STANFORD'S TRACK MEN GET UNDER WAY

California-Fields-Assert Their Might in Field Events and Take 14 Qualifying Places

FRANKLIN FIELD, Philadelphia, May 27 (AP)—Stanford's brassy band of athletes got off to a flying start today in the opening skirmish of their fight for the national outdoor American Athletic association track and field championships.

In spite of the shock of having their crack quarter miler, Emerson Spivey, eliminated by eastern rivals, the Cardinals asserted their might in the field events and carried off 14 qualifying places, enough to lead the field by a substantial margin in trials that paved the way for the final tests tomorrow.

Robert Carlson, best runner here, has defended the championship they have held for two successive years, finished second in the ten with 10 qualifiers, thus strengthening the prospect that the main battle tomorrow will be fought between Jim Trojan and Cardinals.

INSTITUTES SUIT TO TEST VALIDITY OF SALMON OBLIGATIONS

Scheme to Improve Water Right by Reducing Project Area Enters Litigation; T. A. Sanderson Raises Questions.

Validity of a state law under which the Salmon River Canal company purports to have acquired $200,000 worth of its bonds is to be tested by T. A. Sanderson of Twin Falls, owner of Salmon River project lands and projectors, who instituted suit for this purpose in district court here Friday.

Issuance of the proposed Salmon River project water right by reducing its area and applying the total water yield to the retained area. This suit is being filed as a special injunction more than a year ago.

Issuance of more than a million dollars worth of the company's bonds would be required to carry the entire loan to execution, according to Mr. Sanderson's complaint. The district court authorized issuance of $500,000 worth of the company's bonds, to be retired by payment of annual installments of $200,000 on July 1 of each year from 1927 to 1946 with a final payment of $1,400,000 on July 1, 1947.

Path, credit and resources of the canal company would be pledged as security for payment of the bonds. The suit was instituted by Mr. Sanderson's suit permits canal companies to levy assessments for payment of bonds and to make such assessments prior to the completion of the project.

LONG DELIBERATIONS BRING VERDICT IN CONTEST FOR ESTATE

District Court Jury Reaches Agreement and Seals Findings in Case of Elting Oliver Against Stepmother.

A jury in district court here deliberated for seven hours on issues presented in the suit of Elting Oliver against his stepmother, Mrs. Jessie V. Oliver, for a share in the $10,000 estate of the father, the late Elting Oliver, who died in 1924.

The case was opened to the jury at 10 o'clock in the afternoon for answers to a number of special interrogatories for guidance of the court in its final judgment.

Trial in the case occupied two days. Other members of the regular jury for the term were excused by Judge J. A. Babcock last evening from further service.

TRIAL DEAD MAN'S MOTHER

Whitcomb for Mrs. Oliver told Friday that the dead man had decided to give his 80-acre farm near Duhi to Mrs. Oliver by deed rather than by execution of a will. This deed was executed the day before Mr. Oliver died in a hospital here last spring, and it is this deed which the son in this action is seeking to have set aside.

The fact that the late Grant A. Oliver, the stepmother's husband, had executed a deed and other conveyances shortly before his death to transfer to Mrs. Oliver the property in question, she contended, and that this transaction apparently had withstood the test of litigation, was a strong argument against her claim.

Mrs. Oliver had no part in that transaction, but she claims that Jess O. Eastman and J. H. Barker of Duhi, testified as to the value of the estate.

Final argument on the case was made for the plaintiff, Elting Oliver, by W. Orr Chapman, and for the defendant, Mrs. Oliver, by M. J. Wheeler.

WITNESS WHO TESTIFIED FRIDAY IN SUIT OF OLIVER'S STEPDAUGHTER

Witness who testified Friday in suit of Mrs. Oliver's stepdaughter, Mrs. Jessie V. Oliver, who told of the execution of the deed.

Mrs. Oliver had no part in that transaction, but she claims that Jess O. Eastman and J. H. Barker of Duhi, testified as to the value of the estate.

Final argument on the case was made for the plaintiff, Elting Oliver, by W. Orr Chapman, and for the defendant, Mrs. Oliver, by M. J. Wheeler.

GRANT O. EASTMAN, J. H. BARKER OF DUHI, TESTIFIED AS TO VALUE OF ESTATE

Witness who testified Friday in suit of Mrs. Oliver's stepdaughter, Mrs. Jessie V. Oliver, who told of the execution of the deed.

Mrs. Oliver had no part in that transaction, but she claims that Jess O. Eastman and J. H. Barker of Duhi, testified as to the value of the estate.

CALL FOR FLOWERS FOR DECORATION OF VETERANS' GRAVES

Ladies of the G. A. R. and the Auxiliary War Mothers are collecting flowers to be used in Memorial Day in decoration of graves of veterans of the Civil war, Spanish American war and the World War. Those who have flowers that may be used are asked to call telephone number 1211 or take them to the home of Mrs. Paul Smith, 340 Ash street. The bouquets are to be made up Sunday evening.

BURGLAR SUSPECTS FACE THIRD TRIAL

Court indicates New Jury Will Be Called to Determine Guilt or Innocence of Accused Men.

Order probably will be issued for a new jury for a third trial at the current term of district court here in the case of Robert Anny, Charles B. Corman and William A. Lutzur charged with burglary in connection with theft of an automobile tire from the O. W. "Atomobile" wrecking plant, which occurred here last April 20. Charges in the two prior trials have failed to agree on a verdict.

The third trial, Judge W. A. Babcock stated last evening, probably will begin next Wednesday.

The accused men, who claim to be residents of Portland and who came here two days before they were arrested following a visit to Nevada gold fields, are held in the county jail here in default of bail.

Hearing on an order to show cause in the case of Frank J. Terrell against the Miller Low Lift Irrigation district, is scheduled to be held in district court today. In this case, Terrell, in his own behalf and as administrator of the estate of O. M. Boley, seeks to require the irrigation district to effect an adjustment that will prevent interference with a system of irrigation on the Terrell and Boley lands that was employed before the district built a ditch between these lands.

Trial in the case of Don J. Henry against A. J. Munier and others, also is scheduled to be held with a jury in district court today. Mr. Henry, an attorney, is conducting his own case, while defendants are represented by John H. Barnes.

It is believed to have occurred. Death according to verdict at an inquest held by Owyhee county officials, resulted from effects of heart disease.

FULL HEAD OF WATER SWEEPS OVER FALLS

Many Tourist View Spotted; Claim River Highest Since 1922; Improve Canyon Road.

Practically covering the mighty bed of the river, water from the Snake today, by sweeping over the brink, dashing into foam, in volume heavier, by far than any year since 1922, is the claim of many visitors. The bed of the river is covered from the east bank to below the power station, making a spectacle never witnessed before. The water dashes from rock to rock, churning into foam, with a thundering roar that may be heard for hundreds of feet. Several tourists, are stopping over to witness the falls in all their glory. A crew of men is engaged in filling holes on the road, and the road to the bottom is in good condition.
