A HOPEFUL INDICATION

Without character development to withstand the slings and arrows of outrageous fortune, ability to make money and to enjoy purely intellectual exercises don't count for very much in life worth while living.

To this effect the outstanding citizens of Idaho, the Governor of the state and the President of the State University, have expressed themselves here recently.

Both laid stress on an evident lack of an essential element in what counts to make up a well rounded life, one that is pleasant to the one who lives it and a benediction to his fellows.

Accepting the challenge that this lack brings to the schools, Dr. Frederick J. Kelly, president of the University of Idaho, told the convention of the State Federation of Women's Clubs that the schools have gone too far toward stimulation of scholarship.

Not just to know is right, but to care for what is right and to have a deep and genuine concern in wanting to do what is right, he declared, is the thing that counts.

School and the church, Governor Baldridge told the Idaho Baptist convention, with all their powerful effect on the plastic character of youth, can do little more than supplement the training of the home.

It is the responsibility of the home, and particularly because of the comprehensive character of the training that is being given today, I believe, the governing factor, "there is a growing tendency of the part of parents to shift responsibility for child training to the school, church and state.

Manifestly the situation constitutes an outstanding challenge to our modern civilization. We are the people in the world, with more than, and wider opportunities than ever before, and we haven't, as a people, learned how to live useful and happy lives.

The hopeful thing about it is that the best of the state, school and church are not attempting to deflect themselves or to escape the situation. They are trying to meet it.

He speaks especially of the part of the work of certain organizations in the public schools. They are demoralizing the children's patriotism, he says.

That is a matter of opinion or judgment. If, as he charges, children are being asked to sign checks pledging them never to bear arms for the United States for any cause whatever. It is little short of treason, because bearing arms is the ultimate patriotic obligation of every citizen. But trying to spread the idea among children that warfare is a wrong and foolish way to settle dispute, that great armaments are necessary, that great nations ought to get along together "peaceably" as individuals are expected to do—that is a different matter. Our government itself, with almost unanimous public approval, has just signed a treaty renouncing war as an instrument of policy, which is the very heart of what honest and intelligent pacifists are seeking.

Exactly what are the motives persons engaged in any line of activity which furnishes them with livelihood difficult to say. But if there are really men and women spreading the peace gospel "for the money" there is in it are they not on the wrong side? There is usually supposed to be more money in spreading war and armament propaganda.

RUBBER LABORATORY

The new University of Akron is to have "the most complete rubber research laboratory in the world," as befits a city known as the world's "rubber capital."

The East Indies, Africa and South America may produce the crude rubber, but Akron makes it into forms and molds for human use.

NEW YORK, Oct. 4 (AP)—Mary Josephine Lauder, sailing for Europe at midnight to meet and wed Gen. Thompson, didn't mind to pose for picture photographers swarmed about her.

That was at 1 o'clock in the morning. It was hours later when they managed to find a room in the Statler, where she stayed in the city.

The Open Window

By Hugh A. Studdert Kennedy

A friend in the wilds of South Africa writes in the course of a letter I received recently: "I have always been a friend of the open window."

Here, we get a mail three times a week, and you would be amazed to see how excited the village is when a letter comes from the city.

But then the fact is, of course, that they would not have missed it for anything. And I doubt very much whether they would be glad to have it changed.

MANY PAY TRIBUTE TO SLAIN MOTHER

Pathos Marks Funeral of Mrs. Lois May Bowen; Tokens of Flowers Bespeak Sympathy

Extraordinary pathos marked funeral services in the latter Day Sabbath morning yesterday afternoon for Mrs. Lois May Bowen, wife of Charles E. Bowen and mother of three little girls, who was killed at her home here on Wednesday of last week to answer to first degree murder charge in connection with her death.

The church was crowded by the congregation assembled to pay a final tribute to one who was well-beloved throughout the community and to manifest sympathy with the bereaved husband and children and the aged mother, a graceful little woman during the services in a corner of the room.

Husband Attends Rites

The husband, lately released from the hospital, held his second daughter, who was killed at her death, clasped about his neck, and the eldest child, Walleita Sletten, 14, sobbed in the arms of her grandmother.

Extreme indignation characterized the remarks of the speakers who held out the consolation vouchsafed by their faith, and pointed to the lesson of this tragic event, a warning of necessity for conquest over ranking grudges and angry passions.

Many Floral Offerings

A blanket of autumn flowers covered the casket, and a profusion of floral offerings blanketing the altar bore mute testimony of sorrow and of sympathy.

Services were conducted by Bishop Roy Wood, and the speakers were: William Sagers, Oakley, gentleman home of Mrs. Bowen, and E. M. Guest, Twin Falls.

THREE YOUTHS SERVING TERMS IN CITY-BASTILE

Youthful Utahans, Accused of Gasoline Theft, Plead Guilty to Charge of Petty Larceny

Three Logan Utah youths, accused of theft of gasoline from an automobile parked here Tuesday night, pleaded guilty in police court yesterday to charges of petty larceny. They were sentenced by Judge H. D. Reed to pay fines of $10 and $25 each, and, in default of payment, they began to serve terms in jail.

The young men gave the following names and ages: Conrad A. Barrett, 21; Max Pannbeck, 17; Beverly Morgan, 16.

They said they had been employed for a short time on a farm near Jerome and were on their way to Utah to attend school when they were arrested here.

They owed their capture to Theodore Mallon, service station operator, who was going home shortly after midnight Tuesday night and observed the three young men in the vicinity of the car, owned by Thomas McEwain, from which the gas was stolen. The car was parked in front of the McEwain residence on Ninth street and was being driven by the three young men until officers arrived.

The car in which the young men were traveling contained two big gasoline tanks.

PRESBYTERIAN PUPILS WILL STUDY RELIGION

There was no meeting of the young folks of the Christian church last evening. The pastor, Rev. C. C. Curtis, said that he would be out of town for a couple of weeks and would take the matter up on his return. Similar steps are expected in other churches. It is planned to have all meetings at the same hour, after dismissal in the afternoon for junior high students and in the evening for senior high school students.

There's somebody like him in every office

LISTLESSLY he begins the day. But he has no grip on his job. His desk piles up with unfinished work. As people help and pity him, he realizes that he might as well face the truth. He is through. The pace is too much. Something has been stealing his energy—killing his ambition. He isn't sick—and yet, somehow, he never feels very well.

Thousands of men are falling behind the crowd, all because they fail to realize how deadly constipation is. Constipation can wreck the strongest body. Headaches, sleepless nights, listlessness, mania, complexions are just a few of its early symptoms. In the end, it often leads to serious disease.

What a pity more people do not know there is such prompt relief from this terrible scourge. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is guaranteed to relieve constipation. More—to prevent it just as surely.

Only ALL-BRAN is 100% effective. It is bulk that relieves constipation. Because it is 100% bran, Kellogg's ALL-BRAN supplies bulk in generous quantities. In a part-bran product the amount of bulk is usually too small to be completely effective. That's why doctors recommend ALL-BRAN.

ALL-BRAN brings natural relief

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is totally different from dangerous drugs and pills. It does much more—extremely important—to be effective. It works as nature works. The health of the entire family can be maintained by serving ALL-BRAN in some form every day.

Example of Good Samaritan in Sharing Advantages Should Be Aim of All Nations, Says Baptist Convention Speaker

Speaking on the text, "The Good Samaritan," last night at the closing session of the Idaho Baptist State convention, Rev. R. H. Moorhead, Boise, said: "The question of ownership has always been and always will be one of the biggest questions of life. Over this question battles have been waged and thousands hastened to premature death. It is at the very center of our trouble-making capital and labor. It is the real problem in our prohibition fight. It might be easy to solve the problems of ownership if there were the same philosophy for all—but unfortunately our philosophies vary widely. The various philosophies set forth in the story of the Good Samaritan.

Philosophies Differ

There are three well-known philosophies of ownership—those of the robber, of the priest and of the Good Samaritan. The philosophy of the robber was, "What is yours is mine if I can get it." It is the philosophy of the cave man; the spoils belong to the stronger.

"Up to the last half century it was the working philosophy of nations. England had no compunctions for her subjugation of India. Belgium lost little sleep over the exploitation of the Congo. Even we of America, grive very little over the treatment of the natives. It is all the philosophy of ownership.

"The philosophy of the priest and Levite was, 'What I have is mine if I can keep it.' They were busy men. They had no time for humanity. They were sorry of course, but their time was precious.

"Nations too have practiced this philosophy. Alsace-Lorraine belonged to Germany by right of conquest. It mattered not what the inhabitants thought, it belonged to Germany. "Very tenaciously a group of American men are holding lands in Mexico—hot—because they have a right to hold them. The holding is not because they can hold them. How reluctant we are to give over what we claim as ours.

"The philosophy of the Samaritan was, "What is mine is yours if I can share it."

"More and more we are coming to this philosophy. The Samaritan—a business man—He was no doubt a merchant on a buying trip. He had no time to throw away, and yet he was glad to pick this victim up, and take him to the inn, cared for him, and paid the bill. "We have prided ourselves as a nation that we never waged an aggressive war. We have been prompted by this philosophy of sharing which is the philosophy of Christ. Strength is not for the man who possesses it. Education is not for the man who acquires it. Wealth is not for the man who has it. Our Christianity is not for our own consumption. "Who proved himself neighbor unto him? The fact showed again.

Resolutions of appreciation, were passed yesterday and sent to Judge B. Dietrich, Boise, now sitting on the United States circuit court bench at San Francisco, commending him for his 20 years service in the convention presidency, from which he now retires. The convention which was attended by 222 delegates and visitors, the largest ever held by the church in Idaho, adjourned last night to meet in Idaho Falls next year.

Other resolutions passed at the convention on approval of the Eighteenth amendment and the Volstead act urged members to vote against prohibition. The convention also urged members to vote in state, thanked God for His grace and for the growth of the church; thanked Governor Baldrige for his presence at the opening session; thanked officers and pledged cooperation; promised an evangelical campaign during the year; endorsed the raising of Idaho in equal monetary institutions; and thanked the Twin Falls church and pastor for their hospitality.

VALUE OF TREES IS QUESTION OF DEBATE

Witnesses Discuss Horticulture and Railway Engines in Suit for Damage to Orchard

Testimony relative to construction and operation of locomotives competed with other testimony dealing with the value of burned trees in claims on the attention of court and jury in trial of Martin J. Macaw's suit for $1870 damages from the Oregon Short Line district court, here yesterday. The trial will enter its third day today, with some testimony yet to be introduced by the plaintiff.

Macaw is suing for compensation for loss of 32 fruit trees alleged to have been burned by a fire that started by sparks falling from a locomotive among dry weeds on the Oregon Short Line right of way on the north border of his farm near Filer in August last year.

Dispute Trees Value

Over objection of the railroad's attorneys, Judge W. A. Babcock yesterday morning permitted Stephen Pale, neighbor of Macaw's for about 10 years, to testify that the value of the burned trees had been between $50 and $55 each.

Another witness, horticultural inspector, was called to the stand by the railroad company to testify that the burned trees had little value, and that the fire started from the orchards, who followed the inspector on the stand, assigned value of about $5 each to the burned apples. J. R. Neilson, engineer on the freight train that is alleged to have caused the fire, expressed belief that the locomotive had not caused the blaze, and Charles A. Stuart, engineer on the gasoline motor car, familiarly known here as the "golfing goose," stated that there was no evidence of fire in that vicinity when he passed over it next morning.

W. E. Hayes, Minidoka, locomotive inspector, averred that the locomotive in question was in satisfactory running order and that Grant, veteran master mechanic of the Oregon Short Line, Idaho division, explained in detail, under cross-examination, why it would be impossible for sparks coming from a modern locomotive to start a fire.

BURGLARS RAID FOUR SHOPS IN KIMBERLY

Four Pounds of Cheese and $10 Reward Nocturnal Visitors; Local Talent Blamed

Burglars at Kimberly Wednesday night, broke into four business establishments and took approximately $10 out of two cash drawers and about four pounds of cheese from a general store, according to an investigation made yesterday by Charles E. Jones, deputy sheriff.

It is the officer's belief that the burglars were committed by local talent. Careful search, Mr. Jones said, indicated no loss of tools, guns, flashlights or other paraphernalia that might have been taken by experienced burglars for use in a big job.

Local Hardware

The burglars took nothing from the O. R. McVey hardware store which they entered through the rear door after breaking out the glass and operating the night latch.

Approximately $3 in change was taken and several checks were torn and thrown on the floor at the pool hall, where a hole was broken in the front door big enough to let the burglars crawl through.

Nothing was taken from the Noah Swearingen general store where entrance was gained through the rear door after breaking the glass and operating the night latch.

R. G. Wilson general store yielded the cheese and approximately $5 to the burglars who opened a window at the rear to gain admittance.

ALLEGED DESEPTION CAUSE OF LAWSUIT

C. Hall, attorney.

JEROME MAN MUST PAY ALIMONY, COURT RULES

Robert Burks, Jerome sheep rancher, shot and wounded last July by O. J. Wilson who immediately thereafter killed himself with a pistol shot through the head, must pay to his wife, whom he is suing for divorce, $200 attorney's fees and $50 a month for support of two children during pendancy of the divorce action.

Ruling to this effect was entered by Judge W. A. Babcock in district court here yesterday at hearing on an order requiring Burks to show cause why he should not pay attorney's fees, temporary alimony and child money.

Mrs. Burks and two of the three children now are living in Illinois with her father who came here for them soon after Burks was wounded.

In his petition for divorce, Burks alleges cruelty and further, that Mrs. Burks and children attempted to conspire to take his life. He alleged through his attorneys yesterday that Mrs. Burks had received from Wilson a considerable sum of money a day or two before Wilson's alleged attack on him.

PARIS MODERNIZING VICTORIAN FASHIONS

Trains and Teagowns, Muffs and Tippets Are Revived and Going Strong on Continent

By HAZEL BEAVIS (Associated Press Fashion Editor)

PARIS, Oct. 4 (AP)—Modernized Victorianism has become fashionable. Trains and teagowns, muffs and tippets are revived and going strong. French dressmakers are behind it, backed on by some of Europe's most venturesome young hostesses. The two are in league to recreate a background of the Gay Nineties—the fun-loving Princess of Wales, who is said to be more like his popular grandfather, the late King Edward, as he grows older.

Some of the latest creations have trains as long as those that Lady Blythe, an lady sangra, wore in European drawing rooms when Albert Edward was Prince of Wales.

The Princess's fashion influence, a vicelike brunette, is credited with reviving Victorianism at her summer ball in Paris, to which guests came to witness the wedding of 1922. She wore a blue and red satin creation with a large-puff and long-train beheading and ruffles and such things in front. There were fringed banks on her forehead and three tiny Prince of Wales feathers, modern version in her hair.

The Princess Hlinsky, American wife of the Russian Grand Duke Dmitri, came to the party in a beauffed and bustled tulle gown with a train a yard long.

Paris enthusiasm over the Victorian ball gave dressmakers the courage to go with a movement already somewhat timidly launched. The result was an outbreak of trains and muffs and tippets, fans and bows. Coquettish collures were reconsidered, and talk began to be directed to crests of curls behind the ears and plaits on the nape of the neck.

The made-in-1928 stamp is unmistakable on the winter styles, however. The mauve decade never witnessed waist-deep décolletés like those now being shown and worn. Some of the neckless dresses require modification before they can be worn in 1928.

German Gain Land By Driving Back Sea

WILHELSHAFFEN, Germany, Oct. 4 (AP)—With the object of reclaiming large stretches of land from the North sea, an institute for geological research, the "Streckenberg," has been established on the coast at Wilhelmshafen.

The extensive shoals appearing at low tide in ever larger dimensions present a strong incentive for such an endeavor by which, it is believed, German territory ultimately may be vastly increased.

EGG-LAYING INHERITED

LEXINGTON, Ky., Oct. 4 (AP)—Hereditarily will fall, even in chickens, it has been disclosed by the experiment station at the University of Kentucky. A "barren" cock was owned by the station whose ancestors for five generations produced 200 or more eggs a year, has set a new record for the breed in Kentucky and the south. She laid 303 eggs in 365 days. One of her ancestors, four generations back, was the parent for that time by laying 267 eggs in a year.

Cassia County Office Safe Functions Again

BURLEY, Oct. 4 (Special to The News)—After several days' prompt action of the opening mechanism controlled by time-bomb on the big safe in the auditor's office, Auditor J. P. Wilson expresses himself as satisfied with the big strong box, which baffled several days ago and declined to open to the ministrations of local experts. "The safe," says the expert, "was called on for assistance, and coaxed it open."

The safe had belonged to the defunct Oakley State bank, and a period of inaction, the expert stated, had resulted in rust clogging some of the mechanism.

ANNUAL DAIRY CATTLE CONGRESS GIVES MIDDLE WEST NEW VIEWS

WATERLOO, Iowa, Oct. 4 (AP)—Concluded here for 19 consecutive years, the Dairy Cattle Congress this month is expected to advance materially the information of middle-west farmers.

There are two reasons why the show will be extraordinarily far-reaching this year, in the opinion of Duncan Stuart, associate dairy husbandman in the federal Division of dairy cattle breeding investigations. "Government exhibits at the congress were built to show conclusively the results of recent scientific studies, in progress for a number of years, also realizing more than ever that farming is a competitive occupation, farmers will put to use more of the practical operators demonstrated at the show, he believes.

The Dairy Cattle Congress, while primarily a regional affair preliminary to the National Dairy Exposition, at Memphis, is gaining national importance. Attendance, estimated last year at 85,000, is said to exceed even that of the exposition. Six large show barns are required for the display of dairy animals and in addition butter and cheese makers of nine states are present.

Manufacturers of farm machinery utilize three halls and 10 acres of land to demonstrate modern equipment. Products of corn and soy beans, important dairy feed, exhibit their latest and best produce. This year

EXPORT OF POTATOES ON DECLINE IN CANADA

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4 (AP)—Exports of potatoes from the United States in 1927 amounted to 3,235,207 bushels, compared with 4,476,800 the department of commerce announces. Principal markets for United States potatoes are Cuba, Canada, Panama, Mexico, Colombia and Venezuela.

Exports of potatoes to Canada have declined from 919,783 bushels in 1924 to 470,550 in 1927, the reduction being brought about mainly by increased production in Canada. Exports of potatoes to Mexico dropped from 1,814,444 bushels in 1924 to 644 bushels in 1927, partly because of the Mexican quarantine regulations, it is believed.

Byrd Apples Make Eight-Mile Train

RICHMOND, Va., Oct. 4 (AP)—Enough apples to make a train eight miles long will be produced this year, it is estimated, and controlled by Governor Harry F. Byrd and Thomas B. Byrd, brothers of Commander Richard E. Byrd.

The orchards, situated in Frederick, Clarke and Shenandoah counties, include about 75,000 trees. Those who take the knack of counting apples on the tree in 100's of barrels say more than 100,000 barrels, or enough to fill 700 well-laden freight cars, will come from those orchards.

BURLEY SEEKS AIRPORT PROPERTY WATER RIGHTS

BURLEY, Oct. 4 (Special to The News)—Committees from the chamber of commerce and the Burley city council appeared before the Burley irrigation district directors at their recent meeting and asked that the water-right be sold to the local and proposed for an airport be transferred to the city.

The airport site of 140 acres is charged with approximately $2000 in delinquent water maintenance, operation and construction charges. The price is unobtainable for farming purposes, it is claimed, and the city is without adequate irrigation water, it was brought out.

The board of directors expressed themselves favorable to the transfer, but it was found illegal under the present law. S. T. Love, attorney for the district, was directed to draw up a bill for presentation to congress empowering the district to make the purchase of water. This bill will be submitted to the Idaho congressional delegation with the request that an effort be made to secure its passage.

MINIDOKA WATERUSERS' ASSESSMENTS DECREASE

BURLEY, Oct. 4 (Special to The News)—Prompt payment by water users on the Minidoka project pump-factories unit of their previous construction assessments has resulted in a reduction this year according to information given out at the office of the Burley Irrigation district.

Construction levy for 1928 was set at $230 per acre at the meeting of the directors of the district, just held. This is a reduction of 30 cents per acre from the 1927 levy, and 45 cents per acre lower than 1925. Bills are now being prepared to be mailed all water users, and the collection period will close December 17.

The district has a surplus of $100,000, hand amply sufficient, it is said, to provide for any possible delinquencies in future payments. The very satisfactory collection made is shown by the fact that only $1134 remain due on the 1926 levy amounting to $118,778. Satisfactory collection on this project, it is explained, together with an emergency surplus, voice teacher, 134-8th ave. north, has resulted in lowering the construction levy.

BURLEY FARM BOYS ARE AGRICULTURE STUDENTS

BURLEY, Oct. 4 (Special to The News)—All boys in the Burley high school taking Smith-Hughes agricultural instruction this year are farm boys, according to Arno T. Means, instructor in this department. Last year a few city boys took up this optional instruction, but this year it is confined to youngsters from the farms. This is partially due, Means says, to the fact that livestock production assessments are difficult to follow on city lots.

Among the many different types of stock projects carried on by the boys are notable of comment. Six are the directors of the district, just held. This is a reduction of 30 cents per acre from the 1927 levy, and 45 cents per acre lower than 1925. Bills are now being prepared to be mailed all water users, and the collection period will close December 17.
