BOISE, Dec. 22 (AP)—A Christmas greeting to all disabled ex-servicemen and women has been sent out by President Coolidge and a copy of the greeting was wired today to Fullam J. Park, commander of the Idaho department of the United veterans of the Spanish American war.

The greeting, forwarded through Commander in Chief William L. Grayson of the organization, said: "Personally and on behalf of a grateful and sympathetic country, I send you greetings and a message of good cheer upon this return of the holiday season. As we think of the beautiful benefits now enjoyed by our people we cannot and do not forget those who have suffered and do suffer because of injuries and ill health received in the struggle to maintain these benefits secure. The material aids and comforts our government has extended have been freely given and will be cheerfully maintained.

"But at this time I want to open to you the heart of the nation which beats in warm response to your courage and fortitude in bearing your burdens. May peace and happiness be yours now and through the coming year."

within six weeks of March 1, and be reported later to the house for action.

"If the extra session should convene on April 15," Tilson continued, "consideration in the house could be completed before May 15. Meanwhile, the senate could hold its hearings on the bill reported to the house. If immediate consideration could be begun in that body, in this way ample consideration could be given in both houses and the bill could become a law before July 4."

Tilson said that he believed his plan to be "the best" and provided there is a reasonable disposition to waive minor differences and act together promptly for the public good.

TEAM COACHED BY ILLINI ENDS SEASON AT BOTTOM

HOUSTON, Texas (AP)—While Bob Zuppke steered his Illini to their second successive "Big Ten" football championship, the Rice Institute Owls of Houston, coached entirely by Illinois stars of old, sank to the bottom of the Southwest conference.

Lack of material rather than absence of proper tutoring obviously was responsible for the disastrous season during which the Owls lost seven of nine games.

Clayton H. Hough, who served football days at Illinois so long ago his performances have been almost forgotten, directed the plucky destinies of Rice. He was formerly line coach at Texas Arts and Mechanics college, Assisting Football coach at backfield coach at "Big Ten" University, who brooked interference away for "Red" Grause a few years ago. Pennant Shultz, in guard on the 1927 "Big Ten" title-winning Illinois army, worked with the line-men.

CLINTON, Ind. (AP)—Clinton high school won 10 games and lost none, but more remarkable than that this year was Bill Wilson's accomplishments despite a high fever and broken arm.

In the first game, Wilson was taken out, because he was too weak to play longer. His fever was 105. He finished him out of later games.

He appeared at halfback again in the last game, followed the ball on the kick and out on the tackle. He felt the sharp pain but continued. On the next play Bill was knocked unconscious, but remained on the field at the first quarter. He was rushed across with the lone touchdown of the game, and again was out. His arm had been broken on the first play of the contest.

COMMISSIONERS GIVE POOL HALL LICENSE

Petition Opposes Operation of Amusement Parlor in Castle- ford; Proprietor Victorious

Twin Falls county commissioners heard yesterday a variety of arguments in favor of a pool hall for Castleford, and no oral argument against it, and then voted 2 to 1 to issue license to Fred E. Oliver for the Castleford pool hall.

Although there was no verbal protest at the commissioners' hearing, there was on file a written protest signed by A. M. Welch and 23 other Castleford citizens, objecting to issuance of the license on the grounds that the $10 license fee was inadequate to cover expense of sheriff's visit.

Testimony Favorable
During the hearing Emory Dryden, special officer for Castleford precinct, declared that the pool hall under Oliver's management was conducted in a clean and orderly manner; G. P. Thielas told of good conduct of the pool hall patrons; E. W. Kinyon said that Oliver is trustworthy and that his pool hall is of benefit to the community. Mrs. Oliver, wife of the applicant, said that the conduct of patrons was good, and Oliver told of his insistence upon discipline and stated that no complaints had been made by the school board and that there had been no complaints to the sheriff's office of disorder in his place of business.

Hall Not Involved
W. S. Dotson, deputy sheriff, stated that the officers had been called to Castleford to investigate reports of gambling, but that the pool hall was not particularly involved. J. H. Glander, Castleford, stated that he would withdraw his objection if the county commissioners would usually file to granting of the license.

In the vote, J. L. Barnes parted company with the other members of the board of commissioners, and recorded his vote against issuance of the license.

Eastern and Western Elevens Race Through Hard Practice

EAST PLACING HOPE ON AERIAL ATTACK. HOLMER DONS SUIT

Practice Grinds Before Charity Game Smoothing Out Rough Spots For Coast Classic; Two Teams Evenly Matched

(By The Associated Press) SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 22.—Long, hard practice grinds were chalked up today by the Eastern and Western players who will compete for honors here December 29, in the annual East-West charity football game.

Their personae complete, both squads raced through workouts that included signal drill, kicking, a scrimmage on the part of the Eastern delegation and all the other necessary details which can think of.

One of the best bets of the East, Walter Holmer, reached Stanford where his team mates are sojourning until game time. The big Northwest university football back is one of the threats Head Coach Andy Kerr is banking on. Holmer probably will share the burden of attack with Howard Harpster, Carnegie Tech, quarterback.

That coaches Kerr and Dick Hanley are banking on an aerial attack to settle the issue is evident.

Signal Man Not Chosen The Westerners, two days behind their rivals in the matter of practice, functioned more like a football team today. Coach Chris E. Hollingsbery has found himself hard put for a safety man and signal caller. When the complete squad of 22 men lined up it was found that none were experienced in these vital departments. A. L. is, Hollingsbery is breaking in Bob Sims, Stanford halfback, for the safety position, while Dan Allen, former Yale star, and this year with the Olympic club, is being used at calling.

The West has won all three previous contests and the 1928 team is favored to repeat. The season's practice sessions to date have impressed observers that the visiting squad should be rated an even bet, if not stronger than the Westerners.

ENTIRE GEORGIA TECH GRIDIRON-SQUAD-HAILS FROM HOMES IN DIXIE

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—The Georgia Tech Golden Tornado which sweeps into California for the Rose Bowl struggle with the Golden Bears on New Year's Day is a truly representative team of the South.

Twenty of the 39 players on the Tech squad are from the state of Georgia while the remaining 19 represent neighboring states, Tennessee, South Carolina, Florida, Alabama, and Texas.

The heaviest man on the team is Frank Speer, all-American tackle, who weighs 264 pounds. The lightest is "Sherry" Smith, 15-year-quarterback, who weighs 110 pounds. Other notable players are Ken Thrash, tackle, 190; Raleigh Drennan, guard, 187; Porter Pland, 182; and Grum Waintry, 182.

Lumpkin, Parham, and Handolph are the heaviest backfield men in the lot and none will tip the beam at 180 pounds.

CHARLES ERB QUILTS VANDAL GRID STAFF

Idaho University Mentor Submits Resignation to President; No Successor Apparent

MOSCOW, Idaho, Dec. 22 (AP)—Charles Erb, football coach and athletic director of the University of Idaho, today sent his resignation to President F. J. Kelly. In resigning, after three years as mentor of the Vandals, Erb wrote a letter to Dr. Kelly expressing his appreciation of the "unparalleled loyalty and cooperation of my team, the students and faculty, and the university administration." Dr. Kelly, in another letter thanked the coach, who was quarterback of the California "wonder team" in 1923, for his services to the University of Idaho.

The resignation became effective September 1, 1929. It was intimated here that a successor to Erb was being seriously considered as yet.

CRITICISM RESPONSIBLE

Alumni criticism, combined with student dissatisfaction of Erb's two-year showing in football at the University of Idaho, was advanced here tonight in an unofficial circle as an explanation of the resignation. Erb was reported to have denied newspaper items that he intended resigning.

For more than a year, members of the Alumni association said tonight, departmental difficulties, augmented by clashes with university officials, which this spring prompted the officials to recommend that Erb take a "vacation" away from the campus, have caused dissatisfaction among the graduates.

Erb refused a statement on the resignation, but announced that he would leave tomorrow for New Orleans to attend a meeting of athletic coaches.

Erb came to Idaho in 1926, succeeding Robert L. Matthews.

GOLDEN BEAR TEAM TOILS STRENUOUSLY FOR PASADENA GAME

Californians, Muscle Weary, Have Little Respite From Hard Program Planned by Mentor; Charges Reducing

(By The Associated Press) PASADENA, Dec. 22.—California's Golden Bears although muscle weary from the strenuous workout of over two hours yesterday were given little rest today from the grueling conditioning toll planned by Coach (Nils) Price to prepare them for the East-West struggle here New Year's day with Georgia Tech.

The California mentor put his charges on to the grass covered field at tournament park twice today and on each occasion shot them through a lengthy practice. He sent them through a two-hour session this morning earlier than he used to do, and then returned them to the park for another spell of grilling work.

Feeling that his charges have on to too much weight—during their month's absence from the gridiron—Price plans to work them strenuously until next Wednesday, when he will start making a selection of the players he said, were as much as 10 pounds overweight.

Steve Bancroft, star tackle, and Bob Norton, star end, were given their first appearance at the morning workout, completing the squad. Both were held over a day in the North. Only a few privileged newspaper scribbles were permitted to attend the workouts today. They saw Price send his men through passing and kicking practice and dummy scrimmage.

SPORTSMEN PROPOSE REFUGES FOR GAME

Convention Votes Solidly For Series of Conservation Measures; Favors Norbeck-Bill

BOISE, Dec. 22 (AP)—Resolutions favoring establishment of upland bird and duck refuges in every county in Idaho were adopted today by the convention of Southwest Idaho sportsmen's organizations.

Delegates from 10 of the 11 counties in the southwest attended the convention from which all state officers and legislators were excluded. The convention voted solidly for a series of game conservation measures and bitter assaults were opened on the present system of leasing fishing and hunting grounds to private citizens.

Delegates contended that such leasing amounted to private exploitation of game and fish developed at public expense.

Norbeck Bill Favorable Other projects endorsed by resolutions of the convention were: Endorsement of the Norbeck bill to provide federal migratory bird refuges over the county.

Making the federal bag limit on ducks and other migratory birds at 15 birds a day instead of the present 25 birds. Idaho law fixes the limit at 12 birds.

Continuance of Deer Fall reservoir near Nampa as a bird refuge. Establishment of a daily limit of two salmon.

Warns Oil Filter Must Be Serviced

Half a pint of abrasive matter taken from the oil by the oil filter in 10,000 miles driving, emphasizes the necessity of motorists having the oil filter renewed every 10,000 miles.

This amazing discovery was made after repeated tests by research engineers who burned cloth filtering unit taken from an oil filter that had done service for 10,776 miles.

The residue was composed of one-third sand and two-thirds metal oxides, and was of such a highly abrasive nature that it could be used as an effective knife sharpener.

While the abrasives were trapped by the oil filter before doing damage to cylinders, pistons and other internal parts of the engine, engineers warn that after about 10,000 miles the filtering unit usually becomes so filled that the oil filter needs servicing, necessitating installation of a renewal cartridge which will make the filter as good as new again.

The manufacturers' oil changing recommendations are based on the use of an oil filter and that it is being renewed every 10,000 miles, therefore it is important that the filter be serviced after this mileage.

Spiritual Importance of the Holiday

Rev. Martin Zigel, Pastor, Immanuel Lutheran Church

IT IS CHRISTMAS. The festival of the earth's noblest and holiest joy is upon us. We rejoice that in the rounds of the calendar it has come again. Merry Christmas, happy Christmas, blessed Christmas, we bid thee welcome!

And how shall we observe it? By lighting a few candles on our trees? By decorating our windows with some sprigs and garlands of green? Or by spreading holiday cheer with a little extra generosity? Possibly also by laying aside all business cares and troubles, and creating in that way a bit of artificial happiness?—If that be our observance of Christmas, then the blessed Christmas Festival will come and go, and we will not have tasted of that highest blessedness which it means to bring. A purely secular observance is in fact no observance of the Christmas Festival. Christmas being primarily a festival of spiritual import, it is obvious that our observance must be in accordance, if we wish to receive its spiritual and highest blessings.

The Herald-Angel out over the fields of Bethlehem strikes the real keynote of all true Christmas joy, when he announces to the world:

"For unto YOU is born this day in the City of David, A SAVIOUR, A SAVIOUR! A SAVIOUR FOR ALL MEN."

*Come then, ye faithful, triumphantly sing,
 Come see in the manger the angels great King!
 To Bethlehem hasten, with joyful accord;
 O come ye, come hither, to worship the Lord!*

*To Thee, then, O Jesus, this day of thy birth,
 Be glory and honor through heaven and earth.
 True Godhead incarnate, omnipotent Word!
 O come, let us hasten to worship the LORD!*

SIN! That is it of which the world stood so seriously in need. Every conscience stands ready to admit that. Sin had ruined God's handiwork. God loved the world, THAT HE GAVE HIS ONLY BEGOTTEN SON. THAT WHOEVER BELIEVETH IN HIM SHALL NOT PERISH, BUT HAVE EVERLASTING LIFE.

And on that venerable night HE was born, while myriads of Angels in chorals sublime proclaimed the purpose of HIS coming:

"GLORY TO GOD IN THE HIGHEST, PEACE ON EARTH, GOOD WILL TOWARD MEN."

These words embody the priceless treasures which are embodied in the Christchild. Every human being, though sin-laden, can now glorify the Father through Christ Jesus. And God the Father gladly accepts this praise. Every sin-stricken conscience can now shake off its fetters, and enjoy that peace, which passes all understanding; namely, the realization of being acceptable to God the Father through the merits of Christ Jesus. And God again is reconciled with man and harbors nothing but good will toward all men. This is most certainly true of the FAITHFUL.

Here's Wishing You One and ALL One of the Best Old Fashioned Christmas you ever had. We received at least 500 Christmas cards of Greetings and Good cheer and as we cannot answer them all in person, won't you please accept this Newspaper notice of acknowledgment in lieu thereof.

Thanks! We knew you would, now we are going to let you in on a little secret; The reason that we did not acknowledge your card by return mail was because, it would cost a lot of money to do so and besides we wanted to use this money for charity.

Get the Idea? You are helping me send toys to the poor "kiddies" whom Santa Claus might otherwise overlook.

The show for Today and Tomorrow is one that we feel sure you will enjoy.

LODGEMEN DECORATE BIG CHRISTMAS TREE

Fraternity Order Prepares for Annual Party for Children of City; Plan Free "Movie"

Volunteer workers in the Elks lodge room last evening had set up a Christmas tree and were busily engaged in filling hundreds of Christmas stockings for Santa Claus to distribute among Twin Falls girls and boys at the Elks annual Christmas party for the little folks on Christmas day.

The big evergreen that has been set up in the center of the lodge room was so large that the top had to be lopped off a foot or more to make it stand upright in the room. Decoration and illumination of the tree will afford a pleasant task for the lodgemen today.

Providing Stockings Into each of the Christmas stockings there has been put a general handful of candy and nuts with an orange. A stocking has been provided for each and every one of the little guests, and invitation has been sent out to all of Twin Falls children. The only requirement is that they shall be at the lodge room before 1 P. M. when the doors are to be closed.

In cooperation with Joe Koehler, manager of the Idaho theatre, the Elks have arranged an elaborate Christmas celebration for Twin Falls little folks, and Charlie Chaplin, outstanding screen comedian, has personally donated his picture, "The Circus," to be shown at the Christmas show at the Idaho for the children. The show is to begin at 10 A. M. and the children will be the guests of the Elks and the theatre management.

LEGISLATION CANNOT SOLVE PROBLEMS OF AMERICAN FARMERS

Governmental Assistance Will Furnish Measure of Relief, Believes Roger W. Babson, Noted Bay State Statistician

(Special to The News) BABSON PARK, Mass., Dec. 22.—"In the final analysis the farm problem can never be solved through legislation," said Roger W. Babson, prominent Bay State statistician in his regular news interviews. "A measure of relief can no doubt be given by governmental assistance to farm co-operatives, helping them to market the annual crop surplus in an orderly and efficient manner. Fundamentally, however, the farm problem is an economic problem and not a legislative one. High tariff on certain agricultural products might help, but the bulk of them are greatly affected by imports anyway. Thus, a higher farm tariff could bring only limited benefits.

"The core of this whole farm question is over-production. We produce more than this country can consume. Moreover, the export market is always in a precarious position owing to fluctuations in the crops of foreign countries. In some years we can export our surplus at prices profitable to the farmer, but in late years we have not been able to do so.

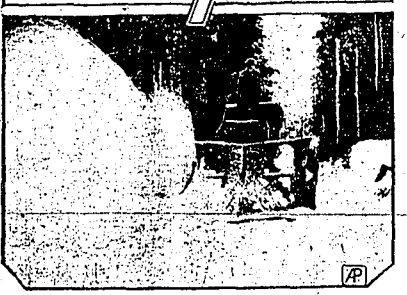

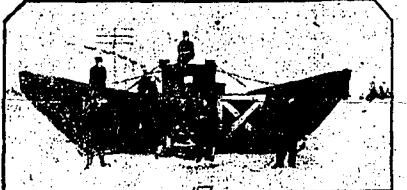

"You cannot regulate the planting of crops by legislation, and since the only way to reduce the supply of farm products is to reduce the acreage planted, legislation does not help here. Also voluntary restriction of acreage has been tried and has failed. The only alternative, therefore, is to find new uses and new markets for these products.

"In its fundamental aspects, therefore, the farm problem is similar to that in the coal industry. Moreover, it now appears likely that the same scientific forces operating to broaden the market for coal and to give 'new life' to the industry for the future should likewise in the long run bring agriculture back onto a profitable economic basis. I refer to the new scientific research that is being done to utilize waste products of the farms and to find new uses for such crops as cotton, corn, and other staple farm products. Chemical and mechanical research have already made great progress in this direction.

"Killing Corn Waste "As a result of years of research in the corn belt the chemical engineers have come to the conclusion that we are wasting annually $1,000,000,000 worth of valuable products in the form of corn cobs and corn stalks. Over 300 possible uses have already been found for these. Already a grade of paper is being manufactured from corn stalks.

"Other products that can be made are rubber, madder, wallboard, substitutes for building lumber, rayon, acetate, acetone, methyl sugar, flavin, maleic acid, electrical and heating insulation, ethyl alcohol, butyl alcohol, furfural, starch, glucose, and other valuable chemicals.

Snowbound States Will Keep Miles of Main Road Cleared

States within the heavy snowfall area are preparing to keep more than 112,000 miles of main highways free from snow this winter at an estimated cost of $5,000,000. Special plows, such as the one (above) used in Marquette county, Michigan, and over the Snoqualmie Pass in Washington (below) are coming into more general use where snows are heavy.

By WILLIAM E. BERCHTOLD (Associated Press Automobile Editor) WASHINGTON.—Thirty-six states within the heavy snowfall area are ready to spend $5,000,000 this winter to keep their highways open to motor traffic.

These states, according to a survey of the bureau of public roads, will keep snow removed from more than 112,000 miles of main highways, making possible the use of all important roads from coast to coast. Although state highway departments in the area hit by the heavy snows estimate a cost of $45 for each mile kept free from snow during the winter months, millions of automobile owners who pay the taxes of these states demand that the money be spent to keep the roads open. It is estimated that benefits to business organizations, which make use of the roads, pass the $25,000,000 mark in value, multiplying the states' investment five times.

Snow removal has been considered an increasingly important part of each state highway department's work during the last five years, the total mileage of roads freed from snow being raised from 27,000 miles in the winter of 1922-23 to 111,615 miles last year.

The last three years have seen a steady improvement in machines and equipment available for snow removal work, with an increasing number of millions of dollars annually being spent on the utilization of the waste product. The crushed and dry cobs are used as a base for concrete, and are also used in the manufacture of building purposes. Five hundred thousand tons of sugar are annually produced as a by-product formerly wasted by the sugar industry.

"The sugar plantation has been started in Florida with a twofold purpose: (1) to produce sugar, and (2) to supply the unstable board people with additional base for their expanding production. "Cotton has benefited tremendously from chemical and mechanical discoveries. In the old days cotton seed was regarded as a waste product, but it is now the basis of a huge industry. In recent years, has developed the use of cotton in the manufacture of cellulose products. We are now making use of cotton extruding from dynamite to artificial silk stockings. This, of course, is rapidly apart from the regular cotton textile business, in which a great many new uses have been developed in the past few years.

"One of the latest uses is in connection with cement road building where a loosely woven cotton fabric is placed between the foundation and the upper covering of the road to make a cleavage so that future repairs to the surface of the road will be less costly. This use of cotton in automobile tires, practically unknown 30 years ago, is today one of the largest sources of fabric consumption.

"Chemists, plant breeders, economists, engineers, and soil scientists are all working toward bettering the markets for our agricultural products and other farm wastes, and farm wastes which can be used in the future will bring forth as a result of these investigations. We may be able to utilize millions of tons of other farm wastes than those mentioned above.

"The bureau of chemistry and soil science is a careful estimator of the national supply of such products. They find 115,000,000 tons annually of cereal straw, 3,000,000 tons of oat hulls, 1,800,000 tons of cotton seed, hulls, 2,200,000 tons of flax straw, and 7,000 tons of pecan hull. There is a grand total of 200,700,000 tons of potentially useful agricultural waste and residue which can be added up to the present time, very little use has been found. Not all of these products may be found valuable.

"By 1911 recently all the scientific improvements in connection with farm work have tended to increase the production per man, and thereby aggravate rather than alleviate the problem of over-production.
