SENATE TURNS DOWN $270,000,000 TEAM TO AID PROHIBITION

Final Vote, 38 to 35; Chairman Borah of Foreign Relations Committee, Calls Daily Sessions for Study of Pact

THE CONGRESSIONAL DAY (By The Associated Press.) Paraguy accepted mediation by the Pan-American conference of its dispute with Bolivia. The senate foreign relations committee deferred action on the Kellogg treaty. The house passed a bill to authorize $1,500,000 for Porto Rican burials relief. The army air corps plans trans-continental flight to establish new airplane endurance records. The house irrigation committee asked that the Boulder dam bill be brought before the house tomorrow. The district of Columbia supreme court issued a contempt citation against Harry M. Blackmer, oil witness missing in Mexico. President Coolidge asked congress to appropriate $5,000,000 to care for the 1929 post office normal deficit. By a 38-35 vote the senate approved the treasury appropriation conference report eliminating three amendments to increase to $270,000,000 the prohibition enforcement fund.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17 — The first protracted debate of the session far as the senate was concerned, furnished the entertainment for visitors to the galleries of congress today and its end the treasury-post office department appropriation bill emerged without the $270,000,000 voted into it several days ago for prohibition enforcement.

House and senate conferences agreed that the original $125,000,000 provided for the prohibition enforcement fund stand untouched, and after a number of senators had given their ideas, most of them to the effect that more funds should be available, the vote was upheld. The vote however, was close, 35 members voting for additional funds and 38 for strike the item from the measure.

Principal Business The treasury-post office bill was the principal piece of legislation before congress. The house went through its calendar of unimportant bills, all of which were passed. The irrigation committee, however, instructed Chairman Smith to bring up the Boulder dam bill and ask the senate amendments to be agreed to. If the move should be successful, the measure could be sent immediately to President Coolidge without the necessity of a conference.

SUBMARINE RESCUE SHIP MAKING TESTS

On First Anniversary of Sinking of S-4 Divers Go Down to Try Out New Safeguards

ABOARD U. S. S. CHEWINK, OFF BLOCK ISLAND, Dec. 17 — On the first anniversary of its sinking with a loss of 40 men the submarine S-4 was sent to the bottom of Longsight sound today and a gate howling above them divers went down to her side to test newly developed safeguards against undersea disasters. The submarine was sunk in 55 feet of water. The diver then went below to attach four chains to the four hooks or "dead eyes" which had been placed amidships on each side of the hull. Fontons are to be sunk alongside the submarine and attached to these chains. As the air is expelled from them, they will lift the submarine and prevent it from capsizing. Where the operations of attaching the pontoons previously has required days, it was hoped the new equipment would make it possible to complete the work in a few hours.

Companion Ship On Scene Preparations for the experiment were completed aboard the submarine rescue ship Falcon last night. During the afternoon at exactly 3:37 o'clock the submarine collided with the S-4 and the coast guard destroyer Paulding off Provincetown, Massachusetts, the whole of the rescue was sounder. The crews of that vessel and the submarine tender Chickwick, which was standing by with two other ships, were ordered to the decks of their ships with heads bowed for a minute in a silent memorial for the men who perished in vain. They were bag and baggage taken to the service boats to reach them in their underwater tomb. Commander Dunbar explained that the purpose of the test was to determine the speed with which connections could be made with the lifting hooks and that the raising of the submarine tonight was of prime importance.

Simplicity of design means better PERFORMANCE

"MAKE it better—make it simpler" has always been the keynote of Ford engineering and manufacturing methods. This policy has been carried forward to its highest, fullest expression in the new Ford.

You see evidence of a carefully planned simplicity of design the instant you lift the hood. Its value becomes increasingly apparent when you drive the new Ford.

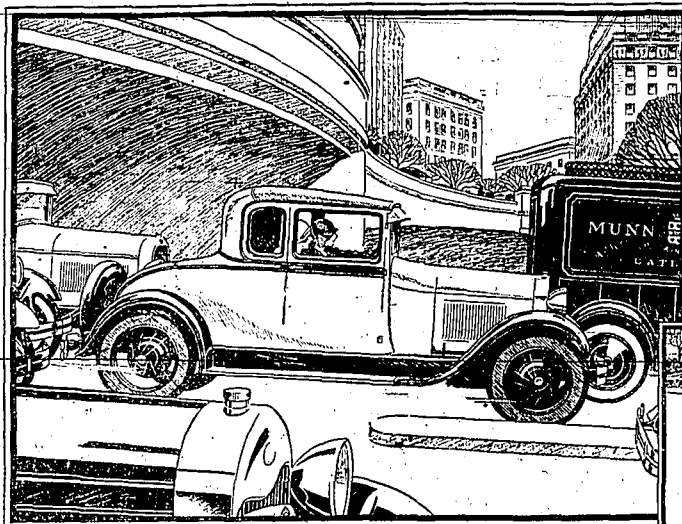

Smoothness, quick acceleration, remarkable hill-climbing ability, speed of 55 to 65 miles an hour—all these are brought to you in the new Ford without sacrificing economy and reliability. The whole tendency is to give you the most performance with the least machinery.

This applies not only to the engine but to every detail of the electrical, ignition, cooling, lubrication and fuel systems. The engine itself is but one part of a motor car.

An example of Ford simplicity of design

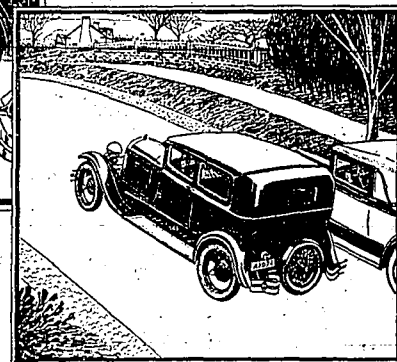

Take the engine lubrication system. It is a combination of pump, splash and gravity feed and is unusually reliable and effective. There is but one movable part—the pump.

From valve chamber down, the entire

The new Ford Coupe is distinguished by the trim sturdiness of its lines and beautiful colors. An unusually good choice for the woman driver because it is so reliable, safe and easy to control. The Triplex shatter-proof glass windshield is an important safety feature.

Everywhere you go, you note the smooth speed, power and acceleration of the new Ford—its alert, capable performance in traffic, on hills and on the open road. It has set a new standard for a low-priced car.

flow of oil is as simple in principle as water running downhill. Ford design and Ford manufacturing methods have made it trouble-free. The only thing for you to do is to see that the oil level never falls below low (L).

Only one high-tension cable in ignition system

This same trouble-saving simplicity of design is shown also in the Ford ignition system, which reflects much that is new in mechanical design.

A particularly unique feature is the elimination of high-tension cables from the distributor to the spark-plugs, these connections being made by means of thin bronze springs. There is but one high-tension cable and this connects the coil on the dash with the distributor.

The distributor head itself is water-proof and has been specially designed to prevent short circuits from rain, snow, etc.

Another exclusive Ford development is shown in the construction of the housing of the steering gear mechanism. This is made of three steel forgings, electrically welded together.

The housing is then electrically welded to the steering column, thus making a one-piece steel unit.

Many other vital parts of the new Ford are also electrically welded, permitting the use of steel forgings instead of stampings or castings and giving greater simplicity and strength than if several parts were riveted or bolted together.

More steel forgings, in fact, are used in the new Ford than in almost any other car, regardless of price.

All six brakes are silent and fully enclosed

Equally important to good performance is the design of the brakes on the new Ford. The six-brake system is unusually safe, reliable and effective because both the four-wheel service brakes and the separate emergency or parking brakes are of the mechanical, internal-expanding type, with all braking surfaces fully enclosed for protection against water, sand, dirt and grease.

For many years this has been recognized as the ideal combination. It is now brought to you on the new Ford because a simple, easy way has been found to accommodate two sets of full internal brakes in a two-in-one brake drum of great strength on the rear wheels.

A further improvement is effected by the self-centering feature of the four-wheel brakes—an exclusive Ford development. Through this construction, the entire surface of the shoe is brought in contact with the drum the instant you press your foot on the brake pedal. This prevents screeching and howling and makes the Ford's brakes unusually silent.

Such simplicity of design is not easy to achieve. Yet it is the first essential of good performance in a low-priced car.

It is made possible only through Ford manufacturing and production methods and the experience gained in making more than fifteen million automobiles.

Back of the new Ford is a larger purpose than the making or selling of a motor car. It is to bring the benefits of modern, economical transportation to all the people and to help every motorist get the greatest possible use from his car over the longest period of time at a minimum of trouble and expense.

That is the reason for the value that has been put into the new Ford. That is the reason for its outstanding performance.

CITY COUNCIL URGES CITIZENS TO REMOVE SNOW ON SIDEWALKS

Failure of Response Will Necessitate Bringing of Department Into Action and Additional Tax On Property

Dealing with the problem of removal of snow from sidewalks that has come in for attention pretty generally here during the past few days, Twin Falls city council in regular session last evening, sent out an urgent appeal to individual citizens, calling upon each one to clear the snow and ice from the walks on his own premises.

The alternative, and should of the council pointed out will involve bringing street department equipment and employees into action, and the cost of snow removal, where it is not done by property owners or tenants, will be assessed against the property.

It was indicated that the police department will also maintain a moral campaign to point out to dilatory citizens the provisions of the ordinance under which charges for this work might be included in their tax bills.

Twin Falls city ordinance dealing with this situation requires removal of snow, ice, and rubbish from sidewalks.

The council referred to the city attorney for an opinion on the application made by a Salt Lake City woman property owner for refund of penalty and interest charges on improvement district assessment against property here which she acquired last year.

Subject to approval by the building inspector, the city authorized issuance of a builder's permit to C. O. Markle for construction of a garage, 18 by 18 feet, at 451 Second avenue west, to cost $275.

Bills that the council ordered paid totaled $2021, and included $2377 paying assessment against city property, of which $855 was for paving about the city park. The final installment of the paving cost is to be paid next year.

Charles Hafke, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of Idaho, spoke to a full house Sunday night at the Methodist Episcopal church in Hensen. He spoke to a large crowd in Eden theatre last night and will speak at the Community church in Hazelton tonight.

On Friday evening he will deliver an address in the high school auditorium in Pater on the subject, "Educate Young People in regard to Prohibition and Elders in Law Enforcement."

IDAHO'S BUTTERFAT PRODUCTION MOUNTS IN COURSE OF YEAR

Increases in All Departments of Industry Except Casein; Manufacture of Ice Cream Leaps to 547,372 Gallons

BOISE, Dec. 17 (Sp.)—Butterfat production in Idaho increased more than a million pounds in the first nine months of this year compared with similar period last year. George L. Tucker, director of the state bureau of dairying, declared today in a statement issued preliminary to his biennial report. Production of butterfat for 1927 was 18,229,286 pounds compared with 19,298,174 pounds for the 1928 period.

Increases in all other departments of the industry, both as to price and output, was shown, except for that of casein, a reduction which was brought about by the closing of one plant which produced this commodity during the early part of 1927.

Butterfat this year sold for an average of 45.7 cents a pound, bringing in $8,600,652, compared with a price of 44.4 cents a pound, or $8,400,000 total receipts. Increase in total revenue was $7,865.90 for this commodity.

In 1928, dairies produced 17,018,912 pounds of creamery butter, compared with 16,468 in 1927; 6,347,402 pounds of cheese compared with 5,722,077 pounds in the nine months period of 1927; 11,663,232 pounds of evaporated milk compared with 8,241,297 pounds in 1927; 469,602 pounds of casein, compared with 478,240 pounds in 1927, the latter a decrease of 12,243 pounds.

A significant factor was the increase in ice cream, the manufacture of which leaped from 404,624 gallons in the first nine months of 1927 to 547,372 gallons during the same period this year.

HAILEY MINING PROSPECTS CAUSE UNUSUAL INTEREST

HAILEY, Dec. 17 (Special to The News)—Because of its location at the foot of the mountain, the location of the report made from radio location work, the ore found in the Jennie R. mine on Rock creek, 10 miles west of Hailey, causes unusual interest. The property was formerly the Montezuma and belongs to W. P. Fowler, Hailey. The ore was found exactly where it was located by C. W. Chilton, radio expert, who surveyed the property last summer.

Rich silver-lead ore in the 72-inch vein is the find at the end of a 310-foot tunnel. Mr. Fowler will dig a shaft on the vein which will take the radio traced 120 feet.

L. E. Outz and R. L. Justus also report good luck this week in a rock-throwing strike in the mine. In Della mountain at Hailey's foot.

TAXATION MATTERS TO GET ATTENTION OF IDAHO'S SOLONS

Several Recommendations to Be Made to Legislature by Governor Baldridge; Relief of Farmer Important Question

(By The Associated Press) BOISE, Dec. 17.—Taxation matters will unquestionably hold the forefront in the coming legislature with a half dozen different projects in this line being reported for presentation.

Probably the question which will be given most weight will be some plan of relieving the weight of a portion of the tax burden now borne. In line with this, a series of "luxury" taxes on automobiles, sumptuous automobiles and other items may be proposed.

An income, or equalization tax, also has the support of several legislators with a view to relieving forms of wealth which the assessor may not reach.

The question of tax exemptions in several fields will also be taken up. Counties in which much power is developed but in which little is used in irrigation pumping have protested tax exemptions on that part of the power companies' installation used in such work.

The inheritance law will be up for amendment. If the wishes of the section of the state auditor are heeded, both pointed to the difficulties of equitably collecting inheritance taxes under the present law.

Eliminate Exemption Elimination of exemptions for payment of the gasoline tax was also recommended in several reports submitted to the governor prior to his beginning work on his message.

Other "important legislation" which probably will get onto the floor includes: 1—A proposal of the grantee to increase the spread in the license tax between the light automobile and the big, luxurious cars.

2—Stricter legislation on the subject of auto and truck lines with special reference to the collection of permit fees. 3—Requirement for drivers' licenses, measure sponsored by citizens of carefree drivers and opposed by farmers who feel such a requirement would work hardship on them.

4—Adoption of a more stringent tax delinquency law, a measure sponsored by state auditor E. G. O'Neil who is constantly pointing to the long list of unpaid taxes on the county books. 5—Abolition of the reclamation bond which, by law, is required to be paid on all proposed reclamation projects.

COUNTY TO FOLLOW NEW AGRICULTURAL PHASES NEXT YEAR

Agents' Yearly Report States Projects Rather Than Single Group to Be Basis of Activities; 1928 Aims Attained

Because most projects on the program of the county agricultural department of Twin Falls have been completed, by Eugene L. Britt, federal program specialist, after investigation, new phases of work will be given consideration next year. It was stated in the annual report of R. E. Brossard, county agent, completed and filed yesterday, for the year ending November 30, 1928.

"These new phases," the report states, "would include a study of the best systems of growing of various projects and study of their relations one with another, instead of pushing one project; determining the size of the farm unit; a study of farm tenancy; pasture problems, and red clover seed problems. These phases will be worked out and a plan along these lines here in 1929."

Aid in Extension Work
Federated clubs, church organizations, and special extension clubs conducted the women's work, while co-operative community projects were organized in the first place by the university extension division, helped by the county agent. Good and Bad Qualities
The attributes of trees of various kinds are not so apparent as they do not appear to be destructive. It does not spread like those of the Carolina poplar and other trees, so as to prevent new ones from being planted. It thrives in the poorest soil and is of very rapid growth. Its wood fruit is the important order of the staminate flowers.
