NOTED STATISTICIAN DISCUSSES RAILROAD STATUS AND OUTLOOK

Two distinct slides to picture as presented in first six months of 1928. Says Babson in Weekly Interview.

(Special to The News) BABSON PARK, MASS., Aug. 4.—There are two distinct slides to picture as presented in the first six months of 1928. Babson's analysis clearly indicates that the railroad situation today is fraught with many severe problems which call for the best brains, vision and energy in the industry. The unfavorable results of operations during the first six months of this year. Complete figures are not yet available for full year, but Babson expects that now conditions are such that nothing more will be done towards the solution of the Eastern consolidation question so far has not shown a tendency to accept the proposals set forth by the leading Eastern systems. Speculation in railroad securities on the part of investors is therefore, hazardous, especially at this stage of the market.

Problems to be met in consolidation of the railroads have to face the fact that their freight traffic is not increasing as fast as it has in the past. In 1927 freight business of all the railroads increased less than 3 per cent per year, whereas in 1926 it increased 11 per cent per year. Doubtless the automobile and the motor truck have had much to do with this decline. Certainly the decline in automobile and bus have cut down passenger traffic. Also a large part of the short-haul freight business is done by truck rather than by rail. On the other hand, the automobile is directly responsible for increasing certain kinds of freight. Since 1913 the tonnage of stone, sand and other road building materials has increased 85 per cent. Had it not been for the motor cars most of these materials would not have been needed, because they are largely used in the construction of roads. Also it is the motor car that has made necessary shipments of steel for the manufacture of motor cars, tires, and other vehicles. These are an important source of freight tonnage. The fact that freight tonnage is not increasing as fast as it was before the war, therefore, is not charged wholly to the automobile and motor truck.

Depression in the coal industry was in a large measure responsible for the falling off in freight carried by the eastern roads. Also the volume of general merchandise shipped up to New York has declined. Improvement in the steel trade and somewhat better general business activity supports the view that the trend toward improvement in the Eastern sections. Nevertheless, during the first five months of the year the volume of freight in the Southern district showed a decline both in gross earnings and in net, even though they succeeded in operating at substantial reductions in operating expenses. In the Western district, however, the roads increased their operating expenses while their operating expenses were reduced 1 1/2 per cent. The excellent harvest of winter wheat, however, has not yet been determined. The carriers serving this section. The improvement in net earnings is all the more striking because this year they are now suffering from the flood conditions. Now in addition to carrying a bumper wheat crop they are carrying a bumper material and labor to the flood reconstruction work.

Some of the conditions in the North-west have recently been seen. The outlook for the development of the railroads in the West is not so bright as it was a few years ago. In Canada, conditions so far have been much more favorable for the railroads. Both Canadian Pacific and Canadian National railroads' gross earnings have been down about 10 per cent about the first six months of 1927. With the outlook for a good wheat crop in 1928, the Canadian railroads should continue to improve on these Canadian roads and earnings should correspondingly benefit.

Mr. Babson expects that nothing more will be done towards the solution of the Eastern consolidation question so far has not shown a tendency to accept the proposals set forth by the leading Eastern systems. Speculation in railroad securities on the part of investors is therefore, hazardous, especially at this stage of the market.

Problems to be met in consolidation of the railroads have to face the fact that their freight traffic is not increasing as fast as it has in the past. In 1927 freight business of all the railroads increased less than 3 per cent per year, whereas in 1926 it increased 11 per cent per year. Doubtless the automobile and the motor truck have had much to do with this decline. Certainly the decline in automobile and bus have cut down passenger traffic. Also a large part of the short-haul freight business is done by truck rather than by rail. On the other hand, the automobile is directly responsible for increasing certain kinds of freight. Since 1913 the tonnage of stone, sand and other road building materials has increased 85 per cent. Had it not been for the motor cars most of these materials would not have been needed, because they are largely used in the construction of roads. Also it is the motor car that has made necessary shipments of steel for the manufacture of motor cars, tires, and other vehicles. These are an important source of freight tonnage. The fact that freight tonnage is not increasing as fast as it was before the war, therefore, is not charged wholly to the automobile and motor truck.

Depression in the coal industry was in a large measure responsible for the falling off in freight carried by the eastern roads. Also the volume of general merchandise shipped up to New York has declined. Improvement in the steel trade and somewhat better general business activity supports the view that the trend toward improvement in the Eastern sections. Nevertheless, during the first five months of the year the volume of freight in the Southern district showed a decline both in gross earnings and in net, even though they succeeded in operating at substantial reductions in operating expenses. In the Western district, route recently examined by the Pennsylvania is but a forerunner of other routes. Instead of feeling themselves menaced by competition from the west, they are now looking forward to the possibilities for the future of railroad transportation. The Babson chart now stands at 2 per cent below normal.

SOCIAL "DICTATORS" GUIDING HOSTESSES

Situations Possible in Washington Society 10 Years Ago Cannot Happen at Present

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—(AP)—Mrs. Jones, new in Washington, formed a certain "ambassador" to her former affairs. She was more distressed when she found that Mrs. Smith was giving the same sort of a party on the same day. Both hostesses struggled along and neither affair was a success. Such situations were possible in Washington society 10 years ago, but they are virtually impossible now, for the details of many social affairs, particularly by those given by women inexperienced in capital social circles, are handled by women who know their blue book from cover to cover. When Mrs. Jones wants to give a party now, she perhaps calls upon Mrs. Helen Ray Hagner, who is regarded as the dean of the capital's social circles. Mrs. Hagner will tell the troubled hostess who to invite, the right time and place to stage the party, engage the most stylish orchestra and attend to all such details with the deftness of one who knows. The mistakes made by inexperienced Washington hostesses led to several women visioning a lucrative field in social dictatorial. Mrs. William Laird Dunlop, Jr., mother of a daughter this season, is another who is a staff of comfort to those who would do the correct thing correctly. Mrs. E. Lee Phillips, another daughter is a 1928 deb, and Mrs. Rose G. Hoos, granddaughter of President Monroe, are partners in another social bureau.

YANKS INCREASING ACTIVITIES AT BAT

New York American May Lose Baseball Games But "Murders" Row Becomes Tougher

CHICAGO, Aug. 4.—The Yankees may look baseball games but the "Murders" Row" seems to get tougher and tougher. While Miller Huggins and his men suffered the worst week of their season so far, their bats were more active than ever. Official averages for the week-up to and including last Wednesday's games reveal: As they dropped four of their eight games, the Yanks averaged .221 as a team in batting, averaged almost eight runs a game and their hits totaled 147 bases. On defense, they committed 14 errors each game. The average and executed nine double plays—a record that most any team in the circuit would be glad to have. Babe Ruth batted his hitting average up .07 points, while most of his mates did almost as well. But it was a Senator, "Goose" Goslin, who topped the individual batting race. The "Goose" increased his average from .326 to .350 during the week and was 26 percentage points ahead of his nearest rival Al Simmons of Philadelphia, whose average declined five points. The 10 leaders and their averages: Goslin, .350; Washington, 309; Simmons, Philadelphia, .328; Gehrig, New York, .305; Lawer, New York, .288; Fox, Philadelphia, .284; Munnich, St. Louis, .272; Miller, Philadelphia, .247; Balfanz, Cincinnati, .245; Ruth, New York, .237; and Myer, Boston, .233.

White Hoyt of the Yankees held his lead in the race for pitching honors by winning another game during the week. Hoyt now has won 13 and lost 2. Jack Gunn of the Athletics was second with 13 victories and four defeats. George Pippen, who held the lead for several weeks, dropped farther from the top, being nipped for two defeats in two starts last week. While New York increased its team batting by two points to hold the lead in that department, Cleveland increased its hitting mark eight points, and was only five points from second place, which is held by Philadelphia. Boston took the lead in team fielding during

GERMAN WOMAN MARVELS OVER AMERICANS' (PEP)

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 4.—(AP)—American "pep" made the greatest impression of anything American upon Fraulein Grete Gross of Hamburg, one of the few women advertising writers in Germany, when she was a delegate to the convention of the International Advertising association. After the convention in Detroit she visited Philadelphia with 33 other German ad writers. "The vim and enthusiasm which you—Americans—accomplish in things is remarkable," Mrs. Gross observed. "Everything here is done on such an enormous scale. The scale on which you produce automobiles and print newspapers is simply amazing. And I was particularly impressed with the high station in life your American workmen enjoy and the great machines which do so much work for him."

Storm Sweeps Over Several Sections, Estimates of Loss in Wheat Fields Range From 20 to 30 Per Cent.

(Special to the News) HANSEN, August 4.—A heavy hail storm swept over several sections...

At the William Hubbell ranch it was estimated immediately after the storm that a small wheat field was damaged to the extent of 30 per cent of its value.

At the William Hubbell ranch in the same neighborhood, the damage to the wheat, while appreciable, was estimated as much less than the early estimate at the Hubbell ranch.

The storm which was preceded and accompanied by considerable wind, came from the southwest. The precipitation was mostly in the form of hail of rather large size, which covered the ground in the neighborhood of the Hubbell and Muller ranches.

At the William Hubbell ranch, four miles south of Hansen there was a smart shower with some hail but no damage was done.

At the Peter Linna who lives two and a half miles south of Hansen, said that wheat and beans on his farm seemed damaged to the extent of 25 per cent of a 65 bushel crop in parts of his field.

Stress of the approaching primary election was reflected here yesterday in marked intensification of the activities of candidates for contested nominations. Candidates facing contests who had spent days and weeks building political fences throughout the county scurried over the territory in last minute inspection tours, or availed themselves of opportunity presented by the crowds in town to extend their personal solicitation for voters' support at the polls next Tuesday.

During the day the county auditor completed delivery of election supplies to precinct committees upon whom responsibility rests for actual operation of the primaries including enrollment of volunteer election officials.

In most instances, precinct committees had completed arrangement for polling places for Tuesday's election. Committees of the two major parties in many precincts operated to the extent of joining in the use of the same voting place. In the Republican camp contests for seven out of the 15 nominations for legislative and county offices to be made at the primaries provided plenty of opportunity for development of interest in the election.

Democrats with announced candidates for only eight of the 15 nominations to be made, and with only two contests to be settled at the primaries, continued casting about for prospective candidates to fill the tickets.

Effort on the part of leaders directed particularly toward bringing out of candidates for the legislature, since it seems to be assumed that the work of the Jefferson club committee that suggested candidates for some of the vacant places, would be permitted to stand in the primary.

J. O. Munyon of Filer, it was learned during the day, has advised members of a delegation that called on him Friday night, that he would accept the nomination for state representative if chosen by expression of the primary voters.

Two Decline to Enter
Two persons mentioned as possible Democratic candidates for the legislature let it be known during the day that they would not enter the running. Mrs. Carrie Whelan, Twin Falls, said to have been requested by a caucus to file for the nomination before the filing period expired, said last evening that her decision given at that time had not been changed and that she would not be laborers in the vicinity yesterday were called into activity. If wooden spillways in the Milner dam have been "piled off" without being cemented to labor in the delivery of water. They have been cemented off lest they should give away and cause trouble.

The number of spillways in the dam when constructed was superfluous, which was a fortunate circumstance, since it was discovered when the structure was completed that the tunnel screws operating the gates were so constructed that 17 of the spillways could not be used.

They have stood firm ever since, but recently began to show signs of weakness, so a cement wall was built behind them. If they had given away at times during the irrigation season considerable loss would have been sustained.

The work of cementing, which was completed yesterday, was done under come a candidate. Juneau H. Shinn, also mentioned as a possible candidate for the house, last evening advised the Democratic county chairman that he did not choose to run.

Socialists Plan Come Back
Socialists, who expect this year to resurrect their party organization in Twin Falls county that passed out of existence during the World war, are reported to have plans for entering a complete ticket for legislative and county offices. It was learned last evening. Nomination of only one candidate, Mrs. Josephine Schuriger of Twin Falls for state senator, was placed on file prior to the expiration of the primary filing period. Social party primaries will be held in two or three Twin Falls precincts and in Buhl and in some of the rural districts.

RENOVATION OF WOMEN'S SHOP NEARS COMPLETION

Workmen have been busy during the last week remodeling and redecorating The Clarendon, women's wear shop on 147 Main avenue west. The interior of the building is being finished and new fixtures will be installed, while the exterior has been newly painted and the show windows finished to correspond.

ATTORNEY WILL ADDRESS MORMON CHURCH MEETING

O. C. Hall, Twin Falls attorney, will deliver an address on the subject, "We Stand For Law," for the English who live in and the Officers who enforce it, at a program to be given by the Mutual Improvement Association of the latter Day Saints church in the ward chapel at 8 o'clock this evening. Other numbers on the program are piano and vocal solos, vocal duets, readings and group singing. The public is invited.

For the past seven years I have conducted a law office in Twin Falls, with extensive practice in this and adjoining counties; and in the Federal Courts. During all this time I have been successful in trying my own cases, without assistance from other attorneys.

It is my conviction that a prosecuting attorney should try every criminal case in which the state has a fighting chance to win, and that violators of the law should be taught to expect stern and uncompromising prosecution when brought to the bar of justice.

If elected to this office, I propose to maintain this policy, together with the strictest economy that is possible without lowering the effectiveness of the office.

Burley Dealer Tells Plans For Extensive Campaign of Publicity for Idaho Crop

BURLEY, Aug. 4.—Idaho potato growers are to inaugurate an advertising campaign, according to Robert J. Hale, Burley potato dealer, who has returned from the recent meeting of the Idaho potato bureau at Boise.

Mr. Hale says that representatives will be appointed to visit all potato growers and request them to agree to support the advertising campaign to the extent of 50 cents per acre of each grower's planting in potatoes. He believes that most growers will agree to this assessment, and that a fund of approximately $50,000 will thereby become available. The proceeds will be used, mainly, for high class magazine advertising, along the lines made use of by organized growers of tennis and other products. He says that all funds assessed will go directly to advertising, as the members of the bureau give their services without salary, and expenses are nominal.

This plan for raising funds was adopted after considering methods of assessing according to each grower, or by carloads shipped, and was proposed by Hale to enable the bureau to determine beforehand the approximate sum available for advertising expense.

COOL MORNING DRESS

PARIS (P)—One of the coolest dresses for warm mornings is of white linen with tiny, most-rose buds in a printed design. It is sleeveless and made on a yoke both at the neck of the blouse and at the hip line. It has no other trimming except a white knit belt with a buckle which matches the tone of the roses.

LORD BURGHEY OF ENGLAND won first place in the 400-metre hurdles at the Olympic games by covering the distance in 53.2-5 seconds—a world's record. But his greatest victory was in winning the hand of the beautiful Lady May Montagu Douglas Scott (insert), fourth daughter of the Duke and Duchess of Buccleuch. The engagement was announced by the happy parents simultaneously with word of Lord Burghey's success at Amsterdam.

THREE GENERATIONS IN SUMMER SCHOOL

Grandmother, Three Daughters And One Granddaughter Attend Kansas State College.

PITTSBURG, Kan., Aug. 4 (AP)—A grandmother, three daughters and one granddaughter are attending school together at the Kansas state teachers' college here this summer.

During the winter, the grandmother, Mrs. E. E. Shipley, is the principal of a grade school at Miami, Okla. She will receive a degree with high honors before she returns to her work this fall. She is majoring in history and making the highest scholastic marks attainable.

One daughter, Mrs. E. S. Walker, a teacher in the Topeka, Kansas schools, is a junior in the college. Another daughter, Mrs. Wayne Lottman, teaches the second grade in the school where her mother is the principal. She too, is a junior, while the youngest daughter, Miss Elizabeth Shipley, a teacher in Picher, Okla., is a sophomore.

Grade and high schools maintained by the teachers' college as laboratories for students of educational methods enable Mrs. Shipley's granddaughters to pursue learning on the same campus. Catherine and Regina, daughters of Mrs. Walker, are enrolled in the high school, while Sue Wayne, daughter of Mrs. Lottman, is in the grade school.

Mrs. Shipley and her daughters' husbands remain at home to help their wives in their chosen work.

"Why, without their help we could do nothing," Grandma Shipley declares. "Our husbands keep our flowers, pets and other things around the house in vacation time, while we are gone."

The grandmothers are at home, they even cook breakfast if they fear we may be late to school."

PRIMARY CAMPAIGN IN CASSIA COUNTY DRAGS

BURLEY, Aug. 4.—After an unusually apathetic political primary campaign in Cassia county, a public meeting of several primary candidates was called for Friday evening at Declo. This was the first chance for public expression candidates have taken advantage of in this county.

Some of the Republican officers have but one aspirant, As to Democrats, only one man filed, A. G. Mathers, for prosecuting attorney. Very little newspaper advertising has been made use of by candidates and no handbills have thus far been scattered for public enlightenment. No close contests have been developed, except possibly for prosecuting attorney and school superintendent. In the case of the latter office there is as much doubt as in the case of President Coolidge whether John I. Wilbur is a candidate or whether he has withdrawn.

THE SKY'S THE LIMIT AT THE PROVING GROUND

The sky is the limit at the great Proving Ground of General Motors, near Milford, Michigan. Every phase of a car's performance is tested to the limit of its ability.

The new Oldsmobile went through 1,177,000 miles of testing at the Proving Ground before it was ever offered to the public—tests far more severe than any owner could ever give.

And thousands of Oldsmobile buyers throughout America have added further proof in the form of millions of miles of actual driving.

But don't accept even this proof as final. Come drive the Fine Car of Low Price yourself and make your own comparisons.

GOOD CROP OUTLOOK SENDS PRICES DOWN

September Delivery of Corn Especially Weak as Result of Persistence of Sellers

CHICAGO, Aug. 4 (AP)—Bright prospects for big yields sent values downward today to the lowest level reached this season by any wheat or by December or March corn. September delivery of corn, although not representing the new crop now in the fields, was especially weak as a result of persistent selling on the part of holders.

Closing quotations on wheat were heavy, 1 1/2c to 1 3/4c net lower, corn 1/2c to 1c down, oats a shade to 1/2c off, and provisions ranging from a decline to a rise of 2c.

Outdoing the season's latest previous low record which had only been established 24 hours before, wheat values gave way from the start. Houses with foreign connections were prominent in the selling, and meanwhile there was a hand selling of extra suspicious weather in spring wheat territory. Besides, authoritative advice said winter wheat harvest had progressed to the northern limits of the belt with returns generally better than expected, and that spring wheat is maturing rapidly.

Some speculative buying developed on the ground that when it is selling below the cost of production and that present low prices will increase consumption. Closing figures, however, were not little above the level which had been reached by the week the market showed 6 1/2c to 6 3/4c a bushel net decline.

ADVANCE SPECULATORS CONTROL PRICE MOVES

NEW YORK, Aug. 4 (AP)—Speculators for the advance retained control of the price movement in today's session of the stock market bidding up a select list of specialties to new high records.

Extreme heat which kept the market away from the financial district, total sales for the two-month session ran nearly to 1,000,000 shares.

Wall Street, apparently not worried over the action of the New York Clearing House association seeking to restrict the volume of corporate loans on securities collateral.

Brokers acted on the theory that there were still sufficient funds available for legitimate stock market prices without encroaching on the funds of business and agriculture.

Chrysler was again the leader of the automobile group, climbing 3 points to 94 1/2, but lost part of its gains on profit-taking.

New high records for the year or longer were established by American Union Carbide, American Sulphate, Tobacco, Electric Auto-Lite, and other specialties.

Good demand also was noted for such issues as American Sugar, South Porto Rico Sugar and Goodyear.

Rails were quiet and featureless.

NEW YORK, Aug. 4 (AP)—An irregularly higher movement of stock prices, with a few specialties, led to a curtailment of the volume of speculative credit, an unusually small volume of new bond financing, a decrease in commodity prices, and the weakness of foreign exchange rates, divided speculative interest in the week's financial and commodity markets.

Buying of stocks was of a highly speculative character, and centered in the market for commodities, particularly in the current earnings of oil, steel, and sugar, and in the market for oil, steel, and sugar.

D. MORE'S FOLLY

Illustrated by Vera Myers

Victory had slipped. I was out of breath. I had been through the worst of it. I had been through the worst of it.

The moon was shining brightly, throwing its pale light upon the scene. The moon was shining brightly, throwing its pale light upon the scene.

I felt rather than saw Josephine shake her head. "I don't know," she murmured. "I heard something and came to the window to see what it was. Just after that time that light blazed out. Could it be a meteor?"

"Then what?" Josephine did not finish. She stopped with a gasp. Into the circle of light floated two figures—a man and a woman. I saw them distinctly; I saw them distinctly.

I was shaking all over with a mixture of terror and awe—and cold. I had dreamed Josephine to be dead and now she was here, beneath the stars. "Oh, Josephine," I gasped. "We've seen a ghost—two ghosts."

Josephine did not answer. But that was nothing strange. Not answering was Josephine's forte. She just looked at me and held her breath.

I held on, too. But not for long. I was getting warm again, and with warmth came courage. And with courage came courage. And with courage came courage.

They had come back and out. If they were giving a continuous peep, I should have heard it. I should have heard it. I should have heard it.

Josephine's detaching fingers, and I tipped to the window. "I don't know," she said. "I don't know," she said. "I don't know," she said.

I got to the window and looked out. The moon was shining just as it might have been expected. The moon was shining just as it might have been expected.

At first I thought I would wake Josephine, but I decided not to do so. Very carefully I got out of the bed and into my slippers and wrapper and slipped on the lock. The lock was well oiled and turned easily and I opened the door a crack and peeped into the corridor. Instantly the music ceased. I had been expected. I had been expected.

Come to think of it, why shouldn't there be dancing ghosts in the old house? Of course, ghosts might not be hard to stand such an architectural conglomeration of styles as Old Moore's Folly. But, after all, if I did see a ghost, I had seen one of the best of them. I had seen one of the best of them.

Only I knew it hadn't. I knew it hadn't, created because somebody had told me. I knew it. And it didn't scare me a bit. Ghosts can't scare me.

THE GUMPS—THE SOLOIST

"THANK YOU FOR INQUIRING—DEAR—I HAD A VERY BUSY DAY AT THE OFFICE—WHERE WAS I WHEN YOU CALLED ME UP? I MUST HAVE BEEN OUT TO LUNCH—WHAT'S THAT? DO YOU REALLY MEAN TO SAY YOU SPENT THE WHOLE DAY WORRYING ABOUT ME?"

"WELL—IF YOU INSIST ON MY ANSWERING YOUR QUESTION—I MUST ADMIT THE ANSWER IS—NOW, DARLING, DON'T SAY ANY OTHER WORD ABOUT IT—AS YOU SAY—THE COFFEE WAS COLD—BUT I LIKE IT THAT WAY—HOT COFFEE ALWAYS BURNS MY TONGUE."

"WHY NO—I DIDN'T SAY YOU WERE IDIOT GABBY—OF COURSE, AS YOU SAY—IT WAS FOOLISH TO SPEND ALL THAT MONEY FOR ONE RAT—YES, DEAR, THE BILL FOR YOUR CLOTHES DOES SEEM VERY EXTRAORDINARY—BUT YOUR MARRIAGE IS DECLINING IN WEALTH—SO KEEP ON THROWING HIS MONEY AWAY—NOW, THAT YOU'VE EXPLAINED EVERYTHING—I'D LIKE TO SAY A FEW WORDS."

But dancing ghosts were different. If they really were ghosts, of course I should be terrified. But then it would be a matter of time before they would be in the future. On the other hand if they were merely people dancing in my house at midnight I wanted to know who they were and how it was that they slipped out in the corridor and down the stairs.

COMMERCE CHAMBER

SHOWS SUCCESS IN GAINING OBJECTIVES

Merchants' Body is Active in Securing Road Improvement

Accomplishment List Long; Publicity Material Offered

Twin Falls chamber of commerce has made progress in all but two of its 20 major activities outlined for the present year, according to the quarterly report issued recently by Newell B. Wright, secretary. The two objectives along which no advancement has been made during the last quarter are the securing of improved mail-passenger-and-express-service to Wells, and the graveling of Addison avenue and the wholesale district.

Activities of the local chamber of commerce have been turned to construction "and improvement" of highways which are most advantageous to Twin Falls from the standpoint of tourist travel and shopping advantages.

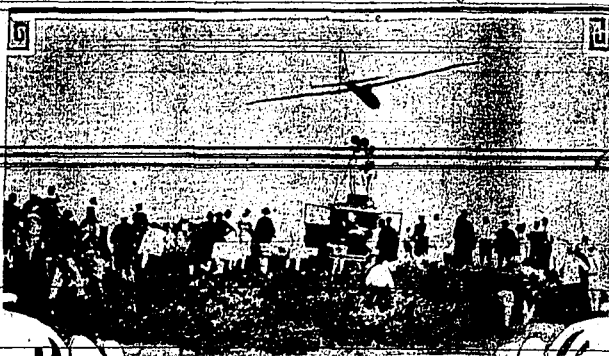

Co-operation is offered by the local chamber of commerce in the matter of furnishing stories and photographs of the Twin Falls country to various types of publications, clubs, film companies, schools and towns. During the last three months 24 publicity-units were sent out. Through co-operation with the Twin Falls County Real Estate board, magazine articles, newspaper advertisements, direct brought inquiries from 2941 persons interested in locating in this territory.

Among the various accomplishments of the body during the last quarter are: The presentation of a successful free Fourth of July program; securing of four important state conventions; co-operation with the state university and Union Pacific system in the special dairy-demonstration train; securing of a federal employment office again this year; maintenance of "blue-card" solicitors' system; agitation for a broadcasting station; dedication of Shoshone falls illumination; agitation for the location of a fruit-and-vegetable cannery here and for reduction in freight rates comparable with California rates which gives California products a decided advantage over those of Idaho.

SLEEVES MATCH NECKLINE
PARIS' 49—Sleeves are the subject of much more thought than they were when mannish modes prevailed. They revel in draperies in trimming on the cuffs in cut, and hem-stitched designs. Whenever possible the treatment on the sleeve is a repetition of the trimming at the neck-line.

Theatres

"Freckles" On Screen

Charming Production

Introducing on the screen the best known "book of a famous author's "Freckles," by Gene Stratton-Porter, is to be presented at the Orpheum theatre today and tomorrow. It is an FBO production of Leo Meehan, who has directed many screen successes based on the works of Mrs. Porter. "Freckles" deals with the simple and charming love affair between an orphan boy and a wealthy girl who meet through their mutual love of the great outdoors and the mysteries it presents.

Laid in the Lumberlost forest, made famous by Mrs. Porter, the thrilling story is presented against a background of woodland dells and giant trees which will appeal to every true lover of nature.

A one-armed boy, an orphan without a friend, is given the hazardous task of guarding the valuable timber in the Lumberlost. Through a marvelous collection of moths he accumulates, he makes the acquaintance of the Bird Woman and her daughter, whom he likens to an angel.

The boy's life is a dangerous situation and several breath-taking encounters and his open-hearted frankness win the respect of the elder woman and the love of the girl, who when her lover gets in trouble with timber thieves, comes gallantly to his aid.

But the timber guard realizes the difference in station between himself and his love and is afraid to propose. Only an accident in which he almost loses his life to save hers brings them together in a sweet and charming remarkable cast was assembled by Moelian to make "Freckles," and it includes John Fox, Jr., Gene Stratton-Porter, Robert E. Hensen, Billy Scott, and Lyle Stetson.

Bebe Daniels Scores

New Hit in "Hot News"

"Bebe Daniels' admirers will feel that she has made the most spectacularly thrilling picture of her career when they see "Hot News," which opens at the Idaho theatre this afternoon for one day only.

Abounding in adventure, suspense, thrills, humor and romance, it will appeal to people in all walks of life as one of the most entertaining films this popular star has ever made.

The story deals with the exploits of a newswoman who steps into her father's business at a crucial moment and saves him from ruin by "accusing" the other newswoman at every turn.

The climax of the picture is one that is warranted to give the most blasé moviegoer a thrill. Airplanes and government coast guard cutters are employed to make this an unusually spectacular finish.

"Hot News" is excellent screen fare. It tells an authentic story of one of the most adventurous professions in the world—that of the news reel cameraman. Miss Daniels is her usual wonderful self in this picture and, in addition to her talents as a comedienne, she has produced an air-athlete's nothing short of amazing. Neil Hamilton lends capable support to the star as a rival cameraman and Paul Lukas makes a splendid villain and brings about a spectacular climax.

In the comedy, "From Soup to Nuts," Laurel and Hardy provide a menu of mighty mirth, and the MGM News complete this program here today only.

Appreciate are cheap this year. Why not eat a two years supply and be safe? Ed Vance, Public Market—Adv.
