TAFT PIONEER FARM CHANGES OWNERSHIP

Brother of Chief Justice of United States Sells Ranch Active in Texas Development

CORPUS CHRISTI, Texas, Sept. 19 (AP)—Charles P. Taft, brother of Chief Justice Taft, has sold the pioneer scientific farm which under his ownership played a colorful part in the agricultural development of south Texas.

While on a trip through Texas many years ago, Taft became impressed with the fertility of the soil. A few feet from the surface there are irrigated sub soil that would provide ample water for long-rooted plants, even in time of drought.

Two towns, Taft and Gregory, virtually were built by Taft. He owned the land and provided it with drainage. He founded a bank in each town and ran that business for years.

One of the big features of this year's celebration is the regatta on the river, which will include exhibitions of horsemanship by the local cavalry unit of the Idaho state guard.

The racing program for each of the two days will embrace exciting events at all of the popular distances and novelty features such as elmslot races. Bowler races will be featured.

Midway and carnival attractions of all kinds, including rides, and a number of contests will be held for the celebration. The Legion men declared each day will close with a big dance in the hall.

FRATERNAL ORDER ELKS, GOODING, Sept. 19.—Special to The News—Officials selected to go to the Independent Order of Elks, Gooding, Oct. 16 to 18, by the local lodge are as follows: W. C. Foy, charter delegate; and A. C. Geyer, second delegate. The lodge recommended that W. F. Loeber be appointed by the state lodge to the position of district grand-master.

Continued from yesterday. Joe Carr, Tom Carr's weak unfortunate brother, is discussing Henry A. Dussynin in the act of robbing his brother's property with a blow and seizes the purse with the $10,000.

There is something mysterious about this whole affair. I'll find what this business is all about.

Already Joe have only 10 minutes to make the train at the junction. You're a real brother Tom - if the gang ever hears you help me escape - they'll take you for a ride - and don't tell a soul that you saw me.

Where am I? I remember it all just as I took the $10,000 from the safe - I was struck from behind - I must get out of here.

GRANGE-DISAGREES WITH EASTERN MAN ON BEAN PROSPECT

Agricultural Organization Appoints Member to Investigate Lansing Dealer's Views; Believes Michigan Crop Poor

Twin Falls grange members, voicing disagreement with conclusions expressed by A. H. Madgen, Lansing, Michigan, bean dealer, relative to the extent of the nation's bean crop this year, at a regular meeting here last night designated C. E. McClain to make inquiry into Mr. Madgen's view of the situation as set forth in an article published by the News Wednesday morning. During discussion of the subject members of the grange stated that they had authentic advice indicating that the condition of the Michigan crop is not good and that a less than normal yield in that state is anticipated.

Mr. Madgen, in his statements published by the News, argued that the nation's crop of white beans will be somewhat larger this year than last and advised against fixing of a minimum price so high as to interfere with early marketing of the crop here.

Discusses Fair Exhibit
A review of Twin Falls grange participation in community exhibits competition at the Twin Falls county fair this year was held at the grange meeting by John S. Feldhusen, Twin Falls grange master. It was pointed out that although Twin Falls grange exhibit in the contest, scoring 73 out of a possible 1000 points, it received 25 points for general article, including the grange, and a 100 point prize for high class crop exhibit, and on that score rated second only to Piler, winner of first prize in the contest. The discussion was given in answer to the program with view improvement of Twin Falls' entry in later contests.

JURORS REPORT AND GET SHORT VACATION

Seven Civil Cases Are Settled Outside Court; Lawyer Wins Five Suits in Five Minutes

Jurors summoned for duty during the present district court term here, were granted four days' vacation within an hour after they reported to Judge Inaback in the court room yesterday forenoon. During the hour, seven civil cases, which had set for trial yesterday, were disposed of otherwise. In three of these cases judgment was confessed by defendants; in two cases it was announced settlement out of court is pending; one case was continued, and another was transferred to the court calendar for trial by the court without a jury.
Out of 30 jurors for whom summons had been issued, 29 were in attendance on the court at the appointed hour. It had been impossible to deliver summons to AVIAN Jay, Kimberly, the other juror, it was reported.

Five Are Excused
Five of the prospective jurors gave reasons why they could not serve on which they were excused for the term. These prospective jurors were Joseph Barkley, Edwin Sweet, Tom Mort, R. E. Morehouse and A. C. Bradford. Four others were excused until Monday before it became evident that there would be no work for any of the jurors prior to that time when four other civil cases have been set for trial.

With confession of judgment by defendants in four cases set for trial yesterday wherein G. C. Wright sought judgment on notes given by defendants to the Paysee Investment company in payment of lots in a build addition, Harry Benoit, Twin Falls attorney, within five minutes time won five suits involving claims for approximately $6000. A supreme court decision in favor of Mr. Wright in suit on another one of these notes was the factor that brought about confession of judgment in the three cases for total and two others that were pending.

Settlements out of court, it was announced, are pending in the cases of the First National Bank of Piler against F. E. Drake, and of E. T. Keating against the Citizen Publishing company. The case of C. T. Hampton against N. H. Lee and others was continued to next Monday, and the case of A. F. Mueger against Everett H. Hawley and Reta O. Hawley was transferred to the court calendar.

SPEEDY AUTO'S OCCUPANTS HURLED BY LIQUOR AT COMMISSIONER'S FEET

Four bottles containing a liquor of alcoholic character, launched from a speeding automobile at the feet of J. E. White, Twin Falls commissioner of public safety, as he was leaving his residence at 107 Blue Lakes boulevard north last Sunday evening.
Another automobile on the heels of the car from which the bottles were thrown evidently led passengers in the first car to believe they were being flung by officers, Mr. White said. The bottles were smashed when they struck the pavement, and broken glass and pools of an odoriferous liquid were scattered about.
In relating the incident to his colleagues of the city council, the commissioner expressed the opinion that a system of liquor deliveries such as he had witnessed must prove unsatisfactory to patrons and unprofitable to the tax.

TRIO OF AUTOMOBILES INVOLVED IN COLLISION

Three automobiles were damaged more or less in a collision at the intersection of Main avenue and Shoshone street at about 7 o'clock last evening when C. E. Jensen, Rogerston, attempted to make a left hand turn in front of another machine owned by Lottie M. Clifford, 139 Pine street, and driven by two young women, members of a party of tourists in a third car owned by H. P. Richardson, Maywood, California, who were following the Jensen car, stated that Jensen failed to signal the turn. Miss Clifford's car struck Jensen's machine in the right front quarter and it rebounded back to strike the California machine.
Jensen, the only person involved in the collision to be injured, suffered some bruises. The bumper, fender and spindle on his car were jammed. The bumper and fender of Miss Clifford's car were bent, and a hub cap and fender on the California car were jammed.

FARM LABOR DEMAND APPROACHES SUPPLY

Absence of Good Market Slows Apple Harvest; Potato Digging Begins; Some to Store

The supply of jobs on farms in this region is more nearly equal to the demand than it has been for several weeks past. Charles L. Hart, federal employment service agent here, said last evening.

Harvest of the apple crop was started last Friday in one Twin Falls grove and may continue in full swing within the next few days. Absence of active demand for the apple crop this season is tending to slow down the harvest. It is anticipated that a market will be found for most of the crop at a price of around $1 a box, which, it is stated, will return the grower a small margin of profit.

Digging of the main potato crop will be well under way within the next few days, and although the market quotations are comparatively low, ranging around 60 cents to 80 cents a hundred for Russets, indications are that most growers in this region will harvest their crops, and many of them will use storage in the hope of obtaining higher prices later in the season.
