DEWATERING EDDIES STILL TROUBLESOME ON POLITICAL SEAS

Major Parties Approach Necessity of Choosing Definitely Course They Sail in Warming Presidential Campaign

By BYRON STAFF Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—Dewatering eddies and eddies stirred into political seas as the parties approach the necessity of choosing definitely their course in the campaign for the presidency.

The recent clearer definition of issues and a search for common ground in the personal qualities of the candidates, have not quieted the raging cross-currents of controversy. Each principal nominee continues to lose the allegiance of members of his own party circle and to gain recruits from the opposition.

Manfully, even the ampler campaign of Hoover for 1928 cannot spread out effectively over the whole of the country. By one method or another, Hoover is being pushed just bit upon the plan of action that will concentrate his efforts at the points of greatest need. Similarly, the candidates themselves must get out the state into which they will personally carry the party gospel.

It is probable that within another week, Mr. Hoover and Governor Smith each will have proposed to his party for his own party to lend the help of his presence in states usually regarded as hopeless by one side or the other at the outset of the campaign.

It goes without saying that whatever other decisions they may make, both Smith and Hoover will reserve a considerable part of their campaign speaking for the 1928 campaign has been brought forward in either party water does not contain a drop of water from the 1928 campaign.

Perspiring Parisians Parading in Pajamas

PARIS, Sept. 1.—Parisians for automobile rides is a new fashion which the hot weather launched upon Paris this summer. Men women, owners of big cars have been wearing their pajamas into the center of the city just as coolly as into the Bois de Boulogne for the evening.

SMITH WILL SPEND QUIET DAY AT HOME

Bourbon Nominee Places Bet on Politics and Work for Few Hours; Millionaire Is Guest

ALBANY, N. Y., Sept. 1.—(AP)—Convinced that after all there is no place like home, Governor Smith, setting aside today to enjoy a quiet week-end at the excellent mansion.

He placed a bet on politics and work, for a few days, and figured he could get more comfort and rest here than by leaving his day job to go to the sea, the Adirondack lake region to the north, or to the nearby Berkshire hills, Catskills or Heidelberg mountains.

More than anything right now, as he steels himself for the hardships of campaigning, the Democratic standard-bearer is in the mood to stand aloof. At the executive mansion he feels that he can get both, and at the same time enjoy close contact with his family.

There the Democratic leader will take his own party to the 1928 campaign. He will be able to romp with his three small children, the eldest just did enough to "bring the Sidewalks of New York" and propose "three cheers for the next president of the United States."

MOUNTAIN CHIEFTAIN ASSUMES DUTIES OF KING OF ALBANIANS

Church Chimes; Frenzied Popular Acclaim and Thunderous Cannon Fire Mark Last Step in Zogu's Rise to Supremacy

(By The Associated Press)
TIRANA, Albania, Sept. 1.—Church chimes, frenzied popular acclaim, thunderous cannon fire and one tense moment of triumph today marked the final step in the rise of Ahmed Zogu from a mountain chieftain to king of his native Albania.

The national assembly, without a dissenting voice, had proclaimed him "King of the Albanians." Deputies, government officials and prominent civilians who packed the tiny legislative hall of the amalfit state in the Balkans arose in a body and greeted the announcement with cries of "Long live our king."

They left the hall and marched 200 feet to the palace where President Zogu was waiting for them. The salvo of 101 guns had scarcely signaled the elevation of a pliant president to the dignity of kingship when the new ruler started his triumphant journey from the palace to the jacobin hall, his feet through the streets while Albanian and Italian guards formed a barrier against the possibility of a hostile act.

CHINESE POORER THAN 25 YEARS AGO, SAYS BISHOP
BOISE, Sept. 1.—China is economically poorer today than it was 25 years ago but is wide awake and young students from universities in China and other countries are taking an increasing part in national affairs, Wallace E. Brown, Montana bishop, declared today in an address at the Idaho conference of the Methodist Episcopal church here.

Mr. Brown, who is bishop of the Montana-Idaho district, recently returned from a four-week tour in China. He praised the Chinese Christians for their faith under adverse conditions.

Mounting Mercury Reducing Crimes

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—When the thermometer touches 85 on its way up toward 100, the number of crimes against the person drops sharply. At that temperature, says the National Probation Association, crimes of violence, such as murder, rape, kidnapping, and physical assault, are at a possible cause assigned for the decrease.

Other conclusions are that assault, and battery, murder and crimes against morals reach their maximum in July and August, while in winter crimes against property are at the maximum. The winter tendency is accounted for by cold weather economic needs.

RACE IN AMERICAN LEAGUE TIGHTENING

Goslin, Washington Outfielder Only Three Points Ahead of Gehrig of Yanks, in Batting

CHICAGO, Sept. 1 (AP)—With only a month left before the season ends, the races for individual and team honors in the American league are tightening up.

In batting "Goose" Goslin, Washington outfielder, leads the poll with 11.4 points. Lou Gehrig of the Yankees, Walter Hoyt of the Yanks, is three games in front of Lefty Grove, Philadelphia Phillies, and Babe Ruth of the Yankees are only two percentage points ahead of the Athletics in team batting, unofficial averages lead in batting averages in team fielding. Boston is leading by only one point.

Gehrig Yarns

Both Gehrig and Goslin slumped during the past week, the averages show, but Lou gained, as he dropped below Babe Ruth in batting average with the "Goose's" six. Most of the other leading hitters gained slightly, including Babe Ruth, who hit his 500th career home run.

The leading batters and their averages:

Goslin, Washington, .377; Gehrig, New York, .374; Munnich, St. Louis, .357; Simmons, Philadelphia, .336; Lamm, Detroit, .334; Clegg, Philadelphia, .340; Ruth, New York, .336; J. Sewell, Cleveland and Bishop, Philadelphia, .329 each.

Hoyle Adds Game

Hoyle added another game to his string during the week-end, but he lost a second game to the Athletics. Grove, however, won two and is second in the pitchers race with a 10-1 record. On the basis of actual pitching, Grove has an edge on Hoyle. He has hurled 213 innings, allowing 102 hits and 54 runs. Hoyle has pitched 207 innings, allowing 202 hits and 44 walks.

Johnny Mostil of the White Sox is in the lead in the batting race with a 10-1 record. In double play Cleveland is far in front, adding eight more during the past week and raising its total to 150.

Other Leaders' Team Working

listing there for the windup.

It is upon this section more than upon other political points that the week's controversy during the present week back in Washington Mr. Hoover began a long series of discussions with party aides by talking over his proposals in New York and New Jersey. Governor Smith, returning northward, made more than a dozen speeches for a short period at Newark, and later in the week established an earnest contact with the farm problem by supporting the New York state fair at Syracuse.

Hoover's running mate, Senator Curtis, also was on tour in the East, visiting Syracuse, Harrisburg and other cities.

Carrying into effect his original proposal for an intensive drive to overcome opposition in the Senate for Robinson, the Democratic vice-presidential campaign will begin at once through Curtis, his acceptance of acceptance at Hot Springs Thursday featured farm relief and prohibition as his major projects to turn the attention of the voters to the South not to quit the Democratic ticket because of the modification views of Governor Smith. He avows that Smith in the White House would be firmly committed to strict prohibition enforcement and powerless to induce congress or the states to impair the law.

OREGON PUBLISHERS BUY TWIN FALLS PROPERTY

Sale of the Twin Falls Times property to a group of Oregon publishers was closed yesterday when Judge Perry of the U.S. District Court here signed an order approving the sale by Frank Kieftner, receiver, for the firm of Oregon Publishers, which was authorized by the court last Thursday. The order confirming the sale awarded to the Masters of Portland, his "control" price of $122,500, and directed that the balance of the purchase price should be held by the receiver subject to the order of the court for payment of other claims.

Mr. Masters was owner of the property which the Times company had been operating since June, 1921, under an option agreement. Mr. Masters asserted that $102,500 was due under this agreement.

New owners of the property are E. B. Aldrich, F. W. Lamplin of Pendleton and L. D. Drake of Astoria, Oregon. They are owners of the East Oregonian at Pendleton and the Astoria Evening Budget at Astoria.

Joseph B. Harvey, who was an employee of the Times here seven years ago and has been for the past several years editor of the Hermiston Oregon Herald, is to be editor of the Times Herald, his "control" price of $122,500, and directed that the balance of the purchase price should be held by the receiver subject to the order of the court for payment of other claims.

The Making of a STEINWAY

I HAD long speculated on the secret of the Steinway. Among all the commodities of commerce this remarkable instrument has for two generations stood apart, differing from all other products in so far that its supremacy has never even been questioned.

Opinions may differ as to which one of several excellent motor-cars is the very best; and so of watches and of guns; and of every other commodity that is made on this round world of ours—excepting always the Steinway.

From the days of Liszt and Wagner, the world's great musicians have acclaimed it. It is indeed "The Instrument of the Immortals"—Kings and emperors have honored it. Some of their thrones have fallen; some of their dynasties have ceased—but the Steinway endures. It has passed into our everyday speech, and we use it as a symbol of perfection. To the man on the street it stands for a unit of value, much the same as the dollar, mark or the pound sterling.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Morse. Neither should there be any disposition anywhere to deary the fellow who frankly is not directly interested in production of superior crops or livestock, but who goes to the fair simply to be amused. It would be worth while to have some value of the fair for the opportunity it provides for individuals to get out of a rut for a while and to mingle with their fellows and glimpse anew an essential truth that there is no great difference in the aspirations and hopes and fears that motivate the common run of mankind.

The country home of Mr. and Mrs. Humphrey will be the scene of a party Friday evening, the occasion being a birthday surprise for Mrs. Humphrey.

Miss Ladora's family entertained members of her Sunday school class and three visitors at a pot luck dinner Friday at the home.

L. W. Champlin of Kimberly, and Mrs. E. L. Boyd of Twin Falls were married here last Saturday.

The Rev. Humphrey who performed the ceremony, both Mr. and Mrs. Humphrey are to be congratulated.

HUND OF INDUSTRY SOUNDS OVER SITE OF COUNTY'S FAIR

Massing of Exhibits in Great Volume and Wide Variety Goes Forward While Work-Rumor of Other Candidates

Massing of exhibits for Twin Falls county's thirteenth annual fair at Filner went forward yesterday in exhibits halls and livestock barns and pens, while the busy and hurried industry extended over the fair grounds.

The products hall in which representatives of Twin Falls county granges are to display competitive exhibits of selected products of fields, orchards and gardens in their respective communities was the center of activity yesterday, with a score or more of the earlier arrivals already decorating of booths and arrangement of exhibits.

In the new Merchants building and nearby hall where the fair exhibits were making rapid headway in execution of their plans for displaying a wide range of crops, the Brown farm equipment and other wares before throngs of fairgoers will pass through the gates on the opening day next Tuesday and the three succeeding days of the fair.

Paddock in which more than 50 race horses are quarantined look on a miniature of the state as the fair proceeded the test of speed and skill on the track.

Dairy Cattle on Way

Entries expected to arrive on the grounds last evening included three or four carloads of dairy cattle entered in competition for county awards offered this year for the first time during the fair. Arrivals in this department would include two carloads of cattle from Cassia county, another from Lewiston, and another from St. Anthony. Arrangements were completed during the day for the accommodation of these expected arrivals.

Women's Department

Women's department—arts division, Mrs. H. W. Clouche, general chairman of the department and Mrs. W. J. H. Clouche, division chairman, with a number of assistants being occupied throughout the day in receiving a volume of exhibits in department that reflected the normal year to year increase in all departments of the fair.

Exhibits entered during the day in the Women's department included a number of specimens of clothing and needlework entered by boys and girls in the county, and another by St. Anthony, and brought to the fair by Mrs. John R. Ault.

Entertainers on Hand

One group of entertainers was on the grounds yesterday, the Hamiltons—man and wife, having arrived from Kansas City, and their relatives, dog and cat entertainers who are to be on hand Monday are the Tam O'Shanter girls, a group of six young women musicians, dancers and singers, who are concluding an engagement at the Salt Lake lagoon, and a colored male quartet from St. Anthony.

Twin Falls Municipal band has been engaged to furnish music during the entire four days of the fair.

Twenty annual members of Company D, Buffaloes of the 116th Engineers, under command of Captain Walter C. Senter, are to go into camp on grounds Monday evening to assist in directing traffic and preserving order throughout the exposition.

Part of Judges

Some outstanding authorities in their respective fields of endeavor have consented to judge exhibits in the several departments of the fair. Their names will begin on the opening day next Thursday. The list of judges announced yesterday at the secretary's office is as follows:

Poultry, H. A. Matheson, Boise; swine, A. C. Wilson, Hamlet; sheep and beef cattle and horses, E. J. Fieldsted, Pocatello; poultry, J. W. Barber; Burley, farm crops, John S. Welch; Idaho department of agriculture director, and Idaho state seed commissioner, rabbits, E. J. Vance; salt lake, flowers, C. E. Booth, Twin Falls; Mrs. W. H. Harvey, Dahl, and Mrs. Florence Wright, Kimberly.

PRE-PRIMARY SCHOOL OPENING ANNOUNCED

Opening of a pre-primary day school on September 10, the same day that public schools open, has been announced by Mrs. N. S. Wight, 153 Ninth avenue east and Mrs. H. C. Jeppson, 412 Main street. Only children between the ages of four and six years will be received. There will be morning and afternoon classes for those who will begin school next year.

The organizers of school say that the objective is to supply the immediate training which will acquaint the child with school discipline practices and other fundamental facts which will be of much value to him in making the first public school year more profitable, have outlined and carefully planned a pre-primary study which will be carrying out the entire year in the form of a pre-primary day school.

The course of study will include hand work, music and apt. nature study, manners and morals, courtesy, organized play, physical culture, habitable and good health and a foundation in general knowledge—all intended as preliminary to the first year of public school work.

POWER COMPANY'S NEW HOME OPENED

Large-Crowds View Beautiful Interior of Remodeled Building During Entire Day

The commodious floor-space of the remodeled Idaho Power building was taxed to the utmost, yesterday afternoon and last night by large crowds that entered the interior decorations and to see the display of all sorts of electrical appliances that were arranged in different parts of the structure.

The employees of the company were on hand to show every courtesy to the visitors and to explain workings of numerous devices invented to make labor lighter and the home brighter. Punch and wafers were served to guests while the Herbert J. Harnish orchestra furnished modern music. From the entrance, between the fine show windows in the center of the structure, decorations were set off with harmonizing bouquets of flowers.

In Italian Style

The walls in front are finished in Italian governing, giving a "mistic effect which adds in the year." The color scheme of the ceiling is in Italian style. The lighting systems, are Spanish and Italian in design. Photographs of Shoshone Falls, Thousand Springs, Malad and Salmon Falls were hung at appropriate distances on the wall.

The engineering and mechanical offices have been removed to three rooms on the second floor in the rear of the building and the business expands still further the number of offices on this floor occupied by the company will be increased. A slight rearrangement of the lines in the alley in the rear, resulted in darkening the building and adjacent section of town for a short time during the evening. The trouble, while trivial was of a character, that was hard to locate, company officers said. W. I. Sackett, vice president and general manager of the company, attended the opening during the afternoon and evening.

WORKER VICTIM OF FLAMING CHEMICAL

Charles Jeffries, 60, Noxious Weed Bureau Employee, Suffers Possibly Fatal Burns

Sodium chlorate, highly inflammable chemical that is employed by the weed bureau, was ignited another victim yesterday when Charles Jeffries, 60, employee of the Twin Falls weed bureau, was severely burned by flames believed to have started by a spark from a cigarette igniting his clothing in which the chemical had collected.

Little hope for Jeffries' recovery was held out last evening at the county general hospital where he was taken immediately after the accident, that occurred on the courthouse grounds at noon yesterday. Burns about the abdomen and legs were so severe, it was stated, that the skin came away when the charred clothing was removed. Dr. Jeffries with Roy Darns, another employe of the weed eradication bureau, had gone to the courthouse at noon to consult with E. Bradley, director of the bureau, relative to work in which they were engaged in Twin Falls. Jeffries stepped in the truck while Darns went into the courthouse, and is believed to have lit a cigarette while waiting.

Sprays Burning Clothing

Jeffries' clothing was enveloped in flames and he called out loudly when Darns came out of the court house, seizing a garden hose on the lawn as he ran. Darns sped to the relief of his suffering companion and succeeded in extinguishing the flames with the spray of water coming through the hose.

A doctor was summoned to administer first aid, and Jeffries was taken by Mr. Brady, to the hospital.

Jeffries is said to have been born in Kentucky about 60 years ago, and to have lived in the state of Washington a number of years. But little is known about his life after arriving at the hospital he was asked by Mr. Brady whether he had any relatives and he replied that he had.

Sodium chlorate, when wet does not burn, but when dry it is highly inflammable. All those employed in spraying are warned of this characteristic.

MAN AND WOMAN HELD ON CHARGES OF POSSESSION

Two arrests for illegal possession were made by the police in the west part of town early yesterday morning. E. G. Scott, who told the officers that he lived in Dahl, was taken into custody charged with possession of a dozen bottles of alleged moonshine. He entered a plea of not guilty before Probate Judge C. A. Bailey and was held for trial next week, probably on Tuesday.

The officers then raided a house occupied by Mrs. Ethel Bennett, where they alleged that they found six gallons of home brew. Mrs. Bennett entered a plea of not guilty before Probate Judge H. D. Head and was held for trial Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock under $500 bond.

BUSINESS RELATIONS TO POLITICS SUBJECT OF BARSON COMMENT

Famous Statistician—F. E. I. S. Both Parties' Candidates Safe—Men for Commerce Explodes Well-Known Theory

(Special to The News) BARSON PARK, Mass., Sept. 1—In his weekly interview today Mr. Barson discusses the subject of business and its relation to national politics. He feels that both presidential candidates are safe men for business.

Business makes depression. Rather it is the other way around—business causes the break in presidents. He feels that the crop situation will be a very important factor in the coming election.

Mr. Hoover is not expected to exert any great influence on conditions. Possibly business would feel a trifle more confident in Hoover than in Smith.

Mr. Hoover is not expected to exert any great influence on conditions. Possibly business would feel a trifle more confident in Hoover than in Smith.

It Takes a High Speed Camera

ed much worry earlier in the year has declined and textiles generally continue very dull. This year the crops are going to have an important effect on business.

Both Hoover and Smith are anxious to solve the American people's problems as a whole rather than any special group or section. Although Hoover is not a politician, he is a man of business.

GERMAN ENGINEER SEES WIDER USE FOR RUBBER

BERLIN, Aug. 31 (AP)—Replacement of rubber in the near future of the multitudes of articles now employed in the manufacture of various kinds of standard ware is foreseen by Alfred Arndt, engineer and chief engineer of the association of machine builders for the manufacture of rubber goods.

Arndt bases his prophecy of a revolutionizing spread of the rubber industry on the expected utilization of rubber as a result of the recent discovery by Dr. John C. Wilgus of Los Angeles, of a method of extracting rubber from a cactus species and his own conviction that the development of a chemical process is imminent for producing synthetic rubber at a materially lower cost.

GERMAN ZEPPELIN CARRIES LUXURIES

Spacious Salon and Quarters for 60 Persons in Dirigible First in Transoceanic Service

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1 (AP)—A luxurious liner of the air is to carry passengers this summer for a round-trip voyage to Lakehurst, New Jersey, when the great German Zeppelin is launched for the first trip of a regular transatlantic service.

A description of the airship has been brought to this country by Lieutenant Commander C. E. Rosendahl, skipper of the navy's Langley, Commander Fulton spent considerable time at Friedrichshafen studying the new German craft. Commander Rosendahl will accompany the Zeppelin and is also to make the sea hop.

In addition to quarters for a crew of 20 officers and men, Commander Fulton says there are accommodations for 30 passengers on the Zeppelin, including a spacious saloon to be used as a dining and lounging room.

The airship resembles those of a passenger liner, with a minimum of furniture, all of light weight. There are two banks in each stateroom, the upper being swung from the ceiling. The walls are papered in an artistic uniform design.

The control car is unusually large and is fitted with accommodations for persons who desire to view the panorama below them.

Extending to important parts of the craft including the five engines, a telephone system is centralized at the entrance to the control car.

The vessel was christened the Graf Zeppelin in honor of the man who first built and developed the rigid dirigible. While the treaty of Versailles prohibits the German government from constructing airships for military purposes, the Graf Zeppelin was built with funds donated by German dirigible enthusiasts.

The ship which has been designated LZ-120 is 240 feet long, 100 feet in diameter, 100 feet wide and has a total height of 111 feet. She has a volume of 2,700,000 cubic feet of gas, compared to the 2,400,000 of the Los Angeles. Her engines are each of 510 horsepower, with an average speed of 20 miles an hour with a cruising radius of 10,000 miles.

Dr. Karl Arstein, vice president in charge of engineering at the Goodyear Zeppelin corporation and builder of the Los Angeles and 60 other zeppelins, is another American who has inspected the world's first passenger dirigible.

The fare at the outset, he says, will be double that of first class passage on ocean liners. Builders of the LZ-120 point out that a business trip is more profitable than a pleasure trip.

An important development on the new zeppelin, Dr. Arstein says, is the placing of the engine and control cars inside the hull, lowering the air resistance. Only the propellers will project beyond the graceful stream lines of the ship.

ROOSEVELT TROPHY CONTESTS WILL BE HOT AT PENDLETON

BOB CROSBY, defender of the famous Roosevelt trophy at this year's Pendleton Round-Up opening on September 15 is shown here with the coveted prize he expects to secure permanently.

PENDLETON, Ore., Sept. 1 (AP)—Warfare is underway by international agreement but each peace pact won't have any effect on the war now fermenting which will blast wide open on September 19 at the Pendleton round-up.

This is a war for the permanent possession of the Roosevelt trophy by the well known Mister Bob Crosby, hailing from Keama, New Mexico, against numerous other cowboys who already have points toward the trophy and who are determined to take home the honor of having won themselves and thus keep the trophy in competition for another year at least.

Crosby will two wins on the trophy means one more win to gain permanent possession of the coveted symbol of the world's champion top-hat. The only fly in this year's ointment is that Mister Crosby, who has won the trophy three times, "ain't got no points." But according to Bob he's getting all set to clean out Pendleton and overcome the point shortage. He is thinking of hiring a secretary to sit on the corral fence and keep track of his points with an adding machine. "If Crosby does anything like that," says Shark Irwin with a grin, "me and Paddy Ryan are sure going to buy out the market on ancient eggs. I sure wouldn't like to be that secretary."

Irwin himself tops the list of point winners so far this season with a total of 29 points. About two bucks behind him come Grady Wilson, Paddy Ryan, Billy Wilkinson, Phil Yoder and a number of other top notch performers upon whom the tough cow

HOOVER HEADQUARTERS

MONTCOMERY, Ala., Sept. 1 (AP)—The "cradle of the confederacy," the Exchange Hotel of Montgomery, where Jefferson Davis was nominated for the presidency of the Confederate states and where Democrats have gathered for more than 75 years, has been selected for Republican headquarters in this state.

It was from the balcony of the hotel that William L. Yancey proposed Jefferson Davis as the Confederate states' candidate for president. The first cabinet meeting of the confederate states was held in the Exchange hotel and members of the cabinet were housed here when federal troops burned Alabama's state house.

HARVEST MOON, SOON DUE TO BE DELAYED

No Ground for Belief That Satellite Is Larger Than Others, Declares Astronomer

URBANA, Ill., Sept. 1 (AP)—The harvest moon comes this year, on September 29. It is always the full moon nearest the time of the autumn equinox, when the sun is crossing the equator going south. This event occurs in 1923 on September 23 at 1:00 A. M. central standard time.

This peculiarity—that the autumn harvest moon from other full moons is the small delay in the time of its rising—Moonrise on the average is 50 minutes later each night. But for a few nights at the end of September the delay is less than a half hour in the latitude of New York. Thus we have moonrise in the early evening for a greater number of evenings than usual.

Farther north this effect is much less noticeable. In southern Alaska the time of moonrise is only about five minutes later from night to night for nearly a week.

The moon has two conspicuous wobble motions in the sky. With the rest of the celestial scenery it rises and sets daily, progressing steadily westward. It wobble motions are:

1. Toward the east, among the constellations because of its monthly revolution around the earth. This motion displaces the moon its own diameter in an hour. If we had use for a moon day, it would for this reason be longer than the day by the sun, averaging 24 minutes more.

2. How much the length of any particular moon day departs from the average depends on the angle between the moon's path among the stars and the eastern horizon. This angle varies. The most favorable arrangement for an unusually short day in the time of moonrise from night to night is the smallest possible angle between the two. This occurs when the September full moon rises. Conditions are nearly as favorable at the following full moon, known as the hunter's moon, which occurs this year October 1.

There is no ground for the belief on the part of some people that the harvest moon is larger than other full moons. It always appears the same size seen near the horizon, either rising or setting, it always appears to be much larger than when it is high in the sky. This is an illusion connected with the flattened appearance of the sky, which seems farther away at the horizon than in the zenith.

The same illusion is experienced in the case of the sun at its rising and setting. Similarly a constellation, for example, the big dipper, looks larger when it is near the horizon. Actually the moon fills a smaller angle when it is rising; for it is then 4000 miles farther away from us than when it is overhead.

Patsy Ruth Miller In "We Americans"

Patsy Ruth Miller, who has been so successful in her roles as the leading feminine role in Universal's latest special, "We Americans," which will open at the Orpheum theatre today.

The fact that Miss Miller is a star in her own name conclusively proves that the cast of "We Americans" is just what it is said to be—all star stuff. In the cast are George Sidney, George Lewis, Eddie Phillips, Beryl Mercer, John Boles, Gilbert Gray, Polly Belmont, Kathryn Williams, Edward Martindel, Josephine Dorn, Flora Brantly and others. Edward Siodman directed the picture.

Miss Miller is a St. Louis girl, having attended the Mary Institute and Mary College. The Miller family moved to Hollywood five years ago. Patsy, playing opposite Tom Mix for her first important role, she also appeared in a sketch at the Writers' club, Hollywood, for her only stage experience.

"We Americans," proves to be a really outstanding picture. It is unusual in its type. It offers a combination of gripping drama, colorful action, a fine cast in excellent character portrayals and a universal appeal.

WASHINGTON HOPING FOR INAUGURAL BALL

Not Since William H. Taft Became President Have Activities of Day Ended in Dance

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31 (AP)—Not since William Howard Taft, formally the first president of the United States in 1909 have the activities of March 4 been climaxed by a great inauguration ball, which Washington is now celebrating with much interest on how elaborate the inauguration ceremonies will be next March 4.

It goes without saying that the city would like to see an inaugural ball when the next president is inducted into office. The ball is a thing that is popular as well as entertaining.

From the days of Washington there had been an inaugural ball until 1919, when Woodrow Wilson at his first inauguration dispensed with the feature.

The ball was a crashing climax to the inauguration. It had become a tradition. Several owners prominent for its revival in the event of either the election of Herbert Hoover or Governor C. Smith.

The second inauguration of President Wilson, in 1919, was a day, was severely dimpled. When Harding entered the White House as Wilson's successor, the latter was seriously ill and the inaugural balls were dispensed with for that reason.

The ball at the Taft inauguration equaled in splendor, said the prints of the day, "the coronation fetes of the monarchs of the old world. It was in the Fashion Building, and there was considerable praise for the charm and brilliancy lent to the decoration by the tasteful grouping of electric lights.

The world has moved fast since then. Tail-coats have given way to the "tobacco-dinner-jacket" smoking-suits to knee length attire, and midnight is a time at which the ordinary dinner begins to feel something of good.

So there is another inaugural ball that will be no precedent judged by the swift living of today.
