VOTERS' CONFIDENCE IN HOOPER, KEYNOTE OF BORAH'S SPEECH

Enthusiastic Demonstration Greets Idaho Senator Upon Entrance to Boston Arena

Easterner Pays Warm Tribute

(By The Associated Press) BOSTON, Nov. 2.—The confidence of the voter in the capacity and fitness of Herbert Hoover for the presidency was the keynote sounded tonight by Senator William B. Borah in a speech which culminated in a huge demonstration by Massachusetts Republicans for the Hoover-Curtis ticket.

When he entered the arena, Senator Borah was greeted with a wildly enthusiastic demonstration, lasting nearly 10 minutes, by the audience which nearly filled the 12,000 seats.

Introducing the senator, Robert M. Washburn, president of the Massachusetts Roosevelt club, declared that Borah does any man in the public estimation. The first question, asked by sightseers in the senate gallery, he added, is: "Which is Borah?"

"He is Borah," he said, "and he belongs to those few Americans who make history and dare to walk outside the pale." No one "paragorized" Borah in the senate," he added.

Confidence of the electorate in Hoover was characterized by the senator as "dominating, winning factor, pointing toward Hoover's victory." His address, prepared for delivery late tonight, was the climax of a day's campaign rally which included a two-hour torchlight parade and the listening by a large audience filling the Boston arena to the radio broadcast of Borah's speech in St. Louis.

Breaks Party Lines "That is an element in the campaign which pervades the entire country," the senator continued, "and it is the result of the wide experience, Hoover's achievements in the field of industry and his personal integrity and above all his presidential record for completing any task which may be assigned to him, complex and difficult as may be, with respect and confidence among the voters.

"In the South they do not speak in the name of Hoover, Hoover, Hoover, the man among men. The business man, the laborer and the farmer feel that he appreciates the problems of each, and as a man of affairs, as a man of affairs."

Gotham Actor, Posing As Alfred E. Smith, Wins Throng's Cheers

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—A lot of New-Yorkers who turned out to cheer Governor Smith today shook hands with a man in a brown derby they thought to be the Democratic nominee.

Many in the crowds, which still cheered the actor-thought they were getting a second glimpse of the governor and rushed into the street to cheer him some more. Short rows of police, who were trying to keep the derby, shook hands with as many as he could reach, and then drove on down between rows of cheering people who saw a job but thought it was too good to spoil.

"During the last 15 years a large number of our citizens and fishermen have been seeking employment and were successful; consequently 10 per cent of our population have come to this country to aid and coming from the United States. Bruin Gridsters Blank Caldwell Team by Score of 46 to 0

VICTORIOUS OFFENSIVE OF BLUE AND WHITE FEATURE OF BATTLE Bunn, Single-Handed, Drives 70 Yards in First Period; Leaves Game With Injured Wrist; Mates Seem Powerless

Scoring in every period yesterday a rejuvenated Bruin blanked Caldwell, 46 to 0. Staving off two serious thrusts by the Western team the Bruins staged a savage offensive that netted seven touchdowns. Although the Bruins were slow to start once underway it was a question of counting the score. Twenty points were registered in the first period; two of them after many minutes had been sent into the contest.

Lawrence, captain of the Bruin team, was forced to leave the game because of an injury to his wrist. Carrying the ball almost single-handed in the first period he drove 70 yards and had the Bruin within their own 10-yard line. Bunn, who played for Caldwell, was forced to leave the game because of an injury to his wrist.

Twice in the second period short Bruin punts gave the Caldwell team a chance to score but each time the Bruin forward wall stopped the play. Again in the third period a fumbled punt gave Caldwell the ball on the Bruin 20-yard stripe and Bunn drove 18 yards for the Bruin line held him for downs. Shoenaker and Wardle were back in form again yesterday and each threw long gains around the wings. Wardle kicked the Caldwell kickoff in the second half and raced 88 yards through the Western team for a score.

They say that the trouble with our political system is that first, no man is qualified to serve the public and ought to serve none.

Forestry is not a job in the Twin Falls country, and the fact that it is now entering a new phase is rather more than interesting.

LOCAL YOUTHS WILL STAGE OWN COMEDY

Twin Falls Singers, Dancers, and Actors to Be Cast in Play Legion Women Sponsor

Under auspices of Twin Falls American Legion, Women's Auxiliary, Robert Delas and Ralph Horton Twin Falls will present here November 21 and 22 their new comedy, "Glory" which was successfully presented recently in Durley and which is to be staged next week in Blackfoot.

Section of the cast, which will include a number of Twin Falls better known singers, dancers, and players, will be made early next week by Mr. Horton and rehearse will begin at once under personal direction of the authors. The production is to be staged in the high school auditorium.

Yote to Sponsor Play Definite action to sponsor the production of Twin Falls' first home talent musical comedy was reached by members of the auxiliary at a meeting at the home of Mrs. J. J. Bennett last Thursday evening.

Arrangements for the undertaking were placed in charge of the Auxiliary's ways and means committee.

Composition of "Glory" was entirely the work of the Twin Falls boys, except for the musical score which was composed by Miss Marjorie Albertson, Blackfoot, University of Idaho senior. Miss Margaret Selley, Twin Falls, composed the music for one of the songs. The competition was worked out by the Twin Falls boys while they were employed last summer in the national junk.

It is their ambition to stage the offering so successfully that it will vindicate money which to continue their college education.

Members of the Auxiliary at its meeting Thursday also voted to offer for sale in Twin Falls a number of articles of handicraft, fancy work and toys made by disabled veterans in the Boise Veterans hospital—the proceeds to be returned to the veterans who in many instances, have no other means of livelihood.

Active cooperation in the annual Red Cross membership roll call was conducted here November 17 also was assisted by the Auxiliary members at this meeting.

Hostesses assisting Mrs. Bennett were Mrs. J. G. Thorpe and Mrs. E. H. Shaw.

A BIRDSEYE STYLEVIEW IN TWIN FALLS STORES

Review of Current Fashions-Gleaned From an Inspection of Local Firms

HOW DO YOU CARE FOR YOUR HAIR AND FACE?

You can't get away with it if you are observed. Your complexion may be perfect, your shades and cosmetics exquisite, every thing else just as it should be, but you can't look at a dress, suit, face and neck, and hair, and hands aren't well-groomed and looking their best.

And now, just as most people are beginning to feel that they are acquiring wrinkles and gray hair, that they are losing their youthfulness, it would be perfectly wonderful to have the skin of a chambermaid, and able to deny it all. But since that is impossible, the thing to do will be to use any harmless and safe, efficient method one can recover to prevent more the "illy white man."

Now about a powder hair. This should be very rarely be a vanishing cream. There are, of course, good vanishing creams, but the best foundation—protective cream as well as a powder base. I know the drug-ists won't put advertising when they say it does not clog the pores, for with me, it is blotting—and you know several people who use it. This foundation cream made by the "Lloyds" house, comes in elegant jars, is a delightful, delicate pink, and as soft as a zephyr breeze. If you will pardon the pun, it is just the ticket for the lips of the finger is sufficient. And it is marvelous the way it stays on, and keeps your powder on, too.

It is considered especially smart, but if it does not clog the pores, as any paleo becomes, I would like to whisper a word about a perfectly natural color, which comes into the natural coloring of the skin and gives just that soft, natural glow which is so perfect. It is in a tiny white and gold box, is a light pinkish orange, which blends nicely with any complexion. Not too pink, nor too orange for anyone.

Then dust on your powder—and there are numerous good powders. The problem facing you here is to find the shade and texture that best fits your skin and coloring. I get the best results from two brands of powder, and two brands of powder, which is a foolish thing to do, but it fits my face exactly. I use slightly less than half a box of natural powder, of one kind, and a trifle more than half a box of rachel of another kind. And it works beautifully.

Then apply your lipstick, and there is plenty of lipstick, but there is always a limit, beyond which it is not smart. The lipstick, if of a light, creamy color, is usually the best of the upper lip. Then with the fingers, smooth it over the lips, following the natural outlines.

Then your hair—there are shampoo, crems, permanents, oil treatments, a million and one things to keep the hair well groomed. But the secret of it all seems to be to keep the hair clean, to keep the blood circulating freely in the scalp by means of massage, to keep the scalp healthy, and to dress the hair becomingly. There are many ways to smooth the hair, and crems and dressings that it would perhaps be well to treat it separately at another time.

DEMOCRATS HEAR UTAH WOMAN DISCUSS ISSUES

Alfred E. Smith Secures Legislation Favored by Women, Asserts Mrs. D. M. Draper

About 75 men and women voters attended the meeting of the Smith-Robinson club addressed by Mrs. D. M. Draper, of Salt Lake City, Democratic headquarters last night. Mrs. Draper, vice chairman of the regional Democratic committee and editor of the woman's page in the Utah Statesman, spoke extensively on national issues. She was introduced by Mrs. T. Dan Connor, Filer.

Mrs. Draper said that Smith had done much to secure the sort of legislation sought by women, but that, until the Hoover, Smith had made no special appeal to women.

Turning to economic issues, the speaker declared that those who favored Hoover are furthering the delivery of the only remaining great natural resource to power companies to be resold at unduly high prices. The McNary-Hanger bill, with the principle of which Governor Smith agreed, she said, would return the life, vigorous leadership she said that the radio prevented the effective misrepresentation of Smith's stand.

On the tariff question Mrs. Draper said, "We have no desire to disturb the existing tariff where it is needed. We are opposed to having some industries get all the benefit of the tariff and others none at all." The speaker sound-robustly prejudice which she claimed was injected into the campaign by certain big interests.
