TWO MAJOR PARTIES CLAIM MAJORITY OF VOTES IN NEW YORK

Empire State Brushing Up for November Examinations by Devoting Earnest Attention to Mean Political Equation

(By The Associated Press) SYRACUSE, N. Y., Sept. 6.—Heading the class in the electoral college by reason of its 46 votes, the Empire state is brushing up for November examinations by devoting earnest attention to a political equation that entails an unenvied variety of unknown quantities.

That indefiniteness does not extend to the masters of the opposing college is of thought, however, for both Smith and Hoover headquarters have solved the problem of New York to their liking by a thronging of unaided calculations that remains for field workers to prove the correctness of that mental algebra while disposing of the large and small letters that signify unknown elements.

Democrats who have fought five times for Smith as governor and but only once in the Harding landslide of 1920—can see no real obstacle to another victory for Smith as presidential candidate. They argue that he will run better now than before. But Republicans, who four times have rolled up majorities for their gubernatorial candidates in upper New York, only to have them annulled by Smith's tremendous margins in the metropolitan district, say that a presidential race is nolle something else.

And thus any political discussion in this region inevitably comes upon one of the unknown quantities. It continues on page two.

HOOVER'S CAMPAIGN PLAN SHAPING INTO DEFINITE PROGRAM

Republican Nominee Will Expand on Labor Views in Address in Newark; Subject of New York Speech not Chosen

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.—With his plans for the campaign now shaping into a definite program, Herbert Hoover today centered his attention upon the subject matter of the speeches he has set for himself. Dates already have been fixed for three of the four addresses the Republican presidential candidate plans to make, including two of the three offensive points in his drive to carry the election. His keynote speech, a template pointing toward curtailing the Southern vote.

While the dates for the speeches at Newark, New York, New York City and Chattanooga, Tennessee, already have been fixed, the candidate has laid the frame work of only one of these three addresses. He expects to expand upon the views he already has expressed upon labor in the Newark address on September 11 and has been working out the general outline of the speech.

Subject Not Chosen Although the subject to be chosen, he has tentatively decided to talk on water power and industrial development at Elizabethport, N. J., the center of the textile and ironing industrial district. He will go on October 6 to Elizabethton, in the Tennessee mountains, where he will speak in a large tubercular on the grounds which will be held the annual industrial celebration of the city.

There will remain to be decided a date for the trip he contemplates making into New England. Although plans have been laid for his journey back to the Pacific coast late in October and the address he has been urged to visit the northwestern territory around the first of October for a speech program.

There were few visitors at the headquarters of the nominee today and he spent most of the day in planning over the next phases of his drive for the presidency.

Two Major Parties Claim Majority of Votes in New York (Continued from Page One) cerns the thousands who with the regularity of habit have voted for Smith, entirely regardless of the fact that the Republicans have a majority of that party people to have assurance now that those wanderer votes will stay on the Hoover ticket.

Claims Clash. Nevertheless, Republicans in such cities as Syracuse and Rochester quite business in of their own party as saying they would continue to vote for Smith. The Democrats relate the same story and even better they declare that many of single families who have opposed Smith in the past but will support him now. A large question mark hangs over the women's vote. It is linked with prohibition, paramount among issues here and where the Republican campaign and Democratic deal that Smith as Federalist candidate already has polled his maximum strength.

Hoover supporters believe that the stay-at-home vote is largely Republican, feminine and "dry" and they are counting on getting it out to swing the tide. The Democrats are equally confident that the women may not be thus swept into the Republican fold. They believe, with emphasis, that Democratic Catholic women have been most hesitant to accept the franchise and that they likely make up the bulk of the stay-at-homes.

Like prohibition, religion has not come into public discussion in the North with vice-chancellor vigor, although both sides were that it is a factor in public deliberation. Federalist politicians who may do the field work for Hoover and Smith greatest interest just now is attached to the Catholic vote.

U-I Series in Capital Halts; Rodeo in Nampa

(By The Associated Press) BOISE, Sept. 6 (AP)—Every dog has its day and every game its place. So thought Ray McKelg, president of the Boise Senators, who ruled that there would be no baseball game today because Nampa was staging a rodeo. The interruption in the little world series was a good thing, especially because today was "rodeo day" at the Nampa horse festival and more than 500 rodeo fans, led by Governor H. C. Games in the series will be resumed tomorrow, however, and will continue without interruption until either the Senators or the Salt Lake Bees emerge victoriously.

LUTHERAN EDITORS STRIKE AT SMITH

Association Representing Publications Reaching 4,000,000 Readers Hits at Catholicism

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Sept. 6 (AP)—A resolution referring to the approaching presidential election and declaring that "the peculiar allegiance that a faithful Catholic owes to his pope—the teaching of his church, toward a foreign sovereign who also claims supremacy in secular affairs—may clash with the best interests of the country" was adopted here today by the National Lutheran Editors' association. The resolution voiced support of the principle of separation of church and state but urged editors to take no "stand" either for Hoover or Roosevelt in the campaign. It was adopted after the association composed of 4,000,000 readers of the country's leading newspapers and Catholicism—president in a statement drawn up by Dr. C. R. Tappert, Philadelphia, and adopted by the association. Dr. Tappert is editor of the Christian Herald.

The statement declared: "If the issues are purely political the church papers could not be particularly concerned about it. If it were a matter only of the personal opinion of the candidate it would be contrary to the spirit of our constitution to pronounce a man because of his church affiliation. The situation, however, is peculiar because of claims, teachings and principles of the Roman Catholic church which are antagonistic to a matter only of the fundamental principles set forth in the constitution of our country concerning the separation of church and state."

22,000 VISITORS AT TWIN FALLS COUNTY FAIR IN THREE DAYS

(Continued from Page One) opening concert at the afternoon program and played at various times during the afternoon about 100,000 people. Weather continued pleasant throughout the day, Thursday. Breezes prevailed during the morning and a little strong winds were apparent at noon which caused some of the concessionaires and exhibitors to wonder if the fair might not be closed for a few days. A frank statement to the effect last year when he turned loose a young hurricane on the grounds during the opening day which resulted in considerable damage to some displays and toppled the merchant's exhibit tent.

Fair visitors continued to throng the produce building to see the grape exhibits. Fair grounds placed first in the county display, winning 944 points out of a possible 1000. The winning exhibit consisted of an artfully arranged display of the various agricultural products grown in the fair community. These displays were grouped around the grange, each which made a variety of colors of beans arranged in a panel under a sheet of glass.

Fair grange has entered community exhibits in the county fair for the last three years. Two years ago, Filer won third place in this division; last year the fair grange was rated second. This year, first honors were won by Filer. In the canned goods division products, Filer received first prize in fruits, vegetables and pickles. In the flower show, Filer took first place. Last year, Filer secured second place with a flower display which the only year in which the Filer grange has entered flowers.

JOCKEY IS THROWN IN RELAY RACE AT FAIRGROUND TRACK

C. Moore Has Narrow Escape in Accident on Speed Program; Buhl-Boy, now Noted Rider, Greeted by Crowds

Thrown while attempting to mount the second horse in the H. R. Reed string entered in the one and one-half mile relay on last night's speed program at the Fair Ground county fairgrounds, C. Moore was knocked unconscious and narrowly escaped being trampled by another horse which thundered by on the track.

Moore had ridden Romeo around the half-mile course, finishing second in the first lap. Gates, the second horse in the Reed string, proved unruly, dragging Moore half way around the south turn before the rider had an opportunity to leap into the saddle, but the animal swerved sharply into the infield fence throwing his rider to the rail, near the place where the other horses fell dead on the opening day. Babe after riding herself or her world-beater—sped on around the track. A second rider swung down on Moore who rolled under the rail into the infield and escaped being trampled. Moore was carried from the field to the stables where after some minutes he revived sufficiently to go to the judges' stand to render a decision on the race.

When Babe completed her circuit of the track and turned to the rail at the starting line, W. Reed, father of the owner of the string, mounted Bill, the third horse in the relay, and rode the last lap, finishing second.

The judges ruled that the race was a test of skill on the part of the jockey and that the accident was merely as it was a speed contest on the part of the horses. When Moore was thrown, the Reed string was automatically disqualified according to the decision.

Vernal Peterson, 18-year-old Buhl boy who has won honors on many of the prominent race tracks of the United States, Panama and Jamaica, and who has beaten Earl Sande, America's premier jockey, took part of the fairgrounds last night. He also appeared on Wednesday's race program.

14 SWIMMERS WILL GET $2500 EACH FOR EFFORTS

TORONTO, Sept. 6 (AP)—Fourteen entrants in yesterday's Wigley marathon swim will receive $2500 each as a prize for their efforts.

Under a split-up arrangement announced today by the aquatic committee of the Canadian national exhibition, none of the contestants was able to finish the 15-mile grind.

George Michel, France, last of the field to leave the icy-cold waters of Lake Ontario, gained no more financially than did the other 13 prize winners but was placed at the top of the ranking by the committee.

Ernest Vlekter, Germany, who was forced to withdraw after swimming 12 miles, a quarter of a mile less than Michel, was ranked second, and Louis L. Mathus, New York, who was taken out of the water at the same time as the French third, Mathus had covered only four laps to the German's five when he was forced to quit.

THE NEW KINNEY WAREHOUSE STORE

Opens Saturday, September 8th

In North End of Brick Warehouse

On Wall St. West of Passenger Station

CONTINUOUSLY since 1914, great quantities of groceries have been sold each year by the Kinney Wholesale company in this building, but more on a rough warehouse basis of dozens and case lots to quantity buyers in Twin Falls and adjoining counties.

The almost universal use of the automobile as a shopping medium has changed buying from large quantities at one time to small quantities at frequent intervals. In many instances daily household purchases of food stuffs are found to be the most convenient.

In taking note of this change we know that the successful merchant must keep up with the new order in merchandising.

To the end that we may render strictly up to date service to the grocery buying public, we have set apart a room 45x48 feet in our main brick warehouse and fitted it as a modern, well lighted, sanitary, retail food store of the distinctively better class. This new store will be known as the Kinney Warehouse Store, Phone 68. While it is located in the same building as the office of our Bean Department, the new store will be under its own management.

The rapid increase in the number of automobiles owned in this vicinity has rendered very difficult the problem of parking space. The Warehouse store building stands by itself, adjoining no other buildings, is on a paved street (west of O. S. L. Passenger Station). It is just six blocks away from Main Street. There is room for 100 cars to park within 100 feet of the grocery department entrance; room for 30 cars to park within 20 feet of entrance, on store owned street driveway.

The new store offers immediate and ample parking facilities; immediate service. Electric lights flooding the entire front of the 125 foot brick building will make night as day while the store is open.

The public is tired of hearing, reading, claims of low prices. As an expression of good faith, each item on our shelves carries a tag plainly showing price asked for one unit, price for a medium large quantity, price for a case. In subsequent advertisements, random prices will be named.

The "island plan" of counter arrangement, something wholly new in grocery stores, is ideally adapted to personal investigation and study by the customer of every item in the store; makes for accuracy, quicker assembling of the customers purchases.

All goods will be sold for cash.

There will be a nominal charge for city deliveries.

In today's mad race for specialization, a store must classify itself. Competition of today will not permit us to sell at the very low prices we have marked up and at the same time absorb the expense of a credit system and city deliveries. Therefore, we are forced to classify this as a Cash Store.

We must depend on the automobile call trade for a large part of our success and have made prices to attract and hold that trade.

The new store will carry the largest retail stock of groceries in Twin Falls or adjoining counties.

Store will be open until 10:00 P. M. Saturday evenings with flood lights on the premises until that time.

The Kinney Up Town Store, 150 Main Ave. North, will continue to operate just as it has for years, no change whatever is contemplated.

IDAHO FRONTIERSMEN
IN ANNUAL REUNION

Seventy-Niners: Close-Variety
Day-Long Program With Old-fashioned Dance

BURLEY, Sept. 6.—Old Owyhee and Cassia county pioneers, meeting in their seventh annual Seventy Niner's reunion at the normal grounds at Albion, Wednesday, closed a varied program with an old-fashioned dance that lasted well into Thursday morning.

More of the frontier's people, with their descendants and friends, were at this gathering than at any previous reunion. Albion women's clubs and organizations, serving meals at the noon hour in the Normal dining hall, estimated that 420 had eaten lunch, and many more attended the evening banquet. The normal campus was crowded with old-timers. They were coming in an early morning hour, and kept coming from points both near and far.

Madam M. Hansen came up from Twin Falls, surrounded by a sizable delegation. Judge Jim Fuller flew in from Shoshone. Stella Gonzales came over from Eden, with Joe Day, her husband. Al Jones, old time expert with the tennis racket, is from Rock Creek, and so was Mrs. Frank B. Sticker, and Pete Larson. Herman C. Ramsey, ex state auditor, was there from Caldwell, and Mrs. F. Albee from Gooding. Among many California people were Annie Trimmer Burke, and Philo Conant and the wife, from Stockton. From Utah folks, Milton Harper, Salt Lake; R. L. Preator and wife, Murray; and Rachel Lewis, Brighton. "Little" Zotic Schutte-Parsons, from St. Louis, who was there with representatives of the Schoedde family from Midway, and Co. and Co.

Indies in Reminiscence
The weather, which has always been good on Seventy Niner's reunions, permitted much merry making and games and pranks on the normal lawns, during the morning hour. After-lunch an informal gathering was held in the assembly hall, when many old times sang and spoke and told reminiscences. Professor Frank Rowley gave the address of welcome. Frank Riblett of Salt Lake, and Della Wehrmann Barrett of Coeur d'Alene, among the speakers. Hyman S. Lewis, president of the meetings and directed entertainments.

Officers for the coming year were elected at the business meeting: Lewis, H. S. Lewis, Dextor, president; James Fuller, Shoshone, Willis Sears, Alben, and Charles Albertson, Albion, vice president; Julia Pierce Sears, Albion, secretary; George Cook, Albion, treasurer; C. S. Walcott, Twin Falls, historian. Albion was again selected as the place for the next annual meeting.

Bourbon Candidate for Vice Presidency Says Coolidge
Lacks Decision of Character

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Sept. 6.—President Coolidge and the late President Harding were accused tonight by Senator Joseph T. Robinson of having failed to display that decision of character necessary for elimination of candidates and incompetents from their candidacies.

He prefaced his statement with a declaration that he had no attack on the personal character of either, and that the point he sought to drive home was that their leadership has not been notable to that degree that the memory of Mr. Harding would be glorified and that President Coolidge should be credited for great political triumphs.

CHEMISTS ASSEMBLE
IN NEW YORK CITY

Science Can Produce Both Soap
and Flavor of Peaches From Petroleum, Declares Speaker

NEW YORK, Sept. 6.—Chemists can, if they wish, produce both soap and the flavor of peaches from petroleum, but chemistry does not expect American petroleum to be developed at least for a long time from its principal uses of making the American automobile go. This message was delivered to the Society of Chemical Industry at its annual meeting today by Dr. Benjamin T. Brooks, New York chemist.

He said that chemistry would follow the lines of economic usefulness in developing by-products from petroleum, and that some day there might be use for fatty acids of petroleum to make soap, in order to release for use in foods some of the vegetable acids which at present go into soap making.

Charles Hamilton Foot, a British delegate, said that coal burns slowly all the time, even when stored in the basement. This burning reaction is so slight, he said, as to be unimportant under ordinary conditions. He urged the use of bringing out the importance of the newly developed low temperature work in carbonizing coal, whereby by-products are produced which are chemically of considerable difference from coal by-products obtained by the high temperature process, which has been in use for a number of years.

J. J. Cahill, Parlin, New Jersey, told how lacquer finishes on automobiles were protected from "lizard sun burn" by the ultra-violet rays of light by using a thin film of color not more than one-thousandth of an inch thick in the lacquer. The color is a filter which shuts out the ultra-violet rays. But they were not being excluded, he said, they would have caused the deterioration of the lacquer within one season's time.

Greece and Bulgaria
To Adhere to Treaty

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.—Greece and Bulgaria were added to the list of nations today which have their intention to adhere to the Kellogg anti-war treaty, while China and Albania were reported to have unofficially accepted similar intentions.

At Simposopol, Greek minister in Washington, in a note to the acting secretary of state, said his government intended to adhere to the treaty and that as soon as the Greek parliament meets, the president of the council of ministers would ask for the necessary authority to sign it.

MUSICIANS AND THEATRE
OWNERS IN CONFERENCE

CHICAGO, Sept. 6.—Zero hour conferees were being held tonight in a last minute effort by moving picture-theatre exhibitors and representatives of the musicians' union to prevent a walkout of musicians in 200 outlying theatres in Chicago where having picture-machine operators and stage hands were considering going on a sympathetic strike.

The operators and stage hands last night received the exhibitors' ultimatum in negotiating with the musicians and threatened to walk out unless an agreement was reached quickly. Supported on by this threat, the musicians and exhibitors met early today and still were in conference into tonight with no indications as to what progress, if any, had been made.

The musicians in outlying theatres left work on Labor day when exhibitors failed to meet their demands as to the number of musicians, to be employed in the smaller houses, and the number of weeks work to be guaranteed.

LARGE TROUT LIVING IN MAGIC RESERVOIR

Fish Which Failed to Escape
By Diving Out of Headgates
Obtain New Leases on Lives

SHOSHONE, Idaho, Sept. 6.—Comparatively few fish died when the draining of Magic reservoir on the Big Wood river today, as much trout water flowed into a pond back of the dam to keep the big trout alive.

The Wood river is flowing more than its normal stream at this time of year and about equals the outflow of the low-level headgates. As a result, when the water is released by diving out of the headgates when they were fully opened yesterday were presently swimming in the main body of water of the pond.

Some few trout died as they became marooned in isolated small pools where several hundred pounds of fish were caught by spearmen and seine yesterday.

Today not many fishermen were on the reservoir, many expressing the opinion that the fish were much better nearly when plucked, as their long existence in the murky water of the nearly empty reservoir has made them less palatable than was expected.

Repairs on the control tower of the dam, which was broken off the base by an ice jam last spring, will be fixed sometime this fall but how soon could not be learned. Federal and state engineers inspected the break today, and were expected to order work to begin on it immediately.

Antiquies Play Part In "The First Kiss"

"Antiquies valued at hundreds of thousands of dollars, and far more than was used by great statesmen during the early Colonial days, are playing important roles in the first feature Paramount's first co-starring vehicle for Fay Wray and Gary Cooper, which was filmed on Chesapeake Bay, Maryland, which is to be shown at the Idaho theatre today and Saturday.

Director Roland V. Lee insisted that every property in the production be authentic and this is one of the reasons an entire company was dispatched from the Paramount studio to the location some 200 miles away to the picture.

Not one "act" in "The First Kiss" has been constructed. They are what are called "antiquies" in the industry. The homes of residents of St. Michaels and Easton, Maryland, were used for the interiors while most of the exteriors are being made on Chesapeake Bay. Residents volunteered the use of the antiquies for purposes of the picture.

Included in the list is a spinning wheel made 200 years old and a candlestick which was used by the first Governor of Maryland and a chair which has been in use for more than 100 years.

Supporting Fay Wray and Gary Cooper are Edna Kline, Louise Chandler, Leslie Penton, Paul Fix, Malcolm Williams, George Nash and Maurice Cowley.

The screen play was adapted from the original story. Four brothers, by Fritslam Tupper.

BUTTER RAT FATTER THAN OLEO SPECIMEN

The butter rat won on all points over the oleo rodent by popular decision at the Twin Falls county fair. The two white animals were placed on display in the merchants building by the Jerome Cooperative Dairy and the National Dairy Council.

One rat and one specimen of butter and the other had the same diet plus colomargarine. The butter rat was fat, sleek and lively while the oleo rat border was much smaller, weak and tough looking. It is said that similar results were shown in experiments on pigs, chickens, dogs and other animals at Forest Lake, Minnesota. The diet used for the experiment included dried, cooked beefsteak, white baker's bread, potato flour, oatmeal, white corn meal, farina, sugar, salt and a little calcium carbonate.

ASSOCIATIONS WARN NATION'S SHEEPMEN

Pre-Shearing Contracts for Sale of Fleece Condemned in Report of Committeemen

SALT LAKE CITY, Sept. 6 (AP)—Wool growers were warned against the practice of making pre-shearing contracts for the sale of their product in a joint report by the wool marketing committee of the National Wool Growers' association and the directors of the National Wool Marketing Council, made public here Wednesday.

The report followed the recent conference here of the organizations at which plans were outlined for a huge national pool in the marketing of the pooling and collective plan of the pooling and collective plan of wool selling.

Pending formation of the national pool, the report of the following recommendations were made with a view of making the fullest possible use of existing agencies:

That wool growers use the marketing agencies and warehouse facilities now set up.

That state or regional organizations form pools where approved marketing agencies are not immediately available and that these pools be under the management of the local growers, who will finance and market wool through approved agencies.

That pre-shearing contracts be avoided, but that, where growers desire to furnish them concerning probable domestic and foreign values, with other valuable information.

That the joint committee of the National Wool Marketing Council and the National Wool Growers' association shall endeavor to develop approved marketing agencies.

The plan agreed upon does not require a huge amount of wool, as several of those interested had hoped to have assembled by next spring, but that the sale of the wool through one agency, in order to maintain American wool quotations at a level that will represent the foreign value plus the tariff was recognized.

The report suggested that further educational work would be needed before such a plan could be operated.

How Helen's Long Skirts Shocked the Couturiers

PHOTO OF HELEN HILLS in the recent national championships, showing the modest costume which she herself designed. The skirt hangs just below the knee, while the abbreviated sleeves come mid-way to her elbows. Superimposed are two cartoons from an English periodical, contrasting the long-skirted tennis girl of 28 with the bounding court queen of today.

By SHIRLEY KIRKE (International Illustrated News) NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—When pretty Helen Hills appeared on the tennis courts at Wimbledon, England, to battle for the women's championship of the world, there were shocked cries of disapproval from the eminent English couturiers who create the styles in court costumes.

"Her skirt is wide and three inches too long," they exclaimed. "And her blouse is loose and comes over her shoulders, instead of being tight and cut out around the armholes like a bathing suit. It isn't chic!"

When Helen of America was told of the criticism she gave her faint, non-committal smile and said nothing, but she swept through the remaining matches to win the world title without any difficulty. You may say their own moral, if any, to this story. Helen designs her own costumes for freedom of movement. They're pretty, too, but hardly could be called daring.

The photo above shows Helen as she appeared at the Forest Hills, Long Island, championships, while superimposed are two cartoons from a British periodical—contrasting the long-skirted tennis girl of 1898 with the modern bounding queen of the "racket courts."

METAL FUSED BY STEAM FORMS NEW INSULATION

NEW YORK, Sept. 6.—One of the scaming tricks of magic accomplished by industrial research is described in the method of making a new insulating material, announced today by the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company.

A ribbon of metal, which is a conductor instead of an insulator of electricity, is wound loosely about the electric wire which is to be insulated. Then steam is applied under pressure to the wire and metal. The result is an embed the wire in a non-conducting, hard, dense white substance resembling marble.

Scientifically the process is no mystery. The metal placed around the electric wire is metallic manganese—a conductor. When the wire with the wrapper is inserted in a tube or other container and steam is applied at 450-pound pressure, the manganese metal changes first into its hydrous oxide and later into the oxide, forming the marble-like substance described.

Economic Defense Commission Reviewing Cuban Agriculture

(By The Associated Press) HAVANA, Sept. 6.—Recently created sub-committee of the Cuban national economic defense commission are deep in the study of agricultural conditions throughout the island. They are reviewing plans for the reorganization of farming, as proposed by the department of agriculture, and reports on the situation and on the conclusions of the commission will be ready early in September.

Intensive cultivation of minor products, protection of the farmer's harvesting and marketing conditions, and provision against further crisis in the sugar industry, are among plans submitted to the sub-committees.

Since agricultural and economic problems of the island have been correlated, the government is studying the soil as a possible ameliorative factor in Cuba's present financial situation. Heretofore the hope of Cuban prosperity has been placed in sugar. The industry has been shaken badly, and agriculture has declined to no longer can depend on one industry. In that light the government seeks to open new avenues of income by urging crop rotation, the stimulus of truck farming, and the possible commercialization of sugar by-product.

sub-committees will be crowned with success. It is looked upon as the beginning of concerted action in the material development of Cuban agriculture and the consolidation of its diversified branches.

Truck farming already has gained considerable economic importance in Cuba, and is looked upon as one of the chief contributors to the winter vegetable market in the United States.

RUPERT HOLSTEIN HERD HOLDS STATE HONORS

BURLEY, Sept. 6.—Highest testing herd in the state for two successive months, is the record of Robert Gardell of Rupert, according to P. M. Rogers, tester for the Mini-Cassia Cow Testing association. Gardell gained this distinction in competition with about 228 herds made up of 4,223 cows. His herd of seven registered Holsteins tested 51.9 pounds of butterfat. The approximate average for herds in the state is about 29 pounds fat.

High cow in the Mini-Cassia association for August was a registered Holstein owned by Willard Leigh of Burley, which made 76.4 pounds of fat. Gardell owned the second highest cow, another registered Holstein, which reached 65.5 pounds.

DESERT HORNED TOADS HELP CONQUER EARWIG

TONOPAH, Nev., Sept. 6 (AP)—The humble horned toad, whose chief claim to fame has been its indifference to a hostile environment, is overcoming his stupid philosophy. From now on he is going to catch earwigs.

The earwig is not insusceptible to the toad. It looks like a cockroach in some parts of Europe it is a serious crop pest. In America it is mostly a household pest.

However, many earwigs have gone west and in keeping with the spirit of the open spaces have taken to outdoor existence. They have molested vegetable and flower gardens and even some fruits. Near Seattle, Washington, they are described as a menace.

Now the earwig has to reckon with the horned toad. One of the little creatures, a pet, escaped into the streets of Seattle recently and displayed a voracious appetite for earwigs. That inspired an idea, and more horned toads were brought to Seattle. All ate earwigs. Since then desert dwellers of southern Nevada have been flooded with orders for the lizard-like toads.

The World's Test The world demands a young man of clean hands and a pure heart, not because it cares about his morals, but because it wants a man capable of handling the necessities correctly and honestly.

CENSUS HELPS PRESERVE AMERICA'S WATERFOWLS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6 (AP)—Assisted by 3,000 voluntary observers in almost all strategic points on the North American continent, the United States bureau of biological survey has compiled a series of maps showing the movement of "waterfowl" each month.

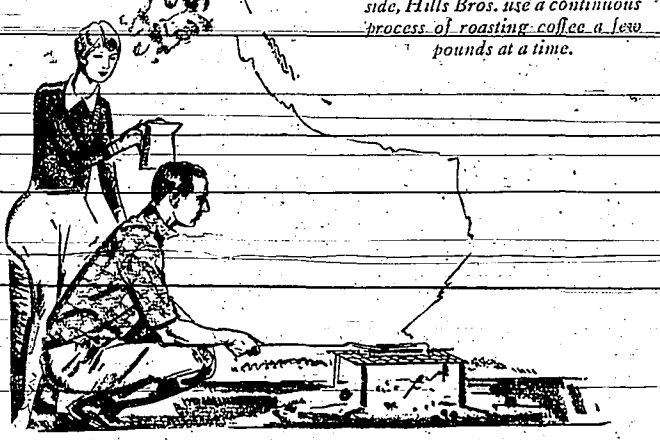

By recording fluctuations in the abundance of migratory game birds, chiefly wild ducks, geese, swans, and the American coot or "mudhen," the census is expected to be of incalculable value in the formulation of a sound policy for the conservation of the country's waterfowl resources.

The project was started a year ago. Since then regular and simultaneous observations have been made in dates fixed in advance. In that manner the number and location of all waterfowl on the continent at a given date is estimated to the nearest possible degree of accuracy.

The information is described as absolutely necessary to the United States and Canada in connection with enforcement of provisions of the migratory-bird treaty negotiated to protect birds that fly between the two countries, and it is also desirable in Mexico in view of the great number of North American waterfowl that winter in that country.

SLIGHT RECUPERATION IN WHEAT QUOTATIONS

In United States and Abroad Start in Grain Market Is Slightly, Receipts Are Light

CHICAGO, Sept. 6 (AP)—Wheat prices held off long enough today to permit wheat prices to recuperate a little, and in the close of an unsettled session the principal grains all traded at a slightly higher level. Both here and abroad the start was slight, but buyers found wheat attractive at $1.14 for the December and Chicago rallied simultaneously with Liverpool, Winnipeg and Buenos Aires. Canadian wheat was rolling into market rapidly with 336 cars at Winnipeg—and inquiry—drove response from Chicago that there would be no wheat for export there soon. On the other hand, one market critic averred that the trade had already accounted for the advance in Canada at present prices. Country deliveries in the Pacific provinces Wednesday were 16,000 bushels compared with 12,500 600 bushels of wheat receipts were regarded by some houses as lighter than expected and some felt that with buyers holding their wheat, an advance in futures quotations would give a strong impetus to activity in the market. Canada was a strengthening factor at Winnipeg, and buyers were looked for in northern Minnesota. However, the market here, however, was not feared as a menace to the crop but as hindrance to deliveries. Wheat closed at 107 1/4 higher, September $1.15, December $1.14, to $1.15, March $1.19, to $1.20, and May $1.21, to $1.22. The wheat-carrying ports received 1,100 bushels of wheat for export.

EDEN HIGH SCHOOL ENROLLMENT HEAVY

Largest Freshman Class in History of Institution Registers on Opening Day

EDEN, Sept. 6.—The Eden high school opened Monday morning with an enrollment of near 75 students. The largest class of freshman in the history of the school registered, 25 in number. With a number to enter later, the present enrollment will no doubt increase to at least 85. Plans for the opening day have been ahead for the past two weeks, the building having been cleaned and the necessary repairs made. Five teachers compose the faculty this year. The increased enrollment of the past two years and a greater demand for some subjects made necessary the employment of one more teacher. The following compose the faculty: Superintendent E. H. Smith, history, civics, occupation, agriculture, French, English, mathematics, science and coach of boys' athletics; Mrs. Mary Jane Hirschler, English and domestic science; Mrs. Ava Barnes, music, Latin, history, English; Miss Rosetta Foster, public speaking, commercial law, commercial arithmetic, typing and physical education; Mr. Smith is entering upon his third year in the Eden schools. During the past summer he attended the University of Missouri where he did graduate work, specializing in administration and supervision. Mrs. Hirschler is from Rupert and she is also entering upon her third year in the Eden schools. Mrs. Hirschler has also done graduate work. Forest Ehlers was a member of the Albion high school faculty the past year and comes well recommended as a teacher and his work of coaching the next year proved most successful. Mrs. Ava Barnes comes to Eden from Gooding, where she taught music in the high school the past year. Miss Foster comes from Orlando, California. She has also done graduate work.

At the close of the last school year the Eden school was picked on the list as recognized by the Northwest Association of Secondary schools and higher institutions. Present conditions point to another successful year.

One of the plans to be worked out this year will be compulsory physical education for every student. Each student will also be given a free physical examination.

Following the registration of the students Monday morning the remainder of the day was spent in arranging classes and assigning work to the various instructors. Regular work was not commenced until Tuesday.

Buhl Schools Prepare for Opening New Term

Buhl, Sept. 6.—A meeting of all teachers of the Buhl schools will be held Saturday morning, September 8, to complete arrangements for the opening of the schools. Some repair work is being done on the Lincoln building this week. Exterior wood surfaces of the building are being given a coat of paint and the roof has been re-coated. A thorough renovation of the interior of the three buildings was made when needed during the vacation in readiness for the opening day. Some changes will be made in placing classes this year. One division of the 3-8 grade will be moved from the Frank H. Buhl school to the Lincoln building and one division of the 7-11 grade will be moved from the Lincoln building to the high school building. All new pupils who have not attended school here previously will enroll Friday morning, September 7, the primary at the F. H. Buhl building, intermediate from the Lincoln building and the Lincoln building; junior high school students from 7-2 to 8-3 grades and the high school students at the high school. All other students who attended here the past year will report Monday morning, September 10.

Children who will be six years or over before December 31, 1928, will be rolled as beginners. There will be no mid year class of beginners this year.

Busses and wagons will call for students for a radius of six miles from Buhl as in past years and few changes are expected to be made.

A. Hirschler, principal of the Eden grade school for two years past, will attend the University of Idaho in Moscow this season. ### Raft River's Alfalfa Seed Crop Falls Short DUNLEY, Sept. 6.—Raft River valley's alfalfa and crop will be considerably short, according to Malia people who are attending the tax sale here.

The district around Malia is particularly adapted to alfalfa seed production. This summer usually brings a good crop of seed in that locality, but many fields need no water at all to bring the seed to maturity. Last year Malia produced near 300,000 pounds of seed, it is said. This year, though many blooms have fallen and the crop is estimated to be but one-third of last season, farmers are holding their crop. It being expected that buyers have offered around 14 to 15 cents, but without making any deals.
