INVESTIGATION INTO CAUSE OF TRAGEDY ON ATLANTIC ENDS

Representative of 9000 Sea Officers Reads Stiring Defense of Ill-Fated Skipper Into Records of Probe

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—The federal investigation into the loss of the liner Vestris ended today, before the chief representative of 9,000 sea captains and officers read into the voluminous record of the disaster a stirring defense of the captain, William Carey and the crew of the vessel.

Federal Attorney Charles Tuttle, who conducted the inquiry, United States Commissioner O'Neil, declared the lessons derived from the tragedy should be brought before congress and the international conference on safety of life at sea.

Cause Remains Mystery

"No man will ever know for certain," the cause of the foundering of the Vestris with a loss of more than 100 lives, said Governor Harrison, and officers had perhaps 12 hours, not 12 hours in the quiet atmosphere of a court in which to solve the mystery.

Among the final witnesses called by Tuttle was George F. Harrison, president of the American Steamship Lines, who was one of the last to see the Vestris when her fate was increasing on November 12.

Harrison said his vessel was drifting with a slightly damaged steering gear—while water was pouring into the Vestris in a short distance from the Montoso.

Although a sprinkling of issues closed with losses of $3 to nearly $1 a share, final quotations were generally higher, about a score of issues showing net gains of $1 to $2 a share.

Both the New York stock exchange and the New York curb market broke all monthly trading records in November with sales of 114,755,000, and 38,170 shares, respectively.

ROBBERS TAKE AIR MAIL GOING TO LANDING FIELD

LOCAL BROKERS TO BUY IDAHO TURKEYS

Members of Growers' Association Decide to Sell Christmas Crop on 'Consignment' Basis

BOISE, Nov. 30—Members of the Idaho Turkey Growers' Association decided here today to sell the Christmas turkey crop on a consignment basis instead of outright to Eastern dealers. The Idaho turkey crop, which is estimated to be worth nearly $1,000,000, will be sold through local brokers, the growers paying the brokers a commission of 25 cents per pound for the class birds. The growers receive the balance when the brokers dispose of the birds. This is the first time since the organization was formed in 1925 that the growers have sold direct to brokers. The prices offered upon were 25 cents per pound for No. 1 turks; 30 cents for No. 2 turks, 25 cents for others; and 30 cents for No. 2 turkeys. The growers will receive above this price the difference between the cash on delivery paid and the amount which the buyers bring on the Eastern markets. The brokers will charge 5 per cent of the net for handling the crop. The first bids offered were 32 cents to 37 cents for fancy birds, but these were rejected. The first bids on other grades were also rejected by the association. Shipping of the birds will begin next 25 points in Idaho next month.

Liverpool Wheat Quotations Tend to Cut Exports: Chicago Holders Ask: May Crop

CHICAGO, Nov. 30.—All-round lower prices here for grain today came about largely through sharp downturns in Liverpool wheat quotations tending further to curtail United States exports. Liverpool dispatches indicating were putting stress on much cheaper offerings of wheat from Argentina, besides the speculative movement of Chicago contracts calling for December delivery of grain were in numerous cases apparently unwilling to accept chances of Liverpool fulfillment, and were letting go of ownership or were shifting to contracts that specified delivery to be set down, with only unchanged or lower provisions varied from the set back to a rise of five.

For the most part, both foreign and domestic news concerning wheat was adverse today to friends of high prices. The downward trend of the wheat market here was the fact that highly beneficial crop results in Russia reported, as well as the widespread heavy snow in domestic winter wheat territory. Slackness of export trade in wheat from North America, especially a heavy factor, only 250,000 bushels being announced today as having been taken for shipment to Europe, the total tonnage for the week 1,000,000 bushels less than for the corresponding week last year.

Fighting the river shores, school and cabin sent the boys high into the snouter of bark. Seizing the hand of the partner, Gaspard said, as he disappeared, the man who had taken him from his father, "Well, brother, I think that M'Lord's Machete eye" ever said his right had to try to run with you out of the Yelkoo country."

"Well, he didn't not to starve this spring," laughed Brock.

"The lead dog has been eaten," added Brock. "The dog was not a start in the shack."

When the team stopped, later, to hot the kettle and rest the dogs, Brock, looking at his ankle, and in the light following the rush by three Indians, Brock and Brock looked across the bridge, half-bent, on a sled to Mac-ber's quarters. Brock had later announced his man, and had found that Brock had been killed.

"The lead dog had been put to rest," Brock said, "and Brock had been put to rest."

"It was Mac, eating the grapes the 'Machete' at the bridge. To the south, in the land of the Indians, it was the 'Moon of Flowers,' long since, the black-tipped wings of the snowy goose had faded overhead on the river, and Brock and Brock. Brock had been put to rest."

SIMPLE SERVICE AND MILITARY HONOR FOR VETERAN WAR NURSE

Body of Mrs. Sue St. Martin Blakeslee in Final Repose: Riflemen Fire Three Sharp Volleys: Bugler Sounds Taps

Mrs. Sue St. Martin Blakeslee, 35, world war veteran nurse who died last Tuesday after she had attended a number of heroic patients, was buried yesterday with full military honors at the Twin Falls American Legion post, assisted by Idaho National Guard officers.

Burial service of the Catholic church was read by Rev. Father Remond S. Keger, pastor of St. Edwards church, who referred in a brief eulogy to the statement of Scripture, "Greater love hath no man than this, that a man should lay down his life for his friends."

Mrs. Blakeslee was the first woman to be buried here with military honors. She had served 14 months overseas during the World war in the base hospital at Severny, France, and was a member of the American Legion. She was married seven years ago to Loren E. Blakeslee, and was mother of two sons, Glenn, 5, and almost two-year-old simple son, the first tribute paid to the memory of the devoted nurse who risked and lost her life in fidelity to her calling to minister to the needs of sufferers.

Two little boys, under quarantine with faces pressed against the window pane at their home watched the coming of the flag-covered casket as it was carried between lines of uniformed young men and under the national colors and the drooped standard of the Legion to rest briefly at the doorstep during the funeral service.

Rapidly Father Keger repeated the hallowed words of the ritual for the dead. He gave but a moment to an eloquent eulogy that was expressive of the underlying thought and sympathy of the group assembled about the little dwelling.

Blowing chill cut short the ceremony. Colors Over Grave. The scene shifted to the cemetery. Again the uniformed guardsmen took up their positions. The colors were draped at the head of the grave. The priest, at the foot of the grave, blessed the final resting place of a devoted and faithful one, and the casket layered slowly while the flag that had covered it was held back to be cherished some day by the sons of a heroic woman.

The Legion's last farewell to an honored comrade was uttered, and then the sound of riflemen fired three sharp volleys over the grave. A bugler sounded taps. It was the only music during the entire service and it marked the close of the funeral rites.

Physicians Pallbearers. Doctors who are members of Twin Falls American Legion post were pallbearers, and graduate nurses, professional associates, and personal friends of Mrs. Blakeslee were honorary pallbearers.

Garbed in the uniform of the nurses corps, the honorary pallbearers were: Mrs. Thomas Smith, Mrs. Henry Burmeister, Mrs. Anne Grossman, and Miss Gladys Tucker.

Active pallbearers were: Dr. D. L. Alexander, Dr. John F. Cougle, Dr. W. F. Passer, Dr. C. D. Weaver, Dr. George C. Hatley, and Wynne Smith, veteran of a hospital unit overseas.

The Legion's part in the service was in charge of John C. Harvey, vice commander, and Merlin Bailey, post commander and acting chaplain. Captain J. L. Hodgin commanded the large squad composed of members of Company E, Twin Falls unit of the Idaho National Guard, and other members of this unit were color bearers and color guards.

Dr. Oran A. Fuller, World war veteran, sounded the bugle call.

MAN UNDER BOND FACES SECOND LIQUOR CHARGE

Elbert Smith, 38, returned to Twin Falls city jail shortly before noon yesterday and only a little while after he had been released by H. D. Head, police magistrate, under $15 bond to appear for trial on a charge of drunkenness.

Smith returned to the jail in custody of police officers who reported that he had been attempting to force entrance into a residence on Harrison street. They declared that Smith was intoxicated at the time and that they had taken a partly filled bottle of moonshine whiskey out of his pocket.

Charge of illegal possession was filed against Smith. Smith had been arrested late Thursday night when he was found by officers responding to report that a man was lying in front of a house on Fourth avenue east.

BOARD'S BAN PROVES EFFECTIVE MEASURE IN EPIDEMIC FIGHT

Patients On Way to Recovery: No New Cases Materialize: Rumors Afloat Concerning Quarantine in Twin Falls

Improvement in the meningitis situation in Twin Falls continued Friday, the fifth day since the last known exposure to the disease and the seventh day since any case of meningitis has developed in this county.

Interest centered on probable date of lifting of the countywide closing order issued last Monday forbidding all public assemblies. It has been indicated that unless there are new outbreaks the closing order will be lifted to day after the last known exposure which occurred last Sunday.

Patients Improving. Continued improvement was reported at the county general hospital last evening in the condition of four patients who are the only persons in the county known to be suffering from meningitis.

Dr. C. D. Weaver, county physician, last evening issued a statement in reply to rumors that quarantine regulations prevent persons entering or leaving Twin Falls county. In reply he inquired of the Union Trust company, operating motor stages between Boise and Twin Falls, Dr. Weaver stated that there are no restrictions on persons coming into or leaving our county excepting the exclusion of pleasure parties from entering Jerome or Cassia counties from Twin Falls county.

Rumors Afloat. It has been reported here that our county excepting the exclusion of pleasure parties from entering Jerome or Cassia counties from Twin Falls county is attempting to travel through this county.

Statement was made by a state driver on his arrival from Boise last Thursday at Umbaugh's—adv

The Weather

FORECAST FOR TODAY: Unsettled and cold with local snows. Light snow flurries visited Twin Falls late yesterday afternoon and continued intermittently throughout the night. The snow descended barely in time to be mentioned in the weather observer's report for the period from 6 P. M. Thursday to 6 P. M. Friday. Maximum temperature for the period was 42 degrees and minimum 18, compared to 42 and 19 on the previous day.
