GRIDSTERS GET HARD WORKOUT

Football Candidates for Next Year's Bruin Team Are Put Through Stiff Scrimmage.

Hard scrimmages was the order of the day for the spring football squad on Lincoln field yesterday afternoon, and several were nursing bruises before Coach Platino called a halt. The unusual amount of time spent on preliminary work is beginning to make itself evident, and the greenest rookie is handling the ball in good style. What they lack in technique they make up for in enthusiasm, and the scrimmage scores of good old fall weather. Johnny Maxwell, who gave promise of unusual ability at end of last fall until his feet went bad—is out again this year, and going stronger than ever. His feet have been strengthened by systematic exercise, and apparently they are able to take considerable pounding.

Show Well in Scrimmage

Others who are showing up in the scrimmages are Guy Frazier, Laurence Seiber, Robert Downing, and Red Vance, brother of the Bruins' husky captain. Each night brings some new name to prominence and the prospects for an exceptional spring lineup next fall are good.

If the results of scrub practice warrant it, Coach Platino has planned to arrange a complete schedule for the Bruin squad during next fall, playing games at home when the regulars are away and vice versa.

PLASTINO AND JONES MANAGERS FOR BRUINS

FAIL AGAIN IN EFFORT

SACRAMENTO, Cal., April 28 (AP)—California for the seventh consecutive time in the past 14 years defeated an effort to write into the divorce laws of the state a provision that hearable marital is grounds for divorce. The measure, passed by the assembly, was killed on the floor of the senate. The chief argument against it was that it would violate the sanctity of marriage, and that it would revolutionize the code by making a cause for divorce something for which the individual is not responsible.

BRUINS IN TOP FORM FOR MEET

Light Work-Tops Off Grind-in Preparation for Sub-District Event Here Next Saturday.

The Bruin track squad took things pretty easy last evening, at Lincoln field, in preparation for the coming meet Saturday. All the sprinters, however, worked on starting and finishing but were not allowed to go the full route. Batsman, passing by members of the relay teams has improved materially, and they are developing a smoothness that should cut their time considerably.

Spectators were impressed with the seriousness with which the Bruins worked on their appointed tasks, and the determination is of any cause the relay teams will certainly give a good account of themselves in every event at the meet Saturday. Shipman, who has entered in the 400 yard dash, surprised some of the sprinters by winning a heat in the 200 yard dash from such distinguished performers as Kelly and Lucas. Shipman ran wide open the whole distance and covered it in a trifle under 24 seconds. He will push Knight and Blee in the 400 yard dash if he comes through he may be given a chance in the mile relay.

True Improves in Form

True, senior sprinter, warmed to his task and covered the century in 10.4. With more experience in starting True will make a dangerous sprinter, and should give a good account of himself this week. Heilly Martin, freshman weight-lifter is improving rapidly in the shot, and will be crowding in with the seniors and Heilly Martin, freshman first place soon. Williams and Sullivan have slumped some in the discus, but should be in form again by Saturday. Nye, who was off last week is improving, and may be depended upon to place.

The whole squad is on their toes and anxious for competition which will be amply furnished if reports of remarkable performances at other schools are to be believed. The actual line a day off today and will not report for practice. The coaches are taking advantage of this lull to take in the sub-district meet at Gooding, in which the famous Tonic will participate.

Claim Shepherd's $15,000 Estate for Mother in France

On behalf of Marie Uhalde, Guastalbe, resident of France, suit was filed in district court here Thursday to set aside a judgment rendered last September which awarded the estate of her son, Ernest Uhalde, valued at $15,000, to D. F. Sweet, Twin Falls' wool grower by whom Uhalde had been employed for many years. The suit was instituted by H. R. Orant, successor to T. C. Bacon, resigned, administrator of the Uhalde estate, and D. F. Sweet is named as defendant.

Uhalde's mother, according to affidavit filed by E. A. Walters, attorney for the administrator, did not learn of her son's death here in March, 1924, until after his estate had been awarded to his employer.

Relative's Fight For Big Estate to Go to High Court

Relatives of the late Frank Taylor, Castleton stockman, will carry to the state supreme court their fight for the $15,000 estate that is claimed by Maurice Gueriachbarria, one time foreman for Triguero. This was announced by attorneys for H. A. De-anne, administrator, after Judge W. C. Babcock in district court, here Thursday denied the administrator's motion for new trial in the action brought by the administrator against Gueriachbarria to require probate of the Triguero estate. Judgment in district court here from which the administrator will appeal, confirmed Gueriachbarria's claim to the estate.

Gueriachbarria's claim to the estate is based on deeds, bills of sale and other instruments that were executed by Triguero the night before he died. The administrator's motion for new trial was based on alleged irregularities on the part of jurors during the trial and claim of error in certain instructions given to the jury by the court.

Surviving relatives of Triguero are a brother and nephew in California, and a maiden sister in the Azores Islands. J. W. Porter and J. W. Taylor, Twin Falls, are attorneys for the administrator.

SET GOAL FOR COMPENSATION OF EVANGELIST

Revival Campaign Workers Out to Make Substantial Manifestation of Appreciation of Dr. Bulglin's Efforts.

In connection with closing meetings of a five weeks' revival campaign in the tabernacle here next week, the workers are planning to "do something big" in a substantial way for Dr. E. J. Bulglin, under whose leadership the revival has been conducted. It was announced last evening, churches participating in the campaign will give up their regular services to assist in the closing of the campaign Sunday at the tabernacle, and the collection taken during the day will go to Dr. Bulglin as his only financial reward for his work here, it was stated.

With that this measure of appreciation might reach the sum of $5000 was expressed by Rev. A. G. Pearson, pastor of the Presbyterian church, who at the tabernacle last evening announced the plan of compensating the evangelist. Mr. Pearson was called upon to make the announcement by W. A. Patrick, who previously had been introduced by Charles B. Clark, musical director of the evangelistic party, as chairman of a committee of 50 men that had been formed Wednesday evening to take charge of this matter.

Dr. Bulglin, Mr. Pearson said, is a "home missionary for us ministers, carrying the message for us to quarters that we cannot reach and where we might not be understood."

Practical Hebrew Lesson
Dr. Bulglin, speaking on the question, "Was Moses Scientific?" before an audience of about 1400 persons at the tabernacle last evening, gave an emphatic affirmative answer to the question and praised the Hebrew leader as a great prophet, teacher, emancipator, legislator, doctor and lawyer, and as a man who had been formed by the conditions and the superhumanness of our Lord Jesus Christ, who would not let the conventional dead man rose from the grave.

At a luncheon meeting in connection with the revival campaign today, the following speakers will be heard:

Local Kiwanians Luncheon Guests At Clear Lakes
Twin Falls Kiwanis club members Thursday visited the Clear Lakes power company, where they were given a luncheon at 1 o'clock and listened to talks by T. M. Halliday, manager and engineer of the Clear Lakes syndicate, and W. A. Kraner, construction engineer in charge of operations.

About 35 clubmen were seated at luncheon at the company headquarters, where, following speeches by the company men, a general discussion and questionnaire was held. Under the Kiwanian system taken on an inspection tour of the project and the work thus far accomplished was explained in detail.

Mr. Halliday outlined the program of the Mutual Power company and made interesting comparisons between municipal and privately owned concerns, citing costs and figures of the latter.

Buysers, municipally-owned plants, Mr. Kraner told the visiting clubmen of the costs of work at the Clear Lakes site and indicated that the dam and pipeline for diversion of water, necessary for holding of springfish, would be completed by May 21.

The regular weekly program of the club, in charge of O. P. Duvall, was postponed for one week, and according to announcement, will be given at the next regular luncheon.

Farmer Seeks Safety Atop Straw Stack as Rabid Coyote Gives Chase

Idahoans as a rule do not fear the cowardly coyote, whose nature is better understood by cattlemen on the sagebrush plains. But a rabid coyote is another thing again, witness the unusual experience of one B. O. Compton, farmer, who is working on the Borex farm eight miles southeast of Twin Falls near the Low Lake spring.

Compton, during his rounds of the Borex place, noticed a coyote snoring along a ditch bank and attempted to frighten the beast. For a few moments the animal, in return, the coyote showed fight and Compton was forced to beat it retreat to a nearby straw stack up the side of which he was closely guarded by the animal. Compton seized a pitfork and managed to kill the cowardly creature.

The farmer notified H. G. Jackson, Twin Falls county health officer, who brought the head of the animal to Dr. H. R. Grosvenor, deputy state veterinarian, for examination. An examination at a local laboratory resulted in a positive report of rabies.

The affair on the Borex place is the first report of rabies in this section. Dr. Grosvenor, in issuing a warning to everyone to be on the alert for other manifestations of the disease.

Citizens of West End Take Lead in Drive for Funds

The west end of the county stepped into the lead Thursday in the Red Cross drive for a $1000 relief fund for sufferers in the Missoula flood district. Under leadership of C. D. Boring, Dahl citizens have contributed $250 to the fund according to reports of the Red Cross headquarters.

Reports from other districts were not available Thursday evening, but it is believed here that Twin Falls county will exceed its quota through voluntary contributions.

Twin Falls Elks have donated their hall to the Jesters club for a benefit dance next Wednesday evening. The Jesters plan to give two dances on Wednesday, one at Elks hall and one at Danerlain, with entire net proceeds to go to the Mississippi flood relief fund.

Twin Falls theatres will give partial receipts from next Sunday's performances and various clubs in and around Twin Falls have voted different amounts to the fund.

Chairman George Hays of the local chapter of the Red Cross is confident that the drive will have passed its objective by the end of the week. Boxes for individual donations have been placed in every bank, drug and department store in the county and in the lobbies of Twin Falls theatres, so that all may have the opportunity of contributing to this cause without personal solicitation.

Twin Falls Senior Class to Present Historical Play

"Jeanne d'Arc," the spectacular historical play by Percy Mackaye, is to be the annual senior play presented at commencement time. Forty members of the senior class are to take part, under the direction of Miss Helen Knapp.

They will portray the widest range of characters to be found in the France of Jeanne's day, peasant, nobleman, soldier, commander in chief, priest, archbishop, prison guard, page and king.

The settings for the play place each character in his natural environment, the obscure village of Bourneville, the palace of the king, the war-torn battlefields of France, and the English prison at Rouen, from which Jeanne was led to her death.

Not only is the play unusual, and of a nature which does not often come to Twin Falls, but it is historically accurate, being based upon the depositions of sworn witnesses recorded in the national archives of France. Those who have been chosen to fill the leading parts have appeared before the public several times in dramatic productions, and are capable of pleasing interpretations. Among them are Marcelle Wyan, Charles Anderson, Kenneth Douglas, William Roberts and Edwin Gray.

CANAL COMPANY CLAIMS RETURN FLOW TO RIVER

Institutes Court Action to Enforce Claim to Waters Entering River Between Neeley and Milner Dam.

Twin Falls Canal company has instituted suit in district court here to obtain credit and diversion of the increment or inflow waters to Snake river between Neeley and Milner dam, the point of diversion of Snake river waters to the Twin Falls canal system. This increment is estimated to be between 200 and 300 second feet. George N. Carter, state commissioner of reclamation, and G. Clyde Baldwin, assistant commissioner of reclamation and watermaster for district No. 80, are named as defendants in this suit, which opens up a question that has been in dispute for some years.

Both restraining orders were paid for a restraining order to enjoin and restrain the state commissioner and watermaster from delivering water to district No. 80 in violation of the provisions of the Foster decree and particularly from refusing to credit the inflow to the Twin Falls company the increment or inflow to Snake river between Neeley and Milner dam.

The inflow or waters returning or draining into the river between these points, amounts to between 200 and 500 second feet each season, the Twin Falls company contends. The state commissioner and watermaster in the past have decided to count this water as the natural flow of Snake river on which the Twin Falls company has claims.

The Foster decree which was entered in district court here in September, 1916, adjudicates the rights of water users on Snake river between American Falls and Milner dam, including the Twin Falls company. "Purpose of this suit," Judge J. B. Howell, attorney for the Twin Falls Canal company stated last evening, "is to determine whether the canal company is entitled to the inflow to Snake river between Neeley station and Milner dam. The controversy dates out of the fact that for the past few years the watermaster has not delivered to the canal com-

"This natural increment to the stream," it was assumed by the reclamation commissioner and watermaster that the waters brought down to the Alhuloka project should not be included as natural flow of the river. His contention is that all waters that find their way into Snake river, whether from projects supplied with reservoir rights or otherwise are natural flow rights and public waters and as such have been appropriated. Their appropriations have been adjudicated by the Foster decree and the action of the canal company is to enforce obedience to that decree.

The fact that the United States supreme court has decided in Wyoming the right of review in the Snake lake reservoir intakes case," Judge Howell held, "makes it easier to adjust water disputes in Idaho courts."

BOARD NAMED BY SHOSHONE TRIBE

J. E. Rees, Historian, Gives Analyses of Indian Exclamation, "Ed-dah-How."

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO, Moscow, April 28.—"Ed-dah-how," the Indian name for the spectacular drama-painting which will be given by students of the university as a major part of the commencement program this spring, is an exclamation used by the Shoshone Indians. "The light on the mountains" is the literal translation of the Indian word.

John E. Rees, historian, who spent 15 years as a fur trader in the western territory inhabited by Shoshone Indians during pioneer days, gives in his history of Idaho a complete analysis of the word "Ed-dah-how," including its possible applications.

"Idaho" is the English etymologist's derivation of the Indian word "Ed-dah-how," and is usually explained as carrying the meaning, "the light on the mountains," or the "gem of the mountains," according to Mr. Rees. The syllable "Ed" conveys the idea of "coming down," "Ed-dah" means to the land both on mountains and "how" is an exclamation. Translated literally into English, "Rees gives as one of its meanings: Behold! the sun coming down the mountains."

Those who have been for any length of time in the mountainous regions have undoubtedly noticed the early morning shadows of the valleys rapidly giving way to the great streams of sunlight coming down the mountainside as the sun rises in the opposite direction. The beauty of such a scene tends to evoke an exclamation even from the most unresponsive. "Ed-dah-how" is the exclamation which is uttered upon daily by the Shoshone Indians and has come to mean many things to him. It is the beginning of another day, and is symbolic of a perpetual renewal of a natural phenomenon—for the sun has returned to replenish all things.

Illustrations
An excerpt from an article written by a pioneer illustrates the wonderful scene. "As you climb Sweetwater mountain, you will see the name Idaho written on the mountainside; at least you will see a peculiar light of light at sunrise, a sort of diadem on two grand clusters of mountains that peer away under the clouds 50 miles distant. That light is what the Indians call "Ed-dah-how," which means the light or diadem on the line of mountains."

Around this "light on the mountains" is centered the theme of the poem to be given this spring. "The light on the mountains" is the theme which further than "Ed-dah-how" was merely the light on the mountains. "Ed-dah-how" is the theme of the poem, the poet's portrayal of the natural wonder by the Indians. They believed it to be a "great spirit" and prophesies of the old Indians were based upon the "light on the mountains."

On a previous stage, nestled in a natural amphitheater between wooded hills, the historical pageant will be presented to pleasure and other citizens of Twin Falls. "Ed-dah-how" of the early life in Idaho will be conducted by Idaho university students.

WANT ENGLISH FACES FOR DRESS MODELS
LONDON, April 28 (AP)—After long and erying against American movie pictures, London has discovered a new form of "foreign penetration" to be come actual about this time. It is the invasion of wax dress models from France.

One importer of these figures declares all dress models are made in France by French workmen, and the chief difficulty is to teach the artisans to put English faces on the models. "They insist on sending us models of young French women, who simply won't go with the styles of clothes that we are trying to sell in English women," says the importer. "English retailers won't buy our models until we can persuade our workmen to put English faces on them."

STORE HAS SILENCE ROOM
CHICAGO, April 28 (AP)—A Chicago department store has established for its women patrons a silence room, which is quieter.

Next rooms, executives explain, have become rendezvous for women shoppers and for tired mothers with crying children, and they offer a little solace to feminine patrons with a desire for complete peace.

So the silence room was devised. Stenographer chairs and chaise longue on which exhausted women may recline are surrounded by admonitions for complete silence. Particularly in the room popular with women from out of town, exhausted by long drives and eager for an hour of sound sleep without taking a hotel room.

WIDSTOE TO BE HERE FOR MEET

High Church Authority to be Principal Speaker at L. D. S. Quarterly Conference.

Elder John A. Widstoe of Salt Lake City, member of the quorum of the Twelve apostles of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, will be the principal speaker at sessions of Twin Falls stake quarterly conference to open here Saturday afternoon, April 30. It was announced last night by church authorities here. Elder Widstoe, together with Elder Richard H. Expect Record Attendance
Elder Widstoe is a man of wide experience and influence and is recognized as the ablest speaker among the general authorities. His visit here is expected to be the occasion for a record attendance at the conference by members of the church and welcome is extended to the public to attend these sessions. Reasons of this conference will be devoted principally to genealogical work and church members are especially urged to be in attendance.

Had Benefit of Climate
The houses of the ancient Romans were imperishable because they were erected in a climate wherein there was practically no frost and thawing. The same materials used in our climate have not been at all successful. Furthermore, the same stones used by the Romans give a comparatively short life in our country. The mortar mostly used by the Romans was a mixture of lime and sand. To this was added some natural occurring ground volcanic rock. This corresponds to what is known as puzozolana, which, as indicated, has not been found satisfactory here.

LONDON SHOPPING IS HARD FOR AMERICANS

LONDON, April 28 (AP)—Shopping in London for American women shoppers is a "never-ending adventure, fraught with dangers and difficulties, and filled with delightful possibilities." The sources of difficulty are various. On entering an English "dry goods store" the fair American finds that goods displayed on tables and shelves are much more numerous than those on view in an American store of similar size and she at first gives an idea of clutter and confusion. The floor walker, however, invariably comes to the rescue. Should a "pool of thread" be received, the gentleman is puzzled, and detailed explanation will be necessary before he at length exclaims, "Al, Madam, you mean cotton-reels of cotton."

Similarly the elevator is referred to as a "lift"; the hardware as the "ironmongery" department; dresses are "frocks"; sweaters and jumpers respectively "cardigans" and "jerseys"; radios are "wireless" and wet batteries are "accumulators."

EXPERT FORESEES RACE OF BALDHEADED WOMEN

LONDON, April 28 (AP)—Bald headed women are coming as sure as fate, in the opinion of Dr. Leonard Williams, who has been peering under the tight hats worn by British shingled heads to ascertain the effect on their hair.

"The present generation of young women will most certainly go bald," Dr. Williams declared before the New Health society here. The nerve specialist was speaking on clothing and hats and their effects on the human system.

"Most women are now shingled and wear tight hats like men, with the result that when they reach the age of 30 or 40 they will find their hair falling out," he said. "They will rush to hair specialists and buy bottles of hair tonics with the result that it will then be too late."

DIETY OF TODAY IS MONEY, SAYS AUTHOR

LONDON, April 28 (AP)—The diet is dangerously ill. Plagues, bacteria and Achanthae are doing. The gods of our civilization—money, power, butter, wheat prices and railway shares," declared Maurice Maeterlinck, the Danish author, addressing the Anglo-Danish society.

He said dramatic authors look on those facts with tears in their eyes. "There is only one power, one aim and one dream in the world—money."

Mme. Braconer declared the cinema had been an enormous influence on the human spirit all over the world. She declared that between 25 and 50 million people attend the cinema of the world daily and are influenced by trivial sentimental stupid ideas.

Mme. Braconer asserted "we must have new forms, and new possibilities for theatrical performances in order to follow the beat of the world's violent rhythm. We must have plays in twenty short scenes showing life as it is instead of three or four acts with vague and useless talk telling us about life as it is not."

When We Are History

WHEN the world has spun on until 1927 seems quaint and bygone, historians will be writing our social history. . . how we lived and worked and played.

They will get their material from the old files of our daily newspapers. And how carefully they will study the advertisements, because it is advertising that truly reflects the customs of our times.

But, while our advertising will be interesting to the historians of tomorrow, it is more than interesting to us of today. . . it is vital. For advertising brings news of all that is best in our daily life. The pleasant things. The useful things. Things that lighten our burdens. Help us in our daily work. Bring ease, comfort and color into our lives.

In short, advertising shows us the way to get more out of living.

STEERS THRIVE ON GRAIN RATION

Peas, Wheat and Barley Mixed Give Outstanding Results in Idaho Feeding Experiment.

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO, Moscow, April 29 (Special to The News)—A pea and wheat barley ration for fat steers gave outstanding results in the annual feeding experiment conducted at the Caldwell station. Results of the 130-day experiment were announced at the cattle feeding day held at the sub-station here April 19.

Lot No. 5, which received the wheat and pea hay along with barley, made the highest average gain, and showed the lowest feed cost per 100 pounds of gain. The steers registered an average gain of 341 pounds during the 130 days, at a feed cost per 100 pounds of gain of $10.45.

Chopped hay proved a more efficient feed than either ground or long hay, according to the figures obtained. The steers fed on chopped hay made an average gain of 292 pounds at a feed cost per 100 pounds gain of $11.00. The ground hay lot made an average gain of 251 pounds at a feed cost of $11.00, and the long hay lot gained, on the average, 249 pounds at a feed cost of $11.00. The showing of the ground hay lot, was, however, weakened by two poor steers which failed to develop as they should have.

One lot of yearling steers made an excellent record, showing larger gains on lower feed cost than the two-year-olds. The yearlings, fed on long hay, silage and barley made an average gain of 286 pounds at a feed cost of $11.00 per 100 pounds gain. Lot No. 1, consisting of two-year old steers given the same long hay and silage ration, gained only 248 pounds and the feed cost per 100 pounds gain, was $13.46.

All cattle used in the experiment have been shipped to market. They will be sold by lot at the regular market value, dressing and grading may be determined.

The pea and wheat ration was found to determine the relative value of emergency feeds in years when alfalfa hay is not abundant. Finishing of one lot of yearling steers, was being undertaken this year, the tendency in the markets being to demand lighter and more highly finished cattle.

The "Feeders' Day" program was in charge of Professor C. W. Hickman, animal husbandman of the agricultural experiment station; B. F. Bichard, executive assistant; W. E. Johnson, assistant in feeding investigations; and D. A. Hubbard, superintendent of the Caldwell sub-station.

Buhl and Wendell Clash on Diamond

DUIEL—April 29 (Special to The News)—Coach Neal put his baseball team through a stiff battling and fielding practice, but slight preliminary work was done with Wendell on Friday afternoon. Davis is hurling a good game this season, and has a hook on his curves that keeps the batter guessing. He also has plenty of speed.

But three of last year's state champions are in the lineup this season, but there are a number of freshmen who show promise at the national pastime. Lacy, who is out this year for the first time, is showing good form as a third baseman. He took his first hit from second to first.

Wendell has strong team and should give the locals a good game. The game will be called at 4 o'clock.

FOLGERS NOT JUST A COFFEE BUT A FLAVOR

Farmers' Attitude On Radio Is Sought

WASHINGTON, April 29 (AP)—If the farmer is not getting enough variety in his daily radio programs, the Department of Agriculture soon will find out.

It has addressed a questionnaire to about 25,000 farm owners in a scattered area to determine whether a more diversified radio service, in desired, and if so, just what is wanted to make the dawn-to-dusk hours a little less monotonous.

Latest reports compiled by the department's radio service show that nearly 100 radio stations in 25 states are now broadcasting government crop estimates and market reports and that between one and two million farmers benefit by these programs, which, naturally are transmitted in the daytime.

That the man behind the plough is a strong advocate of further development of this service is indicated by the fact that 70% of the farmers in a recent six months period received more than 5,000 letters of commendation on the market programs from farmers, country bankers, livestock shippers and merchants in 12 agricultural states surrounding the station.

County agents of the department report that farmers are buying radio sets primarily to receive weather and market reports, while others, in addition to tuning in for prevailing prices and other farm topics, are at night for entertainment and educational features.

Nearly all of the land grant colleges of the country are now using the radio for disseminating their information on agriculture and home economics, while the Federal market news leased telegraphic wire system of about 7,700 miles makes the market news available to radio stations from about 40,000 radio outlets.

Smithings' Little Job Didn't Impress Collier The Smithings, content with young Smithings' admission to partnership in the firm, had moved to a more pretentious neighborhood. In their new quarters, while they were making acquaintances, Mary Jane Ammons and Mrs. Porter Washington, the acquaintance with Mary Jane, the 16-year-old daughter of their next-door neighbor, was simple and inevitable.

One afternoon Mr. Smithing saw Mary Jane race across the front yard. A moment later there was a knock at the door. He tipped to the door, turned a quick sidelong, then suddenly threw it open, remaining at the same time in hiding behind it.

There was a moment of utter silence. Then came a faint feminine voice: "Is there anybody at home?" Smithing peered around the door. It was Mrs. Porter Washington!

Dream of Developing Atom Power Realized?

Dutchman has recently received a patent for utilizing an atomic power plant for heating an electrically generated titanium when heated to a temperature of 2,000 degrees Centigrade the atoms disintegrate and an enormous amount of heat is generated. The sand is heated in a small electric furnace and the heat caused by the sudden breaking up of the atom is forced by a pump through tubes that heat the water in a boiler, and supply the power to drive an engine or turbine. This patent has passed through the patent office almost unopposed, but it is actually the first step toward the realization of the power from the atom which all the world is waiting for. It may easily develop into the most dramatic achievement of the century—London Times.

COLD WEATHER AFFECTS CROPS

Plant Growth Retarded by Extreme Temperatures During Week in Southwest Idaho.

Extreme temperatures during the past week ill considerable to retard growth of crops in southwestern Idaho according to weekly summary of crop and weather conditions issued Wednesday from the Boise office of the United States department of agriculture. Conditions in north Idaho were reported as generally cloudy, cold, and dry until near the close when temperatures rose somewhat and light rains occurred. Wednesday morning the temperature at Lewiston was 22.7 degrees, the lowest ever recorded at that station in April. The resulting freeze almost totally destroyed the soft fruits in this entire section. It is believed, however, that apples, pears and prunes escaped with but small damage.

In southwestern Idaho the week was characterized by considerable extremes in temperature. It opened with temperatures below zero, the coldest weather ever experienced in this section so late in April, while the last three days were decidedly above normal. Precipitation had been a rather retarded by the backward spring that only in the earlier districts did fruit buds suffer serious injury from the frost. The warm weather that obtained during the latter half of the week was very beneficial and there was marked improvement in all vegetable soil conditions. Fertilizers good, with adequate moisture, and only sunshine and warmth were necessary to start rapid growth. Farm work was well in hand in the early section and is getting under way in the higher valleys.

Cold weather with freezing temperatures in southwestern Idaho. Light precipitation occurred, mostly as snow. The last of the week was warm and sunny, showing very early buds damaged by frost. Nothing else is unusual. Ideal weather the last few days.
