Final Four Weeks Drive of Presidential Campaign Rolling Along Under Full Steam Generated in Many Boilers

By D. FIELD BRITTLER (Associated Press Staff Writer)

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 6.—Now begins the final four weeks' drive of the presidential campaign. The contest will be waged under a full head of steam generated in the political boilers at every nook and corner of the country.

At this mile post of the race the vote-hunting forces of Alfred E. Smith and Herbert Hoover continue to blanketed entire country with their efforts. Apparently accepting anew the time-honored theory that elections are won and lost in the days just preceding the opening of the ballot boxes.

Even as Hoover goes today to assault the Democratic ramparts of the "solid" South from two ravine points in Tennessee, and Governor Smith contemplates a border-state tour as his next major effort, it is to the Northwest that the campaign is directed.

As an immediate remedy the Republicans are sending their vice-presidential candidate, the man and his name are not known here, to the West from the valley of his birth, personality and brown derby.

The farmers that Hoover not only had nothing to do with the low price of wheat during the war but really had something to do with it.

Consequent loss of appetite, and general weakening physically, was believed to have been the result of an attack of pneumonia which attacked more serious.

which, according to the hill under the slings of the trait, bore him.

Mountaineers cheer.

As the candidate's car appeared on the outskirts of the crowd, the crowd and he were forced through the mud of the field to the speakers' stand.

Launching into his speech, he expanded his views on farm relief, prohibition and other platform declarations, but made no reference to the religious issue that is stirring the South. He, however, made an appeal for fair play and good sportsmanship, asserting that "we ourselves worry, worthy of confidence as officials in proportion as we keep these contents free from abuse, free from misrepresentation and free from words and acts that carry reproach."

The candidate touched upon the farm relief issue, which he previously had expanded in his speech. He declared that no such far-reaching and specific proposal had ever been made by a political party on behalf of any industry in history.

"The prohibition issue," he asserted, "is the purpose of the Eighteenth amendment was to protect the American home, and that an obligation was placed upon the president to secure its honest enforcement, and to eliminate the abuses that have grown up around it. 'I wish it to succeed,' he added.

Would Strengthen Tariff

He turned then to a brief outline of his views on a number of other questions advocating strengthening of the protective tariff. "The great agricultural industries of the South," he declared, "are dependent upon it. Your vast spinning industry, your iron and steel industries are the product of it. It is the source of our tax revenue, and it is the source of our strength in international trade."

The nominee urged a continuance of just and generous laws for the relief of war veterans; a revision of court procedure to bring about "swifter and surer justice"; a strengthening of the powers of the president and inauguration of higher learning to provide an enlarged opportunity for the young. He reminded his audience that his legislative program is not for his political party, but for the entire nation.

Immediately after the address, the candidate moved quickly by train from Elizabethton through the mountains to Johnson City where at the national soldiers home he made a brief speech to the veterans and a group of visitors who crowded into the mess hall.

"There is no greater obligation imposed upon a nation than its duty to those who have offered their lives in its time of need," he told them. "It is an obligation which must be discharged with justice and generosity to the full extent of our ability."

"There is no greater obligation in the world peace not only the desire of every American but the aspiration of the entire world."

"We have no nation in the world today," he said, "that does not earnestly strive for peace—that is not earnestly striving for peace. Our duty requires that we shall be unceasing in our efforts to build up and strengthen the fabric of friendly understanding and mutual interest among nations."

"We have earnestly wished for limitation of armament throughout the world as a definite contribution to the peace of the world," he said. "We must be prepared for defense."

After his address to the veterans, he returned to his hotel for the night.

East from the Northwest; vice president Robinson; the Democratic vice-presidential nominee, is going through the Southwest, the West and back through the Northwest; Born is crossing the states of both on his free lance campaign for Hoover, and on the trail left by Bryan in the South; Democratic orator is to follow.

Senator Canaway, Arkansas, is to visit five Dixie states to reply to the Idaho senator. All of them carry on as great pace, drawing attentive crowds despite the opposing magnates set up by the world series and the opening of the football season.

The presidential standard bearers themselves have changed places for a time, but not for long. Smith is resting now while Hoover takes his personal appeal to the South with his Elizabeth and Johnson City, Tennessee, speeches. "Good Hoover" will turn to New England and New York for his big effort among the thickly clustered electoral votes of the Atlantic seaboard and Smith will begin another tour of what an October 13 speech at Louisville and another a few days later at Chicago. The Republican candidate will appear in Boston on October 15 and will go into Governor Smith's home town, New York City, a week later.

Although he has been off the speaking platform for some days, Hoover has addressed himself to the public on a few occasions during the closing week from his office at Washington.

Like the inverted dugout, Wall Young Republican men and women voters from New York and also used some vigorous language against opposition. He pointed out the fact of Governor Smith's Catholicism. He repudiated a letter bearing the signature of Virginia Republican national committee member, Mrs. Willie W. Caldwell, appealing to women to prevent the country from being "Romanized," denouncing the use of such material whether the letter was true or a forgery. For her part, Mrs. Caldwell denied the use of the published language, which she detained the letter for circulation.

In much the same guise, religion "boked" up also in Alabama, the Republican committee in there, Oliver D. Street, drawing a rebuke from Chairman Work of the national committee for issuing a circular discussing Smith's religious faith.

Of perhaps more importance to be weighed later, was another statement by Mr. Hoover who disclosed after a long conference at the White House, that President Coolidge probably would make a few speeches before the campaign ends, where they will be delivered and whether they will be on a political nature Mr. Hoover was not prepared to say.

facturing service industry, which has grown up as a result of the rising comfort level and the new wage level. Our factories have decreased their employes by more than 80,000 since 1920; factories producing railroads have released 240,000 men from payrolls in the same time. If allowed to stand by themselves, these figures would present a dark prospect of unemployment, and indeed, among some they do depict grave hardship which it should be an imperative concern of all of us to avert. But the highest wages earned by the workmen have stirred a nation-wide demand on automobiles, radios, telephones, moving pictures, cabarets and countless other contributions to comfort.

Increased Employment

Since 1,250,000 men have found employment since 1920 in driving and ministering to the automobile. There has been an increase of 100,000 in the number of employes attending to electric refrigerators and oil-burners, and household appliances. There are 100,000 more life insurance collectors.

"There is a greater leisure time education; hence there are 18,500 more teachers of all sorts today as compared with 1910."

These examples illustrate the way in which the new servicing industry operates to take up a good part of the slack in the employment through the machine revolution. There are many other instances, though on aspect of the matter sometimes singularly distressing is when the displaced factory worker has not succeeded in establishing himself anew."

Burley was justly rated as one of the strong contenders in the district and the Bruins gained a notch at the book by taking the long end of the score.

ALBION, Oct. 6 (Special to The News)—The Normal team battled the alumni team here this afternoon to a scoreless tie in a game that featured many thrills for the crowd. Herbold, Normal half, furnished the first when he intercepted a pass and raced 80 yards for a touchdown but the counter was disallowed when the Normal was penalized for clipping on the play.

The game was marked by colorful open field running by the Idaho backs, and determined, dogged attack through the line. Montana's defensive was shattered with the continual pounding of the heavy Idaho line, and the occasional playing of the Tiger backfield men pushed the opposition until it was impossible to stop their continued march on the Montana goal.

"Twin Falls" will see its first collegiate football contest next Saturday, October 13, when the College of Idaho and the University of Idaho, southern branch, engage in their annual battle on Lincoln field. Rehearsal sets were placed on sale last night at the Majestic pharmacy and indications of a record crowd were manifest by the first rush for the sets.

The masterful defensive work of the 196-pound Idaho forward wall during the second period held the Gonzagans from scoring after they had twice worked the ball within 10 yards of the goal line. In the punting duel which occupied most of the first half, Ingram, Gonzaga half back, bested Burcher, Idaho captain.

Queen Selects Movies For Castle Programs

BALTIMORE, Scotland, Oct. 6.—Queen Mary, queen of the movies, has selected the program at Baltimore Castle, where the royal family is spending early autumn.

MOLES GET BLAME

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—Contrary to the opinion of many "old-timers" who do not eat bulbs, roots, and seeds of plants in important quantities, they cause damage, the department of agriculture says, by tearing plant roots as they burrow and by fluffing up the soil and causing it to dry.

CUBS WIN AGAIN

CHICAGO, Oct. 6.—Experience took its toll today as the veteran Chicago Cubs all but crushed the championship hopes of the rocky White Sox, 3 to 2, to take a lead of three games to one in the series for the city championship.

Queen Mary has selected the program at Baltimore Castle, where the royal family is spending early autumn.

The title race this year promises excitement with a number of tenacious fighters in the final. The decisive contests will not come until late in this month and early in November. The state board of control has ruled that district champions must be chosen by November 17.

Substitutions: Idaho—Carr for Napper, Nitcher for Carr, Stephens for Lopez, Miller for Adkinson, Peterson for Perrine, Corn for Mosier, Barnard for Ennis, Johnson for Becksted, Perrine for Jensen, Montana—B. Anderson for H. Cole, McDonald for Grouse, Grouse for McDonald.

Southern branch has for the first time in its history a two-year team and with much additional material prospects are better than ever to hand the College of Idaho, a defeat. The Caldwell team, ably piloted by Anse Cornell, has won Northwest conference title for the past two years. Losses by graduation this year, however, have handicapped the team in early season games and the Collegians lost to the Puget Sound University at Tacoma last week in the first conference game.

Two years ago Queen Mary had projected himself in the castle. One of the old drawing rooms which Queen Victoria particularly liked, has been devoted to the more exciting modern entertainment.

As the rest of Idaho voters would be in position to vote more intelligently if Mr. Ross were to make his attitude clear in this regard, and it is to be hoped that he will see fit to do so.

A GOOD EXAMPLE Colonel Lindbergh gets another medal. The Roosevelt Medal for Distinguished Service for nineteen hundred twenty-eight. It is of solid gold, three and a half inches in diameter. It will doubtless be deposited in the St. Louis Museum along with other trinkets of the sort, which accumulate in such quantity that the colonel couldn't take care of them himself. "I wanted to see one more medal mine title to him by this time. But the explanation of the award, he should prize highly."

A NEEDED CORRECTION Idaho's state constitution, in one respect, at least has been outstripped by developments during the nearly forty years since its adoption. It is in the matter of the right of initiative and referendum to end these minor defects growing out of failure of the constitutional convention to envision phenomenal development of the future, that the legislature has presented opportunity to Idaho voters in the coming election to approve a proposed amendment to the state constitution.

SLEEP FOR FRESHMEN September is the month when college presidents give welcoming addresses to students, with special emphasis upon good advice to freshmen. Sometimes this advice is lofty and idealistic. Sometimes it gets right down to so humble yet practical a matter as sleep. Addressing the freshmen at Cornell University, President Farland said: "Get started right in your freshman year, and the rest of the years will take care of themselves."

ABOUT POTATOES The Idaho potato is a live factor in the political campaign in Idaho this year. This is inevitable since the potato crop and market situation this year is not dissimilar to that of last year, when C. Don Ross, Democrat for governor, and New Democratic candidate for governor, was named head of a State Chamber of Commerce, special committee to do something to advance the price of Idaho potatoes.

WILL HE FAIL? The question is asked of a candidate for governor who has been in the job for ten or fifteen years. That it does not matter particularly that a candidate inflated market conditions at sundown and more deflated when it finally dawned that Idaho had actually lost fourteen thousand carloads of potatoes to sell instead of eight thousand and when the Ross committee reported a candidate for governor who had not failed to do with the potato market, except as it treats a measure of the best value candidate for governor and his method.

THE LATCHSTRING— Peace within and joy beyond all doubt. Welcome always, for the Latch-string's out. By ROSEMARY

A PIOUS CONTROVERSY Who would ever think that a fruit pie would cause a controversy? But it has, and a gentleman has pulled this Latch-string to give the housewives a hint on the problem of more juice in fruit pies and less of it boiling over into the oven.

A REAL DEEP DISH PIE The most delectable combination of all for an English breakfast is a fruit pie. A few occasional pieces, such as a fruit bowl or cookie jar, or an alternate sauce of delicate custard flavored with the shredded leaves of English laurel freshly plucked from the garden. The correct manner is to serve the custard in small individual English custard cups, but lacking these, they cups will serve as containers for this ambrosial sauce to be poured over this truly Olympian dish. Don't you long to try it? And let us remind you that an inverted apple pie is an Englishman who knows the deep dishes. I begged him to tell me for the benefit of you Latch-string readers.

What port are we tending? What are we here for? Only God, so deep is popular attention directed to these questions.

News in Twin Falls A Decade And A Half Ago Taken From the Files of The Twin Falls News of October 7, 1913. Attorney James H. Wise will have his case referred to the important case between Foster and Blaine counties in which the ancient history of old Blaine will be revived and brought out for investigation. Alturas county was in the beginning, as big as the out of doors, including all of southern Idaho that was of any consequence. The sheriff of Alturas used to travel and draw his salary from the Blaine and Alturas counties. He was worth while to keep right on traveling. And in those days with "flat wheels" the "seven more years" Kelly and all those lads there was something happening all the while to keep him traveling. The property value of the county in those days was right but that didn't bother any one. They kept right on issuing deficiency warrants. These deficiency warrants are not all paid yet. When Alturas county was discontinued and other counties took her place, the outstanding "mud-bugs" was assumed by the Blaine county. The last slice of Blaine was Lower county, and between them has come up a disagreement as to the outstanding warrants and bonds that should be assumed by the new county. The two representatives of the counties affected were unable to agree.

WATER MAIN WORK NEARS COMPLETION

Rock Creek is Diverted While Workmen Construct Piers; 700 Sacks of Earth in Dam

Concrete structures on the floor of Rock creek canyon to replace the piers carrying Twin Falls main water supply line that gave way last March 15, probably will be completed within the next week. Harry S. Rayburn, Twin Falls streets and waterworks superintendent, stated last evening.

The work has been in progress for some weeks past, and heretofore tasks have been performed by workmen under the direction of C. H. Holmen, foreman, in diverting the overflowing flood of from 2000 to 3000 inches of water of Rock Creek into a new channel in order that excavation to bed rock might be made for footings to support the new piers on the south side of the canyon.

Build Temporary Dam

More than 700 sacks of earth were used in this undertaking, and the temporary dam gave way repeatedly during progress of the work. Bed rock was encountered at an average depth of six and a half feet. Mr. Rayburn said.

Footings for the new piers on the south side of the canyon were started yesterday, and concrete will be poured Monday for one-half of the 14 new piers. Mr. Rayburn said.

As soon as the concrete in these structures is sufficiently cured, Mr. Rayburn said, waters of Rock creek will be released again into their original channel, and construction of the piers on the north side of the stream will be started.

Piers Support Main

Each of the seven sections of the 20-inch main will be supported by two of the new piers on the Rock creek crossing. Each pier will consist of footing of concrete 14 feet long and eight feet wide. Each of the piers will be 6 feet high and 18 inches wide. The pipe will be supported in a trough at the top and a little to the rear of the piers.

An accurate account has been kept of the material and labor entering into the new structure, including a carload of cement. The total expenditures on this account up to last evening totaled $234.45.

APPEALS FOR NEW TRIAL

The motion for new trial alleges irregularities in the first trial proceeding and denies that there was evidence to justify the verdict.

The Weather

FORECAST FOR TODAY:

Fair, in south winds; with probably local rains in north; moderate temperature.

The mercury in Twin Falls dropped 2 degrees below the freezing point Friday night. The decline was noticeable, the minimum Thursday night being 41 degrees. The maximum yesterday was 51 degrees higher than that of the previous day.

JAPANESE TENANT SUES LANDLORD FOR DAMAGES

Oriental Speaks Through Interpreter; Owner Charges Improper Farm Management

Through an interpreter, C. Tomita, Japanese, in district court here yesterday when telling his story of alleged wrongs at the hands of C. F. Johnson who, Tomita says, sold him better seed potatoes and onion seed, and from whom he asks $7337.75 damages in the suit now on trial. The story occupied all of the afternoon session and Tomita was on the witness stand when the court ordered recess to Monday morning, Tom Kitao, Twin Falls, was called in to be interpreter.

It was indicated that the trial would occupy at least two days this week. On the other side of the case, Johnson and his attorneys are ready to present testimony and argument in support of their counter-claim for $25,000 damages on grounds of alleged failure on the part of Tomita to pay a crop rent, and his alleged failure to plant, irrigate and harvest crops in a proper manner.

The case for Tomita is being presented by Turner K. Hackman, while James R. Bethwell of Bethwell and Chapman, is attorney for Johnson.

RAILWAYS TO CARRY DONATION OF BEANS

Railroads will transport free of charge, a carload of southern Idaho beans to the hurricane area, Mrs. D. L. Alexander, executive secretary of the Twin Falls chapter of the American Red Cross said.

Suggestion has come through the Southern Idaho Bean Growers' association that the growers of this territory donate a carload of 500 sacks of the Idaho product for the relief of storm victims in Florida and the West Indies. The present market value of a shipment of this nature is $3000. Donations to the cash fund being raised here by the Red Cross for relief of storm sufferers are lagging, Mrs. Alexander reported. The association yesterday will not exceed $300 of the $1000 quota assigned to Twin Falls. To be effective, this fund must be raised immediately while the need is great, Mrs. Alexander said.

FOUR PINTS OF BOOZE GROW TO NINE PINTS IN RETAILER'S HANDS

A little bit of moonshine will go a long way in the hands of a retail dispenser, police officers decided last night after arresting Charles Needles, Three Creek, on charge of illegal possession and sale of liquor. The officers said, unadvised information that he had paid $4.50 for a half-gallon of moonshine for his first venture into the field of bootlegging here yesterday. The officers traced this half-gallon of liquor, nine pints of diluted moonshine, eight pints being in Needles' possession, and one pint in two half-pint bottles, in possession of Manuel Wahl, who was held on a charge of possession. Wahl said that he had paid Needles $2.50 for his pint of liquor, the officers said. The officers said that Wahl was arrested first and that he had volunteered to lead them to his bootlegger. Needles, the officers said, had a pint and a half of the liquor in his pockets when they found him, and he went with them to his hotel room to get six pints more.

PNEUMONIA CAUSES DEATH OF YOUNG FILER MOTHER

Mrs. Reta Kelley, bride since about a year ago of Otis Kelley, Filer, died last evening at her home of pneumonia. She was 21 years old. Death was attributed to pneumonia induced by ether used in a Caesarian operation performed at the hospital three weeks ago. The body was taken to the Drake funeral parlors here, and arrangements for funeral services awaits receipt of word from relatives in the East.

Mrs. Kelley was one of six children of Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Marler who came from Kansas about two years ago to establish the family home at Filer. Besides her—purchased and infant son, she is survived by her parents, two brothers, and three sisters, all of Filer. The brothers are Charles Marler and Raymond Marler. The sisters are Edith Marler, Emma Marler and Thelma Marler.

BOARD AUTHORIZES $5000 WEED FUND

Emergency appropriation of $5000 to maintain Twin Falls county's war on noxious weeds during the remainder of the season was authorized by Twin Falls county commissioners in regular session here yesterday afternoon. One-half of the appropriation is to be expended for purchase of salt, and the other half for labor employed in eradication and control of the weeds.

The emergency appropriation, under which the county has been expending money since last year, was authorized by the commissioners at a public hearing which the commissioners fixed to be held on Monday next week. All of the money thus appropriated and expended, it was stated, will be repaid to the county by owners of property on which the material and labor is used in extermination of weeds.

of GEORGE HILZ MAURICE

BILLIE DOVE

"How much am I bid for this beautiful girl?"
"Yesterday she was a proud princess—today she will be somebody's slave!"
"Speak up, men, it's the chance of a lifetime!"

Billie Dove as the heroine of this brilliant story, is accused of being an extortioner and dragged to the auction mart to be sold as a slave.
Oh, they were jolly days but living wasn't as convenient as it is nowadays—something!

Billie Dove's greatest acting, plus the passionate portrayal of Gilbert—plus the dramatic characterization of Noah Beery all in this masterpiece that brings the glamour, intrigue and romance of Old New Orleans to the screen.

BARREN HILLSIDE MADE TO-BLOOM AS VINEYARD

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 6 (AP)—When Richard Lobelt and his wife came from Italy to the United States 10 years ago they brought with them an extraordinary knowledge of grape culture. They settled on a barren Tennessee hillside, and today it is covered with row upon row of grape vines which produce 100,000 to 150,000 pounds of grapes annually. The 15-acre vineyard is operated by Lobelt and his wife and O. Cepin, a fellow countryman. Lobelt's methods are simple. The grapes are picked and placed in half-bushel baskets. A wagon of odd-lot fruit amble down the rows, is loaded with the baskets, and driven back to the rear of the farmhouse, where the grapes are packed for shipment. They are sold in Cincinnati and other points where better grades bring from 10 to twelve and a half cents a pound.

VOICE SO PERSUASIVE HOGS DESERT TROUGHS

WINCHESTER, Va., Oct. 6 (AP)—There are a lot of champion hog-callers, but it takes Clarke Wright of Frederick county to call a hungry porker from his trough. With the hog-calling championship of northern Virginia at stake, Wright breathed deeply, threw back his head, and emitted tones of such appeal that at once left all the pigs in the contest left their feet and hastened to answer their master's voice. A dozen other farmers, famed in their respective ballistics for bringing hogs on the run, were forced to bow to vocal chords more convincing than their own.

Most of these candidates are graduates of local government colleges.

Care in Seed Wheat Selection Is Need

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6 (AP)—Unusual care in choosing seed wheat will be necessary this year in many areas where the harvest season was wet, the department of agriculture says. Only wheat that is known not to have gone out of condition should be used for seed. Wheat that is moldy, sour, heating or hot will not grow. Even slight heating in the bin may injure germination.

300 GIRL RESERVES GATHER FOR SOUTH IDAHO CONFERENCE

Contact With Persons From Other Lands—Source of Education, Says Miss Zada French; Gypsy Life Theme

"We learn much from contact with girls of other lands," Miss Zada French, New York, national secretary of the Young Women's Christian association, told the district meeting of the Girl Reserves at the high school yesterday afternoon in her address on the topic, "The East and the West Are One." Miss French declared, "We have no right to feel superior to people of other nationalities because we were born here. We differ from them in certain things, but in the main, we are race and people complementary to others. Each can teach something to the other."

300 Girls Attend

There were about 300 girls present at the meeting yesterday, including 200 from out of town. Clubs represented were Buhl, Filzer, Hazelton, Hays, Kimberly, Kootenai, Idaho Falls, Castelford, and Gooding. The "Gypsy Revel" banquet at the Rogerson hotel last evening was attended by more than 275 girls. After the banquet the girls and advisors followed the "Gypsy trail" to the high school for stunts, games, and music. The program at the banquet at which Helen White, Twin Falls, was toastmistress consisted of the following table: songs and stunts; Mrs. Grestlines extended by Mrs. Will Gibson; dance, by June Johnson and Dorothy Kline; Hansen; "Gypsy Beauty" Mable Bodenhausen; Edna; "Campfire's Glow," Edna Ross; Hazelton; duet, Virginia Snyder and Jane Ennis; French; "Purple Shadows," Ponticola and "Light of My Tent," Miss Zada French, New York.

Gypsy Theme Prevails

Stunts put on at the high school were in Gypsy costume with cambric and corn field effects. Low music fitting the evening gathering of the wanderers when the gallant-lad-and-lovelorn maid plighted their troth, was a feature of the program. Spontaneous applause showed the audience's appreciation of the program. The stunts were put on by the Hansen, Filzer, Eden, Hazelton and Gooding. Helen White, president of the Boise district, led the choir. A mandolin solo was given by Miss Esther Hopkinson.

Following registration yesterday the meeting, Gypsy committees came to order at 1:45 P. M. The address of welcome was given by Helen White, Twin Falls, president of the Blue Triangle club. The response was given by Dorothy Marlow, Hays. There were Gypsy greetings by Pearl Nelson, president of the Boise district; Kathleen Keener, president of the Pocatello district; and Ruth Lyon, president of the Idaho Falls district. Music was led by Miss Ruth Kirkendall, Young Women's Christian association secretary, Pocatello. During the adults' council hour at 3 o'clock, recreation was indulged in under the direction of Miss Dorothy Call, Twin Falls. Miss Kirkendall spoke on "Music and Miss

CLEO BUSH IS PATIENT IN VETERANS' HOSPITAL

Cleo Bush, defendant in a felony action in district court here wherein assault with a deadly weapon is alleged to be a patient in the veterans' hospital. Bush, who is probably being treated by a surgeon, according to statement of two physicians in an affidavit submitted yesterday by W. L. Dunn, Bush's attorney, in support of application for continuance of trial to the November term of court. Trial, which was originally set for that Tuesday, was postponed at that time on request of the prosecuting attorney who stated that George Jasper, complaining witness who is alleged to have been attacked by Bush, had lately been injured by particles of a bullet rebounding from an iron target in a shooting gallery. Bush's condition, according to the physician's affidavit, is such as to require immediate hospitalization and probably a surgical operation. Delay in the necessary treatment would endanger his chances of recovery. His condition is believed to have resulted from incomplete healing of wounds received when he was shot and wounded some months ago in Los Angeles.

A GOOD PLACE TO TRADE

GRANTING PERMISSION to reprint the following "Washing Rhyme" on the subject of "Washday"—Walt Mason, the author, writes: "I greatly appreciate your kind letter and am glad the Washday Rhyme pleased you. I think the modern laundry one of the wonders of the world."

WASHING RHyme

IN BY-GONE TIMES the village wives put gall and wormwood in their lives by wadding deep in Monday soaps, and washing all the household duds. At daybreak when the Monday came, they started up their weary game, and wrung and washed, and wrung and washed, until their nerves were all unstrung; they piled strong soap in heavy cakes until their bones were full of aches, inhaling steam and tainted air, but toiling on in sick despair. All all the clotheslines in the town with garments white were loaded down. It was indeed a bitter task, and it is not strange that they would ask why wives were doomed to such a chore. There was a feeling that extant—you've heard about it from your aunt—that washing should be done by hand to get results supremely grand. Machines would ruin every rag that rested in the laundry bag; a weary woman had to rub all day above a steaming tub to get the everlasting dirt from out her husband's Sunday shirt. If it were to the laundry sent, 't would be returned all ripped and rent, the buttons cracked, the cuffs destroyed, and either then would be moved. It took the wives a long, long time to learn that washday is a crime, to find that washing by machine in modern laundries, painted green, removes from women's lives an ill that used to make their feet grow cold. Now washday is a hollow form—a false observance. It, sun or storm; the laundry wagons reach your door and haul away your mangled lot, and bring them back so clean and white that seeing them is a delight. And Monday morning comes and goes without a plague of rained clothes.

BEAN PRICES FIRM DESPITE ATTEMPTS TO BREAK MARKET

Bearish Element Aims to Create Panic and Flood Market Twin Falls Dealers Cooperate in Price Maintenance

Bean prices remain firm despite an effort in certain quarters, with which no local buyers are identified, to break the market for the Great Northern variety, C. P. Bowles, treasurer of the Southern Idaho Wholesale Grocery company, said last evening. Mr. Bowles received a telegram yesterday from Michigan from both buyers and selling agents which he shows in support of his statement.

"We have sold beans today without price reduction," Mr. Bowles said. "The bearish element is attempting to create a panic among those having beans in order to flood the market and force down prices," Mr. Bowles declared. He added that local dealers had cooperated in maintaining the price of beans. He said that beans here are firm and of good quality.

Michigan Price $7.25

The message yesterday from the Michigan Bean Jobbers association, Saginaw, Michigan, read:

"Growers price $7.25. Jobbers bid $6.50 higher. Market steady. Receipts below normal. Harvesting 90 per cent complete. Tendency farmers to hold. Damaged area selling freer in southern Michigan."

The other telegram came from James N. McBride, Owosso, Michigan, who attended the meetings of growers and dealers here recently as the representative of Governor Fred W. Green of that state. It reads:

"Growers receiving $7.25. Jobbers paid elevators $7.15 shipment. October bids $7.50. Jobbers complain of Idaho shipments. Central territory Michigan growers firm. No panic feeling. Gammas buy sparingly until Michigan minimum is reached."

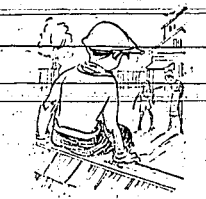

California Mart Sensitive

The regular letter received by the Southern Idaho Wholesale Grocery company yesterday from Sinaloa and company, San Francisco, dealers in grain and beans, relative to prices declares:

"Markets are naturally sensitive because of high prices and we may expect considerable fluctuations and changes during the next 30 days. What the market will do is dependent upon the volume of demand that comes in, and along this line we are prepared to make no prediction at the moment. We believe, however, that on many varieties of beans the market has not covered its requirements and we look for good buying during October and November, although we do

"Sklony told me about his mother having nerves an' I seen her havin' em today, but it sounded just like Mamma does when she's mad."

He took for a continuation of the heavy movement that has taken place in September.

Regarding foreign conditions Sinaloa and Company say in part:

"We have nothing of further interest from Europe but actual inquiries received from Italy, France, and Germany seem to indicate a real shortage and a real desire to buy beans. To us, this is a most important factor for it is the lack of foreign competition that promises greatest stability to the bean market this season."

FILER ORCHARDIST WINS DAMAGE SUIT

Verdict Awards $800 of $1870 Asked by Martin J. Macaw From Short Line Railroad

Verdict awarding judgment to Martin J. Macaw, Filer, for $800 from the Oregon Short Line, was returned by a jury in district court here yesterday morning. Agreement on the verdict was reached by the jury about four hours after the case was delivered to it Friday afternoon at the close of three days' trial.

The verdict represented the jury's measure of damages suffered by Macaw in loss of 32 fruit trees that were burned by fire alleged to have been started by sparks from a locomotive in dry weeds on the railroad right-of-way that borders the Macaw farm on the south.

Macaw sues for $1870 damages. The railroad company denied responsibility for the fire and introduced testimony tending to show that he had not started on the right of way but in a stubble field on the Macaw farm.

WHEAT CROP IN POWER COUNTY BREAKS RECORD

AMERICAN FALLS, Oct. 6—Power county has produced the greatest wheat crop in its history this season.

Grain grown on the farms and ranches of the county will reach a total close to 2,600,000 bushels. Of that amount nearly 2,000,000 bushels will be shipped from American Falls. No other shipping point can approach this showing so that American Falls easily maintains its rank as the greatest primary wheat market in the world.

Power county's biggest crop was produced under conditions that, from the viewpoint of the grower, were almost ideal.

The report has been that Power county has grown enough wheat to feed the entire state of Idaho. Already 800,000 bushels have been shipped out of American Falls, and a compilation made this week shows that there are 935,000 bushels in storage in the county at the present time. All of the elevators and warehouses are filled to capacity, and great piles of sacked grain have been erected outside all of them.

Mrs. Loyd Hill, who was operated on recently at the county general hospital, is reported to be doing nicely.

Mr. Long entered eight registered Holsteins that made an average of 491 pounds of butterfat during the period.

AMERICAN FALLS WATER STORAGE SHOWS DECLINE

AMERICAN FALLS, Oct. 6—Storage in the American Falls reservoir has dropped below a million acre feet. It went below the million mark on September 22, and on October 1 the gauges at the dam reported 960,000 acre feet. Decrease of the water level has been caused by the demand for full irrigation on the lower project, and by the fact that the Idaho Power company is drawing off its storage water. A total of 1,500 second-feet is being released daily for the use of the power company. On October 1, 1927, water was being impounded in the reservoir and there was a total of 1,380,000 acre feet in storage.

SHARP PRICE BULGES ON MART FOR WHEAT

Unexpected Death of Offerings: Closing Quotations On Bread Cereal Are Unsettled

CHICAGO, Oct. 6 (AP) — Sharp bulges in prices for wheat with much increased buying of futures deliveries resulted today from an unexpected death of offerings. Assertions were widely circulated that on the basis of growers' needs, demand for wheat, both in the Southwest and Northwest is netting below 1923 values.

Closing quotations on wheat were unsettled, 1 1/2 to 1 1/4 cent higher, with corn 1/8 cent off to 1/4 cent up, oats 1/2 cent to 1/4 cent up, and flour 1/4 cent to 1/2 cent up, with a reaction from an attack by a show.

Grower Reports Cost

One of the largest growers of wheat in the United States was quoted as authority for statements that in preparation to cut off production of wheat in Kansas and in states in the Northwest is at present bringing less than during 1923. It also was reported that the acreage in the Northwest turns to be smaller than was commonly expected and that Canadian wheat in the Northwest is higher than wheat in the United States. And in the United States, the "influx" of wheat into the United States were reported to be much less than were previous years, today dry weather is diminishing wheat territory in the Southwest.

Wheat: Steady; light offerings. Corn: Easy; disappointing export business. Cattle: Irregular. Hogs: Steady.

Despite pretentious sales which at times wiped out most of the gains in price, wheat was falling broke early in the fall, helped by increased winter export demand. Europe having purchased 200,000 bushels of wheat today to be shipped from North America, including some British States hard water grades. Meanwhile, advisers were at hand that farmers in the Northwest continue to show an unusual disposition to retain ownership of wheat, and that many of them are selling cash contracts have been buying future-delivery contracts.
