RESIDENTS NEAR BIG TORPEDO PLANT FLEE AHEAD OF EXPLOSION

Terrific Blast Wrecks Concern and Shakes Country for 30 Miles Around; Forewarning Is Given; District Is Evacuated.

(By The Associated Press) COFFEYVILLE, Kan., Nov. 18—Fleeing as before an invading army, with only a few clothes and household goods assembled, farmers fled for miles around and residents of the little town of Jefferson, 11 miles northwest of here, fled their homes shortly after noon today, ahead of a terrific blast which wrecked the plant of the Independent Torpedo company and shook the country for 30 miles around.

Forewarned of the impending explosion at the plant, a mile south of the town, south of Coffeyville, many children and residents fled by motor car, truck and on foot to the country north of town. Meanwhile farmers, warned by telephone, began a general exodus for places of safety far from the scene. There were no casualties.

Nitro-Glycerine Explodes The blast of 38 quarrels of nitro-glycerine came nearly an hour after the plant had taken fire due to the breaking down of an engine and the resultant explosion of a nitroator. Kansas, 30 miles northeast of Jefferson, felt the shocks. Houses and buildings in Coffeyville and Independence, each about 11 miles away, were rocked and residents of Cherryvale, 20 miles northeast, rushed from their homes, fearing an earthquake.

Torpedo Plant Wrecked The seven frame buildings of the torpedo plant were wrecked. Flames crept toward the wood storage magazine, containing 800 quarts of nitro-glycerine and a more disastrous blast was feared. The magazine blew itself out before reaching the storage house, however.

Charles E. Johnson, manager of the plant, was held up as a hero tonight. After fighting a losing fight against the flames, he was rescued from the room as feeling that the plant could not be saved, he ordered all employees to leave.

Long Sermons Mean Empty Pews, Texas Minister Declares

He advocated 20-minute sermons. "And don't pray, all morning," the bishop cautioned. "A good recent three minute prayer is best."

(By The Associated Press) DENVER, Nov. 18—Increasing pressure is being brought to bear on Governor W. H. Adams to call out the national guard for duty in the Colorado coal fields where an industrial workers of the world strike has been in progress for nearly five weeks.

Louis M. Scherf, chief of the law enforcement department, told the chief executive that the situation in the southern coal fields was quiet, but that it might become tense before the storm. Scherf was of the opinion that uniformed guardsmen would greatly facilitate a peaceful settlement of the strike.

Strike May Last Long Time If the state police and sheriff's deputies are left to handle the situation, Scherf told newspaper men, the strike will last at least until the first of the year and may run over into 1928.

George Bernard Shaw Does Not Care for Kissing as Spectator

LONDON, Nov. 18 (AP)—George Bernard Shaw does not care for kissing as a spectator. The veteran dramatist told a group of motion picture exhibitors this afternoon that he prefers to do the kissing himself.

He was discussing sex "appeal," declaring that it is a "delusion and a snare."

"The whole history of the cinema proves that sex appeal is one factor that can be omitted from pictures."

"Who are stars who have been most successful?" he was asked an answering said. "Charlie Chaplin and Mary Pickford chiefly, and they have never used sex appeal."

"For my part I find it extremely tantalizing to see another gentleman kissing a beautiful lady. I would much rather go to it myself without a large crowd of on-lookers."

The exhibitors would believe it but there are large crowds assembled because of their interest in politics, athletics and religion. "Where is Dean Inge's sex appeal? Yet 'vast throngs' attend his services in St. Paul's cathedral."

Charles P. Taft, II, youthful prosecuting attorney of Hamilton county, and son of William Howard Taft, and Carl E. Basler, assistant prosecutor, were the special targets, as, red of fire in his eyes, and his gigantic booming voice, at times choked in his throat, or breaking in a high falsetto, Remus raged about a little table enclosed square.

"Man, if I had you in the corridor, I would wreck you physically," he screamed at young Taft, who stoically regarded the furious man.

SENATOR BORAH URGES LAW ENFORCEMENT IN ADDRESS TO CRANGERS

Supporters of Prohibition Must Bring About Obedience to the Eighteenth Amendment or Face Fight for Elimination.

(By The Associated Press) CLEVELAND, Nov. 18—Supporters of prohibition must either bring about a better enforcement of the eighth amendment, or "face the fight to take it out of the constitution," William E. Borah, Idaho, told several thousand members of the national grange at their convention here tonight.

"I venture the opinion that if the eighteenth amendment cannot be enforced, and the people so convinced, they will take the eighteenth amendment out of the constitution."

"The most solemn impeachment of fundamental government that I can conceive of is to have in the charter of government that which is being constantly and notoriously disregarded. That kind of impeachment is constitutional. It is the people of this country who will not endure. You must either enforce this amendment or face the fight to take it out of the constitution."

Must Meet the Issue Declaring that all laws must be enforced by the agencies of political parties, Borah asserted that "members that when political parties take up this law, and execute it, with the same dispatch that they do other laws, you will realize the nation of the victory for which you have been fighting for 50 years. But so long as you do not realize this, there will be no adequate enforcement."

"What I am asking for is party and political fidelity to the constitution as it has been written. I am asking the members of the national grange to do what the law demands. I am asking the members of the national democratic organizations to pass through as a test as they ever have, the test of the constitution. I am asking the members of the national communist on the other and vast drove of timid souls in between."

SIDDONS AND GORTON AT ODDS OVER TRIAL

District Attorney Tenders His Resignation From Committee to Prosecute Contempt Charge.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18 (AP)—An undercurrent of feeling which had pervaded the trial of the late George Remus supreme court since the declaration of a mistrial in the Fall-Spring oil conspiracy case, today was made public in the exchange of letters between District Attorney Peyton Gorton and Associate Justice Francis L. Sturges.

Tendering his resignation from the special committee named by the justice to prosecute the contempt proceedings growing out of the jury scandal, the district attorney left little doubt as to his own view that action should be taken by the supreme court at the time of the filing of the affidavit involving Harry P. Sinclair, the late Remus' attorney, and the jurors and Edward J. Kidwell, Jr., celebrated juror number 11.

Besides stating that he and special government oil counsel were ready to prosecute for contempt at that time, Gorton emphasized that the affidavit which they had filed on November 7, were the basis and cause of the action of the court on November 2, in withdrawing a juror and bringing the jury under further consideration of the case and declaring a mistrial.

But Gorton assigned as his immediate cause of his refusal to serve on the special committee.

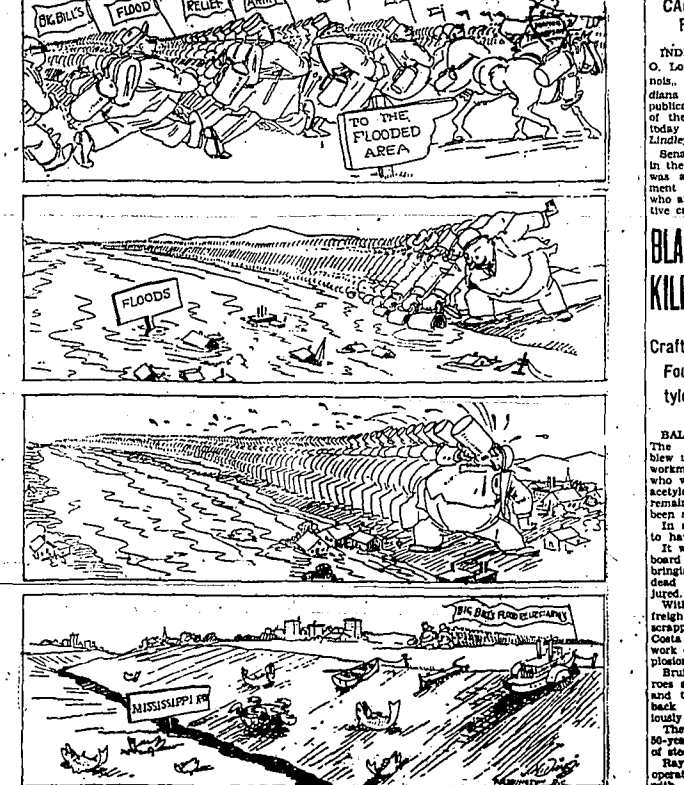

TWO BRITISH AVIATORS START BACK TO ENGLAND

LONDON, Nov. 18 (AP)—Relieved by a report from Warsaw that Captain J. R. McGonigal and his companion had landed in southern Poland yesterday and started toward London today, friends of the aviators here wondered what misfortune defeated the attempt at a non-stop flight to India and just what course their plane, the "Princess Maria," followed in its long flight.

"The first conjecture is that the aviators encountered adverse weather conditions, lost their direction, and circled blindly for many hours. Another guess is that the engine failed after a forced landing in the south."

Arrival of the plane in London was reported by the British press as an adventurous feat, but how far distant from Warsaw the plane was, and how far from the Polish border, Michael Jollo was cut and bruised.

MEXICAN ASSASSIN SHOT AMERICAN IN THE BACK IN MEXICO

Ambrose Bierce Achieved Exact Purpose of His Journey to Southern Republic, Student Reveals in an Interview.

(By The Associated Press) NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—Ambrose Bierce, American author of grim tales of death, and life more terrible than death, died in Mexico with an assassin's bullet in his back and thus achieved the exact purpose of his journey to the southern republic...

Dr. de Castro told the Associated Press... Bierce was a man of great spirit, he used to say to me. 'And I would like to take mine because everywhere I go I see only fools and I am sick of it.'

Suicide by Temperament "Bierce was a suicide by temperament," Dr. de Castro, who collaborated with Bierce in the writing of "The Monk and the Hangman's Daughter" for years, has told me about the right of self-destruction, which he held was inalienable.

"A man has as much right to take his own life as to drink," he used to say to me. 'And I would like to take mine because everywhere I go I see only fools and I am sick of it.'

"But there was one insuperable obstacle to his taking his life with his own hand," Bierce (and I knew him even better than his own children) was, despite his gallant service in the Civil war, a coward in facing pain.

Dr. de Castro said that it was an "improper story that paved the way for his discovering what had really happened in the author of 'The Middle of Life,' 'Can Such Things Be,' 'A Cynic's Wordbook,' and other sardonic works."

Dr. de Castro said Villa told him that Bierce had been "thrown out of town with his personal baggage."

Dr. de Castro said Villa told him that Bierce had been "thrown out of town with his personal baggage."

"What happened to Bierce then?" de Castro said he asked. Villa replied "Quietly and with a smile."

The field itself was clear but out over the bay and against the nearby hills the fog clung low. It was planned that Captain Giles should fly at an altitude of about 50 feet along this bay until after he passed out through the Golden Gate.

Weather bureau officials here were not inclined to be optimistic over the prospects of good flying weather at sea tomorrow. Though they would not make a detailed statement until after weather reports were received tonight from ships at sea, they said sea and air conditions prevailing today were likely to be worse tomorrow.

SENATOR BORAH URGES LAW ENFORCEMENT IN ADDRESS TO GRANGERS

Senator Borah urged law enforcement in his address to grangers. He said that the government should take a harder line on law enforcement.

"If the time ever comes when a provision of the fundamental law under which we live is scouted and defied and denounced, nullified and still permitted to remain a part of the constitution, that in my judgment will be the final impetus to a constitutional government. I favor, therefore, the mobilizing of every ounce of political efficiency that we have to enforce this amendment."

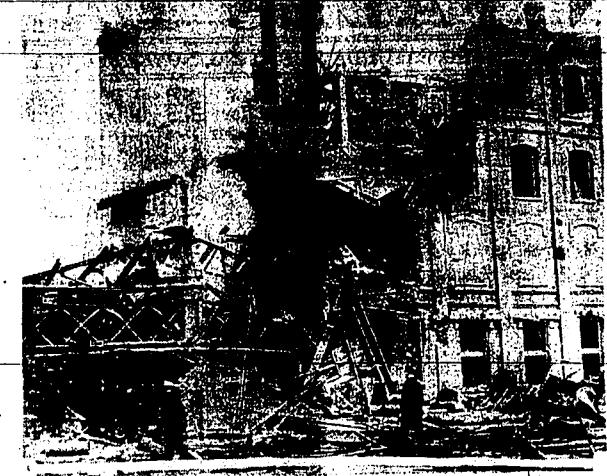

Senator Borah spoke at the end of the session. He said that the government should take a harder line on law enforcement.

QUARTET OF MEN DIES IN CHAIR FOR MURDER

In Space of One-Half Hour Four Go to Death in New Jersey State Prison; All Calm.

TRENTON, N. J., Nov. 18 (AP)—In the space of exactly a half hour four men were put to death tonight in the electric chair in state prison for the murder of a woman. Each died with vehement declarations of innocence.

The men were Joseph "Big Joe" Julliano, Christopher Barone, Joseph "Little Joe" Julliano and Louis "Kid Ruff" Capozzo, all of New York and they died in the order named.

The execution began at 7:54 and ended at 8:24. "Big Joe," the first to enter the death chamber, started shouting and was led to the chair, strapped in and the power switched on. In like manner, Barone went to his death.

Capozzo also handed the priest a memorandum to be conveyed to his sister. He died with the declaration that he had been "framed."

There were other reasons for the disbarment of Remus. He refused to sign a statement to the jury and the veniremen-delegates from the room.

Remus sought to make good his objection, and Prosecutor Taft took up the explanation, asserting that the "graveside committee of the Chicago bar association attempted to disturb Mr. Remus for ten years."

"He knows that in no court of justice that kind of statement would be taken for granted. He knows that the only record admissible in this court of law or in any other court is the record of the man of the law, not alone in this country, but in the supreme court of which this young man's father is the lord high chief justice."

Burley Business Men Take Up Volley Ball

BURLEY, Nov. 18.—Burley citizens passing within earshot of the high school gymnasium on certain days become aware that the volley ball game has begun. Tired business men, rising from the strain of their day's work, give voice to the enthusiasm that this game engenders.

The game is played by contestants ranging themselves on either side of the net, then striving to keep a small, sized, undeveloped basket ball from striking the floor on their side of the net.

Last winter the Burley men completely overhauled the teams from nearby towns. Before their fierce attack Rupert and Oakley bowed in defeat. This winter the Surley Bulldogs seem to be preparing to invade more distant territory. Twin Falls, Boise, Salt Lake City—possibly even the volleyball ball stonochol German town, Pennsylvania, may round with Bulldog growls.

Anyhow, these grown-up boys are getting lots of exercise.

ASSESSMENT ROLLS IN CITY-TREASURER'S HANDS TO COLLECT

Twin Falls Municipal Officers Proceed Under Terms of New Law to Meet Improvement District Charges.

G. M. Hall, Twin Falls city clerk, has completed and verified the tax rolls for the eighth installment on old improvement district taxes which will be payable in December and June. The rolls will be submitted to C. M. McEwain, city treasurer for collection.

Under the old law these taxes were spread on the rolls at the office of the city auditor like other taxes and collected without extra work by the city. The last legislature changed this law and made it incumbent for the city to keep the rolls.

Several changes have been made recently in the office of the city treasurer and water company. A new building has been put for the utility of the tax payers, which also necessitated the changing of the hanging of the front door to the city hall.

SCHOOL ENROLLMENT INCREASE IN TOWN

Greater Number of Students Imposes Small Additional Burden on Transportation System

Increase of approximately 250 in the enrollment of Twin Falls public schools this year as compared with last, reflects an increase in population that is confined almost entirely to the city of Twin Falls. It was brought out during Twin Falls school board's discussion at a regular meeting this week of the problem of transportation of pupils.

It was shown by reference to the records that only two out of the nine municipalities in the county have a population are carrying this year more pupils than they carried last year to and from country homes. The board members agreed that some method should be worked out in cooperation with the contractor to do away with the use of open trucks for transportation of pupils. Provisions for an extra bus to be held in reserve or perhaps to be operated on part schedule, also was discussed but no decision was reached.

The discussion covered the whole range of the transportation problem, and extended back to the first contract for motor transportation which was entered into by the school transportation system of the schools now is motorized, only two horse-drawn wagons being retained for use in times when certain unimproved roads are impassable for motor vehicles. The district this year, on an average, has approximately 415,000 for transportation of approximately 700 pupils to and from school each day.
