JEROME'S CITIZENS EXPECT FAIR TO BE LARGEST IN HISTORY

North Side Awaits Opening of County Festival; Highways Across Canyon Good; Twin Falls Residents Will Attend

(Special to The News)
TWIN FALLS, Sept. 12.—Jerome is ready for the greatest fair in its history which opens with a barbecue tomorrow and will continue Friday and Saturday with varied attractions and exhibits of the products of farm and pasture. Thursday is visitors' day and the Twin Falls bridge will be in place. Persons is expected.

In order to give the twin crowd a better opportunity to see the new bridge, the county commissioners have given approval to the plan of having Anderson and Johnson re-open the ferry during the period of the fair so that those who desire to go by other routes than the Twin Falls bridge may cross without making the detour by Tasson bridge.

The river on both sides of the river leading to and from the ferry is in good condition. It is understood many ways of getting to Jerome and back are available and it is expected that there will be hundreds of motorists on all of them. The new road over the Twin Falls bridge is now open.

There will be plenty of attractions for everybody. There are 12 elaborate shows and seven of these shows have been running all week in order to allow the Jerome people to take them before the fair opened so that visitors might have an opportunity to attend during the period of the fair.

The exhibits are the most elaborate and varied in the history of the Jerome fair. All kinds of things are in the stalls. Farm products take up a large part of the space. Flowers and fancy work have place. The fair is well-attended. Reports which have been circulating for some time are that the new company will combine with the Keith-Albee-Orpheum interests and later may combine with the Shubert chain of theatres throughout the country.

Such a combination would create an all-inclusive corporation controlling motion pictures, vaudeville, and legitimate dramatic attractions.

ROBINSON DEFENDS SMITH FROM WHISPERING ATTACK

CHARLOTTE, N. C., Sept. 12.—For the second time this week Senator Wm. Robinson tonight gave only passing heed to the text of a prepared address and hammered away extemporaneously at what he described as the "whispering campaign" against Governor Smith.

Parliament was the subject discussed in the prepared document, but after only a few sharp raps at the Republican record on this issue, the Democratic vice-presidential nominee turned to religious tolerance, the "whispering campaign" against the party's presidential candidate, and finally to the relationship between Tammany hall and the South on federal

HUNT HOLDS LEAD IN PRIMARY IN ARIZONA

Incumbent May Be Returned to Office Seventh Time; Senator or Ashurst—Beats Opposition

PHOENIX, Ariz., Sept. 12.—With only scattered precincts in the more isolated regions unreturned, Ashurst and Governor C. W. P. Hunt, both incumbent Democrats, lead all opposition late today.

Senator Ashurst held more than a three-to-one advantage over C. W. P. Hunt, and his opponent's lead over Ralph H. Cameron, Republican, who in turn was doubling the vote of F. R. Steward, his opponent.

Governor Hunt's overwhelming lead rolled up last night when returns for the Republican in the Phoenix district, awaited to a mere majority over J. H. Kerby with the receipt of returns from outlying districts. Although his advantage had been cut perceptibly, Governor Hunt's friends maintained that the 6000-vote lead this afternoon would be sufficient to offset possible adverse voting in the 10 remaining precincts.

Judge John C. Phillips, leading in the race for the Republican in the Phoenix district, was unopposed for the Democratic nomination and an equal lead over Ralph H. Cameron, Republican, who in turn was doubling the vote of F. R. Steward, his opponent.

JOHNSON LEADING IN THIRD WASHINGTON DISTRICT

SEATTLE, Sept. 12.—After trailing his opponent since last night, Albert Johnson stepped out ahead today in the race for congress in the third Washington district as returns from yesterday's primary trickled in.

Johnson, who has been the third in the district's representative, since 1912 and is chairman of the house immigration committee, gradually moved up on Homer T. Bone, Tacoma lawyer, during the day, overcoming Bone's one-time majority of 9000.

This afternoon when 528 of the 627 precincts in the district had reported, Johnson showed a lead of 1598 votes. Bone's big lead obtained largely from Pierce county in which his home city of Tacoma is situated. The rural districts gave Johnson his lift.

Johnson is the Republican nominee. His opponent Roland H. Hartley continued to pile up a big lead in his fight for nomination by the Republicans as candidate for governor to succeed himself. His nearest opponent, E. L. French, had only 76,449 votes to Hartley's 90,578 when 1422 complete and 1061 incomplete precincts out of 1461 in that state were returned. His close opponent was Judge Stephen J. Chadwick, who had 8590. Kenneth Mackintosh had a good lead in the race for United States senator. Formerly was United States senator and was at present in the race for the position of standard bearer of his party's flag in the November general election as a result of his overwhelming victory over Clarence F. Dodge, Colorado Springs, in Tuesday's statewide primary.

BOATRIGHT AHEAD IN CONGRESS IN COLORADO

DENVER, Sept. 12.—William L. Boatright, attorney general of Colorado for the last four years, tonight was firmly entrenched in the position of standard bearer of his party's flag in the November general election as a result of his overwhelming victory over Clarence F. Dodge, Colorado Springs, in Tuesday's statewide primary.

As expected returns continued to pour in the election bureau of The Associated Press the lead which Attorney General Boatright gained with the reporting of the first precinct in the state continued to mount by leaps and bounds.

When tabulation was suspended tonight, the vote in 1311 precincts of the state 1868 for the Republican gubernatorial nomination stood at Boatright 48,139; Dodge 27,153. With the victory of Congressman S. Harrison White, Democrat, Denver over George J. Kitchin, Democrat, in the race for the position of three-cornered contest in Denver for the Republican congressional nomination, all of the four congressional seats in the state were chosen definitely with the exception of the Democratic nominee in the third district. The Republican nominee, P. H. H. Anderson, Trinidad, on the face of incomplete returns.

GOVERNOR HARDMAN

ATLANTA, Ga., Sept. 12.—Governor L. G. Hardman took the lead for the nomination for governor on the third day of the primary election in Georgia. His opponent, W. P. Upham, 225; Hardman, 140.

The Upham-Steele race afforded one of the dramatic presidential tests in the primary, with Upham, a militant "dry" arrayed against the candidacy of Governor Alfred E. Smith, who was strongly supporting it. None of the states' 12 congressmen were re-nominated without opposition.

OPENS CAMPAIGN

BETHLEHEM, Pa., Sept. 12.—M. E. Reilly, Ford Bu. Inc. Democratic candidate for United States Senator, opened his fall campaign here tonight by defining Senator Smoot, Utah, "the man who has just said that the election of a Democratic president would mean a panic."

MID-WEST PRESENTS ILLUMINATING STUDY OF POLITICAL ORGAN

Farm Belt of Ohio, Indiana, and Illinois Offers Picture Inviting and Forbidding to Active Forecasting Group

By D. Field Brittle (Associated Press Staff Writer)
CINCINNATI, Sept. 12.—Preparing to campaign with others to choose a president, the Mid-West presents an illuminating cross-section of the country's political structure that combines virtually every element of this many-sided campaign. To the forecaster who seeks there a clue to the nation's answer in November it offers a picture both inviting and forbidding.

Comprising the Eastern extremity of the farm belt, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois harbor not only great farmer populations but also business and industrial centers; they house important large groups of negroes and foreigners of various church connections and to all of them prohibition offers relief, the tariff and reciprocity stands singly or in combination varying more so the issues of the day.

In Ohio, more so than in the neighboring states, another party exists that is of more concern to party leaders—the well established practice of ticket scratching has become an art form. As witnesses the fact that the Democratic party has chosen two governors in the past quarter century, although virtually every other state office in recent years from lieutenant governor down has gone to the Republicans.

Workers Mobilizing
The Buckeye state, which calls it "the home of presidents," has undertaken that period of intensive organization between primary and elections. It finds party leaders mobilizing workers in every precinct and conducting private polls of sentiment while publicly expressing conviction that their machine will receive the state's 24 electoral votes.

Only twice in more than half a century has Ohio chosen a Democrat for president—Wilson in 1912 and 1916. Harding took it eight years ago from Ohio's former governor, James M. Cox, by 400,000, and Coolidge four years ago had 340,000 more than Davis and La Follette combined.

Campaigns National
As the state and national campaigns gather headway, it becomes clear that Democratic hopes for a Smith in this home of the Anti-Saloon League are based on the known "wetness" of large elements in such cities as Cincinnati, Cleveland and Toledo.

An equally bright picture is painted at Republican headquarters. Spokesmen there say the seven big cities usually have been "liberal" and admit that Smith's vote runs high in them, but they quote voluminous statistics to prove that the seven big cities will return Hoover majorities despite the city vote.

The Republicans scoff at the Democratic prediction that the election of a Democratic president would mean a panic.

Knew Too Much

eratic theory that Smith will capture the wet cities and that his gubernatorial running mate here, representative Martin L. Davey, will bring in the dry rural votes.

In addition to feeling the well-trenched guns of the Anti-Saloon League, which saw nearly every one of the candidates endorsed by it with in the recent primary, the Smith forces have the announced opposition of the Ohio conference of the Methodist Episcopal church. The conference, largest denominational body in the state, not only declared unambiguously for Hoover, but denounced the New York governor.

As an issue, farm-relief has achieved no high place in Ohio although it has been prominent in the state's cooperative marketing extension plan as a talking point in the rural districts. Both campaigns will turn largely around the question of prohibition, in Ohio as in Illinois, Indiana and Michigan.

THE SPORTS OF A DAY

ATHLETICS DEFEAT YANKEES BY 4 TO 3

After Eight-Inning Pitchers' Duel Contest Develops Into One of Strategy; Hoy Loses

NEW YORK, Sept. 12 (AP)—Cornelius McGillicuddy marched solemnly about the promises of Jacob Ruppert this afternoon greeting up the bits of wreckage. In them he found one virtually unused ball game, which he promptly appropriated 4 to 3, over the vigorous and sustained protest by the Yankees.

The Athletics' loss escaped from the Bronx with one victory in four engagements and vanished into the West trailing the champions by one and one-half games.

The battle moved through almost eight innings as a pitchers' duel between Hoy and Howard Ehmke, but then developed quickly into a contest of strategy between Hoy and McGillicuddy. The winning blow was Max Bishop's home run with two out and none on base in the ninth. This smash over Babe Ruth's head into the right field seats broke a 3-10-3 tie and so unsteady Hoy that he turned the reins over a moment later to George Pipgras.

Ehmke pitched well. The veteran Ehmke, battered and beaten in almost all of his recent starts, pitched magnificent ball against the champions and he deceived his knee in delivering the ball to Tony Lazzeri in the eighth. The tall right-hander so injured himself that he had to live with Oswald Orvill with two out, the A's one-run ahead and the bases full of Yankees.

There was no part of the blond dragon-of-last-Saturday-in-Boston. He promptly passed Lazzeri to force home the tying run, and then worked the count to 3 and 1 with the bases full before finally retiring the Yankee third baseman on a high fly to Hans.

Such antics were very trying upon the nerves of Connie Mack, already sorely taxed and Rube Walberg was found in the eighth, the winning margin the Macks had built up with Bishop's home run. "The rubber passed Collins for a starter, giving the Sox something to yell about, but settled his task and retired the next three men without incident."

Only game scheduled in American league.

VETERAN TACKLE IS CAPTAIN OF BRUINS

Dorian Putzier, Outstanding Lineman, Honored: 26 From Join Big Field of Aspirants

Dorian Putzier, veteran Bruin tackle, was elected captain of the 1928 football team at a meeting last night. Putzier has been an outstanding lineman on the Bruin squad for the past two seasons and is playing his third and last year for the Blue and White. He will probably be shifted to the backfield. He has considerable blocking ability and may do part of the kicking.

Snappy weather put the Bruins on edge last night and action was plentiful throughout the practice period. The first work on formations was started and the tedious drill on perfection of plays got well under way.

More interest than is usual at this time of year is being displayed by alumni and fans, judging by the number to watch the antics of the Bruins. The first game is only a little over a week away and the coaches are lengthening the practice periods in preparation for the alumni contest.

SENATE MAY OPPOSE RUSSIAN ADHERENCE TO KELLOGG TREATY

Speculation as to Whether Ratification of Pact Would Be Equivalent of Resumption of Relations With Soviet

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12 (AP)—With word from China and Spain to the state department today of those governments' intention to adhere to the Kellogg-Briand treaty for the renunciation of war, speculation today that the senate would take toward that instrument. This centered around whether stipulations made by Great Britain and France in correspondence prior to the compact's approval constituted reservations to the treaty.

Secretary Kellogg conferred with President Coolidge during the day, but nothing regarding the treaty was forthcoming. Neither would the secretary of state shed any light on his views regarding the pact.

Senator Borah, who said the treaty would be placed before the foreign relations committee at the earliest opportunity with a view toward expediting senate action, expressed the opinion that the treaty would be approved without reservation.

Union Remains Clear

Commenting further, the Idahoan said the pact "does not indicate any trend of United States participation in European affairs," adding that the pact "does not understand as such." While asserting that the renunciation of war as an instrument of national policy by so many nations could not be expected to effect immediate reductions of armaments, he expressed the opinion that it would serve to that end eventually.

CHEMICAL IS BOON TO WEED FIGHTERS

Spray, Originated by Local Man, Removes Fire Hazard From Sodium Chlorate Work

A chemical that seems likely to eliminate the fire hazard to which noxious weed fighters and other persons who work with sodium chlorate, a highly inflammable chemical, has been discovered by C. P. Allen, Twin Falls, M. E. Brady, director supervisor of Twin Falls county weed control bureau, had laid recently after a series of demonstrations in which Mr. Allen's chemical was put to severe tests.

Man Fatally Burned

One man engaged in the work on noxious weeds in Cassia county was fatally burned when sodium chlorate in his clothing caught fire, and three or four others in this region have been severely burned this season. Charles Jeffrey, an employee of the Twin Falls county bureau, who was burned 10 days ago, so that his life was despaired of, is believed to be on the way to recovery.

Chemical Prevents Fire

The chemical discovered by Mr. Allen does not actually extinguish sodium chlorate fire, Mr. Brady said, but it does serve every practical purpose for protection of workers using that inflammable chemical. Clothing after treatment with the chemical was saturated with sodium chlorate and then permitted to dry thoroughly. A lit match failed to ignite the cloth in the tests witnessed by Mr. Brady, and intense heat of a gasoline flame only caused the clothing thus treated to smolder.

Sodium Chlorate, Mr. Brady stated, burns with a quick flash so that use of an extinguisher is impractical. The use of the chemical that prevents ignition of the chemical under ordinary circumstances seems to offer an effective remedy.

Perfume Long Enjoyed - Perfumes were known in earliest civilizations. The laws of the Testament used perfumes in the form of incense in their temples and later churches. Their women, as well as the Egyptian, Roman and Greek women used scented oils and cosmetics. It is probable that the perfumes are long used in Arabia and that the goods were carried to Egypt, Greece, Rome and Palestine.

Girl Masquerading as Man Weds Just for a Lark

RIGHT, "WILLIAM HATHAWAY," dapper young bank clerk, who fooled Somerville, Massachusetts, and won the heart and hand of a certain Louise, and left as Ethel Kimball, the daughter of rich and influential Massachusetts family. Below, the "bride," of his "lark wedding."

"Bride" of "Bill" Hathaway, head-broken as Mate Langlands in Jail BOSTON, Sept. 10 (UIN)—It takes a lot to stagger the modern "little bit" writers in the novel, say, and "William (Bill) Hathaway" suave bank clerk accomplished the trick. "Bill" was what he was known as a man with a future. When Miss Louise Marguerite Aeschler responded to his ardent wooing and consented to become his "wife," friends of the pair congratulated them.

Came their wedding night (as the little writers in the novel say) and the storm broke. For "William" turned out to be a swindler. The amazed and indignant "bride" discovered that she had gone through the marriage ceremony with Miss Ethel Kimball, left and returned daughter of a wealthy Massachusetts family. Ethel, it developed, had misapprehended his man, and had married an impostor who had been in love about it.

Did It For a Lark - Why did this girl, born with advantages in the gift, with a father who was a millionaire and a fortune of $1,000,000, announce her sex and perpetrate a strange and tragic hoax upon a young girl who was led to bestow her love upon a man who didn't exist?

"For a lark," explained Ethel. "I just wanted to see how far I could carry the joke. But when she examined her wedding certificate, she discovered she had married a man who was not her husband. She was led to believe she was marrying a man who didn't exist. She was led to believe she was marrying a man who didn't exist. She was led to believe she was marrying a man who didn't exist."

BOURBONS' NOMINEE PREPARES FOR FIRST STUMPING JOURNEY

Governor Smith Brands Charge of Being "Disgustingly Intoxicated" at State Fair in Syracuse as Lie and Slander

(By The Associated Press) ALBANY, Sept. 12—(Bull) on getting everything ship-shape before his departure Sunday night on his first campaign tour, Governor Smith put in a long lull at his desk today, one moment engaged with state business, the next tackling some phase of his presidential campaign.

For the first time since his nomination at Houston he took cognizance of what has been termed a "whispering" campaign against him by issuing for publication in newspapers tomorrow morning a formal statement which brought into the open a charge that he was "disgustingly intoxicated" at the New York state fair in Syracuse two weeks ago.

The statement was headed "making a lie in the whispering campaign," and its concluding paragraph branded the accusation, which the nominee had been informed was being circulated against him in West Virginia as "slander." It was issued from the executive offices.

In another statement, which he dictated to a stenographer during his daily conference with newspaper editors, Governor Smith again assailed Ogden L. Mills, under-secretary of the treasury and the Republican gubernatorial nominee in New York last year.

Commenting on Mills' latest attack on his management of the state's fiscal affairs, the presidential nominee declared: "Mr. Mills has said all over again the same things he said during the campaign in 1926. He said the state debt was not reduced. That interest is not so. He said that the increase in resources had not been applied to tax reduction. That is not so. The direct tax, as I said in my statement last Monday, was reduced by some $18,000,000."

Answers—By State Lawyer—During the day Governor Smith also made public a letter to Clarence A. Barnes, a Republican candidate for attorney general in Massachusetts, who has assailed him on the grounds that he had failed to act against the Albany baseball pool. Accepting an invitation of the governor to come and point out the pool's headquarters, Barnes had sent word that he would do so on September 10. Smith, however, said he would be out of town on that date and suggested that Barnes try any evidence of law violations before the district attorney of Albany county.

FRENCH NAVAL PACT WITH GREAT BRITAIN GETTING CRITICISM

Intimations That Compromise is Distasteful to Other Nations Reaches Lord Cushendun at Geneva Conference

(By The Associated Press) GENEVA, Sept. 12—The first official disclosure that the Franco-British naval accord has not been entirely accepted by other nations was made this evening by Lord Cushendun at a session of the disarmament committee of the League of Nations assembly.

"Unfortunately," he said, "intimations have reached us that our compromise (the Franco-British naval accord) may prove unpalatable to other parties concerned with the same right as we do have their votes and their voices heard."

Lord Cushendun also entered his opposition to an immediate fixation of the date for the meeting of the preparatory disarmament commission.

Just prior to these moves he had been sitting in the council hurrying as soon as the council adjourned to the disarmament committee room. He arrived just in time to hear Joseph Paul Boncour, chairman of the foreign relations committee of the chamber of deputies at France, argue for fixing a date for the meeting for the preparatory commission for disarmament.

Lord Cushendun immediately intervened to attempt to prove that it was much better to follow the American idea and allow the chairman of the commission the prerogative of choosing the commission whenever he deemed the divergencies of views sufficiently overcome to justify votes of progress.

The discussion brought no decision and M. Boncour announced his intention to explain the views of the French delegation on disarmament later. Lord Cushendun, pointing to the effect of successive adjournments of the commission emphasized that one of the main Anglo-French difficulties had been over the principles of naval disarmament.

In a session of the council today French delegation on disarmament was requested to submit a statement of its findings at the next session.

METHODIST CLERGY OUT TO BEAT SMITH

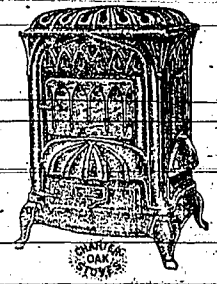

Applause and Shouts of 'Amen' Greet Address Urging Ministers to Oppose New Yorker

TACOMA, Wash., Sept. 12 (AP)—Amid applause and shouts of "amen," Bishop Titus Love of the Methodist Episcopal church, in his opening address to the Puget Sound Methodist conference today urged every Methodist minister and layman to get into the E. Smith Democratic presidential campaign this year in opposition to A. Alfred E. Smith injected this issue into the campaign when he repudiated the dry plank in the Democratic platform in his opening address. "He has thrown down the gauntlet to us and we would be less than pygmies if we did not take up the gauge and march to the polls in solid phalanx to protect the right and preserve the construction of the nation."

Call to Ministers Bishop Love devoted most of his address to a call to the ministers to make their power felt politically in this campaign and in all civil and political activities for righteousness. He referred to the speech of Joseph Robinson, Democratic candidate for vice president, who had insisted that the churches keep out of the political fight this year and said: "I do not think Joe Robinson has the right to put a clamp on the lips of any clear thinking minister of the church of Christ no matter if it does interfere with his plan to put someone in the White House."

QUOTATION ON WHEAT FLUCTUATES ON MARY

Prices March Down Hill and Climb Back Upon Reports of Famine in Soviet Russia

CHICAGO, Sept. 12 (AP)—Like the celebrated maneuver of the French king's army, wheat prices marched right down the hill today, and then marched up again. Commission houses and previous speculative sellers of wheat turned to the buying side when values failed to establish a new low record for the season despite official figures indicating a North American surplus big enough to allow American business export every day in the year. Reports of near famine in the Ukraine district of Russia were a bullish influence.

Wheat quotations on wheat were nervous at the same as yesterday's finish to 1/2c higher, with corn at 1/2c decline to 1/2c advance, and provisions varying from 25c setback to a rise of 2c.

Large Canadian Crop

According to some authorities, the Canadian government crop report all through pointing to the harvest yield of wheat never known in Canada was not as bountiful as many traders had hoped for, some predicting of late having been for a total of about 25,000,000 bushels in excess of the official figures. However, with the Canadian government's forecast of 110,000,000 bushels, the large year's harvest, selling pressure, enough developed here to carry the market down to within 1/2c of the lower price which December wheat had reached for this season.

Then rallies set in, with the upturning ending in a 1/2c advance, a word of heavy rains likely to cause delay to movement of domestic spring wheat Northwest.

BEAN PRICE SET AT $6.50 PER HUNDRED

Shortage of Million Bushels Apparent in United States; Government Estimate Shows

The board of directors of the Southern Idaho Bean Growers' association after a careful review of the situation have set the price of $6.50 per hundred pounds, f. o. b. Idaho, or about 28¢ net to the grower. It was stated yesterday in a letter mailed to all members. It is pointed out that figures obtainable indicate a shortage of about 1,000,000 bushels in the crop of the nation this year as compared with that of 1927.

A representative of the governor of Michigan is on his way here to help work out a nation-wide plan of marketing. If possible, which will enable the farmer to sell their crop more profitably.

The text of the letter mailed yesterday follows: "The board of directors, at a special meeting Monday night named a price to the effect on 'Great Northern' beans of $250 f. o. b. Idaho. This is absolutely the first price the association has made on the 1928 crop since prices were set at $2.00 per bushel in 1927. We believe should be the starting price this year. We have maintained for the past month that the 1928 crop is short.

"We based this on all the information we could get by telephone and telegraph from the coming year. The report from the August government report and from a personal inspection trip by the manager through Michigan. Now, comes the September government estimate putting Michigan to 4,650,000 bushels and total United States crop to 15,800,000 bushels. This is only about a million bushels short of last year's crop.

"A telegram today from the California Lima Bean Growers' association advised that their estimate of 75 per cent normal crop has been cut by dry weather 10 per cent to 15 per cent more. Most of the beans that will have no more beans than last year. Threshing is starting here and first returns show yields are falling far short of early estimates.

Michigan dealers are paying growers $7.00 on 100 pounds net; on this basis, Idaho is considered. Idaho growers are entitled to at least $6.00 net. The association is doing everything possible to get the last dollar to the Idaho grower of Great Northern beans.

"The governor of Michigan, believing that an emergency exists in the bean situation, is sending a personal representative to Idaho to work out, if possible, some system of marketing that will give the grower a fair price. If we can get a reasonable amount of co-operation, we can put this over. Conditions warrant a good price this year."
