounds was made for shipment to Los Angeles. The wool market is expected to be a profitable one for the wool growers of the central valley. It is expected that the wool growers will receive a gain in kind of 117 per cent this year.

PROHIBITION NOT ISSUE, BOURBONS DECIDE AT MEET

Senate Democrats Refuse to Make Pronouncement Following Full and Frank Discussion of Liquor Question.

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, March 5.—After full and frank discussion, senate democrats in a party conference decided today against any pronouncement on the prohibition issue.

"In the very nature of the question it can not be made a party issue," said a statement issued later by Chairman Nicholson of Arkansas, summarizing the results of the conference.

"It is recognized that differences exist in the various states in relation to the liquor question and that these differences respecting prohibition are not to be regarded as partisan in nature."

General Discussion

Senator Smith, the sponsor of the subject was quite general and that while no motion or resolution was acted upon, it seemed to be the unanimous opinion that the party as a whole ought not to create the issue, leaving the question to the democrats of the various states.

Olmas Speaks at Length

Senator Olmas of Virginia addressed the conference at length against making prohibition a party issue. He contended that it was a state question and that it had no place in the national party platform.

The Virginian explained to the conference that although it is a dry and a teetotaler he did not believe in fanaticism or intolerance in dealing with the question. He contended that adoption of either a wet or a dry pronouncement would be certain to lose a large number of states to the party.

Completes Audits Of Cash Accounts

BOISE, March 5 (AP)—Audits of the cash accounts of the department of public welfare and the department of land leases of the land department, were announced today by Byron E. Hyatt, director of public accounts. The department audit shows receipts of $28,872 from July 1, 1925, to February 22, 1926, from the library fund, $11,625 from the prisoners' personal fund, $23,815 from the short factory, $98 from the shoe factory and $4950 from farm produce sales.

Disbursements were $25,170 from the state cash fund, $136 from the library fund, and $19,750 from the prisoners' personal fund.

LOOK FOR FIGHT IN NEW SESSION

Organization of Senate in Seventieth Congress Looks as Highly Interesting Event.

WASHINGTON, March 5 (AP)—A bitter fight looms on the horizon over organization of the senate when the seventieth congress convenes in December.

Strength May Be Even

If Smith and Vard should not be seated, the republicans at the opening of the session would have only 49 senators while the democrats would have 47. The former-labor member, Shipman of Minnesota, who always has voted with the republicans on organization would produce a tie provided Senator Blaine, democrat, South Carolina, does not enter out his threat of voting with the republicans if Smith and Vard are not seated.

Under any conditions, there will be a thin margin and both republican and democratic leaders are already laying the groundwork for the impending fight. The republicans have decided to defer their caucus until President and incumbent senate officials, with the exception of Senator Moses, republican, New Hampshire, president pro tempore, will continue in office until their successors are elected.

Science Discovers Probable Reason For Fruitlessness

NEW YORK, March 5 (AP)—Science, seeking a reason for fruitlessness of orchards in California and Florida, has discovered "a new and astonishing type of flower behavior" involving a "change of sex" of the male flower, according to a report describing five years of research made public today at the New York botanical garden.

Differ From Other Flowers

It found that the flowers of the avocado, unlike any other known flower, are divided into two main groups. In one group the flowers are made in the morning and female in the afternoon and in the other group female in the morning and male in the afternoon.

As this fact was previously unknown growers have unwittingly planted large blocks of similar types together with the result that fertilization was almost impossible.

Malamutes Lose in Race With Reaper In North Country

CIRCLE CITY, Alaska, March 5 (AP)—How two malamute dogs spoil a logging race across the most unhabited section of northern Alaska to summit and for their dying master was revealed here tonight.

The story was related by Glenn Solomon, an Indian who lives on the very unpopulated Black River, 100 miles northwest of Circle City. The dog of his father, a trapper, arrived at his father's lonely cabin early Monday morning. Their feet were cut and bleeding from the long race over the jagged ice and snow. Each bore a note from Feller. The notes, wet and faded, could not be read, but Solomon started out for Feller's camp, feeling that the trapper was ill and needed assistance.

REGION FACING SNOW BLOCKADE

Slides in Southwestern Colorado Bring About Worst Situation in Twenty Years.

DENVER, Colo., March 5 (AP)—Two heavy avalanches will leave here in the morning for a perilous trip over the Rocky mountains to take medical supplies to the mining camps of Silverton and Durango. The two towns have been cut off from the rest of the world by snow storms. The airplanes were damaged by the Denver Post and will take the inhabitants of the two villages the first newspaper they have seen in over two weeks.

Workers Book Safety

Today scores of snow-birds threatening railroad workers who have been off the Silverton to Durango road, were withdrawn to safety zones.

Messages asking for help were received late today from Durango, situated northeast of Silverton. Food supplies there are getting short and there apparently is little or no chance of getting to a railroad point from Silverton.

Men engaged in shoveling snow near Silverton today threatened to strike, when removed from the danger zone they started to walk 20 miles to the Durango train which this afternoon carried supplies to a point six miles from Silverton.

EVANS REQUESTS GRADY TO QUIT KLAN OFFICE

WASHINGTON, March 5 (AP)—Judge Henry A. Grady, who recently announced his retirement as grand dragon of the Ku Klux Klan, in North Carolina, was said today by Dr. Hiram W. The klan's secret fraternal patriotic organization, saw fit to change its state representative in North Carolina, said Mr. Evans, "and when, in my judgment I deem it necessary for the good of the organization I asked for the resignation of Judge Grady as grand dragon in North Carolina."

"All the incidents that have transpired in which the public is interested regarding this resignation of Judge Grady are grand dragons in North Carolina."

MEXICAN ENGINEER LOSES BOMBS THOUGHT TO BE CIVIL WAR AMMUNITION

VERA CRUZ, Mexico, March 5 (AP)—Francisco J. Hernandez, a Mexican engineer who formerly resided in Brownsville, Texas, was killed here yesterday in a shooting affray which arose from a business quarrel. Two Texas associates of Hernandez, R. H. Cooper and Walter Dunn, had just left the anger place when the shooting occurred when the first shots were fired.

Dunn was negotiating to take charge of La Florida, a sugar central as receiver. The federal authorities, knowing there would be opposition from former owners of the property, detailed soldiers to guard Hernandez. Nevertheless, a group of former owners and their friends opened fire, which the soldiers returned. Hernandez and several others were shot in the ensuing fighting.

COOLIDGE URGES REFORESTATION

President Suggests Poor Farm Lands Be Converted Into Forests as Agricultural Aid.

WASHINGTON, March 5 (AP)—A suggestion that the agricultural problem might be solved to some extent if poor farm lands were converted into forests was made today by President Coolidge in a preliminary April 22, 1925 American forest week, and recommending its observance to the governors of the 48 states.

Vast Area of Idle Ground

"Although much progress has been made in public forestry and helpful changes in private industry, we still have a vast aggregate of idle or semi-idle forest land, and another large aggregate of poor farm land that might be profitably grown timber instead of adding to the problem of agricultural overproduction."

"Our forestry forest industry would be stabilized and made permanent. Rural industry would be greatly strengthened and stabilized. Agriculture would find in silviculture a strong ally, providing markets for farm products and for surplus labor. Our farmers themselves contain nearly a third of the wealth—an enormous potential farm asset if handled for continuous timber crop."

The president said he proclaimed the seventh annual observance of forest week, which Canada had decided to celebrate at the same time, in the realization that "in order of our internal problems is of greater moment than the rehabilitation of our forests."

NAVY ASSIGNS SHIPS FOR TRAINING CRUISE

WASHINGTON, March 5 (AP)—Departing from tradition, the navy today assigned two oil burning miners of war to take the Annapolis midshipmen on their annual cruise this summer and eliminated from the usual training route the sweet and grime of coaling ships and stoking furnaces.

The battleships Oklahoma and Nevada will leave with 1200 midshipmen from the naval academy on June 3 for a tour of more than 10,000 miles to the Pacific coast via the Panama canal. The fourth of July will be spent in San Francisco with the return to Annapolis scheduled for August 25. Points of call will be Panama, San Diego, San Francisco and San Pedro, California, Colon, Guantanamo, Cuba. The trip is to give the midshipmen practical experience in seamanship.

Retention of all the strategic advantages of the shift while avoiding abuse not intended by the rules will be accomplished, Chairman E. K. Bootleg Grain Alcohol, Illegally Made From Motor Car Fuel, Floods Fatherland; Authorities Attack Problem.

By The Associated Press. BRITISH MARSHES also have a grain alcohol, illegally distilled from a patented motor car gasoline. Authorities in both countries are considering enlarging the force of liquor agents to suppress this type of bootlegging. Police seized two stills and 5000 gallons of alcohol and arrested two men on charges of manufacturing illegal alcohol. The government in other parts of the country has disclosed that the extraction of alcohol from the motor fuel mix at the liquor industries has grown to be a tremendous loss.

The government itself is fostering the manufacture of a "gasoline" called "gasoline" with the Heavies and Fisher processes of converting soft coal into oil and gasoline are used for commercial production. Monopolists consist of 90 per cent pure alcohol made from potatoes, ether and benzene. It sells for 10 cents a gallon. The government gives a 10 per cent bonus on the production of motor fuel. The distillation and may be compared to the production of alcohol for motor fuel, or 10 per cent of the total crop.

Loupold von Kleist, the new general legal representative for the Hohenzollern family, has had to learn that he can't put the Hohenzollern state over on the officials of the republic. As soon as he assumed office, he had a letterhead printed with the name "Republik von Hohenzollern-Sigmaringen" and the Prussian Royal House. In his first letter to the present Prussian authorities, written on this stationery, he introduced himself as representative of his majesty, the emperor and king. By return mail he received a letter reminding him that the Hohenzollerns had been a revolution in Germany, and that there was neither a Prussian royal house nor an emperor.

Loupold von Kleist was quick to see the point, and the remainder sufficed for him to speak in later communications of the Hohenzollerns and the former emperor and king.

Margaret Kennedy, the dramatist version of whose novel "The Constant Nymph" is being produced on the London stage for the first time, said she got a greater kick out of the publication of her first and comparatively unknown book "The Light in the Evening" than anything she has written since she will write.

Introducing herself to the German public by means of an article, Miss Kennedy said the publication of "The Light in the Evening" in the fall of 1922 fulfilled a dream of 29 years. The book, she said, was written in 1893. "Few critics praised it," she said, "but I got a great deal of satisfaction from the fact that I wanted to write that novel from the time I was a youngster and I succeeded at what seemed to me old age."

"When my literary agent told me William Henckman, the publisher, wanted to see me, I caught the next train to London, bought a new hat and new shoes. Although producers acknowledge a more certain public taste for musical shows, the dramatic offerings in New York state two in succession in which which add forth with the benefit of tunes. The mortality rate among the "hit" offerings is a much lower one in the realm of drama, but not so. Theatres of New York advertised more than 100 new musical comedies last week. The dramas exceeded 100 and the musical comedies and operettas, about 25 per cent were new arrivals or of previous existence. Among the musical shows, 15 per cent were in the same situation.

Women Legislators of Great Britain Are Going to Have Larger 'Boudoir' in Parliament Building or Know Why

LONDON, March 5. (AP)—Women members of parliament are to have their "boudoir" in the house enlarged or know the reason why. They refer to the place as a "dun-geon" because it is dark and gloomy, and they agree that of stimulating their political thoughts has a tendency to make them feel cramped and dull their speech-making aspirations.

There are six women M. P.'s—three labor and three conservatives—although the number are used by five, as the Duchess of Atholl, by virtue of ranking as a minister as indicated in the House of Commons. The largest number of women M. P.'s that had in the house at one time is eight. Officials say it is difficult to give the women additional room as the space at Westminster is much overworked.

Larger quarters are desired because the six members say a great deal of their time is spent at Westminster when parliament is not in session.

Commercial Art Opens Big Field In United States

CHICAGO, March 5. (AP)—Art and business have opened a big field in the United States. Demand is being opened in the most commonplace needs of life, and the manufacturing world calls for artists where once it was content with laborers.

To meet the demand of commerce and good taste in everything that is produced in the United States, America must train commercial artists, in the view of Dean Beaman of the Chicago Art Institute. The school he heads is the largest in the world, with 4000 students, and in a workshop locked up against Lake Michigan behind the spacious galleries of the institute, he is making a model of teaching to some of these students the application of art to such crafts as weaving, the printing trades and pottery and jewelry making.

For a full year students of commercial art are schooled in the history of art, life and cost drawing, composition, lettering, color theory and painting. Then they spend two years specializing in the field they desire to pursue, coming to a study of design, interior decoration or whatever branch they follow within the solid artistic foundation.

The art institute school has made a very small start in the realm of commercial art, and there are very few schools in the country which can supply even this training. Dean Beaman declares: "This explains the paucity of American trained designers at work in the United States. Europe is the present training ground for commercial artists, and its superiority Dean Beaman attributes to sublimity of its art schools by cities and states."

To cope with France, Germany, Holland and other continental nations in training artists for the American business world, Dean Beaman believes the United States must design itself vigorously to the development of art schools.

Familiarity breeds TRUST

Contrary to the old adage, familiarity with some things breeds trust. Advertised products, for instance. The trade-names and firm-names you see regularly in this paper, by reason of their very continuity, kindle familiarity first and then confidence. These are the names that leap to your lips in market-places.

Familiarity of this sort is a thing to be cultivated. The more you know about an advertiser and his wares, the more you are able intelligently to invest the family outlay for the necessities of life. This truth is self-evident.

Read the advertisements in this paper. Read them as carefully as you would read something you had to sign your name to. They will save your shopping time and your shopping dollars. Go into the stores with your mind more than half made up as to what you want and what you will have to pay.

Familiarity with known goods breeds contentment for the unknown. Advertising begets familiarity.

SCHOOL DISTRICT VOTERS TO PASS ON SPECIAL TAX

Elector's of Independent District No. 1 Will Ballot in Twin Falls on Extra 7 Mill Levy Issue Next Tuesday.

Voters of independent district No. 1 in Twin Falls next Tuesday afternoon will be called upon to determine whether they will support an extra seven mill levy on property within the district for the purpose of providing for the maintenance of schools within the district. The levy will be in addition to the regular levy of 1927.

Under an act of the state legislature of 1923 the matter of granting school levies is transferred from the hands of the members of the state board of education to the qualified electors of the district for which the levy is made. Since 1923 when the first special election on this question was held in Twin Falls, the people of that place have sanctioned the additional levy. Prior to legislative action on this matter in 1925, trustees of the school districts of the state were permitted to levy a ten mill tax on property within their district for the purpose of securing funds necessary for maintenance of schools within their district. In the event this ten mill levy was not sufficient, the granting of an additional levy rested in the hands of the state board of education.

Estimated Cost of Operation

The amount of money estimated by the trustees of Twin Falls district to be necessary for properly conducting the schools within its jurisdiction during the year following July 1, 1927 is $199,475. The eight mill levy which the board under existing statutes is permitted to make on property within the district, will raise $61,777.20. If the board were empowered at the election next Tuesday to make an additional assessment of seven mills approximately $66,067.11 of the amount estimated necessary for operation of the schools during the coming year would be secured, provided the trustees levied the entire seven mills. These figures are based upon assessed valuation of the property in the district for the year of 1926 which amounted to the sum of $3,997,518. Total proceeds from an eight mill levy and seven mill special levy would amount to $121,844.31, leaving a balance of $78,012.27 of the $199,475. Cash necessary for operation of the schools, to be furnished from state and county appropriations for schools.

The making of the state constitution, that election, made the residents of the district and must possess one of two qualifications.

First: Voters must be the parents or guardian of at least one child under 21 years of age who resides within the district and must be residents of this district.

Second: If the voter is not qualified under this provision, he or she must be a taxpayer within the district in the name of or wife of such taxpayer.

A piece of poll tax is not a taxpayer within the meaning of the law defining the qualifications of qualified electors.

Hours of the election will be between 7 a. m. and 7 p. m. The day of the election will be Tuesday.

Qualified electors residing within the district north and west of Shoshone street will vote at the Lincoln school building at Sixth street and Second avenue north. Those residing east and south of Shoshone street will vote at the Ricketts school building at Sixth street and Second avenue west.

Steady Progress on Giant Snake River Canyon Span

Twin Falls-Jerome Inter-County Bridge as it will appear when completed... Work has been in progress since last September...

CONSTRUCTION OF THE TWIN FALLS-JEROME INTER-COUNTY BRIDGE SPANNING SNAKE RIVER CANYON AT BLUE LAKES, THREE MILES NORTH OF TWIN FALLS...

There is much that is interesting in the present stages of the work that within the next few months is destined to bring about completion of the highest bridge of its kind in the world...

Uninterrupted progress of construction work is guaranteed by sale of an issue of $550,000 worth of bonds offered by the company early in January...

Bridge builders expect to begin raising steel on the structure about April 1. Forty men now are employed in the work at the bridgesite and the number of workers will be increased to considerable extent when steel work begins.

Actual construction of the big bridge, under direction of L. G. Murray of Portland, has begun last September, and has been continued without interruption since that time.

Great ledges of loose rock at the canyon's brink have been blasted away, and approximately 3000 yards of rock has been excavated for the bridge's anchorages.

Winding-wooden stairways have been constructed for the framework to the canyon floor on either side of the canyon.

All plans for the structure have been drafted by R. M. Murray, bridge engineer, who, while building a rim-to-rim bridge over Snake river canyon near Hansen 12 miles east of Twin Falls, 10 years ago visualized the structure that is to span the great chasm at Blue Lakes.

Franchise for construction of the big-bridge was granted to Mr. Murray by the commissioners of Twin Falls and Jerome counties, and has been assigned by him to the Union Bridge company of Portland and the Puget Sound Bridge and Dredging company of Seattle.

Next Monday, it was stated last evening, will see completion of the extension of the big cable across the canyon. The cable is 2000 feet long, it is two and three-quarters inches in diameter and weighs approximately 29,000 pounds.

TWIN FALLS TRACK AND FIELD MEN TO BEGIN SEASON'S GRIND

Dearth of Veterans Leaves Way Open to Younger Material; Intensive Training to Be Order From Start.

The Twin Falls high school track team begins their season on Monday, March 14, when the many candidates across the season's track will. Intensive training will be the order for the next few weeks. With few veterans to draw from the season's prospects are none the less, but the track and field material in school which the coaches hope to get out. The state meet this year will be held at Pocatello on May 14, and only those showing first or second in the district meets will be eligible to compete. The Twin track has been greatly improved since the last state meet was held three years ago, and it will be in perfect condition for the meet. At the present, the team is in excellent shape and broken and the boys will meet. They hope to repeat this year.

Tommy Loomis as Sprint King

Tommy of Gooding and Smith and Hartman of Pocatello to have a car race on the springing in the district, but the boys still have a wealth of promising material that will develop before the season is over. Among those who will turn out for the district races are Alford, Perrine, Lucas, Owens and several freshmen with possibilities. The first and best this year will offer possibilities for competition as North of Rupert is still eligible and Twin Falls has a number of like candidates. Kenneth, Dietrich, Reynolds, Lakes and Nelson. This should prove one of the feature meets at the district. The boys are planning to feature a mile relay team, which should prove popular in the spring meets, although it is seldom a regular part of inter-school competition. The boys and the mile have Dietrich, Bell and Williams, with a great number of new candidates. Bell was injured last spring and unable to compete, although he made his letter while a freshman. Dietrich lacked the age and stamina required for these distance events.

year ago but this year should find him able to cover the distance in good shape. Williams did well last year and this season should find him a strong contender.

Kelley May Repeat

Kelley, who was the state title in the high hurdles last year, may again compete, although his knee is in bad last fall in football will hinder his pace. The coaches are planning for many candidates for both the low hurdles and the high, as the Bruins have held the district supremacy in these events for the last few years.

Attention Lined to Relays

Attention is being given to relays in the district meets as well. James will be composed of young material. Plans for a number of events are being formulated, and it is hoped that the boys will be able to compete in the district meets. The boys are planning to feature a mile relay team, which should prove popular in the spring meets, although it is seldom a regular part of inter-school competition. The boys and the mile have Dietrich, Bell and Williams, with a great number of new candidates. Bell was injured last spring and unable to compete, although he made his letter while a freshman. Dietrich lacked the age and stamina required for these distance events.

Brins Candidates in All Events

James, Wards and Shipman are leading candidates in the high jump. The Bruins to be seen in the district with ability are planning to come out. James of Gooding last year was the district leader, with Hayley of their part of inter-school competition. The boys and the mile have Dietrich, Bell and Williams, with a great number of new candidates. Bell was injured last spring and unable to compete, although he made his letter while a freshman. Dietrich lacked the age and stamina required for these distance events.

there has been a great deal of improvement. The candidates will probably all try out for this year. Hult of Burley was the leading performer last year, but with his graduation season has the opportunity to qualify. There have been few good job ventures in the district and the coaches are planning to concentrate on this event in the hope that some of ability may develop. The half mile relay went to Gooding last year, chiefly through the excellent performance of the excellent team. There will again be the district relay. The Bruins, however, have an excellent opportunity to qualify in this event as they have several fast men who should give the last man a swift foot lead to beat from Towner. A team of nearly 40 feet last year, with Fine doing his best to win, was taken up by Towner with 6 feet to spare at the finish.

The track season this year should bring out a number of new names in the district meets as well. James will be composed of young material. Plans for a number of events are being formulated, and it is hoped that the boys will be able to compete in the district meets. The boys are planning to feature a mile relay team, which should prove popular in the spring meets, although it is seldom a regular part of inter-school competition. LAWMAKER WEEKDAYS, PREACHES ON SUNDAY

LINCOLN, Neb., March 5 (AP)—All week-long Victor M. Morris attends to his duties as a member of the Nebraska legislature. Each Sunday he goes home to Lexington, Nebraska, and preaches at the Christian church. When the Nebraska representative comes to the house, his colleagues honored what reform measures he might sponsor. He declared that to be a professional reformer was farthest from his thoughts, but he did introduce a measure for motion picture censorship. Morris is the possessor of one of the largest private Greek and Hebrew libraries in the country, and holds that the modernist fundamentalist controversy would advise itself if ever heard. "I have not what the bible says," he declares, "says that food took a zillion and eight women. He didn't do anything of the kind." The original Hebrew translation says that took out a job, or vault, and made women.

TAX COLLECTIONS—LOWER

BOISE, March 5 (AP)—Gas tax valuations on the state's debt gasoline tax amounted to $52,923,844 for January, a decrease from the $53,292,270 collected in January, 1925, the department of motor fuels announced today.

Collections during the month represented the sale of more than 1,740,000 gallons of gasoline. The record was set, passed by the nineteenth legislature, became effective March 1.

Performance such as was never known before now possible in this new

Paige "8" with Two High Speeds

Because of an entirely new Hi-Flex transmission—new principle and in design—this new Paige "8" speeds over the highways at 70 miles per hour with its engine turning over no faster than your present engine does at 50. Paige has accomplished a seemingly paradoxical thing: It has increased car speed by decreasing engine speed.

But in addition to this wholly new silence at high speeds—this new Paige "8" gives you a saving of approximately 30% in gasoline consumption—it gives you much longer life, because of the lessened wear and tear on the engine—it gives you (in third speed) a burst of acceleration rivaling the leap of a scared rabbit—carrying you out and ahead of traffic in an instant, or up over the steepest hills at high speed.

With the matchless safety of its Paige-Hydraulic 4-wheel brakes, this new "8" is one of the safest—as well as the finest performing, swiftest, most luxurious cars built. And it is a beautiful car, too, carrying to even loftier heights the proud distinction Paige enjoys "The Most Beautiful Car in America".

Entirely without obligation—let us demonstrate this remarkable new car—soon.

Build Strength In Place of Weakness

Perhaps you are one of many who are convalescing after a troublesome cold or cough or possibly gripe and find that your strength is at rather low ebb. At such times it is all-important that you be well-nourished, and nothing quite equals pure, emulsified cod-liver oil to help build strength in place of weakness.

SCOTT'S EMULSION OF PURE VITAMIN-TESTED COD-LIVER OIL

is the effective means that thousands use daily to help re-establish health and vigor. Containing as it does a wealth of health-promoting cod-liver oil vitamins it is the very help the weakened body needs. If you are convalescing from a cold, cough, gripe or other respiratory infection—we strongly recommend the regular use of Scott's Emulsion for at least thirty days.

IDAHO POWER COMPANY

WE WANT YOU TO COME TO SOUTH CENTRAL IDAHO

First—

BECAUSE we will welcome you and help you to succeed.

Second—

BECAUSE we have a good climate with an average of 300 days of sunshine each year.

Third—

BECAUSE we have plenty of water; all of this land is watered by the Snake river with two great storage dams to hold back the flood waters. The Jackson dam up near the Yellowstone park and the American Falls dam at American Falls. This assures South Central Idaho of the best water right in the United States without any question of a doubt.

Fourth—

BECAUSE we have 800,000 acres of irrigated lands all under cultivation and all of it laying in one body on both sides of the Snake river and extending from American Falls dam westward to Glenns Ferry, Idaho.

Fifth—

BECAUSE crop failures are unknown—and we produce any of the following crops with yields far above the general average in the United States: Wheat, Corn, Oats, Potatoes, Sugar Beets, Peas, Beans, Alfalfa Hay and Seed, both common and Grimm, Red Clover Hay and Seed, Alsike Clover Seed, White Clover Seed, Apples, Pears, Peaches, Apricots, and all kinds of small fruit and garden truck.

IF you are looking for a change please come and look us over, if you cannot come please write the Chamber of Commerce of any of the following cities:

Twin Falls, Buhl, Filer, Rupert, Jerome, Wendell or Gooding, Idaho

Showing the Twin Falls Country, North and South Side with Snake River dividing the two; also showing the canals watering the land.

We ask any resident of South Central Idaho to read this over and then send the paper to some friends, or if you will send us the name of your friends we will see that they not only get this paper but they will get a complete line of facts regarding Idaho.

Sixth—

BECAUSE our land, water and climate is especially adapted to Dairying. The pasture can be kept green for 9 months each year, as you can water the land any time you wish. We average 5 tons of alfalfa hay to the acre and feed is cheap. There are 15 to 20 creameries, two cheese factories, one condensed milk factory and one casein factory already here.

Seventh—

BECAUSE we have first class schools with fine school buildings and the country schools have both the common schools and centralized high schools. Your child need not leave the country home to get a complete High School education, as South Central Idaho was the original pioneer in transporting children to school by means of wagons or motor busses.

Eighth—

BECAUSE we have all church and fraternal organizations and they are all established with fine homes.

Ninth—

BECAUSE we have good first class farm lands with a good water right for from $75 to $300 per acre, which can be bought on easy terms.

Tenth—

BECAUSE the people of South Central Idaho are a religious, educated, industrious and refined people.

Agriculture as a Life Work

Being the Fourth of a Series of Timely Articles by ROGER W. BABSON

HABSON (Continued). The March 5 special in "The News" brought Mr. Babson's continued discussion of agriculture and the opportunities it offers to young men.

After farmers are to plant, where and how much other people are going to have to do in addition to what the farmer does.

Importance of Farming. Agriculture is the basis of both life and property. Not only without agriculture would we starve, but agriculture is the most important economic method of creating wealth.

The farmer is the one who produces the food that we eat. He is the one who produces the raw materials that we use in our homes and in our industries.

Moreover, we are all dependent upon the farmer for our food and for the raw materials that we use in our homes and in our industries.

It is the farmer who produces the food that we eat. He is the one who produces the raw materials that we use in our homes and in our industries.

Best Farming Opportunities. Statistics show that the best farming opportunities today are either in market gardens, just outside large cities, supplying legumes, lettuce, cabbage, etc., milk, cream, chickens, eggs, potatoes, etc., or else in great tracts of land where wheat, corn, potatoes, etc. are raised in very large quantities with machines and labor.

Both of these kinds of farming require executive ability, market knowledge and considerable capital. Both groups of farmers stand a chance of making a good profit by the increasing value of the land. The market garden farmer's land should be near enough to be sold for house lots as the city grows; while the big operator will have land purchased very cheaply which must increase in value by the mere improvements made.

Truth About Farming. There have been those who have said that farming offered the best opportunity to a certain class of young men, when land was cheap in the west, and farmers were able to profit greatly by the increase in land values which was sure to come. Farming offered real opportunities. Farming still offers some opportunities for men with proper physique, sufficient capital and proper business ideas. But now, however, the "boom" is off, and I strongly hesitate advising young men to purchase or to start on a new farm. Enough land has been taken for agriculture in the United States and Canada for the immediate present.

The supply of many farm products exceeds the demand for them today. There is no profit in raising cattle, the margin of profit in raising wheat and corn is very small, while in most agricultural lines the competition is exceedingly strong.

It is hard enough to be obliged to compete with all others in an industry, but in addition a farmer must also compete with the weather. A farmer must not only guess as to what and how much to plant, where and how much other people are going to have to do in addition to what the farmer does. He must also guess as to what and how much to plant, where and how much other people are going to have to do in addition to what the farmer does.

has a business where such an ideal life is possible. Those who wish to have a hand in "winning things" but are not thoroughly trained and able to make farming a real business should either confine themselves to bank-savings, guard against few loans or else be content to invest in some of the standard companies. For instance, it is far to raise enough credit for some one's business; but don't attempt to do so unless you are ready to go into it scientifically and make it your sole business. You had better buy stock in the United Fruit Company or one of the other established concerns which are operating scientifically and making a real business of raising and marketing fruit. Along such companies will be organized during the next few years as independent growers of citrus fruits, apples, melons, peaches, etc., especially as men find that you need a side line is likely to be a luxury rather than an investment.

Gradually the raising of wheat, corn, potatoes, etc., will be consolidated into big companies as has the raising of sugar, rubber or tobacco. Until such a time comes one will probably be far better off to invest his money in securities of the Cuban-American Sugar Company or the International Rubber Company. I feel that the best future is in connection with raising dairy products. Milk, cream, butter and cheese are the safest things to raise, and they have the most ready market. Along such companies will be organized during the next few years as independent growers of citrus fruits, apples, melons, peaches, etc., especially as men find that you need a side line is likely to be a luxury rather than an investment.

PONS-WINNECKE COMET SEEN FOR FIRST TIME

(CHICAGO), March 5.—Faint streaks of the famous Pons-Winnecke comet which is expected to appear within 1,000,000 miles of the earth next June, made their first appearance here last night.

Astronomers at the Yerkes observatory of the University of Chicago, at Williams Bay, Wisconsin, identified dim spots on photographic plates made through a 24-inch telescope as the first faint traces of the comet, long on a journey that will bring it closer to the earth than any other solar performer.

ITALIANS EXPERIMENT WITH SPEED AIRPLANE

ROME, March 5.—Application to aviation of the principles used in the building of "Patria" by the long-range "Big Bertha" of the Germans is being studied by a group of the most prominent aeronautical engineers in Italy. They hope to evolve an entirely new type of airplane of unprecedented speed. They think it is even possible for it to fly from Rome to Buenos Aires in 10 hours.

SEARCH FOR SWINDLER ENDS IN KANSAS CITY

KANSAS CITY, March 5.—A four-year search in which Alfred Bell, 35, stock promoter, was trailed 10,000 miles by his alleged victim in a stock scheme, culminated here yesterday in Bell's arrest. Ben C. Wyld charged that he bought $200,000 worth of stock in a company of which Bell was president. This later proved worthless, Wyld said.

Today's Ford Car

Before you buy any make of automobile, let us show you Today's Ford Car

You may consider that you know the Ford Car. You may have been a Ford owner for years and think you are familiar with the splendid satisfaction which the Ford gives, and yet unless you have made it a point to examine the Ford Car as it is BUILT TODAY—to drive it and note its improved engine performance—relax in it over rough roads, and experience the increased comfort which it affords, and to learn of the many recent improvements, you do not know the Ford Car as it is built today.

Many of the New Ford features are obvious—liloon tires, equipment—wire wheels—pyroxolin finish—a choice of colors—improved upholstery, etc., but the big satisfaction to you, as the owner of Today's Ford Car is to be found in the way in which it will fulfill your expectations of what a modern motor car should be. You will be amazed at the increased power resulting from the new Vaporizer, the smoother engine operation, the increased gasoline mileage, the improved riding qualities, and above all, in the way in which this car handles and performs in traffic and on the open road.

In short, you must drive a new Ford car to be a fair judge of present-day motor car values.

We invite your inspection of Today's Ford Cars.

NEWS OF THE DAY AS CAUGHT BY THE CAMERA

(International Newsreel)

PLEADS — Aimee Semple McPherson, Los Angeles evangelist, was photographed as she pleaded with a New York audience to abandon the sinfulness of the wicked city.

(International Newsreel)

(International Newsreel)

VEGETABLE ROUQUET—When Dr. Louis Estes, of Chicago, a vegetarian advocate, arrived in Washington, Dr. Esta Laurette Moran presented him with a bouquet of fresh vegetables.

CZAR'S LETTERS SHOW DISTRUST

Missives Found in Wardrobe of Late Emperor's Mother Reveal Attitude of Ruler.

MOSCOW, March 5 (AP)—No letters of the late Emperor Nicholas have as yet been discovered that are so frank and self-revealing in their contents as those written in 1905, found the other day in a wardrobe of his mother, the Empress Dowager Maria, of Leningrad, addressed to the dowager empress.

In some respects they differ entirely from the accepted view that Nicholas was hopelessly reactionary and opposed every diminution of his autocratic power.

He apologized to one of those for having at the behest of Count Witte signed a manifesto which violated his autocratic power and gave the Russian people constitutional liberties for the first time in their existence.

Forced to Act

Nicholas wrote: "I had no alternative than to give what was demanded of me from the whole of Russia, even among those whom I could only find one loyal friend, and that was Trepoff, minister of war. We are in a complete state of revolution and the chief danger is that the administration of the country is completely disorganized."

In another letter, written preceding the 1905 rebellion, he said:

"We are passing through terrible times. I have no consolation with which to write from daylight to darkness. Every day we have had to adopt one of two methods—either appoint energetic ministers and to suppress a revolt or to grant the people a constitution. By force of arms we could certainly crush the revolt for a time, but it would flare up again within a few months and we would again be obliged to resort to force, which would cost us rivers of blood. The other alternative is to give the population civil rights, freedom of speech, liberty of the press, inviolability of person, right of movement and unions. All Russia asked me this, and I had no alternative but to give it. I make the sign of the cross, and ask God's blessing for Russia."

A third letter contains plentiful comments concerning Count Witte's personality.

"I must have faith in Witte. I am sure you can do everything possible to facilitate his difficult task and not that his blessing for Russia."

A certain disappointment in him. He is now prepared to bring and send a new set such a man whom he is so changeable as the wind, and without confidence in him, with the possible exception of foreign Hebrews."

Guard the Thoughts.

Gentlemen Rum Runners Driven From Trade Off South Atlantic Coast by Dangerous Criminals; Changes Noted

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., March 5 (AP)—The gentleman rum runner no longer picks his trade along the South Atlantic coast. He refuses to associate with the underworld's raffish.

So states W. W. Eyster, assistant chief director of the United States immigration service, in whose opinion the history of the rum runner in this section is the transition of a band of men who considered themselves "gentlemen adventurers" into an army of cutthroats whose sole interest in any low law is profit which may come through infraction.

"When the immigration border patrol was first organized in Florida and I came here, we got some of our most valuable assistance in capturing alien smugglers from men known to be in the liquor trade, although it could not be definitely established.

Personal Rights Advocates

"More than half of them, I found, were good fellows, who honestly believed a man was within his inherent rights in importing liquor.

"But handle a cargo of alcohol and you are along with their whiskey should stay with."

"Not only that, if they knew of a fellow in the trade who had, as they put it, 'broken away into actual criminality,' we had directions for catching him with the next boat. They had the idea that if dope and aliens were involved, but they are specializing American goods who carry away fragmentary bits of charcoal sticks lying on the ground.

Rock Image of Ute War Chief Stands In National Park

DENVER, March 5 (AP)—Arrowhead, Ute war chief, sits brooding today in stony solitude high in Rocky Mountain National park, because civilization's advance has left but one of the Indian stone columns left from a crowd of hundreds of rock images symbolizing Ute legends.

In other days the chief's warriors fashioned arrowheads from his sides in the likeness of his stone image. They were good luck weapons of victory, a legendary guidepost of wisdom coming from the Great Spirit after Chief Arrowhead had "spotted" for the "happy hunting grounds" of the Cree.

Instead of his tribunes, other legends today greet the spirit of Arrowhead, but they are specializing American goods who carry away fragmentary bits of charcoal sticks lying on the ground.

The national park service at Washington is confronted with the problem of blating away the base of the rock image to make a road of sufficient width for cars to pass one another without precipitating the Indian rock column to oblivion in the canyon below. Already sentiment is crystallizing against damage to or removal of the rock image.

French Feminists Methods Antique, Says Mlle. Weiss

PARIS, March 5 (AP)—French women today are working for suffrage in the same way their mothers practiced philanthropy and their grandmothers charity, with lack of professional experience, says Mlle. Louise Weiss, editor-in-chief of L'Europe Nouvelle (The New Europe) week-end international weekly.

"But if I could get 10 women who like myself are heavily taxed to go on strike, I wager we would get the vote in three months," the woman editor adds.

However, I don't yet see the other side in sight, so I'm just watching the suffrage question closely, waiting for the moment to take my part."

Mlle. Weiss was not really convinced about suffrage, she confided, until she saw what it had done in the United States.

"When we French women call our politicians to ask for the vote they like our hands most gallantly and promise us the moon, she says. "Over there I saw the League of Women Voters at work. When they call on a senator he doesn't kiss hands. He scratches his head, mopes, and says, 'I'll do my best to get something about this or I'll lose a lot of constituents.'"

Women suffrage will not come in France for five or six years if it comes then, in Mlle. Weiss' opinion, but that time she estimates there should

JEROME COUNTY BOARD EMPLOYS COUNTY AGENT

JEROME, March 5.—At a meeting of the board of county commissioners last Friday, says the North Side News, a resolution was passed committing the county to the employment of a county agent in conjunction with the extension division of the state university. By this arrangement the county will receive to apply on agent's salary $1200 per year. Under one school a man can be secured at $2100 a year, serving about 1000 acres of land by the county. Under another plan the cost would be $2400 a year, the county receiving the same quantity of land. In addition it will be necessary for the county to either purchase an automobile for the agent, or if he should furnish his own car, to agree upon reimbursing him for the use.

As a result of the necessary expenditure for seed exhibition, the News continues, the county has had to look to considerable expense, part of which, at least would be unnecessary were a county agent employed. In view of the fact that this fight on weeds must be conducted with vigor and the substantial cooperation of the state and federal government, the commissioners decided upon the plan adopted.

Ahead in Refinements As in Smooth Performance

See the Hupmobile Eight today, if you would know the greater value made possible by the world's largest straight-eight production.

Augmented in beauty and luxurious appointments, refined mechanically, this Eight alone explains the new and growing interest in multiple cylinder cars.

Especially to those accustomed to paying more for purely individual appearance, the striking lines of Hupmobile Eight closed models will have instant appeal.

Wheels are smaller and the roomy bodies lower; graceful, compact lines have been attained without sacrifice of passenger comfort; equipment features inside and out reflect the highest standards of custom-built cars.

To distinguished beauty is added new ease and perfection of control. All dials are grouped on a single plate under glass and indirectly lighted. An improved head control is operated from the dash. Headlight switch is located at top of steering wheel.

When you examine the many new features of the latest series Hupmobile Eight, when you add to them the superiority of Hupmobile smoothness, performance and low maintenance cost, you will realize why thousands are turning to this car as the final expression of motoring luxury.

POOR SPELLING MAY SHUT DOOR TO STATESMAN

Literary Qualifications of Aristide Briand Said Insufficient to Obtain for Him Place Among 40 Immortals.

(By The Associated Press.)

PARIS, March 5.—Poor spelling may keep Aristide Briand out of the Academie Française, composed of 40 "immortals," all supposedly literary. The foreign minister is said to have cast sheep's eyes at a seat in the famous society but he has not announced his candidacy.

Briand has formed more governments than any other man in France but hostile critics say he wouldn't last very long in a spelling book. They refer to a 30 word note he wrote in which were two misspelled words and an error of syntax. The note, one of congratulation to a friend, is reproduced photographically in one periodical as proof of his contention that "classical" qualifications are insufficient for fame as a man of letters.

Briand started life as a lawyer but turned to politics early. Whether his oratorical performances are real or faked, they attract the greater attention because of his presence in the cabinet of Premier Poincaré. They have very little in common. "Gnomes" is credited with a phrase often cited, that runs:

"The final knows nothing but understands everything." Patrons know everything but understands nothing." The Tiger's claws are sharp.

French families that have few or no children are getting thoroughly tired of being told that it is their duty to have large broods.

"Set the example," one of the fathers' and mothers' representative replies to a recent bill of population propaganda, much of it fit for school boys, old maids and rich persons with few descendants.

Charles Richet, eminent authority on medicine and an investigator of things psychic, is the latest to stir the small family people. As the father of seven he qualified to speak.

"Naturally," says Richet, "is the only important problem for us to solve."

Prizes for large families in France, it is remarked, almost invariably go to poor persons. "It's the large family that keeps them poor," comments one critic.

In any case, whether France needs more children for industry or for the army, it is evident from statistics that the cry for "more children" hasn't had much influence.

The French men and women, say those who purport to speak for the martinetted public, won't have children unless they know there is going to be bread for them and they find life is too hard just now. Others feel that the modern idea is that children are a burden.

Dancing landscapes, the dizzy visual reactions of a gentleman with too much fire-water aboard, are presented to the audience at one of the "modern" theatres here.

Some of the most modern and important moving pictures that have been shown in such manner that the audience is not allowed to see right to the other. The large window through which a village is seen, is tilted to the same degree, as is the village back of it.

The effect starts and amuses the spectators and gives something of the rocking sensation experienced when a motion picture aboard a swaying airplane is reproduced.

Those by wireless is warning the French because of their peculiar label laws.

The government has been asked to define the rights of those who think they have been unjustly treated by broadcasters and the government found new legislation is needed.

A person who is libeled or even mentioned in a newspaper or other periodical has "the right to reply." He is entitled to give his side of the case in his own language, in the same place in the paper and at the same length as the offending broadcast. He can even abandon his privilege of greater length by paying advertising rates for the additional phraseology.

good in wireless because the Herodian leaves weren't discovered when the French law was made.

Paris is worried about its antiquated public libraries and the public's decreasing use of them.

Statistics show that fewer and fewer go to the city's bookshelves each year and for a long time sport, the movies and wireless were blamed. A thorough investigation showed the libraries were behind the times.

There are 83 libraries but most of them are open only two hours each evening and are in charge of persons who get less than common honors for the time they put in. The card catalog system is not in general use and readers soon tire of searching for books they want. Certain libraries also specialize so that the resources of each place are quite limited.

So far there has been no suggestion of combining the many inadequate libraries into one, or into a few, well-equipped institutions where the general reader or the student might find what he wished.

Color and Action Found in Markets Of Southern Seas

LAPELETTE, Tahiti, March 5 (AP)—Sunday is the big market day to Papeete. Then the part of trade reflects most fully the flaming colors of the South Seas, particularly if on the Saturday preceding a mail ship has arrived in port.

Attractive half-caste Tahitian girls are to be seen in their gaily colored but simple dresses while they wear with the chic of the Parisienne. They are dancers of grace in limb and movement with their high heeled shoes, and here and there a floating flower entwined in the tresses, wavy black hair piled high upon the head.

Travel at Night

The natives arrive from the country bringing fresh fruits during the late afternoon and night, arrange their stock and go to sleep in units spread in some adjacent building. Just before 5 o'clock the Chinese truck gardeners appear with their baskets of freshly cleaned vegetables, their own native fisherman with strings of glistening fresh fish caught during the night. Last of all come the men with fresh meats—and the market opens for the day.

The dancers stand out colorfully as the buying begins, the patrons having come in motor cars, more in rigs and a large number on bicycles. Cool morning the women wear brightly embroidered cool Chinese slacks.

MEMORIAL TO BARD OF AVON

Old Buildings to Give Way to New Shakespeare Theatre; Festival to Open in April.

STRATFORD-ON-AVON, England, March 5 (AP)—Shakespeare's birthplace has recognized a proposed new memorial to the bard as the keynote for town planning.

When the new Shakespeare Memorial theatre is erected, many old buildings will be torn away to provide a more harmonious setting. This it will command a better view and more attractive entrance through Bancroft Gardens than did the old theatre ruin of five last spring.

Shakespeare's birthday festival will open on April 13 and continue until May 14. The regular summer festival will begin July 11 and continue till September 11.

Paul Telford, New York architect, will cooperate as a judge with two British architects in passing upon plans for the new theatre, which will be submitted in competition by British and American draftsmen.

Plan Lasting Monument

Both the Corporation of Stratford and the Great Western railway have cooperated with the governors of the memorial theatre in plans to erect a monument to the famous dramatist and retain the Elizabethan atmosphere of the town. More than 10,000 visitors from all over the world come to Stratford-on-Avon last year. A new hotel is under consideration. It is proposed to be a low building in harmony with the seventh century surroundings and probably will be built about a great court after the manner of many hotels in southern California.

Dame Ellen Terry always attends the festivals in the Shakespeare Memorial theatre and her recovery from a recent illness has given joy to the village, which hopes to entertain her again at its spring festival in April.

In her acting days Dame Ellen played the seventh century surroundings and probably will be built about a great court after the manner of many hotels in southern California.

Worries About Comstock

VISIBLE INFLATION OF CURRENCY IS POSSIBLE

WASHINGTON, March 5 (AP)—The treasury has some startling examples of "inflated" and "deflated" currency.

In the redemption division is one bill which was "deflated" to nearly half its regular size when accidentally dropped into dye. Another was "inflated" about 30 per cent in size when it passed through heavy rollers in a mill.

Fireworks Rout Roosting Birds

READING, Pa., March 5 (AP)—A nightly routine candle barrage to rout thousands of stragglers from their roosting place on the steeple of Christ Episcopal church is under way here.

Firemen swinging from ropes outside the steeple set off the fireworks, while other firemen inside the steeple are armed with buckets of water to put out any fires that may develop.

The frightened birds fly screaming from the browns-tower in such numbers as to momentarily obscure a large electric sign on the tower.

The starrings come every year, defacing the church, postoffice and neighboring buildings. Previous efforts to drive them away from residential sections by firecrackers and boiling tars were proved ineffective. This year only half the starrings returned after the first night of roman candles. The church vestrymen say the campaign will be continued until the birds are vanquished.

The Reading Humane society protested against the barrage as cruel, but a check showed only five dead birds. None of these was burned, but had broken their necks flying against buildings in the dark. The humane society called in Earl Paulk, ornithologist and painter of birds, but he declared the starrings were a nuisance to other birds.

VETERAN COMMANDER SOLE POST MEMBER

INTERLAKEN, N. Y., March 5 (AP)—The boy who wanted to be captain, lieutenant and all the other officers of "the gang" grew up to be John E. Ryan of Covert, near here. At 91 Ryan is commander and sole surviving member of the William E. Avery post, G. A. R., and the last civil-war veteran in his township.

Ryan is also one of the ten surviving members of the 26th New York volunteer regiment band which played at Robert E. Lee and his 27,000 men in gray, tenant of the confederate army, surrendered at Appomattox Court House, Virginia. The other bandman is Nyle Burden, of Charles town, West Virginia, a close friend of Ryan.

The covert veteran became commander and sole member of the Avery post when the only other survivor, Lyman B. Walton of Illinois, died in December. Mr. Ryan, despite his advanced age, attended the centennial festival, took over the duties of officer, and has devoted much of his time since to honoring comrades who have died.

TAFT BANISHES GLOOM FROM COURT CHAMBERS

WASHINGTON, March 5 (AP)—The ancient tradition of solemnity in the supreme court has been dispelled.

With the coming of William Howard Taft as chief justice, his infectious chuckle forecasting a hearty laugh, the gloom of the room has disappeared, and in its place is an expectancy of good humor. His irrepressible and his associates who have "a similar inclination, and the most serious arguments of counsel now are frequently interrupted by laughter caused by some remark from the bench.

One lawyer, trying recently to impress the court with the weight of his learning, several times inadvertently addressed the gowned justices as "gentlemen." Then heeding aware of his error he humbly apologized, expressing hope that their "honors" would excuse him. The chief justice quietly smiled him an apology, but not necessary, explaining that the members of the court claimed to be gentlemen.

Another attorney with a large voice accustomed to filling the wide spaces of the open west, was ranting and ranting at the counsel table, not more than four feet from the bench of the supreme court. He seemed to interpret the frowns upon the faces of the justices as a mark of deep thought. Finally Chief Justice Taft leaned over the bench and in his most affable way admonished the lawyer that it is possible to speak in such a loud voice that we cannot understand you.

Expressing his regret the lawyer resumed in a modulated voice, but soon was again in full swing. The court realized that it was a hopeless situation and sank into the high-backed chairs, impatiently watching the clock. When his time was up and he was required to stop, a deep sigh of relief escaped from the bench.

MODERN POET ISSUES SPECIFIED PRICE LIST

PARIS, March 5 (AP)—Poets are turning businessmen.

Albert Robert Mouton, a provincial versifier, has a score of pieces and addresses it. He writes in order for readings, lectures and any special occasion. All his verse is "guaranteed original, unpublished and meritorious."

For a summer he asks 25 francs for 300 lines of poetry, a franc a couplet may be had for 25 francs and an ode for 30 francs.

The positive confidence the poet says he has a "poet's diploma" and has been buying for 25 years.

Talking Rock

The origin of the name of Talking rock in Pickens county, Georgia, is as follows: A rock was found with the words "Turn me over" painted on, on the other side was painted "Now turn me back, and let me fool somebody else."

Cornstalks May Now Be Used for Making of Paper

AMES, Iowa, March 5 (AP)—Cornbelt farmers may soon be able to turn their cornstalks into money.

After corn is made from the stalks, but this knowledge has done the corn grower no good because there has been no way found to harvest the stalks in quantities large enough to justify their substitution for wood pulp by the paper factories.

Now E. V. Collins, professor of agricultural engineering at Iowa State college, has devised a machine which, he believes will do the work. It snags the stalk off at the root, separates the chucked corn into one region and puts the stalk, after shredding it for baling, into another.

Three experimental machines are to be built this season by an Albert City, Iowa, harvester company and another company is conferring with the designer.

Manufacture of paper from cornstalks can be accomplished at an advantage over manufacture from wood pulp. Professor J. B. Davidson of Iowa State asserts, if the stalks can be harvested cheaply in quantities and taken economically to manufacturing points. Other machines devised for harvesting the stalks have either been too expensive or have cut the stalks too fine for baling.

LAKE VESSELS LOCKED IN ICE

Crews Quit Fourteen Ships of Fleet Caught in Straits Between Huron and Superior.

SARLETT ST. MARIE, Michigan, March 5.—An ice-locked fleet of fourteen steel ships was deserted, swarming spring, in the lower channels of the great straits which connect Lake Superior and Lake Huron.

Crews of steam tugs rushed in early winter to the ice block, but St. Mary's river to release 137 lake freighters. The blockade of ships was a million dollars, and temporarily increased the population of "the Straits" by some two thousand colliers.

But while the tugs were freeing the steamers locked in the St. Mary's, the lower channel was blocked, and the crews of the coast guard cutter there have deserted and scattered, leaving their vessels solid in the grip of winter.

Stems Threaten Ships

Storms which have lashed Lake Superior, especially this winter have meant delay of freighters, prevention of protection of a solid formation in the ice, and threatened to make derails of several of the forest vessels on the lakes. The City of Bangor, an iron ore steamer, which was jammed off Keweenaw peninsula, was beaten, lighted, recently because waves forced her from her lock. The cargo of 140 motor cars was salvaged and driven eight miles across the ice to Copper Harbor, Michigan, on the lake this winter, although taking two days, and a number of cars were damaged.

an unusually graceful pose, although the Kaiser's figure is somewhat that of the weaker ages.

Due to lack of a steady, nourishing diet, however, the natives are unable to work with the vigor of the white man. Their low wages, therefore, do not result in much, if any, saving for the ship owners when compared with the higher pay given stronger and more efficient workers at other coaling ports.

Coaling of steamers is not the only important part taken by women in the coaling operations of the Virgin Islands. Many are employed as domestics by the white residents, others work as laundresses, and some find employment as the servants of more prosperous natives. A number provide support for the men of their families.

Proud Wife Calls Bluff of Husband

RICHMOND, Va., March 5.—(Special to The News.)—Honorable John Custis filed at the age of 74, but "fired" only seven years.

Here is his own word for it, as taken from the "epithet" he ordered placed upon his tombstone.

Aged 71 years and lived by seven years, which was the space of time he kept bachelor's house at Arlington on the eastern shore of Virginia.

Honorable John Custis was an ancestor of John Parks Custis, first husband of Martha Washington, later the wife of George Washington. Many stories are told of Honorable John and one of them was he did not get along very well with his wife.

On one occasion, he formally invited the lady to go riding. She accepted his offer, but with every courtesy to the carriage and then headed for Chesapeake bay. There he continued to drive until the horses were knee deep in water.

"Where are you going, Mr. Custis?" his wife asked without turning her head, "I'm opposing the first conversation of the day."

"To hell, Madam!"

"Getty on, Mr. Custis."

With this, Honorable John acknowledged he had been outthrottled and turned the team homeward.

ATTENDS 392 MEETINGS THINKS HE'S CHAMPION

PITTSBURGH, March 5.—(Special to The News.)—A new brand of championship is claimed by M. J. Bradford of this city. He has a record of attending 392 meetings of all kinds in 1926, and is striving to better it this year.

Mr. Bradford, who is 70 years old, conducts a real estate business between meetings. He is active in religious, civic, and commercial organizations. His biggest meeting day was when he attended 17th church meetings in one afternoon and three civic meetings that evening.

LAKE VESSELS LOCKED IN ICE

Crews Quit Fourteen Ships of Fleet Caught in Straits Be- tween Huron and Superior?

SAULTE ST. MARIE, Michigan, March 5—An ice-locked fleet of four thousand ships has deserted, awaiting spring in the lower channels of the great Straits which connect Lake Superior and Lake Huron.

Crews of steam ships rushed in early winter to the ice-locked St. Mary's River channel. In late December, the blockade cost ship owners half a million dollars, and temporarily increased the population of "the Soo" by some two thousand sailors.

But while the bugs were passing the steamers locked in the St. Mary's, the lower channel was ice-locked, and the crews of the vessels outside there have deserted and scattered, leaving their craft sold in the grip of winter.

Storm Threatens Shipyards

Storms which have lashed Lake Superior repeatedly this winter have menaced direct freight and passenger protection of a solid formation of ice, and threatened to make these belts of cover unsafe. First vessels on the lake were driven off by a tempest, which went against off Keweenaw peninsula, was hostile lightning, recently because waves have been from the beach. The cargo of 140 motor cars was salvaged and driven eight miles across the ice to Copper Harbor, where they were this winter, although taking five days have insurance claims on the cars.

The trip of freight and passenger boats on the Superior since for three days, interrupted by passing waves from food and supplies at the stranded vessel. A passing coast guard cutter, hearing the crew of an other wrecked ship, sighted the crew and carried it to safety.
