PRESIDENTIAL VETO MEASURE DECISIVE

Senate Fails by Four Votes to Re-Pass Farm Bill

WASHINGTON, May 25 (AP)—President Coolidge and the senate came to grips today on his veto of the McNary-Haugen farm relief bill and the measure was passed by a vote of 31 to 29.

The vote was 31 to 29 to sustain the veto. A switch of four votes would have passed the measure, and the lack of a bill to eliminate any prospect of farm relief legislation at this session.

Senator Fordyce, Republican Oregon, today said that he had voted for the measure, but that he would seek to have a bill re-passed without the equalization fee, he felt "by the action of the veto it seems the president has even foreclosed that avenue, which might have benefited some of the farmers."

It was the first showdown between congress and the president on the McNary-Haugen relief bill, which troubled congress several years before it finally got the measure to the White House last year. At that time Mr. Coolidge wrote a veto message almost as stinging as the one which returned the legislation again.

Party lines were split on the veto. 19 Republicans and 20 Democrats voted to sustain it, while 20 Democrats and 19 Republicans voted against it.

FOUL BALLS

By Judge

What a tough one that was to lose. You can't have a foul ball on that last one it would have won the game. But these 16 don't seem to count in the war and the column.

Cam'll hit lost any of his ability to field. And Lynn was working with him yesterday like clockwork. Twice the south-paw first baseman threw his arm over the fence.

Let the thing which Cam'll fielded the ball. Lynn Robinson took two.

All Bobby Coltrin needs for his dig-out crew is a yell leader. Made more noise than the bleachers and then they must all smoke the right brand of cigarettes for their voices never failed.

The longhairs heaved a nice game of ball and it looks like the break-out for him. Most anything would have won that game.

Jim Lyke snared one of those things when he caught one against the screen. And then he dropped it. But the umpire had called the batter out and let it go at that.

The working crew couldn't get the willows yesterday but the other boys gathered enough base hits to win the ball game.

And today is another day, even if yesterday was yesterday and it looks like the Wellbans would climb the hill for the Bruins.

About half the Bruins are suffering with a tonsil infection of some kind and the skipper discarded the water bucket to stop the spread. And Johann Walters is all tied up with old friend Charley horse until he can't hardly move.

About the only thing good about it is that it is early in the season. Once the boys get back in shape they ought to stay barring accidents.

Let's get out there and see if we can take one this afternoon. Don't forget the double-header Sunday.

BEES BEAT BRUINS IN FIRST GAME OF SERIES, SCORE 3-1

Rodriguez Pitches Winning Ball but Three Errors Allow Trio of Scores; Leardmen Threaten in Seventh and Ninth.

Twin Falls Bruins lost a tough one to the Salt Lake Bees yesterday, 3 to 1. Rodriguez, on the hill for Twin Falls, pitched winning ball but three errors allowed as many runs to cross the pan. Although his team mates thrived in the seventh and ninth innings they could not earn the necessary tally to tie the score. Glynn for the Bees, heaved a nice brand of ball and received marvelous support. He allowed 12 safe ones but kept them pretty well scattered.

Bruins Score First in Third
The Bruins scored first in the third when Allen singled and stole second. Lyke fanned but Rodriguez was safe when Tedewich juggled his ground ball. Benjamin singled to score Rodriguez. Dwyer whiffed. Fitzgerald drew a walk but died on base when Walters swung at three without result. The Bruins could not score another tally until the seventh. Then Peterson drew a walk and Allen singled to send him to second. Lyke singled and the Bees were filled. Peterson holding third. Rodriguez rapped out a single and Peterson and Allen scored. Lyke was caught out stealing and Dwyer fanned to end the inning.

Big Chance in Ninth
In the eighth Peterson doubled and Coleman singled. Pete stopped at third and the next three went out in order. The big chance came in the ninth when Rodriguez singled again after Allen had filed out and Benjamin singled. Dwyer whiffed. Cammilli for the second out and Fitzgerald rapped out a single to score Rodriguez. Walters was up with the winning run on it; he leaved off one which Jones rapped to the left center fence to catch, ending the hopes of the Bruins faithful.

Tally in Fourth
The Bees tallied first in the fourth. Woodson singled and Cammilli sacrificed him to second. Hellegren to score Woodson and Ant hit to score Nelson. Keane hit a roller to Rodriguez who threw to Ant at second. Hand ended the agony by hitting into a double play. Glynn rapped a hit over the man hit fence for another tally in the fifth. Cammilli singled as first man up in the sixth. Nelson grounded to Fitzgerald. Cammilli solved the riddle. Ant singled to score Cammilli and Ant was caught trying to go to second on the throw in the play. Peterson to Allen to Dwyer. Keane flied out and the season. In the seventh Hand walked and Glynn sacrificed him to score Tedewich grounded out to shut the door on another tally in the eighth. Fitzgerald grounded out. Rodriguez threw. Woodson was hit and Cammilli walked to fill the bases. Nelson filed out to end the frame. Rodriguez had little trouble disposing of the side in the last two innings.

BUSINESS WOMEN'S CONVENTION ENDS; NEXT IN BLACKFOOT

Federation president, presented character talks at Rehring, Wandall and Morrison.

Much of the afternoon session yesterday was taken up with reading reports from the clubs represented. All showed progress and progressive spirit.

Urges Harmony in Work Women's club members are urged to work in harmony and cooperation in club work.

"If you find something wrong, let your criticism be constructive," she advised. "Tell the person whom you think is making a mistake about it in a kindly way," she continued, "and then suggest the remedy. Probably when you get to this point you will not send your criticism. I know many things that I think are not as good as they should be that I do not know how to improve. Give your officers whole-hearted instead of casual support. If they write asking you for information, and you haven't it, write and say you do not know. Do not leave them in ignorance as to whether you know or not. All work together and 'quit'—quit or 'take'—take ourselves.

Many Bids for Convention Invitations for the 1929 convention were received from Blackfoot, St. Anthony, Caldwell, Boise and Payette Lakes. The numerous advantages set forth in behalf of each of these places were considered at length by the board of directors with the result that Blackfoot won. The directors voted to submit a constitutional amendment to the effect that delegates attending any state convention who were compelled to leave before election of officers, look place, might vote seven ballots before leaving and have them counted.

Permissibility Debated Whether this was permissible or not was debated on the floor yesterday in connection with the casting of five votes which were left pending. The constitution forbids voting by proxy, but it is not clear in regard to voting sealed ballots. The convention voted to allow the ballots to be counted and allow the matter of permanent policy to be determined later.

Morning and Noon An emblem breakfast at the club rooms opened the morning activities yesterday. The morning business session was occupied with a round-table discussion of club mechanics led by Miss Naomi Fraker, Pocatello and with routine matters.

At noon, lunch and luncheon "It Pays to Advertise" at the parlors of the Methodist-Episcopal church, at which the civic organizations of the city were represented. Miss Mary Robinson was toastmaster. DIPLOMAS AWARDED TO 167 GRADUATES AT COMMENCEMENT

"Man Builds Own World," Says Professor Chenoweth; Second Outdoor Program Ever Held Seniors in Caps and Gowns

Each individual creates his own world and the concrete result is the world, was the gist of the lecture on the topic, "The World We Live In," given by O. W. Chenoweth, Moscow, president of Phi Kappa Phi, at the commencement of Twin Falls high school. The exercises were held at 10 o'clock Friday morning in the city park, the second outdoor commencement in the history of the school. Diplomas were granted to 167 seniors. Nature and the weather man smiled on the graduates and formed a setting of cloudless skies combined with the verdure of grass and trees which added to the beauty of the ceremony. The gray of the seniors caps and gowns. The graduating class appeared in caps and gowns for the first time this year.

Following the commencement address, Ivan Wall presented to the high school on behalf of the senior class new curtains for the lower windows of the school auditorium which will make possible effective stage lighting during daylight. Rex Dibble was the recipient of the Whitman college, Walla Walla, scholarship awarded to the outstanding member of the graduating class who surpassed in scholarship, general development and good fellowship. Miss Phyllis Evans received the $250 scholarship offered by the Twin Falls high school Athletic club to the most representative senior girl. W. B. Smith, superintendent of schools, made the awards. Miss Jean Sweeley was chosen to receive the $100 scholarship award of the American Association of University Women which was presented by Mrs. A. J. Feavey. Misses Barbara Jane Probst and Elma Rowberry were chosen as second and third alternates respectively.

Members of the graduating class were presented by U. N. Terry, principal of the high school, to W. J. Sackett, chairman of the board of school trustees, who presented the diplomas. History contains the record of men who have earned the titles of world builders," Professor Chenoweth stated early in his lecture. "The common man who is never named on the front page of the newspaper and who leads a secluded, obscure life is no less a world builder. "Every man builds the world he lives in, and he alone is responsible for the type of world it is," the speaker asserted. "Man's world is of three-fold structure: physical, social and spiritual. In the physical world, the implement with which man builds is intellect. In the social, sympathy. In the spiritual, faith and hope."

Intellect Brings Order "Life is just one thing after another," said the speaker. "Intellect," stated Mr. Chenoweth, "intellect is that quality in an individual which enables him to see the numerical relation between things. It is the causal chain which leads to an orderly existence governed by law, not as

BY ROBERT GUDLEIN

"I guess my Sunday school teacher thinks I wasn't polite not to pick up her handkerchief. But you can't see over an 'attract' your pants to the jurors to bring in a sealed verdict should one be arrived at."

Intelligence enables man to harness the powers of nature and bid them do his will. "Intellect is a powerful force, but with intellect alone man may still be lonely as the Sphinx," the speaker said. "Man craves association with his fellows, and the result is the construction of a social world. Man's special equipment for this world is sympathy, that quality which enables him to project thought into everything and everyone about him."

Pity Is Ambition "Do not confuse sympathy with pity," the professor warned. "Pity is a virtue, it is an ambition. One can't pity the fellow who holds a higher position in life's scale than one's own. To pity is to look down on someone less fortunate, to pity is to desire to place one's self above one's associates."

Intelligence and other institutions of our nation find their origin in the people. If there is any evil in these institutions, it is but the evil of the average man of our nation, multiplied 115,000,000 times. Professor Chenoweth believes that the little he, he thinks, to change the institutions until its elements, the individual members of society, are changed.

Attitude Molds Society "Society is a product of our own attitude," stated the speaker. "The man need not be a scoundrel, to desire to crook, because I see him crookedly," the professor continued. "Don't become a cynic, a man who has become ignorant through experience. Better to be deceived by a dishonest man than to misjudge an honest man."

Reinforcing the social world is the spiritual world in which man's aids are faith and hope. The spiritual world reaches back beyond the beginning and stretches out into the future beyond the end. Life is hedged about by everywhere-by things beyond the grasp of the intellect.

World Gives Test "Faith and hope are a mighty combination which clears the pathway of life so that man may look down into eternity and see only good," the speaker said.

KOTO DAMAGE SUIT GOES TO JURORS

Defendant Testifies He Was Travelling at Slow Rate of Speed When Mishap Occurred

The $100,000 suit of Me and Mrs. Harrison, complainants, against Koto for the death of their son, an accident of their 10-year-old son, was submitted to the jury in district court here at 6:30 o'clock last evening with instructions to the jurors to bring in a sealed verdict should one be arrived at.

Testifying in his own behalf, Koto said that he had been driving at the rate of about 20 miles an hour when he approached three boys who were playing with a wagon on the right side of the road. He sounded his horn, he said, and when they paid no attention, he slackened speed to about 15 miles an hour and tried to pass to the left. When a few feet from the wagon, the little Correll boy took his wagon and ran in front of his car, where he was struck before the auto could be stopped.

He stopped the car, he said, as soon as possible and put the child on a car headed toward the hospital. Two women who were following testified that Mr. Koto's car was not traveling at a greater speed than 20 miles an hour.
