PRESIDENT IS READY TO HELP FARMERS IN FRAMING BEEF BILL

Coolidge Still Opposes Equalization Fee Provisions of McNary-Haugen Plan but Has Open Mind on Great Problem.

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Nov. 11—President Coolidge is ready to talk business with farm leaders in an effort to frame a relief program which would insure passage of a bill by congress and signature by himself.

This compromise mood on the farm issue was disclosed today at the White House where the president was looking hopefully to the efforts of Senator McNary, Oregon, new chairman of the senate agriculture committee, for a solution of the agricultural legislative tangle.

No doubt was left at the White House of Mr. Coolidge's unaltered opposition to the equalization fee provisions of the McNary-Haugen bill which he vetoed last spring, but it was emphasized that he had an open mind and ready to consider other proposals than those already introduced by McNary.

Farm Leaders Must Agree An agreement among the farm organizations themselves will go a long way toward bringing about legislation, in the opinion of the president and it was said that while he had informed leaders of the major farm organizations of this view, he had not told them they had met together.

Meanwhile, the farm issue brought renewed interest at the White House. A report was issued by Senator Brookhart of Iowa, on behalf of the western independent Republican League, demanding that the president should in putting through a farm relief program despite the disagreement between representatives of the farm organizations on the form of a bill.

Senator Brookhart, however, at the time of his report, was not supporting the vetoed McNary-Haugen bill, but was favoring the passage of the western bill in farm relief.

Export Debenture Proposed The president's attitude on the national grange was put before the president yesterday by L. J. Taber, master of the grange, but was said to be in the president's mind in consideration because it seemed to have little support in congress.

Mr. Coolidge yesterday presented this plan, which would permit the use of tariff receipts for meeting the marketing needs of the farmer, and serves duty. While the proposal is not regarded favorably by Senator Brookhart, it is being considered.

BRITISH FLIER READY FOR LONG OCEAN ROP

Captain Frederick Giles Will Leave Golden Gate at Early Hour Headed for New Zealand

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 11 (AP)—Though the United States weather bureau here predicted storms along the chosen path, Captain Frederick Giles, of the British flier, left San Francisco today for New Zealand via Hawaii, Samoa, and the Fiji islands, continuing preparation here today to start at 9:30 a. m. tomorrow.

Captain Giles heard of the storm prediction and declared he would not change his route. He had consulted personally with weather bureau officials tonight. He seemed to feel that the storm might be merely a small disturbance and off his route by tomorrow.

Weathermen Not Optimistic Weather officials were not so optimistic. They predicted the storm center an area of 2000 square miles, slightly north of the great circle along which Giles expects to fly.

It has been steadily increasing in force and it is expected to reach Hawaii at about 11:00 tomorrow. The rest of the route will be under a 20-mile wide band from the shore to a point about 1100 miles off. (By The Associated Press) NEW YORK, Nov. 11 (AP)—Two fliers who faced death fearlessly over the lonely waters of the Atlantic were abashed today when they returned to the thunderous welcome New York accorded its heroes.

Miss Ruth Elder and Captain Geo. Haldeinan showed their trepidation when Mayor Walker, at city hall, gave them an illuminated scroll lauding their courage and extolling their accomplishment in flying over the Atlantic. The girl flier, blushing like a school girl, said with a choking voice, "My dear Mr. Mayor, I'm sorry you asked me to speak because I can't speak, especially in a crowded place like this. My heart sticks in my throat. But I would say you are much I thank you. It is more than we expected."

Captain Haldeinan, who followed, said: "When Miss Elder and I started our flight we wanted it to be a success for commercial aviation and for the interest of flying in general. Although we did not reach our goal, we hope that our trip will in some way be a benefit to flying in the future."

Water-Wagon's Path From Bank Guarded

NEW YORK, Nov. 11 (AP)—Lunch-time crowds were halted by uniformed and armed guards as they tried to pass the vehicular entrance to the Federal Reserve bank today.

The guards widened anew the passage through the crowd to the street. There was a rattle of wheels. Hood-beats were heard. Out dashed a pony drawing a diminutive wagon.

The "precious cargo" was a grinning driver and some cases of spring water.

Mrs. Hildagarde Wrywas Gives Up Fight to Support Child on Salary of $25 a Week.

Opened jars of gas stove brought death to the destitute family, but even death could not be found without a struggle for the mother had to break open the gas meter which had been locked on account of non-payment of bills.

Neighbors discovered the bodies telling the story of the tragedy in a thirty-first street tenement.

TURKISH PRESIDENT BESTOWS GIFTS UPON ADOPTED DAUGHTERS

ANGORA, Turkey, Nov. 11 (AP)—President Mustafa Kemal Pasha has given gifts upon his five adopted daughters but he will not allow them to look at their pictures in the papers. The Chief Executive had indicated that he does not want those girls, all daughters of brother officers who lost their lives in the Greco-Turkish war, spoiled by publicity. They were gathered from different parts of Anatolia by the Ghazi and his famous wife, Lutfie Hanem, during their travels together throughout Turkey.

Kemal Pasha has enrolled two of his favorite proteges, 14-year-old Zehra and 15-year-old Sabiha, in the Preparatory School of the American College for Girls. The Ghazi's youngest and most recently adopted daughter is 23-year-old outlike whose father, a Colonel in the Turkish army, was one of Kemal's dearest friends. The Ghazi rescued her last year, from an orphanage in Konia, brought her to his home in Ankara, dressed her in the finest of the famous French convent school at Constantinople. During every vacation the Ghazi sends someone to bring her to Angora.

The sisters, 14-year-old Zehra, and 15-year-old Sabiha, whom Kemal has enrolled in the Preparatory School of the American College at Constantinople, are natives of Smyrna. Lutfie Hanem's home town, to these little girls, used to be the meager life of a young underpaid officer's family. Kemal Pasha is a veritable fairy godfather to these girls.

Fire Losses Growing Yearly in America

NEW YORK, Nov. 11 (AP)—The great American anti-theft, as represented by the losses sustained annually from fire and lightning alone, continues to grow. The trend has been steadily upward during the past eight years, except in 1919, when losses dropped because of improvement in business, and in 1920, when the increase in fire losses again was due to the increase in fire insurance written by companies doing 95 per cent of the business.

Watchmakers Raise Their Standards

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11 (AP)—The watchmakers, honored for generations in the scientific arts, are now emerging to that dignity in the United States.

The process is a slow one, but official of the Horological Institute of America, organized six years ago at the suggestion of the late George W. Spier, was honorary custodian of the watchmaking industry in the United States, already point to marks of progress and express confidence hope for further advancement.

At present the longest course of study for watchmakers in the United States is only three years, whereas the pride in Europe, many of them the products of important towns and aided by the public treasury, will not graduate an aspirant in less than five or six years. The watchmaker's work of making and repairing the delicate timekeeping devices on which much of the world's industry depends, is a highly skilled art.

The efforts of the institute are largely directed toward encouraging the study of watchmaking to improve his knowledge and skill, and its board of examiners, with the aid of the Bureau of Standards, regularly certifies watchmakers as "junior" or "certified" watchmaker. More than 1,000 watchmakers are now in the United States.

INVESTIGATE BUD TRADE

TWIN FALLS, Nov. 12 (AP)—Decrease in the exports of Persian rugs have led the Persian government to begin an investigation of the rug market. The use of inferior wool and aniline dyes, failure to follow Persian patterns and delay in completing rugs ordered on contract are believed to have caused the loss of business. A government grant of $150,000 will be sought to carry out an industrial improvement program.

LOCAL WOOL MARKET COMPARETIVELY QUIET PRICES ARE VERY FIRM

BOSTON, Nov. 11 (AP)—The Commercial Bulletin will say tomorrow: "The local wool market is comparatively quiet; prices are very firm, however, and the bulls are consuming a very considerable quantity of wool. Demand is more in evidence on fine than on half blood wools. "Full wools of the best type are selling at 30c to 35c in Texas. "The foreign markets are very strong, being up to 5 per cent higher than a week ago, largely due to the fact that England has gone into the primary markets without practical limits because of a pressing need of wool. "Mohair is rather slow, still prices are steady. Full accumulation are sold in Texas, foreign markets are firm. "The rail and water shipments of wool from Eastern Texas from January 1, 1927, to November 10, 1927, inclusive, were 178,440,000 pounds against 177,131,000 pounds for the same period last year. The receipts from January 1, 1927, to November 10, 1927, inclusive, were 315,676,828 pounds against 310,740,000 pounds for the same period last year.

FAVORABLE TRADE NEWS FORMS BASIS OF OPTIMISM

NEW YORK, Nov. 11 (AP)—Favorable trade news formed the basis for sharp uptick in prices in today's stock market. Speculative interest was widely distributed, final quotations disclosed a long list of net gains ranging from one to nearly 13 points. Trading, however, was only moderately heavy in volume. The market was selling well below 2,000,000 shares. The bullish effect of a $2.50 extra cash dividend for General Motors yesterday was supplemented by optimistic forecasts by Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., president of the corporation, on his return from Europe. The stock closed 2 1/2 points higher at 131 1/4 after having sold down to 128 1/2 on early profit taking. The announcement of higher steel prices by two of the leading subsidiaries of the United States Steel corporation brought buying to the fore. The steel market is in theory that of declining prices, would start in large volume when it became apparent that the bottom had been reached. United States Steel common closed 1 1/2 points higher at 137 1/4, after having sold two points below that figure.

GROWERS AND LABOR SHARE BIG PAYMENT BY SUGAR INDUSTRY

Company Announces Distribution of $436,078 for Beets and $26,206 to Employes in Twin Falls District.

On next Tuesday, November 15, the sum of $436,078 will be distributed by the Amalgamated Sugar company to beet growers in the Twin Falls district. At the same time a Twin Falls factory and field force pay day of $26,206 will be made.

According to officials of the Twin Falls plant the beet harvest in and around Twin Falls and Jerome is 92 per cent complete. All beets, it is estimated, will be harvested under conditions which will be out of the ground by November 20.

Company records in this territory indicate that, up to November 1 of this year no single accident of a serious nature either to employes or workers or to either the factory or Twin Falls plants has taken place, a record which has not been duplicated during any previous year of operation.

This freedom from accident is accredited in part to the effect of the "Safety First" but to a greater extent to the co-operation of employes in all lines from superintendents down.

While there have been minor injuries this year these are said to have been few in number and comparatively trivial while as far as the operation of the two factories is concerned, not one has any part of the plants been shut down for an extended period in connection with their operation.

In this respect the record this year is said to be the highest in the history of the industry in the Twin Falls and Jerome districts.

Over 1500 imported workers have been used by the company this year in the two districts, of which have been imported from various countries and down the coast from San Francisco to Portland and at once and possibly in some cases that about half of these will spend the winter in this district.

WOMAN FINDS HUSBAND'S BODY LYING IN DOORYARD
Sudden Death of John E. McIntyre, Local Hay Dealer, Attributed to Heart Attack.

The body of John E. McIntyre, 338 Quincy street, a hay dealer, was discovered by his widow and a neighbor in the back yard at his late residence at about 7 o'clock last evening, something more than an hour after he had left the house to do the chores. He was 77 years old.

Death is attributed to heart disease. No inquest will be necessary, Coroner P. J. Grossman stated last evening.

Mr. McIntyre, who has been a resident of Twin Falls for about 15 years, left the house about 6 o'clock last night, telling his wife that he was going to do the chores. About an hour later a neighbor came to the house to use the telephone and noted the absence of Mr. McIntyre and commented upon it. Upon investigation he was found lying dead in the back yard. A doctor was summoned and stated that Mr. McIntyre had been dead about one hour, and that death was caused by heart failure.

The deceased is survived by his widow, a daughter, Mrs. Ivy Dossan; a son, W. E. McIntyre, and three brothers living in Kansas City, Kansas, and "uncles" Sydney A. Karkas. The body lies at the Grossman funeral parlors.

CROPS SUBSTANTIATE BEET YEAR FORECAST

Walter Carter, Government Entomologist, Checks Up on Prediction at Season's Close.

Early in the spring of 1927, it was forecasted that a good beet year was in store for Twin Falls North side and Minidoka country. This forecast was issued by Walter Carter, in charge of the white-fly investigations at Twin Falls, in the form of a circular letter, supplemented by addresses to interested groups of farmers.

Referring to this forecast last evening, Mr. Carter said: "Since the beet crop is now almost harvested it is possible to check up on this forecast with a view to estimating its success or failure. One of two points should be borne in mind at this time. The first is that the forecast was for a good beet year; the second that isolated cases of damaged beets were to be expected since that had always happened. Both these points have been borne out but fortunately the forecast for a good beet year has fully substantiated itself.

This matter of early planting of good care has received much support. Some fly will appear sometime during the season, but very good beet year but the grower who has given his beets a fair chance need not worry about it.

Highest Average Yield
The results this year, indicating as they do, the highest average yield in the Twin Falls tract, fully support the forecast as given out early this spring. This is most encouraging but the reason is to be remembered. One is, that forecasting is simply offering an aid to the farmer in helping him to decide whether or not the indications are favorable for a good beet year. Forecasting is not a substitute for good farming nor is it a contract for money. To crop will give good results if given poor care, especially at the start, and this is especially true of beets.

"But, on the other hand, if the crop is being continued and the success of the forecast this year encourages the workers on the problem to believe that the studies will still further improve their chances of hitting it right so that farmers may be correctly informed as to what the prospects are."

REGIONAL MEETING COMMITTEE TO PLAN FOR 400 DELEGATES

Session Here Will Make Arrangement for Gathering of Shippers and Railroad Representatives.

A meeting of committee members to arrange for the holding of the central western advisory board session here December 14, which is expected will bring about 400 to this city, has been called to meet at 2 o'clock this afternoon at the headquarters of the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce by Will H. Gibson, chairman of the public utilities commission. Mr. Gibson arrived from Boise last evening. The executive committee will meet December 13 and the regular board, with representatives from Nebraska, Wyoming, Colorado, Utah and Idaho, south of the Salmon river, will go into session at 9:30 o'clock the following morning.

Car Service Is Objective
The securing of better car service is the main objective of this meeting and it is expected that about 200 car service men of the railroads and truckers are invited, to secure cars when needed and bring about an understanding between the roads and the producers so that there will not be that quantity of products thrown on the market during harvest, breaking prices and congesting the roads. This year there was a slight shortage for 30 days but little inconvenience or loss was occasioned and there was no real congestion. Forecasts of probable needs are furnished monthly and an effort made to meet the demand.

Storage Capacity Growth
Producers have seen the value of plan was developed there was storage capacity for only 2000 or 3000 cars of potatoes in the country. This is now capacity for taking care of 19,000 to 20,000 cars, largely in potato cellars. Apple storage capacity has grown from 600 cars to 2000 cars. At each meeting the understanding grows between the producers and shippers on one hand and the roads on the other regarding the best methods of handling crops in their mutual interest. Mr. Gibson said. The meetings are held three times a usually in December, April and June.

The Wells Connection
Regarding the pending physical connection between the Wells branch of the Oregon Short Line with the Western Pacific at Wells, which has been requested by the Idaho public utilities commission, and which has been opposed by the Southern Pacific, Mr. Gibson said that the action of the Southern Pacific was not anticipated by him. All three roads involved would doubtless have their statements before the commission in the near future. This month, after which time of hearing would be set, he said. The time for decision of the matter could not be determined at this time.

UNCOVER STILL IN RAID ON MEXICAN'S RESIDENCE

Rock Creek Canyon Gives Up Moonshine Plant to Police Officers.

Twin Falls officers discovered a still and 150 gallons of moonshine Friday morning in a raid on the residence of Luis Morales, Mexican, in Rock Creek canyon below the sugar factory. Officers brought in the still at evidence and Morales will appear in probate court Monday.

Deputy Sheriff E. F. Prater and police Officer William Mumpower raided Morales' cabin about 10:30 o'clock yesterday morning and located a large still in an excavation beneath the floor of the kitchen. In addition to the still 150 gallons of mash and a large number of gallon jugs were found.

Upon the entry of the officers Morales was found lighting a fire in the furnace preparatory to the distilling process. Water from Rock Creek had been piped into the still room. Officers had had the place under surveillance for some time waiting an opportune time to catch Morales with the "goods".

Morales seems to be dogged by an evil genius. Officers while searching for the razor welding assistant of Michael Astola in a fight at Astola's rooming house, 122 Second avenue north, on November 4, discovered a room full of misshapen, or Indian hemp, a kind of narcotic weed which is smoked in cigarette form by the Mexicans. Officers remained at the Morales residence long enough to see the entire year's crop of hash given up as a smoke offering to the Deity of the Law.
