IMMENSE FLOCKS OF BIRDS IN ANTARCTIC MENACE TO WILKINS

Australian Explorer on Way to New York From South Pole Describes Result of Flight and Dangers in Polar Region

(By The Associated Press) TALCAHUANO, Chile, Feb. 15.—Sir Hubert Wilkins, who reached here today on his return from an Antarctic exploration from a base at Deception Island, said that he encountered a wholly unexpected menace, aside from the anticipated cold and storms, in the lower Southern latitudes.

"The plane on numerous occasions," he said, "was hampered by immense flocks of birds which were in the path of the propeller. Luckily, however, the plane was not damaged."

The Australian explorer, who has returned from Alaska to Svalbergen by mapping hitherto almost unknown islands in the Antarctic, said he was returning to Alaska for another expedition trip with the same companions who shared his dangers on that just concluded.

Describes Results Wilkins described the results of his flight over the frozen South, the first ever made in that section of the globe. He succeeded in making a reconnaissance of more than 1000 miles of coastline in the region situated to the west of Weddel sea, he related.

"For example, Oranien Land, which figures on all maps as a part of the Arctic continent, is really a series of islands separated by narrow channels of water," he said.

"No Matter Who Did It I Am Going to Get Them," Promises Commissioner Russell

CHICAGO, Feb. 15 (AP)—Theories of the usual second-day riot of a hundred other gang killings were all investigators had tonight after unsuccessful efforts to find the gunmen who yesterday trapped and summarily executed seven members of the powerful North Side Moran gang.

One theory is that the man who created a furor in official circles, was that hi-jacking Chicago policemen, disarmed the force, and then offered to pay them protection money, had themselves invaded the Moran stronghold, lined-up the seven men found there and was obtained by the slayers.

Another theory was advanced by John A. Brennan, state's attorney, who expressed the belief that the idea of having enemies of the Moran gang as policemen, invaded their stronghold by the slayers, was from a fiction story appearing recently in a national weekly, and that Detroit, the newspaper, the slayers, the slayers, had been important in the actual killing.

Major Sillaway's theory—and he emphasized it as being the best theory—though expressing the hope that he would soon have positive evidence to back it up—was that the slayers' massacre had its inception six weeks ago when he said a Moran squad conveying liquor from Detroit to Chicago was hijacked in a bad storm and the slayers and 500 cases of liquor taken by a rival gang.

Major Sillaway said one of his own men had been involved in the hijacking episode, he was informed, and expressed the opinion that the Moran gang needed the slayers' massacre had police assistance and therefore cut off any protection money they had been paying the police threatening to go to the police commissioner with the hijacking story if there was any complaint.

SENATE appropriations committee votes to make $700,000 of $12,270,000 for cruise construction immediately available; President Coolidge felt his recommendation for the funds for next year was desire of congressional leaders.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15—President Coolidge's decision to initiate the 16-cruiser construction program in the fiscal year beginning July 1, instead of at the present time was reached under an understanding from house and senate leaders that the program would be for this work during the current fiscal year.

The views of the chief executive became known today almost simultaneously with a recommendation to the senate by its appropriations committee that $700,000 be provided immediately to the navy department to start the building program, $700,000 to be allocated for work during the current fiscal year which continues until July 1.

Will Launch Inquiry Meanwhile, at the other end of the capitol a move was launched during the day looking to a boost in the amount of money to be appropriated for the program. Chairman Britton of the house naval committee, announced that as soon as the senate has completed work on the navy supply bill which carries the cruiser appropriation, he would institute an inquiry to determine if the budget bureau did not arbitrarily cut down an appropriation proposed by the navy department for getting the building program under way.

Mr. Coolidge's belief that congressional leaders were not desirous of funds for the present year was based upon conferences with members of the house and senate.

However, his budget recommendation of funds for the next fiscal year was interpreted in some quarters as an attempt to forestall construction at the present time, a proposition which the construction act that five cruises be laid down before July 1.

Because of the condition of the treasury, Mr. Coolidge is anxious that the construction be postponed until after July 1.

Early today Mr. Coolidge conferred with Representative Tison, majority leader of the house, and Director Lott of the budget bureau, respecting appropriations under the cruiser bill and the proposal that $700,000 be made available for starting work on some of the ships within the present fiscal year but finishing work during the next fiscal year.

MANY KIMBERLY PERSONS HEAR EVANGELIST SPEAK

Headed by Rev. J. Elliott Sillip, pastor of the Kimberly Christian church, a delegation of 75 Kimberly citizens, along with several from here by Evangelist and Mrs. Homer Adams, Bingham and a sermon on the subject, "The Possibilities of the Kingdom of God," were held at the home of Mrs. Adams. The evangelist's message formed the features of the meeting.

"The foolishness of God is greater than the wisdom of men," quoted the evangelist at the beginning of his message. He then declared: "A God who was so infinitely careful to cause this great universe to run on scheduled time, and a God who placed his pattern upon the leaves and flowers and the smaller things of this life, certainly would not leave the salvation of man's soul to some haphazard method. God chose that by the foolishness of preaching the world should be saved, provided the world believed in God and His Son. Preaching conveys the message to a man's mind, causes him to think, to reason, to understand and believe. And faith, coupled with works or obedience brings to man the promise of salvation."

There will be no service at the church tonight, but an evening of great night in the revival series.

Buhl Girls Beat Twin Falls Co-eds, 28-12; Bruins Win 25-14

WEST END'S SEXTET LEADS FROM START IN FIERCE CONTEST

Blue and White Boys' Team Gets Away to Lead at First of Hard-Fought Game; Indian Quint Rallies During Third

(Special to The News) BUEL, Feb. 15.—In two fast, hard fought games here at Twin Falls and Buhl district honors, the Buhl girls winning their game, 28 to 12, and the Twin Falls boys outscoring Buhl, 25 to 14.

The whole story of the girls' game can be summarized in the statement that Buhl forwards could capitalize their teams' chances into points while Twin Falls could not. But Buhl did not do this easily. Every point was fought for. The Buhl forwards threw for the basket 65 times from the field, landing 11 baskets, one of which counted a single point.

When one of Coach Barry's forwards, who is the season's guard, got to the basket, he can score 20 per cent of its field through the achievement is worthy of note.

Trouble getting the ball through the center court, for here the teams were fairly matched, play at the ball was hard and sharp, and a hesitation or a fumble meant a stopped ball. Hays for Buhl, and Ware for Twin Falls, had a pretty contest at jumping center, with neither one able to control the tip-off.

Twin Falls uncovered a side-center in Quinn, who was the season's star. Buhl scurried about for their speedster, Haldeman, to even things up. These two had a fine individual argument, with honors won by Haldeman.

In the forward court Buhl had a decided advantage. Lacy is a very capable player, and Southwick and McCluskey are good runners for their team. These girls act on the theory that a ball sent to them by their teammates must be shot at the basket, and they fit practice to theory.

Ward and Wheeler are the season's stars for Twin Falls. Ward is a busy evening with the Buhl forwards working all their tricks and skill for counters, so that a reprieve of one attack gave no rest before another developed.

Buhl Leads From Start
Buhl led from the start, holding the quarter advantage, 6 to 2, raising it to 14 to 4 at the half, 16 to 8 at three-quarter time, and winning, 28 to 12.

Then the Bruins took the floor, and the Buhl Indians promptly led away with two free throws. Martin slipped in a free throw for Twin Falls, and Kempston took one from the field. Buhl's lead was wiped out, and that was the last time they got in front. The score at the quarter was 7 to 1 in the Bruins' favor, and at the half they led, 14 to 6.

Buhl came back in the third quarter to score a point while Twin Falls could get but two, and prospects for a last quarter rally looked bright. But the last quarter success did not go Buhl's way. Kempston took the ball the length of the floor with a dribble so fast that he had no difficulty in looping for a counter at the end. Then Martin, observing that the play had a very useful aspect, promptly did the same thing for another field basket. This didn't seem quite enough points to finish with so the Bruins added three more by free throws to bring their total up to 25, while Buhl's points marked time at 14.

Buhl Forces Pace
The start of the game was at such speed of play that neither team could hold the pace. Buhl forced the pace and made eight shots at the basket in the early first quarter while Twin Falls could get out two, and was too fast to last, and didn't last. After the first burst, except for the third quarter sprint, Buhl's attack was not sustained, and in the second and last quarters the Indians were unable to

TWIN FALLS BASKETEERS TO MEET JEROME TEAMS

Twin Falls basketball teams are slated to go to Jerome for two games tonight, returning the call the Jerome players made here just a month ago. On the previous occasion the Twin Falls teams, both games by good margins, and should repeat, but basket ball predictions have a way at times, and after the hard fights with Buhl last night the Bruins teams may find tonight to be one of the upset times.

A single field goal, Twin Falls defense was too good. Martin was high point man for Twin Falls with 10 points. Finch, Taylor and Kempston having 5 each. Winegar led Buhl with 5 points, and played a hard game all the way. Lacy and Wheeler at guard for Buhl, had as much trouble as the Twin Falls guards had in the girls' game, and did mighty well. Piper was good for Buhl as long as his voice held out.

JEROME AND FILER BASKETBALL TEAMS SPLIT DOUBLE BILL

Home-Boys Beat Wildcats in Fast Game by 21-to-16 Score; Visiting Girls Victors Over North Side Team, 22-12

(Special to The News) JEROME, Feb. 15.—Jerome and Filer basketball teams each took a game here tonight, the Filer girls winning the first contest, 22 to 12, and the Jerome boys evening things up by taking the second, 21 to 16.

Filer had the better of the girls game all the way, but it was a neat fight, and not as one-sided as the score sounds. Jerome had many tries for the basket, fail by very narrow margins, and kept trying. The Filer girls played their usual steady game, with Hawkins leading their point getting with 10 points, and having to work hard for them. Abramson was the bright light of the Jerome team with 9 points to her credit.

Boys' Look Easy for Jerome
The boys' game looked rather easy for Jerome during the first half as they led that session, 10 to 6. But Filer pulled up even at three-quarter time, 12 to 12, and then surged into a 3 point lead. They couldn't keep it, however, and the Jerome boys, both on the floor and under the ball, was outstanding for Jerome, but he was easily pressed by his guard, Shawyer and Dals holding four points each. Sharp playing at guard, led Filer's counter with seven.

KIMBERLY TOURNAMENT CONTESTANTS BEGIN CONCLUDING ROUND

Castleford Girls Defeat Hazelton Sextet 23 to 21; Murtough Boys Beat Hollister; Kimberly Quint Drubs Eden

(Special to The News) KIMBERLY, Feb. 15.—With today's games the sub-district tournament to determine which teams shall play in the district finals at Albion went into the last round. In the afternoon the Hazelton girls defeated the Castleford team in a closely fought and very interesting contest, 23 to 21. It was close all the way through, with Castleford ahead at the half, 19 to 16, and the last half found the players so weary with their early efforts that the pace had to slow. At one time Hazelton drew up within a point of even with the winners, and tried to take the lead, but the play shifted to the other end of the floor before the covered basket could be made and Castleford went out ahead 23 to 21.

Hollister Out
In the evening games Murtough boys had the better of Hollister, and Hollister was defeated yesterday by Eden, this second defeat puts Hollister out. Kimberly boys had little trouble in winning from Eden, and the Kimberly team is the only one without a defeat. Castleford took an easy game from Hazelton, and now has a chance to become runner up of the sub-district.

Games for tomorrow will include what may be the final among the boys when Kimberly and Hazelton play at 10:30 A. M. Should Kimberly win the score was 21-25.

Bliss, Shoshone and Gooding College lost all chance to survive the tourney today. A GRATIFYING STEP

Another and convincing evidence that things in the Twin Falls country are on the up grade is to be found in the decision announced here yesterday by officials of the Oregon Short Line to operate train service over the Twin Falls-Wells line daily except on Sundays.

Heretofore, train service on alternate week days on one day and returning from Wells the next day. Under the new schedule the trip will be made each week day, making connections with through trains at Wells.

It is especially significant that the new schedule represents an acknowledgment on the part of the railroad of an existing need for more adequate train service over the Twin Falls-Wells line. Freight traffic over the line, they stated frankly, has increased about one hundred per cent each year since the line was completed four years ago.

There is ample basis for belief that increase in train service will lead to corresponding increase in the volume of business handled and the rapid development of possibilities for expansion of trade between Southern Idaho and California centers. And it is quite gratifying to know that development in this direction thus far has been built upon a solid foundation.

WHITE FLY ERADICATION

Word that Congress has passed and submitted to the President for his approval a measure in the interests of the United States Department of Agriculture carrying an appropriation of four hundred thousand dollars for the eradication of the white fly, the eradication of the white fly, will be heartily welcomed throughout the Twin Falls country.

Eradication of the white fly is essential to stabilization of the beet sugar industry, and with this problem solved, it is almost a certainty that the Snake River valley will become a more important one of the great sugar-producing sections in the United States.

Investigations heretofore conducted by the Twin Falls district, under direction of Dr. Walter Carter, Federal Department of Agriculture entomologist, have been such as to build confidence on the part of all persons interested in the sugar industry in the value of this insect.

Through-out this district it is freely acknowledged that a heavy loss was sustained last season as a result of Dr. Carter's accurate forecast of probable prevalence of the white fly, upon strength of which forecast the Amalgamated Sugar company voluntarily released growers from their contracts to grow beets last year.

On the basis of conclusions already reached and announced by the investigators, there is developed this year a confidence and confidence that gives every promise of a good sugar beet season.

The appropriation voted by Congress represents a fourfold increase in the amount allotted for white fly investigations. A generous proportion of this money will probably be spent in and about Twin Falls, but the larger benefits will be derived from the permanent prospecting of the beet sugar industry in looking to be shared by the Twin Falls country with the whole western territory where damage in varying degrees has been caused by the insect pest.

have in almost any library and make a great deal to the discretion of the censor and censor are not always discreet. Thus, it appears, Shakespeare, Swift and many another classic writer might be banished from circulation, and librarians tolerating them might be sent to prison. It would clarify the situation and insure a more moderate and sensible law if somebody would try enforcing the present one to the limit.

MERCIFUL KILLING

The Reverend Facker Connolly of Rockford, Illinois, wants society to show the same mercy toward a hopeless human being that is shown to a hopeless animal. "We are humane enough," he says, "to put a dog out of pain. We do not do that in a brutal way, but as humanely as possible. But we have not yet learned to put our friends out of unnecessary torture."

He would like to have a "jury of eminent physicians and leading citizens to decide whether a sufferer from some terrible disease should be relieved of existence." Relief in extreme cases, he thinks, would be in application of the Golden Rule. Who, besides the Rev. Mr. Connolly, would like to serve on such a jury? His position is logical. But life and death are more than logic. Most of us hold it a duty to preserve life as long as possible. In spite, morality, religion, all seem to impel us to such effort. It may be wrong—but that is the way we are.

Human life is held sacred, and even those who mentally approve of "euthanasia" usually feel in their hearts that it would be perilous to relax the rule, let it encourage needless killing and give a cloak to murder.

A Washington Bystander

By Kirke L. Simpson

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14 (AP)—Gossip in Washington commercial circles seems satisfied that Secretary Jimmie Davis is destined to succeed Hoover in the labor department when Mr. Hoover organizes his cabinet. Admittedly, filling that job is one of the most tremendous decisions the new president has to make.

There are wheels within wheels in the political aspects. The folks now declaring that Davis is to be retained, however, act upon very practical information, not upon political calculations.

As the Bystander hears the story, Secretary Davis is looking around for a new structure program. He is also generally held that any one of these three appointments would have thought Chairman O'Connor of the shipping board might have a chance because of his connection with the stevedores union, on which his present political preference rests to a degree.

Might Be A How It is also generally held that any one of these three appointments would have thought Chairman O'Connor of the shipping board might have a chance because of his connection with the stevedores union, on which his present political preference rests to a degree.

In view of all this, the commercial gossip about Davis's probable retention may be highly significant. It implies that Mr. Hoover plans to get out of the difficulty with the least possible friction by making no change. Yet the thing has another aspect. Senator Simon has long been virtual dictator of the routing of quarters for government activities in Washington. He fills a dual legislative and administrative role in a way. And how does he look on the Davis labor department expansion plan? Probably the prospective investors would do well to continue as labor department head.

Guiding Your Child

HIS REPUTATION. A child can be no better than his reputation. If the attitude of those about him makes it plain that they consider him a troublesome fellow just to be kept and habitually disagreeable, he will quite certainly justify their opinion. If, after he has appropriated some loose change and failed to get it with account of the incident, he feels that confidence has been withdrawn, that he is looked upon as a thief and a liar, he will most surely live up to the worst that is expected of him. The child's conception of himself as an individual is the reflection of his personality as it is mirrored in the faces, words and behavior of the adults who make up his world. Their evaluation of him becomes his own. If they say he is naughty and imply that his

ROAD EXPENDITURES AT BURLEY TOTAL $04,523

BURLEY, Feb. 15—Disbursements of the Burley Highway District for 1928 were $84,523, according to a recent report of the treasurer. Bonds redeemed during 1928 amounted to $2,000. The present bonded debt of the district is $70,000, it having been reduced to this figure from $76,000. The entire district is assessed at $47,491.75.

During the last year the district graded approaches on both sides of Snake River to the new Heuburn bridge, graded two and a half miles of highway, resurfaced six miles and gravelled six and one-half miles of new road. In addition, other work on wooden structures, 10 metal structures and four concrete structures were required.

During the eighth period Friday the music class of the Burley Triangle club with its leader, Miss Ethel Sull, met in the club room.

SPEDY RELIEF FOR SORE THROAT

No longer is it necessary to gargle or to choke with nasty-tasting-potent medicines or gargles to relieve sore throats. You can get almost instant relief with one swallow of a famous doctor's prescription called Thoxine. Thoxine does not contain iron, chloroform or opium, is pleasant-tasting, harmless and safe for the whole family. Also excellent for coughs; stops them almost and goes direct to relief. IDAHO BEANS BRING HIGH PRICE IN INDIANA STORES

Great Northern Variety Selling for Double Quotation Received by Producers

HANSEN, Feb. 15 (Special to The News)—In a letter to Mr. L. R. Carter, from Muncie, Indiana, Bill Shouse, who resided here a year ago and since in Muncie, sent an advertisement that appeared in one of the Muncie papers, which quoted Great Northern beans at two prices of 85 cents or 18 cents a pound. This is double the price that the farmer gets here and is indicative that these beans must pass through the hands of several brokers and otherwise before they finally reach the consumer.

The teachers of the Hansen school held a St. Valentine's party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Klingeman last evening and all the teachers were in attendance, as well as Superintendent and Mrs. D. A. Elles, Arthur Prior, and Carol O. Clarke. The rooms were prettily decorated in red and white hearts and cards were the main event of the evening. When it came time for the party to adjourn a daily lunch of cake, ice cream, and coffee was served to all and all report having had a wonderful time.

Tomorrow night, Saturday, February 16 the Hansen high school junior grade will give their class play, "The Suicide Specialist," and this promises to be a real hit and well prepared. Owing to bad weather a while back and the roads being blocked with snow, the play had to be postponed until the date noted here, and this has given the class a chance to thoroughly master their parts.

Wednesday evening, the day the Hansen community orchestra was to play for the Burley Methodist church, Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Keenan, Mrs. Roming and Robert Durk, motored on ahead and had supper with Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland in Burley. Following the program later, the entire Hansen orchestra was given a lunch and reception by the Burley organization.

Thursday the ladies of the Community council held an all day quilting bee at the church. Lunches were brought by all, and a very pleasant day was spent in making up quilts for those who had placed their orders for News! AN ALERT newsboy, on a day when news was dull and sales were few, turned to the advertising pages for inspiration. "Read about the big department store sale," he shouted. "Fine quality suits at $22. Beautiful furniture on sale. New shipment of neckties just received." His stock of papers was sold out very quickly. The case is, of course, exceptional. But it points to the fact that advertising is news—and important news. It is the news of daily life, the news that comes closest to you and those about you. It is news of the furniture you sit in, the books you read, the bonds you buy, the automobile you use, the flashlight, talking machine and food product that give you satisfaction. News that concerns you more vitally than anything else you read. News that is essential to you, because whether you purchase a piano or a pin, you want the best your money can buy. —and you can always be sure you are getting the newest and best when you read the advertisements. The advertisements contain pocketbook news—and that's important!

APPROPRIATION OF $400,000 WILL AID IN WHITE FLY WAR

Congress Increases Sum Set Aside to Battle Sugar Beet Pest; Means Advancement of Industry in Twin Falls Area

The appropriation bill for the department of agriculture which has just passed both houses of congress and which is now in the hands of President Hoover in his signature of approximately $400,000 for use by the bureau of plant industry and entomology for investigations looking to control or eradicate the sugar beet leaf hopper, otherwise known as the white fly, for the fiscal year ending June 30, according to word received here yesterday from Congressman Addison T. Smith. This is an increase of 300 per cent over appropriations for the same purpose which passed congress last year.

Dr. Carter Active
The leaf hopper depredations extend over the territory between the Rocky mountains and the Atlantic range. The increased appropriation will mean much extension of the work of investigating the white fly here where experiments have been carried on for the last four years by Dr. Walter Carter, of the bureau of entomology, who since 1925 has been conducting experiments here on the grounds of the Amalgamated Sugar company and making investigations on other parts of the territory. Some of the line investigators of the bureau of plant industry have visited Twin Falls. When the agricultural appropriation bill is passed, the bureau of entomology of the Seventh congressional session of the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce and other organizations familiar with the value of the white fly to the industry of the area, and realizing the magnitude of the task, urged a material increase in total sum set aside for such investigations.

Will Stabilize Industry
It is felt that if the problem can be solved completely, the beet sugar industry will be stabilized and the Snake river valley will become one of the greatest sugar producing sections in the country.
The total bill as it passed the house contained total appropriations for the department of agriculture amounting to $1,781,564 was added by the senate. One of the items in the measure set aside for the sugar industry is $1,500,000 for a new market service, among other extensions from Salt Lake City to each of the states which will prove of great benefit to the entire state. It is stated. This provision was secured through the activities of Senator John Thomas. The bill also appropriates $5000 for wire worm eradication work in Idaho.

IDAHO CATTLE PREFERRED IN LOS ANGELES COUNTY

Dr. W. A. Sullivan, Federal Veterinarian, Declares Gem State Leading in Shipments
That there have been more dairy cattle shipped from Idaho to Los Angeles county California, for the growing dairy business there than from any other state and that Utah ranks second, were statements made yesterday by Dr. W. A. Sullivan, Boise veterinarian and federal bureau of animal industry, who was in this county yesterday consulting with Dr. H. R. Dromme, and Paul and Dr. Swiger, both veterinarians connected with the state bureau.
While here, Dr. Sullivan consulted with members of the board of county commissioners relative to tubercular prearranging of cattle. The three-year period for which the law concerning tubercular cattle was created will expire in September, 1929. Dr. Sullivan said. There are now 23 accredited counties in Idaho out of 46. Buyers of stock everywhere prefer to purchase from accredited herds. Dr. Sullivan stated.

A BIRDSEYE STYLEVIEW IN TWIN FALLS STORES

Review of Current Fashions Gleaned From an Inspection of Local Firms

BY THE NEWS SHOPPER

SPRING TREND IN HATS

Express yourself. Be individual, and don't allow others to influence you. Your color ensemble, your dress, your coats, your hats must express individually. Self-expression is the password for spring. And hats are positively snobbishly individual this season. There are dozens of styles and materials. But look on you will, you won't be alone. Unless you find "you" in it. You can't put on just anything new, and expect it to look well. You must look for something that expresses your individuality.

The collapsible head-fitting urban or cap which is described as a "rug in the hand" has brought fabrics into millinery, and the style grows stronger and stronger with the increased number of methods in draping. The comfort of these little caps is thoroughly intriguing.
It is little felt fabric urban which has started to contend the popularity of felt. It has definitely entered the hat wardrobe. Of course the completeness of the ensemble factor has had much to do with its popularity, for with felt as a staple background, novelties are coming more and more into prominence.

Dress materials are being used for many of the accessories of the costume—hat, shoe, bag, scarf and millinery. The dress fabric urban of extra wide another appeal which would creep down the head is smart. Crepe de chine turbans are fashioned sometimes, entirely of ribbons or are combined with felt—such as the front portion of the crown being of the ribbon color, with the sign and the back portion of felt.

Brims go down or out, or drape according to the own idea. Sometimes the side points turn out in a flattering little flare; they may be either the back brim or the front brim that is used to support these points. If the points are turned up, they are generally turned to a bit forward, and if it is the low back brim, then the points flare backward.
The point over the forehead shows this "down" movement, and a great deal of ingenuity is apparent in both design and color. Hats which have never been generally becoming, they are now seen in such a way that they acquire a certain class of smart. The new season seems to be one of two things: either it rests flat against the cheek or it flares out in Dutch cap effect at one side, and the other side of the line starts close to the face and then flares out; this is what makes the wearing of points becoming.

Much is being done with the combination of felt and straw. It is natural, since in costumes, there is much of the two-color, two-tone and two-fabric idea that some of this same feeling for contrast should be felt in millinery. The natural straw comb well with many of the bright shades in felt, while black felt is also suggested for combination with colored straws.
While these combinations do not provide as classic an effect as the hat all of felt or straw, they do supply novelty for the in-between seasons. Straw and beiling ribbon are other combinations which one finds in spring hats.
The new straw hats show a tendency to trim hats, and wing-like effects of program are used. And one finds georgette for the capline, quilted creases and crepes among the spring creations.
Some of the newest felts are printed in plaid and checked designs, while others include the plaid scarf in evidence formations.

Fancy types of straws are in evidence—fancy in color and weave. There are plaids of the diagonal type, as well as the gingham plaid. Tiny checks are also being used, and the plaid and check effects, both in the plaids, many bendings of four or five colors are effective. These colorful straws are distinctly for appearance, and are often trimmed in grosgrain ribbon in the several colors developed in the straw.
Coco Cellulose—a shiny, delicate straw, is especially good, and shows to good advantage in close-fitting turbans.

And while I sat absorbing all the information I could, my eyes were busy, and I know I never saw so many lovely

Colors in Hats

Hats with figured silk crowns, or hats entirely of silk crepe with quilted brims. Sometimes the brims were caught up with a pin, or a twist of fine, silky straw, leaving a v-shaped frame for the face.
There were black hats and orchid hats, and hats combining shades of yellow, gold, orange, rust, beige and brown. There were hats with zigzag figures in the material—brilliant looking on black background. In fact, color has gone to the head and is running riot.

There was one hat in felt with creased scroll motifs, and folded brim at either side of the split center, in that new look in the material—brilliant looking powder-blue or blue grey—a bit of both, and yet neither.

There was another cellophane in tomato red, with the brim rolled back over the eyes and held by the deeper colored band, while the side brim dived. It was low and was pleated.
And another, in sand felt, with brown and gold and orange applique, both another was figured crepe de chine, with scarf to match, the figures in panel shades. And the very best was an off white shade georgette quilted over figured silk of two lovely shades of rose, with a narrow dipped brim, and a tiny, port buckle on one side.

Those weren't half the interesting and eye-catching hats I saw—for I saw dozens, but I've no more time or space to give them. The best anyone can do is look, and look again, for the new spring hats are lovely.

DOCUMENTS ON HAND IN TRANSFERRED LAWSUIT

Documents in the suit of Clive Spaulding vs. the firm of Williams Hoops, engaged in business under the name of the Hoops Construction company, were delivered to the clerk of the district court yesterday. Over the protest of Spaulding, the action has been transferred from Madison county where it was started, and will be brought to trial here.
Spaulding asks judgment in compensation for injury to himself and damage to his auto, which occurred in a collision with a truck owned by Hoops that is alleged to have been standing on a Madison county highway last November. He asks $1000 general and $2000 exemplary damages.

Any Time

It's a wonderful thing to be able to buy groceries and meats at a saving any day or any time the pantry needs replenishing. Our policy of not offering "Specials" enables us to sell our foods at uniform low prices every day in the week, to our own and our customers' profit and satisfaction.

"Specials"

Ancient Policy

There was a day when buyers responded to the dealers' offers of "Specials" or price baits, on certain days, but that day is practically over. Most everyone nowadays understands that "Specials" are not calculated to help the buyer, but are offered with the hopes that they will bring in a lot of people who will buy many other items at a big profit to the dealer. A trial or two will convince you that every day low prices are very greatly to your advantage in many ways.

SCOUTS RESPOND TO MOBILIZATION CALL

Hansen, Filer, Kimberly and Twin Falls Boys Line Up at Park When Whistle Sounds

The long expected whistle calling the boy scouts out for mobilization sounded at 3:20 P. M. yesterday and met with a prompt response from members of all the troops in the Twin Falls district. The schools were dismissed at the first note and the boys hurried out to the city park where they lined up in regular order.
The first troop to get in line was the Hansen aggregation of 32 boys with their scoutmaster, Rev. O. L. Kendall, which arrived in a truck just as the note of the whistle died out. Kimberly and Filer both arrived shortly afterwards.
Troop No. 11, Twin Falls, with 28 registered scouts, W. F. Franz, scoutmaster, shared with Hansen the honor of having 100 per cent attendance.

Attend Show

The troops lined up and were ordered to march. They were not told what their destination was, but when they arrived at the Idaho theater they were handed tickets to the show where two appropriate plays had been arranged for by the scout council of Twin Falls. The boys were completely surprised at the form of entertainment provided for them.

There had been plans to have them go to old stage coach ground, two miles west, and take part in a bonfire and wolver pup, but the weather has been so uncertain that this idea was abandoned early in the week.

The officers of the Twin Falls council are much pleased with the success of the mobilization on its first trial. The idea is not militaristic, it is stated, but is intended to train the boys to be ready at any time at a signal to turn out and assist in case of any public necessity or calamity.

Copies of the conditions may be had on application to the chairman.

PROGRAM FEATURES MEET

A patriotic and musical program was an interesting feature of a meeting of the Past Noble Grand club, in the Business and Professional Women's club rooms here last Thursday evening. Twenty-five members and 10 guests from Filer, attended the meeting. The program followed the business session which was held at the close of a beautiful dinner served in the club rooms at 7 P. M. Musical numbers were given by Catherine Lindauer and Ruth Hellenbeck at the piano; Carl Hollenbeck, saxophone; Viola Raines, Ella Stiffner, and Nancy Minnerly.

flood and the St. Louis tornado. It is stated that during the Mississippi valley flood four scouts at Yazoo, Mississippi, saved 85 lives. After the St. Louis tornado, 4000 scouts were on duty within two hours and during the first night reunited 50 families, carried Western Union messages and cleared streets of debris. To get the boys so that they will act quickly and wisely in emergencies is the main objective of mobilization, scout officials say.
The exercises yesterday closed anniversary week, which, considering weather, the members of the scout council had to have been a great success.
