Senator Borah's Planks Get Committee Approval

No Equalization Fee In Tentative Draft

Idahoan's Proposal for Enforcement of Eighteenth Amendment Favorable

(By The Associated Press) KANSAS CITY, June 13.—The Republican convention platform committee tonight voted against any mention of the equalization fee in the farm relief plank, accepting the tentative draft of the plank that had been proposed by the subcommittee of 15.

The committee also approved the Borah plank declaring for specific enforcement of the Eighteenth amendment.

This practically cleared up all the points in dispute and indicated that the committee probably would adjourn shortly.

It is expected that the fight over the farm relief plank will be renewed when the platform formally is submitted on the convention floor tomorrow.

Party leaders have declared that the fight for the equalization fee principle was one to the finish and that they would not give up until every recourse for its adoption had been employed.

Senator Borah, Idaho, said that the farm relief plank had been approved by a vote of about 35 to 15 and that the law enforcement plank had been adopted by a viva voce vote with only a few opposing it.

Borah added that the plank declared in favor of the publication of campaign expenses also had been adopted by a viva voce vote.

The farm relief plank also was approved by the resolutions committee.

JURY CONSIDERING SILVER CITY CASE

Verdict to Be Rendered for Slaying of Clayton Patrick; Attorneys Clash Near Close

SILVER CITY, Idaho, June 13 (AP)—The case of Tom Bridges and Joe Sellers charged with the murder of Clayton Patrick and Elmer Ludlow, Three Creek ranchers, was placed in the hands of a jury this afternoon.

The jury consisted of 12 men and an alternate, retired at 4 o'clock instructed by Judge Dana E. Brink that they might bring in separate verdicts for the two defendants charging murder in the first degree to acquittal.

The verdict will be rendered specifically for the slaying of Patrick. Trial for the slaying of Ludlow being slated to follow the present one.

Accusations of testimony of testimony preceded the retirement of the jury, attorneys for both prosecution and defense assailing the truth of statements of various witnesses who have appeared during the week in which the trial has been in progress.

Accusations that Bridges and Sellers had grounds to suspect Patrick of cattle rustling were assailed by E. A. Walters, Twin Falls, special counsel for the state.

"Patrick was a man of means and had a taste of money," Walters declared, "and it is not surprising that he was the victim of a robbery which would not have been called except for the necessity of showing that her husband was in the habit of bringing home money."

KANSAS CITY, June 13 (AP)—A little old lady of 90, from Hastings, Neb., who had just arrived today "crashed the gate" of the Republican national convention.

She is Mrs. G. McCann, formerly of Turner, Kansas, and at 4 o'clock of convention hall today she pummed up at Seveant Julian Warnock six feet of height.

"I haven't a ticket," she said, "and I have no idea what the convention is for. Can I get in here?"

"You don't need one, mother," replied Warnock, and led the way to where attendants guarded a lane door. He whispered to them and there was a audible chorus of "sure."

COOLIDGE DEPARTS FOR SUMMER HOME

Chief Executive and First Lady of Land Board Private Car Hour Before Midnight

WASHINGTON, June 13 (AP)—President and Mrs. Coolidge left tonight for the summer White House in the lake region of northern Wisconsin.

The departure, which was postponed one day because of the illness of Mrs. Coolidge, found her still somewhat indisposed and she immediately retired after going aboard the train.

Mrs. Coolidge boarded their private car half an hour before the train's departure. Mrs. Coolidge walked to the car steps without assistance.

Condition Improved. Her condition was deemed by White House physicians to be improving.

If all the candidates for presidential nomination insist upon their names being presented to the convention and nominating and another speech made, there will still another heavy day after tomorrow facing the delegates.

BORAH ANTICIPATES CONTEST ON FLOOR

OVER FARM RELIEF

Idaho Senator Tired and Nervous After Nearly Two Days' Constant Wrangling Over Big Planks in Party's Platform.

(By The Associated Press) KANSAS CITY, June 13.—Senator William E. Borah believes the farm relief plank in the 1928 Republican platform faces a fight on the floor of the convention. In that event, he thinks, delegates in Kansas City will have to stay over at least until Friday night.

Tired and nervous after two days of wrangling over the platform, the senator from Idaho asked tonight as he snatched a hasty meal of corn-cob, bread and milk and ice cream.

"Why can't we hold these conventions like civilized human beings instead of barbarians, taking time to get together and trying to deliberate when we know we have brain fog?"

Gets Little Sleep. The senator had been sitting with the sub-committee on resolutions until 4 o'clock this morning and had not slept for more than three hours.

He was called for the grand which has continued all day today and may run into the small hours of tomorrow morning.

The senator seemed satisfied with committee action on most of his planks. That farm plank is understood to have been the chief reason for the prolonged sessions and very probably will be one of the most important in the fall campaign.

On it there are three positions taken by the platform makers. One group would endorse the administration's efforts in behalf of the farmers and promise to proceed along that line.

Another group would endorse the whole farm relief plank, which at present is ranging well over a 100 per cent lamb crop.

In addition to this about $50 a head was realized from the wool clip on 2,000,000 head of sheep in the state, bringing in an additional $7,000,000.

Expense of caring for the sheep for a year was estimated at $15.50 a head, or $30,750,000. The expense at $17,000,000 as against $27,000,000 brought from the sale of the wool and lambs.

IDAHO MAN NARROWLY ESCAPES ELECTROCUTION

HAMMETT, June 13 (AP)—A saving of $400 a mile on oiling roads in Idaho is being effected this year due to an enlarged program and better organization, Joe D. Wood, commissioner of public works, declared today.

At present the program is about two weeks ahead of schedule, 75 miles being already oiled. Cost of maintaining roads surfaced by Idaho's "mix" method has averaged $51 a mile this year where the old method averaged $100, he said.

The "mix" method consists in scattering the road and mixing the surface with road oil which forms a firm coating in some respects similar to pavement.

Convention Faces Busiest Session; Oratory in Order

KANSAS CITY, June 13 (AP)—Tomorrow promises to be a busy day for the Republican national convention with the platform issue to be settled and nominating speeches of presidential candidates to be heard.

There was some doubt tonight that the first ballot could be taken tomorrow.

The program follows: 10 A. M., Central standard time—Call to order by Senator Brewster, New Hampshire, permanent chairman.

Prayer. Presentation of platform by resolutions committee. Formal selection of members of national committee.

Enumeration of candidates for president. It appeared earlier tonight that at least five names and nominating speeches to the convention including Herbert Hoover, Frank O. Lowden, Senator Wilson, Indiana; Senator Curtis, Kansas; and Senator Coffey, West Virginia. Seconding speeches are in order also for each candidate.

SHEEP BRING IDAHO $10,000,000 PROFIT

About 2,000,000 Gem State Lambs Will Be Sold on Markets of East; Prices Good.

BOISE, June 13 (AP)—More than $10,000,000 in "new" money will be brought into the state this year from the sheep business, it was learned today from the state sheep commission from a survey of profits from the lamb and wool sales.

About 2,000,000 lambs will be sold this year principally in eastern markets at a price which at present is ranging well over a 100 per cent lamb crop.

In addition to this about $50 a head was realized from the wool clip on 2,000,000 head of sheep in the state, bringing in an additional $7,000,000.

Expense of caring for the sheep for a year was estimated at $15.50 a head, or $30,750,000. The expense at $17,000,000 as against $27,000,000 brought from the sale of the wool and lambs.

"Strict Neutrality" Signal Flashes From Hoover Camp; Throes Vice Presidential Battle Into Free-for-All.

(By The Associated Press) KANSAS CITY, June 13.—A "strict neutrality" signal flashed from the Hoover camp through the vice presidential race today with Vice President Dawes and Senator Curtis, Kansas, apparently at the head of the pack of more than 50 candidates.

An active campaign on the floor of the convention for the vice president led by Ed Clifford, Illinois, put the rumbling masses of candidates from all sections sent a worried-leadership into consultation late today on the problem.

Two oppositions are troubling the inner circle attempting to bring order out of the scramble for the vice presidency which began yesterday, when it became known that Herbert Hoover had a winning margin in the presidential contest. First the leaders want to be sure of nominating a man who will accept, and second they want to have a man who is a candidate who matches up with the Hoover candidacy and who is acceptable to him.

Work Silent. In his room at the Muehlebach hotel, Secretary Work, one of the high ranking Hoover chiefs is being besieged by those upon whom he looks for candidates and by others wanting to know where to turn their support but the secretary has stood firm against all entreaties.

The word has been sent out from all sections of the Hoover headquarters that he is saying nothing whatsoever about vice-presidents until and if he is definitely nominated by the convention—and maybe not then.

A new name was added to the score already in the field today—Judge William Kenyon, Iowa, former senator from that state. Judge Kenyon was prominently mentioned in the 1924 convention. He was proposed by the Whelan delegation, which is supporting Senator Norris, Nebraska, for president.

Advices came up so fast that it was hard to keep track of the growing field and in many instances as fast as a name was proposed he spiked his name within his private office at the commerce department, though a big radio set in an adjoining room and a vision into the state of Kansas City were maintained in service to keep him in touch with the convention's progress.

So far, Mr. Hoover has refused to give publicly any inkling of his attitude in the presidential candidacy, platform planks or campaign.

Member of Cabinet Officer's Staff Returns to Washington From Party Convention.

WASHINGTON, June 13 (AP)—A temporary lull developed today in the swirl of activities that has centered around Secretary Hoover since his nomination for president at Kansas City became possible.

Early in the morning, George E. Akerson, of his secretarial staff, returned to Washington from the convention scene and was closeted immediately with his chief to make a report on the situation.

His expert staff, familiar by long practice with the job, handled off all matters of state privacy, whether by photographers, newspaper reporters or would-be callers. The Nybohm has reached open water to the west of Norway and is offering her way along in the hope of reaching North Cape, where she probably will be halted by the ice. The vessel will be able to carry 100 miles from where the Italia exploring and the five others with him comprising the expedition.

The moment conditions permit, the visitors will be taken to the ice and drop supplies for the castaways, if they are so fortunate as to sight them. The moment conditions permit, the visitors will be taken to the ice and drop supplies for the castaways, if they are so fortunate as to sight them.

POLICE FRUSTRATE FARMERS' PROGRAM

Demonstrators Twice Attempt to Carry Protests to Floor of Republican Convention.

KANSAS CITY, June 13 (AP)—A group of farmers organized by followers of Watson, Curtis and Lowden attempted to carry their protest against the nomination of Herbert Hoover to the floor of the convention today but twice were driven off by the rest of policemen's clubs.

With cries of "Hoover out of office" and "anybody but Hoover," the surging protesters almost forced the police to clear the area of the auditorium and although some of them actually got into the lobby, a cordon of officers quickly pushed them back.

Two efforts failed. After two determined efforts to enter the zone of the protesting throng cautioned against further attempts and the crowd formed a circle around the convention hall shouting defiantly.

"You may nominate Hoover but you won't elect him," they chanted until night fell.

It was difficult to determine how many of the long column actually were farmers, but the demonstrators, including a number of men protesting the passage of the McNary-Hoover farm bill and the nomination of Hoover.

From the badge worn on their coat lapels and hats, it was plain that the protesting throng consisted of all of Hoover's opponents. Most of the leaders were from the West.

Babson Statistical Organization Assigns Most Favorable Business Situation on Basis of Consistent Gain.

Business conditions in Twin Falls are more favorable than in any other town of the five Pacific Northwest states—except Seattle and Riverview, Washington, and Great Falls, Lewistown and Billings, Montana, according to the Babson sales and credit map for June just received by Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce. These towns, the Babson organization advises, offer "relatively the most favorable sales opportunities."

Idaho on the map for June continues to hold most favorable rating. This rating is based on showing of sales over the corresponding period of the preceding year with tendency for this percentage of gain to increase, showing of increases over the same period averaged for several years, and absence of any indication of a reversal of the trend in the near future.

Twin Falls business volume for May as indicated by bank clearings which was a factor in the Babson rating, totaled $4,103,000, an increase of 18 per cent over the figures for the corresponding month of last year.

Pocatello, with $5,082,000 business volume, stood even with last year's mark, while Boise, reporting $12,740,000 business volume, dropped one point.

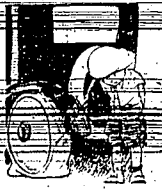

Fourteen states made the most favorable rating for June. They were Idaho, Washington, Montana, California, Arizona, North Dakota, Missouri, Illinois, Michigan, Ohio, New York, Delaware, New Jersey and Connecticut.

Idaho was put in preferred place with respect to business failures, gasoline consumption, electric power and retail hardware sales. The state rated in second place with respect to sale of postage stamps, and least favorable with respect to building activity, highway construction and sales of life insurance.
