PIONEER SETTLERS OF TWIN FALLS PROJECT ASSEMBLY FOR PICNIC

Three Hundred Early Residents of Vicinity Meet for Annual 'Affair' and Turn Pages of History Back to Sage Brush Days

Stirring events in Idaho's early history and more particularly that of the quarter of a century that had to do with the development of the Twin Falls country from a sage brush expanse to the richest agricultural region...

Officers elected for the evening year were: President, M. J. Sweeney; Vice-presidents for the various districts, C. D. Thomas, Twin Falls, George, Deer, Starbuck, James L. Harris, Harson, Harry F. West, Kinnel; Mrs. T. E. Moore, Pioneer Chapter Chamberlain, Idaho; Mrs. C. D. Thomas, Treasurer.

The office of secretary-treasurer was left for the president and vice-presidents to fill.

Mountain Feast Gathering at the Twin Falls fair grounds before the noon hour, picnic which had been the result of a letter from a desert to an agricultural paradise, mingled together, sipped jagers and renewed acquaintances with the women prepared a dinner of chicken, sandwiches, meat, fish, fruit and water-tempting soft-ice cream.

Miss Mildred Doran of Fink, Michigan, school teacher, only one who ever to take part in a grand-annual affair, is believed flying in the 'Miss Doran' plane somewhere on the west of the Pacific.

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE TELLS SIOUX INDIANS OF FEDERAL EFFORTS

Chief Executive Visits Inhabitants of Pine Ridge Reservation and Brings Word of Government Work on Problem.

(By The Associated Press)
TWIN FALLS, S. D., Aug. 17. Chief Executive Coolidge, the first of the Sioux, visited the people of the Pine Ridge reservation today. In his first appearance in the state since his inauguration, the president's visit was hailed as a landmark in the history of the government's attempt to solve the Indian problem.

To thousands of Indians who looked from all corners of the remote reservation in an unexcited crowd, the president of the United States was a familiar figure. He had been here before, and he had seen the progress of the reservation and the work of the government in solving the Indian problem.

He declared that an underlying difficulty in solving the Indian problem was the inability of the Indians to adjust themselves to twentieth century conditions. Many of these conditions were the result of the reservation system, and the president's visit was a part of the government's effort to solve the Indian problem.

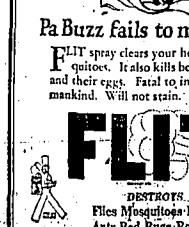

He said that the Indian problem was a complex one, and that it required a long and patient effort to solve. He said that the government was doing its best to solve the problem, and that he hoped that the Indians would do their part.

MARINE GUARD FIRES ON THREE PROWLERS

Patrol Shoots at Trio in Act of Robbing Powder Magazine in Naval Ammunition Depot.

HINGHAM, Mass., Aug. 17.—Three men discovered prowling about a powder magazine a quarter mile inside the gates of the United States naval ammunition depot here were fired on by a marine guard, but escaped, carrying one of their number who apparently was wounded by one of the shots, it became known tonight.

Marines Search for Men

Investigation showed that the hole in the fence had been cut and the entire magazine detail of 30 men immediately was alerted out for a search of the woods.

Naval authorities inclined to the belief that the men broke into the reservation to steal explosives, while the local police were of the opinion that on an attempt to blow up the depot, was attempted.

No definite statement as to how much explosive is stored at Hingham was available tonight, but workers at the depot said that the reservation usually holds more than was stored at Lake Denmark, New Jersey, at the time of the explosion which devastated the community there last year.

Marine guards who saw the prowlers said all three were carrying what appeared to be empty cement bags or gunny sacks.

The night day and night patrol at the depot has been ordered doubled and every man has been issued 50 extra rounds of ammunition and instructed to shoot first and ask questions afterward.

Frank H. Gooding, brother of whom was also to be present. Mr. Sweely had given a brief history of the origin of the Carey tract in 1874 and of how Idaho took advantage of it in 1890, being some 500,000 acres in this region as the result of development.

Briefly he told of the building of the two canals, the high line and the low line, the latter made necessary because it was not believed that the high line could be finished because of financial reasons and further that there would not be enough settlers to enter the tract. If true, he named men prominent in the development of the tract, such as Stanley A. Miller, Frank H. Bull and Peter L. Kimberly.

The project proved costly. The original cost of the project was figured at a million but a half, the speaker explained, but by the time it was finished it had cost $25,000 and while the water rights were sold at a price per acre, the lowest on any project in the state, the promoters came out with a profit in the end.

Mr. Sweely told of the plan to locate a new county and how he had suggested the name of "Twin Falls," but that Harry Wood, then in the state legislature, spoke of how the name Twin Falls was known throughout the country and suggested that the new county be called "Twin Falls," which met the approval of all.

Several humorous anecdotes were outlined by the speaker, one being the time when Judge Chandlerlain was tempted to hurry here and take the train to Albion and how a horse was sent for him and he rode in jumpers from the train on the morning train as it pulled out. Asked what was to become of the horse, he replied, "I don't know, but I don't belong to it."

In closing he recounted how at one time he owned all the automobiles in Cassia county—a one-cylinder machine—and of how it was planned to have him lead the first Fourth of July parade with it, but that it had so much noise that every horse owner that was to take part declared he could not get his animal in the street if that infernal machine was used and so it remained in the shed.

Historic Thomas read a carefully prepared paper written by C. E. McKeon, member of Twin Falls, which gave facts and figures and recounted many incidents in the remaining of the Twin Falls tract. Especially did Mr. McKeon give the history of the clearing of that his vision, ability and rickety qualities was the chief factor in securing the promotion that made this country what it was today.

C. O. Thomas, who had been invited to give an account of the early Idaho history, recounted the first settlements in the panhandle of Idaho, the first fight for the capital and how it came from Boise state from Lewiston and while the court opinion claiming the matter legal had never been passed upon by the supreme court, that when the territory was admitted to statehood Boise was named the capital, has set the two-into-one dispute.

Graphically he told of some of the old Indian ways and how an Indian girl outgrew the entire United States army in the field here at that time and only finally surrendered after reinforcements had been sent and she again to the whites.

There were many incidents recounted by Mr. Thomas that were recalled by others in the assembly and some of the members of more than "half a century" taken over the course of the last forty days, following the death of those who registered some 300 present.

TWIN FALLS SCOUTS DISCOVER ICE CAVES

Exploration in Craters of Moon Reveals Wonders Unsuspected by Those in Charge.

Explorations in Idaho by Twin Falls Scouts have led to the discovery of two new, wonderful ice caves in the Craters of the Moon, which will be fully described in descriptive maps to be learned Wednesday on the return to Twin Falls of J. H. Jamme, district scout executive of the Snake River council. Mr. Jamme, accompanied by Alfred Duan, Charles Grotter and Tom Adams, made a trip in the lake country and to the Craters after the closing of Sawtooth camp.

Scouting for the Craters of the Moon monument, the expedition contacted the government representatives in charge and made a number of inquiries. After pointing out the points of interest, the government men remarked that they had never been able to reach the latter part of the national monument, indicating the general direction in which they thought they might find it by searching.

Interior Beautiful
They set out in the search and came across two small, irregularly shaped caves which they decided to explore. Investigation and adventure led to their surprise on entering the first of these caves, in the opinion of those in their party, is fully equal to the one at Shoshone, with beautiful stalactites and stalagmites. The entrance to the cave is a narrow slit, but once inside it appears like a veritable fairy palace. The floor is covered with smooth, rounded stones of various sizes.

The second cave, to which entrance was gained through a hole in the rock, was also beautiful, but was much more difficult to enter. The first one explored was more easy to enter than the cave at Shoshone. Mr. Jamme and Mr. Duan said:

What Put Us Spies
The government representatives stated that these caves have never been discovered. It is said that he would promptly put up signs directing tourists to the spot.

What Is a Diuretic?

People Are Learning the Value of Occasional Use.

EVERYONE knows that a laxative stimulates the bowels. A diuretic performs a similar function to the kidneys. Under the strain of our modern life, our organs are apt to become sluggish and require assistance. More and more people are learning to use Doan's Pills, occasionally, to insure good elimination which is so essential to good health. More than 50,000 gratifying users have given Doan's signed recommendations. Scarcely a community but has its representation. Ask your neighbor!

Departed Pioneers Reverently Recalled

Pioneer residents of Twin Falls county at their annual picnic yesterday paid a reverent tribute to two of their number who had answered the final summons during the past year. For three months they stood with bowed heads in silent remembrance of the departed ones, the toll of which included Mrs. J. J. Shavelle, Mrs. Beatrice E. Prothro, Kransky Packard and A. E. Miller.

Returns From Chicago To Visit Home Folks

H. Eugene Roberts, formerly printer's apprentice of this city, has returned and is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Roberts, after an absence of six years. After leaving here Mr. Roberts went to California and then east, and in Chicago studied law at night and was admitted to the bar, more than a year and a quarter ago. He started a newspaper, the Lake and Oregon, which he ran for a year and business of resume journalistic work.

"We have looked along seeing as much of the country as we could and made stops at all places that impressed us," said Mr. Smith, "and afterward it all seems to be the agricultural Paradise of anything we have seen and can readily see that some day Twin Falls will be a big city."

Military Honors Are Given to Filer Man

A large number of friends and a goodly representation of members of the American Legion attended the services at the grave of Gilbert Hurd, of Filer, civil war veteran, at the Twin Falls cemetery. A firing squad of Company E, 116th Engineers, Idaho national guard, and a band directed by Captain J. L. Hodson, gave the military tribute at the grave.

The funeral services were conducted at the Methodist church in Filer, by the pastor, the Rev. J. D. Gillilan at 2:30 o'clock. Pall bearers, selected from among Filer friends, were Homer Miller, Hob Campbell, H. B. Lorain, Dew Engelhardt, Robert Smith and E. C. Tiekner.

Many floral tributes were offered.

SOUTHERN IDAHO BEANS FINDING READY MARKET

Great Northern beans now growing in fields of this region are being sold at satisfactory prices for numbers of the Southern Idaho Growers' association. C. P. Howles of the Southern Idaho Wholesale company, agent for the association, stated last evening.

Market for southern Idaho beans has been expanded in local territory, many consignments being made on the part of buyers this season in active, indicating that all of the expected record crop of this district will meet with ready sale. Mr. Howles stated.

then established the North Town district in the same city, which he sold at the end of July. After a three weeks' visit here, he will go to Salt Lake and Ogden to either enter the law or business of resume journalistic work.

Urges Spud Growers To Make Teton Trip

All interested in securing Teton county certified seed potatoes are invited to attend the Teton County Seed Potato Growers' association which meets Friday in two days, Saturday, the annual tour of inspection. It was stated in a letter received Wednesday by R. E. Broadard, county agent.

The invitation asks the county agent to attend and to bring as many commercial growers as possible.

Mr. Broadard strongly urges attendance. He says: "As nearly all our growers get their seed spuds from the upper Snake river it would be wise for them to go up there Friday and Saturday and take part in this inspection tour."

CUT IN APPLE ESTIMATE MADE BY GOVERNMENT

United States apple production will be even less than was originally estimated, according to the August 1 report of the United States department of agriculture quoted by the Chicago Traction of last Saturday.

The latest report of the government places the commercial crop at 24,812,000 barrels, while on July 1 it was estimated at 25,700,000 barrels and the condition given as 46.6 per cent. The condition in the last report was 41.8 per cent. Last season the output was 29,411,000 barrels.

BEHOLD HER SKILL

She is a charming picture as she sits at the head of the table, demurely dallying with crystal cruets. So charming that the guests exclaim with surprise to find that she is skillful, too. For behold, she has been busily mixing an extraordinarily good salad—a most professional French Dressing. You will find it very pleasant to play hostess in this fashion. To mix, right at the table, the French Dressing that is so smart now. And you will be surprised to see how much more inviting a freshly blended dressing is. Mix three parts of Wesson Oil and one of lemon juice or vinegar for a mild dressing. Add more vinegar for a tart dressing. Vary the proportions to suit your own taste and in accord with the strength of the vinegar or lemon juice you use. Salt and pepper to taste. Paprika for its gay color. And then—experiment. Add a bit of ketchup or a dash of mustard—for fish or meat salads—or for green salads a small amount of Roquefort. . . . French Dressing can be a dozen different dressings in one. Its excellence, however, depends on the oil. You will find Wesson Oil is exactly right for French Dressing—dear and light in color and very delightful in flavor. French Dressing made with Wesson Oil is deliciously good to eat and wonderfully good for you.

BIG WHEAT YIELDS REFLECT FAVORABLE GROWING CONDITIONS

Reports on Harvest Toll of Production Running From 87 to 93 Bushels Per Acre, With Higher Marks in Prospect.

Favorable growing conditions, protracted and weather early in the season and abundance of irrigation water, are reflected in heavy yields of the wheat crop now being harvested in the Twin Falls country. The largest yield of wheat thus far reported here this season is 93 bushels per acre, reported by Ray Lester of his farm two and a half miles southeast of Twin Falls.

On a field of 16 acres at Twin Falls, Idaho, 185 bushels of wheat or 87 1/2 bushels per acre. Earl Dochowen on the D. B. Church farm, two and a half miles north of Kimberly, raised this season a field of 87 bushels of wheat, which produced 82 bushels, or 72 bushels per acre. These crops were picked about August 12.

CONSCIENCE MAKES THIEF ADMIT GUILT

Man Steals Pitchfork and Hoe and Sells Them; Later Walks Back 100 Miles to Confess.

Edweson pitched a man who had stolen a pitchfork and hoe from H. S. Warnock, later at Tinswala from his garage at 519 Broadway avenue and walk back 100 miles to confess guilt and promise restitution. "Two weeks ago I left the pitchfork and hoe in the garage," said Mr. Warnock, "and later found that they had disappeared. I supposed some boys had taken them and thought no more about it. Two days ago, an old fellow came to our house and told me that he was stealing them and saw the fork and hoe, and took them to get something to eat. He said he sold them at a second hand store for 50 cents and got his money. After he had walked 100 miles, his conscience troubled him so much that he came back to confess and to promise to pay as soon as he could earn the money."

Idaho Beats Home, Says Kansas Guest

"One cannot stay in this section of Idaho three months and not fall in love with it," said Mrs. Sophie Greve of Anthony, Kansas, who has been a guest at the home of Mrs. Marge Holm June 11 and left last night on her trip home. "I like the climate and the people here and am sorry to leave," she said, and added, "that while she could not return next summer she expected to be back the following year for a longer stay."

IDAHO EX-GOVERNOR CHEERED BY PIONEERS

Mention of Name of James H. Hawley Brings Round of Cheers at Picnic Grounds. James H. Hawley, Idaho's Grand Old Man, was paid a high tribute Wednesday by the Old Settlers Society of Twin Falls County, when the mention of his name by President C. D. Thomas brought applause from the multitude. Mr. Hawley was to be one of the speakers at the picnic, but explained in a letter to the committee, asking that he be excused from attending and he expressed his disappointment at not being able to meet with them and address them. Affection for the pioneers was expressed in his letter and he wrote that if some other picnic of the society he hoped to attend. After reading his letter, Mr. Thomas told him at the state picnic convention at Nampa a short time ago, ex-Governor Hawley had entered the convention hall unannounced but every man in the gathering had stood up and cheered him to the echo. This incident, he declared, had reflected the love that everyone in the state felt for its grand old citizen and his statement brought applause.

Patch Anticipates Fine Oil Property

That his oil well at Bayette, now down 1600 feet, had three gas starters, any one of which is big enough to supply the town of Poyette, was the statement made last night by Colonel L. V. Patch, who is in connection with the business of the Idaho Canning company, of which he is head. Colonel Patch stated that the well would now be a good commercial proposition as a gas well, but they were determined to go ahead and get the oil which they feel certain exists in large quantities.
