

GOVERNOR AND WIFE GIVE ADDRESSES AT TWO BULL DINNERS

Idaho's Chief Stresses Need of Cooperation Between Fathers and Sons; Mrs. Bridgman Is Honored at Afternoon Tea

BULL, April 13 (Special to The News)—Governor H. C. Bridgman was guest of honor and principal speaker at the Father and Son banquet held in the Bull Methodist Episcopal church tonight. Mrs. Bridgman was guest of honor at the Mother and Daughter banquet held at the same hour. About 250 persons attended the father-son program and 100 the mother-daughter session.

"I see here tonight in this gathering an indication of behavior which is broad in its basis," Governor stated during the course of his address in which he compared four generations, the men of his father's generation, of his father's, of his own and of the youth of today.

Cooperation Needed Cooperation, and a better understanding between father and son was the keynote of the address. More boys are spoiled by having insufficient work to occupy their time and attention than by having too much to do, asserted Governor Bridgman. "Boys are all ambitious and want to accomplish something."

Fathers must be careful to set a good example for their sons, the speaker pointed out, because every boy has his ideal of his father in mind and that man is very often his father.

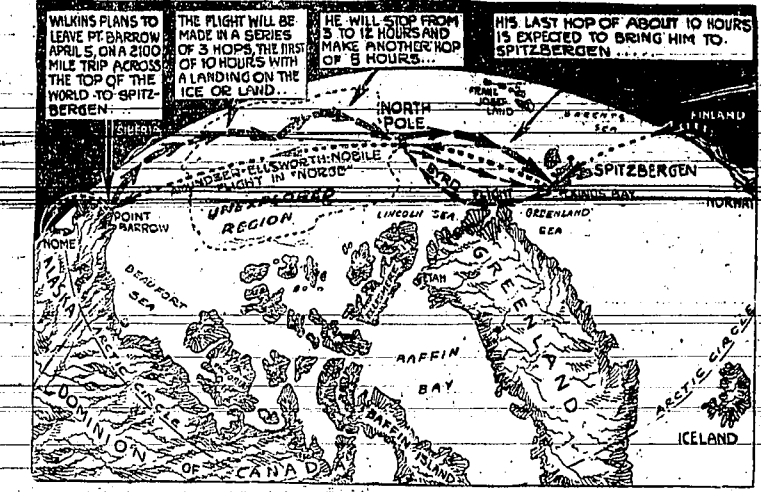

Praise was given to the Boy Scout work by the mention of the boy to meet the problems of life. In closing, the governor gave the illustration of two prisoners, one of whom was looking from his cell saw and the other the stars. "Let's look up," was Governor Bridgman's admonition.

Varied Program Given The program at the Father and Son banquet follows: "Star Spangled Banner," orchestra; "America," vocal solo; "The Stars and Stripes," selection; orchestra; two readings, Miss Alice Berden, Gooding college; introduction of the governor, Rev. C. E. Helman, address; Governor Bridgman; Boy Scout oath and laws, Captain W. C. Scenten; piano solo, Miss Frances Helman; brief talk to the boys, Mrs. Bridgman.

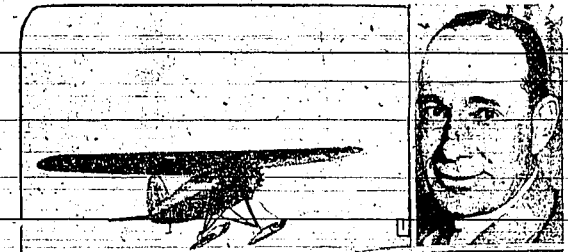

Mrs. Bridgman was the guest of honor at the Girl Reserves Mother and Daughter luncheon in the Presbyterian church. "On the Rainbow" was the theme of the banquet which was attended by about 100 women and girls. Tables were decorated with spring flowers and rainbow colored streamers. Miss Lulu Smith, president of the Girl Reserves of the Bull High school, presided at the banquet.

Mrs. Bridgman speaks Mrs. Bridgman gave an address of greeting to the girls and their mothers, stressing the importance of cooperation at the government had done in his talk to the boys and their fathers. Mrs. Bridgman was introduced by Miss Helen, advisor of the Girl Reserves club.

BASEBALL OUTLOOK FOR VANDALS TAKES UPSHOOT

University of Idaho Team Makes Strong Opening Season Showing.

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO, Moscow, April 13 (AP)—The Vandals' victory in four practice games during the Easter vacation has looked a decided upward shot as the conference season opens. Idaho won twelve from Lewiston Normal, 4-3 and 14-0 and twice from the University of Washington, 6-2 and 6-1. In all games Idaho played creditable opening-season baseball and displayed good hitting ability.

Idaho casualties in the practice games were heavy. Paul Hutchinson, a leading outfield candidate, received a broken finger and Carl Murray of Piler, regular third baseman, sprained an ankle so seriously he cannot play for some time. Loss of Murray necessitated a shift in the infield.

George Greene, Clatskanie, veteran second baseman, was moved to the first base position today on the squad, sent in to replace him. Two new pitchers showed up well on the trip. Everett Richardson, Boise, and Dean Kayler, Winchester, worked well with Lefty Grabner, New Plymouth, and Everett Lawrence, Jerome.

The only two veteran mainstays on the squad, Kayler is a righthander. Frank McMillin, Pocatello, now candidate for first base, was the most consistent hitter on the squad through Art Cheney, Millard, did the most spectacular work, getting two home runs, Sam Price, Malad, a newsmonger in the outfield, scored one home run—Wilford Walmaley, Parma, showed up well as a catcher when alternated with Cleland Sullivan, Rupert, veteran in this position from the 1927 season.

A Purity Flavor Which You Should Know and Value

Mary Beiler

Habit is a powerful thing. Weeding to ways, often just because they are old and because they are different. I am reminded of this by the question which so many women, using Carnation Milk for the first time, ask me: "Why has it different flavor?" Some of them even have the erroneous idea that weeding has been added to the milk to give it that distinctive flavor.

The rich flavor of Carnation Milk comes from just two things: it has twice the cream content of ordinary milk because it is prepared to double richness—and it is sterilized, so that its purity is safeguarded from the time the milk goes into the can until it goes into the custard or cream soup you are making.

The purest of milk in a modern, convenient form. Carnation is not "prepared" milk. It is just what the purest and sweetest high grade milk from selected herds, with no salt or sugar, has been added to the milk to make it a more compact, convenient form. It is doubly rich—and tastes so. The best of sterilization, which protects its purity—slightly caramelizes the natural milk sugar—and you taste this subtlearamel flavor. It is a guaranty of goodness—the distinctive flavor of pure, uniformly high grade milk—the milk on which you can depend for better cooking results.

Then even the best of bottled milk can't give you the deliciousness it imparts is due to its rich creaminess. Another part of the result of its "homogenization," by which the cream content is broken up into extra-fine particles, so that they will not separate when they do ordinarily, but will be distributed all through the milk, making the first sip so rich and creamy as the first. These extra-fine cream globules give a notably smooth texture to all dishes in which Carnation Milk is used. That is why you hear so much about the velvety soup and sauces, the smooth ice creams, the creamy fillings, the fine-textured cakes which Carnation Milk makes.

Carnation Milk is most convenient: you buy it in quantity and keep it without refrigeration. It is economical, too, saving on butter and cream and preventing waste by its dependable quality.

If you send for the Carnation Cook Book, it is free. Address: Carnation Milk Co., Dept. 100, Portland, Ore. 600-26, 9th St., Boise.

Carnation Chocolate Ice Cream

1 cup sugar, few grains salt, 4 cups Carnation Milk, 2 1/2 cups chocolate, 3 eggs, 1 tsp. vanilla. Heat milk, add 3 eggs, 1 tsp. vanilla—slightly caramelizes the natural milk sugar—and you taste this subtlearamel flavor. It is a guaranty of goodness—the distinctive flavor of pure, uniformly high grade milk—the milk on which you can depend for better cooking results.

The Jeweler

Wonderful, isn't it, to have available anywhere, any time, a milk so pure, so richly creamy, so uniform in quality, so dependable as Carnation MILK? It's simply the best of milk—evaporated—double richness and sterilized for safekeeping.
