SENATE PASSES BILL GIVING $2,834,794 TO STATE'S SCHOOLS

Action Follows Attack by Washington County Solon on Inability to Regulate Salary of Educational Commissioner

(By The Associated Press) BOISE, Feb. 19.—After an attack by Senator Robertson, Washington county, on the inability of the legislature to regulate the salary paid the commissioner of education, the senate today passed an appropriation measure giving $2,834,794 to educational institutions of the state.

The bill had previously been passed by the house and now goes to the governor for his signature. The bill repeals the increase of $9,000 over the bill for the previous biennium, Senator Callahan, chairman of the finance committee, explaining that had been possible to make some savings in the office of superintendent of public instruction, in the appropriation to the southern branch of the University of Idaho, and in the school for the deaf and blind.

Keeps Up Running Fire Senator Robertson kept up a running fire of questions as to the necessity of the expenditure and he closed by saying that the bill had been more clearly presented to the legislature than on any previous occasion in his knowledge.

Senator Robertson asked regarding the $7500 salary paid to the commissioner of education and he told "the size of the salary was set by the board of education." "Of course," explained Callahan, "we control the size of the salary, but we have no money which may be used for paying the commissioner."

Senator Rockwell defended the salary and the present one, W. D. Vincent, declaring he was "by all odds the best commissioner the state has had in the office." He also stated the department the amount of his salary time after time. "But $7500 is a lot of money," Senator Rockwell declared. "Yes—for a mucker," Rockwell retorted. "Wouldn't you work for that amount?" Robertson asked. "No," Rockwell replied. "I haven't had to for a long time."

HOOVER TO DISCUSS IMPORTANT AFFAIRS WITH FORMER CHIEF

Conference Constitutes One of Major Reasons for Return to Capital 13 Days Before Taking Over Nation's Reins

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—President-elect Hoover returned to Washington today from his Florida vacation with the intention of holding an early conference with President Coolidge from whom he will take over the reins of government on March 4. Thus will be furnished additional assurance to the public that the Republican administration, with the next chief executive pledged to carry on the major policies of his predecessor, will not waver in his acceptance speech last August. This conference constitutes one of the major reasons for the return of Mr. Hoover to the capital 13 days in advance of his inauguration. There are others, of course, including consultations with a number of party leaders on a variety of subjects, and the completion of the inaugural address.

Cabinet Discussion Review The return of the president-elect to Washington today was a significant event, instead of becoming secretary of state, Henry L. Stimson would be named attorney general and that William J. Donovan, now assistant to the attorney general, would be made secretary of war. It was argued that Mr. Stimson was known as a driving prosecutor and consequently would fit well into the picture as the head of the prosecuting arm of the federal government. He already has served as secretary of war.

Adams County Democrat Would Use Revenue Derived From Licenses for Fund to Build Monument to "Oleo" McKaig

(By The Associated Press) BOISE, Feb. 19.—By a vote of 28 to 14 the senate passed the oleomargarine license tax measure today over the bitter opposition of a group who branded it class legislation and insisted it would only result in giving to the chain stores of the state a monopoly on sale of the product. Debate over the measure lasted half of an afternoon session of the upper house. The measure would place a $20 license fee on retailers of the product and a $200 license on wholesalers.

Opposition Most Active Led by Senators Barrett, Gooding and Mitchell, Canyon county, supporters of the measure declared it was the only available protection to the dairy industry against the increasing inroads of oleomargarine. Senator Barrett, in explaining the bill, said it was admittedly not the best legislation that could be proposed that was harassing the dairy industry, its principal merit, he said, was that it worked in the neighboring state of Arizona and that attempts to improve upon it in Wisconsin by making it a sales tax had resulted in a decision that it was unconstitutional.

RAIN CAUSES HEAVY DAMAGES IN BRAZIL

Over Three Feet of Rain Fall During Fortnight, Demoralizing Rail and Motor Traffic

SAN PAULO, Brazil, Feb. 19.—Traffic and communications in this state were demoralized by the 31 inches of rain which fell in one day and 43 inches total for a fortnight. The port of Santos has been completely isolated except for sea for two days. It has been unable to obtain the usual supplies of milk from the interior but it is hoped to get through a quantity at least sufficient for the children and invalids tomorrow. Highway Blocked The San Paulo railroad resumed restricted passenger traffic late today. The automobile traffic, however, on the dock is so great that it is believed two months will be required to clear it. Reports from the interior are incomplete but it is conservatively estimated that the country has received 25 per cent or more through the heavy rain knocking the berries from the trees. The greatest rainfall in 10 years has done incalculable damage to crops and roads. Stretches of more than 100 yards have been washed out on the railroads.

BLAZE IN NEW YORK TUBE TRAIN INJURES 50 MEN AND WOMEN

Panic-Stricken Passengers Trample One Another in Attempt to Leave Stalled and Smoke-filled Cars in Subway

(By The Associated Press) NEW YORK, Feb. 19.—Fifty persons were injured, four men and two women seriously and 200 passengers were affected by smoke and fumes tonight when a fire broke out in the first car of a New Jersey-bound seven car Hudson tube train, 1000 feet west of the Christopher street station in Manhattan. Panic-stricken passengers trampled one another in attempting to get off the stalled and smoke-filled train. Most of them reached the Christopher street station through another train that was joined to the rear of the stalled train. The train which caught fire was a local, bound for Journal Square, Jersey City, New Jersey, and carried about 1000 homeward bound commuters.

A short circuit in the motor of the first car caused the fire and smoke from burning insulation was mingled with air in the fumes from the storage batteries of the train. When the passengers reached the street their faces were blackened from the smoke and many were bruised and bleeding from being trampled and struck. Passengers in the first three cars and that many of them received cuts in breaking windows to permit the smoke and fumes to escape. Emergency stations were set up by police in stores near the Christopher street station and the "rent" seriously injured were treated at the hospital.

A large crowd was attracted by word of the accident and police established lines to keep them back from the tunnel entrance. Power was turned off in the tubes when word of the fire was received and several other trains were stalled. The passengers from one train were taken to the street through an emergency exit at Ninth street. Harry Van Zandt, Jersey (Continued on Page 2, Column 2)

GIANT NORTHEASTERN RAIL MERGER LOOMS

Plan Calls for Operation of 13,914 Miles of Trunk Lines by Baltimore and Ohio Road

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19—Long discussed plans of eastern railroad interests for consolidating virtually all the rail mileage in the Northeast quarter of the United States into four giant systems emerged concretely today into public view.

The Baltimore and Ohio railroad formally asked the commission to approve steps which it may take to expand its present system by the acquisition of a half score of other railroads. It requested permission to purchase the Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburgh, the Dayton and Troy, the Trenton, the Chicago, Indianapolis and Louisville, the Washakie, the Ann Arbor, and the Buffalo and Susquehanna railroads.

In addition it asked permission to complete acquisition of the Western Maryland, the New York and Central, the Lehigh and Hudson River, some of which is now owned in whole or in part by the Pennsylvania system.

ly bought by the very farmers for whose benefit it is aimed. These farmers come into town with their dairy products, market them for the bare necessities of life and then buy oleomargarine to take to their cities.

Senator Mitchell replied that of 2100 dairymen in the association a bare three score might be using oleomargarine and even this number was not certain. He said sale of oleomargarine displaced the production of 7000 cans in the state.

Moreover, he declared, "the dairymen of this state, representing one of the state's most progressive industries, are forced to compete with a product that comes into the state tax-free and is sold in competition with a necessary home product without paying a cent of tax."

City, New Jersey, motorman of the train which caught fire, was taken to St. Vincent's hospital in what police described as a serious condition. He was not questioned as to the cause of the blaze, they said, because of his condition.

Jean Avalon, Bloomfield, New Jersey, and Laura Sinclair, Newark, New Jersey, also were taken to St. Vincent's hospital, where their condition was described as serious.

William G. Fullen, chairman of the Hudson and Manhattan transit commission, and Inspector Edward J. Quinn of the first inspection district, viewed the train and the scene of the fire. Mr. Fullen said he was undecided as to what caused the fire.

Progressive party has been one of those most active in support of the measure. An attempt made by Senator Whitten to throw the bill into committee of the whole for amendment failed and the bill was forced to an issue.

Debate was finished when Senator Van Horn of Bonanza county said that it was in favor of the bill, though admitting that it had "certain defects which I wish might be eliminated."

Fuel system of the new Ford has been designed for reliability and long service. THE practical value of Ford simplicity of design is especially apparent in the fuel system. The gasoline tank is built integral with the cowl and is unusually sturdy because it is made of heavy sheet-steel, ternal-plated to prevent rust or corrosion. An additional factor of strength is the fact that it is composed of only two pieces, instead of three or four, and is electrically welded—not soldered. Because of the location of the tank, the entire flow of gasoline is an even, natural flow—following the natural law of gravity. This is the simplest and most direct way of supplying gasoline to the carburetor without variations in pressure. The gasoline feed pipe of the new Ford is only 1 1/2 inches long and is easily accessible all the way. The gasoline passes from the tank to the carburetor through a filter or sediment bulb mounted on the steel dash which separates the gasoline tank from the engine. The carburetor is specially designed and has been built to deliver many thousands of miles of good service. Since all adjustments are fixed except the needle valve and idler, there is practically nothing to get out of order. The choke rod on the dash acts as a primer and also as a regulator of your gasoline mixture. The new hot-spot manifold insures complete vaporization of the gasoline before it enters the combustion chamber of the engine. As a matter of fact, the fuel system of the new Ford is so simple in design and so carefully made that it requires very little service attention. The filter or sediment bulb should be cleaned at regular intervals and the carburetor screen removed and washed in gasoline. Occasionally the drain plug at the bottom of the carburetor should be removed and the carburetor drained for a few seconds. Have your Ford dealer look after these little details for you when you have the car oiled and greased. A periodic check-up costs little, but it has a great deal to do with long life and continuously good performance. Ford FORD MOTOR COMPANY

NEW YORK, Feb. 19.—The pick of the foreign runners now in this country will be trying for American titles along with the crews of the home-grown college and club talent in the national senior track and field championships at Madison Square Garden Saturday night.

NEW RULE ON FUMBLE MEETING WITH FAVOR

Leading Western Gridiron Mentors Comment Favorably On Decision of Committeemen

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 19.—The new fumble rule, making a fumbled ball dead at point of recovery when recovered by the opposing side, was generally well received by leading football coaches, officials and critics of the Far West. Comment on the decision of the national football rules committee follows:

Coach C. M. Price, California: "While I would rather they had not changed this rule, I guess we can stand it. The more I study it, the more I am inclined to think it won't be so bad. I thought at first it would take away too much of the thrill but feel now it won't make such a great difference in the interest of the game."

Coach Orin E. Hollingsbery, Washington State: "The rule is all right, except they should have modified it to permit the defensive side to gain from 15 to 25 yards after recovery. The committee should remember it is the public that keeps the game going."

Coach J. P. Behlmer, Oregon State: "I am enthusiastic over the new rule. It puts a premium on team play for misplay of individual. After 11 men have carried a ball the entire length of the field they remember it is penalized to the extent they have been in the past on account of the error of one man."

R. E. Klawns, secretary of the Pacific coast football association: "I am not so keen for it. It will take away a thrill of the game. If it had been in effect last month, Roy Rickey's backward run at Pasadena would now be the greatest in history. The field officials will not have much to do."

DRUM CAGE SQUADS PLAY OUT OF TOWN

Girls Meet Filer for Runner-Up Honors and Boys Battle With Jerome on Large Floor

Both basketball teams of the Twin Falls high school go out of town for game tonight. The girls will play Filer on the built court for the runner-up honors of this sub-district, and the boys taking on the Jerome team at Jerome for a conditioning contest.

The game with Filer is of importance as the team that is victorious has a good chance of entry into the district tournament at Buhl. Under the tournament plan four girls' teams will enter, the champions of the three sub-district, north side, east end and this sub-district making three, the fourth being the victor of the game between the runners up of this and the East End district. The victor of the Twin Falls-Filer contest tonight will still have a game ahead to dispose of by play or cancellation before tournament entry is sure. The teams have met twice before this season, each having won, so the play at Buhl promises to be a close one.

For the Bruins the game at Jerome is not so important in the tournament sense. They will be starters any way, but it gives Coach Jones an opportunity to try out and fix the week's work.

CUBS START SPRING TRAINING SESSIONS

Members of Chicago National League Baseball Crew Take Part in Opening Activities

AVALON, Santa Catalina Island, Feb. 19.—Manager Joe McCarthy had his Chicago Cubs out and working at 10 A. M. today, but the first spring training session, although lengthy, was not a hard one.

Some of the players complained of slight soreness as a result of their scampieries over the island beach yesterday. Today's workout was more intensive, but confined to tossing the medicine ball, light baseball tossing and monkey shins of all sorts. Art Nehf, veteran southpaw pitcher, was able to camp with some excess ponyage donned the rubber shirt.

Coaches Jimmy Burke and Grover Land took over the task of coaching such pitching prospects as Ed Lautensbacher, who turned in 10 victories against five defeats for the Reading, Pennsylvania, club last season; Roy Hansen from Elmira, New York; Ivan Greene, Nehf's protegee from the diamonds of Arizona, and Ed Holley, who was with the Cubs last season, but was little used.

CARD COMPLETE FOR NEXT BOXING BOUT

Announces Signing of Hazelton Boxer for Preliminary

Twin Falls American Legion's boxing card for Wednesday, February 27, has been completed. Duncan Johnston, matchmaker, announced last evening, with the matching of "Burr" Havens, Washouli, an Idaho State League fighter, in a four-round preliminary bout. Havens is credited with a draw in a bout with Ernie Woolley, Twin Falls, last August, and is slated as a boxer-encounter with Nelson, whose encounter with Nelson would make an interesting and lively affair.

Ed Bechtel, boxer who has attracted attention in performances in Southeast Idaho and Utah, has been matched to clash with Young McCarthy, Twin Falls, in the three-round curtain raiser.

Interest among fans to obtain especially in the West End, is reported to be running high in the semi-final event in which Roy "Buster" Campbell, Buhl, will be opposed by Curley Johnson, Boise, with almost any sort of result.

Manager for Buddy Washington, Porterville, who got a draw in his bout with Art Francis, Oakland, at Salt Lake City Monday evening, has enthusiastic over matching of Del Allen, LaGrande, with Washington in the 10-round event of the Legion's next card. In a telephone conversation with Matchmaker Johnston early Tuesday, Washington's manager declared he had "been endeavoring for some time to obtain a match for Washington with Allen, and that he welcomed the opportunity for his boy to show what he can do against a boxer who has been knocking them over in Madison Square Garden."

Bud Travis is hospitalized originally matched to meet Washington on the next card, wired the matchmaker yesterday from a Wieser hospital where he submitted to an operation Sunday for removal of an imbedded tonal.

Travis, in his message, stated that he would be ready for the bout February 27. The matchmaker replied assuring him of a place on the card that has been tentatively arranged for April 13.

ROCKY RENEWS CLAIMS FOR BOUT WITH TRAVIS

Rocky Moore, Twin Falls lightweight boxer, in training here now for a bout in Salt Lake City next Monday evening, upon learning that Bud Travis would not appear on the American Legion's next boxing card here, renewed yesterday's insistence on a return bout with Travis.

Rocky and Travis wanted to a draw in the main go of the last boxing card here.

Rocky not only is clamoring for a return bout, but he insists that he will win over Travis when they meet in the ring again. Rocky's friends, supporting his claims, point to his record showing that he has not taken a knockdown in 14 battles since meeting Jack Andrews in Salt Lake City, and that he has not taken a count in 20 successive ring engagements.

There is no substitute for cream of tartar for fine baking

There are substitutes... but none that will produce fine baking. Ask any domestic science teacher which she prefers -- a cream of tartar baking powder or one that contains a substitute. Ask any doctor. Ask any pure food department. Any good baking powder will do an acceptable job -- but if it contains cream of tartar, you are on the safe side -- that's all. But that's enough for millions of housewives!

All cream of tartar baking powders are about the same, and sell at about the same price. But Western women have known for many years that one of them -- Schilling -- contains a full pound for their pound price. They know it means 10c in the purse every time they buy Schilling full-weight baking powder.

Read the Schilling label -- it means just what it says. That's another Schilling way of keeping faith with you.

A New Yorker at Large G. D. SEYMOUR

NEW YORK, Feb. 19 (AP)—Of over 10 telephone conversations in the United States last year, one took place in New York. With a little more than a twentieth of the nation's population, New York City now is doing approximately 1/20 of the telephone business of the country.

The telephone calls in the country in 1928 totaled 7,000,000,000. Of this number 7,217,300 a day were in New York, and of New York's calls, two-thirds originated on Manhattan Island.

Incidentally the number of private branch exchanges in New York has increased 10.5 per cent. The present total is 4,750,000 individuals, for most private exchanges have 50 or more phones linked to one central switchboard listed in the directory as a single number.

GOOD NEWS The Mountain-States Telephone and Telegraph company will spend nearly sixty thousand dollars in Twin Falls this year for the purchase of land and construction of a new two-story brick building, with cable relief and extensions.

A SERIOUS PRINCE The joke writers will have their say about the retirement of the Prince of Wales from the hunting field. The fact that he is selling all but one of his stable of fine horses revives many a glib set about his famous falls.

There must be serious reasons back of his move. The government has long tried in vain to make the Prince give up the dangerous pastime of hunting and riding. His success in this endeavor is to be praised. The Prince at last to accept it. Further, the Prince's experiences in visiting the destitute coal mine regions have had a depressing effect on his former hunting enthusiasm.

Organizations of Western Industry May Merge in Battling Alleged Common foe

PORTLAND, Feb. 19 (AP)—An attempt to link the organizations of the Western railroads and Western lumber producers into a solid formation to defeat what has been called a conspiracy of railroad and lumber interests against Western finished lumber products, was under way here today.

The meeting was attended by more than 100 delegates representing all railroads serving the lumber industry in the West and the West Coast lumber association, made up of lumber manufacturers.

William J. Walker of the Red-River Lumber Co., California, declared he will in the attitude of Eastern railroads a move to keep out Western products and substitute for them Eastern lumber.

J. T. Saunders, freight traffic manager for the Southern Pacific, told the delegates that the Central Freight association, made up of railroads east of Chicago, has served notice on Western roads that no new rate lower than that now in effect will be accepted for doors and sashes carried east of Chicago.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19 (AP)—None of the general senators who are blocking their way to political oblivion March 3 next, through kindness of their constituents last election day or by voluntary action, is more profane of words than Bruce of Maryland.

He figures in almost every senate debate at some time; but no matter what the subject may be, he usually sings the same tune.

It centers on his pet amendment, the prohibition amendment and its results, seen from the Bruce point of view. He lets no opportunity slip to shoot in a few cutting remarks on that subject.

SCHOOL NURSE EXAMINES CASSIA COUNTY STUDENTS

BURLEY, Feb. 19—(Special to The News)—After an inspection and examination of 123 children enrolled in one of the smaller schools in Burley, Miss Martha T. Juvie, community school nurse, reports that only eight were free from physical defects.

Of the 114 children suffering with one or more defects, 39 had throat trouble, 36 had defective vision, 22 had abnormal thyroids, 10 had defects in teeth, 33 had nose troubles, 16 were below normal weight, 10 smaller proportions—had various other abnormalities. The postures of 62 pupils were incorrect.

Miss Juvie finds that there is a close connection between bad vision and poor scholarship. Practically every child in a class conducted for backward pupils was found to have defective sight.

"The nurse further reports—parents to not delay in taking steps to have the defects exhibited by their children corrected. No child defective in even a minor way can hope to compete successfully with those physically fit and consequently at the peak of their mental capacities.

Miss Juvie has been employed as part time nurse in four communities in Cassia county. Superintendent W. W. Christensen and others having children in their charge assert that a full time nurse is necessary and are urging that steps be taken to provide a community school nurse for the entire term next year.

The Treasure of the Bucoleon

We clunged slowly through the mist of shipping in the harbor...

I have you on the night-glasses, Hugh?

"Right," he called back. "I'm on them—just as you see that big tower of the wall in the distance."

"Fetch the sweeps, William," she whispered. "Well, pull in. Quick, quick."

High and Watkins advanced to the center of the boat, the cabin roof and thrust their outboard through the rigging...

"Nikka and I, with the help of the glazier, planned for the attack of the burglar-crew of Tokaki's establishment."

"This is a good idea," approved Nikka. "If you could enter by the tower of the Marbled you could seize the valuable part of the position."

"There's no use in a burglar crew," said Hugh. "You could consolidate your position—how the old thing come back, though not to occupy the rest of the place as you intend by force, if you didn't want to occupy it."

"Oh, you'd have to occupy it," I interrupted. "I say, do you know that place looks better?"

"There's somebody there, never mind," said Hugh. "According to Nikka's uncle, a good part of the garrison were withdrawn today."
