TWO ALABAMA WOMEN TAKE LAW INTO OWN HANDS; STAB POLICE

Trial Commenced to Dramatize Crime Accused Slaying Not Guilty; Shot Wild; Knife Used

(By The Associated Press) GOLDSDRAN, Ala. (Special)—Two middle-aged women, the mother and aunt of Miss Montebano, took the law into their own hands today in a dramatic climax to the trial of Police Chief F. P. Blake, called Mrs. Mabel Montebano, 45, her mother, and Miss Cecil Tuttle, 43, an unmarried sister of the slain officer with pistol and hunting knife just as the foreman of the jury pronounced him not guilty of the crime.

Wild Fire Shot A wild shot by Mrs. Montebano struck the jury box, and the jury box, Miss Tuttle then plunged the knife into Blake's neck and the officer fell, blood streaming from the wound.

The spectators in the courtroom became panic-stricken when the women, in the turmoil, Attorney General Charlie McCall, Alabama, who was called Blake, slumped to the floor in a faint.

Two women and A. H. Tubbs, brother and uncle of Miss Montebano, were arrested on charges of assault with intent to murder and taken to the Jefferson county jail at Huntington "because of crowded jail conditions at Columbia."

Women Wildly Known Both women are widely known in this section. Citizens of Selma, where they reside, said the attack evidenced was the outcome of the intense grief under which they had labored since the death of their son, who they believed to be set for them.

The charge of which Blake was acquitted, that he fired the shot that killed Miss Montebano, was the only one in her automobile along the Montgomery highway last November 14. The state introduced testimony that Blake and Officer W. D. Farmer of Calera police department, "killed" in the act of having whiskey and in her possession.

COUZENS' FIGHT TO OUST MELLON HALTS (Continued From Page One) Hampshire, got into the arena long enough to protest that Couzens' move was a continuation of a "personal feud" with the secretary. OHIO REPRESENTATIVE 'STUMPS' FOR HOOVER

THEODORE E. BURTON LAUNCHES Speaking Campaign for National Secretary of Commerce.

CLEVELAND, March 22 (AP)—Picturing the life of Secretary Herbert Hoover, as one of constructive effort toward the fight for Ohio delegates to the Republican national convention, was denounced for "attempting to tear down the good name of the commerce secretary and at the same time offering nothing constructive in support of his own candidacy."

Answers Charges Answering charges of Senator Willis that the secretary of commerce is opposed to a protective tariff, Mr. Burton read a letter from Joseph W. Fordney, one of the authors of the Fordney-McCumber tariff act of 1922 in which Mr. Fordney said he had a disinterested interest in Mr. Hoover's particular interest in the protective element of the bill.

Representative Charles J. Brandt, Ohio, written to Hoover in which Brandt supported Hoover for the position of secretary of agriculture. The communication dated January 31, 1925, declared: "I don't know of any one who fits the place as well as you."

ARMY QUINNET WINS MAJOR LEAGUE TITLE

DUMB BELLS

MOORE AGAIN GETS DRAW WITH CORTEZ

Over Outlaws; Twin Falls Pilots Men Will Invaade Gay City

For the first time in the history of the Minor League league tournament, Cox's Army defeated the Outlaws, taking two of the three games played. The Outlaws were beaten in the first and deciding game going to the Musketeers by a margin of 31 points. The Army took the first, the with 110 runs to score, and the second with a surplus of 54 runs.

C. L. Cox, captain of the Golden rattled the major for top honors in the journey. Cox's army was the only one to win three games in that period. He also piled up the high total of 35 points, and led his team to an average of 181 runs down in each of the three games.

The game scores in games two and three were taken as Fred Stone, captain of the Bad Boys, 100, and W. Whitman, member of the Musketeer quintet, with marks of 171 and 194 respectively.

Team series totals differed by 90 points.

Twin Falls Needs Potatoes

The Twin Falls potato growers are looking for a market for their crop. The Idaho potato growers association is planning to ship 30,000 cars of potatoes, and the country was out of old potatoes before the season ended. Before the end of the 1927 season the price of old potatoes reached $3 per 100 pounds.

NEVERS TO ASSIST STANFORD COACHES

Stanford University, Calif., March 22 (AP)—Ernie Nevers, All-American football player in 1925, and Ed Walker, former all-around end, have been added to the Stanford coaching staff—beginning the 1928 football season. Dr. Thomas A. Stone, director of physical education, made the announcement today.

Nevers is at present pitching for the St. Louis Browns of the American league and Walker is an assistant coach at University of Iowa. Both were coaching at Stanford while at Stanford.

Since leaving Stanford, Nevers has played professional football, being the star of the Duluth-Eskimos, and professional basketball, winning major league baseball. He probably will assist in coaching basketball and baseball at Stanford in addition to his duties as assistant football coach. It is probable that just what Nevers and Walker will be assigned to in football.

"One of them probably will be assistant freshman coach, while the other will assist Glenn 'Pop' Warner with the varsity."

POULDS TO WILGOD AND BRADY Through Eight Rounds

SHOSHONE, March 22 (Special to The News)—Ricky Moore, Twin Falls lightweight, gave 12 pounds weight to Wilgud Jay Cortez of Richfield and Thomas A. Stone, director of physical education, in the main event of an American Legion boxing card here this evening. It was the second meeting of the two men who received a draw in their first bout at Richfield about six weeks ago.

"Pain which he felt about the score's improvement in the encounter this evening, and one of his partners declared that he had given the husky boxer a boxing lesson this evening. Cortez opened up this evening in marked contrast to his style of fighting in his first match with Moore. The bagpiper eye was closing and he was bleeding about the mouth when the bout ended, while there was not a scratch on the Twin Falls man. Moore worked in an 17-minute bout and Cortez threw the beam at 147 pounds.

The main event was preceded by two lively preliminaries and a semi-final event. In this Martinez of Shoshone won a decision over Art Vance of Eden.

The card drew a record house, and special train carried fight fans of Shoshone and vicinity to the battle ground.

Not until the final three minutes of play were the victors able to pull away from the Standstills. The score was tied at 10-11 with three minutes to go. A strong rally by the touring champions in this period gave them the game by a four point margin.

Wednesday afternoon the Standstills defeated the Slopowsks, and the Pitts Chiefs trounced the Speed Demons. Thursday afternoon the Gallopers won from the Trotters, and the Standstills edged the Fire Chiefs. In the finals yesterday the Gallopers and Standstills met.

Lineups of the two entries in the final follows:

Substitutions: Gallopers, Provost for Wiley; Martin for Provost; Wiley for Martin.

CO-OPERATIVES LIFT REINDEER INDUSTRY TO NEW IMPORTANCE

Herd Which Began With Importation of Few Animals

From Single in 1890 Has Increased to 631,000 Head

By The Associated Press
NOME, Alaska, March 22.—Alaska's reindeer herds, which began with the importation of a few animals from Siberia in 1890, have increased to more than six hundred thousand head.

Latest estimates sent to the Alaska division of the bureau of education show that in the 1927-28 season herds were owned by the 12 native cooperative organizations, developed by the Federal government.

In the development of the reindeer business the natives found there was a decided advantage in the co-operation of their herds. Cooperative organizations patterned after the government cooperative stores in the territory were organized. The co-operation eliminated the herds under a common brand, work was divided and sales were made from the central herds. The natives found out into a fund for the reindeer industry.

In the Khatkhat district, near Alaska one of the latest ranches in the history of the territory has been completed to count the animals and develop a marketing program for the location of two additional cooperative companies on an Eskimo reservation to run some 15,000 and 10,000 head of reindeer respectively.

The reindeer service has become an important part of the educational system for the territory, increasing in importance because of the rapid increase in herds and large expenditures it has been necessary for the secretary of the interior to obtain legislation giving him power to define grazing districts to prevent disputes over ranges.

FOUR BRAVE WOMEN LOST TO THE SEA

PRINCESS LOWENSTEIN, ELSIE MACKAY, Mrs. FRANCES GRAYSON, MILDRED DORAN
EVER THE SEA HAS CALLED TO them. Hugged sailors of brave hearts have called from their home ports for the last time to be engulfed in the stormy waters with their ships. Now the air above the sea seems to call to adventurous women. The grim roll grows. With the disappearance of the Iton, Elsie Mackay another name may have to be added to that list of women who have tried to open the way by air. Princess Lowenstein-Wrethelm perished with two British fliers on an attempted trans-Atlantic hop; Mrs. Grayson and three men died on a flight from New York to Nova Scotia, and Mildred Doran with her male companions vanished on the San Francisco-Honolulu flight.

GAMBLING WITH COLDS TOO RISKY

By UNITED STATES PUBLIC HEALTH SERVICE

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, March 22.—The man who plays a 100 to 1 shot with his money occasionally makes a fortune, but the man who takes a chance with his health usually plays a losing game.

Second on the list of dangerous diseases, pneumonia is particularly the nemesis of the foolhardy. Thousands of lives were unnecessarily lost during the influenza epidemic of 1918 because persons took their chances, but nevertheless foolishly, tried to stick on the job another day before going to bed.

White throat is no specific treatment, such as quinine—to prevent pneumonia, there is perhaps no other disease which can be prevented in many instances by simply bearing in mind a few fundamental facts. Pneumonia usually follows some other condition, most often a cold, but quite frequently other diseases such as measles and whooping cough. Pneumonia germs often are present in the nose and throat without doing any harm, but when one's resistance is lowered, they gain a foothold and pneumonia develops readily.

Selecting now are working on the theory that if they can prevent colds and other communicable diseases, they can prevent most of the pneumonia cases.

Preparedness is one of the best preventives for colds. Too many people fail to look even a day ahead and prepare themselves for expected changes in temperature. They prefer to take a chance. Pneumonia is most common in young children and in old people. It is most prevalent in the winter months and in early spring, and is most common as a rule in persons having outdoor occupations. The onslaught of pneumonia is very abrupt. The patient who is gambling with his health may be conquering himself on winning out, when he will suddenly develop chills and a high fever. Often there is a severe pain in the side, a short, dry cough and the breathing is very rapid. At this stage the patient who may have been treating "his cold" contemptuously should call a skilled physician immediately.

The supply of superior crossed seed, which the buyer knows that the seller is reliable and can supply the kind of seed he offers, extreme care should be exercised in purchasing seed corn, the department of agriculture warns.

"Unfortunately," it says, "there are likely to be many individuals who will offer to sell crossed seed at a high price when the seed is little more productive, if any, than ordinary seed corn."

A light diet with plenty of water, the department advises, is comparatively small.

Fruit and vegetables is advised for persons with colds. Sodium bicarbonate often is effective in counteracting the acid condition accompanying them. "Wash to attract."

WASHINGTON, March 22 (AP)—Unless the buyer knows that the seller is reliable and can supply the kind of seed he offers, extreme care should be exercised in purchasing seed corn, the department of agriculture warns.

"Unfortunately," it says, "there are likely to be many individuals who will offer to sell crossed seed at a high price when the seed is little more productive, if any, than ordinary seed corn."

MAY UTILIZE WASTE IN SWEET POTATOES

WASHINGTON, March 22 (AP)—An investigation which may result in utilization of the waste 20 per cent of the sweet potato crop of the United States is being planned by the bureau of chemistry and soils of the department of agriculture.

Dr. W. W. Skinner, assistant bureau chief, revealed to a house committee of the House of Representatives, that sweet potato waste contains starch which could be used in the manufacture of potatoes in this country, he pointed out, was $13,228,000 bushels and the portion that was sold had a value of $77,520,000. Frequently, he said, as much as 30 per cent and sometimes as much as 50 per cent is a waste, due to the overvalued potato crop.

Some years ago the bureau gave attention to this problem and tried to utilize these surplus potatoes in the production of sirup. The technology of the problem was worked out and an excellent sirup was made for the potatoes, but workers found it was not economically possible to produce it commercially because of competition from sirup made from other products.

While call sweet potatoes are used to some extent in the making of sirup and in feeding hogs, Dr. Skinner says this is not a profitable utilization.

Sweet potatoes, he said, make up the second largest vegetable crop. The largest farm crop is corn, with a valuation of $1,927,000,000. White potatoes is the most important vegetable crop with a value in 1927 of about $45,000,000.

DISABLED WAR VETERAN MAKES HOMESTEAD PAY

L.A. JARA, Colo., March 22 (AP)—James C. Pierson, a disabled war veteran six years ago is now the owner of a farm from which he earns approximately $5000 a year.

Pierson was gassed while serving overseas and was discharged from the army in 1921 because of disability. He took up a homestead in the San Luis valley, but his health grew poorer and he appealed to the veterans' bureau for aid. The bureau advised him to attend and attend the 10-10 Colorado agricultural college, where he studied poultry raising and homesteading.

When he returned to his farm he bought a few chickens and several stands of bees.

Although he had only seven acres he could cultivate, Pierson planted a large part of it to vegetables. Today Pierson is rated by the veterans bureau as "a success."

HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS WRITE FOREST ESSAYS

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO, Moscow, March 22.—More than 1000 high school students write essays on "Recreational Uses of Idaho Forests" in connection with the Idaho observance of American Forest week, April 22 to 28.

WATER USERS ASKED TO BE ABSTEMIOUS

Canal Repair Makes Supply Short; Use Is Confined to Household Necessity Only.

Just as the repair of the break across Rock creek assured a full flow of water, the city finds itself compelled to ask forbearance in respect to water use by reason of the repairs necessary in the Twin Falls Canal company system.

The annual spring "house cleaning" of the canal is prohibited this year on account of necessity. In the ordinary course, work is done in the canal near Starbuck. This will necessitate repair work that will last until next week.

H. B. Smith, commissioner in charge of the waterworks, has issued a request to all house holders to use only enough water for necessities of the home until the repairs are finished.

GRANGE MEMBERSHIP AT EXCELSIOR MAKES GAIN

EXCELSIOR, March 22.—Excelsior grange held a regular meeting Friday evening at which time twelve new members were given the obligation and twelve applications for membership were accepted. Mr. Van Hook's group is still ahead on number of new members but Mr. Loury's side is rapidly catching up.

At this meeting, H. C. Lott, past master, presided in the absence of Warren Louder, master, and Clifford Houston reported on the first of a series of seven dances and turned $65 proceeds into the treasury. During the feature of the evening, Mrs. C. Hughes gave a reading and an amusing "you auto know" and "rounding the flapper's lips" contests were held. Mrs. William Haynes was winner of the latter contest. Mrs. Carl Hughes served supper catered style from a prettily decorated table.

NEW AND OLD MANAGERS WILL BATTLE FOR NATIONAL CROWN

by JACK V. KRANE (L. E. N. Staff Correspondent) "Play ball!"

When those words are hurled from official umpire throats to echo about the stands of National league cities opening the season of 1928, six of the teams will be piloted by new managers.

Of the eight contenders for pennant honors, only two outfits retain veteran old chiefs. John McGraw of the New York Giants and Wilbert Robinson of the Brooklyn "Robins" are the veteran pilots who will be found on the diamond jines passing along instructions to their pill-poppers. Naturally with years of experience behind them these two sages of the national pastime look for an early lead in league standing to be held until the crucial pennant stretch is ended.

But competition will be stiff with young ambitious managerial talent anxious to deliver the "bacon" to their new berths.

"Dodie" Bush of Pittsburgh is out for the flag this year, while "Bill" McKee is "merely" of Pittsburgh, wants to prove his worth by pushing the St. Louis Cardinals out in front from the start. Chicago has Joe McCarthy as the new manager of the season of 1928. Young quips is as good as the next as to who it will be.

ILLNESS CAUSES PAUL TO CANCEL BUIHL GAME

Failure of Arrangements for Contest Between Two Outstanding Teams Disappoints.

BUIHL, March 22 (Special to The News).—The Paul-Buihl girls' basketball game that was arranged to be played at the Union normal gymnasium Friday evening was canceled today by Superintendent Hayes of Paul, due to illness of one of Buihl's players.

The game was to have been played for a later date, but without success.

This has played 17 games this season and has won them all by comparatively safe margins. Negotiations were carried on for a series of two or three games with the Paul, Nevada, high school team, champions of that state for eight consecutive years but the Paul team had been out of practice for two weeks and decided not to meet the Buihl co-eds this season.

An all-star girls' team from Buihl was invited to the national tournament at Wichita, March 29-31, but on account of the Buihl school having been closed for two weeks it was deemed inadvisable to make the trip.

The Paul team had been out of practice for two weeks it was deemed inadvisable to make the trip.

Buihl girls scored a total of 567 points in 26 games during the season. This is the first time that Buihl high school has had debating teams for eight years and interest is increasing in this event. Members of the affirmative team are Val Coe, Glenn, Donny Crow and Virginia Marlow. The negative team is composed of Don Gray, Margaret Griffin and Eunice Evers.

DETTON BROTHERS WIN IN WRESTLING CAMPAIGN

(Special to The News)
BALZ LAKE CITY, March 22.—Two Twin Falls boys have come through in University of Utah wrestling competition to make a real success of their campaign. Reed and Dean Detton, brothers, both now attending the Utah state university, came through flying in Rocky Mountain Conference competition.

Dean Detton, wrestling at 158 pounds—won the western-division championship in the meet at Logan recently, and then represented Utah in the conference meet at Greeley, Colorado. He took second place three times.

Reed, wrestling at 137 pounds, won his western division match but was not represented in the conference meet.

Both boys come by their art naturally. Their father, Joe Detton, was once Pacific Coast champion in the 137 pound weight.

GOVERNMENT TO HELP HOOD RIVER GROWERS PROTECT APPLE CROP

Congress Appropriates $15,000 to Fight Perennial-Canker and Woolly Aphis Which Threatens Valley Orchards.

WASHINGTON, March 22.—Approved in the government science with tree disease, an insect and fungus partnership now sweeping sections of the western apple country is to be fought this spring with federal ingenuity and funds.

The perennial canker, an insidious disease that saps the life from entire orchards, has been joined in the Hood River district of Oregon by the woolly aphis, an insect that enters the cankered areas and keeps circulating the infection.

Dr. William A. Taylor, chief of the bureau of plant industry, told the house committee on appropriations that his office had "dipped into other appropriations and scraped up the remnants of funds so that a full spring season of this work could be accomplished."

The $15,000 will not be available until July 1. "We have immediate and disturbing conditions now," he continues, "in that the woolly aphis, which spends only part of its life on the roots of the trees and the rest in the branches, lets itself into the cankered area on the limb and establishes itself there and keeps puncturing and sucking and irritating, so that if there is any canker infection left the aphis spreads and develops it."

The perennial apple canker, Dr. Taylor said, is a fungus disease which attacks and punctures the bark and the cambium of the tree and causes its death.

The fungus spores lodge in the fruit if the weather is showery and in early autumn cause spots which, although inconspicuous at harvest time, continue to grow and develop in the packed fruit. A year ago certain specimens were found spotted and rotting in the box when the apples reached London, Dr. Taylor said. They had left the Hood River in excellent condition.

Dr. Taylor said that while he did not know the full variety of the disease, it was known to be very destructive to the Aegagrus Spizenberg and Yellow Newton, the two best selling varieties in the infected area. After a tree is attacked, he said, the canker is very difficult to get rid of thus far the only really practicable method is to cut out the bark or

In a sworn confession just made, the prisoner's mother, Mrs. Mimmie Heller (left), declares that she and not her son was the real murderer.

CALIFORNIA "CHICKEN DOCTOR," BLIND, RELIES ON TOUCH SENSE

FRESNO, Cal., March 22.—(AP)—Friends of Alexander Kisch say he is the best chicken doctor in San Joaquin valley. Every diagnosis is made by slowly passing his strong, sensitive fingers over the feathers, or reaching to the feeble-cick of a sick fowl. He is blind.

Twelve years ago, in the prime of his life, Kisch held the best job in a California sugar mill. A sudden explosion left him sightless.

Today he moves about his small farm without a guide, operating a plant designed by himself and capable of producing 100 fat broilers a clip and dozens of eggs daily. Every cut of the limb where the canker appears. Representative Sinnott of Oregon told the committee the Hood River growers were alarmed lest they lose as many as 20,000 acres of apple trees worth millions of dollars, which are now bearing. He said he did not know what per cent of the trees were affected, but that growers had told him the disease was spreading over the entire valley.

London Loses Lead In Sales of Meat

LONDON, March 22.—London's proud position as the greatest meat center in Europe, with her famous Smithfield butchers' market and her equally famous lambing cattle market, is being laid to Glasgow.

A few years ago London was the most valuable market from the viewpoint of the British producer of meat. Today it claims to be a distributing center for 12,000,000 people.

British meat kings, however, have not been able to meet the requirements of the business experts, and Argentine mutton has come in to upset the British market.

Midland and inland cattle merchants say London has failed to keep with the requirements of the trade, and that her equipment and marketing methods are antiquated.

At Lillington last year the total number of sheep disposed of was 85,000 and cattle, 24,000. In Glasgow, 305,000 sheep and 43,000 cattle were slaughtered and sold.

Rice Farmers Urged To Control Insects

WASHINGTON, March 22.—Insect pests which attack growing rice lower the yield materially and injure the quality of the grain.

Farmers of Iceland Reclaim Waste Land

REYKJAVIK, Iceland, March 22.—Icelandic agriculture is entering a new phase.

Rational cultivation of the land is now a national slogan, while formerly there was very little cultivation of the soil.

The surroundings of Reykjavik afford a striking example. Land reclamation has gone on for the last five years in quite a feverish tempo. There have been abandoned into grass, trees and shrubs.

Some of them with great success. Things that Icelanders themselves had sworn would never be able to grow there, expressively well.

Eight miles from Reykjavik there has been established the largest farm in Iceland. Formerly, the barren waste of bees and moor, interspersed here and there by small buildings.

All this the new owner has turned into wonderful grassland to feed a large number of cattle.

If the government had accepted any offers yet made for the Shoshia, it would have almost been giving the Shoshia away. And since the Shoshia is in the United States, the American people should have a say in its disposition.

FORMER TWIN FALLS MAN AMONG MISSING

Silas McDougal Believed to Have Been Drowned in Flood Caused by Dam Break.

Following the St. Francis dam break at Silas McDougal, former Twin Falls resident and son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Hendricks, is contained in a letter received yesterday by Miss Jessie Warrington, former member of the "New Star" staff of "Pacific States" at San Francisco. McDougal lived here 11 years ago. His widow is a sister of Mrs. Harry Alexander, of T. F.

Believed to Be Dead
In her letter, Miss Warrington says: "A Pacific States man whom I know spent two or three days in the flood area last week and talked with a woman who was searching for the body of her husband. She said they used to live in 'Twin Falls.' Then she told him that she was Nora Hendricks McDougal, that they have three children and are making their home at 614 Lincoln street, Fresno. Her husband owned a business with the Southern California Edison company and was stationed at Camp Grant, miles from San Francisco. Very few of the men in the camp escaped. The foreman, a Mr. Newell, was one who was struck by the force of the water from his tent onto the bank of the canyon in a miraculous manner. He told Mrs. McDougal he knew her husband and would watch in the morgues for the body."

Mrs. McDougal told Mr. Mitchell, Pacific Falls, that she believed her husband had some sort of premonition of disaster, because he told her he did not want to work in this camp, as if something would happen to him."

Other Twin Falls Folks
Miss Warrington, elsewhere in her letter, stated that E. D. Tippett, father of Mrs. George Kenneth, and Mrs. Robert W. Spangler, former Twin Falls residents, died March 8 at the age of 83 years. He is survived by his widow and three children; Mrs. Spangler of San Francisco; Mrs. Kenneth, who lived with her parents in Los Angeles, and Maurice Tippett of Chicago. Mr. and Mrs. Tippett recently celebrated their sixty-third wedding anniversary.

Kitten Plays Part In Little Drama of Human Experience

By LSW WRETHEN.

The stranger reached out his hand, and called a half grown kitten. The kitten looked him over, absently, and lazily yawned, and "purred" out of him, with an air of bored indifference.

Through the door, from the street, a faint sound of a motor car was heard.

Looking at the stranger, the man saw a youth thinly clad, wan of countenance, sparse as though ill or lacking proper nourishment. And he watched the stranger reach out and gently pet the kitten with his hand. The kitten drew the little animal toward him. The attention was well fed, seemingly, and gentle treatment, brought into a loud purr and reared his arched back, and the frail creature—his new found friend.

The strolling man walked to the end of the room and returned. He stopped near the stranger, hesitating, and then sat down on the bench beside him. The stranger had cuddled the little kitten within the folds of a furthardie overcoat, as a woman might cuddle a sick child.

"You like cats?" asked the man. The stranger seemed not to hear the question. He turned toward the window, looking out at the night. He made some ask whether it's really right with the work. A face that showed surrender to the unequal struggle of the incompetent against domination, injustice, oppression.

"You hungry, mister? Could I have a dime?" he faltered. The man gave him a coin. The stranger arose. Very gently he put the kitten down, and stroked its back. Then he hitched his shoulder, went out, hurriedly looked up the street, and disappeared.

Back in the pool hall the players were playing a hand of cards. One of their number made a rotten shot. Men at the card tables huddled in earnest contemplation of their hands. Through the closed door the man saw happy folks emerge from the last show and climb into upholstered closed cars. The sleek kitten reared his arched back against the man's well pressed trousers cuff.

IDAHO MAN WRITES OF EARLY DAYS FOR WESTERN MAGAZINE

Idaho readers of Sunset magazine will be particularly interested in an illustrated article by James Stevens entitled "Idaho" appearing in the March issue of the magazine. This article is doubly interesting to Idahoans as it is written by an Idaho man about their own state. The theme of the article is expressed briefly by the author in the following words:—

Autobiographical in nature, the article tells of an Iowa lad who journeyed alone to the Boise valley where for two years he "rode herd" on the cattle ranch of an uncle. At first the boy was greatly disappointed in the new home—Gradually a love for the rugged country of Idaho in the early days grew upon him—love which he carried with him through his travels in later years to other castles, back to the Snake and during the World war to France as a soldier.

Old West Days
The boy did not find the "wild west" atmosphere which he expected for Idaho was a settled, civilized country, now there wasn't much hope for a boy who still dreamed of becoming a wild and woolly Westerner, one of the kind you read about. Still it certainly was better than Iowa.

"Above the cow camp the steep slopes covered with great pine trees sloped away just a great black spread at night time" with the high peaks looming black and white under the stars.

The keen tingly air, the piney smells, made you feel so alive all the time you were awake, made you sleep like a log and eat like a horse—you actually felt just terrifically good every minute of the time. You could never forget that feeling. Once you settled in Stevens' first book "Paul Bunyan," called by eastern critics the most famous collection of American folktales yet produced. Since Paul Bunyan was published Stevens has produced two or three books and a great number of short stories and articles, the latest of which is the "Idaho" story.

A GIRL AT LAST
ROYAL, Neb., March 22—After Mr. and Mrs. Will Dickmore had had six boy babies they hoped for a girl. Mrs. Dickmore had a girl, a baby, now their wish has come to belated fulfillment. For No. 12 was a girl.

LORE SWEEP STAKES
BILLCRICK, Mass.—March 22—Edward Givins almost made a clean sweep in getting away with a truck load of brooms, police said. He was charged with stealing a whole load from in front of a store.

Several years later in the spring of 1917 he wrote one of the now famous Paul Bunyan stories and sent it to H. L. Mencken, editor of the American Mercury, as an answer to one of Mencken's articles. The story was published in the American Mercury and Mencken asked for more.

The establishment of this contact after the war the man returns to Idaho to find the pioneer state of his boyhood gone and a new and progressive modern state in its place. He searches throughout the state for a glimpse of former days and finds it at last as he ascends to a boyhood friend on a ridge across a sagebrush covered plateau by moonlight behind a snuff herd of best cattle.

National Neck-wear Week Tie Special 1176

Cheney and Other Silk Ties at Unusual Savings This Morning at 9 o'clock Here's How and Why

Last January our Eastern buyers visited the New York office of the Cheney Silk Co., immediately following their inventory according to agreement. We wanted to give a big tie special for Neckwear Week that would be different because of the phenomenally low prices quoted on goods of known value. They wanted to clean out every mid-season pattern in stock at once to make room for the new line. Every tie is exactly as described and the comparative values are based on the way Cheney ties are sold all over the United States.

300 SILK TIES
Failles, Repp, Silk Prints, Moquados, etc., in a glittering variety of patterns. These handsome cut silks are guaranteed to be regular tie values. Our entire group of stores took all a manufacturer had left and we offer them at the ridiculous price of 39c

240 CHENEY SILK TIES
Every tie a genuine Cheney—in silk and wool. These ties were sold to us as seconds of their regular dollar ties. If you can find the second at all you will find that most of them are simply clipped threads. Our word for it, these are as good as firsts and are a thrifty bargain at 49c

216 CHENEY CUT SILK TIES
Guaranteed firsts and every tie stamped Cheney. These are silks, silk and wools and silk failles in regular $1.00 and $1.50 values and sold all over the United States at these prices. They are discontinued holiday and mid-season patterns. DON'T PASS THIS UP 69c

240 CHENEY $1.50 AND $2.00 TIES
These are all silk failles, satins, silk and wools, hand made celanese and silk prints, selling regularly everywhere for $1.50 and $2.00. Every tie guaranteed a first. Beautiful patterns and they are simply discontinued mid-season numbers 99c

144 CHENEY IMPORTED $2.50, $3.00 TIES
These are all in Cheney's imported patterns and imported silks. They are hand tailored and have Cheney's finest workmanship and finish. Strictly firsts but discontinued mid-season patterns. Compare $1.49

36 ONLY, CHENEY $1.00 BOWS
The true butterfly bow, hand-tailored by Cheney and typical Cheney patterns. Compare 69c
