Lull Settles Over Training Camps of Stribbling and Sharkey

Sextet from Burley Defeats Oakley Team in Race for East End Sub-district Basketball Championship

Georgian Claiming Injury To Fourth Rib On Left Side

Manager of Boston-Gob Alleges Southerner Sets Up Same Contentions Before Every Important Contest

By EDWARD J. NEIL
(Associated Press Staff Writer)
MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Feb. 25—The lull that precedes the 20-hour settled over the training camps of Jack Sharkey and Young Stribbling today as the preliminary commanding of the battle of the Everglades died away. The training, if any, appeared confined to the major early morning put shot at Jack Dempsey.

Both fighters worked under the tension that has gripped both camps since Stribbling's injury. The Sharkey entourage was the more upset and from all parts of the dog house the lull was merely preparing his ally in advance.

After Stribbling's father of the Mecon slasher, explained Stribbling's injury to the Associated Press, the physician in charge of the boxer announced that the injury consisted of a dislocation of the fourth rib on the left side, followed by traumatic neuritis.

Following five rounds of exercises, Stribbling went through his paces for newspapermen in his dressing room. Being fitted with his boxing gloves, the manager in case with no indication of pain. The boxer said that the trouble had disappeared and that he was in perfect condition for Wednesday night. He weighs 183 1/2 pounds in his ring togs.

Sharkey Works Easily

Sharkey worked easily and with no effort to do more than to show his punching equipment. Against Paul Hoffmann, the first opponent, the Bostoner "battered" the manager of his opponent and was content to shoot pay but accurate straight right hand.

Johnny Buckley, retout manager of Sharkey, frothed about the training camp of his gladiator breathing forth fiery expressions of contempt for Stribbling and the injury.

"Stribbling has never fought a good man without claiming injury before," Buckley said. "When Paul Becherbach hammered him around, Stribbling had a dislocated vertebra in his neck. He's been beaten when he's fought Tommy Loughran in New York. There's nothing wrong with him now but he'll have plenty of injuries Thursday morning."

Sharkey, in perfect physical condition, scaled 172 1/2 before he worked today to 161 when he finished.

With the battle only two days away, Miami Beach strove to house the visitors pouring into town on every train. Hotels were crowded with fans and society celebrities and the newcomers were forced into adjoining towns for accommodations. The ticket market was reported well past the $300,000 mark.

Contrary to previous announcements, the fight program will be broadcast over a network of stations by the National Broadcasting company. Graham McNamee and Hill Munday, the latter a sports writer on the staff of the Atlanta Journal, will be at the microphone. So far, according to the broadcasting company, the following stations are participating: WJZ, New York; WBZ, Springfield, Mass.; WJZ, New York; WMA, Boston; WJAM, Rochester, New York; WJAL, Baltimore; WLW, Cincinnati; KDKA, Pittsburgh; WOR, Detroit; KYW, Chicago; and WREX, Kansas City.

The broadcast will start at 7:30 P. M. Mountain standard time. The main bout is scheduled for 8 o'clock.

Boxers On Way For Twin Falls Fights

Del Allen and Buddy Washington to Camp on Scene of Combat in Magic City

Del Allen, La Grande, Oregon, coming from the west, and Buddy Washington, Pocatello, coming from the east, will arrive here today to clash tomorrow evening in the main event of the Magic City boxing contest.

Allen was a participant in a headline attraction at Boise last Thursday, and Washington, of Salt Lake City a week ago Monday, was one of the principals in a principal event. It is probable, Duncan Johnston, matchmaker for the Legion, stated last evening, that both battles will take on light workouts during the day, to which fans here will be admitted.

The Oregon batter will be accompanied by Curley Johnson, Boise, who has been working out at his springing partner, and who is to meet Ray Copenbarger, Buhi, in tomorrow evening's semi-final bout. West End fight fans will be here in numbers to witness this bout, which, in many quarters, rivals the main go as a center of interest in the coming fight card.

Both fighters worked under the tension that has gripped both camps since Stribbling's injury. The Sharkey entourage was the more upset and from all parts of the dog house the lull was merely preparing his ally in advance.

Losers Will Engage Twin Falls Co-Eds For Titular Chance

Withdrawal of Rupert's Six From Tourney Leaves Victor for Runner-Up in Contest for Honors in West End

(Special to The News)
BURLEY, Feb. 25—In a fast, clean and hard fought game here tonight the Burley high school girls became champions of the East End sub-district by defeating Oakley's sextet, 32 to 22.

The withdrawal of the Rupert teams from the tournament leaves Oakley as the runner-up, and this team will play with Twin Falls Wednesday night, the winner to enter the tournament at Buhi as the fourth girls' team.

Tonight's game was the third contest between Burley and Oakley this season. Early in the preliminary round Oakley outscored Burley, 50 to 17. Last week's game resulted in a 22 to 24, and tonight repeated their victory, 22 to 22.

The teams were well matched in playing ability, Burley having the advantage of more endurance, that counted heavily in the second half. Burley got off to a good lead, and held it until near the end of the first half, when Oakley put on a spurt that brought four field tosses in quick succession, and made the score at the half, 15 to 14, in Burley's favor. With the opening of the second half, Burley began to draw away, and their fast and aggressive play enabled them to run out ahead, 32 to 22.

Play was very clean and sharp, 10 penalties being called on the Burley team and only three on Oakley. This was the result of the close, careful handling of the game by the officials.

Two More Cue Artists Drop-Out of Tourney

Fifth round of the elimination trial billiard tournament at the H. and M. cigar store opened last evening with three games, defeated players in two of the earlier, Griggs and Atkinson, being eliminated from the tourney.

Griggs was defeated by Billington who gave a handicap of 100 to 75, and counted his 123 while Griggs was making 62 in a 50 inning game. Billington made 12 billies in one frame for high run of the evening.

Atkinson, who conceded a handicap of 100 to 75, was defeated by Duerig, who made his 87 billies. Atkinson was counting 81 in 62 innings.

Copewell, giving a handicap of 100 to 97, defeated Duerig, 100 to 55, in 65 innings.

"I am strong for Luckies."

John Gilbert
John Gilbert
Celebrated Screen Star

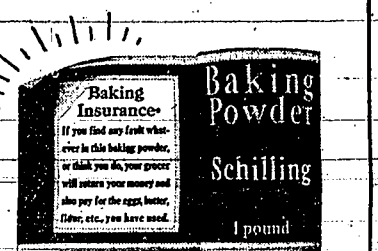

"Motion picture actors are under a great strain—they need the comforting qualities of a good cigarette. That is why most of us smoke Lucky Strike. The marvelous toasted flavor of Lucky Strike brings complete enjoyment and relaxation but does not hurt the throat or wind. I am strong for Luckies—they are the stars of the cigarette picture. I would rather have a Lucky after a meal than rich pastries or desserts."

JOHN GILBERT

The modern common sense way—reach for a Lucky instead of a fattening sweet. Everyone is doing it—men keep healthy and fit, women retain a trim figure. Lucky Strike, the finest tobacco, skillfully blended, then toasted to develop a flavor which is a delightful alternative for that craving for fattening sweets.

Toasting frees Lucky Strike from impurities. 20,679 physicians recognize this when they say Luckies are less irritating than other cigarettes. That's why folks say: "It's good to smoke Luckies."

Note: Authorities attribute the enormous increase in Cigarette smoking to the improvement in the process of Cigarette manufacture by the application of heat. It is true that during 1928, Lucky Strike Cigarettes showed a greater increase than all other Cigarettes combined. This surely confirms the public's confidence in the superiority of Lucky Strike.

GOOD-IF

There is nothing particularly wrong about the scheme lately suggested by C. E. Arney of Spokane, and now adopted by the chairman of the Democratic state central committee.

Beyond question, substantial tax savings would result from reduction in the number of counties, each with its multiplicity of offices serving an area that might very well be extended. It is the Democratic chairman's idea to cut the number at least in half—without leaving twenty-two counties—and, he asserts, "to reduce the number to approximately ten would be far better."

So long as it is confined to theory, the proposition is an excellent one. Idaho has benefited largely as a result of having a few years ago in the movement for creation of new counties, but to turn about so soon and attempt to reverse that movement, is so much like "unscrambling" eggs, that is to too much to expect.

It has never been argued seriously that ours is a particularly economical form of government, but it is the kind we are committed to and, apparently, the kind we had and are willing to pay for.

The tax burden will have to be a white-hot more generous than it is now, before the county reduction plan can be put forward with any real hope for its adoption.

PEACE COMPULSION

The Kellogg-Briand peace treaty, regarded by Senator Johnson of California and by many another critic as pretty near "nothing" in binding power, nevertheless has started something.

It was, on the face of it, only a pious resolution to stop fighting. But it did commit the nations to the moral principle of keeping the peace. And still more, it set people to thinking, the world over.

One of the results of this thinking is the introduction of the Capper resolution in the United States Senate, and a similar resolution in the House of Representatives, and an immediate popular response at home and abroad.

Imagine a simple parallel in private life. Suppose a group of men sitting down to a poker game were to agree that "they wouldn't cheat any more." That would be fine. They would all feel a pleasant glow of virtue. But some experienced player might soon suggest:

"All right, boys! We're going to play 'square.' But now, just supposing some fellow does happen to see a card, and is caught sticking cards up his sleeve, and what are we going to do about it?"

The mildest answer possible would be, "stop playing with him. Put him out of the game."

Well, suppose some nation that has agreed with its neighbors not to fight any more starts another war, or threatens to start one. Senator Capper's idea is that the parties to the agreement shall stop playing with him. Because he is cheating with cards, they will deal him no more cards. They will sell him no more chips—no more war materials.

This is peaceful coercion by economic weapons. Is there any other way to obtain peace without shedding blood for it?

REAL RADIO PROBLEMS

Our own Federal Radio Commission has plenty of problems on its hands, but its members may well be glad that they are six hundred stations with which they deal are all in one country. In Europe radio authorities have national boundaries and a great variety of national tongues to consider.

Radio officials and engineers of Europe are to meet in Prague in April to discuss the various problems that arise with Europe's two hundred and thirty-two broadcasting stations. It is a task and calls for diplomatic skill and engineering ability.

Such a meeting is a government-owned or operated under close governmental supervision may or may not make agreement easier. Operating expenses are defrayed by revenue from the tax paid by owners of receiving sets. Very few programs are commercially sponsored.

Perhaps it will be a fine thing for harassed radio officials abroad if the American "talkies" really do make the English language known to all peoples throughout the world.

CHILDREN'S READING

Louis Undermyer likes to talk to children as he goes about the country lecturing and reading his own poetry to audiences. Apparently children like to talk to him. They find in him an understanding mind, and so they tell him things about their own reading enthusiasms.

As a result of this frequent communing with young people, he has come to the conclusion that boys and girls like to read good literature if it isn't thrust on them like a dose of medicine. Told that they ought to read something because it will be good for them, they naturally shy from it and are suspicious of it. But if a fine book is suggested to them tactfully or if they are allowed to find it for themselves, they will read it with eagerness and appreciation.

Furthermore, he says, they take to poetry naturally, if they are given a chance at it while young. They like its rhyme and rhythm and imaginative quality. They memorize it happily. It is only when adults say poetry is foolish and difficult to understand that youngsters turn away from it.

The sad thing about spelling correct literature for children is that they rarely overcome their early prejudices later on. That whole fascinating realm remains closed to them in adult years unless they have had a glimpse of its real beauty in their youth.

Life One Real Thrill For Adventurous Scribe

In a picturesque and poetic nutshell here is the career of Richard Halliburton, the romantic, literary adventurer who is appearing in a play and appears of the American Association of University Women on Thursday evening, February 22, at the high school auditorium.

He swam the Heliosport where Leander and Lord Byrron swam. He climbed Olympus, Stromboli, Vesuvius and Actina. He ran the Marathon over the original course. He swam—almost—across the life-filled life Aegean sea at night. He charged up Mount Parnassus. He danced through the Vale of Tempe.

He made a pilgrimage to the grave of Rupert Brooke who is buried on a lonely Grecian isle. In the tracks of Achilles and Alexander he ran three times around the windy walls of Troy.

He swam—almost—the evil straits between Scylla and Charybdis. He followed to the end of the fabulous trail of Odysseus, with only Homer for his guide and Ed. O'Shaughnessy for his book. He found the Lotus Land—the Cyclops Cave—the Aeolian Island of the winds.

He braved a midnight Crete's charms, and looked for Sirens in the caves of Capri. And then—in the summer of 1928—he retraced the old Cortez trail in Mexico, dove 70 feet into the Sacred Well of Chichen Itza in Yucatan, and swam the entire length of the Panama Canal.

Guiding Your Child

As soon as children reach the age when they play organized games and form clubs, they become rigidly conventional and intensely conservative. It is hard for us who have learned to live with some independence of what other people think of us to appreciate the fact that children are far more conventional than adults about clothes, morals and manners. Their standards are those of their own group. Whether the parents' standards are better or worse than these makes little difference; the child is made uncomfortable by any thing which marks him and his home and family as peculiar.

In such simple matters as his personal appearance, his hospitality, his spending money we should see to it that he comes within the lines of the acceptable as far as his own group is concerned. This is not simply catering to a childish whim, it is helping him make one of the most important adjustments of his life. For above all things children are being socialized. They are forming a social being, one who belongs.

surprise party Saturday in honor of her son, Kyle, on his twelfth birthday. The party were entertained at the matinee at the Shoshone theatre. Refreshments were served at the Ballantyne home on Maple Avenue. The centerpiece for the table was a lovely birthday cake ornamented with the required number of lighted candles. Mrs. Ballantyne was assisted in serving by her daughter, Miss Miriam Ballantyne.

Miss Miriam Ballantyne celebrated her birthday anniversary Saturday evening with a theatre party followed by dancing at the Ballantyne home. At a late hour Mrs. Ballantyne served refreshments and the children joyfully decorated in green and gold with a large birthday cake for a centerpiece. The guest list included Misses Helen Taylor, Helen White, Genevieve Bolfer, Vivian Wilson, Tess Heppler, Helen Newman, Helen Vosburg, Marjorie Ebeling and Messrs. SNOW AGAIN IMPEDES TRAFFIC ON HIGHWAY

Road Near Murtaugh Opened by Use of Rotary Spades Operate on Schedules

Although the crew of the state highway department operating the rotary plow succeeded in cutting a path through the north and south road this side of Murtaugh yesterday, continuation of the heavy wind over night would probably fill it up again, was the opinion of H. O. Oakes, an employe of the department, who returned here about 10 P. M.

N. Ashline, Ghoshone, head of the state highway district in which Twin Falls and counties east are included, is quoted as saying that it is planned to haul snow out of the cut on the north and south road near Murtaugh with trucks, as the rotary clears only a single track. Several men are said to be starting near Murtaugh.

MAYOR BOBIER AND T. J. DOUGLAS WILL SEEK RE-ELECTION

Thomas Sanderson to Enter Race for Councilman Succeeding Ralph B. Smith in Next Municipal Election

R. E. Bobier, mayor, and T. J. Douglas, councilman, will file candidates for re-election today with Thomas Sanderson, 127 Tenth avenue north, who will be candidate for councilman to succeed Ralph B. Smith, at the coming municipal election in Twin Falls, it was announced last evening.

Petitions for the nomination of these candidates will be circulated today. This was the first definite announcement in connection with the coming campaign and election, although S. H. All, who served as member of the council for four years ending in 1924, presented a look-out nomination blank and is expected to be a candidate for the council at the coming election.

The mayor and two members of the council are to be elected, the mayor to serve two years and the councilmen for four years each. Mr. Bobier is completing his first term as mayor, and Mr. Douglas is rounding out his initial term as member of the council. In addition to his direct supervision over the executive department of the municipal administration, Mr. Bobier has served, since the adoption of Twin Falls zoning regulations last year, as municipal building inspector, without additional salary. Mr. Douglas has served as commissioner of public grounds having in charge particularly the city parks and scales.

Evangelist Kellems to End Revival Meetings

The revival meeting at the Christian church will continue until Thursday night. This decision was reached by the official board of the church at a meeting last night. Evangelist Kellems has been under contract for a year to hold an evangelistic campaign in the second largest church in Kansas, the great church at Pittsburg, Kansas, beginning next week, so finds it impossible to continue here any longer than Thursday night. Wednesday night a reception for the new members who have united with the church during the meeting and the evangelist will follow the regular church service. Practically every member of the church is expected to be present, according to Rev. Curtis, the pastor. A program, followed by refreshments has been planned. "Evangelist Kellems speaks on the subject 'Why I Am a Christian Only.' The service will start at 7:30 P. M. with the showing of the fairy story, 'Alice in Wonderland' for the boys and girls. Bible pictures will follow the fairy story.

Parents and Teachers Observe Anniversary

The Parent-Teacher association of the Lincoln school will meet at 3:30 P. M. Thursday. There will be an address by Mrs. George W. ### CITY MAKES DEMAND ON CONTRACT BOND

Council Charges Failure to Comply With Terms of Promise to Haul Garbage

Charging failure on the part of Clark Tipton, contractor, to comply fully with the terms of the contract awarded to him for removal of garbage in Twin Falls residence districts during the year ending next June 1, the city council in regular session last evening, issued a formal call upon the United States Fidelity and Guaranty company, as bondsmen for Tipton, to make good the performance of the contract promptly and as soon as the same reasonably can be done.

Informed to Health The contractor's failure, according to a resolution adopted by the council, has resulted in conditions inimical to ### health of citizens and the well-being of the city.

Under the resolution, the city clerk was directed to make demand upon the surety company to carry out terms of the contract. The surety company had furnished bond for Tipton in the sum of $1250. Tipton was low bidder for the contract last spring, and it was awarded to him on his bid of $1400. Bills presented for the council's consideration last evening included one for the Twin Falls Canal company's annual maintenance assessment, which, on a basis of $1.75 per acre, brought the charge against the city to a total of $2125, payable March 1.

CANAL COMPANY FIGHTS FOR TRIAL OF SUIT HERE

George N. Carter, Idaho commissioner of reclamation, and his associate defendants in a suit brought by Twin Falls Canal company to establish claim to between 300 and 400 second feet of water alleged to enter Snake river between Neely station and Miner, want the case tried either in Minidoka or Cassia counties, it was developed in hearing before Judge W. A. Babcock in district court here yesterday on a motion for change of venue. The court's ruling on the motion was taken under advisement.

The suit, which was started in the district court here, was carried by the defendants into the federal courts which last January ordered it returned to the state court.

W. H. Langlois, Boise, represented the defendants in yesterday's hearing. Detonians besides Commissioner Carter, are C. Clyde Baldwin, Snake river district watermaster, and deputy commissioner of reclamation, and the federal secretary of the interior. Judge J. R. Bothwell represented the canal company.

SHERIFF URGES AUTO DRIVERS TO PROCURE 1929 MOTOR LICENSE

Those who have not secured the 1929 license for cars have until three days more of grace," said Sheriff E. P. Pratt last night, "and everyone caught driving with 1928 license on or after March 1 will be arrested. Licenses have been on sale here since December 15. Those who failed to pay them before February 1, were liable to arrest. Owing to road conditions, we have extended the time a month without taking action. There is no reason why everyone should not have the new license by March 1 and we will step on those who have not done so by that date."

Masons Pay Impressive Tribute to Brockstedt

Impressive ritualistic services of the Masonic fraternity was conducted by Twin Falls lodge A. F. and A. M. at funeral rites here yesterday for the late Max Brockstedt, member of the Leadville, Colorado, lodge, and for many years a resident of Twin Falls. Rev.

Two Veteran Members Receive Lodge Honors

In recognition of membership over a period of a quarter of a century of two members, Twin Falls lodge, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, has conferred the A. L. Beasre and H. M. Holler, the "25 years jewel" of the order. Both of the recipients of the jewel are past noble grand. Mr. Beasre was a charter member of the Twin Falls lodge and previously had been a member of a Washington lodge. Mr. Holler became a member of the order in Corinne, Utah, 25 years ago last August.

The jewels were presented with a coronation at a recent meeting of the lodge by T. J. Lloyd, grand conductor of the Odd Fellows Idaho grand lodge. Arthur O. Pearson, as chaplain of the lodge, delivered the funeral address and assisted Stuart Stevens, master of the lodge, in the ritualistic work. Services in the White mortuary chapel included a vocal solo, "Lead Kindly Light," by Alan P. Smith, and two numbers, "Beautiful Land" and "Rock of Ages" by a quartet composed of Curtis Turner, Vance Taylor, O. L. Kendall and F. E. Drake, with accompaniment at the piano by T. E. Duncan. Burial was in Twin Falls cemetery.
