COLLEGE PROFESSOR HOLDS FARMER GETS UNJUST TREATMENT

Followers of Agricultural Pursuits Fear They are on Downward Road to Peasantry, Says Educator of Illinois School.

(By The Associated Press) CHICAGO, Dec. 5.—The farmer fears he is on the downward road to peasantry, and wonders why he should stick to the plow and hold his children to a similar allegiance, declared William J. Dodd before the American Farm Bureau Federation today.

With an unprecedented tariff for industrial men, a steady banking law for financial interests, a transportation act for railroads and an immigration law for labor, the farmer thinks themselves crowded out of the house of their fathers," said Professor Dodd, who is a member of the history department of the University of Chicago.

Many Abandon Calling "Two millions of them have abandoned their callings the last six years. The small farmer, the small owning farmer is worse than it has ever been. He receives a little more than a bushel for wheat, and the city consumer pays 10 cents a pound for bread. He receives two or three dollars a barrel for apples, and the consumer pays from $10 to $15 a barrel.

He receives 10 cents a pound for pork on the hoof, while the consumer pays 50 cents a pound for bacon. "The margin is too great. Something radically wrong. If the tariff be lowered, the cities must suffer. If the railroads be required to lower their rates, railway labor will strike. If the banks be regulated for social purposes, business men will make loud protest. If commission merchants be regulated, the city of Bohemian attire."

"If farmers seek to help themselves, they must be organized. A serious problem, and it behooves statesmen to solve it, or forfeit their claims on the people."

...being considered by the resolutions committee for approval of the ninth annual meeting of the farmers congress at Boulder dam project, and the McNary-Haugen measure, vetoed at the last session of the legislature. As to the latter measure, members said, reelection of Sam Thompson, president of the bureau, would indicate the organization would put all its force behind passage of the bill. This congress, however, is subject to the president's veto if necessary. No candidates have been mentioned thus far for the presidency.

WIDOW TELLS STORY OF MURDER TO JURY

Mrs. Margaret Lillendahl, on Witness Stand, Relates Man in Which Spouse Died.

MAYS LANDING, N. J., Dec. 5.—Margaret Lillendahl told, between sobs on the witness stand today, her story of the murder of her husband, who she said she believed was the man who murdered the aged husband with whom she is charged.

...childen farmer who is jointly charged with the widow, and whose infatuation for her is the cause of the tragedy. Drive in that lane. The one on my side said, and don't yell. I don't know whether it is the car or the lane or whether it was guided for me.

"But I remember stopping in the lane. The door on my side was open and one of the negroes grabbed by the V-neck of my dress. As he hauled me out of the car I heard a shot and the car started down the lane long toward the end of the section Mrs. Lillendahl was asked if she remembers that police officers after the crime had asked her whether her husband was jealous and what her answer had been to the question. "I think I said," she replied, "that he was jealous of anyone who looked at my man woman or boy."

SINGULAR BURNS AND AIDS DENY CHARGES

In Answer Six Men Demand That Allegations Be Dismissed; Acts Do Not Spell Crime.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—(AP)—Denial that Harry E. Smith, William Burns and four associates were guilty of criminal contempt of court in employing Burns detective shadow was made today when they faced Justice Frederick L. Siddons to explain why they should not be punished.

In answer the six men demanded that the allegations be dismissed because the charges against them were made by the government did not constitute a crime and because the court had jurisdiction of the case, of the insufficiency of the charges.

These same points were made the basis of argument by counsel for the six men. The defense attorneys Wright asked why District Attorney Gorton had not cited for contempt the only two men who are known to have approached a witness.

Wright referred to Don E. King, a newspaper reporter, and J. Akers, a former street car conductor, who filed affidavits against the six men. King had talked to them of the case. They said King had expressed a willingness to testify against the six men if they would have an "automobile as long as this block."

Further Efficiency of Department Indicated in Report Made by Postmaster General New to President Coolidge.

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—Continued efficiency of the postal service, that part of the government in most intimate touch with all the people, was indicated today in Postmaster General New's annual report to President Coolidge, which stated that the operating deficit was cut by approximately $9,000,000 for the year.

When regular overseas air transportation shall have been demonstrated as practicable and safe, Mr. New told the president, the post office department would endeavor to be among the first to use such facilities.

There is still dissatisfaction on the part of some of the post office users over changes made in 1926, he said. "The readjustment of postage rates to the classes of mail and the services rendered there is always a difficult matter, especially when such read-

BABSON SHOWS THAT MINING INDUSTRY IS AGAIN ON UP TREND

Entire Industry Is in Unpopular Era; Noted Statistician Would Take Mine Stock in Preference to All Others Now.

(Special to The News) BABSON PARK, Mass., Dec. 5.—Roger W. Babson in his weekly lecture today discussed securities and the general mining situation.

Importance of Mining Industry. The entire mining industry is in an unpopular era. Because mining securities, however, are not popular at the present time, it is reasonable that they should be neglected.

Because the mining industry is temporarily under a cloud, we must not give the mining industry the same attention as we have given it in the past.

Statistical Position Improved. The current statistical position of copper metal, including production, stocks on hand, imports, total new supply, is encouraging.

Coal Production Heavier. Official settlement of the coal strike in the Middle West has increased production so that it is running over 10,500,000 tons weekly.

Outlook for Lead and Zinc. The outlook for lead and zinc is affected considerably by the production of these metals abroad.

Elks Pay Impressive Tribute At "Lodge of Sorrows" Service

With ritualistic ceremonial interspersed with music and song, the Elks lodge of Elks paid impressive tribute to the departed brethren at a "Lodge of Sorrows" service in the Elks rooms Sunday evening.

The roll of 67 names who have died since the organization of the lodge in 1912, included seven who had died during the past year. They were Frank McHenry, Lloyd B. Leary, Maurice Guessen, John C. Griffin, D. F. Sweet, E. H. Little, Carl J. Miller, Solomon and impressive memorial services of the order were exemplified at these services by C. D. Thomas, exalted ruler; H. M. Keller, chaplain; Leonard F. Arant, scribe, and other officers of the lodge.

Musical Program. The musical program included a vocal solo, "Beautiful Isle of My Dreams," by Vermer, sung by Wilton Peck with accompaniment played by the Elks orchestra.

The address delivered by Mr. Hodson was an impressive one, both in principles of the Elks order and of the purposes of its memorial exercises.

On the first Sunday in December each year, the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks holds memorial services for their departed brethren.

The Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks is benevolent and patriotic. It teaches four cardinal virtues of life: Charity, Justice, Brotherly Love and Fidelity.

It teaches brotherly love, and fidelity. It teaches brotherly love, and fidelity. It teaches brotherly love, and fidelity.

It links the destiny of its order with the destiny of its country, and places the flag first upon its altar. Here men meet as brothers in the truest sense.

Before any of them can become a member of this great brotherhood they must acknowledge the existence of God and take an oath to support the constitution and the laws of their country, and to be faithful to every trial.

When men meet as brothers in the truest sense, they are equal in religious and political affiliations are not inquired into.

All day long and far into the night, great crowds gathered in hundreds of Ford salesrooms from Maine to Florida and from New York to San Francisco. Never has such interest been shown in a new car. Never has any new car so far exceeded expectations.

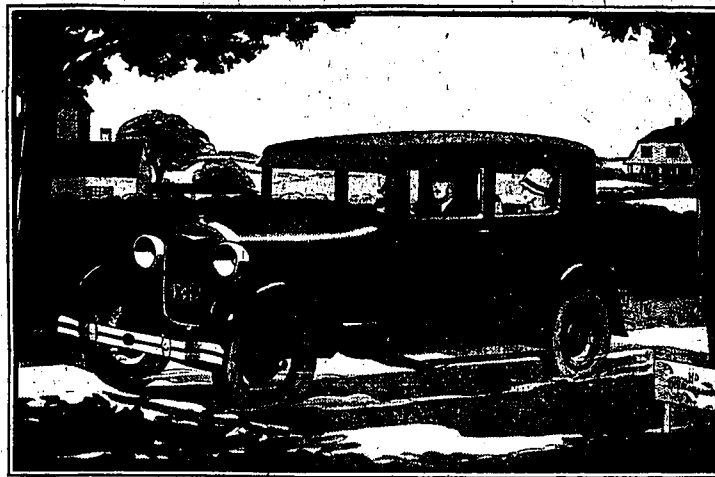

People knew that Ford was making a new car. They knew it was a good car. They had read announcements about it. But they had no idea it would be a car like this. Their quick appreciation of it is shown by the record-breaking sales.

Greatest day in the history of the automobile industry

Thousands upon thousands of orders for the new Ford car have been received since last Friday. These, and the advance orders placed with us by motorists even before the car was officially announced, will keep the entire Ford plant working day and night for weeks to come.

Such figures are a clear and unmistakable reflection of the value that has been built into the new Ford car. It is, without question, the outstanding purchase of all time in the light-car field.

BURGLAR SUSPECT DENIES OFFICER'S SHOT HALTED CHASE

J. L. Snowden, on Trial for Burglary, Says He Ran Only to Dispose of Bottle of Liquor and Then Turned About.

Joseph L. Snowden, on trial in district court here on charges of burglary, declared from the witness stand yesterday that he was not running away when he was shot down by A. M. Peters, merchants' police officer, near the scene of the burglary at the Diamond Hardware company store here on the night of last September 15.

He explained that he was running when the officer called on him to halt, but that his purpose had been to dispose of a bottle of liquor which he threw away as he ran. He had turned to face the officer, he said, when the bullet struck him in the back of the head.

Snowden denied any knowledge of the alleged burglary. Seven other witnesses were examined for the defense before court took a recess until 3:30 this morning. E. V. Larson, attorney for Snowden, said he had four or five other witnesses to call on the stand. Whether Prosecutor C. W. Wilham will offer rebuttal testimony or not was not stated.

Continuation of Defense
The purpose of the testimony offered yesterday was to sustain the opening statement of the defense attorney relative to what took place. Mr. Larson told the jury that he expected to prove that Snowden had been employed for about a year as an auto mechanic and that some time last summer Connie Bray, a brother of Mrs. Snowden, accompanied by his family, came and went to live with the Snowdens here. Bray got a job as cook at the Park hotel where, among others, Mrs. Snowden, Mrs. Bray and Miss Vada and Jimmie Pleenor were employed.

statement, returned and said that he had engaged the car and it would be delivered in the vacant lot a short distance back of the Manhattan cafe. He left the Reed hotel a short time before the boys, but they soon followed. Snowden left his coat in the room.

Car in the Way
They started toward the trying place but halted when they saw a car in the alley. They went on when it drove away and then turned back toward the hotel, thinking Kelley would join them there. They stopped behind the Hayes hatchery and took a drink. Then they saw the flashlight. Each had a bottle and some liquor. They ran, fell over fences and ran away. Snowden, the attorney declared, threw away his bottle and kept on running. He ran across the lot and into Second avenue south. When half way across the avenue he thought it foolish to run farther and turned expecting and desiring to meet the policeman. He did not see Peters at first but did go directly toward him. Peters fired and struck him above the right knee.

Larson said his witness would testify that Peters did not charge Snowden with burglary after he was shot to a question of Mrs. Snowden said "We must keep our alleys clear."

Witnesses who testified yesterday were Mr. and Mrs. Snowden, Mrs. L. E. Zimmerman, proprietress of the Reed hotel, and Misses Vada and Jimmie Pleenor.

Tells of Arrest
Snowden on cross examination admitted that he had been arrested in Colorado Springs in connection with a car theft, on the charge he said of hauling the car for a man who had stolen it. The witness said that he was in much pain after he was shot and did not recall details. He told at some length about getting the liquor to which his attorney referred in the opening statement, and said Kelley and Bray were pretty drunk. Bray corroborated this quite emphatically and gave as his reason for not going to the hospital at night to see Snowden after he was shot that his wife objected and that he was too drunk to go anywhere.

Dr. Raymond B. Culver Gives Two Addresses on Final Day; Discussion Groups Report.

"How Old are You?" was the topic of the address by Dr. Raymond B. Culver of Portland, Y. M. C. A. executive secretary for the Northwest, at the three-day Older Boys' conference. One hundred thirty-eight boys from 16 Southern Idaho towns gathered in Twin Falls last week end to discuss under competent leaders various problems of vital interest to young men.

Life on earth is merely a preparation for the life hereafter and co-operation with God while here is essential to the fullest enjoyment of the life to come, declared Dr. Culver. Life is divided into three phases according to the speaker. These are length, breadth and depth, which he illustrated by comparing them to three foot measurements which compose the yard stick. As the yard stick is incomplete without these three measurements, so life is incomplete without each of its three divisions: material considerations, intellectual and religious achievements and spiritual and cultural development.

Spiritual Side Important
"If a man becomes material in attitude of mind becomes thwarted and becomes restless and unhappy," Dr. Culver declared. "The man who may attain a high level of intellectual accomplishment, or gain an enviable place in the material side of life he will never gain complete happiness and self satisfaction without heeding the spiritual things of life, Dr. Culver believes."

Dr. Culver also gave the principal address at the closing session of conference at 10 o'clock Monday morning in the high school auditorium. "The Adventure of Life," a lecture dealing with the preparations for and purposes of life, was presented to a combined audience made up of the conference delegates and men and young men of the city who cared to attend.

"Three adjustments are necessary in life, adjustments to self, to fellow men and to God," stated Dr. Culver. "The Bible story of the rich young ruler who came to Jesus for advice in regard to the attaining of eternal life was the motif woven throughout Dr. Culver's lecture. "Self mastery is one of life's most important accomplishments," the speaker stated, "but to attain a fuller happiness one must live a life of service to his fellowmen. Friendship with Jesus and devotion to him brings the greatest happiness of all."

Proceeding the address by Dr. Culver his resolutions committee gave its report which was adopted by the delegates. On behalf of the conference the committee expressed its thanks to the people of Twin Falls for their hospitality, especially to those people who opened their homes to the delegates; to the men who gave their services as conference leaders and advisors; to the Twin Falls high school orchestra which furnished music at

SWEET ESTATE MOTIONS ARE UNDER ADVISEMENT

Arguments Are Presented in Probate Court on Question of Size of Bond.
Arguments were presented to the probate court here on Monday on motions filed by H. R. Grant, administrator of the estate of Ernest Uhalde, to have Ruth Sweet, administratrix of the estate of the late D. F. Sweet, furnish a larger bond and also set aside the sum of $19,000 pending the determination of litigation now in the district court. The issues were taken under advisement by Judge C. A. Dallery. Two new questions were raised.

Objections Are Filed
The new matter consisted of eight objections to a partial account filed by Mrs. Sweet as administratrix, all centering around the issue of payments of claims in a manner which the objecting party alleged were irregular. A further motion was also filed asking that a special administration be appointed to take the place of Mrs. Sweet pending investigation of the matter alleged. In this motion it is alleged that she has paid out from the funds of the estate the sum of $19,229.84 without approval of the court, and that she has now a cash balance of only $4,053.52 to her credit. This sum, however, does not include all the assets of the estate, which are said to approximate more than $81,000.

The legal issues involved in the objection of Mrs. Sweet are asserted in the motion to be presented by attorneys on both sides Friday.

Marie Uhalde, mother of Uhalde and a resident of France, in this action is asserting claim to Uhalde's estate of $19,000 which was awarded to Sweet, his employer, under terms of an oral will.

one of the occasions, and to all other persons and organizations which contributed in any way toward the success of the conference. The morning session opened with a song service led by R. H. Musser of Twin Falls. Rev. C. Barton read the scripture lesson and offered prayer. Proceeding the morning session open to the men of Twin Falls, the delegates met for a short service under the direction of Rev. Barton, and for the final meetings of the discussion groups which formed an important feature of the conference program. A report of the accomplishments of these groups was made by Charles F. Dent, superintendent of schools at Boise, at the session which followed at 11 o'clock.

TRACTOR DEMONSTRATION

A demonstration of the Neufang two-way tractor plow is to be held Wednesday at 2 o'clock p. m. at the Frank Thompson place, six miles south and five and a quarter miles southwest of the South Park grocery. It is claimed that this plow does away with all dead furrows, back furrows and empty driving on the ends, and that you plow back and forth across the field, two furrows at a time.

WRIGHTS' MANAGER VISITS

C. A. Wright of Ogden, general manager of the W. H. Wright and Sons company, spent Monday here in conference with George E. Balch, manager of the Twin Falls store, and discussed with representatives of the firm under the terms of the lease under which the store here occupies quarters in the 21st building. He left last evening returning to Ogden.

ROBBER RIDER HELD ON BOGUS CHECK CHARGE

Eric Allen was sentenced to 30 days in the county jail and fined $25 yesterday at his arraignment in probate court on a bogus check charge. Allen who is pure Indian and is a "Barney rover" by profession admitted the passing of a $10 check drawn against an imaginary account in the First National bank in Halley on the Third walls department store in this city.

While Eric's finger printed here he told officers that they were taking unnecessary trouble upon themselves as they could secure his classification from his home town, Drummond, Idaho. He had a number of other friends who he mentioned. Sheriff William E. Rhodes of Rigby notified local officers last Tuesday that Allen had broken jail at that place on November 26 while being held on a bogus check charge. Allen insists that he did not break jail, but merely left to get a fresh set of fresh air when the sheriff forgot to lock the jail doors. He was picked up by Twin Falls police two days later on a similar charge, was arraigned yesterday, Probate Judge C. A. Dallery ruled that Allen had given a check for the time which he had already served while awaiting hearing and that that time be deducted from his sentence.

STEADY HOLDERS OF MILLING DEMAND

Corn Touches New High Mark for Season With Light Country Offerings and Active Demand; Oats and Barley Up.

SALT LAKE, Dec. 3.—The wheat market held firm during the week ending December 2, while prices of coarse grains advanced to new high points on this season's crop, according to the United States bureau of agricultural economics. Higher prices in California market, together with continued demand for wheat from mills and moderate inquiry from exporters, were the principal strengthening factors in the wheat market. Light country offerings of corn together with an active demand at practically all the markets, contributed largely to the advance which carried the price of corn to a new high point on this crop. The rapid disappearance of wheat from the market, together with an active demand for barley caused a continued upward trend in prices of these grains. Bye was firm, and wheat and barley prices were held in the moderate receipts also helped to maintain a firm market for this grain.

While European harvest requirements are expected to be larger than last year, the supply in exporting countries is also larger, so that world prices as reflected in futures are held practically unchanged. December wheat being quoted in that market December 2 at $1.28. Demanders in the southern hemisphere are an important factor in the world wheat market at present and conditions were very favorable to both Argentina and Australia during this week. Trade estimates now place this season's wheat in Argentina slightly above last year but the Australian crop is about 60,000,000 bushels below last season. Wheat needs in Asia are growing in India but the incursion rains which largely determine the outcome of the Indian wheat crop have been considerably more than normal to some of the most important wheat producing regions. There were showers in the Punjab and good rains in some other sections during the week but more rain is still needed. The surplus of wheat from last year's crop appears to be practically exhausted as India is now reported to be purchasing some Australian wheat in shipments.

European market for native wheat held firm with prices unchanged from last week. Demand for native wheat advanced about 8 cents for bushels to $1.59. Millers were taking weekly home grown wheat for export. The price for foreign wheat was 86¢. Prices of American wheat were slightly advanced at Liverpool with No. 2 winter quoted at $1.52 compared with $1.51 for Argentina. 54 pounds rose to $1.41 for No. 1 Canadian hard. No. 4 Manitoba for December shipments was quoted at $1.38. Some low grade Canadian wheat was being purchased in Europe for feed and distilleries.

LONG DISTANCE TELEPHONE RATES

Effective December 1, 1927
on all calls from points in the territory of The Mountain States Telephone and Telegraph Company to points in the territory of any other associated Bell Company.

Reductions in Rates to Distant Points
The greater the distance, the greater the reduction. For example, from Phoenix to Boston the basic station-to-station rate for three minutes is reduced from $10.00 to $8.00; from Denver to Boston, $7.75 to $6.50; from Boise to Miami, $10.00 to $8.25; from Helena to New York, $8.50 to $7.00; from El Paso to New York, $8.40 to $7.00; from Santa Fe to Boston, $8.15 to $6.75; from Salt Lake City to Boston, $9.10 to $7.50; from Cheyenne to Boston, $7.70 to $6.25.

Many Evening Rates Reduced
The evening rates (applying from 7 p. m. to 8:30 p. m.) between the points affected will be reduced to a level about half way between the night rates and the new day rates. In order to minimize congestion during the night hours the night rates now in use after 8:30 p. m. will be held at approximately their present level.

Service Features Retained
The improvements in service features made last year—longer evening and night discount periods, reversal privilege on station-to-station calls, etc.—remain in effect.

These new reductions will save the telephone costs of the United States an additional $1,500,000 annually.

Economies of Operation

FOR fifty years Swift & Company has been handling perishable meat products. During that time an efficient money-saving system of marketing has been developed.

Science has been utilized to find new uses for many products that once were waste and better uses for old products. Multiplied uses have increased volume. Increased volume has resulted in decreased manufacturing and marketing expense. Experience, science and skill have reduced waste to a minimum.

Swift's marketing system means only one profit—and that is low. For the entire operation of converting live animals into Premium Ham and Bacon, Brookfield Sausage and other finished meat products and distributing them to the retailer, Swift & Company receives a profit from all sources averaging only a fraction of a cent per pound.

The National Distribution Conference in 1925 found the wholesale expense of the package branch business to be the lowest of the seven-year period.

These economies of operation mean a lower price for the consumer. The Swift & Company system means better products and consumer economy and well.

TWO CAMPAIGNS ON FOR COUNTY NURSE

Red Cross Roll Call and Christmas Seal Sale in Cassia Contribute to Fund.

BURLEY, Dec. 5.—Ambulance seal sales and Red Cross subscriptions, now under way in Cassia county, are contributing toward the fund necessary for the employment of a county nurse.

County commissioners, at their recent meeting, promised liberal financial support, thereby insuring the establishment of a county school nurse for Cassia county. This project has been sponsored by almost all the organizations, including L. O. E., G. A. R., and Rotary clubs, school districts and Red Cross units. The major part of Red Cross and Christmas seal subscriptions will be devoted to this purpose.

The county nurse, during school year, will visit schools and families throughout the county, demonstrating correct health methods and giving advice in cases where needed. In the summer school vacation, she will carry on nutrition classes and hold health clinics.

Among those in charge of committees for collecting funds, and representing the different organizations, are Mrs. M. Wright, Mrs. A. W. Rosenkrantz, W. Christensen, Mrs. Rosemary Horne, Malita, and Mrs. Effie Walker, Oakley.

SKYSCRAPERS IN MONEY CENTER RISE ON SOIL OF FABULOUS VALUES

NEW YORK, Dec. 5 (AP)—The skyline of the city's financial district is undergoing million dollar alterations. Six skyscraper buildings, now under construction, five of them on or near Wall street and the sixth on Lower Broadway, will before spring send new and higher towers piercing the blue.

In round sums $100,000,000 or more is being expended on these structures. The land on which they stand alone is valued at millions, so costly, in fact, that it probably is worth more as real estate than as mining property, even were the world's richest subterranean treasure chests hidden beneath it.

The three tallest of the new skyscrapers each have 38 stories. The Chase National Bank, now under construction on the $8,000,000 plot on Nassau, nine and Cedar streets, will rear its tapered spire above the old United States sun-trading and real-estate Trust Company building, whose squared tower rises above Wall street at Exchange place, will cast its shadow upon the comparatively low structure housing J. P. Morgan and Company. At 39 Broadway the Harriman 39 Broadway building will stand in slender magnificence, virtually unchallenged as the highest peak in the lower reaches of the famous thoroughfare. Each will house the population of a small city, 12,000 persons being employed in one building alone.

A 32-story building for the Bank of New York and Trust company will mark Wall street with a tower, cupola and weather vane rising far above the corner at William street. The structure will increase by an estimated $14,000,000 the real estate value of a plot for which the bank is reported to have paid $3,000,000 back about 1900.

Adjoining on the plot at 52 Wall street, the National City company is building a companion 32-story structure topped by what is in effect a Grecian temple. Towers and minarets will gleam in the sunlight above the corner at Broad and Beaver streets upon the completion of a new 31-story International Telephone building.

A number of smaller structures also are being erected, but they are small in comparison with the six giants and cannot affect the skyline. Notable among them is the 19-story building for the Commercial Exchange Bank on a plot only 25 feet wide and 100 feet deep, but worth a fortune.

DOWN, CORN LOWER

Favorable Weather for Harvest in Argentina and Increased Offerings Have Bearish Effect

CHICAGO, Dec. 5 (AP)—In a wave of profit-taking sales from holders wheat values today underwent a decided setback.

Chicago quotations on wheat were heavy, 3/8c to 1/4c net lower. Corn finished 1/4c to 1/8c off, oats 1/4c to 1/8c down and provisions varying from 2c decline to a rise of 1c.

Surprised over apparent indifference shown by the Liverpool wheat market concerning Saturday's price advance here was met by what there had been 500,000 bushels increase of the amount of wheat on passage to Great Britain and that would shipments last week were in excess both over the previous week's total and that of a year ago.

Visible Supply Decreases A decrease of 41,000 bushels in the United States wheat visible supply failed to stimulate any buying.

Corn and oats were today among the active supports they have had for some time past, notwithstanding that the corn visible supply decreased 900,000 bushels for the week and that the total is 18,210,000 bushels against 20,000,000 bushels last year.

PRONOUNCED REACTION ON STOCK MARKET OF DAY

NEW YORK, Dec. 5 (AP)—Pronounced reactionary indications developed in today's stock market.

On of the most interesting developments of the day was the announcement after the close of the market that stock exchange member loans had crossed the $4,000,000,000 mark for the first time.

Much of the liquidation probably was inspired by commission house notices that the market was entitled to a breathing spell after the tumultuous trading of last week.

Highway Forces Keep Winter Roads Open

CHICAGO, Dec. 5 (AP)—Snow, swirling down to gut the roads between the farm and town, church or school, no longer holds rural districts in its grasp for months at a time. A decade ago winter months meant snowbound highways in rural districts, but now, with interurban traffic growing to such proportions that other roads are as necessary as good roads, fighting the drifts has become a major activity of state and county highway officials.

With added men and equipment, highway departments this year are fighting the winter more effectively than ever. They have snowplows in added between 25 and 50 snow plows to its highway force, and other states of the northwest, particularly those so situated that Canada's frosty trails are easy entrance, have strengthened their lines of defense.

Wisconsin, the Dakotas, Iowa, Michigan and other states in the middle and northwest, have begun the winter with additional millions of lines of snow fence, with interurban traffic growing to such proportions that other roads are as necessary as good roads, fighting the drifts has become a major activity of state and county highway officials.
