CIVILIAN Fliers STILL ALTOFT IN TRY FOR RECORD

Weary Aviators Going Strong
After More Than 37 Hours in Air; World Endurance Mark
Is Flight Objective.

(By The Associated Press)

MINEOLA, N. Y., April 13.—Bert Acosta and Clarence D. Chamberlin, civilian pilots set a new American record tonight in their attempted 60-hour flight for the world's endurance record. At 0:35 a. m. today they passed the previous American mark of 38 hours, 4 minutes and 14.2 seconds.

At 10:44 p. m. in the "Globe" had broken the duration record of a plane refueled in flight, made at San Diego, California, in 1923 by two army officers, Lieutenant Smith and Richter, who stayed aloft 37 hours, 25 minutes, and 14.2 seconds.

MINEOLA, N. Y., April 13.—Two weary aviators half a mile above the earth, having thrown spans of the earth to save fuel, were today watching the slow tickin away of the hours on the plane cabin clock, bring them closer and closer to their desired end in an endurance record of 36 hours.

Bert Acosta, the automobile man who turned civilian air pilot, and his light-hearted companion, Clarence D. Chamberlin, passed their thirtieth hour "going strong," and motors purring perfectly, amid the roar of their own famous bath tub party.

Once today they drapped a note, saying they were taking "cat naps" when they could, and after noon the two men, "one of whom is a pilot for the New York Evening Post," who yelled his queries through the roaring air from another plane, which drew alongside the Bellanca monoplane.

Acosta, resting for the time being while Chamberlin slept, pointed his hand outside the cabin and when words failed to carry, stuck hands with himself to indicate "all was well."

In contrast to the clear weather conditions yesterday, when the plane soared gracefully through a sky of perfect blue, the weather today was gray and drizzling.

Plenty of Fuel Left.

One hundred and seventy gallons of gasoline were left in the tank at their last report...and the fliers indicated they would pass every rest stop without trouble.

At 9:35 p. m. the fliers were to pass

PLACES BAN ON GRAIN CONCERN

J. Ogden Armour and Associates in Company Discuss Action of Board of Trade.

CHICAGO, April 13 (AP)—J. Ogden Armour, retired president of the American Grain company, went into conference today with his associates over the affairs of the grain exchange, which has been suspended from participation in the Board of Trade, effective Saturday. At the close of the conference it was announced no statement would be issued at this time.

Suspension orders were issued last night by directors of the board, acting on a resolution to form a special committee. The report declared that testimony before it "clearly showed wrong acts" by persons not members of the board. The report also forecast a trial by the board of officers of the company who may be accountable for the board.

Armours Heavily Interested.

Mr. Armour and his nephews, V. D. Armour and Lawrence Armour, are heavily interested in the grain company.

The grain company is represented in the board membership by two of its active executives, John Kellogg, president, and George Saunders, vice president. Mr. Ogden Armour, who has retained his seat on the board of late, has not been active in the management of the grain company. He turned over active affairs a number of years ago to George E. Marcy, who later became president. Marcy has since sold his seat.

Although no authoritative statement was issued today, the Daily News quoted the Armours as saying after a morning conference:

"This decision has come in a manner that makes our course of action quite different. We have been mulling it over this morning, and we have not arrived at a decision. We are going to do something, of course, but just what may be the best thing to do has not been agreed."

Manager of Festival Seeks Unbowed Girls
For Pageant Ballet

Rose Carnival Officials Comb
City of Portland for 20 Maids
With Flowing Tresses.

PORLTAND, Ore., April 13 (AP)—Practically every girl in the city, in dancing, in the pageant "Rose" is proving difficult for H. M. White, manager of the Rose festival.

White has had his assistants and all the dancing instructors searching the city for a week with little success.

In addition to 20 long-haired girls, 250 others will dance in the pageant which is to be presented here in June.

BURLEY SEEKING AIR MAIL PORT

Leon Cuddabach, Pilot on Boise-Salt Lake Route, Talks to Commerce Chamber Members

DEATH TOLL IN TEXAS STORM MAY REACH 100

opened up the first direct communication.

The first message was from Assistant Adjutant General Nichols, who asked whether troopers or national guardsmen were needed. General Nichols said he would be guided by Associate Press reports of the disaster in determining whether to move state troops.

Bank Lobby Is Morgue

The lobby of the First State Bank, off Main Street, which were were converted into a morgue. The Edwards County Wood and Metal company's building, however, was not damaged. A body was taken to Camp Wood, 12 miles away, where a movie theatre was converted into a hospital.

Frank Radostoff, San Antonio, eye witness to the destruction, reported the general cause of the fire was a short circuit in a switchboard of the telephone company between Boise and Salt Lake City.

"It is believed that the telephone lines between Boise and Salt Lake City are broken, and that the phones fly over Burley daily, at times finding gasoline."

Members of the chamber have asked that we find regularly, and the speaker, "whether we could glad to do so."

"It is necessary as would permission from the insurance department before we could gather more, providing there is time enough to stop it."

The spot used for temporary landing, he declared, could be made available if ideal landing places could not be found.

All other members of the chamber, he said, are making municipal air ports, which are free to anyone in the art.

"They have no mail service,"

he said, "but are supporting it enough

so that they are an asset to the community."

Speaking of the service Burley could offer in the event a port is secured,

Mr. Cuddabach said the cost of airplane would be about $10,000.

"Change the next morning," he decided, "by night letter telegram."

The planes used he explained, are small, high-powered ones and are able to get in and out of small fields.

"It would be best out with an eye to the future when finding planes will be negative longer landing spaces."

The present planes used are not suitable for passengers but passenger service will be brought up later as contractors can afford to expand to answer to a member's request.

"That the United States department of commerce might fight the field if one is established in Burley, is possible," said the pilot, "if it is properly laid out, since the government is enabled to spend money for emergency use."

"One hundred and fifty to two hundred thousand dollars a month is the amount of money that has already been invested," Burley designated as a pick-up station.

Following Pilot Cuddabach, Mr.

Seeds described in detail how an ideal landing field could be laid out by ex-americans.

"The idea is to lay out a field

so that you will get an ideal landing field, but you will never get one if you get no field."

Mr. Cuddabach was unable to give an estimate of the cost of securing and equipping a field for a pick-up station and a committee was appointed to go into this phase of the matter.

DAUER'S BILL'S TIES

Twin Falls people have recently been urging the legislature to prohibit several kinds of them.

The package is delivered on the United States mail and contains three meat needles. A man named Fannie Bill who lives in St. Louis claims to be blind, is the proposed sender.

One sympathies with this blind man and is inclined to apply the energy displayed by him in an effort to make whether Bill actually makes the ties or whether he is the fitly presented by the tie makers.

OPTICIANS TO ASSEMBLE HERE

Idaho State Association of Optometrists to Hold Twentieth Annual Convention Here.

One hundred members of the Idaho State Association of Optometrists and experts from other Twin Falls meetings for the bi-annual annual convention of the organization, it was announced here Wednesday night by Dr. Robert A. Parratt of Twin Falls, president of the association. The announcement followed a meeting of members of the profession here Wednesday afternoon.

Convention sessions will open here following registration Monday morning, May 6, and probably will continue into Tuesday evening. Invitations have been forwarded to several of the leading optometrists of the United States to attend the meeting here, but replies had not been received. Later Wednesday evening, however, it was expected that the leaders of the meeting here would be among the most prominent specialists of the profession.

An annual election of officers will take place during the meeting, and most of the members of the association are expected to attend the gathering here. Committee will be appointed before the end of the week to take charge of the arrangements, it was announced.

Beware — of the Just as good

WHEN you want Conoco Motor Oil for motor lubrication be sure that you get it. Beware of the unnamed, unbranded "just-as-good" which is a good profit-maker for the seller but which is apt to prove most costly to the unsuspecting motorist who buys it.

Let a reliable Conoco dealer or Conoco service station attendant drain your crankcase. Then you will be sure of getting genuine Conoco—the tested motor oil.

Conoco protects every moving part with its fine lubricating film. It is clean—full bodied—thoroughly tested. There's a grade for your type of motor.
