FIVE FOREST FIRES STILL UNCONTROLLED

Destructive Woodland Blazes Raging Now in Only Two Out of 22 National Preserves

PORTLAND, Aug. 9 (AP)—Five large uncontrolled fires were burning in the Columbia national forest, Washington, tonight. In only one other of the 22 national forests of Oregon, the fire situation was alarming conditions reported today. Higher relative humidity and moderate winds gave the fires valuable aid to hundreds of men who are fighting the flames.

Twenty-five hundred acres of young timber have been destroyed by the Lost Creek fire in the Columbia forest, it was said here today.

No attempt was being made tonight to fight the main portion of the fire at Lost Creek, which was still uncontrolled. Efforts to control it would be out of the question, forest men said because of the density of standing timber and falling timber and the work of fire fighters. Seventy men are concentrating their efforts on maintaining fire lines between the three and seven timber nearby.

FLOODS AGAIN RISE TO INUNDATE REGION IN SOUTH ARKANSAS

Heavy Rains Send Stream Out of Banks and City is Threatened for Fourth Time; Crop Loss Slight.

(By The Associated Press) LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Aug. 9.—Out of the muck and the mud and the water less than a month after being submerged for three months by heavy successive floods, Arkansas City was threatened tonight with a fourth deluge by the end of the week.

Already made virtually barren by the previous high water, the crop loss will be slight and the relief problems will not be great. In these low countries of Arkansas counties are concentrated all of the 20,000 people still being cared for by relief agencies.

Arkansas City's only hope of escaping lies in the low stage of the Mississippi river. R. R. Wre, secretary of the Arkansas commission, said the Mississippi might be able to receive a sufficient volume of water from the Arkansas to prevent its receding.

However, the possibility also was seen that if the Mississippi is unable to carry off the excess of the Arkansas may sweep on as far south as Lake Village.

DEMPSEY GETS WIDE CHOICE OF QUARTERS

More Than 100 Towns, Cities and Resorts Offer Places for Former Champion to Train.

JEROME HAMMERS BUHL PITCHERS FOR VICTORY

North Side Team Takes Long End of 4 to 1 Score in Game Full of Thrills.

BUHL, Aug. 9. Special to The News—Jerome hammered three Buhl pitchers to a 4 to 1 victory here on Sunday afternoon in a game that furnished plenty of thrills. With two on bases Tom Helman's hit over the right field fence that came within inches of being called a fair ball, or the score could have been tied in the seventh inning.

Lawrence Joseph, pitcher, and star of the University of Idaho Fresh team, was effective against Buhl during the nine innings, allowing but five center hits. Pruber, Faust and Davis were tagged for nine safe ones and they were bunched just enough to allow the visitors to win. Pruber started the game but was relieved by Faust, who in turn was succeeded by Davis. Another detraction that slowed up the Buhl team a little was the fact that the visitors were held up on the clear takes, grade until 4 o'clock, and the Buhl team wanted to start the game at 1:30. However, it was a good ball game.

Battery for Jerome was Lawrence and Bleskenner. For Buhl, Penner, Faust, Davis and Foster.

As he reached this point, Professor Fyfe picked a couple of well-battered pitchers and gave a fine exhibition on the mound's carpet, offering leads of one to three in his ability to hold out in a track line. Gelf and Dempsy's interests in life, just at present, he switched back to the training camp.

INDETERMINATE RULE FAVORED BY JURIST

Judge W. A. Babcock Discusses Idaho System; Favors Parole in Reason.

District Judge William A. Babcock, in an address before the Twin Falls County Bar association at an annual banquet meeting last evening, declared in favor of the indeterminate sentence system.

"Statutes similar to ours are in effect in most of the states. There can be no question but that the law cannot exist if the law is aimed at the adjustment of penalties and these penalties enforced. Severity of penalties will not take the place of fully measured penalties; nor will any penalties detract much from crime unless they fall swiftly and certainly upon the offender. To execute a man, no matter how just the act, for a term of three years after the act, as is aptly illustrated in the case of Sacco and Vanzetti, is prominently before the public now, is to bring open sympathy for the criminal and contempt for the law.

Reasonable Parole

"I believe in parole for every person with previous good record. I have commuted any of the ordinary offenses; not predatory; and who is truly penitent, but not for the moment. The defendant who, although guilty, fights to the last ditch, needs his sentence. To release him at once, and let him go, is to encourage the lawless. The public only vaguely realizes the crime of which he is convicted, and he distinctly realizes the sufferings of the offender.

Insoluble Glue

In order to render glue insoluble in water, even hot water, it is only dry, when allowing the glue to dry, to add a little potassium bicarbonate to the water and to expose the glued part to the heat. The proportion of potassium bicarbonate will vary with circumstances, but for most purposes about one-fifth of the amount of glue used will suffice.

HEYBURN CONSTABLE RELEASED BY COURT

Motion to Dismiss Contempt Proceedings Because of Service of Injunction Made.

HUPPERT, Aug. 9—Because an injunction issued by the district court was served by a mistake on a citizen instead of on the city clerk of Heyburn, motion was granted today by Judge W. A. Babcock to dismiss contempt proceedings against the city and against the constable who arrested three men who supposed they were acting under the protection of the court, said of prohibition.

Case of War

An old bridge crossing an irrigation ditch through Hixson's property, owned by the Minkola Irrigation company said it was under no obligation to replace it. The town then sued the ditch and the company agreed to the court to enjoin the town from interfering.

Blacked Manover W. L. Wells and two men went to open this ditch and were arrested, fined by Justice James P. Wilson and appealed. Three Heyburn men were then arrested for filing the ditch and contempt proceedings against the town.

It developed that service of the injunction was made upon a private citizen, who was erroneously supposed to be the town clerk, so there was no contempt. Meanwhile all three lawyers are pending.

TAKES HAND IN MOVE FOR RATE REDUCTION

Elko Newspaper Says Southern Pacific Intends to Clear Up Wells Line Situation.

ELKO, Nev., Aug. 9 (AP)—Southern Pacific railway officials regarding the Wells line independent, have launched an investigation with view to making effective equitable freight rates on the Wells line.

Through discussion of altered high freight rates operating over the branch line of the Oregon Short Line railway between Wells and Twin Falls, Idaho, and through the "Street Carriers" column of the independent, written by Elko newspaper, the investigation of rate applying to the situation has been taken by the officials of the Southern Pacific railway.

Inquiry made at the office of this paper today disclosed the fact that the Southern Pacific intends to clear up a condition under which the rate from the coast to Twin Falls over the Oregon Short Line branch, on certain commodities, is higher than the rate on the same shipments to Twin Falls via Ogden.

The comment which preceded the rate question referred to the case of a Twin Falls shipper who had filed a claim against the Oregon Short Line for $27 which was rejected. The railroad official advised the shipper that the competitive rate was higher via the Oregon Short Line than he had paid for the Southern Pacific line to Oregon through to Twin Falls. The rate was in fact higher by exactly the same amount.

Southern Pacific representatives declare the change was entirely out of line with rates allowed for such shipments, and that they will strive to secure a fair reduction.

The information upon which the comment was based was received direct from Twin Falls.

WRITER OF BAD CHECKS BUNKOS BULL MERCHANTS

BULL, Aug. 9.—(Special to The News)—A check writer without an account at the bank visited Bull Saturday and wrote checks amounting to the extent of about $35, checks being written in amounts ranging from $2 to $10. The forgery was not detected until this morning when the bank returned the checks to the different stores upon which was written the notation, "No account."

The description was carried out quite well by the writer, for the bank cashed a check book on one of the Bull banks and each time filled in the stub of the check before tearing off the check. It was the belief here from the information given out by the state highway department that the road between Bull and the Filer pavement would be treated as soon as the work north-west of Bull was finished. However, the men here in charge of the work have been instructed to make the move to Payette, and no specifications were received relative to the strip of road east of Bull. The road that has been oiled and rolled is smooth as a pavement and is as nice to drive.

OLD TIME GAMBLING GAME

She stood back of the counter, quiet and unassuming. You would hardly have noticed her as you hurried on your busy way...

There wasn't a wedding, a birth or a death in which she didn't play her humble part. Childhood, Youth, Middle Age—they all passed before her counter and carried away in brown paper parcels the things around which they wove their dreams.

There are many thousands of them men and women who serve in our stores. Their nimble fingers and busy feet smooth the path of the tired shopper. Their busy days are spent in the service of others.

The J. C. Penney Company is glad of this opportunity to express its appreciation of the debt we owe them—a debt that can never be measured or fully paid.
