RODED PERFORMANCE

Youthful Descendants of African Slaves Entertain Chief Executive and First Lady

SAPELO ISLAND, Brunswick, Ga., Dec. 28 (AP)—The youthful descendants of African slaves brought to America in the early days of the slave trade rounded up a number of semi-wild cattle on the broad smooth beach of Sapelo Island today and staged a rodeo for President and Mrs. Coolidge and their hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Howard E. Coffin.

Contrasting sharply with the colorful riders in the spectacular rodeo of the president in the Black Hills of South Dakota two years ago, the excited negro rodeo bareback and dip rodeo and the wild slides of their frightened mounts as the steers dashed about the hard packed sand of the beach.

As the point down the beach was fired as a goal and the rider which first reached the mark staid astride his mount was declared the winner.

Rivalry among the riders was intense. A number of negro girls lined up on the beach and vied with each other in singing the spirituals of their race and gospel hymns. A parade was another feature of the program.

First hand experience with the primitive transportation of the natives, the return trip to the Coffin home when the party met a tiny bullock cart. The cart was pulled by a man who climbed into the cart and was taken on a short jolting ride, while Colonel Starling brought up the rear.

The president and Mrs. Coffin rode in the ox cart and their discussion of the feasibility of putting a tax on hay eaten by the beasts of burden was recorded for the talking motion pictures.

Among the greatest wild strand services at historical old Christ church at Frederica, on St. Simon's Island.

Many English Words Originate in Arabic

NEW YORK, Dec. 29 (AP)—The Arabs have given the English-speaking peoples more words to express their thoughts than any other of the Semitic, Asiatic or African groups.

"When in summer you wear your 'mohair' or 'cotton' suit, avoid 'alcohol,' enjoy 'sherbet' with 'candy' and 'coffee' with 'sugar' or lie on a 'sofa' or 'matress' reading a 'magazine,' you are drawing on this vocabulary," Professor Philip K. Hitti of Princeton, today told the Linguistic Society at dinner.

"In a complete English lexicon, Arabic would figure in no less than 186 entries under the letter A alone."

Many of these words have come into English indirectly through the Romance languages, he said, but Arabic has served as a medium for transmitting a number of words of Greek, Latin, Persian, Sanskrit, Egyptian, Turkish, Celtic or Hindustani origin, such as asphalt, azure, bazaar, captious and ebony.

Thinning Sugar Beets Stops Inroads of Rot

NEW YORK, Dec. 29 (AP)—A method of assuring better stands of sugar beets was advanced today by S. B. Nuckols and Dr. C. M. Thompson of the department of agriculture.

The disease which causes rotting of the seedlings at the ground level, one of the principal limiting factors in beet cultivation, can be controlled, they told the American Phytopathological society, by thinning out the plants at the six-leaf stage.

By that time, they said, nature has done away with the most severely affected plants, and the less infected ones can be easily recognized and culminated, giving the healthy ones a better chance to develop.

There is no sure way in which to determine the age of a hand held for the. These rings are counted the same as those of a tree.

KING GEORGE'S CONDITION INDICATES IMPROVEMENT

LONDON, Dec. 29 (AP)—Favorable reports of the condition of King George were issued today and confirmed by tonight's medical bulletin. The latter announced that the monarch has passed a restful day and it indicated that he had continued the tediously slow rate of improvement. Its text was: "The King has had a quiet day. The slow improvement noted this morning continues. No bulletin will be issued until tomorrow evening."

The transference this given to the faithful public was strengthened by the absence from the palace tonight of the Prince of Wales and Princess Mary. The heir to the throne exhibited his optimistic attitude by following the hounds at Melton Monday.

The flurry which arose today over the question of a possible blood transfusion appears to be without any real connection with the treatment of the King, but it caused much inconvenience at the palace by the overwhelming number of volunteers offering their blood and with hundreds of inquiries.

COD TAKES BACKGROUND AS HADDOCK USE GROWS

PORTLAND, Maine, Dec. 29 (AP)—The consumption of haddock is increasing at an astounding rate, according to figures of the bureau of fisheries here, which put cod, "King of Fish," completely in the background.

The total catch of haddock in North American waters in 1928 was 26,100,000 pounds. The figures for 1927 were 10,500,000 pounds. For nine months of this year 11,900,000 pounds of haddock were landed at Portland, Boston and Gloucester. The landings at New York and Groton, which were considerable, were not included.

The factors contributing to the great increase in the catch and consumption of haddock are beam trawlers and fish lifting. The idea developed largely in Boston after the world war that many of the trawlers could be utilized in catching haddock for the comparatively new industry of shipping the solid white meat in filets all over the United States.

In addition to the large deep-sea trawlers, a fleet of at least 50-wooden trawlers from 30 to 100 feet long, propelled by crude oil engines, are operating daily off the New England coast.

GOVERNOR ALFRED SMITH COMMUTES 22 SENTENCES

ALBANY, N. Y., Dec. 29 (AP)—Governor Smith tonight announced the commutation of sentences imposed on seven prisoners, one of whom was convicted of murder, first degree, and three of murder, second degree. These commutations added to those issued yesterday and earlier today, brought the total in two days to 22.

Among commutations issued today was one to Michael J. Enright, brother of former Police Commissioner Enright of New York City. Enright was convicted in Steuben county of manslaughter, first degree, and sentenced March 2, this year, to 7 years minimum, 14 year maximum. He killed Timothy Shea during a brawl at Black Pond, December 8, 1925, in which several men took part. Shea's body was found outside the house and a bloody axe was found in Enright's house. Enright said he knew nothing about the crime.

He now is ordered released subject to the jurisdiction of the board of parole upon the voluntary recommendation of the trial judge and the prosecuting district attorney.

Photographer Wins In Sprint for Goal

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 29 (AP)—There is no such a thing as a day of ease for photographers grabbing bits of action about the football field. Yet with all of their gymnastic stunts to get choice "shots" it is seldom that they outrun the ball carriers.

Here is the case of one who did. The story is told by Pittsburgh players—and is seconded by Coach Jack Sutherland.

"This crafty cameraman was set to snap a Pitt back as he received the ball on the kick off, but the ball carrier broke clear for a 'touchdown' after a hair-raising run nearly the length of the field he found the panting photographer calmly snapping his picture as he crossed the goal line.

The cameraman, it seems, had his sprint training 'while-a' youth in Wales and had raced against some famous sprinters in his day.

Eastern, All-Star Eleven Smothers West By 20-0

50,000 SPECTATORS SEE GRID CLASSIC; COMPETITION KEEN

Visitors From Sunrise Side of Rockies Crash Over in First Minutes of Play; Brilliant Visiting Backfield Features

(By The Associated Press) REZAR STADIUM, SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 29—Eastern football regained part of the prestige lost in early season skirmishes when a great all-star eleven smothered its Western rival, 20-0, today in the annual East-West charity game.

More than 50,000 persons assembled in this municipal bowl for the benefit contest for the Shriners Crippled Children's hospital, saw the Eastern stalwarts out-plunge, out-manuever and out-pass the Western warriors throughout four periods of bitter battle. The first victory in the history of the first few minutes of play thereafter the visitors from the sunrise side of the Rockies had things their own way.

West Breaks Under Shock While the Westerners were still reeling under the shock of the first offensive, their rivals, functioning like a well-oiled machine rushed over another touchdown in the second period; beat them back in the third quarter and finished in the last frame with a spurt that counted another touchdown.

A brilliant backfield combination, featuring Holmer, Northwestern; Harvick, Carnegie Tech; Howell, Nebraska, and Weston, Boston, ram-drammed it with an aerial attack, crashing it on the ground. Twelve first downs followed the efforts of the visitors while the West was able to check up only once.

The Western offense was so lacking that only on three occasions were the Eastern players called in their own territory. During the game, the West got no nearer to Holmer's goal line than the 40-yard mark.

While the entire Eastern squad showed to advantage, Holmer, Harvick and Bennett were outstanding. The first two shared the passing and kicking duties and were superior to Hoffman, Stanford, and the Olympic club, who handled the work for the West. Bennett, a wriggling, twisting, halfback, made several conversions, ran all around the Western players while he was in the game.

West Beaten From the Start, Nevertheless Produced an outstanding performance in the Frankish, Bill, Mary's, end. His defensive work was one of the features of the game. Carlisle Vickers, ranger center of the Colorado Aggies, also turned in a good game for the West.

The lineup and summary:

Position	West	East
Quarterback	Franklin	Harvick
Halfback	St. Mary's	Harvick
Fullback	Tobin	Harvick
End	St. Mary's	Harvick
Guard	St. Mary's	Harvick
Center	St. Mary's	Harvick
Back	St. Mary's	Harvick
Linebacker	St. Mary's	Harvick
Defensive back	St. Mary's	Harvick
Offensive back	St. Mary's	Harvick
Kicker	St. Mary's	Harvick

Summary: East scoring touchdowns—Holmer, Howell 2; point from try kick; touchdowns, Nowack 2; place kicks.

FIVE MEN FOR ONE BOSTON.—Boston fans credit Bill Cartigan, Red Sox manager, with having put over a smart one in getting the Washington players to play for the Aggies and Boston. The young infielders obtained in the deal will be started at short, and third, respectively.

NOMAD FIVE LOSES MIX WITH COUGARS

Brigham Young Hoopsters Defeat North Dakota, 31 to 30; Utahns Win Tourney Honors

PROVO, Dec. 29—The North Dakota Nomads fell before the Brigham Young university basketball squad again, here tonight, losing a hard fought game, 31 to 30.

Early in the game, the Cougars took the lead, 11 to 8, but the Dakotans soon evened matters and the game throughout was close. Exceptional guarding featured the play of both teams, making the basket shooting difficult in spite of fast passing and clean floor work.

THOMAS BOYS HELP SCHOOLS TO WIDE FAME IN FOOTBALL

Every John, Max, Lloyd and Harry of the Thomas tribe has basked in the gridiron limelight. And they knee their football. Fans at Chicago and Southern California vouch for it.

By VICTOR G. SIDLER (Associated Press Sports Writer) LOS ANGELES, Dec. 29—Lloyd Thomas, starting halfback of Southern California football, who rode the pigskin to fame in 1928, the trail already traveled by his three brothers. The Trojan back, youngest of a quartet of footballers in the Thomas family, distinguished himself in a way that was strangely reminiscent of the work of the other three brothers, all of whom have seen competition during the last eight years.

All of the Thomas boys have taken to the gridiron as a duck takes to the water. The oldest brother, John, followed for Chicago in 1921, 1922, and 1923. He was the sensation of the Maroon squad in 22, romping through Princeton for three touchdowns and making the late Walter Camp's all-American team that year.

Chicago also was blessed with Harry, the second brother, who played through the seasons of '22, '23 and '24 and was rated by football followers as the equal, if not better, than

SICKNESS DESCENDS ON GEORGIAN RANKS

Golden Tornado's Spirit Not Dulled By Misfortune; Californians Highly Optimistic

PASADENA, Dec. 29—Sickness, hitting the Golden Tornado of Georgia Tech tonight, a number of players among its individual "winds," but to all appearances has not dulled the spirit of the whirling dervish that rears through the South's gridiron ranks.

The Tornado swirled about a practice game today, appearing as powerful as ever, and indicating that the Southerners who will carry the gridiron to Chicago in the New Year's day against the University of California were in fighting spirit.

Highly optimistic is the atmosphere that prevails in the lair of the Golden Bear of California. Although presently was evident in the early portion of this morning, the confidence of the Bears does not carry them far from the coast.

Arousing excitement unprecedented in Rose bowl history, the game in all probability will be played to a capacity crowd of 70,000 it was indicated today.

FOOTBALL COACHES APPROVE STANDING GRID REGULATIONS

Hugo Bezdek, New President of Mentors' Association; Rule Affecting Fumbles Only One to Be Revised at Meeting

(By The Associated Press) NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 29—Football coaches of the nation apparently are satisfied to leave the gridiron rules very much as they stand for a few years at least. This was made clear at the annual convention of the American Association of Football Coaches when they had only one recommendation for a change to make to the national rules committee.

It was the unanimous sentiment of the association that the rule affecting fumbles should be revised, making such a misplay "dead" at the point of recovery when they had only one recommendation for a change to make to the national rules committee.

It was the unanimous sentiment of the association that the rule affecting fumbles should be revised, making such a misplay "dead" at the point of recovery when they had only one recommendation for a change to make to the national rules committee.

Rockie Favore Change Coach Knute Rockne, Notre Dame, and Dr. Clarence Spahr, Minnesota, both spoke in favor of the revision.

Coach William Roper, Princeton, president of the association, in his address had a word of criticism of any coaches or athletes who endorsed through advertisement any rule change which would have nullified the progress made by the profession.

The next meeting will be held in New York the Friday or Saturday following Christmas. The National Collegiate Athletic association will be in session there the same time.

Describes Stanford Plays At the afternoon session today Coach Glenn Warner, Stanford, described the two win-back formations used by his team, illustrating his points on the blackboard.

He described the "Pedagogy of Football." He traced the ways in which a coach might teach football, stressing especially the aiding of the quarterback. He said that the field generalship the coach should give him much latitude, allowing him to learn by experience what plays fit certain circumstances best.

Georgians' Mentor Claims Good Record

ATLANTA, Ga., Dec. 29—Bill Williams, coach of the Georgia team who escorts his team into Rose Bowl at Pasadena New Year's day to meet the Golden Bears, can point to a creditable record as a football mentor.

In nine years—since he has had charge of the golden-shirled army in 1919—his winning percentage has averaged .784, or 58 victories in 74 games, and seven ties against all opposition, and 377 against Southern teams, of 59 victories in 67 games.

The team that put a crimp in Alexander's record has been Knute Rockne's Ramblers. Notre Dame has won six out of seven Rose Bowl games, and required exactly seven years for the Yellow Jackets to record their first triumph over eleven.

In his nine-year reign, however, Alexander was his team best Penn State twice, repulse Georgetown university four times, and Tech and Rutgers, 48 to 14, when they had a representative eleven, and in 1920 scored.

Navy's Coach Gives Views on Grid Rules

PADUCAH, Ky., Dec. 29—"Mary Bill" Ingram, head coach of the United States Navy, gave his views on the proposed changes in the football rules.

Ingram advocated the return of the goal posts to the playing field, however. Ingram opposed the proposed rule whereby a fumble could be scored on the point of recovery, saying that if a player were alert enough to recover rival's mistakes he should be permitted to take full advantage of it.

LONG BEACH, Dec. 29—George von Elm, Detroit amateur, today held his lead in the first of two golfers at the end of the second round of the $2000 Long Beach open, by scoring a par breaking 71, which coupled with his sensational 62 of yesterday, gave him a low total of 133.

At the half way mark of the tournament, however, Von Elm held a one stroke lead over Walter Egan, British open champion.

Financial Expert Believes Prospects for 1929 Bright

OUTLOOK INDICATES NATION'S BUSINESS ESSENTIALLY SOUND

Political Situation Encouraging to Good Business, Says Bay State Statistician; South and West Expect Prosperity

(Special to The News)

BABSON PARK, Mass., Dec. 29—In a special interview with Roger W. Babson he says the country is undoubtedly in a right, that the political situation is encouraging to good business which should continue at favorable levels, but that 1929 will be no time for indiscriminate buying of securities. There should, however, be opportunities for carefully selected purchases. His complete statement follows:

"Well, we have had a 'Hoover election' and a 'Hoover stock boom' and a wild market crash. That ought to be enough for any excitable American in a few months' time. That the business outlook is good is pretty generally agreed, but that the outlook is as satisfactory as the November stock boom suggested is ridiculous to assert.

Anticipates Prosperity

"It is an axiom, that a fair degree of prosperity under the old administration will be more easily followed by continued prosperity if the political complexion of the governing body is unchanged. The 'Hoover' regime has been on the whole successful, and I believe Mr. Hoover will bring forward a more effective line and build solidly on the foundation of his predecessor. We will place in the White House next March an engineer and not a politician. We will bring to the administration of the nation's business for the next four years the scientific knowledge of one of the best administrative experts in the world. Every section of the country will receive equal consideration and all groups fair treatment.

"I am convinced that Herbert Hoover will make a strenuous effort to help agriculture in 1929. He has a brilliant mind and is a very hard worker. He will take his job seriously—especially so, knowing that he is coming into office during the flood-tide of prosperity—and cannot depend upon the law of action and reaction to make him a great president. He must make a place for himself in history even against this great law. But he knows all this and forewarned should be forewarned. Another thing; he knows that the farmers of the country will not forever trust the promises of the Republican politicians.

Congress Lends Support

"It has always been said that a party platform is much like a street car platform, of use only to get in on! Whether or not this has been the case in the past, Herbert Hoover will not consider it. His program will make a serious and sane effort to make 1929 a year of real prosperity. Moreover, with the good party majorities which he will have in both the house and the senate, he will have support for his plans and appropriations.

"I am especially optimistic for the West and the South during 1929. Other Republican administrations have not worried much about the South because of its 100 per cent Democratic leanings

—but owing to what the South has done for Mr. Hoover he would be both ungrateful and very unwise not to make a very great effort to give the Southland some real prosperity.

Prices Should Strengthen

"As I have stated, the present condition of the country, except for an inflated stock market, is fundamentally healthy. It is generally expected that the first half of 1929 will reflect business which will compare favorably with the first half of 1928. This generally good business argues for a temporary move upward in general commodity prices during the early months of 1929. This move generally should bring prices down to 1928 levels. I look for no marked inflation—only a short upswing.

"The main reliance on the part of manufacturers and merchants to order goods last fall because of presidential fears. The probabilities are now, that after this buying has spent its force, we will get back to about the same prices as last fall throughout the year.

Distribution More Even

"Sales territories in 1929 should have a more even distribution of prosperity than heretofore. Optimism in the important farming sections of the country has led to better conditions improve upon the fulfillment of Mr. Hoover's pre-election promises. Certain industrial sections of support by the new administration as business continues active. Specific lines of activity will be assured by support by the new administration and should offer good sales possibilities. That is, some industries will benefit especially and will be looked upon with particular favor by the Republican party. I advise merchandisers to keep in touch with Washington policies and shape their companies with an eye to the trends which prevail from that quarter.

"Good business rests primarily on the fact that our millions of workers are well employed, although workers are constantly being released from unemployment machines and efficiency projects. I do not, however, fear for the employment situation in 1929. There is a reason to add to the actual in 1929 aggregate payrolls will reach a somewhat higher level than at the present rate. I do not believe that wages per worker are due for much increase and there may be some sagging in rates during the year, although severe readjustments are not likely to occur.

Hoover Plans Reserve

"The announcement of President-elect Hoover's tentative plan for a three billion dollar unemployment-relief fund will act as a definite buffer against time of over-production and surplus labor has stirred up considerable interest. The proposal was first brought up at the conference of governors which was held in New Orleans while the American Federation of Labor convention was in session. It embodies principles for which the Federation has been fighting for years and consequently the plan was received by the delegates with enthusiasm.

"It is one thing, of course, to endorse general plan such as is embodied by this unemployment reserve. It is an entirely different proposition to carry the project out in a party platform and scientific manner. I do not believe, however, that Mr. Hoover permitted the public announcement of the proposition unless he has determined to carry it definitely to promote industrial stability and relieve unemployment by accumulating a reserve fund for the purpose.

Automobile Outlook

"The first part of 1929 should see the automobile industry speeding along in high gear. The leaders in 1929 will not necessarily be the leaders in 1928. Ford is coming in for a hot run of business, which means to a certain extent he must take it away from other companies. With Chevrolet climbing a peg to the six-cylinder class, Ford has virtual control over the whole four-cylinder field. The problems of the industry, however, will be greatly magnified next year. Competition has been stepped up now to include the small six-cylinder lines, of which there are many. A serious price war is in the making and will involve a larger group of manufacturers than at any time in the past.

"The early prospects, I say, for the motor industry are bright. The used car market is not clogged and export trade should continue in good volume. Still, as 1929 advances, the supply of used cars may become quite burdensome. As I see it, a still larger proportion of sales will be concentrated in the hands of bigger units. This trend may force more mergers or squeeze out some of the independents. Sooner or later, profit margins, except for the favored few, must dwindle. Too many have concluded that a company is in a good position because the industry as a whole is going ahead. Perhaps only a few automobile companies out of the total will make good profits in 1929.

Building Outlook

"What about the building industry, which in the last few years has played such a vital part in our economic life? I believe this industry should continue at fairly high levels through the first part of 1929. However, many sections are facing an overbuilt situation which will act as a definite check upon extensive speculative building. New building started in the spring of 1929 is expected to show a decline, with some slowing up in building operations later in the year. Further market expansion will be delayed until building wages and other factors are more favorably adjusted.

"The outlook, however, is by no means identical for all phases of building and construction. Residential building, in the moderate price and the non-speculative field should show considerable activity. There are few indications of curtailment in public works, in fact, if there should develop a marked falling off in the building industry as a whole, there is the probability that public projects could be released in substantial volume.

"Mr. Hoover, as I have said, is thought to favor an effort to use public building programs as an economic stabilizer. The recent proposals looking toward this end have given new significance to the building and construction activities of federal, state and municipal governments. We can undoubtedly turn to this quarter with increased assurance if there should come a need for taking up the slack in other branches of the industry.

Metals Outlook

"The outlook for the metals is mixed. The iron and steel industry is in a much more favorable position than a year ago. True, demand factors are shifting somewhat, but a steady level of production is indicated at least through the first part of 1929. In this connection it is important to follow the automobile industry more closely. Ambitious production plans are under way and the demand from automobile manufacturers for steel should be heavy.

"Large amounts of steel will be required by the agricultural implement, building and machinery industries. Demand from the oil industry is expected to improve, and some day the railroads are going to buy equipment on a larger scale. Copper, after its sharp rise, is expected to hold steady near present prices for a while. Production is on the increase and in time should catch up with demand. Undoubtedly copper producers will endeavor to keep the market steady, as present prices give them a satisfactory margin of profit. Low cost copper companies will surely make money this year and I believe stocks of such companies may well be revalued.

Trend Toward Easier Money

"A survey of all these factors suggests that as the year goes on there will be a trend toward easier money. Although rates later in 1929 will probably not subside to the levels experienced in the summer of 1927, nevertheless, there is the prospect that rates will become somewhat easier. Looking at the near future, it appears hardly probable that money rates will be greatly affected by gold movements as these will probably be of relatively moderate volume. On the other hand, some observers anticipate that the federal reserve bank will tend to become an increasing factor in the financial situation and will more aggressively seek to exercise control. At all events, during 1929 there will be a tendency to favor business loans at lower rates and to discountenance excessive stock market loans.

Bond Market Should Improve

"Because of the prospects for somewhat more ease in money in 1929, the sentiment in favor of bonds is likely to improve during the coming months. The downward tendency in prices that has been experienced should give way to a sidewise trend for the list as a whole. The prospect is for an improvement over current conditions. This does not mean that there will not be need for most discriminating care in choosing issues. In fact, never before in financial history has there been such necessity for carefulness. The present is an 'open season' for inferior preferred stocks and bonds. Diligent search will reveal some attractive purchases in the bond lists, but the un-selective market, which in many senses we also had in 1928. I believe this tendency will now be more pronounced and that fundamentally good, uninfated issues held on a long-term basis are all right. Even in the December crash certain good power stocks for instance, advanced, and afterward sold higher than they ever did before. I am still more attracted to good power issues than most other groups. I do not mean by this that practically all stocks will not decline when the general market is weak. They will certainly decline somewhat.

"What I wish to emphasize is that there is no excuse for some of the crazy speculation we have seen, and it is to be hoped that it will not be repeated in 1929. The country itself is all right. The political situation is encouraging. If the people will stop trying to make a gigantic soap bubble out of the stock market, legitimate investment will be good this coming year and general business will continue at favorable levels."

Only Known to Be Old

There are no authentic data regarding the origin of the game of croquet, which was a favorite of kings some 200 years ago. Some writers say that it was evolved from the game played in the middle, which was played in Languedoc as early as the thirteenth century.

SCIENTISTS STUDYING SOUND TRANSMISSION

Amazing Discovery May Aid in Location of Troubles Now Bessetting Radio Reception

NEW YORK, Dec. 29 (AP)—Sounds produced in a wholly new way were listened to at the American Physical Society of the American Association for the Advancement of Science today.

First, in a perfectly normal way, a musical tuning fork was caused to sound a note of high clear pitch, produced by 1000 vibrations per second.

But some distance away, in the same room, stood two other sound modulators, unattached through human electrical and mechanical means to the tuning fork. No impulse of any sort was given these modulators. Yet when an amplifier was attached to their terminals, a sound of a different and distinct, almost musical, to fill the room. They had been caused by the tuning fork sound.

The amazing fact was that these two notes were not the same as the tone from the tuning fork. They were of lower pitch, and each differed from the other. One of the notes had a pitch of 700 vibrations and the other of 800.

The demonstration was made today by R. V. L. Hartley of the Bell Telephone Laboratories, New York.

It is important here in the fact that it may apply to such things as discovering the source of some of the troubles that still beset radio transmission.

AGED NEGRESS REIGNS IN KITCHEN 60 YEARS

BALTIMORE, Dec. 29 (AP)—For more than 60 years "Aunt Adaline" has ruled the kitchen of a slave and one of the few remaining southern ante-bellum cooks, has retained supreme in the household—St. Louis.

George L. Hadcliffe, near Cambridge, Maryland.

The fame of "Aunt Adaline's" wafers with the skillet and fat has spread through the south with the result that she has received many offers to commercialize her cooking ability. She prefers, however, to remain in the kitchen in which her mother and grandmother reigned before her slave cooks on the Hadcliffe farm.

Her cooking ability, she says, "just comes natural." Weights and measures in preparation of food are unknown to her. With unfailing precision she mixes the ingredients for her wafers.

During her years as a cook "Aunt Adaline" has contributed many original recipes. Only recently she was honored by the Eastern Shore Association when that organization issued a pamphlet containing recipes for some of her dishes.

She is now 85 years of age. She is a strong woman and is able to pick up and carry a grown person with ease.

Twin Falls Students To Return to School

Twin Falls public schools will open tomorrow, cutting off the last two days of the customary Christmas vacation. This course was decided on because of the long period of enforced vacation resulting from the county health board's closing order. The influenza epidemic, which seems to have moved east, had practically abated before the Christmas vacation began and the attendance was up to normal. There is little sickness in Twin Falls city or county now and a full attendance is expected when the educational machinery begins to grind again Monday.

IDAHO FALLS FIRM SEEKS TO PURCHASE WATER IN STORAGE

Attorneys Discuss Proposal; Twin Falls Canal Company to Submit Matter to Stockholders; Guarantee Supply

BUHL, Dec. 29 (Special to The News)—That a proposition has been made to the Twin Falls Canal company board of directors by Oscar Johnson, Idaho Falls attorney, on behalf of the Twin Falls firm, to buy the 68,000 acre-feet of Jackson lake storage, owned by the Twin Falls Canal company, was revealed here today at a meeting of canal company stockholders in the Buhl city hall.

N. V. Sharp, president of the canal company, stated that a proposition to that effect had been made to Judge James F. Bothwell, company attorney, by telephone. Judge Bothwell had informed the board of the proposition which had been informally discussed. The board decided that the proposition should be put up to the general meeting of stockholders, January 8, at the time that the section of things being held throughout the county indicate interest in further consideration of the matter.

Clarence O. Fide, Judge Bothwell said the proposition was made by telephone and was intended to have been made in person accompanied by the statement that the company would sell at a satisfactory figure. He said that the Idaho attorney did not name any figure but indicated that financial backing was ample. Judge Bothwell outlined the sort of resolution which would be necessary in the event that the board should submit the plan to the stockholders. He said that the plan could be sold locally if the stockholders desired.

Judge Bothwell said that he had received no information relative to the identity of the persons who authorized Mr. Johnson to make the offer to buy. There is a rumor here to the effect that there are plans on foot to organize a new irrigation district near Idaho Falls and that J. H. Farnsworth is responsible for the reclamation of the Twin Falls project, is identified with the movement. This, however, has not been confirmed and is not mentioned at the meeting.

Most Guarantee Supply

The content of these reports were present was to the effect that no sale should be made unless it was felt certain that the supply of water would be adequate without Jackson lake storage, but that if this was assured it would be proper to at least consider a reasonable and definite offer. How much water could be saved by elimination of waste according to the resolutions offered by W. O. Steward, hydraulic engineer, is one of the factors to be considered.

The meeting tonight was one of a series called to hear the address of Mr. Steward. The lecture, which was similar to the one delivered in Twin Falls Thursday, was well received by the 100 stockholders present. The meetings are held under the auspices of the Pomona Grange and the Twin Falls Canal company. The next meeting will be at Castleford tonight evening. Other meetings will be held in Hansen or Excelsior, January 1; Piler, January 2; Kimberley, January 3; Maitland, January 4; Twin Falls, January 7.

Hope that the route of the International Transcontinental foot race which leaves New York March 29, 1929, for the coast will be over the Old Oregon Trail and through Twin Falls was expressed yesterday by Nevill S. Wright, secretary of the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce.

The race last year went over the Southern route from Los Angeles to New York, through California, Arizona, and New Mexico, Oklahoma, Illinois, Indiana, Pennsylvania, and New York, a distance of 3223 miles which was covered in 81 days by Andrew Payne, Claremore, Oklahoma. Payne set $25,000 of the $50,000 prize in his own pocket. Payne is known as the Pyle Derby, after C. C. Pyle, manager, New York.

There were 234 entries for the race; 119 men and 115 finishing. Large crowds congregated in every town through which the runners passed. The route has not yet been announced for the next race, which, it was rumored might cross the continent farther north than the previous one so that Mr. Wright believes Twin Falls may be on the route.

TWO VETERAN RAILROAD MEN ABOUT TO RETIRE

SALT LAKE CITY, Dec. 29 (Special to The News)—Sixty consecutive years of service for two railroads on the part of one man, and 47 consecutive years for one railroad by another will have been attained Monday by N. H. Foster, 79, purchasing agent, and William C. Hussey, 70, general claim agent on the Los Angeles to Salt Lake City unit of the Union Pacific system. On December 31, both men will retire from active service under the company's rules. Yesterday they were guests of honor of local officials of the Union Pacific club at a luncheon at the Southern club in Los Angeles.

Mr. Foster was born in St. Albans, Vermont, and began his railroad career during March, 1869, as clerk in the master mechanic's office of the Southern Pacific in Wintennuca. He came to the Union Pacific January 20, 1904, as purchasing agent and has continued in that capacity to the present.

Mr. Hussey is one of the oldest employees in years of consecutive service on the Union Pacific lines. In his youth he was a cowboy. At 22 years of age he became a clerk in the roadmaster's office in May, 1881. Later he was appointed as claim adjuster and later claim agent. In 1904 he was transferred to Los Angeles, where he has remained until the present.

AIRWAY OFFICIALS HOPE TO GO TO PENITENTIARY FOR GREATER EXPANSION

Ships of National Parks Line Travel 157,920 Miles On 145 Trips in Last Four Months

(Special to The News)
SALT LAKE CITY, Dec. 29—Completing four months flying, lacking a few days, with approximately 145 trips, all but three completed, and piling up a total of 157,920 miles, the National Parks Airways, Inc., operating the air mail line between Salt Lake City and Great Falls will enter the new year optimistic for the future. Early in the year the program of expansion will be announced which will have to do with wider service to the public.

The four-month record of the new line shows that a total of 23,699 pounds of mail was carried, or an average of about 6000 pounds a month. Passengers for 'this period numbered 742, the majority of whom were carried during the first two operating months. Ships were in the air a total of 1626 hours, with four pilots engaged in carrying the mail and passengers.

The acquisition of two Wright Whirlwind Stearman ships for winter traffic is proving a wise move, officials feel. With this type ship suggesting the big Fokker Super Universal, winter service over the line may be assured.

Christmas week mail was gratifying comparing with the preceding and general increase for that period on all air mail lines.

STOCK SOLVES EAST END FARM PROBLEMS

Success of Rancher Who Adds Animal Projects to Activities Assured, Says Expert

BURLEY, Dec. 29 (Special to The News)—Livestock has solved the problem of farm profits on the Minidoka project. This is the belief of A. B. Koch, Idaho manager of a large farm mortgage concern, with offices in Burley.

It has been conclusively shown to our organization, says Koch, that when a farmer surrounds himself with livestock such as milk cows, pigs, and poultry, his living from the proceeds of such animals is practically assured. In addition, the crop income from his farm permits him to pay his obligations and enjoy the good things of life.

Stock Buys Farm
Koch cites recent examples of what can be done in acquiring property with the aid of livestock. Thirty months ago his firm sold a farmer a piece of property for $14,000. The farmer stocked his place with livestock, attended to business, and just recently paid for the place in full and retired his debt. Another man, assisted by livestock, paid for a 20-acre farm in full within 30 months.

Land Changes Hands
Recent farm sales on the Minidoka project by the Koch organization may be taken as an index of present farm values in this district. Among others, T. E. Dayley, Springdale, bought 40 acres for $5500; Hugh L. Ingram, Declo, bought 40 acres for $5000; Thomas E. Bowen, Durley, paid $5000 for 40 acres; R. A. Sandell, Elma, Washington, $4000 for 40 acres; W. M. Mooso, Declo, $2250 for 20 acres; Ralph West, Chinook, Montana, $9 acres for $600; A. H. Smith, Rupert, $7900 for 80 acres; A. G. Stades, Durley, $13,500 for 60 acres.

Variation in price of these tracts is accounted for by their location and the character of the improvements. Buyers assumed, also, certain unpaid irrigation construction charges, mill due the district.

4-H CLUBS REORGANIZE FOR NEXT YEAR'S WORK

BURLEY, Dec. 29 (Special to The News)—Three 4-H clubs that have completed their year's work in Blaine county will be reorganized for second year's work, says J. W. Barber, district extension agent for southern and southeastern Idaho.

Barber, who has been interviewing local leaders in Blaine county, says that there will also be four new clubs organized. He has assisted in getting two sheep clubs started, and one pig club. Members of the fourth new club have not yet determined what project they will take up. Local leaders of two clubs that have already started work are A. L. Quist, Arco, and D. O. Tweedy, Moor.

Prolific Fishing Grounds

The three greatest commercial fishing waters are found in the coasts of northwestern Europe, northeastern America and northwestern Asia. In these places, where the ocean is comparatively shallow, enormous schools of valuable food fish congregate in order to obtain the food that they find near the bottom.

Chinook Melts Snows In East End Lowlands

BURLEY, Dec. 29 (Special to The News)—A general Chinook blast of two days, has melted all snow on the level on Cassia county lowlands. A light snowfall Friday morning soon succumbed to warm weather. Snow drifts remain, but all main highways in the county are open to traffic. Drifts on the highway from Blaine to American Falls for two days, but the road is now passable. The weather is warm.

HUDSON MOTOR COMPANY ANNOUNCES NEW MACHINE

Squaring away for 1929 and what is planned to be the greatest year in its history, the Hudson Motor Car company this week reaffirmed its confidence in the super six cylinder automobile engine and threw a challenge to the motor makers of the world to build a better car.

The Hudson announcement carries increased emphasis by virtue of the fact that the company is among the leader manufacturers and pioneers in the manufacture of the closed car at open car prices in the six-cylinder field. This part of the industry has lately focused the public's attention through important statements made recently by other auto makers.

Elimination of the super-six principle in the new Hudson Essex engines greatly increased the power of both. Improved carburetion has added greater horsepower with less gasoline consumption. There are 140 improvements in the combined lines which involve 800 parts. Each new body type and a complete redesigning of the lines, together with general price reductions, because of greater economy, efficient manufacturing practices, contribute in making the Hudson-Exes 1929 announcement a prime feature of the motor industry's news.

The production schedule for the first six months of 1929 call for an output of the combined line approximately equal to the entire production of 1928. As indicative of its determination to again dominate the entire six cylinder field, the Essex line is named "The Challenger."

While there are no radical changes in either chassis or body lines, Essex cars are designed and perfected by expert engineers, designers and artists have combined to produce a model that for stylish lines, luxurious upholstery and appointments and performance justifies the optimism of manufacturer, distributor, dealer and salesman alike.

Power is increased 24 per cent through a long list of motor improvements. Important changes all along the line of power from crankshaft to rear axle have contributed materially to greater performance, since vibration has been taken up completely and power losses reduced.

The engine itself is mounted on rubber. The new crankshaft is in perfect balance. The larger improved clutch connects all of the engine power to the shaft and takes up all vibration. A four pinion differential and an improved method of universal joint lubrication complete the cycle of improvements that cushion and conserve engine power.

The new brakes in the Challenger are as really improved as the acceleration. They will bring the car to a stop in 100 feet from a 70 mile speed—and do it gently, smoothly. Steering which has always been especially responsive in Hudson-Exes cars, is still further improved by an increased ratio and by the use of roller bearings in the steering mechanism. The new springs are long and of flat carbon, or horizontal, so that the only deflection is vertical.

Elimination of vibration, the use of the new motor bearings, improved crank case ventilation and lubrication improvements throughout the car make the Challenger Essex as nearly what is claimed as an automobile can be. It is claimed.

CAR PLUNGES FROM ICY ROAD DOWN EMBANKMENT

BURLEY, Dec. 29 (Special to The News)—A small car with a trailer attached, owned by the Consolidated Wagon and Machine company, left the fifth grade in the Snake river canyon north of Burley Thursday and plunged down a 100-foot embankment when the driver failed to hold on to the wheel. The driver, William Worth, jumped before the car left the grade and was uninjured. A wrecker raised the machine to the road.

J. W. Tinney, promoter of the Clear Lake fish hatchery, is spending several days in Salt Lake City on business. Work on the hatchery site which will be occupied by the manager, Roy Hall, the first consignment of fish have attained a length of 2 inches and the second shipment will be received in the near future.

Mrs. H. P. Ahlquist was hostess to members of the Imit circle Friday. Plans were discussed for raising funds for the city library. The hostess served a dainty two-course luncheon to 10 members. The next meeting will be January 11 with Mrs. E. J. Shaul.

George Marshall has purchased the V. C. James residence—property on Ninth avenue for a consideration of $7400 and will take possession at once. Mr. and Mrs. James will move to the J. H. Barker place which they recently purchased in Peck's addition.

Outgoing Christmas mail shipments were much heavier this season than in former years, according to Postmaster Ray Bonbury, which necessitated extra help in the office and on-the-city-delivery routes. Parcel mailed packages early and for a number of days before the holiday as high as 50 sacks of mail left the office each day.

Mrs. I. A. Herron is confined to her home following a fall on the icy pavement recently. She plans to leave for California in the near future. Dr. and Mrs. E. L. Berry and family will move to Buhl from Hazelton early next week. They will reside in the Glasgow home on Eleventh avenue.

J. W. Oallaway, grand chancellor of the Domain of Idaho, Knights of Pythias, will visit the local lodge, January 2.

Color of Sounds
Observations have proved that a considerable percentage of people unconsciously associate color with every sound they hear. Pleasant notes seem to go with soft, delicate shades. Some moderately high notes suggest gold, brilliant ones, silver, and harsh notes seem to go with deep sounds.

Ancient Adornments Closely related to necklaces of precious stones are the chains and collars of gold which appear to have been used by the Hebrews for ornament as well as official distinction, much as they are, to a certain extent, today. WILL HE FAIL to pass because you failed him? Poor boy! Now, he's back again to the unfair struggle! Will YOU be have the weary old prospect of doing last year's work all over? Or will he just barely "get by" with the constant threat of failure to harass him in his studies? Is he naturally dull? No, not necessarily. Three out of every four children who are "slow" in school need glasses. That's all. If he fails, the chances are three to one that it's because you failed him. End the unfair struggle!
