FOUL BALLS By FUDGE

That makes it better. You, much better, it looks like the Bruins had their hitting eye once again.

Thirty-two base hits for two games in the same day ought to win a couple.

Both Walters and Robertson were hurling nice ball out there and when the pinchers came they both tightened. Now for some more like that.

day to win two games for Wild Bill was taking no chances and had the big collegian warm all the time.

It looked a while as though some participating pitcher might win Bill Lewis and Bobby Coltin for a dancing contest. Bill did his in the dug-out and Bobby performed on the first base line.

The faithful accused Price of making Bobby a gift of a base on ball in the last inning yesterday, after It's 3 P. M. today and the last chance for a week and a half to see them Bruins play ball. Those crowds yesterday were the best of the season and it makes a lotta difference both to the players and the fans.

Benjamin was clouting the pill in there yesterday—one single, three doubles and a homer is a right smart lot of base hits for one day. He batted plenty of chances.

Pottman joined the team yesterday and will be in uniform today. He is a port-sider and ought to win some ball games for the Bruins.

Earwood did enough work yesterday.

TOLERANCE TOPIC OF JOSEPH ROBINSON'S ARKANSAS ADDRESS

State-Wide Celebration Honors States First Candidate for Vice Presidency; "Age of Bigotry Passes," Says Solomon

(By The Associated Press) LITTLE ROCK, Ark., July 4—Senator Joseph T. Robinson sounded a plea for religious tolerance at an independence day celebration here today in his first formal address since he was nominated for vice president on the Democratic ticket.

In the morning Senator and Mrs. Robinson rode in a parade through the city while the day's program was climaxed by Senator Robinson's address at the fairgrounds in the afternoon.

Large Crowd Crowds gathered here from all over the state heard the senator's ringing appeal for complete separation of church and state.

REPORTERS GUESTS OF NATION'S CHIEF AT BIRTHDAY PARTY

the lodge's landing. The dog was now barking and rocking the canoe and leaning over the edge in an effort to lap the pool's water. Mr. Coolidge took no notice until he realized that no fish could be caught with so much commotion, a single "quit" from the chief executive was enough to make him stop "abuse" in the bottom of the canoe.

Keeps on Trying Mr. Coolidge tried the other of the two rods he had with him, but failed with his guide; and patiently kept on trying.

Suddenly the line tautened. Mr. Coolidge started reeling in his line, sharply, with vigorous splashes at the other end of it. The splashes approached the canoe and just as Larock's forward with a net to bring the catch on board the commotion in the water seemed to double. Mr. Coolidge reeled in the fish with double entry and the net brought in two fish on the single line.

Mr. Coolidge waved his excitement. He held up the biggest of the fish—a large three-and-one-half-pound rainbow trout—Larock was all smiles and the onlookers cheered. The incident startled his line and cast again. A streak of luck had been seen, for within a few minutes a trout struck and a third fish was brought out of the water.

First Lady Gets a Marcell

THE FIRST LADY of the land attracted a crowd of about a thousand women when word spread that she was inside a Duluth, Minnesota, beauty parlor having her hair done recently. She is shown above leaving the shop with J. Filigrand, her personal secret-service guard.

Judge John Coolidge, wearing a red sport coat and lined high boots was watching his mother who was wearing her usual white costume. "They both came forward to meet Mr. Coolidge and asked what luck he had had. He waved in triumph to the box where the fish were and lifted his more confident, placing each after as he watched their interest.

The reporters and photographers got ready to leave thinking the visit was over. "Where is the cake?" Mr. Coolidge queried suddenly. A huge 17-pound Angel birthday cake with frosted sides bearing 66 candles was brought out from the house and set on a little table on the lawn.

nothing about his religious beliefs. At this point the audience which jammed the old hall that was once used for a national convention broke into prolonged applause and the governor turned his flushed face.

Lover of America Mr. Smith said that he was a lover of America and in sympathy with the aims and purposes of the Constitution that gives life and vitality to the Declaration.

The governor made no mention of politics and only passing comment on his nomination for the presidency. When he acceded the rostrum John B. Voorhis, 69-year-old grand sachem of the society, placed about his neck the green-and-gold sash—in sign of a member of Tammany and then recalled that three years ago the chairman of a similar meeting had predicted Smith's nomination in 1928. He said that the governor's reply to the prediction had been "I accept the nomination."

An investment of state funds in bonds and mortgages of more than $12,000,000. Let us consider how this department is organized. There is a department manager who employs two men assistants and four women.

These seven persons take care of all the details of handling and investment of the state's money. The department will not add that the value of our public investments has increased during the last eight years at the rate of more than one-half million dollars per year.

"As I have said, the value of our public investments amounts to more than $12,000,000. The total capital surplus and undivided profits of the state and national banks in Idaho amounts to less than $10,000,000. As there are 341 banks in the state and its each of these banks employs from 3 to 15 people, it can be easily seen that the state is handling this activity with a minimum number of employees. A few years ago when the agricultural activities of the state were limited to wheat growing and stock raising, the legislature considered it sufficient to vote money to pay the salaries of one or two men to look after the interests of the citizens engaged in these vocations.

KLAN PLANS TO VAIL FOR SENATOR HEFLIN

Hefflin Surprised JACKSON, Mich., July 4 (AP)—Senator Thomas J. Hefflin expressed surprise tonight when he learned that a large gathering of Ku Klux Klansmen had turned out at Jamaica, N. Y., to see the senator.

Hefflin declared he had not been booked for a Jamaica address. "I was booked to appear in Jackson two weeks ago and I was to explain the affair," the senator said. "I recall having received an invitation to appear at Jamaica July 4, while I was in Albany, New York, recently. I had received several other invitations for July 4 addresses, but likewise declined owing to the previous local engagement."

Protect your investment in your MODEL T FORD

THE Ford Motor Company is making a new car, but it is still proud of the Model T. It wants every owner of one of these cars to run it as long as possible at a minimum of expense.

Because of this policy, and because of the investment that millions of motorists have in Model T cars, the Ford Motor Company is devoting a large part of its factories to making parts, in order that owners may enjoy uninterrupted service for many years to come.

More than eight million Model T Fords are still in active service, and many of them can be driven for two, three and five years and even longer at small cost.

New fenders, for instance, cost from $3.50 to $5 each, with a labor charge of $1 to $2.50. Tuning up the motor and replacing commutator case, brush and vibrator points costs only $1, with a small charge for material. Brake shoes can be installed and emergency brakes equalized for a labor charge of only $1.25.

The labor charge for overhauling the average rear axle runs from $5.75 to $7. Grinding valves and cleaning carbon can be done for $3 to $4.

A set of four new pistons costs only $7 and an installation charge of $6. For a labor charge of $20 to $25 you can have your motor and transmission completely overhauled. Parts are extra.

All of these prices are approximate, of course, because the cost of materials needed will depend on the condition of each car. They show, however, the low cost of putting the Model T Ford in shape for thousands of miles of additional service.

See the nearest Ford dealer, therefore, and have him estimate on the cost of reconditioning your Model T Ford. He will tell you, in advance, exactly how much the complete job will cost.

5000 PERSONS SEE INDEPENDENCE DAY WILD WEST RODEO

Si Rose, Murtaugh, Masters High Eagle for First Money Shorty Hicks and Joe Naylor Place, 17 Riders Don Spurs

Nearly 5000 persons jammed the stands and all available space on Lincoln field, overlooking the dense surrounding trees and witnessed Si Rose, Murtaugh, take first money in Twin Falls Fourth of July rodeo with his winning High Eagle. This was the largest crowd ever assembled in Twin Falls for a Fourth of July buckeroo event.

Rose's remarkable ride on High Eagle won him the judges' decision and first prize of $25. Shorty Hicks, eighth rider, took second place and $30 worth of prize money for his ride on Dave Pica in the flambé. This was of $20 went to Joe Naylor, Rock Creek, who mastered Red Wing in the flambé.

Former champion Thorton Seven were thrown by their mounts during the course of the afternoon. The upset of the program was the throwing of Mart Fear, Rock Creek, winner of last year's Independence day rodeo.

Judges of the events were: H. P. Larsen, Rock Creek; E. U. McIntyre, Kimberly; and Craver G. Davis, Piler. All old time stockmen. Don Silvers proved capable in the role of announcer, keeping the spectators informed at all times concerning the events.

Credit for handling the program on schedule time belongs to Fay Cox, former manager of Murtaugh and of Twin Falls, who served as manager of the rodeo. The first event started promptly at 4 o'clock and the winners were announced shortly after 8 o'clock. The program was unmarred by accident.

The general opinion of the spectators was that this has been the most successful and thrilling rodeo ever staged at a Fourth of July celebration in this section.

unmistakably enjoying itself throughout the whole affair. Motion picture cameramen representing two of the principal services, mingled with the crowd throughout the day, and apparently found plenty of material for news pictures.

Captain Taylor's daring parachute leap, which opened the day's program, attracted to the big bridge a crowd of spectators. About 10,000 persons who traveled to the scene in automobiles that were banked on both sides of the road more than two miles back of the site of the leap, was nicely timed and executed.

The veteran aviator in his lines along the canyon rimrock watched the veteran aviator climb down the supporting cables and strap the last of his traps 35 feet below the floor. The big trapeze flew the parachute hung limp from a pole extending out from the side wall of the park.

It was Taylor's second leap from the big bridge. A year ago, when it was nearing completion, he dropped from the unfinished center span, the feat being witnessed by several hundred persons. Motion picture cameras recorded the performance.
