

ON AUGUST EVENING SMITH WILL DELIVER ACCEPTANCE SPEECH

Crowd of 100,000 Persons Expected to Mass in Park Adjacent to State Capitol of New York; Nation Will Listen In

(By The Associated Press) ALBANY, July 24—From the towering east steps of the state capitol, Governor Smith will tell the country at twilight on Wednesday, August 22, just where he stands on campaign issues. The date for his notification ceremony, which will get under way at 7:30 eastern daylight time, was fixed today.

Around and below the Democratic presidential nominee on the high stonier and in the adjoining park, it is expected a crowd, perhaps numbering more than 100,000, will be massed.

Follows Custom It is the Governor's custom to give out news concerning his plans direct to newspapermen at daily press conference. Today after the cigars had been passed, a reporter led off with the question which, for once, has brought a negative response: "Any notification plans yet?" "Yes," Smith replied, as from behind his desk he smiled and shifted his chair.

That hall is scarcely large enough to accommodate the notification committee members—family and personal friends, distinguished guests and newspapermen, "but radio arrangements will be made so that the country could listen in just the same."

Although he has not yet given his acceptance speech into writing, Governor Smith figures "it will take him an hour or so to write out the program adequately all campaign issues, including prohibition and farm relief."

AGRICULTURAL FACTIONS
PENALTY OF LABOR
Morones Held Partly Responsible for Assassination of President-Elect Oregon; As

BY THE Associated Press
MEXICO CITY, July 24.—Agricultural groups in various parts of Mexico today look upon the demand of the labor union in Mexico that all labor influences be removed from the Mexican government.

In several parts of Vera Cruz and other States in the south, agrarian demonstrations occurred, speakers demanding that the followers of Luis Morones, until a few days ago secretary of labor, be ousted not only from the cabinet but from congress as well. At the same time in the capital the Obregonists leaders, Soto y Chama and Aurelio Manrique, repeated their charge that the labor union organization and the labor party in both of which Morones was the guiding spirit, were "psychologically responsible for General Obregon's assassination."

Morones fired an advice from apparently reliable sources received in New York today that Sen. Morones was fired upon as he was leaving a theatre July 15, two days before General Obregon's slaying and that he was wounded in the thigh. There is no confirmation of the report from any other source, and cables received from Mexico City failed to mention the alleged shooting.

So insistent were the agrarian leaders of Obregon's enemies that they declared they did not even ask for the death penalty for Jose de Leon, the actual slayer.

Senators fired an advice from apparently reliable sources received in New York today that Sen. Morones was fired upon as he was leaving a theatre July 15, two days before General Obregon's slaying and that he was wounded in the thigh. There is no confirmation of the report from any other source, and cables received from Mexico City failed to mention the alleged shooting.

TUNNEY COMPLETES TRAINING FOR BOUL WITH IRON BENDER

For First Time Champion Finishes Preparations for Bout Without Suffering Some Annoying Injury; Works Hard

(By The Associated Press) SPECULATOR, N. Y., July 24.—Radiating confidence and good nature, Gene Tunney today ended up his own training course for the defense of his title against Tom Heeneey Thursday night by going through a hard workout.

After the session, Jimmy Bronson, the champion's chief second, breathed a sigh of relief for Tunney had escaped without a mark in his first training for a major bout without suffering some annoying injury, generally in the last workout.

Outside of two rope burns on his shoulders, Tunney is in perfect physical shape. Mentally he is the peak of his fitness, a trace of nervousness or ill temper, traits which most fighters are wont to display on the eve of championship battles.

After Tunney had dressed for his final training, his performance this afternoon, he was surrounded by newspaper photographers who subjected him to a long and somewhat tiresome interview throughout.

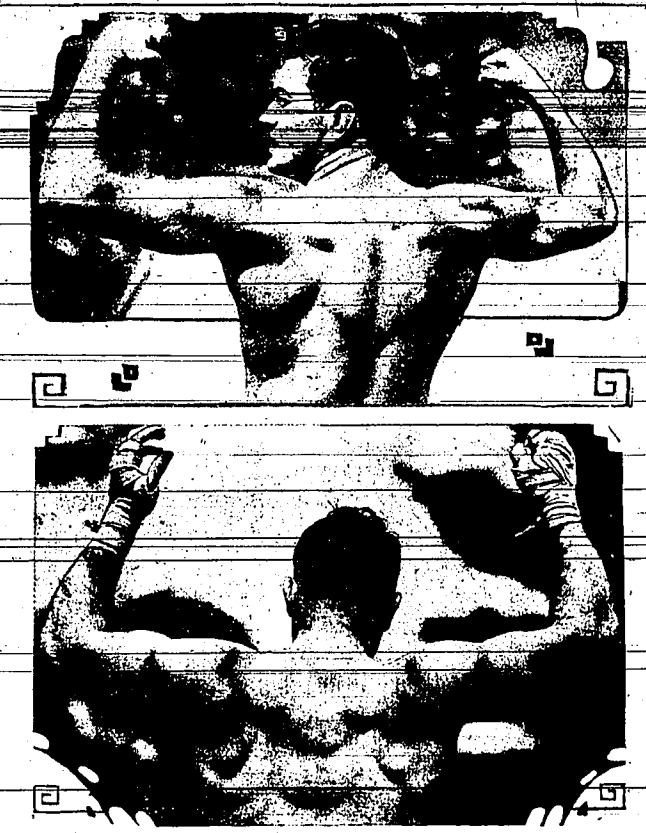

When his final training session ended after slugging the light and heavy punching bags for four rounds, he instructed Harold Mays his favorite sparring partner to "step on it."

Mays tried to obey instructions during their two-round bout. He started by pushing at Tunney but the champion side-stepped and landed his right-hand jab on Mays' jaw.

The slug came through the 16-ounce training glove with a bang. Mays held his head upright until his head cleared of the blow and then he shot a right hook to Widabeck's head.

The champion had just as easy a time when he took on Billy Vidabeck, the other sparring partner, in a bout which was ended by Tunney's own hand and clear without extending himself but once, when he shot a right hook to Widabeck's head.

LITTLE DIFFERENCE IN SHOULDER DEVELOPMENT OF TWO FIGHTERS

THESE EXCELLENT PICTURES show the marvelous shoulder development of Gene Tunney, champion of the world, and Tom Heeneey, challenger for his title, who met at the Yankee Stadium in New York. There isn't a great deal to choose between the two men, judging from their backs. Tunney, however, has the longer reach, which will help him tremendously. Upper is Tunney.

TOM HEENEY READY TO MEET CHAMPION IN TITULAR BATTLE

"Was Never So Confident of Winning a Fight," Says New Zealand Challenger; Will Not Have Alibis if He Is Beaten

(By The Associated Press) FAIRHAVEN, N. Y., July 24.—Tom Heeneey today wound up training for his title bout with Gene Tunney, world weight champion, next Thursday night, expressing supreme confidence of winning.

"I was never so confident of winning a fight as my championship shot against Tunney," he said. "If I am beaten I have no alibi to offer, but in any event, my condition. You cannot make that foot stomp. I have never seen Tunney except to shake hands with him at Tex Rickard's dinner but I have studied his style—in motion pictures. My fight against Jack Delaney and Bill Scott have put me wise against Tunney's way of boxing. I have no plans to disclose right now because I'll make the most of the publicity progress. All I want to do is to get the feel of Tunney in the ring. It will not take the long to learn how Tunney plans to fight."

The first round I will know all that is to be known. Then I will go to the ring and see the truth of my fighting. He says he is going to knock me out. Maybe I will stop him. I am going in there to do my best."

Trainer as Companion. After taking his last look at the punching bag, Heeneey stole away to remain in privacy until Thursday morning when he will appear in Madison Square Garden. His only companion tonight and tomorrow will be Hennesey, his trainer.

The challenger plans to spend tomorrow in relaxation. A short walk in early morning, breakfast, a rub-down, and a spin on the Shrewsbury river in a yacht of Chris Schmidt, a wealthy sportsman of Rumson, a nearby village, comprises his program.

Tunney will go to the scene of the battle by airplane but Heeneey will go to New York by water. Having accepted Schmidt's offer to use the yacht for the trip. The craft will leave on Tuesday morning, reaching New York two hours later.

From indications today the New Zealander will weigh in at about 188 pounds, the weight he figured on reaching before. He started training six weeks ago. He weighed 202 pounds before working this afternoon and 198 afterwards.

Tom Heeneey included in his final workout in the sweltering heat of the old barn, on the Rumson farm kennel. His workout was an equivalent of two rounds—punching the bag for two rounds, shadow boxing for two rounds and skipping the rope for two rounds. Heeney dripped a healthy perspiration minute after he commenced work, indicating to the old-timers that he is in perfect condition.

OHIO PICNIC AT FAIRGROUNDS. "There will be an Ohio picnic at the fairgrounds, Friday, Saturday, July 26th. All former Ohio residents now living in Twin Falls county are invited to attend. PROGRESSIVE PARTY
DISSOLUTION RAISES
AFFILIATION ISSUE

Bona Fide Converts From One Party to Another May Participate in Primaries, Election Judges Decide

While primaries may be legally held in the Progressive party and supplies have been sent to their committees in accordance with law so that names for a county ticket and names of delegates may be written in by generally believed by leaders in the movement in Twin Falls county there will be a great deal of talk off in the primary vote and that many members of the party will join one of the other parties. This has raised the question as to whether or former Progressives converted to other parties may enter the primaries.

There is apparently no obstacle to their doing this, provided they do so in good faith, by reason of conversion to party principles so that they are bona fide members of the party whose primary they expect to enter. For instance, a person who voted for the Democratic or Progressive party two years ago and four years ago, but who has been converted to the Republican or Socialist party by reason of platform utterances or by the personal stand of Herbert Hoover as president, and who has no national affairs and decides to assist in the election of the Republican ticket or the Socialist party, which he determines to affiliate. Of course, if a member of another party becomes a Democrat the same rule applies.

Confusion Arises

Some confusion has arisen, it is said, in this regard because of the fact that a person filing a nomination must sign an affidavit that he voted at the previous election with the party from which he expects to receive a nomination. This condition is not exacted from those whose names may be written in by voters at any primary election, in the event of a challenge of a voter who seeks to cast a ballot in a primary.

The following paragraphs of the election law show the limitations on the right to challenge, subheads used being those in the statute:

Who Can Vote

No person shall be entitled to vote at any election held in the precinct wherein he offers to vote, unless a member of the political party which he votes in at which he attempts to vote.

Who Subject to Challenge

A person offering to vote at any primary election shall be subject to challenge on any ground that would subject him to challenge in any general election and on any other ground that he is not a bona fide member of the political party held in the primary at which he offers to vote.

Who Determines Right

Any judge at any primary election shall have the authority to administer the oath or affirmation to any person offering to vote or offering to challenge any such person. If any person be challenged for being within any prohibited class thereupon such person shall be examined by the election judges and if the judges of election are satisfied that such person is within such prohibited class his or her vote shall not be counted.

Stage Star in "400" Romance

DRAVELY LOUISE GROODY, musical comedy star, is going to forebear "complicating" the life of young Ogden Goebel, heir to the $15,000,000 estate of the banker-father, according to the story "Part" which is telling and re-telling. The little star is reported to have had an interesting tele-tete with Goebel prior to which the banker informed her that he would cut off his son without a penny in event of his marriage to her.

HERBERT HOOVER TO JOURNEY NORTHWARD IN QUEST OF TROUTH

and under present plans the nominee will be back home Wednesday night of early Thursday.

No Mention of Politics

On the eve of the departure northward, Mr. Hoover will go to San Francisco for the home-coming celebration there which was delayed a week on account of the death of Mrs. Hoover's father, C. D. Hooper, wealthy banker.

After a parade through the streets, the nominee will be welcomed on the steps of the city hall by Governor Young and Mayor Rolph and will make a brief address of appreciation. There will be no mention of politics.

In conducting his friends through the war library at Stanford university, Mr. Hoover estimated a personal gain in the collection of 150,000 volumes, and more than a million and a half of documents which he has obtained from almost all corners of the world. Some of the books and documents have not yet been released for publication, having been given with the understanding that the release dates would open over a period of from 10 to 40 years.

that Hoover would carry at least four southern states—Tennessee, North Carolina, Florida and Alabama, largely through the women's vote.

"When Smith came out as a wet it was the greatest thing that ever happened since the Republican movement in the South," said Mrs. Smith Hughes, Tennessee. "More women have registered than ever before, just to vote against the wet."

Latest Compilation Announced by Statistician Shows 27,909 Cars of 1927 Crop Marketed

By a national automobile manufacturer's organization...

Never before has the shipping season of potatoes continued in such volume and as fast as in the case this year. These cars rolled this year in June, bringing the June total to 176,000 cars. There were approximately 15,000 cars shipped after February 1, 1928.

Last December it was estimated that Idaho had harvested 24,300,000 bushels of potatoes. The 1927 crop, as estimated during the winter and spring, was 21,000,000 bushels. This is 3,300,000 bushels less than the 1926 crop. The 1927 crop was approximately 10 percent less than the 1926 crop.

Peery and Hatton in Melodramatic Comedy

Wallace Peery and Raymond Hatton have taken their "second trip" into the melodramatic comedies. Their type of picture is a clever, snappy, biting with humor.

Theatre

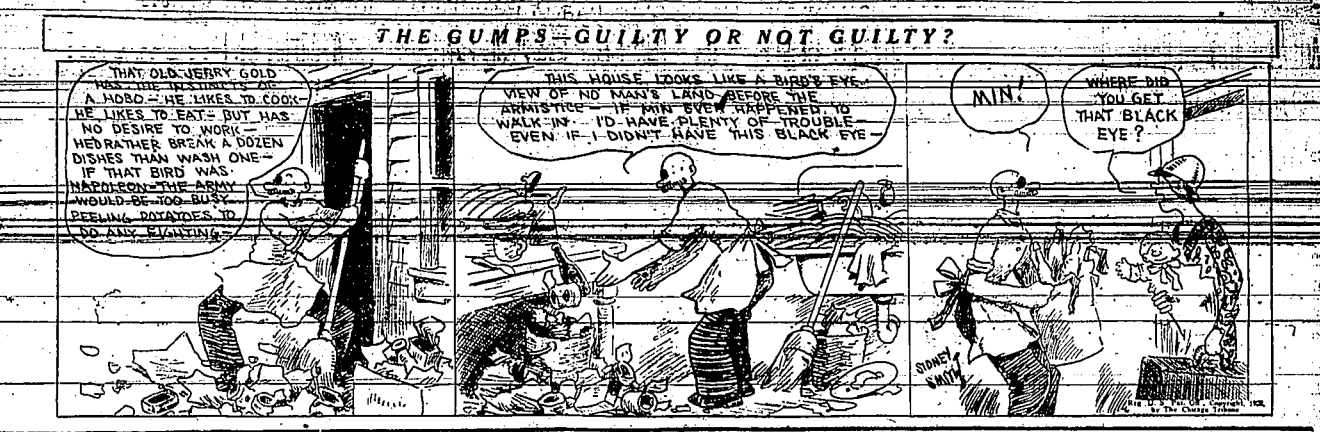

The new Peery-Hatton melodramatic comedy, "The Big Killin'", which will show at the Idaho theatre Friday and Saturday, goes a long way from the "mean" comedies of the past. It deals with a "fat" mountaineer in the background. The type of "divined" still exists in the United States in large numbers but, being little and fat, he is being largely hunted to his own victim by a ruthless little and fat.

Occasionally, when a revenue officer is being hunted by a "big game" hunter, the "big game" hunter is still in these mountain regions, the backwoods mountaineer break but, using a newspaper for a brief period, he is able to escape his "big game" hunter, unworried about the conventions of civilization.

WATER DAY SAINTS PRESENT SUCCESSFUL PRIMARY PROGRAM

Fiftieth Anniversary of Organization of Children's Water Day
Draws 350 Persons; Parade Is Largest Ever Held Here

Nearly 500 children and approximately 350 adults from Twin Falls, Buhl, Kimberly, and Murtaugh attended the primary school program sponsored by the Water Day Saints club in Twin Falls city park Tuesday. Four hundred fifty children participated in the miniature parade at 10.30 a. m. which opened the day's activities. This was the largest children's parade ever held in Twin Falls. The celebration was held to mark the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of the children's organization by the church. Headed by the Twin Falls band, the parade, fully two blocks in length, consisted of children in miniature suits and dresses, carrying with them miniature houses, a miniature float, miniature automobiles, and a miniature fire engine. The parade was a hand of children, many of whom were carried by their parents, and many in miniature cars, some of which were pulled by their parents. Parade is a success
Seen in the line of march were soldiers, sailors, Indians, cowboys, fairies, ballet dancers, clowns, domestic animals, and a whole mass of antics which were carried on by the children. The parade was a hand of children, many of whom were carried by their parents, and many in miniature cars, some of which were pulled by their parents.

President Explains Program
Mrs. Lorenz Phillips, president of the primary organization, Twin Falls, gave a brief talk explaining the development of the children's work since 1878 to the present. The program was presented and the significance of the program which opened at 11.30 o'clock. Various features of the program program illustrated the only activities and entertainment open to young people before the organization of the primary work.

Freddie Babbel, Twin Falls, gave a short talk entitled, "A Boy's Thought" in which he gave the boys' viewpoint of primary. Following the talk, the club group joined in singing the song, "Little Boats." The club group joined in singing the song, "Little Boats."

Thirty-five boys, members of the Trail Builders of Twin Falls, presented an exhibition of pyramid building and tumbling which brought much favorable comment from all who attended the program.
