Nation's Chief Executive Tests Marksmanship On Game Preserves of Host On Island; Hunts in English Fashion

(By The Associated Press) SANTEGO ISLAND, Pa., Dec. 27.—On the well-stocked game preserves of Edward E. Coffin, President Coolidge tested his marksmanship today on live birds and found it good. Three Chinese pheasants and two wild turkeys reposed in the presidential game bag when he returned with his party to the island mansion of the Coffins and there was a satisfied smile on his face as he surveyed the result of his sport.

So far as is known these were the first live birds to fall before Mr. Coolidge's gun. Shooting is a sport that caught his fancy while vacationing in Wisconsin last summer when he showed considerable ability at shooting pig pheasants.

Negroes Aid Hunters

The hunting was done "in the English fashion" by the president and Colonel Starling, the only other member of the party to carry a gun, stationed themselves at one side of a broad field in the direction of the field as they went through the surrounding brush, flushing the birds and turning them in the direction of the president as they flew past. Mr. Coolidge and Colonel Starling alternately blazed away at the fast-moving targets while the remainder of the party, standing nearby, consoled or congratulated the hunters on the success or failure of their shots. Starting brought down three pheasants.

Wears Wilder Sombre

The wide sombrero presented to the president during his vacation a year ago, is being worn today. It is a hat which has proved a favorite piece of headgear for Mr. Coolidge as part of his equipment for today's expedition.

Another hunting party is planned for tomorrow morning when Mrs. Coolidge may be a manager. The president and his air corps arrived today with mail from Washington for the president. His cargo was transferred at St. John's island to an amphibian, provided by the Curtis Flying Service which carried it to Sanpele Island.

INFLUENZA EPIDEMIC CONTINUES TO GAIN

Surgeon-General Cumming Reassures Public Against Becoming Alarmed By Disease

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27 (AP)—Surgeon-General Cumming said today he does not view the influenza situation as "serious," and believed there was every indication that the outbreak will spread through the Atlantic states. He added that deaths this year might exceed 16,000.

Deaths in the 1918 epidemic, however, were 500,000 in excess of the normal number for the disease. In 1920 there were 100,000 excess deaths and in 1929 there were between 15,000 and 20,000.

The surgeon general also declared that there was possibility of a second and more severe wave of the epidemic later in the winter. He reassured the public against alarm, however, emphasizing the mildness of types of the disease now prevalent, and the apparent absence of complications.

The surgeon general substituted public health officers during the week-end, and that the United States estimates of the death rate now is low in proportion to the number of cases, he added, and consequently is no reason for public alarm. However, any epidemic of this nature is serious. There is every justification to think that this year's mortality will be greater than that of 1926.

MILLIONAIRES TOTAL 40,000 IN AMERICA

Class' Membership Mounts 33,000 in 14 Years; Banker Declares Prosperity Illusory

CHICAGO, Dec. 27 (AP)—Millionaires in America have increased from 7000 in 1914 to between 30,000 and 40,000 in 1928, Carl Snyder of the Federal Reserve bank today told the American Statistical association in convention today.

"Possibly half or more of these (new millionaires) have been created by the violent debasement in the value of the currency which has taken place since the beginning of the war," he said. "A considerable part of the present number must be due, also, to the retention of the first war security values. Incomparably the greatest gamble the world has ever known."

Gains illusory
The apparent gains of prosperity, or at least of boom, are largely illusory and in so far as they are a reality have been in the past at least too dearly paid for. Clearly, true prosperity, that is, the general diffusion of comfort and well being among the largest possible number of the population, is not dependent upon inflation and boom.

Clearly, we do not need a debasement of the currency or expansion of a frenzied commotion of speculation in stocks to assure this condition of affairs. We have this simply at other times without the attachment of a champagne jag.

W. F. Ogburn of the University of Chicago, on figures based on 1920 survey, offered the following "significant changes in family life in the United States":

One out of every 11 married women is working for pay outside the home.

From 1900 to 1920 the number of restaurant waitresses increased about three times as fast as the number of delicatessen salesmen.

Of the marriages contracted in 1928, professor Ogburn added, in all probability nearly 1 in 5 would end in a divorce.

Other statistics given by Professor Ogburn were:

Dempsey Journeys Across Nation To Confer With Rickard

TRAINER GOES WITH ONE-TIME CHAMPION TO VISIT PROMOTER

West Coast to Be Scene of Manassa Mauler's Preparations For Return to Ring; Former Titleholder Silent On Plans

(By The Associated Press) LOS ANGELES, Dec. 27.—Jack Dempsey, former heavy-weight champion, entrained today for Salt Lake City, en route to Miami, Florida, where he will confer with Tex Rickard, New York promoter, on the question of returning to the ring. Dempsey was accompanied by his trainer, Jerry Lindsay. Dempsey made his departure without any preliminary announcement of his intentions but those close to the former champion revealed that he had to stop over at Salt Lake City for two or three days to visit his mother. He will go to Chicago, Ill., to advise his father. Although Dempsey had nothing to say about his plans in regards to re-entering the ring under Rickard during the fall of 1929 in New York, it was learned from authoritative sources that whether he did or not was up to the New York promoter. Should he decide to fight again, Dempsey will return to the coast to prepare for the bout. It was learned that his plans are to defend two or three months in the hills near Ojai, California, where he trained for his victorious battle with Jack Sharkey, as a means of putting himself in physical trim.

TWIN FALLS TO PLAY TEAMS OF KIMBERLY

Bruin Girls and Boys to Meet Neighboring School's Warriors On Big Concrete Floor

Twin Falls high school basketball teams will journey to Kimberly tonight for a double header. The girls' teams will play first, starting at 7:30 and the boys will follow. This will be the first contest of the season for the Twin Falls girls, who have been practicing for the last month. The Bruin boys played their first contest last week taking the Hoopsters quiet into camp. Several of last year's players are back so that the Kimberly quiet should be strong. This team has not been practicing during the vacation period but resumed sessions last night. This will be the first appearance of the Bruins this year on a large court and twice the size of Twin Falls floor. This will be the last game for both Bruin teams before the regular schedule opens next week.

COACHES TO DISCUSS GRID RULE CHANGES

Stagg Says Fans Appear Satisfied With Present Regulations; Set Tourney Dates

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 27 (AP)—Coaches here for the annual meeting of the National College Athletic Association and the National Association of Football Coaches today forecast changes in grid rules but few were ready to endorse any provisions. While the coaches do not meet until Saturday, there were three rules especially that came in for comment. One of these would make a fumble "interference" and would not be another would provide for the ball to be placed in play at the start of the third quarter at the point it rested when the half ended, and the third.

ALL-STAR TEAMS OF EAST AND FAR WEST SUFFERING INJURIES

Heavy Scrimmage Over, Coaches Tune Up Starting Elevens; California Halfback Out; Marcus and Granucci Hurt

AGE HUDKINS READY TO BATTLE WITH BELGIAN

(By The Associated Press) SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 27.—With heavy scrimmage over, coaches of the all-star teams which will meet here Saturday in the East-West (charity) football game, tuned up their starting elevens today. A week's practice has claimed several victims for the injured list—with the West's biggest loss. When Coach Hollingbery lined up the Westerners today, two acres occupied non-playing roles. Brick Marcus, former California halfback, smashed his left shoulder in scrimmage, while Granucci, Santa Clara center, was hurt in an automobile accident. Granucci's elbow was cut and bruised but he may yet get into the game. Marcus is definitely out. Either Lewis Stanford, all-around back field man, or Elmas, St. Mary's quarterback, will replace Marcus. The Bruin boys played their first contest last week taking the Hoopsters quiet into camp. Kimberly, their next opponents, had one of the best teams in the class B division last year and was defeated by Carey alone for the title of the B class. Several of last year's players are back so that the Kimberly quiet should be strong. This team has not been practicing during the vacation period but resumed sessions last night. This will be the first appearance of the Bruins this year on a large court and twice the size of Twin Falls floor. This will be the last game for both Bruin teams before the regular schedule opens next week.

Two radio hookups will be used to describe the game both on the Pacific coast, and nationally. The Hearst radio service will use the Columbia system for a national broadcast and the American Broadcasting company's facilities on the coast. The station KPO also will broadcast the game on the coast.

would revise the ruling on the point after touchdown, some advocating its discontinuance. Coach Alfonso Stagg, University of Chicago, a member of the rules committee, was among the first to get in his comment on proposed changes. "The fans seem to be satisfied with them now," was his terse comment.

The first session of the National Collegiate Athletic association was held late today behind closed doors when the executive committee awarded the sixth annual swimming championship tournament to Washington University, St. Louis, for March 29 and 30, and the national collegiate track and field meet to Chicago for June 7 and 8.

FACE HUDKINS READY TO BATTLE WITH BELGIAN

NEW YORK, Dec. 27 (AP)—Ace Hudkins, "Nebraska Wildcat," and Rene Devos, "Little Fox" of Belgium, seemed up for a fight for tomorrow's middleweight fray at Madison Square Garden in characteristic fashion today. The Fox took to the road for a long lunge that left him pink and perspiring at exactly 160 pounds, the class limit. The Cat whetted his claws with a few light lungeing exercises and called it a day after tipping the beam at 154. Devos appeared to be a slight favorite because of his canny ring judgment and boxing ability as well as his weight advantage of about six pounds but there were many ready to strangle along with the yellow-haired Cat from the corn country. In sheer courage the two are perfectly matched.

Kansas City. The Indianans and Jayhawkers, whose prowess on the court in past seasons outshines their ability thus far as a winter, are picked by fans as evenly matched for the two games.

CLAWS OF WESTERNERS, FIRST IN FIELD IN EARLY MORNING, LASH ROSE BOWL FOR THREE HOURS; TORNADO OPERATING SMOOTHLY

(By The Associated Press) PASADENA, Dec. 27.—California's Golden Bears and the equally redoubtable Yellow Jackets of Georgia Tech, alternating in the use of the grass-covered, arroyo seco gridiron, dug their claws into the turf of the Rose Bowl here today for intensive workouts that indicated both aggregations had begun bearing down in their preparations for the East-West clash New Year's day. The Bears in Field First. The claws of the Bears, first on the field in the morning, lashed the Rose Bowl turf for nearly three hours. Scarcely had the thunder of their tramping subsided, before Tech's Golden Tornado, after sweeping through the motion picture district on a sightseeing tour, hove into sight at the entrance of the bowl for a drill even more brisk than the one they went through yesterday.

Faces Hard Problem. After the morning's practice, Coach Clarence Price said that the hardest problem the Bears faced was that of working up to fighting pitch. "These post-season games are different from the third-season fray where the boys are pointing in an old rival, the diminutive member said. The Tornado, under Coach Bill

Jack Holt Appears in Zane Grey Film

"Zane Grey's latest literary work 'Avalanche,' was acquired by Paramount to serve as a vehicle to feature that western favorite, Jack Holt.

"Avalanche," which opens at the Idaho theatre this afternoon for two days is a story of adventure in the new West and shows Holt in another virile role.

J. Walter Ruben prepared the adaptation and screen play of 'Avalanche.' Ruben has developed much of his time to this type of picture.

He has collaborated or written the screen plays for 'The Last Outlaw,' 'Open Range,' 'Smokey Irons,' 'Under the Tonto Rim' and 'The Vanishing Pioneer.'

In addition to his regular sectional meeting, the placement officers of the higher educational institutions of Idaho broke together at the Banrock hotel Friday morning.

There is no oil in Twin Falls county but there may be gas, was the opinion expressed yesterday by W. G. Stetzel, hydraulic engineer, who has made a study of formations here and in various other parts of the state and is familiar with the work of geologists.

Mr. Steward said that the opinion is widespread that there is no oil underneath Idaho, except possibly in the neighborhood of Ririe. The reason for this is that there is no indication except in the Ririe section that any part of Idaho has ever been under the ocean, while Wyoming has been.

NO OIL IN TWIN FALLS COUNTY, SAYS ENGINEER

There is no oil in Twin Falls county but there may be gas, was the opinion expressed yesterday by W. G. Stetzel, hydraulic engineer, who has made a study of formations here and in various other parts of the state and is familiar with the work of geologists.

Mr. Steward said that the opinion is widespread that there is no oil underneath Idaho, except possibly in the neighborhood of Ririe. The reason for this is that there is no indication except in the Ririe section that any part of Idaho has ever been under the ocean, while Wyoming has been.

Keep your system in good condition; also protect your nose and throat.

There's no need to get panicky, because the papers are full of news of an influenza epidemic. There's no use in isolating yourself because a lot of other people are sick with it.

Dr. David says: You can't help breathing air that's laden with germs and other bacteria these days. But you can protect your nose and throat against them.

Physicians agree that, particularly in times of epidemic, purging by laxatives and cathartics is not advisable. Many doctors are therefore prescribing Nisul, as in no case does it cause exhaustion or weakening of the system in any way.

Nisul can't possibly upset you or disagree with you. For it contains absolutely no medicine or drugs.

MORE CARE IN USE OF WATER NEEDED BELIEVES ENGINEER

W. G. Steward to Discuss Systematic Handling of Irrigation Flow at Meetings of Canal Company Stockholders

Meetings in which all stockholders in the Twin Falls Canal company and other interested persons are invited will be held in different parts of the county before the annual stockholders meeting on January 8, 1929, at 10 o'clock at the city hall in Buhl. It was announced yesterday following a conference at the canal office between the canal board, the canal company committee on resolutions, and representatives of the 30 Grangers in Twin Falls county. W. G. Steward, hydraulic engineer, will speak on the necessity of a more systematic handling of the water supply of the irrigation.

Meetings will be held during the next two weeks as follows: Castletford, December 31; Hansen or Excelesior, January 1; Filer, January 2; Kimberly, January 3; Murteugh, January 5; Twin Falls, January 7. The meetings will begin at 7:30 P. M.

Makes Water Survey

Mr. Steward, who made the survey of the water table in the Boise basin and who later was engaged in taking water measurements on upper Snake river, was engaged by the Twin Falls Canal company to make measurements on the project here. He is connected with the United States reclamation service and has been an expert witness in a number of lawsuits involving water rights and duty.

The water situation here is portrayed on a number of charts which he has drawn with a view of illustrating the best use of the supply and, also, with a view of instructing the company how to avoid abuses.

The abuses seem to be the use of undue amounts by some owners during part of the summer season; the running of more water than is absolutely required for domestic purposes, including the watering of stock during the winter season, and allowing water to run on land and into sink holes in large quantities. The last was said to be the most inexcusable, as it carries away valuable fertilizers from the soil of a sort that Eastern farmers pay large prices to secure, and thus impoverishes the land.

Closes Sink Holes

It is stated that since the canal opened all sink holes when found, those on whose land they are found can get rid of them by simply reporting their presence. It was said that in some cases they are allowed to remain open without the knowledge of the company, to act as a spillway for surplus water.

The water, which thus runs into the ground, not only carries away valuable fertilizing qualities, but raises the water table to a point which requires drainage in order to avert damage to the soil. Mr. Steward said that the proper handling of water would, in his opinion, eliminate the drainage problem.

The amount of water which is delivered for the project during the winter months is something more than half the amount delivered during the summer. Actual winter use is for domestic and stock purposes. The loss from the canals proper is comparatively small and the loss in city areas negligible, it was stated.

Water Control Sued

By products from the excessive use of water are several, Mr. Steward declared. Where too much water is used from the highline canal silt is carried into the lowline canal with the result that there is extra work and cost involved in keeping it clean.

The question of making an extra charge for winter use was raised. Judge James H. Bothwell, attorney for the canal company, said that in his opinion, this would be in violation of the articles of incorporation. Under the present articles, provision would have to be made for a reasonable supply for domestic use and unless this should be done and an effort to cut off water should be made, the company might be liable in an action for damages.

It was unanimously agreed that the talk of Mr. Steward was so valuable that he should make it in every town on the project, bringing home the facts shown on the charts. F. E. Atkins, Buhl, president of the Pomona Grange, and N. A. Sharp, Filer, president of the canal board, were authorized to make arrangements for the meetings.

Some thing to think about. The hog industry is worth millions to this locality. Do you want to kill it by making hogs worthless? The Farmers Store have not changed their buying or selling prices since they started to handle fresh meat in chunks. They pay the rent. Phone 825-W. adv.

IDAHO LEGISLATURE TO DISCUSS ROADS

Project For Construction of Boise-Stanley-Twin Falls Highway May Be Introduced

The coming session of Idaho's state legislature, is likely to witness the launching of a road building project providing for construction of a highway from Boise to Stanley and Twin Falls. Shad L. Hodgins, attorney, told members of the Kiwanis club at a luncheon meeting yesterday. Mr. Hodgins, a citizen of Idaho for many years, reviewed the story of Boise county, through which the proposed scenic road would be routed; Boise county, Mr. Hodgins said, was in the early days of this region, the most wealthy and populous of Idaho territory's four counties. Decline of the mining industry and diminution of forest resources, through which the adjoining counties is being considered seriously.

Miss Charlotte Vogel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Vogel and second year student of the Chicago College of Music, favored the Kiwanians with three piano numbers.

PLAINTIFF WINS SUIT IN ACTION TO COLLECT NOTE

Walter E. Flake, one time salesman for the now defunct Fox-Curt Silver Fox corporation, must pay to J. E. DeWitt, Twin Falls, $200 and interest on account of stock in the corporation which he purchased from DeWitt. According to judgment rendered by Judge C. A. Bailey in probate court here yesterday, the judgment of the court was announced immediately at the close of trial in the suit instituted by DeWitt to enforce collection of a $200 promissory note executed by Flake.

In Flake's behalf it was argued that Flake had received no consideration for his note. Evidence showed that he had previously paid some $200 on account of the stock he purchased from DeWitt, and that DeWitt had paid for the stock with other promissory notes that had been accepted by the company's representatives. The court held that although the stock had not been transferred to DeWitt, he was the owner, and entitled to receive it.

J. W. Porter of Porter and Taylor, attorneys for Flake, indicated that appeal would be taken to the district court.

Students and Parents To Gather at Banquet

Students who are attending the University of Idaho and their parents, as well as businessmen, are invited to attend the dinner meeting to be given at the Park hotel next Wednesday evening.
