FARM RELIEF ISSUE COMES TO COPUS IN

REPUBLICAN SESSION

Western Farmers in Kansas City to Press Demands for Plank to Help Agriculture

(By The Associated Press)
KANSAS CITY, June 9—Seven years of controversy over a question which has stirred the Republican party a few issues have, will come to a focus

A determined group of Middle Western farm leaders are here to press their demands for a declaration in the party platform for relief along lines

Nary-Haugen bill. On the other side is the administration with its more moderate proposal for solution of the problem.

Post-War Issue

Beginning in the post-war days the corn belt, when land values tumbled and the cost of living soared. The question how the farmer could be aided in producing and marketing his crops with profit found a natural expression in politics and there it has

The problem presented by two presidential vetoes of bills designed by farm organizations and pushed through congress twice by their farmers, along with the failure of the administration to produce any relief acceptable to those interests, thus I handed down to this convention, in which the forces supporting the position of President Coolidge still are determined to oppose what they regard as radical and unconstitutional

One Candidacy Concerned
The presidential candidacy of at least one man is directly concerned with the farm disturbance.
He is Frank O. Lowden, who, seven months before President Coolidge is

Chief Difficulty Appears to Be Drafting of Declaration for Relief of Agriculture

KANSAS CITY, June 9 (AP)—Republican party platform makers sharpened their tools today to work on the delicate farm relief plank which seemed to be the hub of their present worries.

in drafting a declaration for agricultural aid which would meet the views of the agrarian leaders of the militant Middle West and at the same time carry an endorsement of President Coolidge's veto of the McNary-

Many drafts of the farm plank had been submitted to Senator Smoot of Utah, who is to head the platform-making committee, the latest being the administration's proposal which was gone over today by Secretary Jarpartment and the veteran Utah senator conferred on the subject for more than an hour, but the only statement forthcoming was that apparently the administration was satisfied with the tentative draft worked out.

Radicals Follow Lowden
While the more radical of the farm leaders—were expected to follow—former Governor Frank O. Lowden, who argued unequivocally here today for an equalization fee declaration, other Leaders in the farm movement were ready to forget that. As a result there was a growing feeling of confidence that the problem could be worked out in the committee with a final fight on the convention floor thus averted. Senator Borah, Idaho, a member of the committee, who declared months ago for a plank mentioning the eighteenth amendment, was on his way to Kansas City with a plank which would declare specifically for the rigid enforcement of the prohibition provision of the constitution and he had declared he would fight for that if he had to go to the floor of the convention. Others said the prohibition plank would endorse the Washington declaration that all portions of the constitution must be enforced alike which also is included in the Borah draft.

Before leaving the national capital, Senator Borah stated that three of the candidates for the presidential nomination had endorsed his draft as prepared after consultation with some of his senate colleagues supporting practically all of the candidates now in the field.

Foreign Affairs Enter
There may be a controversy over portions of the declaration on foreign affairs as Senator Borah, who is chairman of the senate foreign relations committee, proposes to press for a plank which, while not specifically mentioning Nicaragua, would declare against interference by the United States in the political affairs of other nations, such as the supervising of elections.

Some leaders will ask for planks reaffirming the stand against American entry in the League of Nations and setting forth that American adherence to the protocol of the world court could be possible only with the reservations which the senate approved and which are regarded as essential to the protection of American interests.

The foreign affairs plank as written by Borah in consultation with the state department is believed to contain a straight-out declaration for outlawry of war with an endorsement of the treaty policies of the Coolidge administration.

ENTRANTS IN COMPETITIVE TRAP SHOOT TO CONCLUDE EVENT ON GUN CLUB GROUNDS

Finals in the Twin Falls News trap shoot will be shot off this morning at the Twin Falls Rod and Gun club grounds, where extensive improvements have been made during the week in preparation for the state tournament to be held here June 14, 15, 16 and 17. Alvin Harbison will be a score of 117, level shooters who have broken 100 birds as required by the rules of the tournament. He is closely pressed for second place by John DeKlois who scored his 100 birds in 118. A. Thompson, with a score of 91 for the first 75 birds, could squeeze into second place by going straight this morning on the final 25.

The following is the standing of all shooters in the tournament:
100 birds:
Alvin Harbison 115
John DeKlois 118
75 birds:
A. C. Thompson 91
Charles Larson 89

BASEBALL "BIG SIX"
Rogers Hornsby extracted only a home run and single from two games against the first of Boston yesterday and saw his batting average fall to .445.

Many other players would like to fall to the same figure. The rally remained safely in the lead of the "big six," even though Paul Waner was four hits in the game.

The Cardinals' batting average is a bit harder now. Waner picked up his lead after batting .444 for the day.

Frank Frisch broke out with two home runs and a single yesterday, but had a barren afternoon and quit Cleveland with nothing but his teeth.

REPUBLICANS BEGIN BALLOTING IN FIVE DAYS FOR NOMINEES

Gavel Will Call Meeting to Order Tuesday Morning at 11 o'Clock; Thursday Sees Fireworks; Fess First Speaker.

(By The Associated Press)
KANSAS CITY, June 9.—Balloting for the Republican presidential committee will start on Thursday, the third day of the convention, if the assembly follows precedent and the tentative program outlined today by its officers.

Chairman William M. Butler, of the Republican national committee, will rap the gavel formally opening the quadrennial meeting at 11 o'clock. Central standard time, on Tuesday morning. Tuesday and Wednesday will be given over to the time-honored procedure of settling up tentative and then permanent organizations.

Fireworks Thursday.
Thursday should see the fireworks. Members of the national committee for the next four years will be formally ratified and then the roll will be called for nominating speeches. There will be plenty of them because there are plenty of candidates. After the nominating speeches will come the second.

No set time is in mind for the start of balloting but it is the belief that it may come late Thursday. That's where the prepared program ends. Republicans have a reputation for quick decisions. Only six times in 164 conventions has the party required more than one ballot to select a nominee.

Senator Simon D. Fess, Ohio, will hold the spotlight on the opening day which will be devoted largely to the delivery of his keynote address. On the appointment of temporary officers by Chairman Butler, he will occupy the first day of the convention.

The first day's program follows:
10 A. M. to 11—Music.
11 A. M.—Call to order by Chairman Butler.
Prayer.
Singing of America, probably led by Madame Schumann-Reink.
Temporary roll call.
Reading of convention call by Roy O. West, secretary of the national committee.

Address by Chairman Butler proposing the tentative chairman, Senator Fess.
Keynote address.
Appointment of temporary officers and committees by Chairman Butler.

Fess Temporary Chairman.
Senator Fess will call the convention "to order" on the "second" day when the permanent organization will be set up. Senator Moses Nease, Hampshire, is in line for the office of permanent chairman—with the reputation of reports of the committees, including the presentation of a platform by the resolutions committee, headed by Senator Smoot, Utah, the convention will be ready for business. Adjournment will be taken under the tentative plan, until Thursday upon the completion of the organization.

Politicians widely say that anything can happen in a convention and beyond the first two days leaders emphasize that the program is "tentative." Even after a presidential nominee is selected, the convention must choose a vice president and the optimistic don't expect an ending of the show before Friday.

were being cared for in the Patrick ranch house. Bridges and Sellers up for the testimony of Frank Nichols, a cowboy, who said he met Bridges and Sellers after he had ridden to three creeks to call a doctor for the wounded ranchers.

White, the physician, testified that the Patrick ranch was in "section" of Van-Whitesides, husband of Mrs. Whitesides. On arriving there he learned of the tragedy and was immediately dispatched horseback for a doctor.

In three creeks he met Bridges and Sellers and was told by Bridges that "Sellers shot city" and they were going to Twin Falls to give themselves up.

Nichols said he persuaded them to wait until the sheriff came from Twin Falls as he was already on the way.

Patrick replied "No" when asked if he or Ludlow returned the fire of Sellers and Bridges. Mrs. Whitesides testified that she followed her husband to the ranch with testimony similar to her own.

A half dozen witnesses were paraded before the jury in an attempt to explain the presence of two pistols mentioned in the case. According to Mrs. Whitesides, one pistol, which her husband told her was Patrick's, fell from the bed in the Patrick house ranch when they were gathered bedding to bed in the truck before going for the wounded men out in the field.

Another pistol was carried by Needles when he made the rounds of the ranches to secure help. Whitesides declared the pistol contained three empty cartridges and two loaded ones. Whitesides was recalled to the stand and testified that he took the pistol from Patrick's car and that a blood stain upon it came there accidentally when he was assisting to place the two wounded men in the truck.

A wave of serious trouble if any one tries to straddle on the farm issue emanated from no less a leader than former governor Lowden. Within an hour after his arrival in the convention city, and in the middle of a continuing series of conferences with party leaders, Mr. Lowden told newspapermen that he was insisting that the only solution of the farm problem lay in the equalization fee, twice rejected by President Coolidge.

French Soldier in World War Student In Battle Trenches

PARIS, June 9 (AP)—Shel and his classmates attended the trenches during the war, but Gaston Bachard, a postal employee, went on studying with his feet in the mud and he has just been awarded the Croix de Guerre by the Academy of Moral and Political Sciences.

The award was made for two months during which he was in the trenches. He was a postal employee and his doctor's degree in philosophy.

Bachard had only a common school education when he was called to the colors in 1914, but he took some books with him, and between battles he absorbed so much learning that he was made a professor in a provincial university soon after the war.

Cost of Living Worrying Beggars

STAMBOUL, Turkey, June 9 (AP)—Stamboul beggars are demanding higher wages.

In a recent meeting of mendicants representing all districts of the city, the beggars are demanding that the cost of living has increased, according to latest reports, 2,174 per cent since 1914, and that there has been some commensurate increase in salaries in all other professions and industries save that of begging, the standard offering from the public still being the lowest denomination in Turkish currency—10 paras or about one-eighth of a cent.

With this fight in mind, one inquirer brought up the "coalition movement among candidates which seems to be going to the question of agriculture, and making the road to the nomination."

"I don't know anything about that," the former governor replied. "I just got in this morning. I haven't chosen to read the newspapers."

"But you are delighted to see the newspapermen?" volunteered one visitor as the group straggled to the room, to make way for those waiting outside.

"Yes, they are all right," said Lowden, laughing. "If the newspapermen couldn't write up my staff, the room, to make way for those waiting outside."

RUMANIAN HUSBAND HAS MARITAL ROW

Carl Hartfelder Is Under Arrest for Alleged Battery on Wife Who Asks for Divorce

Carl Hartfelder, native of Rumania, is in jail here charged with being alleged to have committed on the person of his wife, Mrs. Matilda Hartfelder, June 5 in Twin Falls, and will be arraigned Monday. His wife yesterday instituted divorce proceedings through her attorneys, Parker and Taylor, after having previously sworn to a complaint against her husband in the probate court.

According to the complaint in the divorce suit, the couple married in Rumania, November 21, 1903, and have three sons, William, 17; Herbert, 15; and Eldridge, 13. More than a year ago the wife declares, Carl began to grow lazy and to refuse to do anything to support the family. It is asserted that he also became discreditable. On June 5, it is stated, when she asked him to get work and earn something, he knocked her down and would have inflicted severe bodily injury but for the intervention of the boy, Herbert. Hartfelder denies that he struck his wife at any time during their married life or that he was drunk to her, but says he pushed her on June 5.

Bellamy in Best Characterization

What is said to be the best characterization of her career is given by Madge Bellamy in her latest stellar role of "The Play Girl." Fox Films feature release to the Orpheum theatre for today and tomorrow.

"The Play Girl" is a comedy romance of a young shop girl who love for luxury leads her to accept the attention and gifts of a wealthy man-about-town, played by Walter McGrath. But in time she falls in love with a young westerner, business man played by Johnny Mack Brown, and all ends happily for everybody concerned.

This production reveals the gold digger, not as a cold-blooded adventurer, but a healthy-minded girl who enjoys the chase as a hunter enjoys his sport.

This is said to be a happy story of youth with much laughter and not a few thrills.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

M. J. Sweeley Seeks Nomination for Senate; O. P. Duval

Would Be County Attorney;
Windle for Commissioner.

The second day for filing candidates' nominations yesterday brought three new aspirants for public office into the political arena in Twin Falls county.

Senator M. J. Sweeley, pioneer Twin Falls attorney, made definite declaration of his candidacy for the Republican nomination for the state senate where he served this county in the tenth session nearly 20 years ago. Judge O. P. Duval, Twin Falls attorney and former probate judge and state senator, came out for the Republican nomination for prosecuting attorney, and T. J. Windle, an early settler of this county who is serving a second term as a member of Twin Falls city council, announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for county commissioner for the second district.

Comes as Surprise
Senator Sweeley's decision to become a candidate for the state senate came as a distinct surprise to most political observers. He was the Republican candidate in 1910 for attorney general of the state, and it was surmised in some quarters that he might ask for recognition on the state ticket this year. He has kept his counsel largely to himself, however, but stated last evening that he had made up his mind to announce his candidacy after conferring with a number of personal friends. Senator Sweeley's record as a legislator includes service in the Iowa legislature years before coming to Twin Falls in January, 1908. He was elected to the state senate from Twin Falls county in 1908 and served during the tenth session in 1909.

Contest Expected
Announcement of Judge Duval's candidacy for the county attorney's office was not unexpected, while the general supposition is that a contest will be staged in the Republican camp for the nomination. Judge Duval has been resident in this county since 1910, and was elected to serve four terms as probate judge of the county prior to his election in 1924 to the state senate.

Mr. Windle, filing for the Democratic nomination for county commissioner, is aspiring to an office in which he has had considerable experience, having served for nine years as a commissioner of Lane county, Kansas, from which office he resigned to come to Idaho in the early days of the Twin Falls country.

COURT ORDERS FATHER TO SUPPORT CHILDREN

For the support of three minor children, custody of which had been given to his wife, Celia Swepe, in a judgment for divorce decreed by Judge W. A. Babcock. The district court ordered Swepe to pay his divorced wife $15 a month about a year and a half ago, and the testimony indicated that he had not done so. Swepe tried to renege the terms of the divorce case but failed to impress the court. However, he was paroled to give him a chance to earn money to comply with the order of the district court about payment of alimony.

LODGE MEN AND WOMEN TO OBSERVE MEMORIAL

Odd Fellows and Rebekahs to Hold Ceremony at Cemetery and Attend Church Service.

In observance of the annual Memorial service for the members of the lodge, the Odd Fellows and Rebekahs will assemble here to decorate with flowers the graves of annual members in Twin Falls cemetery, and thereafter to attend services at the Christian church.

T. J. Lloyd, past noble grand, and Irvin Clay, chaplain, are to have charge of the ritualistic ceremony that is to be held at the cemetery. A program of music appropriate to the occasion has been arranged in connection with the church services. The sermon will be delivered by Rev. C. C. Curtis, a member of the order. Members of both lodges are to meet at 9 a. m. today at Odd Fellows hall, forced wife $15 a month about a year and a half ago, and the testimony indicated that he had not done so. Swepe tried to renege the terms of the divorce case but failed to impress the court. However, he was paroled to give him a chance to earn money to comply with the order of the district court about payment of alimony.

Invitation is extended to all members of both lodges and visiting members to take part in the observance of the day with the Twin Falls lodge.

JUNK HOUSE INJUNCTION DISSOLVED UPON APPEAL

Supreme Court Holds That Evidence Is Insufficient to Show Law Violated.

Injunction in behalf of the Twin Falls Junk house imposed on the Idaho Junk house in this city about two years ago, has been dissolved by the supreme court in a matter of Shad L. Hodgins of Twin Falls and Barber and Barber of Boise, representing the defendants. The opinion of the supreme court, handed down by Justice T. Bailey Lee, was received yesterday at the office of the clerk of the court here.

The Twin Falls Junk house was in business here for some time, when in 1924 the Idaho Junk house, previously in business in Boise and elsewhere, opened up a branch in Twin Falls. About two years later the Twin Falls company brought action under the fair trading act for $2500 damages, which under the Idaho damage provision meant $18750 for alleged loss said to be due to unfair trading methods of the Idaho Junk house and also alleged that the respondents had obtained from industry in unfair practices.

The defendant denied that it had indulged in unfair practices or trading. The jury found for the plaintiff and assessed the damage at $1, which meant $3 under the treble damage section. Judge Babcock, made the temporary injunction permanent, following the receipt of verdict from the jury. The junk house, appealed from the verdict and the order of court, but later dismissed its appeal from the order making the injunction permanent. The supreme court held that the evidence produced was insufficient to prove violation of the unfair trading statute and dissolved the injunction with a Latin quotation relative to the size of the verdict which very liberally translated means "that the law does not take trifles into account."

Dollar Bills Marked Down from $2.75 to $1.50

A New York Store ran an excellent advertisement the other day with the caption:

Very Handsome Dollar Bills
Were $2.75 Each — Now Only $1.50

and the first paragraph stated that if money were sold in stores no sensible person would buy a dollar bill for $1.50 simply because the storekeeper had once priced it $2.75.

This is exactly what we have tried to tell you about our No Sale Policy. We could, of course, mark our merchandise twice as high and later on mark it down to a normal price, but we don't do business that way. That would be selling you a Dollar Bill for $1.50, wouldn't it?

HOHENZOLLERN TRIES BEE RAISING IN GUATEMALA

and son of the former Kaiser's brother, Prince Henry, is determined to be master of his own fate and to create an existence for himself in Guatemala.

The price's career has been a thorny one. While his older brother was content to remain on his father's estate at Himmelmarm after the revolution, Sigmund immediately cast about for an occupation. He first became manager of the Gautschi-mala-branch of Schlusbach-Sapper and company, Hamburg importers.

And wife, the Princess of Sachsen-Altenburg.

After a year and a half he ventured out again for Guatemala. The second child had meanwhile been born. In Guatemala he bought a piece of land and tried to induce the natives to cultivate it. He and the Princess personally felled trees and cleared the ground.

But the exertion proved too great, and Sigismund wrote his father that he would try next to raise bees. Prince Henry admires his son's pluck and determination but is worried that the bee venture may be the last of the last venture of Sigismund's fortune.

IDAHO STUDENTS OF OIL POSSIBILITIES WELCOME ACTIVITY

Retiring Dean of Idaho School of Mines Points to Reports Indicating Favorable Conditions in Southeast.

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO, Moscow, June 9.—Activity of the Standard Oil company of California in oil prospecting in Bonneville county and press reports that the Mid West Oil company, another big concern, constantly on the lookout for possible new fields, is about to enter this same area, are extremely welcome developments to those who have been studying the petroleum possibilities of Idaho, declares Dr. Francis A. Thomson, retiring dean of the Idaho school of mines and directing secretary of the Idaho state bureau of mines and geology. In numerous reports published by the bureau since it commenced its study of the oil possibilities of the state about nine years ago the bureau geologists have indicated that formations in parts of southeastern Idaho, notably in the Bonneville, Bingham, Teton and Caribou county districts, are sufficiently favorable to justify exploration by concerns financially able to launch prospecting projects of a large, comprehensive scope.

The general conclusion of the bureau's studies in southeastern Idaho oil prospects, most of which were conducted by Prof. Virgil R. D. Kirkham, geologist with the Idaho school of mines, were that the formations which have produced oil abundantly in Wyoming, and to a considerable extent in Montana, are evidently present in abundance in a considerable portion of the state close to the Wyoming boundary line. "Careful geologic work by members of the bureau staff has demonstrated that there are certain structures in which the accumulation of oil from these formations might conceivably take place," explains Dr. Thomson.

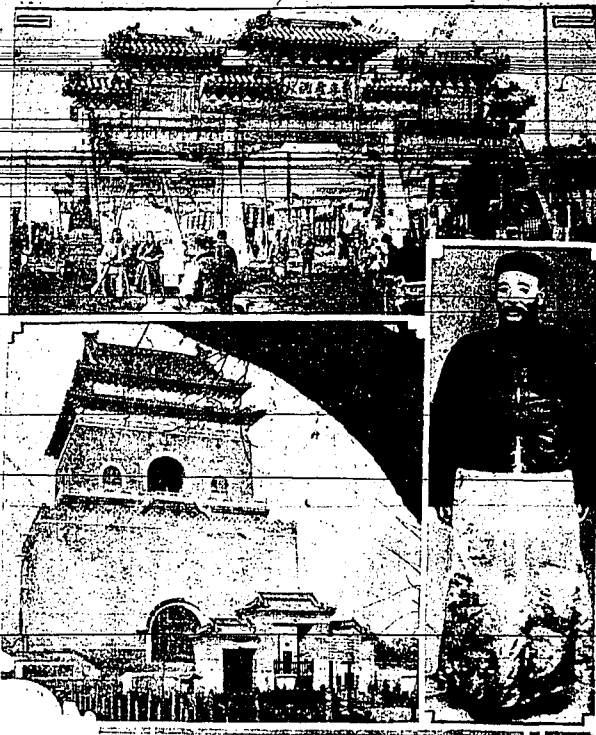

Influenced by Outlook
Geologists of the Standard Oil company, who spent some time in the field before recommending that drilling equipment be shipped in, have indicated that their company's entrance was largely in response to the promising outlook pictured by the bureau geologists in their reports on the area. Moreover, the drilling operations are shaping along lines suggested by the bureau geologists as most logical and feasible.

Opinion of Dr. Thomson is that a big concern alone possesses the resources necessary to test thoroughly the petroleum possibilities of the southeast. In an oil bulletin appearing in 1924 he said that in most instances no test well should be started without sufficient financial backing to go at least 2500 feet deep. "Neglect of this precaution in adjacent areas has led to the abandonment of wells before structures have been adequately tested, resulting not only in total financial loss, but also in undesirable and unjustified reflection on the area involved," he said. The attitude of the company entering the southern Idaho field indicates that they will continue the project until they have proved or disproved the area.

In one of his studies of the southeastern Idaho area, Professor Kirkham said: "The area may be rated as a prospective area. It includes structures which deserve testing, in which the business risk is relatively high but where there are good speculative chances. The chances for loss as well as the amount of gain would probably be much greater here than those involved in drilling on similar structures in a proven field."

Favorable Factors
Discussing petroleum possibilities of some of the more favorable formations in Teton and Caribou counties, in a report issued in 1922, Professor Kirkham pointed out many favorable

Essex Mirrors public choice

No matter where you hold your mirror to the cities, it will show, with slight variations, the same overwhelming Essex preference. It is a preference more outstanding than was ever held in the 6-cylinder field in all automobile history.

World's Greatest Value altogether or part by part

To know the overpowering conviction of greatest value held by Essex owners is merely to see Essex beauty, to examine Essex quality, to sit inside and feel Essex comfort—to ride and know Essex performance.

Here is the simple and sovereign answer to the question of automobile satisfaction.

The ideal transportation achieved in the Greatest Essex Super-Six was long foreshadowed in the series of individual superiorities by which Essex towered above the field. Its vivid brilliance of performance reveals in a single ride a smoothness and quiet, a road-skimming ease and soaring exhilaration that is actually like flying.

Greater in power, more versatile in all performance, larger, roomier and more beautifully appointed, the New Essex Super-Six gloriously earns its richer reward in the greatest popularity of Essex history.

commended," says Dr. Thomson. "The bureau is particularly pleased that its efforts in directing attention toward natural resources of the state worthy of investigation with a view of development have attracted some of the country's largest oil companies. These companies are prepared to spend large sums to give the country a thorough test and their determination is thoroughly justified by geologic conditions as bureau geologists have pointed out in their reports over a number of years. No geologists, however, can guarantee that oil will be found even when the geologic conditions are favorable but he can usually guarantee of her uncle, Calvin MacDowell, that oil will not be found where there are no geologic conditions are unfavorable." OUR BEST CUSTOMER IS THE CAR OWNER

This organization contemplates with satisfaction the splendid volume of new car business which it has done with Buick cars this season.

But it feels a greater pride in contemplating the satisfaction enjoyed by those who bought cars in former seasons and are still happy in the ownership of them.

Every year we add to our facilities for serving the one who has bought a car from us. We aim to assure the owner not only quality of workmanship and material in the car, but economy of performance and upkeep.

Parts, accessories, all that is covered by the very broad term service, exist here to serve the car owner in such fashion that every day he drives his Buick is a good day.

CONOCO Ethyl Gasoline stands head and shoulders above all other motor fuels in this market. True, it has its imitators. Jogging along behind every outstanding product are the "Me Toos" and the "Just as Goods." But in the final analysis, Conoco Ethyl Gasoline sets the standard of motor fuel performance.

The veiled charges that Ethyl Fluid is destructive to engine parts are, of course, ridiculous. Any intelligent motorist knows that the Conoco name would never be associated with any product which was other than a real contribution to motoring satisfaction.

Conoco has a reputation to maintain and it does it as never before in offering you Conoco Ethyl Gasoline—the fuel of extra knockless miles.

The Traffic Officer

If every car owner used Champion Spark Plugs there would be fewer traffic jams due to cars stalling.

Champion is the better spark plug because it has an exclusive diamond insulator specially treated to withstand the much higher temperatures of the modern high-compression engine. Also a new patented solid copper center electrode absolutely resistant to under high compression. Special anode electrodes which assure a fast spark-gap under all driving conditions.
