MASAGUN, April 6 (AP)—Reporting further on his drive against the liberal forces in the interior of Nicaragua, General Viquez, conservative commander, today notified the conservative government that his forces had captured a range of high hills between Tierra Azul and Matigues, virtually overlooking and surrounding the liberal general, Masagun, and his retreat forces.

The present position of General Masagun and his supporting troops was described as dangerous since, if he is forced back further he scarcely will be able to sustain since the country in his rear is waterless and virtually a desert or jungle wasteland.

Evolution Question Stirs Delegates to Church Conference

INDEPENDENCE, Mo., April 6 (AP)—Prospect of a clash over evolution caused a temporary rift among delegates at the general conference of the reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints here today.

The evolution question flared up in connection with General John L. Lamoni, Iowa, the church's school, but was dropped after brief discussion. Alvin Knutley, missionary from Canada, said that the school had reached him "concerning the teaching of the Darwinian theory of evolution in Grandland college."

"If they tell their pupils about it as a theory only, I have no particular objection," he said, "but if they are teaching that it is a fact, I will think a long time before sending my children there to school."

ENDORSES BEAN CROP ACREAGE

Department of Agriculture Says Moderate Increase in Production Justified.

Some further moderate increase in production of Great Northern beans, which are grown in Idaho, Montana and Wyoming is justified this season by the present general situation, according to the United States department of agriculture which says in the current number of its publication, "Crops and Markets."

"Present intentions of farmers are to reduce the acreage of beans about 15 per cent for the country as a whole. Reductions of 20 per cent are indicated for the principal bean and red kidney producing states of Michigan and New York; 18 per cent for plants in Colorado, and an average of 10 per cent for all states in California. These reductions seem to be warranted by the fact that during the past two years the average of beans was large enough to produce, with average yields and average quality, several million bushels above domestic requirements."

In the state of Idaho, Montana and Wyoming, where beans of the Great Northern type are produced, farmers plan to increase the acreage by 2 per cent to 15 per cent. The production of beans of this type has been increasing rapidly during the last few years and the general situation, including the supply of this type on hand, justifies some further moderate increase.

Bulgin, was sounded at the tabernacle service last evening. A vote cast at 7 p. m. on the north wall of the structure in its extension 10 feet.

It was stated, it is necessary to accommodate big crowds when the revival campaign enters its third week next Sunday. About 1000 persons were turned away last Sunday evening after the building was filled to the limit of its capacity, it was stated.

The tabernacle was closed last evening before an audience of nearly 1500 persons in the tabernacle, Dr. Bulgin marshaled arguments in support of immortality, coming before the immortality of the human soul.

Hit Sunday Show Vote

He took confidence in preliminary runoffs of the vote cast here Tuesday in favor of Sunday afternoon performance and motion picture shows, declaring that Twin Falls had "made its mark" backward move by throwing open its arms to Sabbath desecration.

There are 2000 church members, he declared, "and not enough to prevent Twin Falls being branded as a town that has throughout the length and breadth of the land, as a vote open town."

"Don't get discouraged, though," he emphasized. "Keep a stiff upper lip and keep your powder dry. We will have a big revival and save this town, and then there will be another day coming."

The musical program last evening included singing of "When the Veil is Lifted Away," by a quartet composed of Mrs. I. H. Masters, Mrs. F. S. Bell, Edgar W. Gibson and Charles B. Clark.

Dr. Bulgin's sermon subject for this evening will be "The Philosophy of Faith." He will discuss the question: "Is there a Hell?"

Basin for Belief

Immortality always has been and always will be the biggest question a man can put to his soul, the evangelist declared at the onset of his sermon last evening. He based his argument for his belief in immortality on six points:

Natural law demands immortality. Death is an illusion and an absurdity if there is no immortality. Reason says there must be immortality. Life here is inadequate; hence there must be immortality.

Immortality is demanded by the phenomena of spiritualism. A universal desire says there is immortality. A common-sense belief says there is immortality. It is asserted.

"I believe in that—you don't." "Which has the better right to live, my belief or your disbelief? You can't prove there is no God; neither can you prove there is an immortality." "Science says there may be a future life," the philosopher says; "but the revelation says there is a future life."

Southern Vets Attend Annual Entertainment

TAMPA, Fla., April 6 (AP)—An all night entertainment attempt upon the opening session, worked off an afternoon meeting that ran largely to refresh shaking talks and jokes choked with emotions wrought of 10000000 years, tonight reverted to the days of gallant youth as the members of the United Confederate Veterans attended the grand ball of the Sons of Confederate Veterans.

The affectionate session, devoted to getting business affairs out of the way with all possible dispatch, went with ordered smoothness.

Hardware Store Is Sold to Duluth Man

Sale of the stock and fixtures of the Young Hardware company, 139 Main avenue west to the Berg Hardware company of Duluth, Minnesota, was announced Wednesday by W. J. Young, who has owned and operated the concern since its establishment here in 1917. John Berg of Duluth has acquired Twin Falls and will take immediate possession of the concern. The deal involved approximately $10,000. Mr. Young has not yet announced his intentions for the future.

The new concern will be known as the Berg Hardware company, and will move during the first part of May to quarters now occupied by the Variety Shop at 151 Main avenue east in the Rogerson hotel building.

The Sampson Music company of Twin Falls will occupy the present quarters of the Berg Hardware company, the latter concern moves to new quarters in the hands of Heron Lammer, director of band in the Ogden high school, who for three years held one of the most coveted positions in the great State's band. Lammer's organization on June 4, 1926, was awarded third place in a national contest for high school bands which was held in Pottville, Okla. He and his organization is to be accompanied by Mark Robinson, supervisor of music in the Ogden schools, and members from their homes to those who they will appear on the program at the Idaho district convention of Rotary clubs which opens today.

The program last night opened with Chamber's march "Instruments." So well was this number played that the company had little difficulty in holding the close attention of the audience during the rest of its program. "Maximilian Belespere," by Rossini came next and was received enthusiastically. Wilford Yeman in a "Romance," sold "Haven on the Farm," accompanied by the entire band scored a distinct triumph and the audience voiced its approval of his performance in an unceasing chorus of applause.

The program was a well planned and well executed one, and was given next and immediately before the five minute intermission "El Capitán," by Sousa was played.

Following the intermission Luigi's ballet "Egyptian" was given and this was followed by a suite for military bands from Sigurd Jorsalfar by Greg. "Lilmore's" "Lasso" "Trunk" was the outstanding number during the first half of the concert and was the signal for the grand finale "Stars and Stripes Forever," by Sousa.

Members of the band accompanied by Mr. Lammer and Mr. Robinson will leave at 6:30 o'clock this morning for Boise in the two 25-passenger Gray Line passenger coaches in which

NEEDS MONEY TO KEEP UP ESTATE

Receiver of Frank Triguero Property Asks Court to Authorize Making of Loan.

In order to obtain a loan of $10,000 for operation of the business and farm of the late Frank Triguero during the next three months, J. H. Barker, Jr., receiver of the estate, will apply to the district court here next Saturday for a court order.

The receiver's affidavit and notice of motion were filed in district court Wednesday by Attorney A. C. Chapman, attorney.

The estate, valued at more than $100,000, is one about which a legal battle has been waged since Triguero's death a little more than a year ago. It was transferred to him a few days before his death to Antonio Guerrero, defendant, his former partner. On behalf of relatives of the dead man, H. A. De Neal, Jr., administrator, brought suit against Guerrero claiming the Neal's verdict favored the former partner, and the administrator has appealed to the state supreme court.

The receiver in his affidavit states

IDAHO MINES IN HEALTHY STATE

Value of Mineral Production Slightly Lower Than Previous Year; Lead Output Greater.

BOISE, April 6 (AP)—Idaho produced $22,292,947 worth of gold, silver, lead, zinc and copper in 1926, a decrease of 10.5 per cent from the value of the 1925 production. Silver and copper both show some increase, announced the Federal geological survey, but production was less than in 1925. Lead and zinc output was increased, but production in Idaho and Utah counties regarded as particularly significant, as both counties increased their outputs 100 per cent.

Production figures for 1926 announced by Mr. Campbell were: Gold, 1,574 ounces; silver, 7,222,881 ounces; lead, 282,307,542 pounds; zinc, 3,992,422 pounds; copper, 1,281,237 pounds.

Does Not Reflect Situation

The slight decrease in total value and output of the iron situation, Mr. Campbell said, "was there was a large increase in the amount of lead produced, but its total value was less because lead sold at a lower price than in 1925. There was a decided decrease in the output of gold, silver and copper, which, coupled with the increase in the price of silver and copper, resulted in a total value which was less for those metals than in 1925. The increase was offset by a substantial increase in the amount of zinc produced, so the total for the year was approximately that of 1925."

Bacteriologist Advises Inoculation of Leguminous Crops for Best Results

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO, MODOCOW, April 6.—The mistake of under-estimating the value of inoculating leguminous crops is emphasized by G. I. Noble, university expert in soil bacteriology.

"Many growers, who possess fairly good soil, are not inoculating their crops with the proper bacteria to produce a good crop and not remove nitrogen from the soil. The culture will greatly increase the yield of leguminous crops and the cost of inoculation is so small that it should be done in all cases of doubt."

Followers for the inoculation of leguminous crops are advised to contact the biology department of the Idaho experiment station. "The department is equipped to handle a large number of orders this season, as last year more than 15,000 acres of culture was sent to Idaho farmers."

The experiment station prepares its own cultures and ships them at the correct age for best results. Bacteria inoculating sufficient culture to inoculate seed for three acres are sold at Idaho University for 25 cents each, postage prepaid, which amounts to 25 cents an acre. The cost of the bacteria is negligible.

POTATO MARKET MAKES ADVANCE

Weekly Review of Federal News Service Indicates Rise of About 5 Cents Per Day.

IDAHO FALLS, April 6.—The potato market at Idaho shipping points continued to make a moderate but steady advance in prices last week, with an active demand and slightly increased loadings, according to the weekly review issued on Monday by the Idaho office of the federal market service. Starting with the opening price range of $2.05 to $2.15 per hundred for Idaho cars of warehouse grade, U. S. No. 1 Russets, the cash track market advanced regularly about a nickel a day, bringing Saturday's closing quotations to $2.50 to $2.55 and a few sales at $2.60. No. 2 stock followed the same scale, maintaining the dollar spread under No. 7. From $1.10 per hundred to $1.20, the price advanced steadily to $1.25 at the close of the week. Demand has been active for the lower grades, as well as for No. 1 Russets, and available supplies have hardly been sufficient to meet the orders.

Heavy Shipments
Shipments from all the main crop areas were heavy at the end of the week, the United States movement amounting to 918 cars on Saturday, and bringing the average for the week up to 759 cars per day. Of the Saturday shipments, Idaho contributed 97 cars. But the attitude on the market seems to be that the heavier the shipments, the sooner Russets will become scarce, and the market was strong on Monday, with loadings of No. 1 Russets selling on track at $2.10 to $2.20 per hundredweight.

The earlier movement of potatoes from Idaho for the week totaled 524 cars, an average of 73 per day, compared with 420 cars of the preceding week and 633 during the corresponding week a year ago. Of the 524 cars shipped last week, 110 were destined to California markets, 87 cars going south and 25 west to the northern districts. Arrivals from Idaho on the Chicago market totaled 125 cars during the week. The volume of Idaho Russets handled in Chicago this season affords a striking example of their increased distribution throughout the United States. Two years ago the average Chicago receipts were about five cars per day and when they increased to eight per day, the market was oversupplied. But during the present season, the daily arrivals from Chicago have averaged around 16 cars per day, and have for the most part met with good demand. Shipments from the state this season have been reported to all states, and of the eight per eastern states to which shipments have not been reported, it is probable that some have been received. Recognitions of Russets from the midwestern carlot markets.

Idaho Ships 16,000 Cars
The total Idaho shipments for the season reached the 16,000 car mark the first of April, compared with 17,500 a year ago. Shipments during March of this year were only 211 cars compared with 2411 during the same month of 1926. After April first of last year, 2,500 cars were shipped, but there are few of the local dealers who place the remaining shipments this year at more than 100 cars. This indicates that the supplies will clean up earlier than usual, especially as there is but little disposition on the part of either growers or dealers to hold for a late market. It is expected that shipments will continue steadily until the maximum of the crop is completed.

The crop of early potatoes is coming up with steadily increasing volume, of the United States shipments of 700 cars per day of the first week, the new stock from Florida and Texas average 73 cars daily. Total shipments of new potatoes this season to date are 853 cars, compared with only 21 cars last year and 641 two years ago on the same date. The price on the new stock has declined rather gradually in the preceding months, and at the opening of the present week, Texas Triumphs were being sold to jobbers in midwestern markets at $2.25 to $2.50 per hundredweight, compared with carlot sales of Idaho Russets at $3 to $3.25 per hundredweight.

FAVOR DOUBLE STANDARD FOR PAYERS OF ALIMONY

SACRAMENTO, Cal., April 6.—California legislators favor the double standard for alimony payers. Painting Facts Every Home Owner Should Know

The small amount saved in the purchase of "cheap paint" is offset by the additional labor of applying it and by the greater quantity used. Furthermore, ordinary paint gives only short-lived protection. The first cost of paint should be the last consideration!

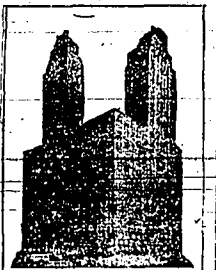

PURE PREPARED and PHOENIX PURE PAINTS actually reduce labor costs because they are so much easier to apply and because a given quantity goes so much further. They contain the purest white lead, the best zinc oxide and the finest grade of linseed oil.

If you are planning a large or important painting job, consult a Master Painter. And, in any event, insist on Fuller products. Thus you will be assured of lasting beauty and protection—thus you will achieve true economy!

EXPORT DEMAND BOOSTS WHEAT

Market Closes Firm at Approximately 1-Cent Gain; Corn and Oats Trend Higher.

CHICAGO, April 6 (AP)—Big export business from North America together with unexpected upturn in quotations for Liverpool led to higher prices today for wheat. The market closed firm at 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 net gain, corn at 1 1/2 up, oats showing 1/2 to 3/4 rise, and provisions ending from 1/4 to 1/2 on an equal advance.

It was estimated that today's purchases of North American wheat fully 1,200,000 bushels, largely Canadian, but also a good deal from this country. Accompanying the broader export demand and the unbroken display of strength in wheat at Liverpool, was talk that both were associated with anxiety regarding developments in the European situation.

Scarc Receipts—Scantiness of primary receipts of wheat, especially southwest, combined also as an incentive to buy and so hoards did not hesitate to bid changes in the domestic crop outlook would necessarily favor the holder. Twin Falls Youth Describes Interesting Old World Scenes

Haward Barrett, Son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Barrett, Gives Viewpoint of Student in "University Afant"; S. S. Rydman Cruise Provides for Many Side Trips With Unique Opportunities for Observation and Study in Foreign Lands.

(Editorial Note—Twin Falls is represented on board the cruise by Miss Patricia Wynne. The cruise is now nearing an end and will conclude with the arrival of the "Hydant" at New York some time in May, after an absence of almost a year. Nearly every country and the old world will have been visited.)

On board, S. S. Rydman, Lisbon to La Havre, March 10, 1927, University Afant.

This letter will be a continuation of the last one I mailed you from Aden Arabia, which gave account of this novel university up in that time. Since then many interesting things have happened, and much good time has fallen to my lot. Aden is the principal town of the southern coast of Arabia. The town itself has in what is probably the most volcanic crater, surrounded by precipitous cliffs on three sides and the Indian ocean and the Red sea on the fourth. The volcano itself is unproductive, in fact it is entirely barren save for the few oases that are scattered over the sand dunes.

During our stop in Aden we were taken by special train to an inland city, Lahej. This city is thoroughly Arabian and no white man lives there has ever lived there. Strange to say we were the second intrusion by white men. The first one was by a regiment of British soldiers who marched into the city on business of His Majesty. It was the first time the natives had seen a white man and when the regiment returned to Aden they left three of their party dead. It was very easy to believe because as we alighted from the cattle train, we were told not to leave the station platform and wander off alone.

The situation was easy to understand, as hundreds of the natives find the gates, each man carrying a bow and Arabian dagger. Even the little children played with them, and a scratch to their face was the same as a life-hump to us. It was very interesting to see from behind a wall. A few minutes later and we were escorted in a group to the Sultan's palace, where we had the pleasure of meeting him and learning a little more of this unique village.

Upon returning to Aden that afternoon, we sailed for Port Said, Egypt. Suez is the southernmost entrance to the Red sea and Port Said is the northernmost entrance. However we did not take the journey through the canal as we left our boat at Suez and took a special train for a four day stop at Cairo, Egypt, which is nearly 30 miles inland. The trip was unusually interesting. Arriving there late in the evening we were taken to an accommodation during our four day stop at the hotel "Hippodrome," which is a palace in itself. The next morning we were driven to the Obelisk, a solid tower of granite, overlooking some 30 feet in the air. It was built in the reign of the twelfth dynasty which would be some 2000 years B. C. On each side of this tower were written and carved, the Egyptian hieroglyphs in the form of colored pictures and characters. On our return we were taken to the Mosque of Mohammed Ali which is the Manger was located, it is now surrounded by the Church of St. Nativity. There is one thing that I was disappointed in Jerusalem, and that is the amount of office work that seems to radiate from his being. Whether this particular "one man government" is a success or not, it certainly has a right to be such an attempt. And queer to say, every country in Europe wants it. It does not. It certainly is not a failure.

One thing I noticed particularly in Italy was that during all personal contact with Italian students, I noticed that—though—advised—great—enough—policies and the fascist movement is strong amongst them.

During our two days stay at Monaco we spent our time in the most fashionable Monte Carlo, while others went to Nice and viewed the great Monte Carlo Grand Prix which is held at this time. The Grand Prix was claimed to have been the best this year, and the battle of horses which I saw would certainly have had to be a masterpiece to have competed with all reports. The city of Nice itself is very fashionable and very beautiful. None of us succeeded in breaking the bank at Monte Carlo at least I haven't as yet heard of it.

Spain and Portugal are two countries that I would give a lot to go back to. In Spain we visited the famous Alhambra, the Alhambra of Cordova. It was a most wonderful thing to see so many things have come before me that I can't do in a line of comparison any longer. In Portugal we stopped at Lisbon for a day and everywhere we could see effects and results of the recent revolution. When I saw a man living there that the revolution was the most active one they have witnessed.

We are now on our way to La Havre and are slated to arrive there March 15. It is the port of Paris, and after spending a week with my mother and father, I shall try to forward an additional letter to you containing this trip.

Yours respectfully,
G. H. BARRETT.

Among the other places visited were the national museum of Egypt, and it was there that we saw many of the old and precious things found in the tomb of King Tut-Ankh-Amon. Pottery, and other glass bowls, gilded armor, precious jewels, etc.

The trip to Jerusalem was very interesting. On the way we were pointed out numerous points of Biblical history. For instance, Mt. Pateral, Mt. Precipitation, the Church of Annunciation in which Mary received the glad tidings of the Angel. In Nazareth we visited Joseph's Carpenter Shop in which Jesus was supposed to have spent the early part of his life.

The longest historical attraction is, however, the wall, or rather the walls, as the third wall has just been uncovered in recent excavations. The first wall was built in the twelfth century. The second was built by the Philistines and the third wall was built by Herod the Great.

Another attraction was Solomon's Quarry. The quarry is in reality an artificial cave, from which the stones were extracted. The quarry is so deep, the stone is a pure white limestone. The opening was found only 20 years ago, and since then thousands of tourists have trodden in it. It is also a great gathering place for pilgrims. Masons who have a space carved off in the larger wall and in which they hold their meetings. Many Masonic conventions are held out of the rock, by the keeper who lives and guards the quarry.

We spent one day in Bethlehem which is only seven miles from the walled city. There, we found the spot
