Message Infers Certainty of Republican's Triumph in November Election; Telegram
Lauds Qualities of Kansan.

(By The Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, June 16.—President Coolidge completed his endorsement of the Republican ticket chosen at the Kansas City convention by telegraphing to Senator Curtis at Topeka, Kansas, his best wishes and message which emphasized the nominee's long political service to his party.

The message inferred certainty on the part of Mr. Coolidge that the Republican cause would triumph in the November elections by wishing the vice presidential candidate "success in your new office."

To these wishes, Mr. Coolidge added his gratitude for the Kansas senator's assistance in the campaign with a few notable exceptions, he was a strong administration detractor.

Lands Ability to
The report has been received of my nomination for vice president," Mr. Coolidge said. "Your long public service which has made you a Republican leader, the confidence has given you a knowledge of affairs, and of parliamentary law such as is possessed by few. To the gratitude I have always felt for your help to me I now add my best wishes for your success in your new office."

The message was drafted by Mr. Coolidge at his summer residence without his coming to the executive mansion, followed by the receipt one day a similar message of personal appreciation and greeting sent to Herbert Hoover for his selection to head the Republican ticket.

Triumph in the rivalry between the noble and Nebraskan churches as to which would have the honor of counting President Coolidge among its congregation tomorrow was as yet unsettled. The contest, however, was continued today.

Base Ship Sends Cheering Information to Stranded Explorers; Early Rescue Looks

(Copyright 1928, By The Associated Press.)
KINGS BAY, Spitzbergen, June 16.—The fact that no radio signals have come from the stranded polar explorers with General Umberto Nobile since late yesterday is interpreted as meaning that everything that is in the status quo with the Nobile party. It is believed that they are conserving the sending power of their accumulators for possible emergency use.

The base ship Citta di Milano sent its usual quota of cheering messages to the Italia's men. Telling them particularly of the progress being made toward the north by the rescue plane Savoia-55 and that the efforts which the vessel Branzano and Hobbs are making to penetrate the ice pack along the north shore of the archipelago.

After weeks of frequent fog and uncertain atmospheric conditions, there was a rift of fine summer weather today. If similar conditions prevail in the north, it was thought that Captain Hjalmar Riiser-Larsen and Lieutenant Lurtoz Hen soon would have opportunity to fly their Norwegian seaplanes to the vicinity of Pynn Island, where General Nobile and his men are awaiting rescue.

3000 MEN BATTLING RIVER IN MISSOURI

Water Inundates 25,000 Acres of Land and Drives Hundreds of Families Out of Homes.

KENNETT, Mo., June 16.—Almost 3,000 men were fighting the steadily rising waters of the St. Francis river, more than 3,000 farmers, business and professional men, but in tonight in a desperate effort to save the remainder of their crops and homes from floods.

The workers were leaving nothing unturned in their unceasing effort to strengthen the weakened levee along a 25-mile front to the north of here, after the 150-foot break which occurred early today, inundating more than 25,000 acres of land, and driving hundreds of families from their homes.

Efforts were being given to those in the area flooded.

Task Seems Hopeless
At several points near Campbell, to the north of here, the task of keeping the river from overflowing seemed hopeless. The levee, which was weakened by seepage, it was believed that the crest of the third rise, which was expected to crest the flood stage of last night by a foot and a half, would appear tonight or tomorrow.

Those who were first working against the rising water were the opinion that should the crest be reached tonight, nothing would keep the waters from cresting through the levee 75,000 additional acres of land.

The citizens were assisted by five companies of National Guardsmen which were ordered to the scene early today.

MEN GET SENTENCES

SILVER CITY, June 16.—Tom Bridges and Joe Sellers must spend 2 to 10 years in State Penitentiary at Boise.

SILVER CITY, June 16.—Tom Bridges and Joe Sellers must spend from 2 to 10 of the next years of their lives in prison for the killing of Clayton Patrick, who with a quarter-bred rancher, Elmer Ludlow, was shot to death the afternoon of February 22 on the Patrick ranch in the Three Creek country of southwestern Idaho.

Sentence of the two was pronounced today by Judge Dana E. Brink on the basis of a decision of a jury which earlier in the week found them guilty of manslaughter and recommended the greatest leniency for the men.

Monday a conference of attorneys with Judge Brink will be held at which time it will be decided whether the two men go on trial charged with the murder of Ludlow.

Evidence brought out at the trial indicated that the battle on the Patrick ranch developed over suspicions held by Bridges and Sellers that Patrick was engaged in the cattle business. Hint of their suspicions was carried to Patrick, according to testimony of an employee on his ranch, and the battle followed. Sellers and Bridges survived after the fight in which the two ranchers received fatal wounds.

Republican Nominee for Presidency Mixes in Considerable Attention to His Duties in Spite of Many New Functions

(By The Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, June 16.—Secretary Hoover mixes in considerable attention to his official duties today in the course of dealing with matters that have to do with his new status as Republican presidential candidate.

While his earliest call was Senator McNary, Republican, Oregon, leader of the fight for agricultural relief for the equalization fee plan of farm relief, an hour later found Mr. Hoover surmounting the exhaustion of the new commerce department building in Washington. He went over the site of the structure with his architectural assistant, with Secretary Kellogg, of the state department.

McNary's first statement.
After his conference with Mr. Hoover, Senator McNary issued a statement in which he declared that the nominee had been "sympathetic and anxious to relieve the distress of our farm population."

The prolonged luncheon engagement with the secretary of state was said to have brought out discussions of departmental matters, many of the commerce department having great deal of foreign service and functioning under joint supervision of the two secretaries.

Despite his attention to his regular official duties, Mr. Hoover was able to find time to acknowledge many of the thousands of messages of congratulation which are still coming in by cable, telegram and mail.

CURTIS' NOMINATION
PLEASES KAW TRIBE

In Stole Way Indians Voice Gratification of Kansan's Choice to Complete Ticket

KAW, Okla., June 16.—In their stolid Indian way, members of the Kaw tribe today expressed their gratification that a blood member of their clan has been bestowed the second highest honor within the gift of a great national party.

Senator Charles Curtis, Kansas, as Republican candidate for vice president.

"Charlie" always was a good boy," said old Ben Fronkier, 86, the tribal chief, who knew the vice presidential nominee as a boy on the Kansas reservation. That laconic statement, perhaps, paid the senator a tribute as ringing as any fluent speech of a polished orator.

"The Kaw Indians surely are proud that McNary Curtis was nominated," said Tayah, the Indian tribal chief, known among the White folk as Mrs. John Eads. A simple telegram.

The Kaw tribe congratulates you on your success," was dispatched last night to the nominee by Mrs. Eads. Mrs. John Eads, a cousin of the senator, expressed her gratification that her kinsman had been honored and said the Indians had reason to believe that he would be accorded the vice presidential nomination.

NEE GOVERNMENT IN CHINA SEEKS CHANGE IN AMERICAN PACTS

Secretary Kellogg Takes Request Under Provisional Administration of Oriental Nation Will Move From Peking.

(By The Associated Press.) WASHINGTON, June 16.—Basing his report on a statement by Secretary Kellogg in February, 1927, that the United States would negotiate new treaties with the responsible government of China, Dr. C. C. Wu, representing the newly established Nanking Nationalist, has asked the state department for immediate revision of the Chinese treaties.

Secretary Kellogg, Dr. Wu said today, has taken the subject under consideration.

Dr. Wu said that, as the delegated representative of the new Chinese government he would insist on China's right to have a say in the new pact which would allow her to manage her own finances, her own post-office system, and tend to her own internal affairs.

In the meantime, Dr. Wu said, the new government would take immediate steps to move the capital of China from Peking to Nanking. The question of recognition by the foreign powers, while subject of great interest to the new government, cannot be a consideration until the revision of the treaties, Dr. Wu said.

Dr. Alfred So, Chinese minister to the United States, has informed the state department that he now represents the Nationalist government in this country and has raised the National flag over the legation here.

He would not talk concerning the attitude of the state department toward his new government other than to say that he hoped this country soon would follow the traditional policy of recognizing the government in power in Peking.

Information from London, Dr. Wu said, led him to believe that Great Britain would be the first of the great powers to recognize the new government. He declared that the psychological effect of such an act by Great Britain would be exceedingly favorable to the Chinese.

Members of the new government feel that the atmosphere of Peking is not conducive to a national revolution. Government influences of many years have been so strong that it is hard to overcome in Peking while the city of Nanking is essentially Chinese.

Nanking, Dr. Wu declared, is the traditional capital of South China and its central location makes it the best place for all China. It has been the provisional capital city of the Nationalists since its capture in March, 1927.

CAMPING ON HILLS. NEWPORT, Ark., June 16 (AP)—Some 2500 of the 1000 persons driven from their homes by flood waters of the White river, camped tonight on surrounding hills. In the lower part of Jackson county, and many of them faced the prospect of living for several days more in improvised quarters before their homes are released from the flood's grip.

A break last night in the dyke at Stephens, 12 miles south of Newport, spread the flood waters of the White over between 35,000 and 40,000 acres of land in the southern part of the county from which the residents previously warned, had fled with their belongings. About 60 percent of this land was under cultivation, the rest being woodland.

Some residents remained in the flooded area, occupying the second stories of houses and using boats when they went out of doors. Others came to Newport to stay with friends and relatives, and the remainder took refuge on elevated spots.

About one-fourth of the refugees fled to surrounding hills, so-called because in flood times this slightly elevated place becomes an island half a mile across. Here there are a few modest houses, in one of which 35 persons were crowded last night.

Relief forces were organized today and food and clothing were supplied the refugees. Planter came to Newport and went back in boats with food for his tenants.

FATE OF BASEBALL HERE HINGES UPON SUCCESS OF DRIVE

Shad L. Hodgins to Direct Action

Votes of Committees in Campaign for Maintenance of Bruins' Entry in U-I League.

The fate of organized baseball in Twin Falls hinges upon success of a campaign of personal solicitation for funds that is to be conducted this week by a number of committees, under general direction of Shad L. Hodgins, Twin Falls, who is slated to lead the drive by the Bruins' entry in the U-I-I League.

The Bruins, after today's games, will spend the week in series at Opa's camp, and the directors have determined, in question of whether there are to be any more league baseball games in Twin Falls this season is to be answered by the fans of this region.

The only answer that counts is a money contribution. That is the situation as outlined by the directors in a letter sent out last week to 1000 fans of this region.

Letter Tells Story. Here is the text of the letter that has been sent out to the fans:

"This is the third year that we have had organized baseball, and this is the third year that about 80 fans have supported the team financially—outside of purchasing tickets to the games, and we believe that you do, the baseball is a community affair and that it has helped to advertise Twin Falls, lived in the situation as outlined by the directors in a letter sent out last week to 1000 fans of this region.

"It is no secret that we need funds with which to carry on. It has been before impossible to see the many fans who would be willing to help out financially, and so this is the appeal to you as an appeal to assist us and we hope that you will accept it, in the same spirit that it is sent to you."

"It must be admitted that our team this year has been very successful, winning the games that it should win, as is conceded by those who know baseball, that we must have money to get new ball players and to support a good ball team. We expect soon to have some good pitchers and will wish we should be right at the top of the league."

"Any donation that you may see fit to make, of the smallest amount, will be most gratefully accepted. Please give this your consideration and mail your check to Bert Edmunds, secretary of the Twin Falls baseball club, Twin Falls, Idaho."

"Remember this is your ball club as well as ours, and that it should receive the best of cooperation of the people of this country."

"Let's display some of that old time pep and enthusiasm for which Twin Falls has always been famous, and get your donation in as the money is needed for payroll, June 15."

COUNTY BOARD PLANS TO SELL LANDS AT AUCTION

The board of Twin Falls county commissioners is planning a sale of lands for taxes late in July, the members stated yesterday. Many requests for such sale have come from different parts of the county, and a number of persons have been talking in a general way about buying.

The commissioners said that if enough people showed a desire for making purchases they would call a sale late in July.

It was stated that if a number of applications giving description of the land wanted, would apply at the office of the county auditor by next Thursday night, the call for sale might be made next Saturday at the regular weekly meeting.

It will take the auditor a day to get the applications in shape to present to the board for action.

BRUINS TRIUMPH IN CONTEST WITH TEAM FROM IDAHO FALLS

Earwood Pitches Twin Falls Aggregation to 8-to-2 Victory; Allows but Eight Men Hits; O'Keefe Is Opponent.

Pounding out 14 bingles including three home runs the Bruins evened the series with the Idaho Falls Spuds here Saturday, 8-2, in a game featured by the consistent Bruin hitting. Earwood climbed the mound for the home club and pitched a safety game lightening up whenever he got into trouble to striketh the opposing hitters. Eight Spuds went out swinging while only eight hit safely.

The visitors scored two runs in the first inning on Earwood's error. Geran had grounded out to Fitzgerald. Tanner doubled to center and hit out at third when Kelly hit to Dwyer. Kelly going to first. Dwyer then singled to Walters who threw to third to stop Kelly. Earwood cut off the throw and threw over Benjamin's head to center field allowing Kelly and Dwyer to score. Martin went out via the strike-out route to retire the side. Earwood then settled down to work and ended the scoring. He added to the Bruins score in the second by driving the ball over the left-field fence for the circuit.

Walters Gets Hit. Fitzgerald scored the first Bruin run in the first inning when O'Keefe hit Walters with a pitched ball with the bases full, and Earwood and Dwyer scored two more in the second. Earwood drove one out of the park after Zanic had flied out to third. Allen went out. Tanner to Geran. Dwyer drew a walk and scored when Kelly dropped Fitzgerald's fly to center. Walters' homer counted for another in the third and another was added when Dwyer surprised the fans by driving one over the left-field wall. Walters and Benjamin scored in the seventh as the result of a walk, two singles and two sacrifices, and the final out was registered by Coleman in the eighth when Walters smashed out a three base hit behind his own back.

Good Exhibition. The Bruins were playing ball through the whole game and they gave Earwood an exceptional support. They still seem unable to come through in the pinches. In the sixth frame Earwood singled, Allen doubled, and Dwyer drew a walk with nobody down but the Bruins failed to score although Fitz, Maloney, and Coleman came up swinging their way. The Bruins and Spuds meet again this afternoon playing a double-header. The first game to begin at 2 o'clock.

FOUL BALLS

By FUDGE

There weren't enough fans in the bleachers yesterday to pay for the game, up to it wasn't a fair day either, and it was a real ball game. Let's see those empty seats filled up today, and watch the Bruins take the series.

Walters finally got to first yesterday, even though he had to drive the "apple" out the park to do it. He's a mean base runner, too. Did you see that wicked slide into third after that three-bagger in the eighth?

Eight strikeouts is a pretty good record for a chucker in the rain. Add to this a home run and two singles and you have something to shoot at. Earwood certainly was a big help in winning that ball game.

Wonder who is going to chuck today? Robertson is due but you never can tell what Bill will do and he tried to keep it dark. Come on out and see for yourself. Suppose you said that Bill is going to take both those games if he has to go in there himself.

Fitz and Benny didn't look like they tied down when they tried to steal, but Brenzel got them both with a little to spare. Nice pitching.

Wonder what Coleman thought Umpire Wilder was trying to do when he waved him down to first. Coley looked like he wanted to argue about the ump's decision, but Bill wouldn't let him. He certainly should take the matter up with the ump's after the game.

"Felix" Peterson was robbing home runs yesterday. He was in the fracas from the grandstand. He says he will be ready to go to work again Tuesday. We can always use Felix and his war club.

"72" the greatest fact in motor cars today

From low price to high, all engineering today takes its cue from Chrysler—yet what are the facts?

Run the gamut of cars, from low to high, which seek to emulate Chrysler—and still the illustrious Chrysler "72" runs easily away from them all with all the honors of flashing, efficient performance!

However much they seek to act like Chrysler "72"—to ride and drive and accelerate and glide like Chrysler "72"—the illustrious "72" continues to leave them all in the rear in brilliant behavior.

There is no escaping this plain fact—that as motor car manufacturing exists today, anyone who pays as much as, or up to a thousand dollars more than the price of Chrysler "72," for another car unmissably gets less. That is the one great important fact in motor car buying today.

NATION'S BIG WHEAT HARVEST GETS UNDER WAY IN FEW WEEKS

Song of Sickle Will Begin in Texas and Oklahoma During Latter Part of June, Ends in Echo in Canada Soon After.

(By The Associated Press) KANSAS CITY, June 16.—The song of the sickle will begin in Texas and Oklahoma wheat fields the last of June and a growing in Kansas and Nebraska a month later and end in an echo beyond the Canadian border with approach of the autumnal equinox.

The hum of headers, binders and combine harvesters will be like the rattle of drums to the great army of men marching along the wheat fields and around the broad rectangular of yellow straw, laden with golden grain. Despite the more extensive use of labor-saving machinery and the reduction of insect prospects because of drought, yield ravages and damage by freezing, farmers will look to other states for at least 20,000 men to harvest about 225,000,000 bushels of wheat.

The combine, which cut and thresh the grain at the same time, have reduced very materially the demand for labor on the large farms. One of these machines, with a crew of only four men, covers 50 acres a day, equaling the performance of two headers with three and one-half times as much power and stimulating the threshing process besides.

But their use is general only on the large farms and even in Kansas, the leading state in wheat production, much of the crop, estimated at 143,000,000 bushels this year, is growing on small farms, where headers and binders still are used.

George E. Tucker, director of the farm labor division of the United States employment service, mobilizes the workers for the wheat country, which, largely because of the extensive character of its agriculture, is sparsely populated. Tucker, whose headquarters is in Kansas City, recruits the first contingent of harvest hands from the agricultural communities of southern states, where are found the men who can endure the intense heat of the wheat fields.

Fewer college students now are in the harvest army.

"Unless they are football players who want to keep hard muscles through the summer," Tucker explains, "we tell the college boys to stay away. We warn them that work in the harvest field is no soft vacation and that the money they may earn will not go far toward keeping them in school."

Laborers who enter Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas are encouraged to move northward as the advance of the season ripens the grain. The railroads co-operate by reducing fares.

The men from the south are supplemented by farm hands who were employed in the wheat states before harvest, and this army of southerners and middle-westerners, with a sprinkling of easterners, answers the call for help in the Dakotas, Minnesota and Montana. Further north, wheat growers rely more on the binder and the header because they believe the shorter growing season does not permit the grain to ripen evenly enough to be harvested immediately after cutting, as necessary if a combine is used.

Tucker says North Dakota alone will need at least 24,000 men if climatic conditions do not affect the crop adversely. He anticipates a call for 10,000 hands in South Dakota, 5,000 in Nebraska, 5,000 in Montana, 5,000 in Colorado, and several thousand in Idaho, Oregon and Washington.

NATION'S WOMEN IN FEW YEARS BECOME FACTOR IN POLITICS

Little More Than Decade Ago Female Partisan Politician Was Timid Soul, Sinking in to Her Place in Political Sun

By MARTHA DALRYMPLE Associated Press Feature Writer WASHINGTON, June 16.—Twelve years ago the woman partisan politician was a timid soul, sinking gratefully into her place in the political sun. Today she is strong and confident of her position.

In 1916 she had 20 representatives at the democratic national convention and only 14 at the republican gathering. She had 100 representatives on either of the national committees, and she didn't even have the right to vote.

Today, on the eve of the party nominating conventions, she has equal representation with men in the membership of the two national committees, two of her number hold the vice-presidential nomination, and the national committees, and she not only has a voice in determining the man who will represent his party in the presidential race, but she can vote for him after he is nominated.

Women were given a few appointive places as delegates, without vote and as alternates, as long ago as 1918. These appointments came from the western states, some of which had granted their women citizens suffrage before the passage of the nineteenth amendment.

This year the democrats have gone so far as to include in their call for the national convention that delegates-at-large be elected with one-half vote apiece, to provide representation for women.

In 1916, 1920 and 1924, both parties included an equal number of women and men on the national committees and both made provisions for the appointment of a woman as vice-chairman. In the republican convention women cast 111 of the 1100 votes, while women cast 719 of the 1088 democratic convention votes. The division of votes, in order to provide for a greater number of delegates, gave the republicans twenty an actual delegation of 120, with 270 alternates. The democrats sent 200 women delegates and 311 alternates.

More and more women are being appointed and elected to important positions and committees within their party ranks. In 1924 Mrs. E. M. Mauley, democrat, of Des Moines, Iowa, is the only woman chairman of a state committee.

Miss Jessie Scott, democratic national committeewoman from St. Paul, Minnesota, has been appointed head of the stenographic force for the meeting at Houston.

He Called Delegates to Order

WHEN WILLIAM M. BUTLER, chairman of the Republican national committee, arose to call the Kansas City convention to order, he was greeted with a burst of cheering so robust as to threaten the speakers. Then the big quinquennial show allowed itself to be called to order.

Resolution on the death of President Wilson.

At the 1920 convention, for the first time, each presidential candidate selected a woman to make the second, opening address to his nomination before both conventions.

So far reports bode well for the party woman in the 1928 meetings. One, Mrs. Caroline O'Day, of New York, is slated to be made chairman of the New York democratic state delegation, and another, Mrs. W. E. Mauley, democrat, of Des Moines, Iowa, is the only woman chairman of a state committee.

Miss Jessie Scott, democratic national committeewoman from St. Paul, Minnesota, has been appointed head of the stenographic force for the meeting at Houston.

STRAW HATS WORN WITH OVERCOATS CITY AROUND MEXICO CITY, June 16 (AP)—

Strawhats and overcoats, either or both, together or separately, are worn the year around in Mexico City, according to individual taste.

There is no fixed date for commencing to wear straw, no dead line when they must be abandoned. Straw hats are worn in the summer and in the winter, but there are plenty of men here wearing straw hats on Christmas day, and every day of the year. There are other who never change from a felt.

A light overcoat is needed almost every night of the year, even if the day has been warm. Most persons wear the same weight clothing all the year.

NEW SUB-STATION TO BE CONSTRUCTED BY POWER COMPANY

Quarter-Million Dollars Will Be Spent on South Side During Year; Power Lines to Be Moved Outside City Limits.

Construction of a new sub-station of 3750 kilowatt capacity in Twin Falls is included in the $250,000 extension program of the Idaho Power company, the South Side this year. D. O. Orr, division manager for the company, announced last evening. The new sub-station will be of Spanish design and will be erected at the intersection of Harrison street and Piler avenue. Equipment of the new station will be of the most modern type, including automatic reclosing circuit breakers.

In conjunction with the new station, the present sub-station building located at Third avenue and Third street east will be reconstructed and used by the company as a garage and warehouse. In this reconstruction, the type of architecture will be changed and the grounds improved in keeping with the surrounding residential district.

At the time that the present station is abandoned, the high tension line will be removed from Blue Lake boulevard and Third street east, the new station making it unnecessary to carry high voltage lines into the city. New primary feeders will be constructed from the new location to the business district. Reconstruction of the distribution system in the business district was started last Friday. This work will be completed in approximately six weeks, after which reconstruction of the residential system will start.

BUILDING AND LOAN RECORDS BIG GAIN

Mutual Association to Distribute $11,000 Semi-Annual Dividend Among Stockholders

Stockholders of the Mutual Building and Loan association will share July 1 in a 3 per cent semi-annual dividend amounting to $11,000, which was declared by the association's directors at a meeting here Friday evening. Among the association's stockholders almost all communities of south central Idaho are represented. The dividend was voted after the directors had received the financial statement for the six-month period.

which was submitted by H. A. Grant, general manager, and which was declared to have been the most satisfactory statement in the association's history. It set up a substantial reserve and showed a $100,000 increase in assets during the period. Directors at this meeting voted in favor of 15 new loans totaling $900.

With expressions of regret the directors accepted the resignation of Judge E. A. Waller, who has served for several years as a director and legal counsel for the association. It was decided to fill the vacancy. Waller was elected to the position during the next several months.

LEGISLATURE SETS ASIDE FUNDS TO AID FARMING INDUSTRY

Seventieth Congress Enacts Much Legislation Considered of Great Importance to Farm Interests of Nation.

(By The Associated Press.)—WASHINGTON, June 16.—While the value of the McNary-Haugen farm relief bill to agriculture must remain a debatable problem because of the presidential veto, the seventh congress enacted much legislation which is considered of great importance to farm interests.

The agricultural appropriation bill carried approximately $25,000,000 more than in previous years for research, production on the national farm, and the consumer's dollar actually reaches the farmer, the added research is expected to be of tremendous advantage in solving problems of distribution.

About $16,000,000 is to be expended by the federal rate revision bill. Parcels originating on rural routes are exempt from the twenty-cent service charge, a substantial benefit to farmers who use the mails for marketing much of their produce.

Boys and girls club work, which appropriates $900,000 for the first year and $1,400,000 for further development the second year.

With motor vehicles considered a farm necessity, the principal benefit accrues to farmers from enactment of the tax revision bill in the second year of the time sales tax on automobiles. This saves purchasers of autos approximately $60,000,000 a year.

In the Jones-White shipping bill, which reaffirms the policy of the United States to establish and maintain an American merchant marine of especial importance to agriculture, a stable government is maintained and vessels are equitably allocated among the several ports and sections of the country, thus insuring a constant quiet and fair shipping rates for surplus produce.

Addition of 9,000,000 acres of land to the national forest, as provided by the McNary-Woodruff act, while the McNary-McCormack research act sets up a 10-year program for research work in all phases of forestry, including research in western range problems and the proper handling of farm woodlands.

Although the appropriation itself was not made, the Purcell bill calling for $700,000 to be used in a campaign against the European corn borer is expected to stimulate cleanup work with such funds as are available until the appropriation is made.

Under the terms of a joint resolution $500,000 is made available for the pink bollworm eradication work in the cotton belt.

Interest to cotton farmers is the $25,000 appropriation to investigate new uses for cotton.

The first efficiency appropriation bill authorized $300,000 for the establishment of an arboretum on the campus of Washington to study the cultivation of trees shrubs and foreign plants.

A total of $35,000 was appropriated for horticultural experiment and demonstration in the southern great plains area, with a view to the introduction of new tree life.

The sum of $250,000 in "excess profits" collected from wool dealers during the war was appropriated to the department of agriculture for work in establishing wool standards and for related purposes.

An act is passed to the plant quarantine act gives the department of agriculture authority to arrest persons who sell, disseminate and destroy contraband plants.

G. O. P. Leaders Confer

THAT WOMEN ARE PLAYING a leading role at the Republican national convention in Kansas City may be guessed at from this picture, which shows Mrs. Charles H. Sablin, wealthy New York society woman and social worker, in a conference with Charles W. Mills, vice chairman of the national committee, in the latter's office in the Security building.

British Engineer Tells Experiences During Eight Years' Stay in China

"Foreigner in China Wants Peaceful Trade," States A. P. Malley; Shanghai Changed From Swamp to Modern City by "Invaders"; Canals Are Principal Highways.

"All the foreigners in China want a peaceful trade and protection from unlawful elements," stated A. P. Malley, British engineering engineer, who spent eight years in the municipal electric department of Shanghai, China, who with Mrs. Malley, has been visiting during the last week at the home of Mrs. Malley's sister, Mrs. Ralph D. Smith, 1150 Eleventh avenue east.

"The Chinese feel that if they could only get the foreigners out of Shanghai everything would be all right with China," Mr. Malley said. "What the Chinese really want is to have the foreigners out of Shanghai without paying the foreigner any indemnity."

"When the foreigners entered Shanghai they took over by treaty a swampy region, about 20 square miles in area, and today the city is modern in every respect with marble buildings, wide streets, electricity, gas and water systems, adequate police and a stable government. The Chinese feel that they owe the foreigner nothing," Mr. Malley explained.

Native Quarter Squall

A sharp line of demarcation exists between the International Settlement in Shanghai and the native suburbs, Mr. Malley stated. The city proper is much like a British or American city, while just outside its boundaries is a native quarter, a counter market, dirty streets, little better than alleys, squalid native huts, and unsanitary conditions everywhere.

International interlopers are not each year in the following sports: Cricket, rowing, swimming, football, basketball, baseball, tennis, golf, tennis, yachting and sailing. The first interlopers arrived in the city in 1842.

Shanghai is a city of contrasts. It is a city of extremes. It is a city of contrasts. It is a city of extremes. It is a city of contrasts. It is a city of extremes.

Canals Form Highways

The Great Canal extends through Shanghai and far inland and is the principal waterway of that area. The canal is congested with water travel, barges, launches, motor boats, junkies, yachts, rowboats and the native tub-like conveyance intermingling with the modern motor boats.

Within the boundaries of the International Settlement are 15,000 foreigners, including Japanese, and about 100,000 Chinese. The foreigner quarter is better maintained within the city by a native police force of 800 men under British supervision. The automobiles of all varieties are to be found within the boundaries of the International Settlement.

GET RID OF YOUR FAT

Thousands of others have gotten rid of theirs by my simple and efficient method of fat reduction without starvation diet or burdensome exercise, often at a very rapid rate and WITHOUT PAYMENT until reduction has taken place.

I am a licensed practicing physician and have made a careful study of the physiological requirements of the human body. This has enabled me to select such ingredients and in such proportion as in my opinion will produce not only a loss of weight without harm and an improvement in health, but it is an alleviation of all of the troublesome symptoms which frequently accompany and often are a direct result of overweightness, such as shortness of breath on slight exertion, palpitation of the heart, etc., not to speak of the relief from the embarrassment of being too stout. Stout persons suffering from such diseases as Chronic Rheumatism, Gout, Eczema, Asthma and high blood pressure are greatly relieved by reduction of their superfluous fat.

My treatment will relieve that depressed, tired, sleepy feeling, bring you the renewed energy and vigor which come as a result of the loss of superfluous fat.

If you are over stout do not postpone but sit down right now and send for my FREE TRIAL TREATMENT as my plan is so simple and so safe that ONLY AFTER REDUCTION HAS TAKEN PLACE if you so desire, DR. R. NEWMAN, 256 Fifth Ave., New York — Desk D

WOMEN RISING TO HIGHER PLACE IN EUROPEAN POLITICS

Slowly but Steadily Barriers Are Falling From High Positions in Governments of Old World Under Present Regime.

(By The Associated Press.)—LONDON, June 16.—Slowly but steadily women are pushing down the barriers that keep them from high government places in Europe and the Near East.

One, and only one, Turkish woman has risen to an important government position under the new regime. She is Dr. Bedrieh Hanem, who as specialist on school hygiene in the ministry of education is the sole woman to appear in the long line of officials received by president Mustafa Kemal on national holidays last night.

NORTHERN BAPTISTS CONVENE IN DETROIT

Dr. York E. Speer, New York, Delivers Keynote Address Before Big Delegation.

DETROIT, June 16.—Questions of the validity of the union of Christianity, and of the relationship of the older and younger churches are the two greatest subjects confronting missionary enterprise in this new age, Dr. York E. Speer, New York, former moderator of the general assembly of the Presbyterian church, said today in his keynote address at the opening of the nineteenth annual Northern Baptist convention.

Dr. Speer issued a call for the Christian church to take up with renewed vigor and energy the work of giving Christ to men and women of every land.

"The hypocrites must stop talking about our right to export Christianity unless they stop exporting everything else under the sun to every land in the world. We owe the Christian religion to every man and woman in the world."

The keynote speaker declared that the "greatest barrier" before us is whether there is a redemptive mission in Christianity, valid, final and universal. He said that Christianity is a universal culture that always will be incomplete.

"If the Christian faith is here only as a group of uneducated people, all the world, that means the end of Christianity and the missionary enterprise."

W. C. Coleman, Wichita, Kansas, president of the convention, predicted "internal harmony" during the sessions in his opening address. He predicted there would be no clashes between fundamentalist and liberal groups.

Approximately 5000 laymen and pastors, representing 35 states were here for the convention. They were to fill the pulpits of virtually all Detroit churches tomorrow.

ORDERS HIS TOMB HUNG WITH WOMEN'S PICTURES

CHATELAIN, FRANCE, June 16.—A turret that is a tomb still attracts attention in the Chateau de Fontainebleau, near here, adjoining the Forest of Fontainebleau, but which was placed there after the death of a woman, the story that makes it interesting.

The Count of Chateaufort rests in the great, tower-like mausoleum, and his wife, the Countess, lies in a smaller tomb. The Count's will provided for the erection of the tomb, just as it was, but added that "on the walls around him should be placed the pictures of a dozen beautiful women with whom he had had notorious affairs. His wife and children and his children barked at that and the story of his life, told in court, furnished Paris with gossip for a year."

The Countess's tomb is in the Jockey club to the street below, killed by the Count's tomb. The Countess was a woman of more than 100 years of age, and her tomb was a monument to her long life.

NOW THAT they have conquered the Pacific ocean, in a series of flights which amazed the whole world, Captains Charles Kingsford-Smith (right) and Charles T. P. Ulm, Australian aces, announce that they will continue on 'round the world. The two Americans who played important roles in the perilous Pacific crossing, Captain Harry W. Lyon, navigator, and James W. Warner, radio expert, will board a private steamship at Melbourne to return to the United States.

THEA RASCHE, the flying frau from Germany, was all smiles when her new transatlantic model Bellanca was delivered to her for lifting and landing tests. Clarence Chamberlin, who, with Charles A. Levine, flew from Roosevelt field to a point outside Berlin a little more than a year ago, instructed Miss Rasche in the use of some of the instruments which the craft carries. Above, a photo of Miss Rasche starting her first solo in the new plane.

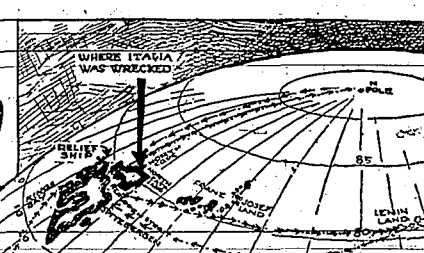

HIS COUNTRY'S HIGHEST TRIBUTE was paid to Lieutenant C. Frank Schildt, U.S.M.C., when President Coolidge pinned upon his breast the Congressional Medal of Honor. The courageous pilot evacuated 18 wounded marines from a narrow street in Quilali, Nicaragua, landing and taking off under a withering fire from Sandino's insurgents.

MME. JERITZA, famous opera singer, was accidentally stabbed in the arm during a performance in Vienna, when the knife with which Menelaus is supposed to kill Helen slipped and slashed her severely—just below the left shoulder. Jeritza, who was playing the role of Helen, caused her arm to be bandaged and continued with the second act of the opera.

WITH THREE of General Nobile's men definitely missing and possibly lost, one known dead and two others seriously injured, and the remainder of the explorers divided into two parties drifting on an ice floe off Northeast Land, the plight of the expedition is now considered desperate. The above map shows the course of the Italia's flights from her arrival in Spitzbergen until she came down a derelict in the midst of the ice wastes. At left, a photo of Nobile taken just prior to his departure from Italy.

LE DOROTHY BUNDY, whose mother is the famous May Sutton Bundy, doesn't triumph in the annual tournament for girls under 12 in Southern California, a lot of the elect among tennis experts are going to be surprised. Little Miss Bundy won the title in last year's play, and now is seeking only to retain her honors.

THIS IS THE LATEST studio portrait of Mrs. Francis P. Quillinan, nee Catherine Smith, the youngest daughter of Governor and Mrs. Alfred E. Smith, whose marriage took place in the gubernatorial mansion in Albany, with Cardinal Hayes officiating. Notables from all over the country attended the wedding.

THE DIRIGIBLE ITALIA'S CREW was split into two parts when the huge bag, storm-battered and almost out of control, descended upon the bleak Northeast Land in the arctic circle, and a gondola, containing General Umberto Nobile and eight of his men, was ripped off by ice crags. The craft with the seven remaining members of the crew drifted 19 miles further east. Above is the conception of Louis Biedermann, famous artist, of what happened in that moment of terror, based upon the description radioed by General Nobile to a waiting world.

HERE IS A SMILING MISS from West Virginia, Mario Louise Montagne, who has thrown her smart, close-fitting toque right out in the ring with Governor Smith's famous brown derby. She's seeking the Democratic nomination for the presidency, with the separation of church and state as her main platform plank.

FEDERAL BUREAU TO REVIVE SEARCH IN FIELD OF DAIRYMAN

Important Work Will Be Resumed, Professor Hoad of Michigan College of Agriculture Takes Over Duties.

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, June 16.—Important research work interrupted for nine months by the resignation of Dr. C. W. Larson as head of the federal bureau of dairy industry, will be resumed in September when Professor O. E. Reed becomes chief. Fundamental research, necessary to the bureau's administrative progress, never has lessened, but Professor Reed's arrival will release Dr. E. A. Rogers, acting chief, so that he again may direct affairs of the research laboratories from which he was borrowed.

Dr. Rogers is regarded by American dairy interests as one of the world's foremost bacteriologists and dairy research experts. His work has included experiments on basic viscosity of ice cream, use of pure cultures in making cheese, and methods of making dairy by-products.

An experiment of wide interest, is the determination of the effect of storage of skim-milk powder on its ability to improve a loaf of bread. Some of the preliminary results on the effect of high temperatures on the baking quality of milk powders have been confirmed.

Scientific work in the bureau has been strengthened by selection of Professor Reed as its new chief. In making the appointment Secretary of Agriculture Jardine said the professor is generally recognized as one of the outstanding men in the United States in the field of dairy research and education. He has been professor of dairy husbandry and head of the dairy department at the Michigan state college of agriculture since 1921. He held similar positions at the Kansas state agricultural college and at Purdue university. In 1925 he was selected president of the American Dairy association.

Fundamental research concerning the problems of dairying in all its branches from the breeding of productive cows through the farm and factory production and processing of milk and milk products, to studies of and instruction in the nutritional value of dairy products, already has been strengthened and enlarged by Dr. Larson. It long has been

String of Beads, Bark Apron; African Flapper Dressed Up

Miss Alice O'Brien Says Jungle Belle Is Smarter Than U.-S. Sister

By SHIRLEY KIRKE
International Illustrated News Staff

New York, June 16.—Miss Alice O'Brien, a girl of 25, a string of beads, a bark apron and a smile; she carries her head with a dignity, walks erect and with an assurance that many a civilized woman might envy; and she is clean cut, beautiful of body and as tireless on the trail as the fawn-like she so resembles.

The SHE in question is the African flapper, whom Miss Alice O'Brien, globe-trotter, asserts is better dressed than the American sister. Just returned from a seven months' exploration of the Belgian Congo, the American girl is convinced that the heart of darkest Africa is safer than the sidewalks of New York—and a lot more interesting.

"My experience is that Africa is more civilized than the average person dreams," she said. "It is queer, strange, but less physically challenging than the reminiscence of travelers' tales."

And comfort of travel in the Belgian Congo flabbergasted me. I had a lot of preconceived ideas of what the hardships would be; and most of them were wrong. Old ladies who want to go to a warm climate for their health could attempt such a trip in perfect safety, providing, of course, they stick to the main routes. They could not undertake safaris into uncharted wilderness as we did.

At Stanleyville we sailed up the Congo in a big double-deck wheeler in de luxe suites. This old boat used to ply the Mississippi river—just fancy! It was taken apart, shipped to the Congo, then set up. Now it is one of a fleet of twenty vessels.

party in his chief village. His two hundred wives squatted on low pedestals of carved ivory, ranged behind him in a semi-circle. Situated against the flare of a camp fire, Njapu crouched, stalked and stamped, wearing a headpiece of hawk feathers, a leopards skin draped around him. His medicine men were there, too, to drive away evil spirits. These made mysterious passes at Njapu's belt—flashing—then they bowed the king as he danced.

Following the ceremony the monarch was host to the party at a midnight supper which was served outside the village in a jungle grove.

Dr. Larson's contention that an additional 2,000,000 persons each year for the next 40 years could be supplied with milk, without adding to the number of dairy herds; if each of America's 22,000,000 dairy cows could produce 100 pounds more milk each year.

Selective breeding and scientific feeding has resulted in an average annual increase of 200 pounds of milk, and if only half as much gain could be made in herds generally the increased milk supply from the present number of cows would provide for 20,000,000 more persons in 1968, Dr. Larson says.

The doctor left the bureau to become a "virtual arbitrator" of the milk, cheese and butter industry of the country. He is managing director of the national dairy council, with headquarters at Chicago, and his present task is to stabilize the dairy market so that over supply of products is absorbed either by by-product use or through better marketing conditions.

PARIS EVENING GOWNS SHOW MORE FORMALITY

(Associated Press Fashion Editor)

Paris, June 16.—More dining and less dancing on the part of society is indicated by the dressmaker's order books. Evening gowns are noticeably more formal and restrained, which disappeared when the black robe de chambre came into vogue. Only the robes de chambre were decorated with dancing motifs. Full skirts, made from net, tulle, chiffon or velvet, usually indicate the ballroom frock. Most of the robes de style are elaborate and meant for private ball rooms instead of public dancing places. Simple elegance is preferred for night clubs.

Just why the change in evening styles has taken place dressmakers fail to explain, except that cold weather has retarded the appearance of diaphanous evening dresses at the outdoor dancing clubs, or the fashionable restaurants in the Bois de Boulogne. Society's nighty cranes itself into the small, warm night clubs where the dance floors are so small and the crowds so great that only the simplest and sturdiest evening dresses survive the crush.

WOMEN ARE LITTLE HELP IN COURT, SAYS LAWYER

QUEBEC, June 16.—Women, lawyers, and experts, make the weak witnesses in court, says Antoine Turvay, Quebec attorney. "A woman is by nature a bad witness in the court," he says. "She does not speak or act with her mind, but with her heart, but the men should be the last to complain of this. In cross-examination she will become peeved at the first question put to her, and is apt to go too far in her answers and reveal the property of a transient, Mike Rowan, who is said to be familiar with the inside of jails at Twin Falls and Reno. He was given 60 days to acquaint himself with the Burley jail, together with a $100 fine.

Furniture Matched With Period Piano

NEW YORK, June 16.—Pianos are continuing a new note this season, but it is not included in the chromatic scale. It is the note of fashion.

To keep in tune with the present interior decoration trends, the standard uprights and grands of yesterday are now but exhibit A and B in a 26 letter alphabet of "piano models," said John E. Gorman, vice president of the American Piano Company, at the Music Trades convention.

Instruments of today in piano show rooms are displayed in designs for every period—Louis XVI, Renaissance, Spanish, antique, or Chippendale—to match the period furniture now popular in American living rooms.
