Only commendation for the appropriations finance committee drew up the measures was forthcoming from members of the house after Representative Eustace B. Bate, chairman of the appropriations committee, explained the features of the bills.

Representative Andrus, Clatsop county, declared that the bill was compelled to carry appropriations for two asylums for the insane in Idaho which, if not cared for, would be abandoned at much less cost.

But while the appropriations measures got by without being picked to pieces, the bill was down on the cigarette tax bill and consigned it to indefinite postponement by a vote of 30 to 19 after a sharp wrangle between Representative Hodgins, Twin Falls, and Representative Stamm, Canyon county.

And with defeat of the measure came a announcement from the chairman of the organization's legislative committee, crediting its vote to the "power of the tobacco lobby."

McKalk Makes Statement "Governor Baldrige's apprehensions as to the power of the tobacco lobby may be unfounded," said Representative McKalk. "There can be no criticism either of the lobbyist or of the legislature."

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE nominates Arthur Bacheiler and Cyril N. Jansky, Jr. members of federal trade commission.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11—The trading in stocks and bonds, and cotton and grain became a live issue today in conference when the senate called for a federal reserve board to suggest remedies for the condition it complained about in its statement of last Wednesday.

After adopting a resolution offered by Senator Heflin, Democrat, Alabama, seeking the Arkansas, to curb speculative futures dealings in grain and cotton, The Arkansas declared propaganda was being directed against the board to make the public believe it would hurt cotton prices.

Diseases Measures The house spent its legislative day largely in discussing measures affecting the District of Columbia and other legislative questions did not go unnoted there, Representative Brand, Georgia, introduced a resolution asking for the repeal of the law which prohibits speculating in farm commodities. Two resolutions were introduced by the board's warning against loans for speculation already were pending in the house.

Reported by the committee, the measure described as a billion-dollar American business, placed their desire before the committee, who will write a new tariff bill to be passed upon by the special session of congress which President Hoover will call after he takes office on March 4.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11 (AP)—Under a resolution introduced today by Representative Eynon, Republican, Kansas, the federal trade commission would be authorized to investigate what the committee described as a "black market" of oil refining companies in connection with the violations of the prohibition law.

The resolution said that an oil producer known as "atomax" was being sold to persons known to be engaged in manufacturing industrial explosives in violation of the Volstead act for use in recovering dynamite from the wreckage of a school sold on government license and made on government formulas.

It asked that the inquiry determine whether Robert W. Stewart, chairman of the board of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, had any knowledge of what the resolution said in sales promotion policy to market the product.

Large Purchases Large purchases of the product were believed to have been made and a former chairman of the Standard Oil Company has said that with full knowledge of local officials in Kansas City, Missouri, he sold approximately $200,000 worth of atomax to a notorious bootlegger in that locality.

The resolution also said the former senator explained that this source of sales appears to have been exploited by the Standard during the time Colonel Stewart was in the office. Senator Whitten's bill proposing to put an embargo on the exportation of power into neighboring states was sent under the act after the committee on the subject reported that no objection was printed. Senator Whitten sought to override the committee's recommendation that the bill be held over. He read so he could explain its merits. With the bill held read, many of the senators present insisted that the bill be printed and at its close charged that it was a standing order of the senate to print bills that are not of their bills be printed.

Another Whitten measure, proposing to amend the bill of state from being also commissioner of law enforcement was likewise recommended not printed. Senator Whitten proposed that the bill be printed and the bill was printed.

NORTHCOTT TO HANG FOR SLAYING THREE BOYS IN CALIFORNIA

Canadian Looks Steadily at Judge While Listening to Reading of Sentences—Thanks Court for Kind Consideration

(By The Associated Press) RIVERSIDE Calif., Feb. 11.— Gordon Stewart Northcott, convicted slayer of three boys on his Winneville chicken ranch, today was sentenced by Superior Judge George R. Freeman, to hang on April 15, for his crimes.

Forty minutes after he was sentenced Northcott was in the custody of two sheriff's officers on his way to San Quentin penitentiary.

Northcott, against whom the hanging sentence was made mandatory by a jury's verdict last week following a long trial, was noticeably nervous when deputy sheriffs brought him into the courtroom. He showed none of the hysterical emotion, however, which he displayed earlier in the day in his cell, and repeatedly smiled as Judge Freeman read the long judgment.

By The Falter The prisoner looked steadily at the judge as he continued reading the sentence and the words "hang by the neck until he is dead," caused his eyes to wander and a shiver of death ran over his body. He looked at each of the three murder counts.

Northcott made a motion for a two-day stay to prepare an appeal for a trial, but this was denied. At the conclusion of the sentencing, Northcott said: "I wish to thank the court for its kind consideration and I wish to thank you, Judge Freeman, for your individual attention and the way you have thought you are a fair and square judge."

Meanwhile deputy sheriffs continued a search for bones near the chicken ranch on information given them Sunday by Northcott after a band of men had staged a demonstration before the county jail where he was held. They had found a small quantity of unidentified bones in sand dunes but they said Northcott would not be taken to the ranch today to identify the spot.

IRRIGATION PROJECTS FACING GOOD SEASONS

Snow of Last Three Weeks in Idaho Places Various Districts Out of All Danger

BOISE, Feb. 11 (AP)—Snow of the last three weeks has placed several of the state's irrigation projects definitely out of danger of a water shortage but in a number of instances the snow has virtually insured an early run-off, reports at the state reclamation department indicated today.

In northern Idaho, where agriculture is not so dependent on snow Idaho-on storage water, the report indicated a wide range of conditions.

The condition along the Snake river was improved, though little concern had been expressed for projects along this river because of heavy carry-over. It is nearly all the reservoirs. The Fort Hall project reported 225,000 acre feet of water in storage there compared with 103,000 acre feet at this time last year. Snow was "at least 18 inches deep," the report said.

S. T. Black, watermaster of the Big Lost canal project, said it "looks like a 100 per cent season" for that project in spite of the fact that the Magic reservoir was drained last September to permit repairs to the control tower of the dam. He reported 600 acre feet of storage water in the reservoir compared with 60,000 acre feet last year. It is nearly all the reservoirs. The Fort Hall project reported 225,000 acre feet of water in storage there compared with 103,000 acre feet at this time last year. Snow was "at least 18 inches deep," the report said.

The Mackay dam on the Big Lost river reported 17,000 acre feet this year compared with 20,500 last year. The reports from north Idaho were generally snow depth reports. The Palouse river watershed, contributory to the Columbia, had two feet of snow with a low moisture content. Snow depths in the Pend Oreille forest ranged from 18 to 60 inches. In the Selway forest the snow averaged 27 inches in depth but was loosely packed and indicated likelihood of an early run-off. Similar conditions were reported from the Clearwater district. The Orofino forest station reporting 33 to 45 inches of snow of low moisture content. The Steptoe National forest, which is drained by the St. Joe river, had 25 inches of snow well packed.

POWER COMPANY AIDS IN BATTLE WITH FROST

Electrical Concern's Device Supplements City's Equipment to Keep System Open

Frost fighting equipment which Twin Falls municipal waterworks department has employed almost without intermission for more than six weeks in its efforts to keep the city water system open, will be supplemented today by a new electric thawing device that is to be brought into action by the Idaho Power company, Harley Rayburn, streets and waterworks superintendent, stated last evening.

With the power company's equipment, Mr. Rayburn stated, it will be possible to loosen the frost in larger pipes and over a longer distance. The waterworks department was swamped yesterday under a flood of 62 reports of frozen meters, service pipes and plumbing in dwellings. There were 43 reports of the same kind Sunday, and 37 last Saturday.

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Feb. 11 (AP)—A tropical shower, which broke into Jack Sharkey's training schedule this afternoon, forced him to postpone his scheduled workout and the Boston fighter had to content himself with a session of road work under a hot sun this morning.

Meanwhile, "Young" Stribling, who meets Sharkey in Flamingo Park arena the night of February 27, was idle, except for some road work.

"Pa" Stribling, representing his son, Johnny Buckley, for Jack Sharkey, and Jack Dempsey, promoter of the bout, had conferred with the officials of the selection of a referee for the contest.

SPORT SLANTS

BY ALAN J. GULL Associated Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Feb. 11 (AP)—Baseball's big parade is all ready to take up the march to the South or west, and the first week of the Far West.

By the end of this week, most of the 16 major-league squads, or at least their advance guards, will be on the way to the training camps scattered from St. Augustine to Catalina Island.

By the end of this week, or not later than the first week of March, the battle between regulars and rookies will be on in full blast.

Smaller squads, with a marked increase in college talent ambitious for big league action, feature most of the big league rosters—Shakeups in the organization or retirement of a number of clubs, notably the Detroit Tigers, Washington Senators, St. Louis Cardinals and Chicago Cubs, will cause unusual attention to be directed toward the workouts of these outfits.

All along the line, in the American League, they are strengthening to civility battle to the world's champion Yankees, whose advance guard does not leave for the St. Petersburg camp for another 10 days. In the National League there is every prospect of another hot fight for the pennant.

GODARD WINS FIRST LEG OF 128-MILE DOG RACE

LACONA, N.D., Feb. 11 (AP)—Emil St. Godard, The-Paw, Manitoba, won the first leg of the 128-mile New England dog sled championship race today, finishing 3 minutes and 10 seconds ahead of Leonard Seppala, Alaskan driver, in today's run of 43 miles.

AMERICAN LEGION WILL SPONSOR MOVIE DANCE

Twin Falls American Legion post, under contract with Lewis M. Lewis, Chicago cinematographer, will give a movie ball in Danceland pavilion on Washington street, February 22, it was announced last evening.

This event will afford opportunity not only to see how motion pictures are made, with all the Hollywood effects, including spotlights, floodlights and brilliant arc lights, but it will give to each person attending an opportunity to be photographed in three different posed positions and to receive an actual strip of motion picture film of himself without cost.

One of the most interesting of the stunts will be the grand march, in which the dancers will march to within 70 feet of the camera to be shot. These motion pictures will later be exhibited here.

The dance will be given for the purpose of raising additional funds for the community memorial building.

Gooding Quintet and Bruin Not to Compete

The basketball game scheduled at Gooding for the Twin Falls high school Bruins has been cancelled. Uncertainty of having the large floor at Gooding for the play, and the wish of Coach Jones to have as much large floor experience for the Bruins as possible before the tournament at Buhl, were contributing causes to the cancellation. This will result in one game this week, played at Buhl, and one next week at Jerome.

Lady Grace Drummond Hay, only woman massager on the Graf Zeppelin.

"The fact that we were not permitted to smoke from the time the Graf Zeppelin left Friedrichshafen until we landed at Loharst only increased my appetite for a Lucky Strike. Oh, how good that first one tasted! I really keen for Lucky Strike—the toasted flavor is delightful. I smoke a Lucky instead of eating sweets."

That's what many men have been doing for years. I think it high time we women smoked Luckies and kept our figures trim.

GRACE M. HAY DRUMMOND HAY

The modern common sense way—reach for a Lucky instead of a sweet. Everyone is doing it—men keep healthy and fit, women retain a trim figure. Lucky Strike, the finest tobacco, skillfully blended, then toasted to develop a flavor which is a delightful alternative for that craving for fattening sweets.

Toasting frees Lucky Strike from impurities. 20,679 physicians recognize this when they say Luckies are less irritating than other cigarettes. That's why folks say: "It's good to smoke Luckies."

Note: Increase in Cigarette smoking to the improvement in the process of Cigarette manufacture by the application of heat. It is true that during 1928, Lucky Strike Cigarettes showed a greater increase than all other Cigarettes combined. This surely confirms the public's confidence in the superiority of LUCKY STRIKE.

LINCOLN

There is nothing new to be said about Abraham Lincoln. "New facts" about him dug up from time to time add little or nothing to the familiar story.

The story of Lincoln is the familiar one that fathers and mothers learned in school and children are still learning there.

It is perfectly true that Idaho now has no institution for the proper care of her tubercular patients and there is no getting the fact that such an institution would be a credit to the State and a source of comfort and solace to many sufferers.

But it should be born in mind that the population of Idaho is considerably under a hundred thousand, and as a State we are still in the formative period. Our expenses for public improvements and public institutions are far heavier than in a majority of States and our annual tax bill constitutes a staggering sum on a per capita basis.

Guiding Your Child

CAUTION. So protective are most parents about such common dangers as knives, matches, hot liquids and open windows that they give their children no opportunity to learn the caution born of experience.

If we would teach the child the caution which will protect him from the dangers of temptation, we must first of all remove the temptations from his path, for there are too many, and he cannot, for the most part, be expected to resist them all at once.

A Washington Bystander

By Kirke L. Simpson

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—Throughout the cruiser bill debate the maintaining of the 5-5-3 ratio of the Washington naval treaty has been the chief topic.

That has been the ceaseless slogan in navy circles for years. It has been used so often that it is highly doubtful how many folks even in congress know the facts.

As an instance, look at the exchange between Wagon, Indiana, and Reno, Idaho, in the senate copyright bill debate.

The senator (Borah) knows as well as anybody in the world that the treaty is not the limit of the British violation of the terms of the 1921 disarmament conference.

"I do not feel that Great Britain has violated that treaty," Borah shot back.

COLD STORAGE PLANT AND CANNERY RECEIVE CONSIDERATION HERE

General Plans From Different Sources Come Before Meeting of Fruit and Vegetable Growers of Twin Falls Area

Propositions looking toward the construction of a cold storage plant costing possibly $350,000 complete to take care of fruit and vegetables on a large scale and the construction of a canning factory for handling small fruits and vegetables were both favorably considered at a meeting of about 100 fruit and vegetable growers held at the headquarters of the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce last night.

H. B. Wallace, Twin Falls, gave a general outline of cost of construction of a modern cold storage plant by the Trine Service company, Oakland, Ore. He said that he had investigated two plants constructed by that company. One of these, with capacity of 125 cars is operated at Hood River, Oregon. A plant of this size, he said, would probably be too small for Twin Falls. The other is the plant of the Terminal company, Portland, with a capacity of 400 cars. The larger plant would cost $350,000 complete. A small plant, with 100 cars capacity, which he felt sure would be too small, would cost $150,000. He indicated that if the Trine company should construct a plant it would be owned and operated by home folk. He said apples in Hood River had doubled in price since they were stored last fall.

He described the Portland plant, which he said was constructed along the line most generally favored—four stories high, with the upper story used for drying. The Trine company did not look with favor on the idea of a basement.

Factory in Prospect. R. O. Taylor, manager of the Blue Lakes ranch, said that he had definite information that the Trine company was planning to establish a factory here. If it could get an investment of $500,000 from local people and that it would leave the title of the property in the hands of the people here. This factory could be erected in time for the small fruit crop this year, he said. It would improve way interfere with the other projects he described. The factory would be 200 acres of sour cherries and 150 to 200 acres of berries, besides canning vegetables in the winter. Women and children were largely employed in such plants, he explained. He said that the same cold storage plant could take care of the small fruit crop.

Unanimous sentiment. Relative to the value of the cold storage plant and the factory sentiment was unanimous. Several large fruit growers said they would use the cold storage plant for a very large part of their apple crop. Others said they would confine its use to late varieties like Rome Beauties or Winesaps, but all agreed that a large amount of fruit and a great quantity of vegetables, especially onions would be stored in it erected. Details of the methods of financing were not set forth either in regard to the proposed cold storage plant or the proposed canning factory. Chairman Lloyd suggested that a delegation go to Hood River to look over the plant there, but this was not agreed on. Promising speedy attention to the investigation by the chamber of commerce, Mr. Lloyd declared the meeting adjourned after everybody had expressed an opinion.

COUNCIL BANISHES MOTOR BUSES FROM ICE-RIDDEN STREET

City Commissioners Discern Intolerable Obstacle to Traffic Under Existing Conditions; Order Building Moved

As long as big ridges of ice remain in the middle of the pavement, lengthy motor stages must park along the curb and crowd the buses according to instructions to the police issued by Twin Falls city council in session last evening.

Members of the council related instances in which they had observed motorists struggling to get over the ice ridges and around the low buses parked along the curb, and decided that under existing conditions of the street, parking of buses on Main avenue constitutes an obstacle to traffic that cannot be tolerated.

The council also approved the city attorney's draft of a formal notice calling upon Mr. J. Burton to move his "Flatiron" building at the intersection of Main avenue south and Minidoka street. The building, according to the city engineer's findings reported to the council last week, extends into Minidoka street a distance of seven feet. City days were directed to the council's notice, for removal of the building.

Excavators Carry Risk

Opinion of the city attorney holding that the city is not responsible for damages resulting from the street entering excavations extending under the street, was received by members of the council with expressions of approval and the city was directed to deliver copies of the opinion to owners of such property. Here is the city attorney's opinion:

"The city's duty is to use reasonable care, means and diligence in the care of the streets. But it is not a guarantor.

"Where excavations are confined within the property line there remains between the gutter and the excavation a bank or berm of earth several feet in width. When the lot owner or user removes this protection in order to use the area for his own purposes he does not add anything to the burden of the city. He merely assumes the risk of damage resulting from the removal himself. That is the price he pays for use of the space under the street."

Short Line Gets Contract

Oregon Short Line will be given the contract under which it will receive traffic from Twin Falls water system during the current year, according to vote of the council authorizing the acting manager to negotiate such a contract. The Short Line will not pay more or less under its contract than any other consumer using a similar amount of water, and the contract members of the council have advised, is to meet insistence on the part of the railroad company's officers.

SHEPHERD URGES BIG POTATO ACREAGE CUT

President of Idaho State Chamber of Commerce Declares 1928 Surplus Ruined Price

Declaring that the enormous extent of the surplus of potatoes raised in the United States last year—by reason of its effect on the price of the entire crop, resulted in a loss of about $200,000,000 to the growers, R. E. Shepherd, Jerome, president of the Idaho State Chamber of Commerce and chairman of the national potato committee has issued a statement urging a radical reduction of acreage planted in Idaho and planting of only the very highest quality of seed this year.

Mr. Shepherd cites with approval the resolution advising a reduction of potato acreage in the same acreage, adopted by the National Potato Commission in Chicago in December 1928. He says that under the same acreage should be planted in 1929 as in 1928, there will be approximately the same production and the same low prices that prevail at this time.
