CLARK FORECASTING LANDSLIDE IN IDAHO FOR ALFRED SMITH

New Yorker Will Poll 25,000 Majority in State, Predicts Candidate Denounces Criticism of Democrat's Religion

Chase Clark Mackay, Democratic candidate for United States senator in a campaign address here last evening, assayed the role of a political forecaster and predicted that Governor Smith, Democratic candidate for president, will carry Idaho by 25,000 votes in the election next Tuesday.

Mr. Clark, who was introduced by Judge James R. Bothwell, Twin Falls, an old time acquaintance, shared the platform, last evening with Ralph J. Harding, Malad, Democratic candidate for representative in congress from the second district, Juneau H. Shinn, Democratic county chairman, presided over the meeting.

Defends Bourbon Nominee Mr. Clark devoted most of his address to a defense of Governor Smith's position on prohibition, immigration, tariff and farm relief. He also attacked criticism of Governor Smith's religious faith and affiliation with Trinity Hall.

Charging that the candidacy of the Republican presidential nominee is backed by an entrenched political party, Mr. Clark declared that if he were elected to the senate he would "try to establish equality of justice and prevent expending of money in campaigns, but let the office seek the man rather than the man seek the office."

Mr. Clark said his evidence that he had found in this campaign financiers and laboring men and all who are not taken care of by the present political machine is saying everywhere that they are going to vote for Alfred E. Smith. It is true, he continued, "to take the government from the present unstable and chaotic condition over to the Democratic party with a loyal and honest man at its head."

Criticism Campaigner of Smith attributed to Mrs. Mabel Walker Wilebrant, Mr. Clark told his audience, is the base of this campaign as it is presented by the Republican machine.

"There is no argument," Mr. Clark asserted, "just a shrewd campaign of attack upon Smith, who has risen from the sidewalks of New York without a stain on his name."

On the prohibition issue, Mr. Clark declared, "we have on the one hand the promise of Alfred Smith, who has always kept sacred his oath as governor of office, that he will enforce the law, and on the other hand we have Herbert Hoover who tells us that no one will touch the footsteps of President Coolidge."

"Governor Smith," the speaker continued, "has told us time after time that he stands squarely for protection of the products of our state and nation, and witnesses tell us that his election would mean ruin for western industries."

In regard to immigration, Governor Smith says that immigration must stop until employment has been found for all unemployed men.

Those who have been shouting Tammany about Al Smith for an awful job the other day with Senator Norris said that Tammany has no control over Smith and has directed the nation's attention to the number of votes by which Smith has been elected over the machine that is compared with the machine that is in the hands of Alfred E. Smith. The interest of agriculture in the campaign was emphasized by Mr. Harding in his address. He told of his own farming operations.

"I am not satisfied with the treatment of the wheat grower in the present crop time," he said. "A wall of protection has been built around nearly every industry except ours. There was no one in Idaho more pleased than I with the farmer's position after his nomination, that he would call in some of the best informed men in the United States on agriculture to build a machine by which to aid the farmer. Alfred E. Smith is the American farmer's friend. I have known him know that he would do exactly as he says."

Farm Relief Possible "I know that something can be done to give the farmer some relief, and that the government can stabilize the price of wheat even at a price of $1.25 a bushel and take care of our surplus so that the farmer can enjoy untold millions and billions of dollars now thrown into the hands of speculators.

"Agriculture is Idaho's most important industry. It has an annual income of $200,000,000 without any protection. It is the only industry I have reason to believe I will do something to help the class of people."

The welfare of Idaho's state legislatures and county offices were introduced and in response to invitation for a few remarks, T. J. Lloyd, candidate for state senator, referred to the present campaign as "the most notable campaign in American history." On the part of Idaho in this county, he said, the campaign has been confined mostly to personal contacts.

"We have met with good reception, and we look forward with confidence to the results of the election," he declared.

Mrs. G. H. Gasser Knocked Down While Crossing Street; Suffers Deep Cut Over Eye

An "hit-and-run" automobile driver struck and severely injured Mrs. G. H. Gasser, 435 Fourth avenue north, 73 years old, while she was crossing Broadway street, here south W. H. Gasser, 335 Fourth avenue north, and daughter-in-law, Mrs. Mabel Walker Wilebrant, according to reports to the police.

Mrs. Gasser was thrown on the pavement and against a telephone pole on the east side of the street. She received a deep cut over the eye and was severely bruised. Several stitches are needed to close the wound. She was taken first to a doctor's office and then to her home.

Lumberman Plants Trees as He Cuts; On Second Million

BLOOMSBURG, Pa., Oct. 30 (AP)—Hummel, Milville, Pennsylvania, has cut out more than a million forest trees throughout central Pennsylvania and has obtained a second million.

Hummel is a lumberman, but, unlike his lumbermen of a quarter-century ago, he is also a conservationist and has given considerable study to the subject of reforestation.

While hundreds of thousands have been felled of this kind of tree for use as timber, Hummel has laid the groundwork of a fortune for himself or perhaps his children, for other men who have planted the trees have seen slow growth, but making up in value for the delay.

Approved plans to the number of a score or more have been set out in acres by this lumberman. His holdings are spread throughout half a dozen counties.

This year alone he has set out more than 200,000 trees. He obtained 102,000 from the Pennsylvania department of forest and waters and the remainder he grew himself or purchased from nurseries.

Party of Explorers in Black Desert Find Prospector Utilizing Well Drill

L. G. Yarnell Finds Gold On Bit While Seeking Water For Range Cattle in Valleys Between Lava Flows; Geologist Says—Samples Valuable

BUTLEY, Oct. 30.—Almost at the back yards of Rupert, there lies an explorer's party, which has just returned from a day's visit.

Returned from the heart of the Black desert, that great area of desolation lying north of the verdant farms of the Madoka project. Returned from an area of principal desolation, contrasting in such marked degree with the cultivated fields of civilization as to appal one with its utter desolation.

Back from the Black desert, the "bit" which was about prepared to penetrate the great Snake River basin, a sudden scarp, the leavings of a lava flow, herebefore believed to be a lava flow, herebefore believed to be a lava flow, herebefore believed to be a lava flow.

IRRIGATION DISTRICT CAMPAIGN REOPENS

Salmon River Section Settlers Circulate New Petition Asking Formation of Project

Campaign for organization of the proposed Southern Idaho Irrigation district to take over the Salmon River project system has been renewed with circulation of new petitions among the project's settlers, it was learned last evening.

The undertaking met with a setback some weeks ago when the state commission of reclamation made an adverse report on the proposition, and thereafter the advocates of the project, under the county commissioners' ruling, permitted an interval for revising the proposition to lapse.

New Petition Drafted The new petition, which has been drafted by Walters and Parry, attorneys for the district's advocates, is designed to meet the reclamation commissioner's objections. It recites in part:

"That it is proposed to increase the water supply now available for the irrigation of the Salmon River project, land, in any or all of the following ways: By the development of new sources of water supply; by cutting down the acreage irrigated through the Salmon River irrigation system; from the present water supply; by buying additional water for the lands."

LENGTH OF TITLE-GOLF MATCHES TO BE SETTLED

NEW YORK, Oct. 30 (Special to The News)—The executive committee of the United States Golf Association, as just as executive as the name implies, but a sportsman is not needed to name a subject to be discussed at an annual meeting in New York November 22. It is just as certain as a six-month putt that the executive committee will talk of the best maximum length for a championship golf-match, 18 holes versus 36. The matter has been discussed before but golf followers would be surprised to see something done about it before the 1929 championship is decided at Del Monte, California, the week of September 2. Opinion is divided on the question of continuing the sudden-death hole-in-one match. Those in favor of the present situation say that it holes a golf match just as nine innings is a baseball game, but the 36-hole partisans counter with the statement that a 36-hole championship is not decided in a week.

ASSOCIATION'S OFFICIAL DENIES LOSING AUTHORITY

NEW YORK, Oct. 30 (Special to The News)—The national boxing association is about to lose power because of dissensions within its ranks or the withdrawal of Canadian and some Eastern fighters must be wrong, according to Leslie E. Edmunds, executive secretary of the Kansas state athletic commission. Edmunds, chairman of the international association's legislative committee and a prime mover in the new regime, believes that instead of losing strength, the association actually has gained power by a combination of forces, especially in the Middle West and South, now under the leadership of President-Thomas H. Bates. "I believe the men now in control of the association look on their office as a trust," said Edmunds. "I believe they will go forward. Its principles are too important to permit the changes in personnel in member-states to affect its usefulness. As for the states that are supposed to contemplate secession the association is more important to them than they are to it."

JEROME MAN INJURED IN LUMBER YARD ACCIDENT

WENDELL, Oct. 30 (Special to The News)—Martin Rupert, Jerome, was brought to St. Valentine's hospital Tuesday, having been seriously injured in an accident. Mr. Rupert, who is in the employ of the Boko-Payette Lumber company of Jerome, was working in the yard when the accident happened. A beam falling way, letting a pile of lumber fall on him. UNIVERSITY SPECIALISTS AND CATTLEMEN STUDY MANAGEMENT OF HERDS

BURLEY, Oct. 30 (Special to The News)—With a complete compilation of records covering management of range cattle herds in Cassia county, E. F. Hinehart, field animal husbandman, will take a trip into the East, Friday country Thursday. He will be accompanied by County Agent W. W. Palmer. The range cattle men are cooperating with these university extension specialists in keeping complete records of herd management in all its phases. Complete inventories of these range herds and all equipment used in running them have been tabulated. This includes the size of each herd and number of bulls, the percentage of the calf crop, manner of summer branding and handling, numbers of beef rounded up and shipped to market or otherwise disposed of, and all details of "branding" in connection with summer branding and marketing. Methods of wintering are also kept track of, such as the amount of hay, used, other feed products used, pasturage and water facilities. Any special ration used for fattening are also noted. These records are being kept in other counties where stock cattle are run on the range, and Mr. Hinehart proposes to summarize the conclusions when they will be published in some form by the state university.

QUOTATIONS ON GRAIN SINK ON DAY'S MART

Big Figures On Production and Halt in Export Demand Tend to Increase Sales' Pressure

CHICAGO, Oct. 30 (AP)—All grain went lower in price today, headed by wheat. Big figures on wheat-crop production, south of the equator in particular, together with a halt in export demand for wheat from North America, caused a decrease in price to sell and to weaken the market.

In addition to the world crop outlook for the approaching harvest in the southern hemisphere, revised estimates of the wheat crop in the northern hemisphere pointed to a total world crop of 298,000,000 bushels, more than last year.

QUOTATIONS ON GRAIN SINK ON DAY'S MART

Big Figures On Production and Halt in Export Demand Tend to Increase Sales Pressure

CHICAGO, Oct. 30 (AP)—All grain went lower in price today, headed by wheat. Big figures on wheat crop production, south of the equator in particular, together with a halt in export demand for wheat from North America, increased pressure to sell, and to weaken the market.

Closing quotations on wheat were unsteady at 1c to 1/2c off, oats, 1/2c to 1c down, and provisions unchanged to a setback of 1/2c.

Head wheat and feed wheat alike finished at nearly the day's bottom prices. Traders took special notice of northern but authoritative estimates that Argentina and Australia, the two chief wheat-producing countries of the southern hemisphere, would have a probable yield of 200,000,000 bushels based on present conditions, an amount 250,000,000 bushels actually shipped so far this season.

Export demand was a late report today that the main wheat market of Argentina has received benefit from rains.

Yield Exceeded In addition to the bearish outlook for the approaching harvest in the southern hemisphere, the estimates of the wheat crop in the northern hemisphere pointed to a total winter crop of 200,000,000 bushels more than last year.

Kansas winter wheat seeding was reported today as practically completed, with recent rains just what was needed. No export wheat news of any consequence were traceable today either in Canada or the United States.

The Peace Officers of Twin Falls County on the Republican Ticket

For Sheriff

For Prosecuting Attorney

E. V. LARSON

GEORGE W. BICE

For Probate Judge

C. A. BAILEY

Three men upon whom the citizens of the County depend for Law Enforcement

All are old and well known residents of this section and all are in every way capable of performing the duties of the office for which each is a candidate

E. V. Larson is candidate for Prosecuting Attorney of Twin Falls County, on the Republican ticket, having been nominated for that office at the Primary Election last August.

Mr. Larson was born in Iowa and educated in Iowa and Michigan, and is a university graduate. He has resided and practiced law in Twin Falls County for nearly twenty years.

The office of Prosecuting Attorney is one of the very important County offices, particularly in a large and populous county like Twin Falls, where there are many cases for a Prosecutor to handle—the number running as high as three hundred or more in one year—ranging in their character from the ordinary misdemeanor to prosecution for murder. The successful management of that office not only requires a man of good legal ability, but a man of poise, judgment and courage. In addition thereto, the successful management of the Prosecutor's office requires cooperation with the other peace officers of the county, particularly that of the Sheriff and Probate Judge.

Mr. Larson has a splendid legal education. He is a man of broad experience, of good judgment, and has the natural gifts and faculties which are so essential to proper cooperation between the peace officers of the county. Mr. Larson's ability as a trial lawyer is well known to the citizens of Twin Falls County. He has the legal training, the experience and the courage to hold his own with any member of his profession, either in or out of court.

He is a splendid public speaker, and is quick and resourceful, and is worthy of the trust and confidence of the voters of Twin Falls County.

The office of Sheriff is one of the very important offices to the people of Twin Falls County. That officer must not only serve the process issued by the courts, both civil and criminal, but it is his duty to maintain peace and quietude in his community. In other words, to enforce the laws, both state and National. It is an undertaking the successful fulfillment of which requires good judgment, the highest integrity, and the ability to cooperate with the Prosecuting Attorney, the Probate Judge and other peace officers of the County. In addition, it requires vigilance, energy and courage.

The Republican Candidate for the office of Sheriff is George W. Bice. He is the son of a Civil War veteran. He is a man of high ideals and intense loyalty to our public institutions. He has a good education, has lived in Twin Falls for many years, and during his residence here has engaged in the business of farming, and is so engaged at the present time.

Mr. Bice is a man of unquestioned integrity, and has good judgment and a natural ability to cooperate with the Prosecuting Attorney's office. Without such cooperation neither the Sheriff nor the Prosecuting Attorney can reach their highest usefulness to the community. Few men are better qualified or better equipped to fill the office of Sheriff than Mr. Bice.

Clare A. Bailey, Probate Judge of Twin Falls County, has served in that capacity during the past twenty-two months, and is a candidate upon the Republican ticket to succeed himself. Judge Bailey's work as Judge of the Probate Court has been uniformly fair, intelligent and satisfactory.

He was born and educated in the State of Kansas, coming to Twin Falls County many years ago. He was a member of the law firm of Longley and Walters for a number of years, and then a member of the firm of Walters and Hodgins for four or five years. He has had wide experience in the law, is an able and capable lawyer, and has a judicial mind and temperament which fit him admirably to handle the work of the Probate Judge. Judge Bailey has specialized over the past years in Probate Law and is almost an expert on the probating of estates. As a citizen and a lawyer he has always taken a firm stand on law enforcement. He realizes and appreciates the necessity of cooperation with other law enforcement officers. He has the faculty and the natural disposition for cooperation. He is greatly interested in the young people of the county, and has shown himself to be unusually capable in handling the probating work of the court.

It is before this man, as Probate Judge, that hundreds of the lesser criminal cases will be tried, and before whom a large number of the preliminary examinations for higher offenses will be heard.

His qualifications and his experience and his natural ability, his integrity, and his firmness, fit him for the work and highly commend him to the voters of the county.

It is to the best interests of efficient law enforcement that these three men be elected.

A Sheriff that is fearless and vigilant. A Prosecutor who has had trial experience and can vigorously prosecute his cases, and a Probate Judge who will meet out such punishment as the facts of the case warrant irrespective of sentiment.

All who are interested in the efficient enforcement of law can make no mistake in electing George W. Bice for Sheriff, E. V. Larson for Prosecuting Attorney and C. A. Bailey for Probate Judge.
