

PLANE HURLED FROM OCEAN LINER AT SEA LANDS IN NEW YORK Airship Carrying Crew of Three, Passenger and Cargo of Mail, Cuts 18 Hours Off Trans-Atlantic Voyage

(By The Associated Press) NEW YORK, Aug. 13 (AP)—An air plane was hurled from a catapult on the deck of the liner Le France, 400 miles at sea today, and landed in New York harbor and dropped down at Quarentine, five hours later with a crew of three, a passenger and a mail bag.

The flight was the first in which a plane ever was catapulted from a moving steamer's deck, and it inaugurates a ship-to-shore service which will be made regular hereafter, and which the French liner proposes eventually to extend to regular passenger service.

Plans Longer Flight A catapult weighing 60 tons and an amphibian plane of nearly four tons were used in the experiment today.

Commander Louis B. Monrouzeau, a radio operator, and A. Barzakh, mechanic, were on the plane. The Associated Press reported the takeoff was perfect. The plane carried fuel sufficient only for 40 miles flight, but in the future the steamship company plans to load more fuel for longer flights that will cut a full day from the time of transporting important transatlantic mail.

At quarantine the plane and its crew went through the usual examinations to which all incoming steamship passengers are submitted but these formalities were completed in less than an hour and the plane for the air one more for a short hop to the French liner pier at the foot of West Fourteenth street.

There the mail sacks were unloaded and transferred to the foreign mail division of the postoffice. Commander Monrouzeau left his report at the company offices and went ashore.

There was a little over a half-ton of mail, which was taken to the Chamberlain, pilot of the monoplane. When the French liner officials and inspectors came alongside the plane at quarantine in a fast motorboat it was disclosed that Pierre de Magville, an official of the line, had made the flight. In his report to the company he stated that the flight was a success and that the practicality of regular ship-to-shore service was demonstrated.

CHINA MAKES PEACE IN NANKING AFFAIR

Great Britain Accepts Expression of Regret; Refuses to Apologize for Firing

LONDON, Aug. 13 (AP)—A settlement between Great Britain and the Nationalist government on the Nanking incident of March, 1927, that is virtually the end of the case, was reached last April by the United States and the Nationalist government over the same incident. The Nationalist government blamed the trouble on Communists.

Under the settlement the Nanking government apologized for firing on the British gunboat and undertakes to punish those guilty of it. The British government declined to apologize for firing on the gunboat and agreed to negotiations on treaty revision "in due course."

The letters under which the settlement was reached were exchanged on August 9 between Dr. C. T. Wang, Nationalist foreign minister, and Sir Miles Lampson, British minister in China, and were made public tonight.

In the first letter Wang conveyed the Nationalist government's profound regret at the indignities and injuries inflicted upon official representatives of the British government and for the loss and injuries sustained by the British consulate and residents.

In a short note Sir Miles accepted the Chinese letter. Wang then in another letter Wang alluded to the bombardment of Soocoo Hill by the British cruiser General and expressed the earliest hope that the British government would express regret for the incident.

The Nanking incident of March, 1927, took place shortly after the capture of the city by the Nationalist forces. Attacks were made on foreigners including Americans, and Dr. J. E. Wilbur, a British citizen, was killed. A party of American and British refugees sought safety on Soocoo Hill, but were forced to retreat before bands of Chinese that American and British war vessels laid down a protective barrage.

Scion of Wealthy Family Serves As President's Guide on Brule

SUPERIOR, Wis., August 13 (AP)—"Hello, Grant as you talk on the telephone. Say, can you take my father out fishing today?" Not much of a request, that, on the face of it, but young Grant McDougall, all of Duluth and Detroit shivered and aghast.

Consider it further, the voice at the other end of the line was that of John Coolidge trying to help the president out of a jam. He wanted the scion of the wealthy McDougall family to guide him on Brule Island.

President Coolidge, it was said, has given no indication that he intends to send any communication to the Republican presidential nominee.

Mr. Draper, who is married and has a family of five children, had gone to the springs for a picnic dinner after which he entered the plunge with a number of other guests.

DOUBLE MENACE OF STORM AND FLOOD IN SOUTH FLORIDA

The situation was worst along the northern and western shores of the lake when an overflow would inundate wide strips of low land extending from Okaloosa City to Moorhaven and up the Catfish river to Labelle.

Already at its highest level in the memory of inhabitants of its shores as a result of floods from last week, the lake was swelling higher as tributary streams received fresh volumes from the rain which has been falling here for the last night.

Lakaport on Fishing Creek midway between Okaloosa City and Moorhaven, already was inundated by the lake and small communities had not been heard from today.

Meanwhile, the tropical storm which lashed the extreme southwestern tip of the peninsula last night, from Key West and the Key Islands to Boca Grande, was reported centering south of Venice, and was moving northwest. Winds of gale and near-gale velocity were blowing along part of the coast and were predicted in the vicinity of Tampa tonight.

PEEK WOULD DENY SMITH ENDORSEMENT

Farm Conference Chairman Calls On Iowa Governor to Start Inquiry of His Action

NEW YORK, Aug. 13 (AP)—George Peck, chairman of the National States' Agricultural conference who, although normally a Republican, endorsed Governor Smith's candidacy and the Democratic farm plank, has written John Hamml of Iowa challenging him to call a meeting of the governors of the states represented in the agricultural conference, to sit in judgment upon his action in endorsing Governor Smith's candidacy.

The Peck letter was in answer to a communication from Governor Hamml in which he was charged with exceeding his authority in endorsing the Democratic plank and candidate. Peck replied in his letter that he had made it perfectly clear at the time of his announcement that his endorsement was purely personal and that he was not speaking for his committee.

Governor Hamml's answer is that Peck himself has full authority to call such a meeting whenever he deems it necessary and that the governor's responsibility in the matter rests upon the governor's action. Peck and Hamml were named chairman of the conference.

National Committee Members to Vote On Endorsement of Hoover for Presidency

NEW YORK, Aug. 13 (AP)—Lelgh Colvin, chairman of the Prohibition party national committee, said today that members of the committee would be asked to pass upon withdrawal of the party's presidential ticket in favor of Herbert Hoover, Republican nominee.

Hoover's views as expressed in his acceptance speech are very satisfactory to most of the committee, and he is believed to be a majority of my colleagues on the national committee. In my judgment our national ticket will be withdrawn before the September and Prohibitionists urged to vote for the Republican presidential and vice presidential nominees.

HOOVER PREPARES TO WAGE FIGHT FOR VICTORY AT POLLS

To him here, he appreciates that he has a battle ahead for the presidency. He said the Republicans now disclosed today that the information as to the situation over the country given him by party leaders has been somewhat different from that which some of these leaders have given to the public through the newspapers.

Generally they have advised Hoover that there is a real contest, but that they are confident as to the result.

Meets With University Trustees
 Having received detailed reports from Dr. Hubert Work, chairman of the Republican national committee, and other leaders who came here for the notification ceremonies last Saturday, Hoover did not regard it as essential that he attend the national committee meeting today at San Francisco.

Instead he attended a session of the board of trustees of Stanford University of which he is a member.

Several Republican chieftains accompanied him back to his home here and he spent a couple of hours with them and then turned again to work on his West Branch, Iowa, speech which he hoped to complete before leaving here Thursday night for his birthplace by way of Los Angeles, Albuquerque and Kansas City.

During the return trip to Washington, Hoover will have with him on his train at different times the governors of states through which he will pass, Arizona, which he will strike first after leaving his home state, will be an exception as the administration there is Democratic. He will go through New Mexico on Sunday and consequently will make no rear end platform talk in that state.

In Kansas, the home of his young mate, Charles Curtis, he will make brief stops at Hutchinson, Emporia and Topeka. He will see Curtis as the senator has an engagement away from his town at that time. He will be joined, however, by Senator Copper of the sunflower state.

Stream of Commendation
 Telegrams commending his acceptance speech continued to stream into his home today along with newspaper editorial comments. A recurring note in the expressions indicated that many newspaper editors and individ-

PIRATES SCORE EASY WIN OVER BROOKLYN

Pittsburgh Club Chalks Up 6 to 1 Victory Over Robins in First Game of Last Invasion

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 13 (AP)—The Pirates scored an easy six to one victory over the Brooklyn Robins in the first game of the last invasion of their grounds by the Eastern club.

The score: R. H. E.
 Pittsburgh 6 1 0
 Brooklyn 1 6 1
 Batteries: Doherty, Wilson and Deberry; Kremer and Hergreaves.

BASEBALL "BIG SIX"

There was very little baseball played among the members of the Big Six yesterday. Only two, Paul Waner and Harry Hellmann, got into action. Foy Cobb remained on the bench while the Athletics gave the Tigers a drubbing and the other three were idle because of the schedule.

Harry Hellmann had nothing to show in the box score for his day. The tail-end not only failed to get one of the two hits, Bob Greig, gave the Tigers but also accomplished nothing in the field. As a result his batting average lined two points to .260. Paul Waner did a little better getting one single in four times at bat while the Pirates beat Brooklyn, 6 to 1, and lost only one point to .362.

Waner had consorted his treatment for the prohibition questions as an unequivocal bone dry pronouncement. Commendation of his stand on farm relief also was widespread, although few of the outstanding leaders in farm organizations commented on his declaration. Some publishers of farm papers as well as some of the party chieftains hailed it as offering a plan which should prove of great benefit to agriculture.

"PRICE FIXING"

A good many people are said to entertain the opinion that Herbert Hoover, Republican candidate for presidential candidacy, was chiefly responsible for the "price fixing" program put into effect as a wartime measure early in the year nineteen hundred seventeen.

"PRICE FIXING"

It seems incredible that any part of the responsibility for this program could be so charged. It will be remembered that Dr. Harry Garfield, now President of Washington College, was Chairman of the Fair Price Committee which was named by President Wilson to fix upon a fair price for wheat under the war controlled price policy.

SOCIETY AND CLUBS

Dr. Garfield secured 12 men representing all shades of opinion and with strong emphasis on the farming element. The committee was formed after the allied government formed a single-buying agency, which was to purchase wheat at the price of $1.80 for American wheat.

THE FORUM

PLAIRIE FIRES
Editor: Twin Falls News
Dear Sir: I question the Stockmen in their statement that the prairie fire that occurred south of Mirafloos will insure the entire prairie from any further personal observation, and U. S. Forest Service records show that, about this time of the year, when the ground is dried out, burns by the forest forage species, and it is long well known in the prairie that the ground is dried out, and it is not palatable to stock.

PLAIRIE FIRES

It is a well known fact that sage brush is an important factor in the production of the most palatable range plants, such as the blue-stemmed grass, clover and alfalfa. It tends to absorb the ground and with the moisture, and as the grass increases in density it crowds the sage brush out, and the result is a "burnt" prairie. This is a very serious matter, as the sage brush is a very important factor in the production of the most palatable range plants.

FIRE DAMAGES HOME WHILE OWNERS AWAY

Kitchen and Rear Porch Are Total Loss; Origin of Blaze Unknown; Damage Covered

Fire of unknown origin broke out at 11:45 p. m. of the residence at 1401 Addison avenue, occupied by Orville H. Coleman, proprietor of the Five Points grocery, Sunday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock. The extent of the damage has not been estimated, although it is understood that it will amount to several hundred dollars. Insurance covers the loss.

The Coleman family were away at the time of the fire and insurance men forced their way into the dwelling through the front door and by breaking in windows.

The families are believed to have originated from faulty electric wiring or from an electric fire which started in use that afternoon. The kitchen and rear porch of the dwelling were an almost total loss. Flooring, wood work and furniture in the kitchen will have to be replaced. An electric washing machine was burned beyond repair and an electric range in the kitchen badly injured. Built-in cases in the kitchen were lost.

Damages to other rooms in the house included badly smoked walls and ceilings, blistered woodwork, cracked windows and wet soaked plastering. The finish of a phonograph was damaged. Fire had eaten through the cable and roof at the rear of the house, and had broken into the attic.

Water used to extinguish the flames soaked through into the lower floors of the house.

The crowd which gathered to watch the fire were given a thrill when an electric power pole gave way shortly after a lineman had cut the service wires to the burning house. No one was injured and the pole has been propped until it can be replaced.

CONGRESSMAN THINKS HOOVER APPEAL WIDE

Reclamation, Agriculture and Prohibition Exponents Will Fall in Line, Smith Believes

Herbert Hoover's speech in acceptance of the Republican nomination for the presidency should appeal strongly to friends of reclamation and of the agricultural industry as well as to friends of prohibition law enforcement, according to Congressman Addison T. Smith, who returned Sunday evening from two weeks tour of several parks and the Superior national forest with the house committee on public lands of which he is acting chairman.

Mr. Hoover's speech, Mr. Smith said outlines a policy of internal improvement extending over a long period of years, indicating that he will urge appropriations, if he is elected, for improvement of waterways, construction of the St. Lawrence canal, and extension of reclamation policy and provide for construction of necessary federal buildings.

The solution of the farm problem outlined in the address should appeal strongly to the agricultural interest and insistence on law enforcement should be the means of bringing to his support hundreds of thousands of Democrats who are in favor of enforcing the Volstead act to the limit.

"Throughout Minnesota and Wisconsin Mr. Smith said he had found a great deal of sentiment for Hoover, with a strong probability of his carrying Minnesota and a good chance of carrying Wisconsin at the election.

The congressional committee adjoined in Duluth last Thursday after visiting Bryce canyon in southern Utah, Yellowstone national park, and the Superior national forest in Minnesota and Wisconsin and being received by President Coolidge at Superior, Wisconsin.

Vital Chain of Lakes

In the Superior forest, members of the committee spent four days traveling in canoes, launches and airplanes—a chain of lakes—100 miles long on the international boundary line. It is the purpose of a large paper manufacturer to install a hydro-electric plant involving raising of the level of these lakes, and the visit of the committee was made in connection with an investigation of this undertaking.

There is now pending in congress a bill that would prohibit basing of the level of these lakes except by act of congress. Objections has been made to the project, Mr. Smith said, by a number of persons on the ground that it involves destruction of some timber and of some building sites now occupied by summer homes constructed under permits issued by the forest service.

"I wish I'd known"

THERE'S always a new experience ahead—something you haven't done before—and which calls for a decision

You come engaged—and immediately you are called upon to decide on the purchase of many, many things you never bought before.

You marry—and furniture, draperies, silverware, china, talking machines, oil-burners, gas-stoves, automobiles claim your dollars and call for your choice.

A baby comes—and again you face a new experience in purchasing clothes and powders and blankets; in buying a crib, baby carriage, foods, toys.

Next—what school? For the years pass incredibly fast. Once more, a new decision.

Every room in your house requires a choice. Every meal served in your dining-room results from your having decided on what to serve. Every day confronts you with a multitude of possibilities from which you must select those which make life happier and better, and make the dollars go farther.

How on earth are you going to make these decisions? How can you know what you want and what you don't want? How can you buy to such advantage that you'll seldom, if ever, have occasion to use that futile phrase, "I wish I'd bought something else"?

VARNNEY BUSINESS TO HAVE NEW HOME IN CONCRETE STRUCTURE

City Council Grants Permit For Erection of Building at Corner of Shoshone Street and Third Avenue North

Permit for the construction of a reinforced concrete structure, one story and basement, 25 by 60 feet, was granted last night by the city council to F. V. Varnney, owner, and Ernest White and company, contractors. The building, which will consist of a two-story structure at the corner of Shoshone street and Third avenue north on the site now occupied by the old Varnney building, will be used for the storage of fruit and vegetable markets, and will be conducted by the Varnney business.

Mr. Frost asked for a permit to move his stand to Main avenue east near the Skaggs store and to put on an addition 12 by 10 feet. Mr. Varnney wanted permission to move his building to lot No. 29, block No. 57, across the alley from Dr. Passer's residence and office.

The city attorney filed a written opinion to the effect that funds raised from special improvement levies of $127 will be distributed under the old law and not under the operation of the new statute. This affects holders of obligations in the matter of priority claims.

Bids for installation of a heating plant were opened and laid over until the next meeting to permit consultation of Burton E. Morse, architect, who drew the plans. Under the specifications, V. C. Ballantyne, president of the city, was the only one within the budget of $1200. If A. Brize had in a bid of $1380, or with modification of $1370. The consolidated Wagon and Machine company bid $1410. The Home Plumbing company bid $1500 on the specifications for a 1078 with a larger engine, with the engine guaranteed but second hand and certain radiators guaranteed by the second hand. This bid involves certain alterations in plans if accepted and after some discussion the whole matter was laid over.

J. R. Hilton, 363 Fourth avenue east, appeared before the council to talk about the effect of aphids on trees. He brought in a number of leaves of maple and poplar trees to show how they were being worked. He said that this is what is causing the leaves to fall. So thick are the aphids on the maples that droppings cover the leaves and when they get wet and sticky substance. Evil effects of dry nicotine powder on the systems of aphids and other pests was dramatically told. The aphids cannot be poisoned by spray.

On a windy day running the machine on one side of the city park when the wind from that direction would blow the leaves and twigs wind-blown, would close every branch of all the trees in it. It is said that in the past, the leaves were put around trees and covered in the early spring, when pests are buried in the ground, would generate a heat that would kill every insect pest to the depth of three feet. This would include codling moths, which winter in the ground. The council declared itself in favor of investigating the treatment named and acting as far as possible in the spring.

Discuss Electrical Billings Report of the electrical inspector to the effect that certain installations of the Idaho Power company in its alterations, while safe, did not conform strictly to the technical letter of the ordinance, brought out comment by the city attorney that the ordinance as outlined by the electricians and passed by the council exempted public utilities from its operation. He said that this was not unusual, as it was assumed that such corporations understood their own business.

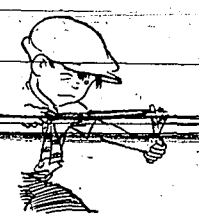

There were 25 arrests during the month of July, according to the report of R. E. Leighton, chief of police, which was presented and accepted. Of these if there were violations of minor ordinances, eight for traffic violations and six for intoxication. There were three fires, three cars stolen and two recovered, four bicycles and three recovered and $46 in fines assessed.

Twin Falls county commissioners yesterday checked returns on the office three times in order to avoid possible error, before finally certifying to its correctness.

No Other Changes There were no other material changes in the result of the official canvass of the Democratic primary from that of the unofficial count. For specialist nominations Mrs. Josephine Schurmer is the nominee for the senate. R. P. Loutan, Twin Falls, and Milton Hackett, Buhl, have two votes each as nominees for the lower house, while Leon Ayotte, Twin Falls, and Jessie E. Crimmon, Buhl, are tied with one vote each for the third place on the legislative ticket as representatives.

Must Determine Ties It is the duty of the board to determine ties for precinct and county offices. The Way they Do and the Way We Do It

AND YOU SAVE BY CHOOSING HERE

The peddler calls, interrupts you just when you are busy doing something else. He is trained in his calling and it is difficult to escape him. He offers you many seemingly good arguments. If you buy any of his wares on his first visit you receive a discount of 20 per cent, you pay the regular higher price if he makes a second call.

Upon information we have found that his prices average 33 1/3 per cent more than the DIAMOND'S. By buying here you save 50 per cent on some articles and at least 25 per cent on the large ones. So the accompanying descriptions tell the story plainly.
