PUMPING PLANTS TO CONTINUE TO ENJOY FREEDOM FROM TAX

Thundering Voice of Senator Irving E. Rockwell Drives to Defeat Bill to Remove Equipment from Free List

(By The Associated Press) BOISE, Feb. 2.—The thundering voice of Senator Irving E. Rockwell, Blaine county, drove to defeat today the senate bill which was intended to abolish tax exemptions for power pumping equipment used in irrigation.

The bill was withdrawn on motion of Senator Barrett, Cooling one of the authors of the bill, after Senator Whitten, Boise county, made a defense of the bill from an attack that had continued ever since its introduction early in the session.

Senator Whitten took the floor when the irrigation committee reported the bill unfavorably, urging indefinite postponement. He said he had not intended to stop him, he went into a detailed analysis of the law that included reference to virtually every project in the state.

Confirmed Enemy Interrupts Senator Rockwell, a confirmed enemy of the bill, interrupted Whitten to repeat his assertion that the sponsors of the measure had in mind many rural counties which were adversely affected by the bill. He continually boomed out challenges to Senator Whitten's analysis of the effects of the bill.

Senator Robertson, Washington, finally quelled the debate saying that he marked the difference between cooperation and failure for many pumping projects. The clash in the senate had no counterpart in the house, for that body continued its usual untroubled attitude in going through the ordinary legislative process.

The old age pension bill again made its appearance in the house, it was passed by the house last session but defeated in the senate. The present bill provides for paying $25 a month to needy persons over 65 years of age who had spent the last 10 years in Idaho.

CONGRESS GIVES DAY TO AFFAIRS OF SEA; COMMITTEES ACTIVE

Conference Fails to Agree On $24,000,000 Prohibition Enforcement Amendment On Deficiency Bill Before Body

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—While affairs of the sea held almost the exclusive attention of congress today, various senate and house committees dealt with such widely divergent subjects as prohibition, the Greek loan, flood control, farmers' loans and radio communication.

Both branches worked on navy matters. The conference committee of members of both houses, which has the first deficiency bill in custody, failed to agree on the $24,000,000 prohibition enforcement amendment. It was added by the senate after house passage of the measure.

During the day the senate passed and sent to the house a bill directing the department of commerce to determine the qualifications of flying schools and to rate them. Approve Debt Statement The house bill for settlement of the $18,250,000 Greek war debt to the United States was approved by the senate finance committee.

The total number of pounds raised was approximately 100,000, the effect of smaller yield being offset by increased acreage. About one-eighth of the total production was sold in the Great Northern variety. The association handled about 200,000 bushels from 1927 and about the same for 1928.

TWIN FALLS' BEANS SET STANDARD FOR PRODUCT OF NATION

C. P. Bowles Stresses Importance of Cooperation Among Association Members; Total 1928 Production Equals 1927

The Great Northern bean grown in this section is today regarded as the standard of that variety for the nation owing to the work of Southern Idaho Bean Growers' association. C. P. Bowles, treasurer and sales manager for the Southern Idaho Wholesale Grocery company told members of the bean growers' organization that he had been in Chicago, where he attended convention of the National Association of Wholesale Grocers, the National Association of Cannery, and the National Association of Grocers, all of which met at the same time.

Most Maintain Standard "The thing most needed at present," said Mr. Bowles, "is cooperation of members in limiting the quality of the product to a still greater extent and in exercising still greater care in removing every particle of dirt, however small. Manager Churchill of the California Lima Bean Growers' association told me that care in cleaning beans is most important. He said the standard and kept it in that position. He said that after the ordinary modern processes of cleaning had been followed, he would use a bag extra for cleaning out small particles left. He also said that they spent 17 cents a bushel advertising the product. The bean was sold at a price of 12 cents a bushel, which was the best white bean grown today and we must maintain the reputation."

Request Tariff Raisers "The Southern Idaho association has demonstrated its right to live as it has produced greater cooperation which resulted in increasing the price of the product, while reducing cost of production. The lesson is that we should have similar cooperation in other lines. To improve quality of product and seek still higher ideals."

Speaking of the tariff, Mr. Bowles said that he had been in Washington asking an increase of $125 over the present price of $1.25 a bushel. The Idaho congressional delegation has been in Washington for some time during this increase. Michigan growers have sent James N. McBride, representative from Michigan, to conference with growers here some months ago, to Washington to urge their claims there.

WET SNOW DESCENDS IN NORTHERN IDAHO

Frost-Free Soil Absorbing Moisture; Stage Lines Keeping Schedules at All Points

Lewiston, Feb. 2 (AP)—Marmora Monax, more commonly known as ground-hog, took advantage of a cloudy sky and stayed out today, he was buried under a wet blanket of snow some where in north Idaho. Snow began falling early this afternoon and there was no indication tonight that a clear sky would be seen tomorrow.

Frost-free soils are absorbing the moisture, promising plenty of water for crops.

Excepting on the Walla Walla-Lewiston run, stage lines in this section are keeping schedules at all points. The North and South highway is in good condition, with heavy buses making the trip down Lemhi hill today for the first time since the heavy snows. The temperature throughout northern Idaho was generally mild.

The Weather

FORECAST FOR TODAY: Unsettled Sunday and Monday with local rains and snow in South portion. Not much change in temperature.

Six-hundredths inch of rain fell in Twin Falls during the 24-hour period ending at 6 P. M. last night. 92 inch less than during the previous period. Yesterday's maximum was 5 points above that of Friday, while minimum for the two days were identical at 23.

Twin Falls Pioneer Covers 96 Miles in Seven-Days' Travel

Seven days on the road between Jarbridge, Nevada, and Twin Falls, a distance of 96 miles, W. E. Cordell spent today in this section of the region, arriving here last evening. Cordell set out in a motor truck seven days earlier to break the trip through from Jarbridge. He covered about seven miles the first day, stayed over night at the Zacharia ranch where he was compelled to abandon the truck and continue the trip in a bob-tail. With high winds at Kity's Hot Hole, Cedar Creek, and Three Creek, and traveling alternately dry and on horseback, and a short distance out of the Hot Hole in a motor truck, Cordell arrived in Rogerson, Friday morning, in the railroad train from Rogerson.

SPOUSE, ONCE FORGIVEN, NOW SUED FOR DIVORCE

Forgiveness has ceased to be a virtue in the case of Jessie Hoffman, according to her complaint filed in district court here yesterday in a suit for divorce from Carl Hoffman on grounds of alleged cruelty and non-support. The Hoffmans were married in Twin Falls, November 1923. Mrs. Hoffman recalls in her complaint that she began suit for divorce in December, 1927, following her best friend, according to Hoffman's promise that he would treat her with conjugal kindness and respect from further cruel or unkind treatment. Reconciliation, effected the following January, cancelled the suit. Hoffman fell back into his former ways and then, in November, he gathered up his belongings and went to Kansas. Trouble began again when Hoffman came back from Kansas and refused to support her. She has since found it necessary to appeal to the police for protection.

There are no children and no community property is involved.

Mrs. Hoffman asks for restoration to her former name of Jessie Ward. The complaint was filed by J. R. Bolwell, and W. H. Ott, attorneys.

Suit instituted by Pearl H. Thomas in district court at Boise, Feb. 2, for divorce from Alvin P. Thomas on grounds of alleged non-support, will be tried in Rogerson, Feb. 5, at 10 o'clock. In consequence of Thomas' application for change of venue, records in the case were received here yesterday from the county books filed by J. R. Bolwell, and W. H. Ott, attorneys.

SNOW SLEET AND RAIN

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 2 (AP)—Snow, sleet and rain laughed at the groundhog's stop signs tonight and continued to sprinkle Kansas, Missouri and parts of the Oklahoma strip, taking at least three lives and injuring scores of persons. Predictions were that the precipitation would continue through the night and Sunday.

Temperatures rose slowly and hovered around and below the freezing point through the stormcloud district. Slippery roads, rails and sidewalks again endangered travel of all kinds. A skidding car near Ponca City, Oklahoma, killed George L. Miller, one of the famous 101 ranch's Mill brothers. Santa Fe train which struck a skidding car at Chanute, Kansas, killed a minister's wife and injured her husband. Another man lost his life and his companion was perhaps fatally injured when a car slid off a ravine near Yosemite in western Kansas.

HANSEN MAN RECOUNTS FACTS OF ILL-FATED ADVENTURE IN CANYON

Hyde, started from Green River, Utah, for a trip by boat down the Grand and Colorado rivers and through the Grand Canyon. Glen was an experienced boatman, skilled in running quick water. The boat, which he built himself, while an inexpensive affair, was probably the best that could be made for the trip.

They made the trip through Cataract canyon, and to Lee's Ferry with no more than minor mishaps. Monday day at Lee's Ferry to put the boat in shape they pushed on through Marble Canyon to the Grand Canyon resort in this stretch of water, about 100 miles. They encountered some very bad rapids some of which had never before been ridden over and had several chances had to stop a few times to repair the boat, but arrived at Bright Angel trail with everything in shape. They had been seven days on the way from Lee's Ferry. A day at the resort and they set out again on the last stretch of bad water, about 160 miles. That complete there would be 150 more of quick water which they would have to travel to reach Needles, California, the first place where it would be convenient to leave the river.

THE BOAT THAT WAS LOST

The notebook found in the boat had an account of the trip to November 30, and from places mentioned, places well-known, and recognized by their descriptions, they had accounted for the trip to within a few miles of Diamond creek, the place farther down that, about 160 miles from the All the canyon and placards for many miles above and below where their boat was found were searched by men on foot. Nothing was found that gave reason to think that they had been ashore there. Between the place where their tracks were last found and the place the boat was found, it had no bad water—only minor rapids to run. What accident occurred in that stretch of comparatively quiet water will never be known.

They had been on the river 40 days. They ran about 400 miles of rapids and rapids.

Ten miles below where their boat was found, one day's run, they would have been over all the bad water of the Colorado river.

Heavy Snow Deals Death to Hundreds of Idaho's Game Birds

BIG MALLARDS TOO WEAK TO FLY; QUAIL GET FEED AT NAMPA

Condition of Big Game Not So Serious: Animals Endure Prolonged Period of Starvation, Says State's Warden

(By The Associated Press.) BOISE, Feb. 2.—The suddenly appearing heavy snow of the last week has spelled disaster to hundreds of Idaho game birds while large herds of big game are also being watched. So acute has the situation become as affecting the birds that several sportsmen's organizations of the state have been spreading feed on the snow to spell the game—until better times. In the vicinity of Nampa, large coveys of quail have gotten in the snow where they are being fed by Ada and Canyon county sportsmen. The birds have been "vexated" so that they cannot fly and many can scarcely walk about in the snow.

Ducks suffer. Hundreds of ducks are suffering for lack of feed. Many of the big mallards are found wandering along the roads, too weak to fly and scarcely able to get out of the way of the cars. The same situation exists in the Hayden section. All grain fields have been buried by the snow too deeply for the ducks to feed, and some are reported dying.

The condition of the big game is not so serious. These animals are able to endure more prolonged periods of starvation and according to R. E. Thomas, state game warden, it is not always profitable to attempt to feed the animals. Deer especially become domesticated quickly, he said, and once they begin to depend upon distributions of food they refuse to forage for themselves.

Some dispute has waged between the Ada, Fish and game departments over the care of a herd of deer which at one time approached within 12 miles of those on the Arroyo—Idaho highway.

Deputies of the game department were sent to investigate and found the animals well contented. Warden Thomas said. This he took to indicate that the animals were feeding along the edges which were blown clear of snow. For a time the sportsmen declared they would feed the animals against the wishes of the game department, but the difficulty was finally ironed out when the association sent men to investigate the herd.

Whether either Jack Sharkey or Young Stribling is a worthy contender for the world's heavyweight crown probably will be shown when they meet at Miami Beach, February 27.

By JAY R. VESSELS
(Feature Service Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, Feb. 2 (A)—There's one bright day in the life of every man in every business or trade. Even boxers have them.

February 27 probably will be the biggest day for William Lawrence Stribling. On that day at Miami Beach he fights Jack Sharkey for what may amount to first claim on the heavyweight championship of the world.

Stribling has already had his biggest day. And he muffed it. His day was July 21, 1921. But he permitted Jack Dempsey to trick him into ignominious defeat.

Neither Stribling nor Sharkey was classed better than second fivers as long as Gene Tunney and Jack Dempsey were in the game. Tunney's second defeat of Jack and his subsequent retirement left the field open, whereupon both Strib and Jack got busy.

Strib, who had been shuffling along with indifferent success, concentrated on a punch. He was successful—17 3/4 knockouts in his last 42 fights means anything. Sharkey, financially independent because of his heavy earnings in 1927, made a less pretentious start, but he rattled over the few opponents selected for his warmup bouts and is the choice of many a critic to make the heavyweight crown as his own.

There isn't much difference in the men, as shown by scales and tape measure. Strib is taller than the six-foot Gob by three-quarters of an inch and has a superior reach by two and one-half inches, but Sharkey even it up with his weight advantage of seven pounds. Stribling is 24 and Sharkey 26.

Both men profess to know something about the scientific end of boxing. Perhaps that is why both had so many satisfactory fights in the eyes of the public a year or two back.

Strib's reputation as a wrestler was increased with each successive victory. He decided to literally punch his way into the picture. Sharkey's reputation was made for him by his frequent loss to a more tolerant attitude he frequently took toward third class opponents.

The victor probably will be matched with the winner of an early summer bout between Tom Heenan and Pauline Urcidini, for a September fight with the heavy weight crown as the prize.

BUHL DEFEATS JEROME IN DOUBLE-HEADER

West End Girls Win, 50 to 3; North Side Boys Lose by 31 to 10 in One-Sided Affairs

BUHL, Feb. 2—(Special to The News)—Buhl took the double-header here tonight from Jerome. Buhl girls winning 50 to 3 and the boys winning their game 31 to 10. With the same steady team pressure that has characterized the play of the Buhl girls for years they gave the Jerome girls very little chance to make a real contest. Jerome had the ball many times but could not get by the Buhl defense, the guard play of Eoring and A. Southworth being more than the Jerome forwards could solve.

Titular Contenders
By defeating the last Jerome team the Buhl boys definitely declared themselves as contenders for the district honor. Jerome's heavy guard and had many chances to score, but were not inside of the basket. The play was fast and very hard, and Buhl earned her victory. Stewart and Lacy led the Buhl scoring with 11 points each. Shauer was high for Jerome with 4.

Measures For Farm Relief Flooding Twentieth Session Of Legislature

UNPROFITABLE YEAR BRINGS APPEAL FOR AID OF GOVERNMENT

Resolution Requests Investigation of Situation in Big Lost River Valley Following Creation of Carey Provision

By PRESTON L. GROVER Associated Press Staff Writer
BOISE, Feb. 2.—The somewhat unprofitable agricultural season of the last year has resulted in a flood of "farm relief" measures pouring into the state legislature.

So far this year upwards of a dozen such measures have been presented in the form of bills or appeals to congress to aid and the subject of the appeals has ranged all the way from adjustment of bonding arrangements to straight-out requests for money.

Possibly the most picturesque appeal was made by supporters of the resolution asking congress to investigate the situation that has arisen in the Big Lost River valley since creation of the Carey act.

This valley in South Central Idaho, once the home of numbers of prosperous settlers who cultivated upwards of 40,000 acres of land, has fallen into bad times. Now less than 5000 acres of the valley is cultivated.

Late in the week Governor Baldrige came out in favor of a cigaret tax of about 2 cents a package which he figured would bring $400,000 to the state.

What a boon it would be to the state if another source of revenue as profitable and easily collected as the gasoline tax could be found.

Legislative committees are considering picking up smattering of revenue from income taxes and tobacco taxes, neither one nor both of which would approach the gasoline tax in its annual income of above two million dollars.

Flow Underground The river rises in Custer county and swings down in the direction of the ground in different places, only to rise again farther down the valley. It performs this feat twice in 10 miles.

28,731 PERSONS VISIT IDAHO'S CAPITOL IN COURSE OF TWO YEARS.

BOISE, Feb. 2.—In the biennium just closed 28,731 persons visited Idaho's capitol and registered in the State Historical society where they viewed the relics, curios and reminders of pioneer days.

In the same period of time 3534 persons made the trip to the capitol dome to view Boise and the surrounding valley. The custodian of the dome distributed to these people 1207 booklets and pamphlets on Idaho.

COLLARS IN COLORS ANIMATING FROCKS

Stylists Decree Neckwear in Pastels; Uneven Hem Remains; Chiffon For Spring

(THE NEWS SHOPPER)
 Since the black dress has strong competition from color this season, and the feeling for the ultra smartness of severe black has passed, there has been a distinct effort to give new animation to the black frock. The large collar of white or off-white tint, or the smaller collar in pastels is one of the most successful ways of introducing color into the otherwise all-black mode. The collar itself is actually a scarf, formalized to collar lines. The shapes and proportions of the collars are so varied and unusual at times that they make the frock itself seem merely a background for the collar.

Everywhere the collar and the neckline are urged upon one. Go into any shop, and as surely as you look at the dress, the saleswoman will draw attention to the irregular neckline, the V-neck, any kind of a neck you can think of, or to emphasize how much the black-frock is improved by a touch of color.

But of all the attention frocks I saw, one with the softening, spring-like touch of chiffon must look my fancy, the narrow tie of it of powder blue chil-don, on a dress of black crepe satin. The dress is made of the shining side of the crepe, and the white used for an elaborate incrustation at the left side, end in a wide rosette, which is slightly longer than the hem—emphasizing that the important part of the dress is the line.

Cambridge Graduate Leaves Male Competitors for Government Office—Far Behind

LONDON, Feb. 2 (AP)—A young woman fresh from Cambridge university, has walked away with the important administrative position of assistant secretary in the ministry of transport, leaving many male competitors a long way down the line.

Miss Nancy Proctor-Gregg, a tall brunette with sparkling eyes and a quiet manner, and she is the first female transport chief that Britain has ever met.

Her duties as assistant principal are being divided between light, railways and electricity, in which department she has already won marked appreciation for ability and grasp of detail.

The administrative grade of the civil service was thrown open to women three years ago. Since then six women have held high places on an equal terms with men. Miss Proctor-Gregg being the latest successful appointee. Two of her distinguished colleagues in Whitehall are Miss Fawcett and Miss Agatha Ramsey, now Mrs. Montagu Butler. Both are now occupying important civil service positions.

WOMEN MAY STEM TIDE OF CANADIAN EMIGRATION

TORONTO, Ont., Feb. 2 (AP)—Women have been asked to help check the exodus of young Canadians from their country.

The committee of immigration of the Women's Institutes has asked members of branch organizations to help check the exodus of young people within the country's borders.

Suggestion was made that the Women's Institutes strive to bring about the introduction of a system of vocational guidance. The plan considered is not one for vocational training, but a method of leading young persons to find in Canada an occupation for which they are suited.

TECH GIRLS START AT MORE THAN $30 WEEKLY

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 2 (AP)—Young women from the Carnegie Institute of Technology are raking the money in a close race in salaries earned the first year out of college, with an average of a little more than $30 for the week against a fraction above $30 for the men.

The institute has a bureau of recommendations, under the leadership of Mrs. Gatt, and keeps records of the students whom it helps to place in employment.

"Sixty-nine of the women graduates," Mr. Beatty reports, "were placed by the bureau in jobs valued at $112,000. Work taken by the graduates included jobs as clerks, demonstrators, interior decorators, scientific assistants, secretaries, social workers and teachers. Of the male members of last year's graduating class 104 were placed in jobs valued at $338,676 a year."

PARISIANS STANDING BY GROWING LOCKS

French Women Show No Signs of Return to Shingles; Designers Modelling New Hats

By BARBARA BEAUFORT
 (Associated Press Fashion Editor)
 PARIS, Feb. 2—There are no signs of wakening on the part of French women who are letting their hair grow.

Such by inch the shingles are growing cut and one by one those in the advance guard are appearing with cutures which indicate that long hair is their goal. Many others already have attained it.

Design New Hats
 Another month will see women's crowning glory reinstated, according to many hatdressers. In anticipation of the change milliners already are designing hats with draped crowns which conceal the bulging outline of flat braids, small chignons and retaining combs meant to hold ringlets in place.

Many evening hair ornaments are to be seen in jewelry shops patronized by the fashionable. There are several varieties of small combs, with ornamental tops.

One variety has small-diamond balls which are meant to be worn like jeweled polka dots scattered throughout the ringlets of the well dressed head. Jeweled circular combs and jeweled bandeaus, with small combs at the ends to hold them in place are being worn with evening costumes. Few women favor more elaborate head-dresses as ambitious as the former hats that was so nearly retired forever from service.

INDIANAPOLIS INTRODUCES CAMEL GLIDE DANCE STEP

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 2 (AP)—The "camel glide" now may outdo the "indian hop" and the "trot" from the dance floor.

These songs of linking moves, with their slow, soothing rhythm, are declared responsible for the change from fast steps to the slow.

Three Arkansas Coeds Hold Record for Campus Activity

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., Feb. 2 (AP)—Coeds at the University of Arkansas are not encouraged to hide their lights under a bushel. Participation in campus activities is encouraged and campaigns for student offices are enthusiastically conducted.

Three young women students have been especially active in the past year and at the start of the second semester will take up their duties as president of these organizations such as: Leone Walker, Pine Bluff, heads the Women's league, which comprises all the women students of the university; president of the Blackfriar Dramatic society and Pi Beta Phi, national sorority; Nelda Hickman, Hot Springs, is president of Lambda Tau, honorary English sorority; Pi Kappa, Journalism, sorority, and Kappa Kappa Gamma, social sorority; Emma Scott, Little Rock, heads the

COLLEGE GIRL OWNS DRESSMAKING FIRM

Miss Marion Price, Seattle, Unable to Sew, Establishes $500,000 Clothing Business

SEATTLE, Feb. 2 (AP)—She can't sew a stitch, but has built up a half million dollar dressmaking business in less than two years.

That is the achievement of Marion Prince, 27-year-old Seattle girl who left college after one year because she felt she had to "get busy and do things."

"I was told that I was lazy when I decided not to return to the university for my sophomore year," she said.

Works for Milliner
 "But I had taken an art course and worked during odd moments and during the summer at a milliner's shop. There I first began to yearn to design the pretty things I had always wanted and never could afford."

After leaving school, I worked at a dressmaking establishment for a while and then opened up my own little shop. It wasn't much of a shop, but it grew into quite a little business. In it I had my first chance to try out an idea which had been growing for a long time, namely, to give handsome dresses on a production basis.

Revises Plans in Sports
 "I believed that there were many discriminating women of moderate means who were tired of wearing utilitarian machine-made dresses, who wanted something with a touch of individuality. Then, too, it had long been my conviction that flannel, at that time an almost extinct material, should be revived for sports dresses."

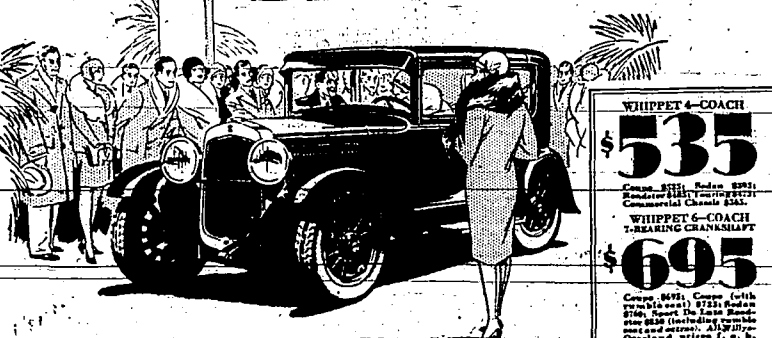

Miss Prince was forced into her present wholesale business when orders from out of town outstripped her facilities for production and made it necessary for her to expand or be swamped. Her payroll now includes 175 to 200 persons.

Miss Prince does only the designing, admitting that she can't sew.

MEXICANS MINGLING STEEL AND MERCY IN ASSAULT ON BANDITS

Administration of Portes Gil Making Giant Strides Toward Pacification of Republic; Task Far From Complete

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 2 (AP)—Giant strides have been taken by the Portes Gil administration toward pacification of Mexico, but the task is far from complete. Bandit and bandit bands still operate in some of the more mountainous sections of the country, notably in the states of Jalisco and Michoacan.

Reduce Warfare

There has been a reduction in the intensity of guerilla warfare that has been going on for years, and reports of battles with rebels and bandit depredations are becoming less frequent.

The orders for abolishment of summary executions have been observed scrupulously, although on some occasions no time has been lost in court-martialing prisoners and carrying out the sentence. A notorious rebel general Maximiliano Viguera was captured at about 6 o'clock one evening near Mexico City, court-martialed that night and executed at 5 o'clock the next morning. Natalia Espinosa, a rebel chieftain, and ten of his followers suffered a similar fate near the city of Aguascalientes.

Committee Functions

Even though the rebel movement has been diminished greatly and is now almost limited to Michoacan and Jalisco, a so-called "Army of Liberation" committee in Mexico City continues to function and presumes to direct the operations of the various rebel bands. This committee has eluded police and detectives put on its trail, and edits periodically a leaflet bearing the title "War Bulletin," on which are listed activities in the rebel campaign.

The bulletin makes special mention of alleged rebel exploits in wrecking trains and executing prisoners. The aim of rebel activities is in direct contrast with government reports. The leaflet is distributed secretly.

DUDE RANGERS ROAM BRAZIL'S WILD WEST

South America Begins to Stage Gauchos For Ladies Tired of Silent Cowboys of Filmdom

PITANGUIRAS, Brazil, Feb. 2 (AP)—The ranches are not a North American monopoly.

South America has begun to stage the gaucho for ladies who are tired of the strong silent movie cowboys of Wyoming and the sheiks of the Sahara. Tres Barras, meaning "Three Bars" in English, is the most celebrated Brazilian estancia which has been thrown open to paying guests. It is located a few miles from Pitanguiaras, only a day's train ride from Santos and 24 hours from Rio de Janeiro.

This famous ranch, or estancia, has over 12,500 acres of pastures, coffee lands, orange groves and orchards of various sorts. It is over 2000 feet above sea level in a mountainous country. Gauchos, the famous range riders of Indian blood, under the direction of English foremen herd thousands of Brazilian cattle on this property. Range horses are provided for guests and they help the cattle outfit in their round-ups. Hunting and fishing are also excellent.

British Politicians Flirting Boldly with 'Flapper Vote'

By BATES RANEY
(Associated Press Feature Editor)

LONDON, Feb. 2.—Picture England in the throes of a presidential election and you will have an idea of the struggle just started on this side of the Atlantic.

Great Britain will elect 418 members of Parliament, and, by granting one or the other of the political parties, or a coalition, the mandate of power through the bestowal of majority of parliamentary seats. To elect an entire new government, some 200 members of the present parliament do not even intend to stand for reelection, so many new faces will appear on the contemporary British political scene.

Date Not Set

The date has not yet been definitely set, but the government conservative party hopes to hold it as soon after May as possible. On that date five and a quarter million "flappers," enfranchised by the conservative party, become eligible to cast their ballots. A definite announcement of the election date is not expected before Easter.

Many are earnestly making their appearance in an effort to attract "the girls" to one political party or the other.

The flappers, in keeping with their modern ideas, have produced campaign pocket combs, cunningly designed for lobbed, flapper heads. On these are the legends: "Vote Liberal." "Do not be outdone in the race for feminine affections, the conservatives."

Adapt slogan
"Get into the honies" is the slogan of political organizers of all parties in recognition of the fact that women will far outnumber the men in this election.

At the last general election the liberal party carried the lion of campaign literature. They are getting 20 lions ready for this election. Pamphlets are being printed by the millions. One of these called "A Liberal Call to the Nation" is a 20-page booklet, telling exactly what liberal stands for. It is illustrated with caricatures of David Lloyd George, Viscount Grey, Sir Herbert Samuel, Lord Beauchamp, Mr. Walter Runciman, the Joint Simon and other noted members of the party. Seven million copies of this booklet have been printed and many already circulated.

Feels On Job

The political poets, too, are on the job already, as well as the song writers. The liberals, who seem to have beaten the other two parties in releasing some of their best speeches, are having put a book of verse which answers the voters' problems in the simplest possible form.

All the various interests are beginning to get on record for what they want. The national farmers' union, at a meeting at Prestwich threatened the conservative government with opposition at the election if farm aid is not forthcoming.

Speak Up

The girl clerks, too, have spoken up. One of the leading magazines specializing in the affairs of business women generally says editorially: "Women voters will outnumber the men by hundreds of thousands. We shall look with interest to see what promises are made to benefit the position of the woman who has to fight her way in the great labor market."

Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin in effect declared the political season open by his recent speech at Worcester in which he warned voters against a situation which many political observers expect to result from the general election.

"It is more important than ever," he said, "that we should all remember in the forthcoming election that nothing is to be done to cure the situation more than an election which may result on the one hand in a socialist government and on the other hand, if by a kind of deadlock which could only be solved by a minority government or by some form of coalition.

FREE STATE'S COVENANT WILL BE HARD TO AMEND

DUBLIN, Feb. 2 (AP)—Two years hence the Irish Free State constitution will be more difficult to amend than the American constitution, unless changes now contemplated are made by the government.

According to present law, changes in the constitution can be effected by ordinary legislation until December 6, 1920. After that date amendment can only be by a vote of the people, and the vote will be cast by a majority of the electors on the registers, and not only of those voting.

A two-third majority of all voting will be necessary for any proposed amendment into effect.

WOMEN OF CALIFORNIA FAVOR STATE SYMPHONY

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 2 (AP)—Mrs. Artie Maen Carter, who has won wide recognition in musical circles as the result of her management of the Hollywood club, is sponsoring movement for a state symphony orchestra.

A committee of 6000 has been formed at Sacramento and an appropriation of approximately $100,000 asked of the state.

The main object of the state symphony would be to provide symphonic music for the small towns and rural communities which do not have opportunities for hearing high class concert music.

The state orchestra also should be used in connection with formal state ceremonies and the honoring of distinguished visitors.

Portuguese Lunatics Helping Themselves

LISBON, Portugal, Feb. 2 (AP)—A Portuguese newspaper says there are 12,000 lunatics in Portugal and only 1,800 beds for them.

A great many mentally deficient persons of both sexes are to be met with all over the town and country, generally begging. The few places that exist caring themselves lunatic asylums, says this newspaper, do not satisfy the most elementary hygienic requirements.

JAPANESE CHECK VOGUE OF ENGLISH LANGUAGE

TOKYO, Feb. 2 (AP)—Heihichiro Onawa, minister of railways, has ordered removal of the English words "Electric Car" and "Dining Car" from the government railways' carriages of these classes.

It is explained that English-speaking travelers are not the railways' foreign patrons and that in order not to discriminate in the use of foreign tongues only Japanese signs will be used. There has been a noticeable decrease in the use of English signs in Japanese railway stations and in trains in the last few years.

HUNGARY CLAIMS RECORD IN LOWEST WAGE LEVELS

BUDAPEST, Feb. 2 (AP)—The Hungarian national labor association is authority for the statement that Hungarian workmen carry home the largest pay envelopes in Europe.

Building workers receive from $40 to $115 daily and bricklayers receive a few cents more. Cabinet makers and other skilled workers draw wages of less than $2.00 weekly.

Thousands of unemployed laborers are on the state's payroll. Parliament recently voted funds to build roads, bridges and other public works in order to relieve unemployment.

BEAUTY OF AMERICAN WOMEN WINS FRENCH EDITOR ON VOYAGE TO UNITED STATES LEADS FAIRER SEX OF LAND FINDS ASTONISHING LIFE

BY SMITH BEAVIS
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

PARIS, Feb. 2.—Claude Anet, noted French editor, discovered on a voyage to the United States that American women lead the most astonishing lives of any women in the world.

His purpose in crossing the ocean was to learn the secrets of American power and influence.

Incidentally he discovered that one sex were beautiful and beautifully dressed women in America than in Europe. American women have a passion for learning almost anything that is about on this side of the Atlantic, and they have succeeded in building a wall between themselves and their men folk.

"The first thing that strikes one is that the men and women seem to find no pleasure in each other's company," M. Anet remarks and continues:

Women Alone

"Visit the New York restaurants and you will never see men and women together. Do the same in Paris, and you will see couples together always. In the United States, at lunch time, there are in the restaurants tables and tables of 'pen parties.' It is not impossible that several of the husbands concerned are at the same restaurant—they will never be at their wives' tables."

One of the most surprising things about American women is their passion for lectures. M. Anet noted that they will, to learn, to develop their minds as they say in New York. They go impartially to hear the lecturer who speaks of elections or the one who speaks of sleep raising. They hear lectures in the morning, lectures followed by lunches in the great hotels.

It doesn't matter what the subject is if they gain the impression of learning something.

Berlin Bar for Dogs Closes During Winter

BERLIN, Feb. 2 (AP)—Berlin's famous dog bar on Kurfuerstendamm, opened last summer and frequently visited by all kinds of three-legged dogs, has now been closed.

In order to prevent the cold from destroying the stone basin and the water pipes it is planned to build a cover on which is covered in big white letters: "Closed during the winter months."

PRICES OF RETAIL FOOD WILL UNDERGO SCRUTINY

Department of Commerce Sponsors Investigation of Production and Selling Costs

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Feb. 2 (AP)—Information to be gathered in Louisville by the United States department of commerce eventually may affect the pocketbook of every housewife in America.

In an effort to determine the extent of the spread between producing and selling costs, with the hope of showing the way to reduced prices to the consumer, the department in February will start an intensive survey of grocery stores here, says J. W. Mahard of Washington, a representative of the department.

Louisville stores were selected for the survey, which will take from six months to a year and cost $25,000 to $50,000, because conditions here were found to be typical of those over the country as a whole. This was decided after a preliminary investigation which gave some hints as to the reason for the cost of groceries, as compared to the price the farmer receives.

One of them was this: On an average, one grocery goes out of business here every day, but for every 30 that close, there are 32 to replace them.

GERMANY WELCOMES BOND WITH IRELAND

Reich Attaches Great Importance to Free State's Decision on Legation in Berlin

BY O. F. JACOB
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

BERLIN, Feb. 2.—The German government attaches great importance to the Irish Free State's decision to establish a legation in Berlin.

Most Germans feel that Ireland, with the establishment of an Irish legation in Berlin, Germany for the first time, comes into direct contact with one of the British dominions, the significance of which is fully appreciated in German economic circles.

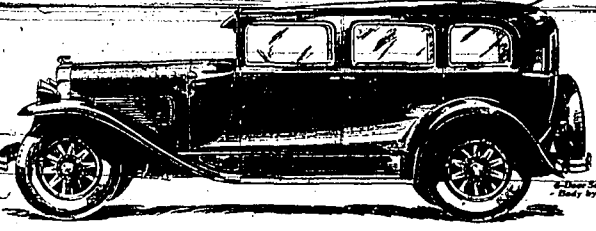

Irish-British relations have long been the subject of widely expressed opinion that all opportunities occurring from such a contact must be fostered to the greatest possible extent.

As a natural sequel to an Irish legation in Berlin, a German legation is to be established in Dublin by the simple expedient of converting the German consulate general there into a legation.

German economists say that London's factuality is regard to this bit of diplomatic enterprise on the part of the Irish Free State is sufficiently expressive in itself. For the London government is already closely watching every ton of merchandise shipped from Germany to Ireland and for the last four years has been viewing with growing vexation the harnessing of the River Shannon by the German firm of Biemens and Hable.

South Africa is now expected to establish diplomatic representation either in Berlin or in Hamburg in the near future. This will strengthen the existing relations between Germany and the African dominion which were started with the signing in Pretoria last September of a trade treaty.

The Neighbors will KNOW without being told . . .

PEOPLE don't go around telling their neighbors, "I'm progressive. I'm looking for finer things." Yet neighbors have ways and means of knowing. And one of their surest signs is the family automobile.

That's why the New Pontiac Big Six offers so much to up-and-coming Americans. It represents progress. It embodies big car luxury, performance and style. It constitutes an impressive step up from lower-priced transportation.

The New Pontiac Big Six is a brand new car from beginning to end. It offers big car performance produced by a big, new L-head engine, accurately balanced rotating parts, new and silent internal-expanding four-wheel brakes, Hotchkiss drive and many additional mechanical features of equally high quality. It provides the style, comfort and luxury of a car 167 inches in overall length and equipped with masterly new bodies by Fisher. And what is more—it provides all these big car qualities at prices which make no great drain on the purse.

Prices $745 and up, f. o. b. factory, plus delivery charge. Bumpers and rear fender guards regular equipment at slight extra cost. Check Oakland Pontiac delivered prices—they include lowest handling charges. General Motors Time Payment Plan available at minimum rate.

SLEDS CONVEY MOURNERS TO DIXON MAN'S FUNERAL

Community Mourning—Untimely Demise of Pioneer, Son of One-Time Nighthawk Freighter

DIXON, Feb. 2.—(Special to the News)—A funeral that was delayed for one week that of George Judson, was held Thursday afternoon at the White mortuary at Twin Falls. Mr. Judson died January 21 at his home east of Dixon as the result of a stroke of paralysis the previous Saturday. Plans were made for the last rites on three different days but the severe snowstorms and drifting of the roads prevented their being carried out. The members of the family and neighbors were compelled to go by way of sled to Murtaugh and from there to Twin Falls by train, Thursday. Mr. Judson's untimely death at the age of 57, is mourned deeply in this community. As one of the pioneers in this section he was well liked by all. He was for 20 years a resident of this section. He lived in southern Idaho as a child when his father worked on the construction of the main line railroads through Shoshone and when his father was a freighter between Boise and Salt Lake City. Besides his widow the deceased leaves one daughter, Mrs. Ella Hunscho, Selkwin, Washington, and two sons Marvin, a Hazleton, high-school student, and Arthur who arrived with his wife and son last week from California. There are also left to mourn his death two brothers and four sisters, Charles Judson of Knight's Landing, California; N. P. Judson of Riverton, Washington; Mrs. Smith of Walla Walla, Washington; Mrs. Nora Edgars of Colfax, Washington; Mrs. Guy Murphy of Copper Mountain, B. C.; and Mrs. Frank Squibb of Dixon, N. Y.

Other pupils are looking for homes to stay in. A phenomenon of the storm Tuesday afternoon in this vicinity was the large snow balls which were rolled up in the fields, some were two feet in diameter and hundreds of them could be seen in all directions.
