MEASURE ON PUBLIC SCHOOL FRATERNITY BEFORE LEGISLATURE

Idaho Law-Makers Spend Half Hour in Session; Plan Test of Amendment on Length of Terms of Public Officials

Gem State Capitol Day

(By The Associated Press) HOUSE bill would eliminate high school fraternities. MEANS of testing amendment on four-year terms for elective officers under consideration. CLARK bill would outlaw mortgages in 10 years.

BOISE, Jan. 26 - The Idaho legislature enjoyed one of its last short days of short hours and no debate when it recessed after the week-end this morning after less than half an hour's occupation.

During that time more than a dozen bills were introduced in the two houses and one was passed by the senate, two providing for electric trolleys to be used on locomotives, as well as steam whistles.

A house bill providing for better control of the public schools and aimed at eliminating high school fraternities. The designation of "public schools" raises the question of whether it would include colleges and universities and a conference with the house attorney probably may result in the bill being amended to be more specific.

Will Test Amendment A means of testing whether the present state officers will serve for two or four years under the new constitution was contained in another bill. It called on the secretary of state to issue a call for an election in November, 1930, the call to be issued July 1 this year. The secretary is given option of whether to include the state officers in the list with the congressional officers, which will open the way to mandamus or injunction proceedings to carry it to the supreme court.

Another house bill proposed to amend present laws to allow judges to take advantage of recent medical discoveries which make it possible for those who have come in contact with contagious diseases being (Continued on Page 2, Column 1)

MERCURY RISING IN DOMAIN OF WINTER

Sixty Persons Confined to Hospitals Suffering From Falls and Accidents in Chicago

CHICAGO, Jan. 26 (AP) - The winter-fallen region stretching from the Rocky mountains to the Atlantic prepared for a fairly comfortable week-end today as the mercury eased away from the zero mark.

"Rising temperatures" was the cheering prediction from the weather man as he forecast heavy rain or snow for the first part of next week. Sixty persons are confined to beds in Chicago hospitals suffering from falls or traffic mishaps. Fifty others have been injured for broken ribs, sprains and other ailments and minor injuries. Most of the casualties have been due to sliding automobiles. Several deaths due to cold and flu were reported here, as in other parts of the country.

Stories of suffering were fewer today because the more temperate weather. At Norton, Wisconsin, passengers spent a cold night in a Northwestern railroad train, stalled behind a snow drift. The basketball team and a number of members of the Michigan college of mining and technology were reported suffering from chills and pneumonia at Twin Lake, Michigan, having been there with their food stores Thursday. They were forced to leave a stove box stuck in a snowdrift.

BATH TUBS MAKE FIRST APPEARANCE IN ALBANIA ON EVE OF CORONATION

TIRANA, Albania, Jan. 26 (AP) - Bath-tubs are making their first appearance in Albania today. They are being used for the coronation of King Zogu. HOHENZOLLERNS AT FUNCTION IN DOORN

Fifty-seven Members of Family Assemble to Celebrate Former Kaiser's Birthday

DOORN, Holland, Jan. 26 (AP) - The largest family reunion of the House of Hohenzollern which has gathered since the outbreak of the world war in 1914, assembled here today to celebrate Kaiser Wilhelm's seventeenth birthday. It was held there, where the former emperor himself, 37 members of the family present.

The general family joy was dampened by two cases of illness and the strained relations with Wilhelm's oldest sister, Princess Marie. She was married to Alexander Bukobin. She was among the absentees. Another child, Prince Henry, brother of the exiled ruler, he was kept quiet by an attack of influenza, but he sent his oldest son, Prince Waldemar, and the latter's wife, to represent him.

Princess Hermine III The deepest shadow of Wilhelm's happiness was cast by the sudden illness of his wife, Princess Hermine. She was in bed, and the coronation ceremony was postponed. The coronation was postponed. The coronation was postponed.

CHANGE IN VANDALS' LINEUP SATISFACTORY

Coach Rich-Fox-Points Quintet Toward Battle With Washington State, Circuit Leaders

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO, MOSCOW, Jan. 26 (Special to The News)—Finding his best possible running combination in the University of Oregon in this week, Coach Rich A. Fox has now nearly two weeks in which to perfect this new basketball formation before Idaho plays its fourth coast conference game here February 5 against Washington State college, present coast conference leader in the Northwest. The 14-4 record of Oregon and Montana, but lost by 1 point to Oregon State, putting the Vandal team well up in coast conference ranking.

Shift of Captain Darwin Burgher, two-year letterman, back to his old position at center from guard, gives Idaho a satisfactory combination that Fox believes the Vandals equal to the best team on the coast. Burgher has the necessary height and as long as his feet will stand the jumping strain, Fox plans to use him regularly. Thornhill, who goes into Burgher's place at guard, is a reliable center. Stovell and McMillin are easy forward choices, and Drummond completes the quintet at point guard. The regular center, Burgher, is a junior and has another season to play.

Vandals Outclass Oregon

Using a short, snappy and effective pass and keeping the ball in their own possession fully two-thirds of the time, the Vandals outplayed the Oregon varsity in the best brand of ball they have displayed all season. There were gaps in the Idaho defense, however, that allowed the Oregon team to score a number of set-up shots. Fox during the next two weeks plans to drill his men on shooting, tightening their defense and improving floor work. Idaho is particularly weak on close shots.

At the end of the same week as the Washington State game here, Idaho plays the University of Washington at Moscow, February 9. Idaho then has a return game with Washington State a week later at Pullman, and then departs on a coast trip, playing Washington-Oregon and Oregon State, respectively, in time to wind up against Montana here, February 29.

unwounded and released earlier than the usual quarantine time.

Senators Clark and Frechot introduced a bill providing that no person would be outlawed in 10 years. This measure was aimed at clearing title to property which has been incumbered by liens long since paid off but the records of which have not been kept up to date.

The first of the heavy appropriation bills will see the light of day in the legislature next week, members of the finance-appropriations committee announced.

Probably the first bill will be that appropriating upwards of $2,000,000 for salaries and upkeep of educational institutions. The final hearing on this will be held Tuesday when Dean E. Juddings of the university extension division will explain what part of the state appropriation is used to meet federal appropriation.

Following the educational institutions appropriation will come legislation providing for charitable and penal institutions. Superintendents of the various institutions have been called and the case of the Nampa school and various was presented today. Monday the superintendent of the state penitentiary and Blackfoot systems will be interviewed.

The bill for these latter institutions totals about $700,000 exclusive of the $70,000 appropriated in the emergency bill passed at the beginning of the session.

The lists of property assessments would be published in the newspapers of the state as a means of uncovering "hidden" taxes. The bill would require a plan proposed by Senator Callahan, Shoshone county.

Senator Barrett, who was generally agreed that there was general property in the state to bear the burden of government if it were taxed equitably. There are enough laws in the books now to reach these assets if the valuation lists were made public through the papers, he said.

Under his plan real property would be assessed only once in three years instead of annually as at present, though personal property would be assessed annually as usual.

After passing the assessments, a board appointed by the county commissioners and including members of the major political parties would hold hearings on the assessments and records would be sent to the county equalization board and finally filed with the state auditor for use by the board of equalization.

The first hearing on the proposed oleomargarine tax measure will be held probably before the joint house and senate agricultural committee-Senator George Barrett, Gooding county, chairman, announced.

The bill to be discussed provides a license fee of $20 and is supported by many dairymen of the state who wish to see the sale of oleomargarine decreased.

A compromise bill, including both a license fee and sales tax has been suggested as a substitute measure for the license fee.

A smaller license would be asked which would permit small dealers to handle the product, whereas the large license fee would crowd the commodity off many small dealers' shelves.

the agricultural section of the tariff act with a view to revising it upward, the house ways and means committee today heard nearly two score more witnesses advocate changes in duties on wide variety of products.

Higher tariffs were proposed on flaxseed, sugar beets, wheat, whole milk, high protein wheat, nuts, fruits, cut flowers, and many other commodities. Opposition to some of these proposals was heard, as well as requests for reductions. These came principally from importers of nuts.

Representative Newton, Republican, Minnesota, entered a plea for higher protection on wheat above 11 per cent protein content, flaxseed, sugar beets, wheat, whole milk and cream, but mentioned no rates. As for flaxseed, he said the present duty of 40 cents a bushel did not allow domestic producers sufficient margin to meet with Argentine flaxseed landed in New York.

got higher my hopes went lower. I really never thought we'd make it. It was only a 30-foot boat and it had 41 men on it. Manning said that the six men were unable to make any progress and six of the rescued Italians had to be asked to help. In a little more than an hour the quarter mile between the two steamers was crossed.

"It was had been minutes later," said Manning, "I don't believe we would have made it."

Prize Cooperation

This point in the rescue, Manning said, marked the only instance when anyone showed any sign of being unhelpful. A couple of the rescued men leaped from the lifeboat to the cargo net let down the American side, instead of waiting to be assisted. But they were too weak and fell back one on top of Manning, injuring his back, and the other across the lifeboat's gunwale.

"It was all a matter of cooperation," he said. "The Italians did just as they were told at every opportunity and everybody worked together. It was a perfect example of cooperation."

The America was met at quarantine by the city tug Macon with relatives of the heroes and city and diplomatic officials aboard and was hailed all the way up the bay by the whistles of other craft. Twin Falls Quintet Overwhelms Rupert Basketeers, 43-18

SPEEDY BRUIN TEAM PROVES UNDOING OF EAST END VISITORS

Blue and White Sweeps-Rivals From Feet by Early Attack; Invaders Seem Puzzled; Cub Lineup Plays Final Period

Rupert high school boys' basketball team left the snow-drifts of the East End last night to visit Twin Falls, only to be snowed under by their hosts by a score of 43 to 18. Twin Falls boys had a considerable carry over of the spirit with which they finished the previous game. Wednesday was not directly to work. The first quarter did not produce many points on the score board, but that does not tell the story of the play, for the Bruins had the ball flying at the basket most of the time. They were playing so fast that Rupert only had the ball seven times in the quarter and had but four chances at the basket, making 2 points to the Bruins.

Second quarter speedy The second quarter was faster, and the basket play of the locals was more effective. They kept possession of the ball most of the time and ran the score up to 21 to 6 at the half. Rupert seemed unable to find a way out of the Bruins' attack, and could not get set long enough to make their plays go through.

The third quarter finding that the easiest way to keep Rupert from scoring was to keep the ball flying at the basket, the Bruins settled down to that line of play and ran their points up to 34 while Rupert was climbing to 7. In the fourth quarter, Coach Ford began to make substitutions, and Rupert, not at all discouraged by the state of the score, turned on the City and outscored them, making 11 points while the Cubs were getting 9, to make the final count Twin Falls 43, Rupert 18.

Richard's Farewell—"The Biggest Story Yet," His Promise to Writers

By EDWARD J. NEIL (Associated Press Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, Jan. 26 (AP)—Lean figure, pearl gray hair, jauntily perched on the side of his head, came a swinging, good in the doorway of his palatial office in Madison Square Garden and made the boxing writers, filling the soft seats, goggle.

"My mouth and eyes crinkled in a grin of happiness and the writers grinned back at him. The train was waiting to carry him away. He was going to Hawaii, swimming, a lot of play in the sun with little Maxine, and some light promotion.

"You can call me..." he waved. "That just remember this. I'm going to give you the thrill of your lives in 1929. You're going to have the biggest story yet, a front page story. You won't never see anything like it."

They looked at that and shouted farewell—nothing. That could do. They thought it was the last time they'd see him. Jack Sharkey and Young Stribling in Miami Beach from the front pages. They were prophetic and what was coming true and no one knew that better than those newspapermen, closest friends of the promotional genius.

Scene Changes

Less than two weeks later the same newspapermen gathered again in Madison Square Garden. The light and faces past the pier of Rex Rickard.

"It was late afternoon, dark outside, where long lines already formed waited for the doors to open and permit the public a last glimpse of the dead promoter. Inside the flood lights that brightly flooded on the floor, the action of the ring, poured white light on the upturned face of the tall Texan. All around him the masses of fragrant flowers, last tributes of the "best people," Rickard delighted in drawing to his show.

"And through every mind, blating like a tin-tom on the writers said goodbye to their friend, ran the last words he said and permit the promoter say.

"I'm going to give you the biggest thrill of your lives in 1929. You're going to have the biggest story yet, a front page story."

BASKETBALL TEAMS OF DISTRICT SEEM EQUAL IN STRENGTH

Heavy Snows Bring Schedule Changes; Twin Falls Sextet Develops; Bruin Quintet Finds Stride; Jerome Five Thrust

Snow blocking the highways caused the postponement of most of the basketball games scheduled over the district for last week, and making place for these postponed games later will crowd the schedule toward the end of the season and cause the coaches to give thought to their reserves.

When teams have had games closely together, there is danger that floor weariness will slow the play, and the standard of play over the district is so nearly balanced that only a little relaxation from one effort to the next would turn the course of later games. The coach who has enough reserve strength to keep his team at full pace will be fortunate.

The games with Buhl and Jerome brought the Twin Falls girls' team into the district. Miss Wilson had material equal to any in the district. The center court, with Captain Wirin playing even a faster, more aggressive game than she had played last season, and Weaver taking tipoffs regularly, is a formidable factor in the making of the girls' players have speeded up their passes very noticeably, giving the whole team a much faster pace, and in the same way, the boys' Ware and Wyland in reserve for the center play, this court ranks equal at least, to the best of the district.

The forward play is improving steadily. "Tasting and Guttry have decided that, as the basket won't be so high after the ban they will throw the ball up to the basket. In the Buhl game the forwards had many chances get, away from a failure to make the shot. The story of the chances taken produced a much higher score. Play under the basket after missed shots, was not very high. It did not test the strength of chances taken produced a much higher score.

Guarding This Season

The real problem of the team is the 20 feet. Strategy has and experience, and knowing the principles of the guards' work as the girls' style of play requires, the girls' opposing forwards no set-up shots, forces them to shoot from away from the basket, and drives sharply into the scrimmage for all missed shots.

Rice in the Jerome game, had Strelus and Jenkins in the Buhl game, fought and shot in the most part effectively. However, in the very speed of their play, particularly in their tendency to over-play the ball, they were caught out of position and the opposing forwards seized the chances for set-up shots. A little more experience will enable them to make opposing forwards earn all the points they get.

Three Team-Bruins

The Jerome game taught the Bruin quintet a valuable lesson, that there is one team, "the Bruin" in the district capable of making the best game play all the basketball—they know, even on their own floor. Jerome's players led for three quarters, because they were caught out of position and it was only in the last quarter, when Twin Falls put on the only real burst of speed their players showed

Basketball Shots

By TED VOUBURGH (Associated Press Sports Writer)

COACH ED KELLEHER'S great Fortham varsity basketball five, victor over such teams as Yale, Princeton, Colgate and Syracuse, has a record of never having started a game.

With my regular on the bench they are able to size up the other team pretty thoroughly and see just what they should do when they set in there. Little damage is usually done in the first part of a game anyway and the second, primarily draw only a couple of points behind.

Then, too, there's a psychological advantage. Boys of college age are impressionable and there is bound to be a disturbing effect upon the opposing players when a fresh varsity comes prancing onto the floor after they have had a hard time holding the seconds.

The system has a good effect on our second-stringers, giving them added confidence and experience so that a year or so later they will be ready for varsity play.

KELLEHER'S present on five which at the time of writing had been scheduled for his first nine games without defeat was his freshman team four years ago and did shoot their way to the next season before winning the varsity assignment last year.

"They were a fairly tall, sweet team, the center and Landers, left-forward and right-forward. All five are built for speed without being willowy or fragile.

"My 'douglery' the captain I have one of the fastest running guards I have ever seen," he said Kelleher. "He shoots with either hand. Besides, the other guard who is sent into scoring territory only a couple of times in a game is the fastest man on the team, so that his presence around the court while we are in possession of the ball is a constant threat."

He uses a five-man defense which is all right, the men falling back immediately after losing possession of the ball.

When the ball is in their own hands four men are well down in enemy territory while the standing guard is at mid-floor.

"My offensive starts from back court," Kelleher explained. "The two forwards come in fast and both are in the air when the ball is tipped. The forward getting the ball passes it back to one of the guards and the attack begins from the middle of the floor and the guards are near the middle of the floor and the forwards nearer the basket at the sides. Under my system three men always get at once."

The offensive outlined is a five-man attack, as the standing guard is the starting point and is always near enough to the basket to be dangerous and kind of suspended two-legged sword.

during the game, that they were able to break past the Jerome defense.

The Bruins showed that they can move when they have to, but on the larger floors for the later games, they will be called on their adherence to their own plan that they will win that they will win that they will win.

Blue-Defense Good

In each of the games thus far the Bruins have shown fine defensive work. Kempton, Martin and Nelson are capable guards, inclined at times to take things a little bit easy, but not enough so to cause any real uneasiness. In the Jerome game they showed their adherence to their own plan that they will win that they will win that they will win.

BOARD FIXES DATES FOR DISTRICT HOOP TITLE GAMES IN BUHL

Eight Quintets Will Vie For Flag Under Double-Elimination Plan; Four Girls' Aggregations in Competition

The South Central District basketball tournament will be played at Buhl February 28 and March 1 and 2, as arranged last night by the district board, U. N. Terry, Twin Falls, chairman; E. Doane, Jerome, secretary, and Joe Cogan, Rupert.

Play of the boys' teams will be on the double elimination plan, with eight teams to play; that of the girls on the single elimination plan, with four teams to play. In selection of the girls' teams three sub-districts are considered: Jerome-Ogden, Rupert-Buhl-Dakota; and Twin Falls-Buhl-Filer. The winner in each district will enter the tournament, the fourth team being the winner of a contest between the runner-up in the Rupert and Twin Falls districts.

Limit Number Players

Boys' teams will be limited to eight players and girls' to 10 players. The officials for the games will be chosen from outside the district, the selections not having been completed, subject to their acceptance, E. M. Sweeley, Twin Falls, has been designated as referee and superintendent Christensen, Burley, as official timer.

A meeting of coaches will be held at Jerome February 9 at 2 P. M. for the purpose of making the drawings for the tournament schedule.

PROGRESS IN CIVILIZATION

Speakers and writers for several weeks have been busy arguing about and analyzing the "Brand-Kellogg peace treaty. It is betraying no confidence at this stage to remark that the treaty has not really outlived its life. It has provided dependable safeguards against war not offering any real promise of stopping armed conflict, nor even binding pledges.

But let no scoffer conclude that the pact is therefore worthless. This treaty, if nothing more, is good propaganda for peace and a clear exponent of what the world wants. Sooner or later the world will get what it wants. And when it does achieve international peace, it will presumably do so by the same procedure found necessary in achieving domestic peace and order—action by a whole jumping into anybody that starts a rumpus.

Still on the Job: Thomas A. Edison, aged 82, has vacation to Florida, but not for a long time. He goes to work in rubber. He has an experimental farm in the hills near his home where he is growing and testing all the rubber-bearing plants that will grow in that climate.

What Might Have Been

By M. ARBHY JONES (Pastor, Second Baptist Church, St. Louis) A glimpse backward reveals that there was within each of us the possibility of a better man than the one who got expression in life. There was a self which could have acted far better, and found a life much richer and fuller and sweeter than the life which memory now recalls. Indeed, it is marvelous to think how many different kinds of people each of us might have been.

But in looking back on a year, we can also remember those "better moments." Then the heart beat responsive to the nobler sentiments and the spirit thrilled with the purest passions and highest ideals. Appeals for righteousness sounded through one's spirit like clarion calls, and we volunteered for service. Then, like the mountain climber who descends into the valley, one seemed to descend to some lower spiritual level.

FELINE SONGSTERS One critic (he's a rival columnist so I refuse to advertise him by mentioning names) took exception to the statement that the feline's voice was music in the ear of the listener.

The Cat and Fiddle: An unfeeling person once said that the only time a cat contributed anything to music was after his death. But I consider that only shows the cat's noble nature in sacrificing itself to the good of his fellow felines.

TWO CASES REMAIN ON CIVIL CALENDAR

Suits Involve Alleged Misrepresentation in Sheep Deal and Interest-Rate On Note

Two-out-of-three-civil-suits-assigned-for-trial-in-district-court-here-Monday-remained-on-the-court-docket-late-evening, one having been dismissed during the day.

In the first of the actions to be tried, Arthur Maxwell, R. E. Branndon and L. E. McManis, defendants in a suit instituted by W. C. Dais and J. H. Martin, have appeared in the district court from judgment in Quilboe of the Peace J. C. Oates' court in Buhl last August awarding $300 damages to Dais and Martin.

Claim Misrepresentation. Dais and Martin, who are represented by Harold Yeomans and Swenoy and Sweney, claimed damages on account of alleged misrepresentation in connection with their purchase of 43 ewes from Maxwell and his associates last February. They alleged total failure of the lamb crop that they declare had been promised for March 15. The case for Maxwell and his associates is to be presented by J. R. Bothwell and W. Orr Chapman.

In the second of the cases assigned for trial Monday, Mrs. Bertha Musser, proprietress of the Buhl, was suing Murphy, Buhl, for collection of a promissory note for $485.45 executed in June, 1928, and payable in December of that year.

Charge Rate Illegal. Validity of the note is denied by Murphy on the grounds that it includes interest computed at an illegal rate. Martin and Martin, Boise, are attorneys for the Illinois note and defendant; Murphy is represented by Turner E. Hackman, Twin Falls.

Suit of the Twin Falls Oakland company against E. J. Lyon for collection of $600 balance due on a contract for purchase of a car a year ago, was dismissed.

Marjorie Jane Halpin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. R. Halpin, celebrated her ninth birthday anniversary with a party for sixteen girl friends at her home Saturday afternoon between three and five o'clock. Prizes in contests and games which followed were awarded to Maxine Livingston and Ruth Brose. A Valentine poem was used effectively in the table decorations. Refreshments were served by Ruth Brose, Virginia Brose, Betty Jane Wegener, Joyce Thompson, Helen Egner, June Reynolds, Mrs. Edna Robinson, Billie Mae White, Olivia Chapman, Maxine Livingston, Lois Stevens, Eleanor Jane Hollingsworth, Dorothy Dyer, Maxine Livingston and her sister, Mrs. Edna Robinson, Gooding.

NEW AUTOMOBILE AGENCY TO DISPLAY LATE MODELS

New models of both Oakland and Pontiac cars, which have not been shown here in the west, will be displayed this week in showrooms of the Twin Falls Motors, 229 Second-venue east. V. R. Howell, manager, announced last evening the cars to be shown were in Pocatello en route to Twin Falls yesterday. Mr. Howell will have showrooms will be open each evening during the week in order to afford opportunity for all interested persons to inspect these new products of General Motors.

The new model Oakland, Mr. Howell stated last evening, has been made larger and faster than its predecessor and is capable of maintaining speed of 70 miles an hour over a long period of time.

Pontiac new models are both larger and heavier, and embody a number of important improvements.

Twin Falls Motors is the newest entrant in the automobile field in Twin Falls. Its main idea is to come here only about 10 days ago to launch the new enterprise in its work of distributing Oakland and Pontiac cars in this region and in maintaining a completely equipped and efficient service for these cars. Mr. Howell will for a number of years engage to simulate work in Missoula, Montana, from which place he has come with his family to make his home here in Twin Falls.

Sales force of the new agency is being organized and will include E. J. Edwards, Twin Falls, who has been associated with the automobile business here for some time.

Myrtle Pravey was hostess to twenty girl friends at luncheon on Saturday, celebrating her birthday. The guests were seated at one large table centered with a birthday cake lighted with pink and green candles. Pink ornaments in crystal vases and place cards in pink and green carried out the color scheme. Following luncheon cards and games were enjoyed by the girls. Those present were: Clara Mae Bowles, Harriet Duvall, Dorothy Desch, Janet Ford, Janet Groome, Marie Haasch, Margaret Kennedy, Betty McCully, Margaret McCully, Mary Musser, Margaret Mager, Mary Prieto, Ruth Read, Stella Stettler, Jean Stettler, Ruth Taylor, Esther Joslyn, Vatura VanCuren, Edna Smith, Edna Smith, Edna Smith, Jeanne Carroll Whelan, Catherine Bacon and Diane Owens.

Members of the M. E. T. Club gave a dancing party of unusual charm Friday evening at the home of Gladys Coines on Poplar Avenue, honoring their pledges, Misses Louise Madden, Nancy Hoover, Frances McKee, Marie Brown, and Rose Beckwith, Twin Falls. Elaborate decorations of pink and green, club colors, adorned the rooms. In addition to the usual numbers, one dedicated to each of the honorees. The program in pink and green. Clouche served punch and wafers the entire evening from an attractive table. Miss Helen Veshburg at the piano furnished music for dancing. Those present, including the honored guests, were: Misses Helen Taylor, Marjorie Bedlins, Beth Pitts, Gena Wilson, Alice Krimber, Vera Mae Lamb, Ethel Saugher, Katherine Thompson, Myrtle Haasch, Jennie Heap, Joyce Williams, Claudie Colner, Betty Parks, Ruth Shipman, Audrey Hunt, Helen Veshburg, Eleanor Ryan, and Wilma Clear, and Messrs. Mrs. J. N. Burr, Mrs. J. A. Waters and Mrs. W. H. McDonald entertained the Blue Lakes Chapter of the O. E. S. at the home of Mrs. Burr. Seventeen members responded to roll call with "Weather Freaks." After the business of the day had been disposed of, the program consisted of a vocal solo by Mrs. Reams, with Mrs. McDonald at the piano, reading by Mrs. Reams, "The Weather Bureau," and a debate "Resolved: That It Is Harder to Keep Comfortable Than It Is to Be Blizzared Than When It Is 100 Degrees and No Breeze." Mrs. L. L. Thewlis, affirmative, won the debate from Mrs. W. H. McDonald, speaking for the negative. A social hour followed, during which the hostesses served refreshments.

The Women's Christian Temperance Union met Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Burr on Seventh Avenue East. The meeting opened with the singing of "Lead On, O King Eternal" by the assemblage and devotions conducted by Mrs. R. T. Lockerton. A spirited business session was held as several plans on membership were discussed and also the matter of making funds for convention. The program was a continuation by Mrs. May Block of the report of the national convention at Boston. Refreshments were served by Mesdames Harry Wolliba, Richard Baggs, Raymond Jones and W. T. Kean. Thirty-two members and two guests were in attendance.

Members of the T. S. S. Club were delightfully entertained by Mrs. Reams Friday afternoon at her home on Seventh Avenue East. The usual social afternoon was enjoyed after which luncheon was served at one large table having for a centerpiece a potted plant with crimson blossoms. Mrs. E. R. Taylor, newly-elected president, was in the chair during the transaction of business. Mrs. Bert Magel and Mrs. W. S. Dolson were club guests.

At the home of Mrs. Lechter Darling, members of the Lent-a-Hand Club held an all-day rooming session Friday. Members and their families attended. There were fourteen present with Mr. and Mrs. Wright as guests. At two o'clock a delicious dinner was served, after which the afternoon was spent with games and contests and a short program, consisting of a piano solo by Lois Darling, reading by Mrs. W. C. Hubbert, and a vocal solo by Mrs. Fred Ellis.

Studebaker announces a new World Champion President Eight of greater power, beauty and luxury

$1785 at the factory

AT THE moment when eager eyes turn to the newest offerings of American automotive genius, Studebaker announces a surpassing achievement—a new and finer world champion President Eight!

In riding ease, roadability and good manners the new President Eight is not excelled by any car at any price. A motor car priced in a range where such performance, such luxury, such beauty of coachcraft and color, have never sold before!

30,000 Miles in 26,326 Minutes

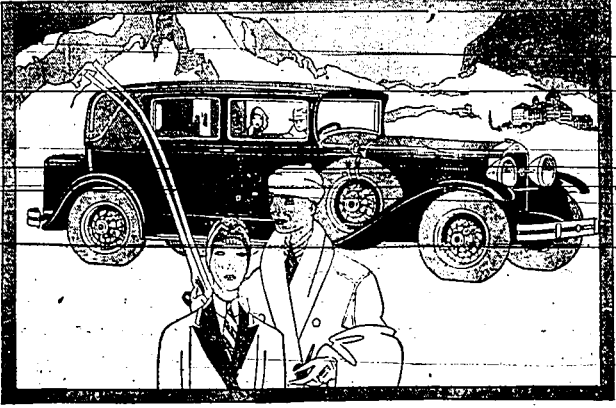

The great President Eight has officially demonstrated more speed, and more capacity for maintaining that speed, than any other regular factory production car the world has ever known. No handiwork of man ever underwent so heroic a test—ever traveled so far so fast. The

President Eight today holds every official speed and endurance record for fully equipped stock cars

The Eight is THE Car. This is THE Eight!

Today's motor car is the eight! At the recent Paris Salon de l'Automobile —at the Olympia Motor Show in London —on the boulevards and highways of America during the past twelve months, the trend of motor car demand has been unmistakably to the straight eight.

It has been Studebaker's privilege through providing the first truly great eight of moderate cost, to be the standard-bearer of the industry in the swing toward this finer, more flexible, more suave and pliant transportation. Dramatically and sensationally Studebaker's President Eight led the way.

New President Eight shown in stock for sale—Studebaker wheels and trunk are standard equipment—$2550 at the factory. Equipment, other than standard, extra.

Recognition was immediate. Less than six months after its introduction, this champion car outsold every other eight in the world!

But the engineering genius which created such a car could not rest idly on its laurels. Hence today, Studebaker presents a still greater President Eight—the triumphantly successful product of Studebaker's research laboratories and million-dollar Proving Ground.

This new President Eight is as near to a perfect motor car mechanically as champion-builders can make it. It is a large car—but not bulky. It is a genuinely beautiful car—a smart car—with good taste in every line and in all its appointments. It is a fast car, and enduring—proved beyond cavil. Its manners and its comforts await your appraisal in Studebaker showrooms today throughout the land. Come, drive a champion!

MOTOR STAGE FROM BOISE STALLS WEST OF BUIH IN ORIENTS

No Return Received From Bus Or Passengers After Passing Through Hagerman; New Blockades On Rogerson Road

Somewhere between Hagerman and Buih at an exact time during the motor stage that left Boise yesterday morning with several passengers was either battling through a snow-blocked road or was stalled in drifts. It was reported to have passed through Hagerman at 8 P. M. but three hours later word came back to Hagerman that the stage was stalled in drifts. It was assumed that they had found shelter in a ranch-house.

The motor stage that left here yesterday morning bound for Boise was stalled for two and a-half hours about two miles west of Buih, but broke through and was stalled in drifts through Hagerman at 10 P. M., passing through Hagerman at 10 P. M., passing through Hagerman at 10 P. M., passing through Hagerman at 10 P. M.

Work on the state highway, which left the road in fair condition as far as Hagerman and Rogerson Road, was undisturbed Friday night and yesterday morning by drifts from a possible one-way traffic. C. Ivon Eder, who carries the mail for the towns of the Salmon section.

By going out over the bridge south of town by the Robert Ray farm, and travelling part way through fields, the vehicle was stalled for four hours. Mr. Price said he reached Hollister and delivered mail there and at Depree. He then drove within a mile of Amsterdam, and could get no farther with his car. He walked to Amsterdam from that point, carrying the mail with him. He says only those in good cars should try to get to Hollister.

The mail was delivered an hour late last evening, with its snowplow, truck and two engines covered with snow and showing evidence of its fierce, though successful, struggle with the drifts.

All north and south roads around Twin Falls are still in bad condition, and drifting full of snow in places. The westbound train, due at 10:45 P. M. yesterday, was not here, due to delayed connections.

SNOWDRIFTS FORCE POSTPONEMENT OF GROWERS' ELECTION

Weather Conditions Deplete Attendance at Bean Association Session; White Fly and Blight Lecture Topics

Snow-blocked condition of roads caused postponement to next Saturday of the annual business meeting of the Southern Idaho Bean Growers' association, that was to have been held in the Elks club rooms here yesterday.

Yesterday's meeting, which was addressed by two leaders in warfare against insect and blight, was postponed on their 12th bean crop. The crop, representing the fourth payment of the season of 1929, was estimated to have been held in the Elks club rooms here yesterday.

Postponement of the business session at which three members of the board of directors are to be elected was anticipated in view of the fact that snow conditions were not present at all at yesterday's meeting, only three or four being present from the North Side districts where the association has a large membership.

Experts Address Group—Speakers at the afternoon meeting were Dr. Walter Carter in charge of the federal department of agriculture white fly control investigations here, and Walter Pierce, University of Idaho, assistant plant pathologist.

Holding out little hope for elimination of the white fly which preys upon beans and other vegetable crops as well as sugar beets, Dr. Carter indicated a plan of eradicating the pest as one promising most satisfactory results in conjunction with it. The needed for operation of growers in keeping records of planting time and crop conditions in order to work out a program that would permit of plant development to a stage where it could resist the fly when the insect larvae are present to take up its abode in cultivated fields.

Discusses Blight—Mr. Pierce discussed the mosaic disease and its effect upon sugar beets, lettuce, telling of the project conducted in this district with view to developing a disease resistant variety of Great Northern beans, along lines that a disease resistant type of the Robert bean in Michigan has been developed.

Police Hold Wagon, Found in Doorway, For Youthful Owner

Somewhere in or about Twin Falls there is a small boy or girl who little girl who will be delighted to learn that the sturdy little wagon—probably a Christmas present, it has been used for several days in the house, and awaits the coming of its owner to the police station to claim it.

Apparently abandoned in a doorway last week, the little wagon attracted the attention of someone passing by who told the police about it, and the cops took it to the police station, expecting that its owner would inquire about it.

The youngster who lost the wagon perhaps never thought about getting the police but they know about it, and all that is necessary for the owner to do is to tell what kind of a wagon it is and when and where it was lost.

JURY DISAGREES IN CASE AGAINST C. D. CHURCHFIELD

Defendant to Be Permitted to Visit Sick Father, Charge States Motoring Intoxicated

A jury in district court here failed after six hours deliberations to agree upon a verdict in the case of C. D. Churchfield, on trial for alleged driving of an automobile while intoxicated, and was excused from further consideration of the case by Judge W. Babcock at 6 P. M. yesterday. The alleged offense was said to have been committed here last October.

Stating that the accused man's father is critically ill in Reno, Nevada, W. L. Dixon, attorney for Churchfield, requested that he be permitted to visit his father.

E. V. Larson, prosecuting attorney, stated that it would be necessary to make some investigation before deciding whether to continue the case, but that the young man would not be deprived of opportunity for visiting his father.

Members of the jury chosen from the regular jury list were directed by Judge Babcock to be in attendance on the court again Monday at 10 A. M.

COLD RETAINS GRIP ON WATER SYSTEM

Warmer Weather Appears to Aggravate Trouble; Citizens Seek Aid in Thawing Pipes

Warmer weather of the last two days brought little or no relief to Twin Falls municipal waterworks department in its fight to prevent freezing in the water system.

Instead of improving the situation, the warmer weather seemed to aggravate the trouble, driving the frost deeper into the ground, and it was stated last evening, the waterworks department received Friday and Saturday fully as many calls for assistance in thawing out frozen meters, service pipes and indoor fixtures as had been made in during the two preceding days.

Frost Far Underground—Frost was encountered as deep as three feet in the ground under the pavement by workers digging around water pipes on Ninth avenue Saturday. At the same time it is providing a picture in maintaining circulation in all water mains, and there is little apprehension in that regard.

GOOD BONDS SHOULD BACK INVESTMENTS, SAYS ROGER DABSON

Noted Statistician Points Out Fallacy of Ignoring Sound Offers in Present Time of Speculative Craze in Stocks

By ROGER W. DABSON BABSON PARK, Mass., Jan. 26 (Special to The News)—The public is too busy chasing stocks up the hill to pay much attention to bonds.

Indeed, many investors have been throwing good bonds overboard and are plugging into the stock market at these high levels.

This long bull market in stocks is leading a lot of folk astray. I am both amused and sorry at the reaction of which the public sees a net yield on a stock is the logical thing and that this or that or all along will come in 30 times their earnings.

Careful Study Essential Of course there should be reason in all things. Admittedly, there are companies where the management together with the outlook for growth of the industry justify occasional purchases of shares in the form of stocks.

Statistical evidence that bonds are being neglected is not lacking. Look at the sales of stocks on the New York exchange in 1928 compared with the sales of bonds.

ONE-TIME PRESIDENT OF GEM STATE UPPER HOUSE VISITS SENATE

Presented in Capitol of Colonel Sam Taylor Recalls Days of Territorial Legislature. When Pistol Served As Gavel

BOISE, Jan. 26—Recalling the days of the last territorial legislature when the speaker of the house pounded for order with the butt of a pistol

Constantly at War The colonel, a Virginian who fled from the South when the Civil War broke out, says only slightly modified by a half century residence in the West.

His greatest interest was in that territorial legislature when the "Al" county, Idaho, was controlled by the council, or upper house, was broken up by a peaceful maneuver.

Recalls Filibuster Colonel Taylor said seven of the bills favored the measure as did the control of the situation lay with the Altura county group.

On advice of James H. Hawley, later governor, and E. Z. Johnson, attorney general, the majority group refused to sign the bill.

SLENDER SILHOUETTE NEW EVENING STYLE

Latest Formal Gowns Stress Grace Above Animation; Low Flare New Skirt Treatment

(BY THE NEWS SHOPPER)

Slenderizing of the evening silhouette is at present in vogue. It is quite as feminine as the more naive interpretation which has heaped ruffe upon ruffe and flounce upon flounce, giving unlimited skirt width, but is more subtle and modern in feeling. It is prone to give poise rather than flippancy, grace rather than animation. This does not mean that fullness is not retained. There is just as much emphasis on skirt fullness as ever, but it is fullness which drapes and falls close to the body, veiling the figure lines, rather than disclosing them.

One of the important influences which has achieved the slimmer line for evening is the growing approval for low-placed fullness which permits a slim line from the shoulder to well below the hips.

Bows and pliant peplum treatments are decidedly youthful and chic. In fact, the most attractive girls to be found are those who wear the low-placed, full and wide bow to complete an exceedingly chic creation of the new white blue. It is never less than dignified, sophisticated than gray, but harder to wear. The material is taffeta, bordered with silk, and the skirt flares from the hips above the knees. The deep back sociological ends in a wide bow with draped ends. The neckline comes only a few inches below the base of the throat in front.

WITH WASHINGTON'S WOMEN

By SUE McNAMARA
(Associated Press Feature Writer)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26 (AP)—President and Mrs. Coolidge will preside at only two more state functions in the White House. The white and gold cards of invitation always are issued here.

Knowledge that the Coolidge regime is bringing out unprepared "reverts" to the Coolidge era. Everyone seems eager to get a last glimpse of the president and his wife at one of these formal colorful affairs.

While much alike, the receptions never fail to provide a glamorous atmosphere of the White House.

Those who go to Washington, there always are many notable present. The beauty of the White House, the inspiring music, the smart gowns and the historic setting make them events never to be forgotten.

The White House is a blaze of light. Carried up to the east gate in the endless procession. Guests alighting at the swinged entrance, leaving their evening wraps with colored attendants in checking booths. Up the stairway to the great East ballroom.

Polished floors reflecting the light of huge glittering chandeliers. Mirrored mantels half concealed by smiles.

The blue full dress uniforms of the president's aides and army officers resplendent in gold epaulettes and gold collars and palms.

British Woman Explorer Motors To Arctic Circle

I had much rather be the best-dressed than the worst-dressed woman at any party, especially in an out-of-the-way place. I am the only English woman. I appreciate the luxury and comfort. Woman In Ohio Bakes 45,000 Pies Annually

WILMINGTON, Ohio, Jan. 26 (AP)—Baking 45,000 pies is just part of a year's work for Mrs. Rachel Clark Starbuck, yet she can't turn a recipe.

From her home kitchen Mrs. Starbuck supplies pies for eight Wilmington restaurants. On week days she makes about 1000 on Saturdays 200. She began baking pies as a sideline to her home work five years ago.

Requests for her recipe flood Mrs. Starbuck's mailbox. "When it comes to thinking in terms of one pie, I can't do it," she said, "unless I stop to figure it out. I don't use any recipe. I just dump it in."

Ideas About What Makes Woman Pretty, Keep Changing; Paris Approving Tenseless

By BARBARA HEAUPHT
(Associated Press Fashion Editor)

PARIS, Jan. 26 (AP)—Ideas keep changing about what makes a pretty woman pretty, and have since the day Helen of Troy.

Now Paris mannequins consider it smart and distinguished to be pale, nervous and tense, with no smiles without cause, and not a dimple in a roomful of girls.

Houses with assured society clientele employ the thinnest, most high strung, touch-and-go girls to display their models before thin, high strung, touch-and-go customers.

Florida's First Lady Uses Market Basket

TALLAHASSEE, Jan. 26 (AP)—Florida's new first lady is a strong believer in the merits of the old-fashioned market basket.

Mrs. DeLoe Carleton, who became mistress of the governor's mansion January 6, does her own marketing and attends personally to many other of the household duties. She prepares some of her husband's favorite dishes.

GERMANY STARTS CLASS IN MUSIC FOR FOREIGNERS

BERLIN, Jan. 26 (AP)—Master classes in various branches of music will for the first time be offered here during the summer of 1929 for the exclusive convenience of musicians from abroad.

A German Institute of Music for Foreigners has been founded under the patronage of the Prussian minister of arts, sciences and education, Historic Charlottenburg Castle, the residence of Emperor Frederick III, has been secured as the seat of the unusual conservatory.

Registration is open until April 1, 1929. Only students who can submit a certificate of the completion of their courses at a state conservatory or a music school recognized by the state authorities may register.

Onion Crops Bring Education To Girls

MUSKOGEE, Mich., Jan. 26 (AP)—Onions mean education to Cornelia and Laura Van Wye, the "Dutch twins" of Newaygo county.

Juniors in high school, the twins have earned their expenses by growing onions. Last year their net profit totaled $225 from an acre crop.

They expect onions to take them to college.

London Grows Taller But Old Law Stands

LONDON, Jan. 26 (AP)—London is growing taller and more valuable. The buildings have not yet taken on the sky-scraping growth of American buildings, but in many cases are well up to the 100-foot level above ground permitted by London's 40-year-old building act.

ACQUATIC CHAMPION RETURNS TO SCHOOL

Miss Ethel Lackie, Champion Sprint Swimmer, Forsakes Applause to Finish College

CHICAGO, Jan. 26 (AP)—Ethel Lackie, 21-year-old swimming star, has turned her back on the acclaim the sport world always gives a champion to obtain a college education.

The shy little mermaid, who was the fastest of the women sprint swimmers, hopes to instruct others in swimming after she receives a degree at the University of Chicago.

"My plans are a bit vague, but I hope to make my swimming pay my way until I can attain a place in the business world," she said.

"Marriage? Perhaps." Ethel was 16 when she won the 100-yard free style championship at the "Olympic" games. She held six sprint titles when she was 16 years old. Miss Lackie learned to swim in Lake Michigan when she was 3 years old.

SCIENCE MOBILIZES AGAINST LONDON FOG

Dense Falls Cause of Tuberculosis and Rickets, Says Dr. J. S. Owens, Air Expert

LONDON, Jan. 26 (AP)—The British air ministry has renewed its fight against London fog, which are blamed for being the frequent cause of rickets and tuberculosis.

Dr. J. S. Owens, superintendent of the air ministry advisory committee on atmospheric pollution, has discovered that during a day there are between 800,000 and 1,000,000 particles of soot crammed into every cubic inch of air over London.

Each person breathes about 2,000 cubic inches of air every hour. This means that, under bad fog conditions nearly every person in central London inhales from 24,000,000 to 48,000,000 particles of soot in an hour.

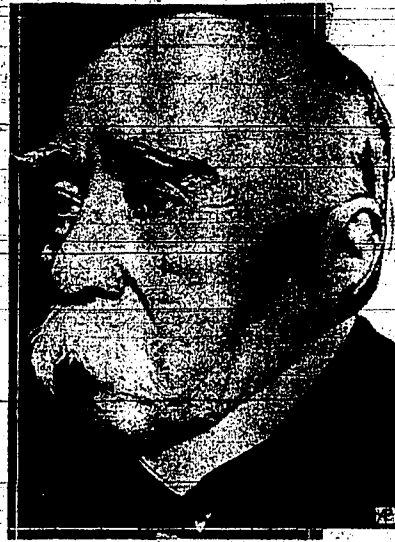

The shutting out of the ultraviolet rays of the sun is the worst and most harmful feature of air pollution. It is the frequent cause of rickets and tuberculosis.

On a winter's morning 280 tons of soot are produced in three hours over London by domestic fires. A pound of soot pollution per million cubic yards is enough to eliminate practically all vitamin A from the air, which would otherwise be coming through. Burning 17,000,000 tons of coal London loses through the smoke pipe in an average year 12 1/2 percent of the winter sunshine it is able to receive and 50 per cent of the winter daylight, according to Dr. Owens.

The density of air pollution is measured by an intricate clockwork device. A disk of white filter paper, seven inches in diameter, divided into 24 sections like the face of a clock, is fixed on a turntable revolving once in 24 hours.

Records obtained in this way show that the impurity varies every hour in London the atmosphere thickens about 7 A. M. when domestic fires are lit, and it is at its densest four or five hours later. After this it clears gradually, but there is a slight increase in density about 8 P. M. On Sunday morning the period of maximum density is one hour later.

WOMEN TO PROMOTE AMERICAN AVIATION

Kansas Plans National Aeronautical Association as Aid to Cause of Air-Mindedness

NEW YORK, Jan. 26 (AP)—Entry of organized womanhood into the field of aviation will be an accomplished fact, if the plans of Mrs. Victor Roos, Wichita, Kansas, for a national association are carried out.

Mrs. Roos, president of the Wichita Women's Aeronautical association, one of the pioneer organizations of its kind in the country, hopes to interest women all over America in commercial aviation.

"The whole country is air-minded," Mrs. Roos declared. "Our proposed association will carry the message of commercial aviation into the homes through its women members. We are not particularly after women pilots, although members of our sex have proved their ability to handle a ship, but we are after a vast number of housewives with a definite interest in the field of aviation."

Mrs. Roos' husband is a prominent figure in aviation circles, and she has been actively associated with him in his recent ventures.

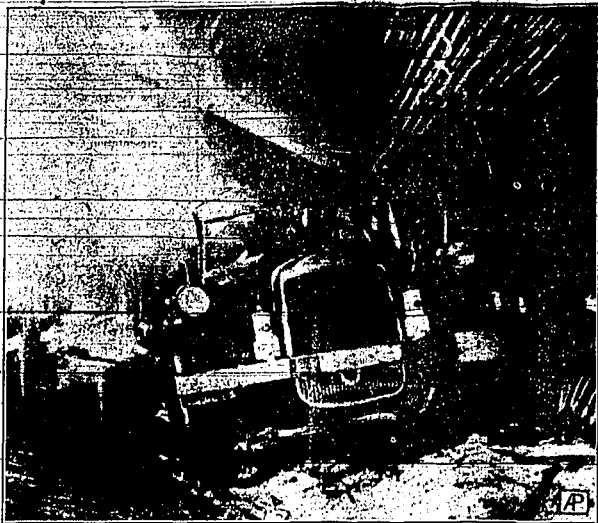

"A woman naturally is interested in her husband's business," she said. "In my case I found the subject so entrancing that I have embarked on my own hook and to the extent of organizing and leading the Wichita association which we now hope to extend to a national scope."

The Wichita association takes an active part in the aviation affairs of that thriving city where six factories turned out a large percentage of the commercial airplanes used last year in this country. Members attend a study hour each week and lectures are delivered at intervals by leaders in the industry. Services are rendered visiting fliers at the airports.

Mrs. Roos is not a pilot but has flown thousands of miles in the ships of her husband.

NEW SPEED RECORD established by Boeing Airplanes using VICO

Salt Lake to Chicago, 1285 miles by air, in 8 hours and 25 minutes—an average speed of 151.2 miles an hour! Boeing ships made this new record December 27th, carrying 1600 pounds of mail.

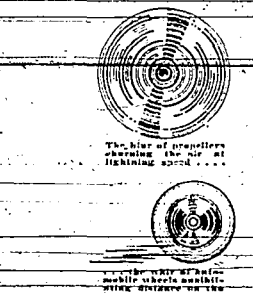

ONCE AGAIN—not as a "stunt," but in the performance of regular every-day duty—the sterling quality of Vico oil is demonstrated in a dramatic manner. Such terrific speed—more than 215 miles a minute—demands oil of unusual stamina. Imagine the grinding, scorching punishment Vico had to withstand in those roaring motors! Imagine what would have happened if the oil had failed! Air transport lines, maintaining fast schedules daily, to deliver passengers and mail on time—beating the schedules whenever possible—must have oil that will not fail! It is significant that four great air lines, including Boeing Air Transport, Inc., are using Vico oil exclusively in their planes. They found, after strenuous tests, that money cannot buy a better oil than Vico.

You want the same unflinching protection to your car—the same stamina and dependability in the oil you use. And you can have it by using the same oil—Vico—for the Vico you get at service stations is of exactly the same high quality as the Vico used in airplanes!

Mistakes Best Teachers in Livestock Business, Says Mrs. Minnie Miller

Idaho Woman Rancher Begins Industry as Greenhorn; Now Nationally Known as Owner of Champion Show Animals

Experience has proved her greatest teacher in attaining success in the livestock world. Mrs. Minnie Miller of Thousand Springs farm, in an interview appearing in the February issue of Farm and Fireside.

Handicap—Three-fold. First, her age. She was a grand-mother when she decided to become a livestock farmer.

Second, inexperience. Except for girlhood visits to farms, relatives in New York state she had no first-hand means of knowing how a farm is operated.

Third, her husband is well-to-do. She has plenty of money.

Now, if you find it hard to consider that this woman is a success, consider for a moment what usually happens when inexperienced rich men turn in their later years to livestock raising. Rarely indeed do they make the practical contribution to breed progress which Mrs. Miller already has made.

Success—Pleasure—Friends. The great measure of her success lies in the fact that her neighboring farmers and practical stockmen everywhere think of her not as an amateur, but as one of themselves, and are almost as pleased as she is when the judge pins the purple on her entry.

Her husband's help. The success of Mrs. Miller is due to the fact that she has the Idaho and the National Hampshire Breeders' associations. At the past six International fairs she has had six times taken championship for best ewe and five times for best flock. Three times she has exhibited the champion ram and twice the champion wether.

That six years ago she knew nothing about livestock and was approaching that age at which most women are content to do nothing, much except spoil the grandchildren!

Gray-haired but boyishly slim and with a face alert and youthful. Mrs. Miller sat on a horder's mackay bus in the sheep exhibition barn at the last International, laughingly chatting with stockmen who came up to congratulate her on her winnings. Between calls we talked.

"What did you win this time about your going to farming?" I asked. "Oh, he wrangled but I kept at him. He was willing to have a ranch as a place to live and hunt; we both like that. But he wasn't interested in livestock; he opposed the idea. But now when I'm on the show circuit and don't win, his air winnings every night he has a fit!

I started being a livestock farmer in 1921. As I was an out-and-out greenhorn I decided to enroll for a year at the Utah Agricultural college and learn at least the jargon of the business.

"When the registrar of the college saw me—a gray-haired grand-mother approaching his window he laughed and wanted to know my age." We have to know if you've reached the age of discretion," he said.

"I didn't take any set course, just sat in on some lectures in animal husbandry and judged livestock along with boys twenty or more years younger than I was. As first I didn't know what it was all about, but after a while I began to pick up facts; that year was my first year.

"Mistakes Best Teachers" "I learned more, though; the next year, out on my farm, making mistakes. Mistakes are the best teachers, I think, I made plenty.

"First, range sheep. That mistake cost me both time and money; I made no money and found I didn't like the business, so I quit.

"Then I gathered together a fine herd of Duroc hogs, all sows, with show winnings. Cost me a lot of money back there in the boom days. I did well in my breeding campaign but when it came to selling I neglected to consider one important fact—Idaho and the neighboring states aren't much on swine. There was no market for the stock of stuff I had; I sold out, mainly in Iowa, off the show circuit. My best pigs went to the state university, but that mistake cost me a pretty penny.

"I'd started too fast both times, you see; hadn't realized how heavily business and careful planning count in this livestock business. With two mistakes behind me and getting low on my money, I took time out for a little planning.

"I got the idea that sheepmen out there would pay good prices for well-bred and careful-planned stock. Instead of considering for them as they had been doing, I bought 15 English-Bred Hampshires from Ira Edwards, of Kimberly and made a new start. I gave about $10 a piece for them.

"Improving Stock." This third haul proved right all around. I've been improving my stock right along and now have a good flock of 100 Hampshire ewes. I get around $50 to $75 a head for the general run of the surplus, with well-bred rams going at $500 and upwards.

"The Guernseys are a more recent venture. I'm building slow now." Mrs. Miller's husband, who I started with a foundation of 14 head and now have 55. I'm selling but few better calves and won't sell my herd up to around 80, the size I have in mind. I'm getting from $600 to $900 now for my bull calves at $400 to $500 and having one at $1 value up around $500. Our climate out in Idaho is suited to dairy cattle; I think we have a future ahead of us in that direction.

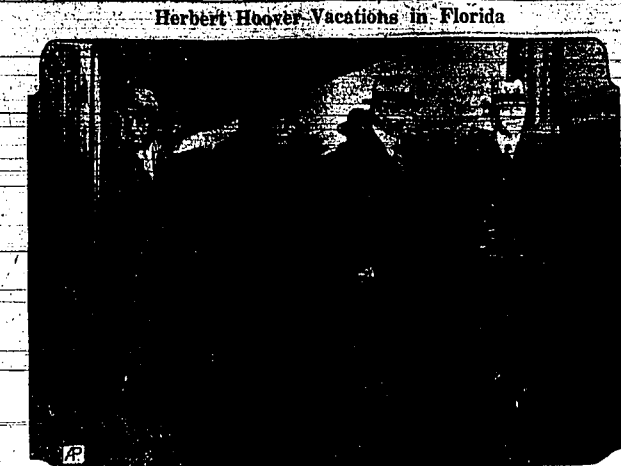

"I don't do anything, much except spoil the grandchildren!" Gray-haired but boyishly slim and with a face alert and youthful, Mrs. Miller sat on a horder's mackay bus in the sheep exhibition barn at the last International, laughingly chatting with stockmen who came up to congratulate her on her winnings. Between calls we talked.

I started being a livestock farmer in 1921. As I was an out-and-out greenhorn I decided to enroll for a year at the Utah Agricultural college and learn at least the jargon of the business.

"When the registrar of the college saw me—a gray-haired grand-mother approaching his window he laughed and wanted to know my age." We have to know if you've reached the age of discretion," he said.

"I didn't take any set course, just sat in on some lectures in animal husbandry and judged livestock along

KIMBERLY STUDENTS WIN HONORS IN SCHOLARSHIP

KIMBERLY, Jan. 25 (Special to The News)—Outstanding events in Kimberly school during the last week were the contests for standing of Kimberly students in the Every Pupil Scholarship contest sponsored by the National Teachers' College and the presentation of the opera, "Rings in the Sawdust," Friday night in the high school auditorium. Examinations in the scholarship contest were taken January 8 and 9. Twenty-four states were represented in the contest.

Kimberly pupils ranking highest in the various divisions of the contest follow: Senior literature, Del Glenn Verlin Moore, Hubert Walden. Junior literature, Edward Uhlig and Edna Mae Lathrop tied for first place; Myrtle Silvers and Carrie Lane Powell tied for second.

OFF TO A LONG SUCCESSFUL RUN

New SUPERIOR Whippet

with "FINGER-TIP CONTROL"

THE MOST-NOTABLE ADVANCE IN DRIVING CONVENIENCE SINCE THE SELF-STARTER

Greater Beauty, Larger Bodies Made it the hit of the New York Show

The longer bodies of the Superior Whippet are the most distinctive feature. Higher radiator and hood, heavier one-piece full crown fenders, are bringing to Four and light Six buyers an entirely new conception of how beautiful and independent can be. Mechanically, too, the new Superior Whippet is far advanced in features. Heavier, most powerful shaft drive. It is the lowest-priced car to offer such important features as the new "Finger-Tip Control," silent flying chain and full forced-feed lubrication. And it carries on Whippet's unsurpassed reputation for operating economy and minimum service costs.

Roomier interiors, broader seats, longer front and rear springs; numbers and oversized balloons tires bring you the riding comfort of costlier cars.

Be sure to see the new Superior Whippet at your first opportunity! An immediate order will aid in obtaining early delivery.

WHIPPET HISTORY repeats itself again

ON January 7, 1926, the Pontiac Six came into existence. It had body by Fisher. It sold for $825. It introduced real luxury and beauty to buyers in the low-priced field.

But Pontiac's builders did not rest content with their early triumph. They knew that American people are constantly on the lookout for new and finer things. So in February, 1927, they introduced the New and Finer Pontiac Six. And it was lower in price than ever, selling for $775.

Then, in July, greatly increased production enabled Pontiac's builders to reduce the price again. Now Pontiac sold for $745.

Same 1928, and with it a still finer Pontiac. Even then the price remained only $745. And after six months, Pontiac was made faster, more powerful and more attractive than ever.

This brief review gives you an idea of something that is coming. Automobile history is repeating itself again. Soon Oakland will present a brand new Pontiac Six, an even greater advancement over other low-priced cars available today than the original Pontiac represented in 1926.

GRAIN VALUES RUN UP AGAINST STONE WALL

Corr. Market Establishes New All-Around High Price Record—Bread Cereal—Weakens

CHICAGO, Jan. 26 (AP)—Grain values ran up against a stone wall of profit-taking sales today. Consequent reaction from fresh upturns in price went well below yesterday's finish. Nevertheless, increased general inclination was shown to give attention to reports showing a threat of serious damage to domestic winter wheat. Incidentally, corn today established a new all-around high price record for the season.

Comment that the Chicago wheat market has become the highest in the world, resulting in a record for the year today toward the east. It was pointed out also that export demand today for wheat from North America was below that of the United States exports of wheat so far this season are about 50,000,000 bushels less than last year's total domestic supplies 120,000,000 bushels compared to 70,000,000 bushels a year ago.

HEAVY PROFIT-TAKING ON MART FOR STOCKS

Favorable Weekly Trade and Industrial Reviews Help to Keep Bulls' Enthusiasm Down

NEW YORK, Jan. 26 (AP)—Favorable weekly trade and industrial reviews and the prospects of further gold sales in London kept bullish enthusiasm low through heavy week-end profit-taking in today's short-session of the stock market.

Some two dozen issues were bid up to new high levels, with gains ranging to a maximum of 13 points in American Telephone and Telegraph.

Gas Issue Up—American Telephone was seized upon as a market leader and rushed up 13 points to $22 1/2.

Columbian Carbon, Air Reduction, Chicago and North Western, and Westcoast Oil pushed up nearly 10. Radio Corporation of America advanced 3 1/2 points to record prices.

Stock Mart Makes Definite Headway At First of Year

NEW YORK, Jan. 26 (AP)—The stock market made the most definite progress of the new year this week, after about three weeks of halting and filling. Bulls generally failed to make headway, but moves of industrialists and utilities helped to keep prices.

Call money was easier, holding at 6 per cent through the week, but there was little improvement in time money, and the federal reserve bank raised its buying rate on bankers' acceptances.

Brokers' loans rose $348,000,000 to a record of $4,433,000,000, and the Federal Reserve bank reported a reduction of $23,000,000 in its holdings of government securities and bills bought in the open market.

GET RID OF YOUR FAT

Thousands of others have gotten rid of theirs by my simple and efficient method of fat reduction without starvation diet or burdensome exercise, often at a very rapid rate and WITHOUT PAYMENT, until reduction has taken place.

I am a licensed practical physician and have made a careful study of the physiological requirements of the human body. This has enabled me to select such ingredients and in such proportions as in my opinion will produce not only a loss of weight without harm and an improvement in health, but will also alleviate all of the troublesome symptoms which frequently accompany and often are direct result of overweightness, such as shortness of breath on direct exertion, palpitation of the heart, etc., not to speak of the relief from the embarrassment of being too stout. Special persons suffering from such diseases as Chronic Rheumatism, Gout, Excessive Fatness, and Obesity are greatly relieved by a reduction of their superfluous fat.

My treatment will relieve that depressed, tired, sleepy feeling, giving you the renewed energy and vigor which come as a result of the loss of superfluous fat.

If you are over stout do not postpone but sit down right now and send for my FREE TRIAL TREATMENT and my plan which I am to be PAID ONLY AFTER REDUCTION HAS TAKEN PLACE in your case.

What the Gray House Hid

The Mystery of a Haunted Mansion by Wyndham Martyn

W. R. D. Barvier. Copyright by Wyndham Martyn

The fact that Smucker fainted Professor Burton, and that the professor killed him in self-defense, was not the only thing that was hidden in the Gray House.

"There was something, of course," Appleton said playfully. "You can see that his mind has gone. I had him put under paraffin gas. I should admit that he suffered from a slight case of mania. The standard Smucker already he came in, and later, unfortunately, he killed the poor fellow. There are witnesses to this."

"I don't doubt it," Peabody said dryly. "I don't doubt it, if you had burned the Gray house, you would have died in its ruins. So far you haven't made out a case."

"If you don't want to be reason for my marriage," said the professor indignantly. "I want a murder trial, with a relative of the family in danger of hanging, call in the police. Two credibly witnesses saw the murder commit."

"You'll depend on what we get from this thing that Leg and Junior are bringing."

"What for?" Appleton asked. "To arrest me for trespass?"

"I'm not going to the boss," responded Jim eagerly. "That wouldn't do me any good. I'm not a lawyer."

"How were you going to have taken any of these things out of the room?"

Poor Old Huckleberry Hawk, she mocked.

"I'm not going to the boss," responded Jim eagerly. "That wouldn't do me any good. I'm not a lawyer."

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Fisher and Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Ross presided at a charmingly detailed dinner at 7:30 P. M. Tuesday at the home of the former. Twenty guests were seated at small tables centered with lighted lamps in ornamental holders of red and blue—cups—cups—white—cups—cups and place cards in corresponding colors. The evening's diversions were radio music and cards. Mr. and Mrs. Glenn—Whitney and Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Wilson won first and second high combination scores. Mr. and Mrs. Baird—winner—were presented with clever consolation gifts.

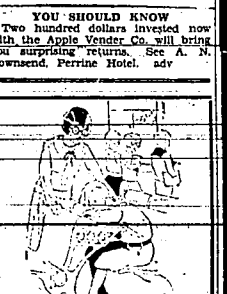

George Pledger and Miss Ann Pledger were absent from school this week on account of influenza.

Little Helen Pettigrove, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Pettigrove, is suffering with a severe case of lung and throat infection.

Henry Michaelis, patient at the Twin Falls county general hospital, who submitted to a second operation for appendicitis, is improving slowly.

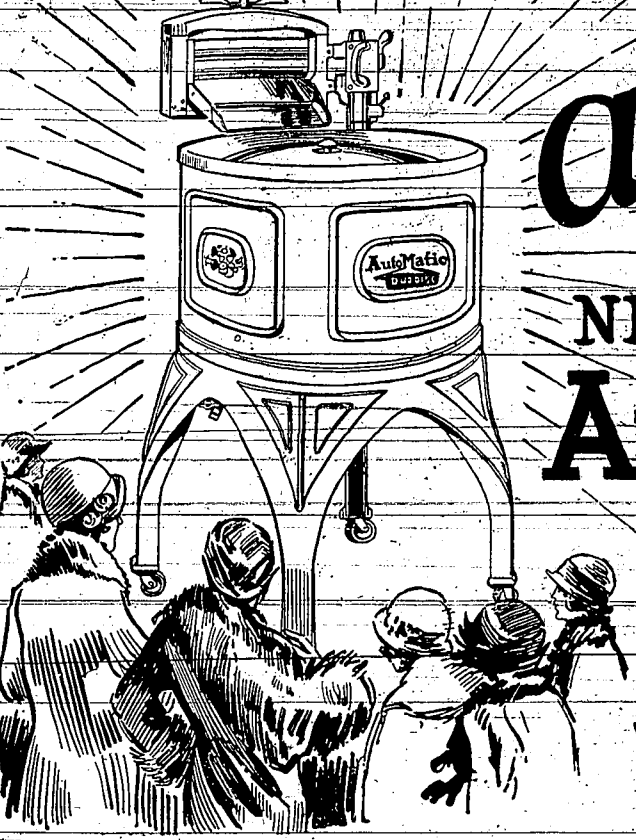

Ruth Arlene Wilson was absent from school this week, suffering from tonsillitis.

WILL HE FAIL to pass because you failed him?
From "back" again to the unfair struggle! Will YOUR boy have the wearisome prospect of doing last year's work all over? Or will he just barely "get by" with the constant threat of failure to harass him to his death?
Is he naturally dull? No, not necessarily. Three out of every four children who are "back" in school need glasses.
That's all. If he fails, the chances are three to one that it's because you have failed him. End the unfair struggle! Have his eyes examined.

Here is the Event that Frees Hundreds of Women from Drudgery Every Year

Annual SALE
NEW Model No. 22
AutoMatic
DUO-DISC
Electric Washers

The New DUO-DISC Can Be Used For "Overhead" or "Underneath" Agitation At the Lowest Price Ever Quoted for a Quality Washer

Now comes the Idaho Power Company's annual sale of Automatic Washers at a price and on terms that makes it possible for every woman to have the aid of this remarkable washer in her home. In this sale we are presenting a new model AutoMatic with many improved features and advantages.

Here is the latest development in electric washers—a machine so designed that you may wash either way—up for a tubful or down for a few pieces. The AutoMatic Aluminum Duo-Disc is so designed and constructed as to be instantly invertible so that the precise washing principle that fits the job may be used.

Amazingly Quiet In Operation

This new model AutoMatic operates quietly and efficiently. It has a curvilinear tub that makes it easy to "get at" the clothes.

The self draining tub is of unusually large capacity, holding 18 gallons of water and 7 pounds of dry clothing. Will wash 30 pounds of dry clothes an hour.

Pressed steel construction instead of castings makes breakage almost impossible. Reversible swinging all-steel wringer, very strong and durable, locking rapidly in 4 positions, with cushion rolls.

With every AutoMatic electric washer you receive a 10-year Service Guarantee Bond signed by the manufacturer.

The New AutoMatic Rotary Iron fits right on to the washer

$1 down

The AutoMatic Rotary Iron is a remarkable new appliance that does everything a bare, costly ironer will do. It operates from the wringer shaft of the AutoMatic Washing Machine. Can be put on or taken off in a jiffy, and carried without strain or exertion. Heats as quickly as an ordinary electric iron. Has ironing surface of 10 flatirons. Irons everything by a new speed method in one-third the time.

During this Annual Sale we offer the AutoMatic Rotary Iron for a first payment of only $1.00 Down, and the balance in convenient monthly sums. With an AutoMatic Washer and a Rotary Iron your laundry will be complete.
