NEW YORK INVENTOR VISUALIZES FUTURE FOR NEWS PRINTING

Day May Come When One Man Will Set Type in Composing Rooms of Hundreds of Cities Predicts Frank E. Gannett

(By The Associated Press) ROCHESTER, N. Y., Dec. 6.—Frank E. Gannett, Rochester newspaper publisher and inventor, told a hundred listeners here today that soon one man in New York may set the type in composing rooms of a thousand American cities, doing it by telegraph.

"And," he said, "looking into the future, it is not difficult to visualize the time when one man, sitting at a typewriter, will be able to set type in any, or every, city in the country.

"Now, turn on the micro, and I'll show you something you never saw before."

The guests looked at two typesetting machines which stood at one end of a room. A turn of an electric switch and these machines began clicking rapidly. They stood alone, robot-like, and a human assistant close by, setting type by wire through the medium of a new invention named the typesetter.

Increased Speed
"The possible speed of the automatic method," said Mr. Gannett, "is probably three times that of hand operation. Its accuracy is well nigh perfect."

He then stepped to one of the typesetting machines, picked up some of the type lines it was setting, doing so in a manner to "show" its operation and stop the machine.

Instantly resumed the robot which was feeding a tape seven-eighths of an inch wide to operate the typesetting machine, and the tape became motionless.

"A red light flared at the top of the typesetting machine and glowed until the artificial 'jam' was set right. Immediately the machine began automatically setting type so far as 'this line' said Mr. Gannett, "we think they are good proof so far as trouble from stoppage is concerned."

"This new" said Mr. Gannett, "is an invention of the type which is set at one side of the room, which impales to a receiving table where another machine reproduces an exact copy similar to that which was transferred it through a third machine to operate the typesetting machine."

"Questions?" said Mr. Gannett. Instantly a flood of questions was raised.

GONG IN GRAIN PIT TOLLS FINAL ORDER

Famous Chicago Landmark Gives Way to 44-Story Sky-Scraper at End of 44 Years

CHICAGO, Dec. 6 (AP)—The familiar old gong which stood at the corner of Main and Dear streets, has rung out today for nearly half a century in the largest grain market, will toll its last tomorrow.

When the grain pits, where fortunes have been won and lost in the trade, are demolished and the gong is sold, the old structure will be replaced by a new 44-story building of monumental design towering 600 feet above the street and with the land it occupies valued at $20,000,000.

SHORT SESSION MAY NOT HELP FARMERS

Grave Doubt Exists in Mind of Chairman Haugen As to Passage of Bill at Present

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6 (AP)—Farm relief was discussed for an hour today by the house agricultural committee and after the session, Chairman Haugen of the committee, said he has grave doubts as to the possibility of the passage of inadequate legislation on the problem at this time.

It was believed that difficulty might be encountered in conforming farm legislation to a revision of tariff schedules if the agricultural bill should be passed before the ways and means committee has completed its work of drafting a tariff measure which is expected to increase duties on farm products.

New Bill Not Discussed
The new bill introduced by Senator McNary, Republican, Oregon, was not discussed by the committee. The measure, which has been described as designed to meet the administration views on farm relief and which does not contain the equalization fee features of the twice vetoed McNary-Haugen bill, is not considered adequate by many farmers.

Chairman Haugen feels the legislative proposal does not go far enough to be of great benefit to the farmer, and does not make the tariff effective.

Although the committee failed to agree upon any plan of action today, it is arranged to take up the problem again within the near future with the idea of working out a program for the future consideration of the question.

Three Men Perish in New York City Blast

NEW YORK, Dec. 6 (AP)—A vapor explosion at the Kill-All Disinfecting company's plant on the upper East Side took the lives of at least three men and injured nine others today. The explosion was the result of a gas leak which was sought by firemen and police who combed the ruins of the three one-story brick buildings wrecked by the blast.

The known dead were: Harry Freedman, owner of the disinfecting company; Andrew Arnold, 77, junk dealer; and an unidentified workman who died in a hospital.

Windows in the East one hundred eighth street neighborhood, a block from the East river, were shattered, littering the streets with glass. The roof of the Kill-All building was torn off and a sack was buried 60 feet.

House Goes Through Traditional Fight During Consideration of Treasury-Post Office Measure For Supplies

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—Congress had its first post-campaign political skirmish today, revolving around the relative positions of Herbert Hoover and Governor Smith on immigration, and its military emphasis the left down in the firing which blazed so heavily from both sides prior to the national convention.

It was a debate in the senate over the national origins clause of the immigration act which would fix the number of immigrants coming into this country on the basis of immigrants already admitted from various countries. Both Governor Smith and Mr. Hoover figured in the running debate which went along for an hour or more.

Finally the discussions ended quietly when the Boulder dam bill was once again placed in its preferred place as "the business-at-hand," and the senate proceeded with this much disputed piece of legislation.

FLOOD MENACES ANCIENT SMYRNA; RAIN POURS DOWN ON CITY; RIVERS RISING

CONSTANTINOPLE, Dec. 6 (AP)—The historic city of Smyrna, blighted frequently in its long history by fire and earthquake, is now suffering from a serious flood.

A week's deluge of rain caused nearby rivers to overflow and all the lower quarters of the city and neighboring villages were inundated.

Two persons were drowned in Smyrna during the flood's first onrush while the number of deaths in the country districts were still unknown because of the interruption to communication.

In Smyrna alone 62 houses were swept away by the waters which in some places were five feet deep. Trolley cars and automobiles were unable to move about and soldiers, using roadways, went to the rescue of hundreds who had taken refuge in tree tops.

COOLIDGE'S CHOICE OF ROY C. WEST TO GET SENATE AIRING

Second Appointment of Chief Executive to Come Under Upper House's Close Scrutiny If Not General Opposition

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—For a second time the choice of President Coolidge of a member of his cabinet is going to come under close scrutiny, if not opposition, of the senate.

Transmittal today by the president of the nomination of Roy C. West, Chicago, as secretary of the interior, to the senate for its confirmation brought immediate demands there for a hearing and a call for a special meeting of the public lands committee to consider the nomination Saturday.

Among those who indicated today that they would like to question the secretary are: Senators Walsh, Democrat, Montana; Bill, Democrat, Washington; and Morris, Republican, Nebraska. Senator Walsh said he desired to ask Mr. West—what steps he took to determine the legality of the Salt Creek royalty oil contract, renewal to the Sinclair interests which recently was declared void by the department of justice.

Taken Senators by surprise, President Coolidge obviously took some of the senators by surprise, when he failed to send the nominations of Mr. West and Mr. Whiting for secretary of commerce, to the senate during the first two days of the session.

JUDGE DISMISSES $300,000.000 SUIT

First Attempt of Descendants of John Nicholas Emerick to Collect Huge Sum, Futile

NEW YORK, Dec. 6 (AP)—Federal Judge Thatcher today dismissed a $300,000,000 suit against the estate of John Jacob Astor brought by descendants of Christopher and Valentine Emerick, brothers of John Astor.

The plaintiffs based their suit on an alleged trust established by John Nicholas Emerick in 1815. Terms provided, the complaint stated, 50 years after the date of its execution, the plaintiff's descendants should receive the bulk of the assets of Emerick's holdings in his partnership with Astor should be divided among descendants of Emerick, Emerick, Christopher, and Valentine.

Involves Valuable Property
The suit involved valuable properties now held by the Astor estate, among them the site of the Hotel Astor in Times Square and the site of the famous Trinity church at the head of Wall street.

Judge Thatcher held that the alleged trust was void under the laws of New York and Pennsylvania in force prior to the death of John Nicholas Emerick. Under the laws of Pennsylvania any of the hundreds of other claimants heirs of Emerick's brothers is entitled to sue as such.

The Value of a Smile at Christmas

It costs nothing, but creates much. It enriches those who receive without impoverishing those who give. It happens in a flash and the memory of it sometimes lasts forever. None are so rich they can get along without it and none so poor but are richer for its benefits. It creates happiness in the home, fosters good will in business and is the countersign of friends. It is rest to the weary, daylight to the discouraged, sunshine to the sad, and Nature's best antidote for trouble. Yet it cannot be bought, begged, borrowed, or stolen, for it is something that is no earthly good to anybody till it is given away! We wish you a very Merry Christmas.

But, I suppose, people will get out of the habit of staying home nights, just because of the experiences of the last couple of weeks."

The Settling of the Sage

Morrow glanced at Bill without turning his head, then fell silent, his expression unchanged. A chunky youngster stood in the door and bent an approving gaze on the big brute as he swung out across the pasture for the horse's feed.

In the chair she had indicated and pointed toward the door. "You'll have to start in a little different from the way I first outlined for you," he said. "Have any of the boys mentioned my name to you?"

"You won't care much to hear it," she said. "I thought some of the boys were here under some other name, but perhaps it's better to come out in the open—don't you think?"

"I'll not care much to hear it," she said. "I thought some of the boys were here under some other name, but perhaps it's better to come out in the open—don't you think?"

Illustrate his point as he moved toward the door and the Three Bar girl knew that when Waddles spoke she should listen to it as no other figure of speech.

CHAPTER III

Bill was when across the stony maze of a way and into the riding strides of an ox. The men had departed three hours before he was to go for a week on the horse round-up but she had not yet found from her own quarters.

"Do you mind if I gather a few more Bar coils round here close and break out my own string before they get back?" he asked.

Bill just gave an extra hand and do whatever necessary turn-up in return for your latrine no matter you on a few points that I happen to have worked out while I was prowling through the country.

CORN MART TAKES ON NEW STRENGTH

Shipping Demand Improves for Yellow Cereal; Closing Quotations Unsettled; Oats Up

CHICAGO, Dec. 6 (AP)—With the best shipping demand here for corn today that has been witnessed in some time, the corn market took on new strength. Fresh export business in corn here and at the Gulf of Mexico was indicated, and other grain derived firmness from corn.

Closing quotations on corn were unsettled, 1/2 to 5/8 cent higher. Wheat finished 1/8 to 1/4 cent up, oats 1/2 to 3/4 cent advance, and provisions unchanged to the down.

Helping to lift the corn market today was the fact that other cities were reported obtaining Chicago for corn at various points in Illinois. Besides, today's arrivals of corn here, 234 cars, were of less volume than had generally been looked for. Local offerings were likewise relatively small despite excellent weather for curing and moving this crop.

Heavy rains in the Argentine ahead harvest region were of some effect toward giving a firmer tone to the wheat market. Unsettled, but firm today on new domestic winter wheat area and the condition of the winter crop were about as had generally been predicted.

MART BREAKS WITH CRASH DURING DAY

Favorite Issues Tumble From 5 to 22 Points; Market Under Deluge of Sale Orders

NEW YORK, Dec. 6 (AP)—The unprecedented post-election bull market, which has receded forward in face of numerous traditional danger signs, finally broke with a crash today.

It was the most acute break the market has experienced in many months. Most of the favorite issues tumbled from 5 to 22 1/2 points. Trading swelled to the largest volume ever seen in a declining market, total sales aggregating 5,422,000 shares.

The market was deluged with sell orders in the afternoon when the December money pitch became acute, with a call loan rate of 12 per cent for the first time since July 2, 1927.

The money advance has resulted from the accumulation of a number of big issues, including:

- U. S. Steel
- General Motors
- International Telephone
- United Fruit
- U. S. Shipbuilding

New York Efforts Desperate

The bull market rather than the efforts to stage a demonstration and succeeded in pushing up Wright Aero nearly 14 points, only to see it fall back about 3 1/2 points. Packard Motor was pushed up about 6 points to a new peak, but closed with a 5-point loss.

Such successful old timers as American Oil, Union Pacific, New York Central, and United States Steel fell 5 to 6 points. American Telephone had more than a 2-point decline. General Electric fell 11 points, and General Motors nearly 8.

Montgomery Ward made the day's most spectacular dive, falling 22 1/2 points to 39 1/2. Reada Insurance fell 17 points. Radio fell to 38 1/2.

Losses of 7 to 10 points were suffered by such issues as American Smelting, American Tobacco, Columbia Gas and Electric, Commercial Solvents, Consolidated Gas, Erie, Greer-Cannara, International Nickel, International Telephone, Kaiser Steel, and National Cashier.

ON'S LIFE AND PRINCIPLES

There are people who tend to slunge their lives in accordance with delusive principles—and others who prefer to adjust their principles to the conditions of their own particular fate, in both cases, all that is involved is an effort to make life as comfortable as possible, while the important thing is to face each new experience without prejudice or assumption, even at the risk of continued mistakes.

THE EYES OF YOUTH

The old historian, Plutarch, when asked what boys should learn, said: "That which they will use when men." The trouble is that men do not use enough what they learned and what they thought and what they hoped as boys. The education of youth too quickly fades. Most men are too practical.—Exchange.

A THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Coughs from colds may lead to pneumonia. You can save them now with Creomulsion, an established, scientific preparation to prevent it. Creomulsion is a natural remedy. In addition to creosote and oils it contains the natural germicides and disinfectants that destroy all bacteria and mold growth.

All known drug, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agents for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains in addition to creosote other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the creosote goes in to the attack, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germ.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritation, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flus. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (Adv.)

CAVE WITH BALLROOM NOW IN STATE PARK
 SULLIVAN, Mo., Dec. 6 (AP)—A CAVE half a mile underground, in which a Missouri governor held his inaugural ball, and several other caverns where fugitives of the Civil War hid themselves, are in the Ozark mountain range.
 Before the Civil war escaping slaves sought safety and freedom in the caves and their tortuous corridors. Wealthy planters fled to the caverns when Union forces swept this region. Their places were taken by abolitionists when the idea of war were feared. Both groups carried much of their personal property and money with them. It is told in the hills that some of the fortunes of these refugees still lie within the Ozarks.

ADVERTISING VITAL TO MODERN METHOD, SAYS ROGER BABSON

"Right Kind of Paid Publicity Never More Essential to Business Progress," Declares Noted Bay State Statistician

(Special to The News) BANGSON PARK, Mass., Dec. 6.—"The right kind of advertising was never more essential to business progress than at present," declared Roger W. Babson in his regular weekly interview today.

"American factories are reared up to tremendous production in every industry. These goods must flow uninterruptedly in huge volume to the consumer. In other words, mass distribution must accompany mass production or glutted markets would at once plunge this country into depression. Mass distribution can only be accomplished by extensive advertising. Furthermore, business history clearly shows that advertising has been one of the greatest constructive forces for prosperity and a higher standard of living.

Economic Necessity

"In spite of the economic necessity of advertising, however, many business men complain that it is not pulling as it once did. They forget that competition is keen in advertising in all other fields. The demands on the readers' time and attention have grown to the point where they exceptionally good distribution stories, new and interesting, gets across. Also there is a tendency to expect too much of advertising and to look for the answer in the product itself. The secret of successful merchandising is to carry what people want, rather than to try to make people buy what one has in stock—to help the consumer to find what he wishes, rather than to force him to buy something already on hand. Successful advertising, therefore, depends more on discovering, making, and offering articles which the public desires than on any other factor. The agencies and national advertisers who are most successful are those who spend the most time studying the public demands and selecting something to advertise that the public wants, rather than trying to make people buy some definite product. People always have money to spend for what they want most. The problem is to first find out what they want most, manufacture it, carry it in stock and advertise it."

Market Research Necessary

"The old hit-or-miss methods of advertising are rapidly giving way to campaigns based on careful scientific research. Progressive concerns are studying their markets before they launch their advertising. They do not merely make a sudden decision to advertise, then, make a guess as to how much they will spend on it, and finally select their newspapers and magazines on a purely arbitrary basis. Costly experience has shown them that much money can be lost in advertising that has not been carefully planned and preceded by market study. On the other hand, they know that careful investigation of the market for their particular products not only saves them an accurate basis on which to advertise, but often times reveals new uses which had not been thought of before. Business executives are determined that advertising be done on a scientific basis and that the results from it be measured as accurately as possible in the sales records.

"Some newspaper have done a lot along the line of market studies to help their advertisers, and the results have been highly encouraging. On the other hand, there still remains a tremendous opportunity for service along this line. The recent proposal of the Association of National Advertisers to form a statistical bureau to conduct a survey of daily newspaper circulation by counties over the entire United States is an effort to enable concerns doing national advertising to buy their space on a more scientific basis and to make sure that the advertising is covering most efficiently their own market areas. Under this plan newspapers would be called upon to analyze their circulation figures on the basis of localities and submit this vital information to the bureau. Such plans can do much in taking the guess-work out of national advertising and produce more sales per dollar of expenditure. The benefits from such a scientific approach to the problem fall both upon those doing the advertising and the newspapers in which the advertising is handled efficiently they are more ready to increase their appropriations.

In Step With The Times

"Inasmuch as advertising, like literature, is really a picture of the customs, habits, modes of living and ideal of the people, it must always keep abreast of the tempo of the times. One outstanding feature of our present mode of living is speed. This is an age of rapid motion. It will become more and more rapid rather than less so. People will learn to relax in motion and to live less dependably, but there will be turning back to the less rapid days. All progress has been marked by an increase in speed—the conquering of space and time. The trend is a fundamental one—not a passing phase. All branches of business are affected. Some are being changed completely. The most active securities on the New York exchange today represent companies directly helping people to live more rapidly. Food is changing—witness the three-minute cereal, increasing use of canned goods, automatic cooking ranges, and the delicatessen. The trim, smart lines of women's clothing reflect the prevailing desire for freedom of movement and appearance of fitness. It is not more fast that is causing women to wear two pounds of clothing instead of nine or ten pounds as in former days. Dwelling house building is being revolutionized by the wider circle, in which people move.

"The railroad, the automobile, the intense interest in aviation all are evidences of the desire for speed. Advertising in its form as possible must be in keeping with this age. If it is based upon an appeal that is static rather than dynamic it will fail. Already the static picture is obsolete in advertising. Copy that produces the sensation of motion and speed, either by association with moving objects or by other uses of line or color is today the kind that is producing the best results. One good example is the new hotel, Sherry-Netherland, which illustrates the architect's success in building the impression of speed and motion in a New York skyscraper. The soaring lines, by which the structure rises give the impression of rocket-like ascent. The use of advertising of stream lines, disomals, and associations which decrease the effect of bulk and increase the effect of possible speed are those that appeal most to the present time.

artistic, or dramatic advertisement may be, it will be repudiated by the public if it is untrue. The failure of such an advertiser is exactly what he deserves. Great progress has been made in eliminating dishonest advertising within the ranks of business and advertisers themselves. They should be given great credit for cleaning up what was once a disgraceful situation. Efforts in this direction should not be relaxed for a moment. Only that type of advertising will live which is kept on a high moral plane. During the next 10 years, moreover, the American people, having obtained more of the material things of life, will reach out for the higher, or spiritual things, Washington Foundation.

WASHINGTON'S BOYHOOD HOME CHOSEN AS SHRINE

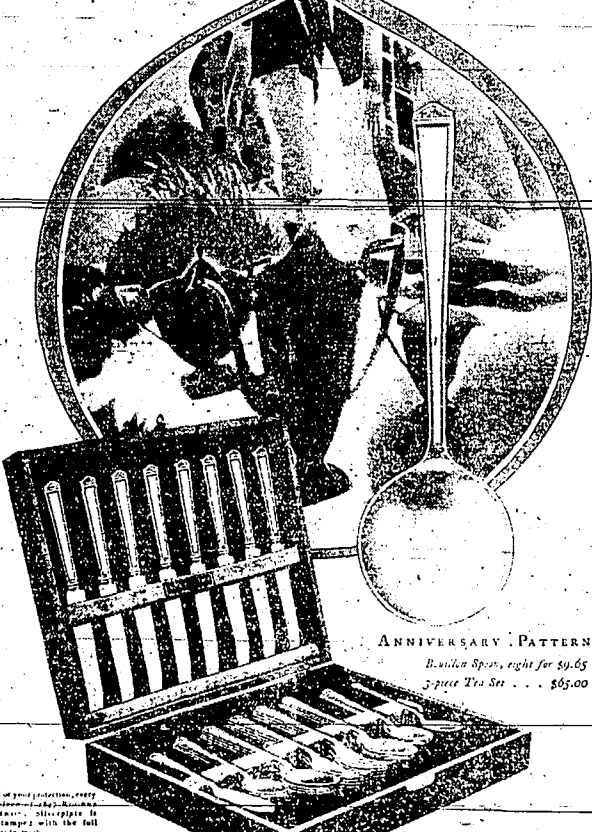

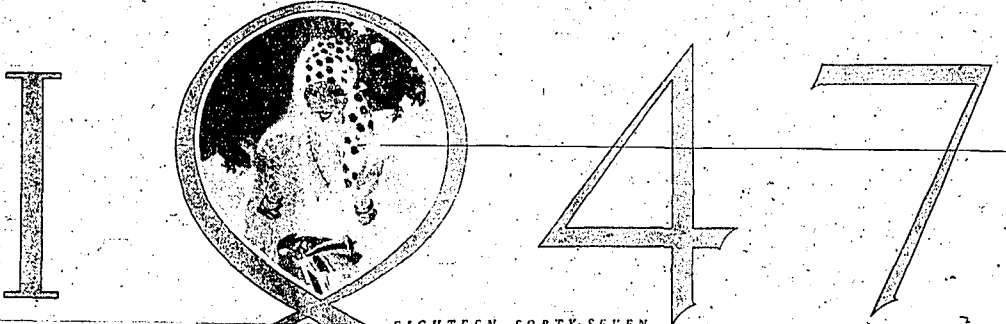

FREDERICKSBURG, Va., Dec. 6.—The first step in restoration of the boyhood home of George Washington will live which is kept on a high moral plane. During the next 10 years, moreover, the American people, having obtained more of the material things of life, will reach out for the higher, or spiritual things, Washington Foundation. The announced intention of the foundation is to dedicate the memorial in 1932 on the two hundredth anniversary of Washington's birth. Plans of the foundation call for restoring the property to the same condition it was in when young George spent more than a dozen years there with his parents after leaving the parental home of Wakefield. Located in Stafford county, just across the Potomac river from Frederickburg, this is said to be the last property intimately associated with the life of Washington to be taken from private hands. Here tradition has it, George "reared the famous cherry tree. Acacustic Washington, father of George, died a few years after the family came to the Stafford farm. Mary Washington, George's mother, died 75 years ago by whom there more than 25 years long.

Alabama School One Of Nation's Oldest

A silver service, presented the school 75 years ago by alumni and students, is still in use.

GOOD WORK

Decorations of Twin Falls streets with holiday greens during the Christmas season is one of the best things that Twin Falls does in a municipal way.

The decorations to which nearly a hundred of Twin Falls merchants and professional men have donated this year is deserving of all the praise it is receiving.

Christmas decorations two years ago might be continued along with and complimentary to this year's decorative scheme.

CUTTING TAXES

Idaho's state treasurer, pointing out that the interest charge on Idaho's interest-bearing debt amounts to twelve hundred dollars a day, has put his finger on a vital factor in the state's tax problem.

The treasurer's statement comes, no doubt, as a surprise to most of us, and it demands attention.

It is his suggestion that reduction of the interest-bearing debt is the logical way to reduce the tax burden.

There can hardly be any argument about that.

Elimination of twelve hundred dollars a day or nearly a half million dollars a year for interest payments would manifestly bring substantial relief to taxpayers.

Probably little or nothing can be done toward any material reduction in this debt just now, but it will be well to keep in mind the state treasurer's statement and at the same time when question of retarding bond comes up again.

"DIGRAMING" NEWS

Premier Maschall recently issued an order that Idaho newspapers should stop printing news papers. Some editors did not take that seriously.

Idaho's Tested Lion Hunters Begin Annual Battle Against Wild Animals

One Man, Accompanied by Wife, Takes Post Deep in Country Marked by Middle Fork of Salmon River in Wilderness

BOISE, Dec. 6.—With the first attack in a series of lion hunts, Idaho's tested lion hunters will begin their annual battle against the most powerful of all predatory animals in the former mountain state.

Three of the hunters have already been placed, and possibly more will be sent in later, depending upon how many lions are reported.

One of the hunters, whose name is John Clark, New Meadows, is probably the best known of the state's lion hunters. He is already at his post deep in the country through which runs the middle fork of the Salmon river.

The work is arduous but full of thrill both to the hunter and to the veteran. The mountain lion almost never attacks a human—though there have been a few instances in the country. But even the hardest hunter will admit the animals give a tingle to the spine on occasions.

The animals have certain habits which make them, comparatively easy to take—by someone who knows all about them.

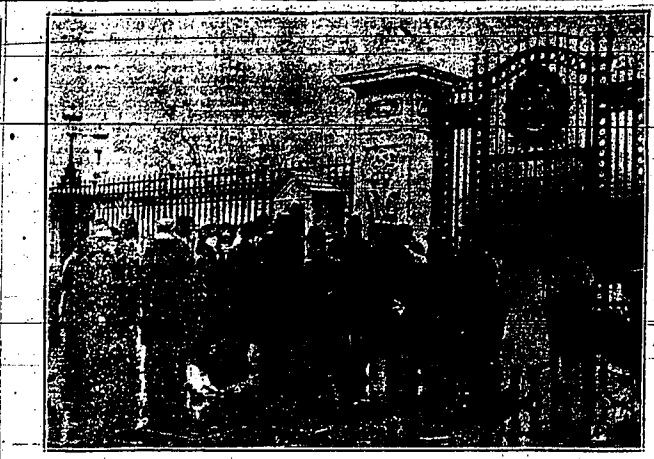

Get into the lion country, then take three days' rations and a gun. Travel a straight line for a day and a half, then make back along the trail, about the lion country north of the timber for three days during which time a mountain lion followed him almost constantly.

Several lions I went back to try to find him and catch him. In the crowd, just back of a clump of pines, over a little rise from the timber, he was the place where he would find him.

Clark says his wife will be here in the timber for three days during which time a mountain lion followed him almost constantly.

Monument Will Mark 'Uncle Sam's' Grave

TRIO, N. Y., Dec. 6.—The gravestone of Samuel Wilson, who unintentionally originated the nickname of 'Uncle Sam' for the American government, is to be marked by a monument erected by Troy chapter, Daughter of the American Revolution.

Wilson's grave, in Oakwood cemetery here, now is marked only by a simple marble slab but is kept in good condition. Cemetery officials reported that they recently received an anonymous contribution in the upkeep of the grave.

'Uncle Sam' Wilson was born in New Hampshire but came to this city as a boy. During the war of 1812, he was employed by the government as an inspector of meat for the army.

EDUCATOR REPORTS ON IDAHO SCHOOLS

State Spends $10,344,574 On 100,422 Pupils During 1927-28 Operation Costs $7,821,276

BOISE, Dec. 6 (AP)—Idaho has 754 schools in which one teacher teaches all subjects in all the classes in her charge, a report compiled by Commissioner W. D. Vincent of the Department of Education reveals. Of these schools, 500 had an enrollment of less than 18 pupils.

The tabulation was made on the basis of the 1927 report and disclosed the total expenditures of the 100,422 students belonged. Of this money, $7,821,276 went for operation and instruction. Other principal outlays were $720,767 for interest on bonds and $470,526 for payments on bonds.

There were 3495 grade teachers in the schools and 1070 high school teachers, making a total of 4574. The average salary of these teachers was $1400. These figures included salaries paid principals and department heads. A comparison of the valuation back of each pupil in several districts revealed that in one district in Ada county, an investment of $128,000 in property was back of each pupil, whereas in one district in Latah county, only $728 in property value was back of each pupil.

POOR HOMES CAUSE YOUTH'S DOWNFALL

Inmates of State's Industrial School Blame Improper Discipline and Public Dances

BOISE, Dec. 6 (AP)—Improper home discipline and bad influences at public dance halls were given by boys and girls at the Idaho Industrial Training School at St. Anthony as the principal reasons for their misdeeds, in the biennial report of the institution received at the state capital today.

The report contained a number of statements from some of the more than 200 boys and girls in the school. With scarcely a variation the students at the school said their parents gave them too much liberty. Many had lost the influence of parents either through death or divorce.

Companions influence. Others attributed their misdeeds to bad companions and liquor, both of which factors were introduced at public dance halls.

The school has a campus and farm of more than 600 acres upon which farming, brick-making, dairying, and other industries are carried on entirely by the boys and girls of the school. Considerable new building has been carried on during the last two years, the report said, and considerable progress has been made in the development of the dairy herd there.

E. Cox Cook, superintendent of the institution, described the institution as a compact community which runs its own fire department, produces much of its own food and conducts its own schools.

Continue Education. Every student attends school part of the day and has an opportunity to pick up his school work where he left off prior to coming to the institution.

In a tabulation it was shown that stealing is the cause for most of the students' being committed to a workhouse. Many of them come from homes which have been broken up by death or divorce.

Famous Mosque Will Be Turkish Library

CONSTANTINOPLE, Dec. 6 (AP)—One of the most famous mosques in Islam is to be converted into a vast public library by the tradition-defying Kemalists.

The government commission which has been collecting and classifying the buildings and manuscripts reports that no building except the mosque of Sultan Ahmed, the Blue Mosque beloved by tourists and Turks, is fit enough to house Turkey's first public library.

Some of the volumes are 12 centuries old and of enormous value. They have lain for years in obscure little libraries of Istanbul.

Mexicans Forbidden Picnics in Cemetery

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 6 (AP)—The Mexican authorities have forbidden the holding of picnics in Mexico City's largest cemetery.

It is a Mexican custom to take baskets and bundles of food to the graves on the "Day of the Dead," which corresponds with the calendar to All Souls' day. Theoretically the refreshments are taken to the cemetery as an offering to the dead, but they are often eaten and drunk with considerable enjoyment.

Choose His Christmas Ties

for Quality as well as Style and Color

If some of the ladies who buy Christmas Ties for men had to wear them, they'd realize that a tie should have something else to its credit besides good looks. It takes a mighty good constitution to stand the daily pulling and tugging most men give to their ties. If the quality isn't there, style can't take its place.

Our Men's Neckwear is selected for the high quality of the materials as well as for the smart attractive colors and designs.
